Chapter 561: A Perfect Counter — The Era of the Crossbridge Empire

Using the origin of life as their catalyst, the Life Sorcerers built a vast Life Domain.

Any remnant who stepped into it found the light on their body being dragged away and stripped apart by an invisible vortex!

"The Ancient Scions are actually... being countered?!"

"How is that possible? The Crossbridge Empire should never have come into contact with the Ancient Scions—so how could it possibly possess a method to counter them?"

Far in the distance, Lindsey, the Saintess of Truth, and the others who had fled were all thrown into shock at the sight.

The Ancient Scions were effectively the third generation of creators in this Star Sea universe.

They had spent ages evolving and studying life, systematically avoiding every threat that targeted living beings.

A single remnant at Sage Lord rank was enough to leave an ordinary quasi-Empyrean Sanctum helpless.

They were supreme sapient lifeforms.

To kill them completely was almost impossible.

Back then, the Divine Court had gone to war with the Ancient Scions after becoming enemies.

But the Divine Court had not won—on the contrary, it had paid a grievous price.

If not for the Empyrean Sanctum on both sides stepping in, fearing a collapse of the universe, that war would never have ended.

And yet now, they were watching these nearly-undying remnants decay before their very eyes!

This newly appeared imperial legion had completely overturned everything they thought they knew.

The Ancient Scions were indeed terrifying—they were slaughtering the legions of the Crossbridge Empire in droves.

But the Crossbridge Empire had tens of billions of Sage Lord legions!

Every single one possessed enough power to destroy a Sage Master.

Losing tens of thousands, hundreds of thousands, even millions, did not damage their foundations in the slightest.

More than a billion legions surrounded that Chaos Continent, stacked layer upon layer like walls of worlds.

And the number of Ancient Scions was ultimately limited.

At last, one luminous being at Sage Lord rank could no longer endure the burning of curses and Origin Soulflame.

He began to fall.

His light-forged body decayed into a black, viscous mass.

Letting out an unwilling roar, he charged toward the legions of the Crossbridge Empire.

But the light on his body was being stripped away—that was his life-substance.

He dissolved halfway there, collapsing completely into a heap of rot.

Then another luminous being began to disintegrate. Then another, and another...

Soul, curse, time, and space—those summoned troop types were all external influences.

The true counter to the remnants of the Ancient Epoch was the Life Sorcerer!

The remnants of the Ancient Epoch had placed everything on life itself, evolving through the study of life.

And Life Sorcerers were born with the attribute of life. They were uniquely gifted.

Using life as their weapon, and supported by the other imperial legions, they could truly and completely kill these remnants.

Aurek saw this as well.

So did the golden-eyed remnant leader and the other remnants surrounding Aurek.

Hatred ignited in their hearts.

They stopped holding back and launched a full-force assault on Aurek!

At the side, the eternal Apollo Sunblaze crazily pursued them with Origin-Conversion Forbidden Arts and Creation Forbidden Arts.

Lucio, Heimerdinger, and Winston drew upon the Empire's national fortune and blocked with quasi-Empyrean Sanctum power!

But Aurek paid no attention to their attacks.

Only power capable of breaking the Dimensional Horizon was worth his notice.

After learning the true nature of these remnants from the battle on the other side, he put away the golden sword.

Then he pulled his hands apart sharply!

From within that great world he had created, a gigantic formation diagram suddenly rose into the air and instantly fell beneath all the Ancient Scions!

The golden-eyed leader used his own body as a boundary, rapidly constructing a miniature universe in an attempt to isolate the formation!

The other remnants at quasi-Empyrean Sanctum level also leapt upward, mobilizing the origin of chaos and transforming it into vast chaotic storms that shrouded the area beneath them!

The storms cut them off from the formation diagram.

Aurek invoked the Law of Time!

A River of Ages surged skyward from the formation!

Roaring and boundless like a world-drowning flood, it swept through those chaotic storms and swallowed all the remnants above them!

Within the river, countless scenes of mortal life rose and sank in endless succession!

"River of Ages!"

The Starwatcher God-King, who had only just reconstituted his body, was shaken to the core!

