

Gods Daily 359

Chapter 359: The Apocalypse War

The defensive shield soldiers at the forefront of the four-winged Demon legion desperately activated the magic runes, forming a gigantic magic array that covered dozens of miles.

However, in the face of the overwhelming disparity in power, this defense was as fragile as paper.

Wherever the storm passed, the magic array began to freeze, and then, like shattered ice, it easily broke apart.

The hundreds of thousands of soldiers behind the magic array, along with their horrified expressions, were frozen, turning into a dense mass of ice sculptures!

Before the demon race army in the back could react...

Boom!

Boom boom!

Millions of titans rose from the ground, transforming into massive rock giants over ten thousand meters tall.

They swung their enormous fists, as large as mountains, and slammed them down onto the frozen region!

Crack!

Crack! Crack—!

The sound of ice shattering rang out in a chorus, enough to make one's teeth ache.

The frozen world, like a mirrored surface, cracked apart inch by inch, transforming into a sky full of ice crystal powder.

And the nearly eight hundred thousand Dawonru Empire coalition soldiers who were frozen, their bodies shattered along with the ice, turning into ice shards that fell in a bloody rain.

"Another Grand Divine Cleric-level legion!"

Wesley's face turned ashen, his voice hoarse.

Wherever his gaze fell, there were endless enemy Grand Divine Cleric legions.

In the Empire's main force, if a Grand Divine Cleric-level elite army of hundreds of thousands were personally selected, it would immediately become a core force, much like the Dawonru Empire's Kuylan Wolf Legion and Destruction Legion.

But here, the enemy had millions of Grand Divine Cleric soldiers!

No, it was far more than that!

And it wasn't just one terrifying legion of this level!

At this moment, he began to doubt his previous understanding.

Is this really a lower realm?

What accomplishments, what proving oneself—he had already thrown those thoughts aside.

All that filled his heart now was endless despair.

The enemy's combat power was already overwhelming.

Now, they were fighting with four to five times the absolute strength, killing him mercilessly.

He could no longer maintain his confidence.

He cast a nearly desperate glance toward the four True God-level experts, Ganseng and the others, in the rear.

"We can't just sit idly by any longer!"

Ganseng and the others' faces also changed drastically as they were utterly stunned by the sight before them.

Looking at the millions of Grand Divine Cleric-level Crossbridge legions flooding forward like a tide, with just one combined attack eradicating nearly eight hundred thousand soldiers, how could they not feel terrified?

And this was just one attack—what if there were more?!

The four of them took a step forward simultaneously, their figures appearing at the very front of the battlefield in an instant.

Their powerful mind power spread out in an attempt to suppress the attacks of the Frostbound Warlock and titans.

At the same time, terrifying laws of destruction gathered in their hands.

Four earth-shattering attacks were unleashed, aimed directly at the rampaging titans and Frostbound Warlock legions, intending to strike down their arrogance.

"I'll go kill that fierce general!"

Ganseng hissed to the other three, and in an instant, his figure turned into a golden lightning bolt, heading straight for Suggwoth.

Suggwoth was currently rampaging through the enemy lines, slaughtering mercilessly!

Suggwoth's combat power was so terrifying that he had already killed multiple God Generals and slaughtered over a hundred thousand demon race soldiers.

The intensity of his killing intent and his terrifying battle power made Ganseng even think about killing him.

Suggwoth's killing intent was intense.

With the help of his killing domain, he absorbed vast amounts of bloodlust and life force, which boosted his combat power even further.

He had now reached an entirely new level.

Even facing Ganseng, a True God Level 6, he showed no fear and directly used his life-and-death battle technique to collide head-on with him!

Ferocious! Savage!

Exchanging injury for injury!

The intense battle caused the remaining God Generals from the Dawonru Empire and the surrounding demon army to be terrified, and they immediately moved away from the battle circle.

Ganseng grew more and more alarmed.

The fact that a mere God General Level 4 was able to clash head-on with him, a True God Level 6, without falling behind—indeed, showing a reckless "mutual destruction" intent—was utterly shocking!

This person's combat power had reached an almost monstrous level!

"This strong enemy, if left unchecked, will become a serious threat to the Empire!"

Ganseng's murderous intent deepened, and his offensive grew more ferocious.

Suggwoth unleashed his killing domain, wreaking havoc through the enemy ranks, and anyone who stepped into the domain became his target.

After transforming his killing intent into killing runes, the power of his domain increased.

As long as he continued to slaughter strong enemies, his power would continue to rise!

Thus, he had no intention of letting go of the remaining Dawonru Empire God Generals, and his attacks continuously covered them.

Barris, Fett, and Osinger's attacks momentarily stopped the titans' advance and even caused some parts of the Fallen Gorge's surface to collapse, but they could not completely break the legion's assault.

Whoosh—!

Suddenly, an extremely cold ice arrow, seemingly capable of freezing the very soul, shot through the void without warning, heading straight for Barris's back!

Sensing the deadly threat, Barris reacted instantly.

He waved his hand and conjured a defensive array from the laws, barely stopping the arrow.

However, the next moment, another arrow appeared, seemingly ignoring space and the defensive array, and shot out right in front of him!

Barris's hair stood on end, and in an instant, he teleported miles away, just barely evading the fatal blow.

He was a True God Level 6 and incredibly powerful.

In a fit of rage, he pulled out a silver spear gleaming with cold light, swinging it back to strike at the direction the arrow had come from!

Endless light instantly engulfed that area.

Yet the arrows seemed endless, and their trajectory became increasingly devious and tricky.

Barris was fully focused on dealing with the elusive sniper, unable to spare any attention to attack the soldiers below.

Meanwhile, the True God Covenant Deity had appeared with a war spear in hand.

She unleashed her supreme divine power, forcefully suppressing Fett and Osinger, causing their divine bodies to shatter as they were utterly defenseless.

After the four True God-level experts and several God Generals from the Dawonru Empire were temporarily pinned down, the entire front-line battlefield completely turned into a one-sided slaughter.

The Frostbound Warlock legion once again unleashed the large-scale war magic, the Extreme Cold Storm, instantly freezing over a million Darkness Demon legion soldiers in place.

Millions of titans then swung their massive fists, smashing down!

A full million Darkness Demon soldiers were killed by more than 80% under the combined assault of the ice and the titans' colossal strength!

Limbs and ice shards scattered across the ground, a horrifying sight to behold.

Lenon's eyes widened in fury, nearly spitting blood.

He stepped forward, his terrifying killing aura, reaching near God General levels, surged toward the titan legion.

However, Harry, Tina, Golden Armor, and others immediately led tens of millions of attribute soldiers to the front of the battlefield, launching a ruthless slaughter!

"Let's fight them! Kill!"

"For the Empire! Kill—!"

"What are these monsters?!"

Desperate roars and furious shouts rang out.

The remaining four-winged Demon legion, Darkness Demon legion, and other vassal armies went completely insane, their formations in disarray, charging forward like frenzied beasts.

A brutal massacre exploded across the vast thousands of miles of the Fallen Gorge, even spilling into the nearby Savage Lands.

The heavens above shattered into pieces, revealing the violent chaotic energy of the space behind.

The earth collapsed into bottomless pits.

Stars outside the sky dimmed and lost their shine due to the energy turmoil.

Even the laws and origins of the world were constantly torn apart by the terrifying battle shockwaves.

In the face of this world-destroying divine battle, ordinary living beings were as insignificant as dust.

They could only tremble in the distance, praying for the protection of the gods!