

Gods Daily 584

Chapter 584: The Supreme Sage Rank of the Crossbridge Empire

At the defensive line of Styx Sector.

The two other battlefields had already erupted into war, and here in Styx Sector, the combined army numbering in the tens of billions had also completed its assembly, all eyes locked onto the defensive line stretching across the Star Sea.

"My lord Dark Keep, it is about time."

Nat, commander of the star legions, reported in a low voice.

The War God of Dark Keep stood at the very front.

Behind him were Darkmoon Hunter, Star-Orbit God-King, Solstar God King, Arthas, Lord of the Illusory Realm, Slaughter Angel, Lindsey, Hall Lord of Apocalypse Hall, Ryan, Lord of the Endless River...

And nearly five hundred quasi-Empyrean Sanctum experts.

The War God of Dark Keep gazed into the distant Star Sea.

He was ranked first on the Star Sea Demigod Throne List, an existence infinitely close to the Supreme Sage Rank, and the one most likely to become the next powerhouse to step into the Empyrean Sanctum.

His combat power was such that he could even withstand attacks from an ordinary Supreme Sage Rank expert head-on.

With him personally taking the field, the scale of this war had already far surpassed the campaign that destroyed the Stellar Divine Court in ages past.

Rumble—!

Five enormous realm gates opened at the same time within the Star Sea.

The gates pierced through the void, connecting directly to the Celestial Light God Realm of the Eastern Starfield.

At that very instant, the entire universe shook violently.

The laws of the starry cosmos of all races manifested one after another within the Star Sea.

"A Supreme Sage Rank expert is making a move!"

Every expert watching the battle understood exactly what that meant.

The ancient overlords at the far end of the Star Sea also began quietly moving closer toward Styx Sector.

The Chaos Unicorn stared excitedly at the five realm gates, as if already selecting the prey it wanted.

Boom—!

The dome of Styx Sector was torn apart.

Five figures stepped out.

The expressions of Alvin, Suggwoth, and the others changed drastically.

Yet those five Supreme Sage Rank experts ignored them completely and went straight past them, charging toward the Celestial Light God Realm, toward Aetherian Sanctuary!

...

Celestial Light God Realm.

Ministers such as Winston and Heimerdinger stood before the Gold Giant Gate.

The five Supreme Sage Rank experts had not yet arrived, but the projections of their power had already been cast into the void.

That ultimate, overwhelming aura of terror made every living being tremble uncontrollably.

If those five were allowed to descend, the Celestial Light God Realm would be crushed into dust in an instant.

And just then—

"Within the Empire's domain, Supreme Sage Rank entities are forbidden to pass. Violators—die."

A clear, resonant voice drifted out from the depths of Aetherian Sanctuary.

The voice crossed the Primordial World and struck directly into the perception of the five Supreme Sage Rank experts, forcing their advancing steps to come to an abrupt halt.

In the next instant, a pure white figure appeared beyond the starry sky.

Crusader Goddess Venus!

"The intelligence was wrong!"

"The Crossbridge Empire... also has a Supreme Sage Rank expert!"

Dreamweaver was stunned.

The elder of the Primordial Dragons was stunned.

The Chaos Unicorn was stunned.

Even ancient overlords hidden in the shadows—such as the Silver Gentleman, the Adjudicator, and the God of Order—were all equally stunned.

In the previous battle, Aurek had personally taken the field, so everyone had assumed that the Empire did not truly have a Supreme Sage Rank powerhouse presiding over it.

"Wasn't Aurek supposed to be their only top expert?!"

"Where did this Supreme Sage Rank existence come from?!"

Outside the Styx defensive line, the expression of the War God of Dark Keep darkened sharply.

Star-Orbit God-King and the others also underwent a drastic change in expression.

This hidden card of the Crossbridge Empire had completely exceeded their expectations.

The five Supreme Sage Rank experts were likewise staring at Crusader Goddess Venus, surprise flashing in their eyes.

But what outweighed that surprise was relief.

"So they really did have a hidden Supreme Sage Rank expert holding the line. Unfortunately, there is only one."

"Indeed. As long as she is tied down, our thirty billion troops will be enough to uproot the Crossbridge Empire completely."

The War God of Dark Keep spoke coldly.

"All troops, advance!"

More than thirty billion soldiers and nearly a thousand quasi-Empyrean Sanctum experts moved at once.

A pressure so immense it was beyond description swept across the entire starry cosmos of all races.

Order fell into disorder. Chaos itself trembled.

At last, a war destined to sweep across the heavens officially began.

...

The Styx defensive line.

Alvin activated the Star Sea magic formation that had been laid down long ago.

The chaotic origin and Threads of Fate from more than a dozen starfields were mobilized at the same time, pouring ceaselessly into the Annihilation Spear, the Heart of Starfield Preservation, and the Ourois Disc.

