

Gods Daily 503

Chapter 503: Master Gold Coin and the Former Queen of Snowbound Kingdom

"Let us hope... this is not just wishful thinking on my part!"

Josephine remained composed.

Lucio and Philip wore grave expressions.

"If either of you has something to say, please feel free," Josephine keenly noticed their demeanor.

Lucio bowed respectfully. "Your Majesty, regarding the matter of fully consolidating the God Mountain domain, I suggest we delay it for now. We only need to maintain basic control and order, without tying up too many elite legions here for the long term."

"The Peace Committee is the order maintainer of the Celestial Light God Realm. Since they have already expressed their intention to intervene, they will certainly take action against the Empire."

"I believe we should gather all our strength to deal with the threat the Committee will bring. Once we successfully fend off their attack, we can then focus on consolidating the territory."

Prologue Sage also agreed, saying, "I concur with Lucio's view."

"As the order maintainers, the Peace Committee's foundation is unfathomably deep. Their ability to easily deploy four semi-Sage Masters to intervene is already telling."

"Although Your Majesty's golden sword has issued a warning, this will only be seen as the most direct provocation."

"They... will certainly respond with overwhelming force!"

Elizabeth, who knew more about the Committee, secretly transmitted a message to Josephine.

"The Committee's strength is no less than that of Olympian God Mountain at its peak, and what's most critical is that this is only their branch!"

"Far deeper in the Star Sea, there is the headquarters. Once war breaks out, it will surely attract the headquarters' attention. Have you reported this matter to His Majesty?"

Josephine nodded slightly.

If their branch has such a formidable force, the power of the headquarters is beyond estimation.

But His Majesty has already nailed the golden sword at the Committee's door, making his stance abundantly clear.

"I have reported the matter of the Committee to His Majesty. The Sacred Envoy rank decree will be issued soon."

Josephine transmitted this in response and then said to Lucio and Philip:

"You two will begin preparations to meet the Committee's intervention immediately. I've already petitioned His Majesty to dispatch powerful beings from the Abyss Demon Realm to assist in the defense."

Everyone received their orders.

However, the core combat strength of God Mountain's royal palace currently consists of only Ares, a Divine Oracle from the Spirit Song Kingdom, a semi-Sage Lord who has fallen in rank due to severe injuries, and three Bone Clan Divine Oracles, totaling six Divine Oracles.

The top-tier artifacts are the Dark Blade and Ouros Disc.

These forces are inadequate to defend the royal palace in the face of a potential Committee army.

Even if Beyoncé might possess strength to threaten a Sage Lord, it would not change the overall outcome.

The real deterrent is only Kaos!

"Your Majesty! Someone requests an audience outside!"

A guard entered and reported.

"At this time, who could it be?" Josephine wondered.

Moments later, a middle-aged man dressed in luxurious robes, gleaming with jewels, entered the hall. He was a Divine Oracle.

He respectfully bowed.

"Black Moon Continent, Master Gold Coin, of the Gold Coin Master's Library, requests an audience with Your Majesty and Her Royal Highnesses."

"Please rise."

Josephine examined him. "What brings you here?"

Lucio, Philip, and others silently braced themselves. After all, a Divine Oracle suddenly appearing needed to be handled with caution.

Master Gold Coin took out a jade box that emitted a warm glow and held it with both hands.

"I pledge my loyalty to the Crossbridge Empire, to serve the Empire with all my might."

"This box contains four Divine Oracle elixirs, which can help Your Majesty and the Princesses increase their ranks. At the semi-Sacred Envoy rank, it can help consolidate the core of the laws, forming an unparalleled bridge between divine essence and the laws themselves."

Divine Oracle elixirs!

Lord of Sacred Light and other ancient Divine Radiants took a sharp breath.

These were undoubtedly legendary treasures. It took countless supreme divine herbs and holy medicines to concoct them, and even they could not acquire a single dose.

These four elixirs were the ultimate treasure sought by many ancient Divine Radiants and semi-Divine Oracles who were stuck at a bottleneck!

Their value was immeasurable.

Josephine and the others were shocked, while their curiosity about the visitor's intentions grew.

Josephine said calmly, "Why choose to come to the Crossbridge Empire?"

Master Gold Coin hesitated slightly but did not hide the truth.

"The law I seek is the path of artifacts. I saw an elder in the Empire, whose understanding of the path of artifacts has reached an incredible rank."

"So, I wish to join the Empire, not only to serve it, but also in the hope of receiving guidance from her."

An elder?

The four princesses exchanged glances, their expressions subtly shifting.

Lucio, Philip, Prologue Sage, and others were also stunned.

"Could he be referring to Beyoncé?"

Belinda spoke with a strange expression.

Josephine, Fiona, and Elizabeth exchanged odd looks.

Beyoncé does nothing but eat and play—how could she possibly teach him?

Does eating and the path of artifacts even have anything in common?

Belinda spoke up, "If you are willing to stay, the Empire will welcome you."

"But she probably can't teach you much."

Master Gold Coin thought for a moment but ultimately did not give up. He decided to stay.

He clearly remembered the terrifying figure, who effortlessly killed a Divine Oracle and completely erased them from existence!

"Your Majesty!"

"Someone else requests an audience!"

Before Master Gold Coin's matter could be settled, another guard reported.

Moments later, a cold and proud woman and a female general clad in ice crystal armor entered the hall.

It was Sherana and Lora.

"Snow..."

Master Gold Coin's pupils contracted sharply when he saw Sherana.

He almost blurted out a name in shock, but Lora's cold glare stopped him, and he immediately closed his mouth.

"Eternal Winter Divine Empire, Sherana."

Sherana nodded slightly, acknowledging the greeting.

"Eternal Winter Divine Empire? Sherana?"

Josephine, Fiona, Elizabeth, and Belinda studied the unexpected visitor carefully.

The White Lady was named Shirino, and this one is called Sherana...

And wasn't the former Queen of Eternal Winter Divine Empire also named this?

Both in terms of rank and appearance, it matches. Master Gold Coin's reaction also confirms this.

"So it is the former Queen of Eternal Winter Divine Empire."

Josephine's expression remained unchanged, her tone calm, "What brings you here?"

"I wish to cooperate with the Crossbridge Empire," Sherana said bluntly. "The Empire is about to face the threat of the Peace Committee. I believe you are already aware of their strength."

"There are many Divine Oracles and Sage Lords in the Committee, along with seven Ancient Sage Lords, five semi-Sage Masters, and one Sage Master overseeing them!"

"If that Sage Master intervenes and holds back your true Sage Master, the other powerful beings will work together to deal with the Empire... with your current forces, it will be difficult to resist."

"I have seven Divine Oracles and one semi-Sage Lord under my command. We can join the Empire to fight the Committee and alleviate some of the Empire's pressure."

"What's the condition?" Elizabeth asked directly.

Sherana said, "Help me reclaim the throne of Eternal Winter Divine Empire."