Chapter 391: In the Name of the Empire

On the other side, the great Demon Emperor Hankley had personally arrived in Steelforge Province!

Accompanying him were Oliver, Gares, Roderick, Troy, and many high-ranking officials and military advisors of the Empire.

Guenleon had also joined the meeting temporarily.

"Your Highness, everyone, all the deployments are ready!" Stellan reported, pointing to the massive sand table.

"The Flame Golem Legion will directly engage Crossbridge Empire's God General rank legion at the Sapphire Dominion's front."

"The four-winged Demon Legion will launch an attack from the Demonbone Dominion."

"The Destroyer Legion and the Six-Winged Gargoyle Legion have already flanked to the eastern side of the Secondary Demon Realm."

"The Darkness Demon Armor Legion, along with more than ten million troops, will strike from the southwest, encircling the Secondary Demon Realm!"

"This is primarily to divide and hold back the main forces that Crossbridge Empire has stationed there."

Oliver and Guenleon turned their gaze toward the great Demon Emperor Hankley.

Hankley stared at the sand table for a long time before continuing.

"Gares and Roderick will command the four-winged Demon Legion."

"Troy and Stellan will command the Flame Golem Legion."

"We will launch a full-scale offensive at the same time!"

"The God General rank legion will be dealt with personally by me and you all. Once they appear, they must be annihilated immediately."

"Until new orders are given, no one is allowed to stop the attack!"

"Understood!" Stellan and the others saluted and quickly departed to their respective forces.

One Day Later

Boom! Boom! Boom!

At the Sapphire Dominion, a probing conflict outside a border fortress suddenly escalated.

Six million elite soldiers from the Flame Golem Legion surged forward, pushing the war to its climax.

The Flame Golem Legion was the Empire's trump card, with each soldier possessing at least the strength of a Grand Divine Cleric rank.

Harry urgently deployed the Doomsday Warrior, Void Warlock, Mountain Shieldbearer, and other legions to engage in battle with the Flame Golem Legion.

The war in Sapphire Dominion had fully ignited!

Over ten million soldiers from the four-winged Demon Legion poured in from the Demonbone Dominion, while the Destroyer Legion, Six-Winged Gargoyle Legion, and Darkness Demon Armor Legion attacked the Secondary Demon Realm from the east and west.

Even if they could not immediately breach the core, they could sever the connection between the Secondary Demon Realm and the defense lines of the two dominions, effectively encircling the stationed Crossbridge Empire forces.

At the Sapphire Dominion frontline command fortress, Lucio and Philip were overseeing the operations.

Suggwoth, Cyriel, and the others had also completed their brief meditation and gathered at the central sand table of the command room.

"The main enemy forces across the east, west, Sapphire Dominion, and Demonbone Dominion span over a hundred million troops, with defensive and garrison forces from various regions amounting to three to four hundred million," Tina quickly reported the latest intelligence.

Lucio analyzed the situation calmly.

"The east and west are the main defensive focuses. Deploy Mountain Shieldbearers and Doomsday Warriors to block their advances."

"The primary battleground should be focused on Sapphire Dominion and Demonbone Dominion."

Suggwoth, staring at the sand table, understood the enemy's intent.

The encirclement from both sides aimed to divide the two dominions. Even if a full encirclement could not be achieved, the plan was to cut off the two dominions' defensive lines and force the Empire's legions to retreat toward the domain passage.

However...

On a strategic level, how could the Crossbridge Empire, which had no fear even against Divine Empire-level forces, be afraid of a Dawonru Empire?

Lucio's strategy was correct. By concentrating the main battlefield in the two dominions, Dawonru Empire's core forces would be drawn there.

In that case, the eastern and western flanks would no longer be a threat. Instead, Crossbridge Empire could use a flanking maneuver, potentially even invading the heart of Dawonru Empire.

Since the war had fully erupted, there was no need to conceal their ambitions.

At that point, they could march straight into Dawonru and sweep the entire Empire.

