Chapter 502: Office of Light and Office of Peace

Breeding over six and a half million Sage King rank Void Warlocks per day!

This was exactly what Aurek needed, to crush all so-called elites with an overwhelming quality advantage.

What Hundred Thousand God Mountain Forbidden Army?

What Celestial Light God Realm's strongest legion?

Once this Imperial army is fully formed, the world will have only one, and there will be no second!

Peace Committee, Celestial Light God Realm Division.

The Committee is divided into the Office of Light and the Office of Peace.

The Office of Light is responsible for maintaining the order and rules of the Celestial Light God Realm, overseeing the daily operations of the Committee, and resource allocation. It is led by the Holy Emissary of Light, who also serves as the Director of this branch.

Under the Office of Light, there are seven Light Believers, each one a powerful Ancient Sage Lord.

The Office of Peace is jointly led by the four Great Peace Emissaries—Sun, Moon, Stars, and Peace—and specializes in judgment, decisions, and military strikes!

The Holy Emissary of Light himself is a true Sage Lord rank existence and wields a World Relic—the Crystal of Light—to oversee this division.

Under the seven Light Believers, each commands seven Holy Guards.

The four Great Peace Emissaries oversee four Peace Enforcement Teams.

The members of these teams are all Sage King rank or Sacred Radiance rank elites, and their combat power is on par with the God Mountain Forbidden Army, Devers Divine Empire's created legions, Eternal Winter Divine Empire's Snowbound Kingdom Elite Guards, etc.

In terms of numbers, the Committee holds an absolute advantage!

These forces are all elite members sent from the Star Sea deep within the Committee headquarters.

Each guard and enforcement team consists of 50,000 people, totaling 550,000 strong!

Of course, the most formidable forces are the seven Ancient Sage Lords, the four semi-Sage Master Peace Emissaries, and the Sage Lord rank Holy Emissary of Light himself.

Moreover, the Committee also has numerous Divine Oracles, semi-Sage Lords, and Sage Lords in various senior officer and managerial positions, with their total number exceeding one hundred!

This is the foundation upon which the Committee relies to act as the order maintainer in the complex environment of the Celestial Light God Realm.

As one of the most famous realms in the Star Sea, the deployment of such a force by the Committee headquarters shows just how much importance they place on this domain.

At this moment, within the Office of Light.

The Office of Light and the Office of Peace occupy the main seats at the top.

On either side, there are the seven Light Believers, the four Peace Emissaries, and several high-ranking senior officers.

"We have gathered you today to deliberate on the punitive actions against the Crossbridge Empire."

"The Crossbridge Empire has not only severely disrupted the order of the Celestial Light God Realm, but has also openly defied the Committee's authority!"

"Now that the situation in the Star Sea is becoming increasingly tense, we must ensure the stability of the Celestial Light God Realm."

The Office of Peace spoke in a deep voice.

"The sword is already nailed at the Committee's door. This is the most direct provocation and declaration of war. There is no need to debate whether we should intervene; we should decide how to strike."

A Light Guard coldly said.

"I second this!"

"Agreed!"

The members of the hall voiced their approval.

"Then, to what extent should we strike?"

The Office of Peace looked toward the Office of Light, "Should we eradicate them completely, or push them back to the lower realms and deliver a heavy warning?"

The voice of Office of Light seemed to be woven from light itself.

"From the previous battle, it seems that the Crossbridge Empire's strong figure has already reached the true Sage Lord rank and possesses the potential to challenge the semi-Supreme Holy Realm."

"With my strength, along with the Judgment Crystal, I might be able to restrain him."

"However, the Crossbridge Empire's origins are shrouded in mystery, and there is no record of them in any Committee documents. In addition to the known Artifact of Authority, they also possess two Proto-World Relics and a complete World Relic!"

"To completely destroy them, the cost for the branch Committee may be considerable."

"Lord!"

The Peace Emissary of the Moon spoke, "Can we use the forces of the branch Committee to banish that true Sage Master to the depths of the chaos?"

