Chapter 556: Sacred Envoy Rank: Though Distant, They Shall Be Slain

"The ones who have come should be remnants of the Ancient Epoch."

Within a concealed void node, the Lord of the Apocalypse Hall, Lindsey, gazed at the chaotic continent and murmured softly.

The Ancient Remnants were divided into four eras — the Ancient Epoch, the Remote Epoch, the Chaos Epoch, and the Primordial Epoch.

These were collective titles for the primordial beings born in four different periods of origin.

"Excellent. They're from the Ancient Epoch!"

The powerhouses of the Destruction Origin Clan finally let out a breath of relief upon seeing the two dark-skinned giants.

Their backing force was precisely the Ancient Epoch.

Solaro, Leon, the Elven Goddess, the Saintess of Truth, Councilor Silent Extinction, and others suppressed the turmoil in their hearts and watched in silence.

BOOM—!

Before the figures even fully arrived, the newly formed continent at Starlight Colonnade was instantly torn to shreds by the oncoming shockwave.

The aftershocks rippled across the Celestial Light God Realm.

Squad after squad of sage lord–rank legions stepped out from the Gold Giant Gate, forming ranks along the world’s edge.

Grandmaster Gold Coin, the Azure-Eyed Serpent Woman, and other native experts of the Celestial Light God Realm stared toward Starlight Colonnade in shock, attempting to glimpse the disturbances deep within the Star Sea.

At the summit of Heaven-Pillar, that hazy figure also cast its gaze outward.

The chaotic continent borne by the two dark-skinned giants was crowded with figures.

They were of ordinary height, yet their bodies seemed composed of pure radiance — dazzling, blazing, haloed with light.

Their pupils were an eerie deep blue.

These beings appeared to have transcended something fundamental.

They resembled hyper-dimensional light-based lifeforms — as if cosmic creators themselves — surveying all living beings within the Celestial Light God Realm with detached scrutiny.

The dark-skinned giants halted at the edge of the Star Sea outside the Celestial Light God Realm and did not advance further.

Moments later, one luminous figure flew out from the chaotic continent.

Following the threads of law that connected to the Celestial Light God Realm, he traveled like flowing light and descended in an instant.

He hovered silently in midair, light coursing across his body.

His deep-blue pupils locked onto the Gold Giant Gate.

At the same time, countless sage lord legions had already fixed their gazes upon him.

Time and space seemed to freeze.

The luminous being appeared to decipher the world's language and spoke.

His voice was calm, utterly devoid of emotional fluctuation.

"Hand over that child. We do not wish to bring war to this world."

Before the Gold Giant Gate, Heimerdinger responded coldly.

"If you truly do not wish for war, then you should immediately withdraw from the Empire's territory."

The luminous being showed no reaction to the rebuke, as though all emotion had long been stripped away.

"You may return and consult the Emperor of Crossbridge. I have come with goodwill, hoping this matter may be resolved in the most peaceful manner."

"One sentence — are you retreating or not?" Heimerdinger pressed, unwilling to waste another word.

Within imperial territory, it did not matter whether one was an Ancient Remnant or a hegemonic force.

At that very moment—

BOOM—!

A planar gate burst open.

The Sunblessed Goldenflame Phoenix descended like a cataclysmic sun, crashing down before the Gold Giant Gate!

The blazing sphere compressed upon landing, condensing into the figure of Eternal Apollo Sunblaze.

"It's him!"

The Elven Goddess and Solaro trembled inwardly.

At the battle of the Chaos Ruins, they had personally witnessed this being's terror.

Hellshark, wielding the quasi-Origin Artifact Black Shark's Fang, had once been slain by him.

Four quasi-Empyrean Sanctum existences had been completely erased by him and another Imperial War God.

Though the Saintess of Truth, Councilor Silent Extinction, and Lindsey had not witnessed that battle firsthand, they could clearly feel the suffocating oppression radiating from the Eternal Sunfire War God.

