

Gods Daily 516

Chapter 516: Formation of the Celestial Light God Realm Alliance

Kichin was unable to meet with the Office of Light and returned to the capital with a dark expression.

However, as soon as he set foot inside the palace...

Boom!

Tina, leading six million Sacred Radiance rank void warlocks, tens of millions of Sage Kings, hundreds of millions of God Kings, and Divine Cleric rank experts, forcefully crossed the border and rapidly pushed into the heart of Devers' capital, directly targeting the imperial city.

"Activate the four-directional guardian magic array!"

Kichin issued the urgent order.

Two quasi-Sage Masters stepped out from the imperial city, summoning the World Relic Whip of Judgment.

In the next moment, four towering phantoms appeared in the sky above the capital.

In the north, the Infernal Dragon of the ancient dragon realm rose, its wings blocking the sky, its power overwhelming.

In the southern borders, the Sky Griffon unfurled its wings, its stormy gusts ripping through the clouds.

In the west, the Abyssal Scorpion-Lion lay coiled, its poisonous tail piercing through the void.

In the Eastern Domain, the Nightmare Beast spread its darkness, swallowing light like a tide.

The four magical beast phantoms were empowered by the national force of the Devers Divine Empire, making them incredibly powerful.

"You're asking for death!"

Ares' figure rose from the ground.

His blood-red battle axe crashed down on the barrier, causing the sky above the capital to collapse in response.

"How is this possible? It can't possibly be stopped..."

"Is this just a futile struggle?"

The beings inside the capital gazed up at the scene.

Though the four beast magical arrays were powerful, they were still weaker than the royal palace's protective array from Olympian God Mountain.

Even the royal array couldn't stop Crossbridge Empire; how could they?

...

Flame Eagle Clan Territory.

Clan Leader Boild read the letter from the Office of Light and sensed the dramatic changes in Devers Divine Empire, his heart filled with hesitation.

"Crossbridge Empire has moved this quickly. They probably won't stop easily."

"Once Devers falls, we could very well be next."

An ancient Sage Lord spoke in a deep voice. "Leader, although the Peace Committee intends to use us to tie down Crossbridge Empire, we must now take a stand."

Previously, they had planned to stay out of the conflict between Crossbridge Empire and the Peace Committee, waiting for the Peace Committee's headquarters to resolve the problem.

Moreover, the Primordial Giants had already intervened!

They were supposed to be able to suppress Crossbridge Empire.

But the reality was, before the Peace Committee's headquarters or the Primordial Giants could arrive, Crossbridge Empire had already launched a massive attack on Devers Divine Empire, openly displaying their expansionist ambitions.

This meant that their dream of watching the situation from the sidelines had shattered.

If they waited for the Peace Committee's headquarters to arrive, Crossbridge Empire would likely have already arrived at their doorstep.

With their current power, waiting for them to break through one by one would be equivalent to self-destruction.

"I also suggest we must act immediately!"

"I second that..."

Other ancient Sage Lords nodded in agreement.

"Tell the Office of Light that if we form an alliance, our clan will only be responsible for resistance until the Peace Committee's experts arrive."

In the depths of the clan territory, within an endless sea of scorching lava, a shadowy figure suddenly spoke.

Boild and the Sage Lords turned and bowed to the figure in the lava sea.

The speaker was the ancestor of the Flame Eagle Clan—the Lord of the Blazing Eagle!

"Ancestor, what if other factions disagree?"

One Sage Lord asked.

The Lord of the Blazing Eagle slowly replied.

"At this point, it's everyone's interest. It's a collective matter, and they must agree whether they like it or not."

Boild understood this logic and then asked,

"Ancestor, would you be able to reach out to the others... to communicate with them?"

Given the Lord of the Blazing Eagle's status, reaching an agreement with the highest powers of other factions would be far more effective than them attempting it themselves.

The Lord of the Blazing Eagle did not refuse.

After a brief moment of contemplation, he communicated with several figures deep within Cloudcrown Sanctum, the Primordial Sacred Land, and those within the Starlight Colonnade using his mind power.

These were the Celestial Light God Realm's most powerful forces, Sage Lord rank existences.

After receiving the message, the Sovereign of the Cloud Realm from Cloudcrown Sanctum also agreed.

After all, if the Flame Eagle Clan took action, they would have to follow suit.

In addition, many smaller factions were also pulled into the situation.

