

Golden 114

Chapter 114 Seeing Qin Xuanbing Again

Nanjing is a sub-provincial city and a national comprehensive transportation hub. It's a crucial central city in the Yangtze River Delta, connecting the east and west. Its economic status and strength are naturally among the best in Jiangsu Province. For example, if Liu Chuan wanted to buy a Hummer, ordering it at the Pengcheng Auto Market would take at least a month, but in Nanjing, it would arrive in just over a week.

After having dinner in Liuhe, Zhuang Rui, Liu Chuan, and others drove directly to Daming Road in the south of Nanjing. This is the most concentrated and advantageous area for the Nanjing car market. Liu Chuan ordered his Hummer from a dealership here.

"Wow, there are so many rich people these days."

Liu Chuan parked his car in front of a car dealership. He and Lei Lei had agreed to meet there, but after looking around, he couldn't find Lei Lei or Qin Xuanbing. Instead, he saw that the dealership was bustling with people, as if some kind of car show was being held.

In fact, it wasn't just in Nanjing; the car markets in cities across the country were just as bustling. This was because on January 1st of this year, the import tariff on cars was reduced from 5% last year to 3%, and the government introduced more than a hundred industry policies related to automobiles, including raising the upper age limit for applying for a small car driver's license from 60 to 70 years old, and the introduction of the Z-type driver's license. All of these greatly stimulated people's desire to buy cars, and 2003 can be said to be a year of explosive growth in the purchase of private cars in China.

Liu Chuan found a parking space and parked his beat-up car. After getting out of the car, everyone stretched. Actually, the car wouldn't be crowded with four people, but with the two mastiffs, the space felt cramped. Liu Chuan's black lion was fine, but Zhuang Rui's little white lion had grown to thirty or forty pounds. Judging from its size, it was about the same size as a typical German Shepherd. It had been lying on Zhuang Rui's lap the whole way, but now that it was out of the car, it started running around happily.

"Xiao Rui, you and Da Chuan go look at cars. We'll head to the auto parts market next door first. We'll probably drive back to Pengcheng tonight. If you're driving back to Zhonghai, please be extra careful on the road."

Zhao Guodong had been here a few times before and knew that the car market and auto parts market were connected. Pengcheng's auto repair shop was already under renovation, done by Boss Qi's construction team. The work was simple; it was just building a fence and making some minor modifications to a warehouse. It would be completed in three to five days. Meanwhile, Zhao Guodong's other apprentice was handling the paperwork, which would be done in a few days. Therefore, Zhao Guodong was in a hurry and said goodbye to Zhuang Rui after getting out of the car.

Zhuang Rui was taken aback when he heard this. It was almost 2 p.m., and if they bought the things and went back to Pengcheng, they probably wouldn't get home until midnight. He couldn't help but advise, "Brother-in-law, there's no need to rush. Stay overnight and leave with Da Chuan tomorrow morning."

"No need. We're currently renovating the warehouse, so building a paint booth is easier. It'll be more troublesome once the renovations are finished. I've already arranged for them to send people over tomorrow. Okay, it's fine. Da Chuan, give me the car keys."

"No, brother-in-law, we won't be any worse off. Besides, I'm going to buy two cars this time. If you two leave, how am I going to drive them back by myself?"

Liu Chuan disagreed. Three people and three cars were just right. If the master and apprentice ran away, he would have to find a driver, which would be too much trouble.

Zhao Guodong had obviously not thought of this either. He slapped his forehead and said, "I forgot about that. Okay, let's go together tomorrow. We'll call you after we finish our business tonight." Zhuang Rui had gone to Liu Chuan's house a couple of days ago and given Zhao Guodong a cell phone that he had just replaced last year, so it was easy for the group to contact each other now.

Zhao Guodong had a lot to do in the afternoon, so after saying goodbye to the two of them, he hurriedly left with his apprentice.

"Hey Wood, your brother-in-law's gone now. I'll get you a private room tonight. Whether you can lose your virginity is up to you. Hey, hey, don't, don't bite me! I just bought these pants, and I didn't bring a change.

After Zhao Guodong walked away, Liu Chuan put his arm around Zhuang Rui's shoulder and said with a lewd grin, but before he could react, the little white lion bit his trouser leg and started tearing it. Liu Chuan didn't notice at first, but when he heard the sound of his trousers tearing, he realized that his neatly pressed trousers had one leg that was almost turned into a cheongsam.

