

Gods Daily 497

Chapter 497: The Empire Decides Judgment and Order

The continuous revival was not without cost. Every time they died, a part of their primal soul was consumed.

With too many deaths, not only would the possibility of advancing to Sage Master be permanently severed, but their rank would also drop, leaving behind irreparable wounds.

More importantly, they were truly terrified of Kaos!

Although they didn't understand why he was holding back, the pure humiliation and crushing they experienced—slap after slap, punch after punch—left the two quasi-Sage Masters, along with the Olympian Sword and the God Mountain Guardian Formation, and the supreme phantom, completely in a state of being tortured.

If they continued, the only outcome would be total destruction!

The two quickly retreated.

The power of the Olympian Sword and the God Mountain Guardian Formation also began to shrink.

Kaos hesitated for a moment.

At the same time, his gaze subtly shifted toward the direction of Unar Province.

Another quasi-Sage Master Peace Envoy stepped into Eternal Winter Divine Empire.

He arrived outside Eternal Winter Divine Empire and looked toward Empress Shirino.

Before he could speak, Shirino spoke first.

"Since you didn't stop them before, please don't stop them now!"

"If you continue disturbing the order of Celestial Light God Realm, the Committee will intervene. You can... discuss the terms first!"

The Peace Envoy warned.

Upon hearing this, a glint of deep thought flashed in Shirino's sapphire-like eyes.

Her gaze turned toward Olympian God Mountain.

The last quasi-Sage Master Peace Envoy was heading toward Ael Fortress.

The three Bone Clan Divine Oracles' expressions changed drastically, and they immediately took command of the Ouros Disc, rushing back to the fortress.

All the onlookers also shifted their attention.

The Peace Committee originated from Starry Chaos and was recognized by Celestial Light God Realm as the order-maintaining authority.

With Crossbridge Empire's massacre of numerous cities and lives in God Mountain, coupled with Olympian God Mountain's accusation, they had sufficient reason to intervene.

However, even if the Committee intervened, Olympian God Mountain would not gain much benefit.

"Who is in charge here?!"

The Peace Envoy descended over Ael Fortress, his gaze sweeping below, his loud voice echoing throughout the city.

Josephine, Fiona, and Belinda rose into the air, with Beyoncé by their side.

The World Relic Ouros Disc hovered above them, confronting the quasi-Sage Master Peace Envoy.

The Peace Envoy's eyes landed on Josephine, and he directly uttered two words:

"Stop fighting!"

"Impossible!"

Josephine replied coldly.

The Peace Envoy's gaze narrowed.

His ethereal and authoritative voice rang out again.

"The Peace Committee maintains the order of Celestial Light God Realm and is responsible for resolving all disputes. Crossbridge Empire's massacre of countless cities and billions of lives, the heavy bloodshed, has severely violated the order of the God Realm."

"If the war continues, Olympian God Mountain and even the entire Celestial Light God Realm will fall into even greater disaster."

"Today, the Committee offers you two choices!"

"One, Olympian God Mountain cedes half of its territory to Crossbridge Empire. In return, Crossbridge Empire will return the excess occupied land and immediately cease hostilities, signing a sacred contract. If either side violates it, they will face a joint strike from all the forces in Celestial Light God Realm."

As soon as the first option was spoken, Silas's face in the Sacred Palace turned extremely grim.

The ministers were filled with anger and sorrow.

Ceding half of the territory?

This was equivalent to cutting the foundation of God Mountain's national power!

The two quasi-Sage Masters in the void couldn't help but frown.

"Second, you continue the battle. If you destroy world order because of it, the Peace Committee will directly intervene. At that point, anyone who does not obey the Committee's judgment will be killed on the spot."

"You choose."

The Peace Envoy coldly finished, throwing a contract document gleaming with golden light, his posture exuding an undeniable warning.

He, or rather the Committee behind him, was not afraid of Crossbridge Empire, let alone Olympian God Mountain.

"Ridiculous!"