"He actually commands the Law of Time... and can even invoke the River of Ages... h-how is that possible?!"

"He is only quasi-Empyrean Sanctum! An existence flowing in the very origin of the universe like that... only an Empyrean Sanctum should be able to wield it!"

"River of Ages!"

Even the golden-eyed leader was utterly shocked.

"Withdraw! Leave this place now!"

He suddenly shouted.

The other remnants understood at once and fled in frenzy!

The eternal Apollo Sunblaze transformed into a Sunblessed Goldenflame Phoenix, exhaling the origin of fire into the River of Ages.

The Flames of Time ignited in a raging blaze!

They pinned down the fleeing remnants!

BOOM—!

The Law of Space continued shifting, forming layer upon layer of worlds, imprisoning all matter—whether tangible or intangible!

Even the burning Flames of Time and the origin of fire were sealed within it!

The Laws of Time and Space wielded by Aurek were not at Sage Lord level—they were quasi-Empyrean Sanctum.

Even the Ancient Scions could not escape.

"This is my era. The era of the Crossbridge Empire."

Aurek's voice was cold and tyrannical.

"You relics of a bygone age—it is time for you to be buried."

The killing intent in his eyes surged violently as he continuously invoked Soul Law to grind away the souls of every remnant!

Thousandfold Sword Judgment Domain!

Myriad Judgment Domain!

Zephyr-Heaven Art!

Ultimate Law Scripture!

Starseal...

Every method, every art, every killing technique—unleashed in full!

One Ancient Scion after another was obliterated amid agony!

"Aaaah—!"

"Impossible...!"

The lament of the Ancient Epoch resounded across the Star Sea.

It was as if an age itself were being proclaimed dead.

BOOM!

The light on the golden-eyed leader's body began to scatter as well.

He merged into the Threads of Fate and leapt wildly through them. Only with great difficulty did he finally break free of the River of Ages and flee into the Chaos Continent!

A sky-covering giant hand suddenly reached out from within the Chaos Continent and smashed down violently onto the sealed region, temporarily interrupting the River of Ages!

A portion of the remnants seized the chance to break free, madly rushing into the Chaos Continent!

ROAR—!

The two aberrant fiends also let out heaven-shaking roars!

They spat storms of primordial force, blasting toward the imperial legions surrounding them!

Countless Star Sea universes trembled violently under that strike!

And just then—

The Sunblessed Goldenflame Phoenix soared upward!

The origin of fire on his body burned unceasingly, transforming into a sun of ultimate brilliance!

Its light illuminated dozens of Star Sea sectors.

Even the worlds of the Styx Sector and those beyond it could feel that blinding radiance!

In the next instant, that sun came crashing down upon the leaf-shaped continent.

RUMBLE—!!!

A universe-shaking explosion thundered out!

The Chaos Continent was smashed apart from the very center!

At the heart of the Eastern Starfield, an incomparable crater of destruction was blasted open!

The Celestial Light God Realm began to split apart.

The barrier between the Endless Continent and the Abyss Demon Realm began to crack.

The fissures in the universe stretched all the way toward the Styx Sector...

Countless worlds were torn in half, exposed to the brutal environment of chaos!

Tiny fragments and dust from the Chaos Continent drifted everywhere, while the two aberrant fiends were ripped to pieces in an instant.

Far away, the elder Primordial Dragon and the boy were blown flying.

Winston, Heimerdinger, Lucio, the Starwatcher God-King, the Saintess of Truth... everyone was hurled deep into the Star Sea.

Only Aurek remained standing in the starry sky.

The Dimensional Horizon expanded outward, its wall of light enduring the continuous bombardment of countless fragments of the Chaos Continent and shattered cosmic debris.

BOOM—!

A catastrophic storm of chaos slammed into the Celestial Light God Realm, shaking even the Gold Giant Gate until it rang and trembled.

This sacred solar descent unleashed by the eternal Apollo Sunblaze was his strongest method aside from the true body of the Fire God.

Even a Star Sea universe could barely withstand that terrifying weight and heat.

It tore an entire starfield apart, forcibly turning it into a newborn world.