All eyes were quietly observing.

At the edge of the Star Sea, the Starwatcher God-King and the Heavenly Wolf God General had also arrived with a small contingent, concealed in darkness.

The Starwatcher God-King's gaze swept across the organized sage lord legions before settling on the luminous being and Apollo.

Leonel's words no longer required doubt.

He remained silent, watching coldly.

He knew well — that luminous figure was indeed a remnant of the Ancient Epoch.

The Starfont Divine Court had dealt with them many times before.

He wanted to see whether these beings could gain any advantage within the Crossbridge Empire.

...

At that moment, Lucio stepped out from the Gold Giant Gate.

He walked to stand beside Heimerdinger and Winston, holding a scroll in his hands — the Sacred Envoy Rank.

His gaze swept across the luminous being, the Starwatcher God-King, and the various hidden powerhouses scattered across the domain.

Then he unfurled the Sacred Envoy Rank and proclaimed in a resounding voice:

"Any who raise blade and sword against us — their clans shall turn to dust, their bloodlines severed at the end of time!"

"If you retain even a shred of reason, withdraw before this decree transforms into a blade!"

"Those who dare challenge the Empire's majesty — though distant, they shall be slain!"

The vast heavenly proclamation echoed across the Celestial Light God Realm, piercing the starry void and reaching every powerful being's ears.

Lucio closed the Sacred Envoy Rank and cast it toward the heavens.

BOOM—!

An immeasurable imperial pressure descended instantly.

Nine golden pillars of light shot skyward from the Sacred Envoy Rank.

ROAR! ROAR! ROAR—!

Nine colossal dragons roared across the skies outside the Gold Giant Gate, diving toward the luminous being and the Starwatcher God-King!

They gazed down upon every living being.

Within each draconic eye reflected an unquestionable warning.

The overwhelming majesty caused the Starwatcher God-King's brow to lift slightly.

The experts behind him unconsciously retreated half a step.

Hidden powerhouses across imperial territory trembled in their hearts.

"What terrifying power..."

An elder of the Primordial Dragon Clan murmured.

Though he too was of dragonkind, even he regarded those nine dragons with deep caution.

This was the ultimate condensation of royal authority and destiny.

The luminous being stared at the nine dragons and fell silent for half a second.

Then he moved.

ROAR—!

The nine dragons roared simultaneously, transforming into a torrent of golden light that instantly sealed the space around the luminous being!

They constructed a mysterious and powerful barrier, engulfing him and soaring upward!

Like a vast net, the barrier dragged him through Starlight Colonnade, pulling him straight out of the Celestial Light God Realm!

At that instant, the luminous being erupted with the Light of Silent Extinction.

He raised his palm — marks of law and marks of life intertwined at his fingertips.

With a fierce pull, he seemed to wrench at the threads of the world's rules themselves!

CRACK—!

One dragon after another was torn apart by invisible threads!

The luminous being's body expanded severalfold as he ripped open space and surged back into the Celestial Light God Realm!

The world's origin manifested beneath his feet, flowing into a River of Time.

The ancient power unique to the primordial beings of the Ancient Epoch began to awaken.

Forces hidden within the primordial regions of the Celestial Light God Realm converged upon him!

He threw a punch toward the Gold Giant Gate!

BOOM!

Eternal Apollo Sunblaze moved later but arrived first!

The Origin of Fire surged like a boundless tidal wave, merging with the world's origin and pouring into the River of Time, sweeping toward the luminous being!

Yet the luminous being showed no fear of flame, advancing against the sea of fire!

Apollo condensed a divine pearl and stepped into the inferno, engaging in direct combat!

Terrifying killing strikes landed upon the luminous being one after another — yet none could deal fatal damage!

The luminous being's rank was likewise quasi-Empyrean Sanctum.

In raw combat strength, he might not equal Eternal Apollo Sunblaze.

But physical attacks and ordinary law-order assaults struck him like stones sinking into the sea — vanishing without a trace.