Though no direct action had been taken by the Starlight Colonnade, factions like the Star God Merchant Guild within the Colonnade had declared their willingness to join forces to resist Crossbridge Empire.

...

Sea God Temple.

The Temple Master, having returned from the Heavenly Mountain, also received the news.

In addition, the Lord of the Blazing Eagle and the ruler of Cloudcrown Sanctum had already contacted the high priest of the temple.

After thinking for a moment, the Temple Master said, "Let's agree to their terms for now."

"Does the Temple Master intend to oppose Crossbridge Empire?"

The God of Wisdom, the War Executor, and the High Priest of the Temple all looked puzzled.

"Let them unite!"

"Before the Peace Committee headquarters and the Primordial Giants arrive, we can take them all down in one fell swoop."

The Temple Master's voice echoed softly from the flower garden, "I suspect this is exactly what Crossbridge Empire is planning too."

"If we don't join, it's uncertain whether this alliance will come together."

Upon hearing this, the others immediately understood the deeper strategy, nodding in agreement.

...

Icecrystal Palace.

White Lady Shirino also received the message.

However, before she could make a decision, Alvin, deep within the Ice Sea, handed her a prophetic token.

After reading it, she happily agreed to join the alliance.

...

The leaders of the various factions gathered at the Peace Committee, making detailed arrangements.

If Aurek personally took action, or if Kaos, the true Sage Master, intervened, then the Sage Lords, led by the Lord of the Blazing Eagle, would step in.

The combined forces of the factions would include six Sage Masters, with the Office of Light's total forces reaching seven, enough to handle one or two Sage Masters.

At the same time, factions sent their ancient Sage Lords, Sage Lords, and Divine Oracles to face Crossbridge Empire's top experts and its 6.5 million Divine Radiant legions.

Cloudcrown Sanctum, Eternal Winter Divine Empire, and other factions would mobilize their most elite legions to fight Crossbridge Empire's army.

This news quickly reached Crossbridge Empire through the Sea God Temple and Eternal Winter Divine Empire.

Lucio and Philip immediately made corresponding arrangements.

...

Devers Divine Empire's territory.

With the activation of the Ouros Disc, the enslaved Office of Peace struck the four-beast guardian barrier.

The four powerful magical beast phantoms shattered one by one, and the Devers Divine Empire's national power was suppressed.

Just as Kichin was nearly in despair,

The space of Devers Divine Empire was suddenly enveloped by a massive energy shield.

At the same time, the Office of Light, Clan Leader Boild, the ruler of Cloudcrown Sanctum, General Terrence, the president of the Star God Merchant Guild, and the leaders of the Primordial Sacred Land's three holy temples and seven secret places all appeared!

Also appearing were the Sea Temple Master and White Lady Shirino!

Numerous Sage Lords and ancient Sage Lords from various factions also gathered.

Divine Radiants and Divine Oracles were in vast numbers.

Kichin paused for a moment, then his face lit up with joy!

...

From the direction of God Mountain's royal palace, all of the Empire's powerful figures crossed the domains to arrive at the battlefield.

Whether it was the Office of Peace, or the recently allied Sherana, Lora, or other Divine Oracles and Sage Lords, everyone was serious and didn't seem relaxed.

Crossbridge Empire was strong, but facing them was nearly the entire Celestial Light God Realm's most powerful forces!

This was essentially making an enemy of the whole world, and no one was confident they could win.

"Your Majesty..."

Lora looked at Sherana, wanting to speak but hesitating.

"Don't rush, let's observe the situation first."

Sherana interrupted, her eyes fixed on the battlefield.

"Crossbridge Empire, you should stop here. The Olympian God Mountain territory is enough for your survival. If you insist on expanding, the Celestial Light God Realm will never sit idly by."

The Sovereign of the Cloud Realm issued a cold warning.

If they could avoid fighting, that would be best.

Everything would be left to the upcoming Peace Committee headquarters or the possibly returning Primordial Giants.

By setting the battlefield in Devers Divine Empire, they also aimed to keep their own territory out of the fire and prevent destruction.

Harry stood in the sky, his cold gaze sweeping over the powerful figures within the energy shield, issuing the final warning.

"Pass the Emperor's decree to Crossbridge Emperor!"

"Surrender to the Empire and be spared!"

"Those who dare to block the steps of Crossbridge Empire shall be executed without mercy!"

"Think carefully and make the wise choice!"