

Gods Daily 403

Chapter 403: Ares' Fury

"Roar—!!"

Balzer let out a maddened roar.

His entire body was covered in divine runes, and he charged towards the leading giant—Ares!

The red light in Ares' helmet flared up.

With a single step, he easily crushed the quasi-God King rank Balzer into the ground!

Then, his enormous hand seized Balzer and, with a swift motion of his battle axe, severed his limbs.

Ah—!!

Balzer let out an inhuman scream.

Ares hoisted his mangled body and stepped into Black Edge City.

With each step, giant elephant demon race warriors were crushed into a bloody pulp underfoot.

His battle axe swung, and pieces of Balzer's flesh were shredded off.

"Ah! Ahhh—!"

The desperate cries of pain continued endlessly.

The eighty thousand True God rank titans also advanced, crushing everything in their path.

They seized the giant elephant demon race warriors, their massive hands closing around them with terrifying force, directly crushing their bones, emitting ear-piercing cracking sounds.

The pain of shattered bones made these giants, who prided themselves on their strength, wish for death to come quickly.

In terms of raw power, these titans were a million times stronger than them!

This was absolute suppression—there was no way to resist!

After crushing one enemy, the titans casually tore off their heads and immediately reached for the next one.

The screams of the giant elephant demon race echoed through the battlefield.

"Hahaha!"

"Good kill! Kill all these monsters!"

"Your retribution has come!"

The surviving civilians of Black Edge City burst into tears, letting out triumphant roars.

Many people were crying, their eyes bloodshot and filled with hatred.

Cities devoured and emptied, countless lives—now seemed to have found some semblance of comfort!

"Retreat!"

"What kind of monsters are they? How can their power be stronger than ours?!"

"Everyone, retreat quickly!"

The commander of the giant elephant demon race shouted in terror.

The giants, hearing his orders, turned and fled frantically.

"Damn it!"

"Block them!"

Dozens of God General and True God rank giant elephant demon race warriors burned their divine runes and unleashed incredible energy waves, joining forces to strike at the titans.

More than thirty God King rank giants, led by Morga, charged forward in a mad dash!

The high priest above them also finally made his move, unleashing his Sage King rank pressure, attempting to turn the tide of battle.

At that moment, a flurry of snowflakes, accompanied by a cold aura, instantly sealed the space around the high priest.

The high priest's face changed drastically.

He had been lurking in the shadows, preparing to break the line and make his move when a potential Sage King from Sky Province arrived.

His plan was to break through the defenses and enter the Secondary Demon Realm!

Once that happened, even if the White Lady arrived, they could still invade the Eura Continent.

The White Lady's sapphire gown fluttered as every snowflake materialized as a manifestation of laws.

At Sage King level nine, she was fully capable of slaying this high priest.

Thus, Suggwoth, with no worries, led his forces forward!

Meanwhile, nearly twenty million God General rank soldiers from the Crossbridge Empire joined the battle.

A God General-ranked void warlock stepped forward, appearing before the thirty or so God King rank giants.

The void warlock simultaneously unleashed dimensional stacking, folding and twisting the space in front of him a million times.

Space reversal!

The next second, these dozens of God King rank giants found themselves collectively teleported directly in front of Ares!

With a single step, Ares crushed several of the charging giants underfoot.

His battle axe, the God Slayer Axe, was raised high and he unleashed his skill—the Oathbreaker Heavy Axe!

With a single swing, it seemed as though the very heavens and earth were split apart, creating a pitch-black rift.

Two God King rank warriors were easily cleaved into four pieces!

The leftover force continued to strike other God King rank warriors.

Ares, wielding his axe, killed more than ten God King rank giants in an instant!

Suggwoth, having broken into the God King rank, was already terrifyingly strong, with his military field and Deathrealm Dominion evolving to even greater heights.

Wherever his domain expanded, the battlefield's blood essence surged into his body, causing his combat power to soar.

He swung his Slayer sword, similarly killing two God King rank giants and seven or eight True God rank giant elephant warriors.

The forty thousand void warlocks once again initiated space reversal, appearing inside the giant elephant demon race forces.

With a wave, they cast the high-level space skill—Celestial Abyss!

Countless rifts opened in the sky, rapidly spreading.

When it reached the giant elephant demon race forces, the spatial power instantly shredded them to dust!

Even True God rank warriors were not spared!

The cross-rank slaughter, or rather, the massacre!

Only those who mastered the supreme space laws could achieve such unimaginable results.

As their ranks increased, their control over space grew even more terrifying.

The battle power unleashed by controlling the space law was enough to drive any enemy to despair.

This scene stunned Joshua, Antoine, Fiona, and the others.

For a moment, they forgot to join the battle.

"Those are... True God rank legions..." Joshua muttered, locking his gaze on the titans towering tens of thousands of meters high, his understanding being completely shattered once more.

On the other side, Ulysses and Sarah were also speechless in astonishment.

Even Dorrak and the other Demonwing Empire generals, upon seeing the titans, felt a chill run down their spines and their minds shook with fear.

God General rank!

True God rank!

There were no visible soldiers below God General rank in sight.

How could there be only ten million?

It wasn't just that!

Even Hankley, Oliver, and others had torn through the void and were observing the battlefield from a distance.

Watching this one-sided slaughter, even Hankley couldn't help but twitch his mouth in disbelief.

Gustav's figure appeared silently at the far end of the sky.

Watching the True God rank titans, Gustav's pupils constricted, and his heart sank to an extreme.

Earlier, he had wondered if the Crossbridge Empire really could have a True God rank legion.

Now...

This despairing power had been fully revealed before him!

"Retreat—!!!"

Seeing his tribe's elites slaughtered, Morga let out a heart-rending roar.

The remaining giant elephant demon race warriors, still charging forward, broke down completely!

God General rank, True God rank, God King rank—they were all easily slaughtered. How could they possibly resist?

These titan giants were even larger than them, with purer strength.

In terms of rank, they were utterly crushed, and they had no means of fighting back.

Receiving Morga's orders, the remaining giant elephant demon race warriors began to flee in panic!

However, the titans, towering at ten thousand meters, stepped forward and crushed the fleeing giants underfoot.

From Black Edge City to the Blue Sky Mountains, and then even further to the Blackstone Fortress.

Along the way, the giant elephant demon race fled for their lives, only to be crushed mercilessly by the titans.

The titans casually tore off massive heads, creating a death trail in their wake!

"Damn it!"

"Curse the Crossbridge Empire! Curse Aurek!"

"We will never die until we take you down!!"

Watching his kin being slaughtered, Morga burned with rage.

But he could only retreat in a pitiful, defeated manner toward the Giant Elephant Mountains.

Dozens of God King rank warriors were slain under Ares' God Slayer Axe.

Unlike those who had crystallized the Heart of God and controlled the laws, the giant elephant demon race specialized in physical power, merging their mind, soul, and body completely.

As long as their divine bodies remained intact, even if their flesh was destroyed, they could still survive.

However, under Ares' killing spree, even the giant elephant race's proud divine bodies were completely obliterated.

After all, Ares, with the power of a level-nine God King and enhanced with the Immortal Divine Body, had enough strength to directly slay a Sage King rank warrior!

This was the terrifying power of the Immortal Divine Body!

This was the source of Ares' terrifying presence!

He relentlessly pursued Morga, leaving a trail of blood and carnage in his wake!