"Overthunder, War Bear."

Suggwoth's voice was cold.

"You two will each lead your forces to intercept the enemy on the eastern and western flanks."

"Additionally, you will each receive an extra five hundred thousand Frostbound Warlocks and Void Warlocks."

"Understood!" The two saluted and set off immediately.

"Golden Armor will command the Empire's shadow guild to assassinate the enemy's legion commanders and high-ranking Demon Generals, disrupting their deployments and cutting off support lines from their rear guard."

"Tina will intercept the enemy forces coming from the Demonbone Dominion."

"Harry will handle the front in Sapphire Dominion."

"All garrisoned troops in the Secondary Demon Realm will push forward!"

"Our goal is not to defend, but to destroy these invaders and deliver a crushing blow to Dawonru Empire!"

Suggwoth issued the final command.

Harry and the others quickly dashed off to the battlefield.

Having reached God King rank, Cyriel would cooperate with Tina.

Her arrows were powerful enough to threaten even a God King rank opponent, ensuring that the core forces of Dawonru Empire could not break through the Demonbone Dominion direction.

Suggwoth took personal command of the front in Sapphire Dominion, assisted by a Contracted God King at God King rank, level eight.

Noble Council of the Clouds

Fiona stood beside Joshua.

Tredy, Scarlet Witch, and several True God rank councilors of the family, along with many God General rank senior officers, stood silently.

Having witnessed the terrifying formation of the millions of God General rank troops, they all understood one thing.

As long as Dawonru Empire's core war power did not intervene, Crossbridge Empire was fully capable of annihilating all of Dawonru Empire's conventional forces gathered here!

The battles across various fronts erupted in full force!

Boom!

Boom! Boom!

The deafening explosions of energy and the sounds of shattered laws echoed throughout the heavens and earth. Even the projections of stars from beyond the domain seemed to sway and flicker, as the origin of the laws was thrown into chaos.

After long periods of suppression, the entire Abyss Demon Realm finally erupted in chaos!

"It's begun! Full-scale war!"

Strong figures from the Silverlight Demon Race, such as Keen, probed into the Demonbone Dominion with their mind power, shivering with awe.

A battle on the scale of hundreds of millions of souls was something even many ancient beings had never witnessed.

The evil god followers of the Dark Corruption Temple rejoiced, eagerly awaiting the feast of souls and the scent of death.

"For the glory of the Empire!"

"Kill!"

Stellan led the Flame Golem Legion into the Crossbridge Empire defense line.

Following this six-million-strong elite core were tens of millions of main, garrison, and defensive mixed forces, stretching the battle lines across vast expanses.

True God rank and God General rank experts moved within the army, clearing the way for the massive forces.

Suggwoth unsheathed the Slayer from his waist, pointing it forward into the void with a powerful surge of battle intent.

"Imperial soldiers, in the name of the Emperor, crush them!"

"Kill—!!"

Harry roared, as the two-million-strong God General rank Frostbound Warlock legion charged into the enemy's ranks.

Frozen Seal, Eternal Frozen Dead Zone, Absolute Zero, and Extreme Cold Storm...

Countless terrifying ice magic powers were activated in an instant.

A blue frost field spread at terrifying speed, freezing a thousand miles of the battlefield in an instant!

Next, the earth trembled.

Titans roared as they rose from the ground, becoming towering rock giants over a thousand meters tall, smashing the frozen enemies with devastating blows!

Dawonru Empire's tens of millions of vanguard troops were instantly obliterated in this devastating joint strike!

This terrifying sight caused Hankley the great Demon Emperor, Oliver, and other powerful figures stationed in the rear to turn pale with shock.

"As expected!"

Guenleon clenched his fists tightly, his knuckles turning white.

The warnings from their master, his own suspicions, had all proven true!

Crossbridge Empire itself was a predator disguised as a lamb, hiding an earth-shattering plan!

These millions of God Generals were likely the cornerstone for their ascension to Divine Empire!