The three top-tier divine artifacts blazed with dazzling radiance, constructing an unbreakable line of defense.

"Prepare for battle!"

Suggwoth drew his sword and shouted.

The Empire's force of over one billion Sage Lord-rank troops stood unmoving, staring at the hundreds of billions of enemies surging toward them like a tide that covered heaven and earth.

The sheer force of that terrifying momentum drove chaotic storms before it, threatening to engulf the entire defensive line.

"Kill—!"

Quasi-Empyrean Sanctum experts such as Star-Orbit God-King crossed the Star Sea and charged into Styx Sector first.

The thirty-billion-strong army followed close behind, crashing toward that seemingly fragile defensive line like a world-drowning tidal wave.

The sheer grandeur and scale of the scene sent shock through the hearts of countless cosmic experts watching from afar.

"So this is the wrath of the Divine Courts..."

"No wonder they could bring an era to an end. A foundation like this truly inspires despair."

...

The five Supreme Sage Rank experts did not stop because of Venus's warning.

Bearing the pressure of another Supreme Sage Rank, they stepped straight into the Eastern Starfield.

As long as they could hold her back, the War God of Dark Keep's thirty-billion-strong army would sweep across the battlefield and annihilate the Crossbridge Empire's effective forces completely!

At that very moment, Winston, Heimerdinger, and the others stepped aside.

The Gold Giant Gate shook violently.

Boom—!

Squad after squad of Sage Lord legions stepped out of the gate.

They crossed the Celestial Light God Realm, passed through the Primordial World, and through realm gates that had already been opened in advance, heading straight toward the battlefield of Styx Sector.

The Gold Giant Gate, the realm gate outside the Celestial Light God Realm, and the realm gate within Styx Sector—

Between these three gates, the Sage Lord legions formed a continuous, unending dragon-like line, pouring ceaselessly onto the battlefield!

The beings of the Celestial Light God Realm looked up and saw only endless armies above the heavens, flowing like a vast river of stars.

The sight was so overwhelming that it left them speechless.

Countless people swallowed hard at the same time, utterly shaken by what they were seeing.

Vane, the Silvermoon Wolf King, the Gold Coin Grandmaster, Bolink...

The trillions upon trillions of beings in the Celestial Light God Realm all lifted their heads, staring at that endless dragon-like stream pouring out from the Gold Giant Gate, so transfixed they forgot to breathe.

Every single one of them was a Sage Lord!

Endless in number, beyond all calculation!

Vivien, Nalodebi, Evelyn, Grace, Winter...

Those maidservants who had long since been taken into the Divine Sanctuary were now standing atop the palace heights, gazing at the armies descending from the sky, every delicate face frozen in utter shock.

Even the five Supreme Sage Rank experts who were observing the battlefield were stunned.

Within the Primordial World, the Gargoyle Clan, the Godslayer Clan...

All living beings were dumbstruck.

If memory served, hadn't tens of billions of Sage Lord troops already emerged before this?

And yet now there were still more?

And every single one of them was still at the Sage Lord Realm?!

Where exactly had the Crossbridge Empire gotten such terrifying reserves?!

Everyone held their breath as they watched this scene unfold.

Before the planar gates of Styx Sector—

Boom! Boom!

Rumble...!

The Empire's armies continued stepping out in formation, without end!

Ten million, one hundred million, one billion...

Experts from all corners of the Star Sea had their eyes drawn there.

At first, they had assumed these were merely the garrison troops stationed in the Celestial Light God Realm and the Eastern Starfield.

But when the number of troops broke past two billion, everyone realized that something was terribly wrong.

Former powerhouses of the Celestial Light God Realm such as the Lord of the Blazing Eagle turned their heads to look. They froze for a moment—then erupted in wild joy!

Even Alvin, Lucio, and Philip were stunned.

The Celestial Light God Realm and the Eastern Starfield did indeed have some forces stationed there, but absolutely not this many.

So where exactly had all these troops come from?

The War God of Dark Keep had already charged to the front of the battle line. His terrifying offensive might quickly tore open the defensive line, and the coalition army of thirty billion surged in after him, crushing forward from every direction.

Rumble—!

That planar gate shook violently once again, and another two billion Imperial troops rushed in as reinforcements.

"This is very, very wrong..."

The elder of the Primordial Dragons suddenly narrowed his eyes.

He recalled the scenes he had witnessed earlier outside the Gold Giant Gate, and his pupils contracted sharply.

He fought with all his might to suppress the shock in his heart, staring fixedly at that gate.

"The Crossbridge Empire has added another several billion troops..."

"This is not right!"

Star-Orbit God-King and the others also sensed the abnormality within Styx Sector, and their expressions changed drastically.

This was completely different from the intelligence they had received!