

Gods Daily 397

Chapter 397: The Tip of the Iceberg

At this moment, the second snowflake flew out!

The trajectory of this snowflake seemed to open a crack into the supreme world of ice and snow. No one could fully see what lay beyond, but a beam of ice-blue holy light, as if capable of freezing the very laws themselves, flashed out from the crack!

It pierced through the golden ocean with astounding speed, disregarding distance, and struck directly at the ancient demon ruler's head!

Under the guidance of the four Sage King ranks, the illusory figure raised its left hand, the Silver Crystal Sphere crashing down, while the right hand wielded the massive sword once more!

Boom—!!!

A deep, thunderous sound echoed through the air.

That ice-blue holy light actually pierced through the Silver Crystal Sphere, precisely striking the ancient demon ruler's head!

Boom!

The head exploded on impact, shattering into a shower of golden light mist!

The vast Starlight magic array in the sky also trembled violently, its light flickering erratically.

Poof—!

The four Sage King ranks, thirty-six God Kings, and three hundred sixty True Gods who had been forming the array all simultaneously coughed up blood, their energies instantly drained.

"Ant-like power, yet you dare to touch the highest authority?"

White Lady's cold voice echoed through the heavens and the earth.

Before her words could fade, a devastating blizzard rose up, sweeping toward the Starlight magic array, engulfing everything in its path.

Her feet lightly stepped on each snowflake that materialized in mid-air as she walked calmly, each step resonating with the sound of crystalline bells.

Amid the shock of countless onlookers, she gracefully stepped onto the shoulder of the decapitated ruler, then strolled across its neck.

...

Boom—!!!

The ruler, symbolizing the will of the Dawonru Empire, and the imperial aura it contained, was utterly obliterated!

In the heavens above, the magic array that covered the sky began to crumble piece by piece, turning into golden light points that scattered in all directions.

Poof—!

The four Dawonru Sage King ranks simultaneously spat out blood!

Their blood was infused with divine essence, and each drop, upon falling to the earth, struck with a muffled thud.

They gazed in disbelief, fear creeping deep into their bones.

This lady, who was also a Sage King level 9, had displayed a power even more terrifying than the undead Phoenix descendant who had once possessed the near-Divine Oracle power!

And what exactly lay hidden in the corner of that ice and snow world they had glimpsed just now?

The mere opening of the crack unleashed a fear that made them tremble, easily shattering the imperial aura and smashing the entire magic array!

The three hundred sixty True God-level warriors' auras waned, stumbling back.

The four Sage King ranks suppressed the churning blood within them, and the divine mark on their foreheads suddenly glowed brightly!

Countless magical flowers, formed from the laws themselves, bloomed from their foreheads, summoning the laws of the world to coalesce into four immense law-powered fists, which they launched toward White Lady from four directions!

The thirty-six God King-level warriors also shot toward her like streaks of light, attempting to reform the array.

However, in the face of these attacks, White Lady merely waved her shoulder, where the ice crystal had formed.

The ice crystal transformed into silver-blue ice serpents that tore through the world's laws and elements, forcibly extracting them as they passed.

With a gentle flick of her wrist, she sent out a wave!

Whoosh!

Without a sound, over one hundred True God-level warriors were instantly engulfed by the ice-blue glow.

There was no explosion, no blood mist.

In an instant, all traces of their existence were crystallized into ice, then shattered into the finest ice elemental light, completely dissipating into the air.

This was an absolute crushing of life's essence!

Even the eight nearby God King-level warriors could not escape, being enveloped by the expanding ice law domain.

They crumbled like fragile ice sculptures under the erosion of the laws.

At the same time, the ice crystal domain also stopped the four destructive law-powered fists.

Boom—!

The tremendous sound reverberated, and the violent fluctuations reached the distant sky above Dawonru's capital.

Gustav and his ministers could clearly feel the tremors beneath their feet and the flicker of the celestial rivers from beyond the stars.

White Lady's sapphire-blue gown swirled gracefully in the storm.

The snowflakes falling around her made her figure appear hazy and mysterious.

She walked barefoot, her toes lightly tapping on each snowflake that bloomed out of nowhere.

Thus, she broke through the layers of Sage King-level pressure and marched directly toward the four injured Sage King ranks!

The faces of the four Sage King ranks changed drastically, and without hesitation, they fled in four different directions!

With the magic array, the empire's ultimate foundation, shattered before them, how could they possibly stand their ground?

Once they fled, the remaining God King-level and True God-level warriors lost their greatest shield and restraint.

White Lady's ice and snow law domain silently spread, and yet another group of God King-level and True God-level warriors were effortlessly erased.

The White Lady, with her holy appearance, displayed an unexpected ruthlessness and decisiveness, which sharply contrasted with her outer beauty.

"All surviving soldiers, immediately retreat from the battlefield!"

One of the Sage King rank warriors ordered his remaining troops in a stern voice.

At the same time, the divine mark on his forehead blazed with brilliance, and a light gate opened behind him.

From the gate, a magical beast illusory figure emerged, exuding the aura of ancient ferocity.

The figure carried the immense power of the laws he had drawn from his inner world, and it leapt toward White Lady, attempting to draw her attention.

The remaining God King and True God warriors took the chance to flee!

White Lady's cold eyes watched as they escaped, but she did not pursue.

She raised one hand and lightly pointed toward the void.

The moment her fingertip touched the space, a circle of ice-blue divine runes instantly imprinted itself on the air.

It rapidly enlarged and pushed toward the vicious magical beast.

The moment the ice-blue divine runes made contact with the magical beast's illusory figure, something astonishing happened!

The runes suddenly transformed into countless massive ice spikes, as if capable of freezing time itself, and pierced through the magical beast!

The illusory figure instantly collapsed, and streams of ice-blue law light shot back out, piercing through the Sage King rank warrior's body!

White Lady approached, lifting her jade-like hand as if to unveil another corner of the ice and snow world.

A more dangerous ice-blue holy light erupted from her fingertip, precisely striking the injured Sage King.

It sent him crashing into the depths of the spatial ruins formed by the ongoing battle.

"What kind of power is this...?"

"This person can't possibly be a native of the Eura continent. Could it be that the Eura continent has already been taken over by another Divine Empire...?!!"

"No—!!!"

A scream echoed from the space ruins.

It seemed as though the Sage King rank warrior had glimpsed some forbidden truth and, using his last ounce of strength, screamed out.

"Run!"

"She's not..."

Before he could finish his words, a terrifying aura instantly enveloped the space, cutting off the final information he tried to send.

The other three Sage King ranks, seeing this scene, burned their divine power like mad and fled toward the Silver Sorcery Palace without looking back!

"All troops, retreat!"

"Fall back and establish a defense line in Sky Province!"

Hankley's face turned pale, and he was forced to issue this humiliating order.

All the remaining Dawonru troops began to flee toward the heart of the empire, Sky Province!