

Gods Daily 396

Chapter 396: The Starlight Dominion Magic Array

On the Iron Steel State battlefield, over ten million God General-level troops served as the sharpest spearhead. Behind them, five to six million troops from various elemental armies followed from multiple directions, including the northwest of the Secondary Demon Realm, Demonbone Dominion, Iron Steel State, and Twilight City, launching a full-scale assault on the Dawonru Empire's territory!

The Dawonru Empire's massive main army, along with even larger numbers of regional defense troops, began retreating steadily in the face of this overwhelming power. The front lines collapsed at an astonishing speed, heading toward the empire's core!

The Silverlight Demon Race and other forces were also caught up in this and, terrified, withdrew their forces, daring not to join the battlefield. The Dark Corruption Temple's demons were likewise so intimidated by the sight that they hid their presence. Faced with ten million God General-level troops, even the evil gods they worshipped would feel fear!

Generals like Hankley and Sherman, leading the Dawonru side, were overwhelmed with a deep sense of helplessness. The empire's forces were collapsing. The vast empire was shaking, cracking apart!

At this moment, the heavens trembled, and the starlight flared brightly!

Four figures, exuding the aura of laws, descended upon the battlefield. Their presence seemed to merge with the very laws of this world. The vast void was suppressed by their powerful aura.

This overwhelming pressure not only encompassed the ten million God General troops but also trapped all the strong forces, including Merolle, Joshua, Tredy, and Antoine!

This was the might of the Sage King rank!

The Dawonru Empire had mobilized four Sage King ranks all at once! This was the true foundation of the empire!

Behind them were thirty-six God King-level troops and three hundred sixty True God-level fighters!

"The Dawonru Empire has mobilized all of its resources!" Standale of the Demonwing Empire's expression changed slightly. He hadn't expected Gustav to be so decisive, putting everything, including the last vestiges of the empire's foundation, into the battlefield.

"Fall back! Quickly!" Hern barked.

Standale didn't hesitate. With the intervention of the Sage King ranks, the aftershocks of the battle would be enough to destroy the world. This was no longer a battlefield they could watch from the sidelines.

Sarah and the Temple of Truth members quickly fled to the distance.

Just then, a flurry of crystalline snowflakes silently drifted down, hovering in front of the four Dawonru Sage King ranks.

The snowflakes were crystal-clear, but within them seemed to contain endless icy laws, gradually growing larger and forming into an ice crystal snowflake diagram. A beam of ice-blue holy light burst forth from the crystal.

With the light, the figure of White Lady appeared, standing serenely in the center of the ice crystal.

The moment the four Dawonru Sage Kings sensed her aura, their faces grew grave.

"Sage King rank, level 9!"

The four of them immediately flew to different parts of the battlefield. However, as they moved, snowflakes had already silently begun to fall from the sky.

The thirty-six God King-level and three hundred sixty True God-level fighters quickly took action, each standing at a designated position. Magic power and laws surged wildly as they prepared for the impending battle.

White Lady lightly waved her long sleeves!

Joshua, Fiona, Antoine, Merolle, and others were swept up by the snowflakes and instantly transported to a safe zone thousands of miles away.

Boom—!!

Almost simultaneously, the four Sage King ranks, thirty-six God King-level fighters, and three hundred sixty True God-level fighters injected their powers into the heavens.

A golden magic array, blending Dawonru Empire's national power and the world's laws, unfurled in the skies above Iron Steel State, Demonbone Dominion, and the Secondary Demon Realm!

Everything in the world was bathed in a golden hue.

"What is this...?"

Fiona, who had been teleported far away, gazed up at the familiar golden sky, her pupils shrinking.

When her mother perished, the sky had been covered by a similar golden light!

"It's the Starlight Prism Magic Array!" Tredy's voice was heavy, as though he knew some information about this magic array.

The people of Dawonru Empire trembled under the vast heavenly power emanating from the array.

Guenleon, now far away, understood fully that this was the very foundation of the empire used to encircle and destroy Fiona's mother.

This magic array required four Sage King ranks to guide the starlight's movement.

The thirty-six God King-level fighters took positions in the sky to form a starry array, channeling the power of starlight.

The three hundred sixty True Gods spread across the land, using their mind power to link together, creating a starlight ring that covered the battlefield.

Only by gathering the immense national power of the Dawonru Empire as a foundation could this ancient magic array, the Starlight Prism Magic Array, be sustained!

The awe-inspiring magic array slowly descended, blending endless national power, starlight, and laws.

A towering figure, resembling a platinum statue, began to coalesce at the center of the magic array.

In its left hand, it held a magnified version of the Silver Crystal Sphere, and in its right hand, it wielded a blade that seemed capable of cutting through the world!

The laws of the world bowed and shifted beneath its feet.

This was the ancient demon race ruler's illusory figure!

The entire Dawonru Empire's territory seemed to transform into the domain of this incarnation.

Countless laws spread outward, locking onto White Lady in the center of the magic array!

White Lady's dark brows slightly raised. Her serene face revealed a hint of seriousness.

It wasn't the overwhelming pressure from the surrounding laws that troubled her, but the imperial aura emanating from the core of that figure!

The true threat was only this one imperial aura!

As this imperial aura expanded, the fighting on the battlefield was immediately suppressed.

Even Suggwoth's army domain began to shatter.

The movements of the God General-level warriors became incredibly slow.

Even those who had fled, like Sarah, were frozen by this oppressive force, unable to move.

Other students were coughing up blood, their bones groaning under the immense pressure as they looked up fearfully at the platinum figure of the ruler.

"What terrifying power!"

One of the powerful members of the Songlaise tribe struggled to endure.

Even from a distance, he could feel his insignificance.

Just the pressure alone was already so overwhelming; the true strength of a single strike was unimaginable!

Screech—!!

Fiona, suppressed by the imperial aura, had her Phoenix Bloodline stimulated, activating autonomously!

A phantom of an immortal bird shot into the sky, letting out a defiant cry, its eyes locked fiercely onto the ancient demon ruler as it protected Fiona with its aura.

As for the others in the core battle zones, they were already pressed to the ground, their very souls trembling.

"In the face of the ancient demon ruler, how dare you ants resist?!"

A Dawonru Sage King rank powerhouse looked down at White Lady, his voice cold.

In an instant!

The imperial aura, combined with the overwhelming power of the entire magic array, rained down on White Lady!

The ruler's blade swung down, sending a golden blade of energy that shattered the boundless void ahead, striking directly at White Lady!

White Lady's bright eyes reflected two snowflakes.

She gently flicked her finger, sending the first snowflake to meet the vast golden tide.

Crack!

Crack, crack, crack...

It was as if time and space froze together.

A horrifying scene unfolded.

The shattered void and the incoming golden light were instantly frozen upon touching the snowflake!

An ice crystal domain spread out from the heart of the blade's golden tide.

However, at the core of the golden blade's tide, the imperial aura displayed astonishing penetrating power, forcefully piercing through the ice and continuing its descent toward White Lady!