Josephine waved her robe, and an invisible storm shredded the contract document into pieces.

She coldly said, "No one commands Crossbridge Empire, and no one dares to point fingers in front of the Empire!"

"Whether we fight or not is the holy judgment of His Majesty, the Emperor of Crossbridge Empire. We don't need you, the Peace Committee, to interfere!"

She was fully aware that the man in Aetherian Sanctuary had ambitions for the entire Celestial Light God Realm!

To use half of God Mountain's territory as a trade-off?

What a joke!

Now, the Empire had the power to destroy all of Olympian God Mountain, and once it was conquered, it would belong to the Empire.

You, the Committee, are stepping in now, thinking a few words will make the Empire compromise?

What order-maintaining force?

Once the Empire takes control of the entire Celestial Light God Realm, you, the Peace Committee, will be included as well!

"Hiss... this Empress of Crossbridge Empire is bold!"

"Ah, ah, are they really going to face off against the Peace Committee head-on?!"

Upon seeing this, the ancient Sage Lord from the Flame Eagle Clan was momentarily shocked.

Although most of the forces within Celestial Light God Realm were dissatisfied with the Committee, it was undeniable that the Peace Committee was the maintainer of order in this world.

Behind it was the will of a higher power.

Celestial Light God Realm itself also fell under the jurisdiction of the Divine Court.

The Peace Committee here was just one of its branches, responsible for maintaining the general situation and basic order in the realm.

Whether it was Olympian God Mountain, Devers Divine Empire, Eternal Winter Divine Empire, or Starlight Colonnade, they all had to give the Committee some face.

Did Crossbridge Empire not know this?

"Ceding half of God Mountain's territory is already a huge concession, enough for Crossbridge Empire to establish itself in this realm, yet they refuse to accept it?"

The dragonborn from Stone Sea couldn't help but comment.

If they agreed to the first option, Olympian God Mountain could only eat this bitter loss.

But if they refused to give face to the Committee, once it truly intervened, Crossbridge Empire might not even be able to keep that half of God Mountain's territory.

Many Divine Oracles, quasi-Sage Lords, and even ancient Sage Lords watched the scene with great interest.

After all, openly challenging the Peace Committee was a rare spectacle!

"Heh... Crossbridge Empire really is insatiable. Do they really want to swallow the whole Olympian God Mountain?"

Kichin, the ruler of Devers Divine Empire, sneered coldly.

If the war on Olympian God Mountain was not resolved, the conflict between Devers Divine Empire and Eternal Winter Divine Empire would also remain unresolved.

Devers Divine Empire, which had lost the initiative, was undoubtedly at a huge disadvantage.

The other three Peace Envoys also turned their gaze toward Ael Fortress.

The Committee had sent four quasi-Sage Masters as Peace Envoys, a clear sign of how much they valued the situation and had given a relatively reasonable judgment.

If Crossbridge Empire refused, the Committee would have no choice but to intervene with force!

"Crossbridge Empire, have you made your choice?"

"I hope you fully understand the structure of Celestial Light God Realm before making a decision!"

The Peace Envoy coldly reminded, his words carrying an implied threat.

Boom!

Before he finished speaking, the void beside him suddenly tore apart!

A golden beam of light shot out from the rift, instantly aiming at the Peace Envoy!

The purest killing power made this quasi-Sage Master immediately sense danger and dodge at the fastest speed, moving outside the fortress.

Swish—!

The golden beam followed closely, piercing through layers of space, relentlessly chasing after him!

The other three Peace Envoys immediately broke through the air and arrived beside their comrade.

The four of them combined their immense divine power to form an indestructible law shield.

The golden light shot out from the void, releasing a barrage of domineering and lethal light, crossing in front of the four Peace Envoys, revealing its true form.

It was the Golden Sword!

The sword's blade was firmly embedded in the shield created by the four, emitting dazzling sparks like fireworks, but also incredibly dangerous!

"The Golden Sword!"

"It's... His Majesty!"