"If we can eliminate this greatest threat, then with the seven Light Believers leading the guard teams, enforcement teams, and all senior officers, we can completely wipe out the rest of the Crossbridge Empire."

"I suggest, if we act, we should act decisively!"

"Destroy the entire Eura continent as well. Only then can we truly shake the entire Celestial Light God Realm, otherwise, if the war in the Star Sea spreads here, it will be hard to maintain stability."

Five semi-Sage Masters and one Sage Master will deal with the true Sage Master from the Crossbridge Empire!

On the Committee's side, there are also seven Ancient Sage Lords, more than ten Sage Lords, and many Divine Oracles, semi-Sage Lords leading fifty-five thousand elite guards to completely wipe out the Crossbridge Empire forces...

In theory, this would be a crushing victory!

After all, each Ancient Sage Lord could destroy a legion of millions of Sage King rank soldiers!

And with seven of them, over ten Sage Lords, nearly a hundred Divine Oracles, and semi-Sage Lords, these are the top forces dispatched by the Committee headquarters.

Though they don't need to mobilize all their forces, even using just half of them, who in the Celestial Light God Realm could resist?

The light in the Office of Light flickered slightly, as if calculating and weighing the decision.

In the end, a cold will emanated.

"Then let us act decisively. If necessary, we can abandon the God Mountain region and completely destroy the foundation of the Eura continent, erasing all traces of the Crossbridge Empire's existence to prevent future problems."

The Office of Peace and others all agreed, and immediately began to mobilize their guard teams.

At the same time, all their eyes coldly focused on the golden sword nailed at the entrance of the Committee's door...

Olympian God Mountain, Royal Palace.

The Crossbridge Empire legion completely wiped out all remaining resistance in the Olympian God Mountain region.

When Josephine, Fiona, Elizabeth, and Belinda entered the royal palace, anyone who did not kneel was immediately executed on the spot.

With the World Relic Ouroos Disc suppressing the core and tens of millions of Sage King rank Doom Legion stationed, no one dared to make a move.

Any signs of rebellion were instantly obliterated by the ever-present destruction light.

The most sacred temple at the core of God Mountain still stood firm.

In this place, Josephine and others summoned Lucio, Philip, Ares, Harry, Pippin, Prologue Sage, and other high-ranking officials of the Empire.

"The territory of Olympian God Mountain now belongs to the Empire,"

Josephine's voice echoed through the grand hall, carrying undeniable authority.

"All legions will continue sweeping through the states to ensure absolute control over the territory."

"As for the people of God Mountain... their deep-rooted prejudice and arrogance can no longer be cleansed by the old methods. We'll use a new approach."

"Silas and his loyal dogs have fled like defeated dogs. These people still harbor fantasies. If anyone dares to stir trouble at this time, we will deal with them severely—execution without exception!"

The officials solemnly accepted their orders.

Pippin added.

"Devers Divine Empire and Eternal Winter Divine Empire are already at war. This battle has effectively separated the Empire from the surrounding powers of Devers Divine Empire and Eternal Winter Divine Empire, buying us precious time to fully consolidate and secure this new territory."

Josephine fell silent for a moment after hearing this.

Through her Shadow Guild agents, she had already learned about White Lady Shirino's situation.

Shirino had regained control of the Eternal Winter Divine Empire, but what were her true motives behind disappearing for hundreds of thousands of years?

Could she truly be standing with the Empire?

This was still an unknown.

At least for now, it seemed that Eternal Winter Divine Empire's aggressive attack on Devers Divine Empire had unintentionally isolated the Covenant East Fortress, Primordial Sacred Land, Cloud Domain, and other external forces, thus giving the Empire strategic breathing room.

After all, the God Mountain region was surrounded by Devers Divine Empire, Eternal Winter Divine Empire, Chaotic Realm, and Starlight Colonnade.

The Empire had already controlled parts of the Chaotic Realm and separated Starlight Colonnade.

Now, with Eternal Winter Divine Empire and Devers Divine Empire at war, it had effectively blocked off forces like Sea God Temple.

It was as if the Empire had actively isolated external threats!