Zhuang Rui burst into laughter, reached out and beckoned the little guy over, affectionately rubbing its big head. Ever since he had warned the little white lion not to bite familiar people, Liu Chuan had started to dare to touch Zhuang Rui again. However, this little guy was a bit too clever; he wouldn't bite people, but he could tear your clothes. Liu Chuan's pants gloriously became the first victim.

The white lion looked at Liu Chuan with its pure, innocent eyes, as if it hadn't done anything wrong. This left Liu Chuan feeling angry but unable to vent his frustration. He looked down at his trouser leg, feeling both amused and exasperated.

"Alright, take my pants and change into them first, otherwise when Lei Lei and the others arrive, there will be some laughs."

As Zhuang Rui spoke, he took out a pair of his own pants from his backpack and threw them to Liu Chuan, telling him to hide in the car and change. However, Zhuang Rui was a little shorter than Liu Chuan, so when Liu Chuan came out, the trousers that were quite loose on Zhuang Rui became tight-fitting on Liu Chuan.

"Wood, let's go. I heard there are a lot of beautiful women at the auto show. Let's go and have a look before Lei Lei and the others come."

Liu Chuan was carefree and didn't care whether the pants fit or not. He whistled, called out to his black lion, and headed towards the car dealership's showroom.

Although 4S stores were gradually introduced to China from Europe starting in 1998, they have not seen much development due to the sluggish car market. This car dealership is a case in point. Although it carries the sign of a 4S store and claims to integrate car sales, repair, parts and information services, Zhuang Rui and Liu Chuan both saw that this store represents no fewer than 10 car brands, making it impossible for it to fulfill the service promises of a 4S store.

A genuine 4S car dealership typically operates on the principle of one brand per region, or several dealerships at relatively equal distances. These dealerships are built according to the manufacturer's standardized interior and exterior design requirements, involving huge investments, often tens of millions of yuan. They are luxurious and impressive. This particular dealership is indeed quite luxuriously decorated, but it's a bit cluttered. Many sales staff are holding their own promotional brochures, trying to attract customers. The huge showroom is a chaotic mess.

"Damn it, that kid Da Xiong lied to me. He said he saw a car dealership in Tianjin where all the girls were beautiful and attractive, showing off their legs and shoulders. There's nothing like that here. I'll settle the score with Da Xiong when I get back."

As soon as Liu Chuan entered the exhibition hall, he started looking around. Zhuang Rui originally thought he was checking if Lei Lei had arrived, but it turned out he had such a dirty idea in mind. He couldn't help but kick him in anger. Just as he was about to speak, Zhuang Rui suddenly laughed.

Liu Chuan thought Zhuang Rui was making fun of him, so he raised his voice a few decibels and said unhappily, "What are you laughing at? Let me tell you, I looked it up online. They're called car models, you know? They're just like those clothing models, all dressed very scantily. Forget it, I missed out this time. I'll take you to see them next time I go to Beijing."

Zhuang Rui smiled and shook his head, saying, "I'm not going. You should go by yourself, but I doubt you'll have a chance to go anyway."

"What are you talking about? I can go whenever I want. Oh, who is it, Leilei? When did you arrive?"

Liu Chuan was waving his domineering aura with great vigor when he suddenly felt a numbness in his ear. Then he was lifted up, and the excruciating pain made him cry out. He forced himself to turn his head and saw that the curse he was about to utter was swallowed back down. Instead, he put on a fawning smile and his voice became extremely gentle.

"Liu Chuan, I thought you were a real man, but I never expected you to be so shameless as to come here to look at women. I've been standing here for ages, are you deliberately not seeing me, or are you just trying to annoy me?"

Lei Lei's voice wasn't loud, but her clenched teeth made Liu Chuan's heart tremble. When he went to talk to Zhuang Rui on her behalf, he found that Zhuang Rui and the little white lion had disappeared from his sight.

"Xuanbing, Dachuan is just like that, not serious. It's not what you think. You should explain to Lei Lei later, so that things don't really escalate into a conflict."

At this moment, Zhuang Rui was with Qin Xuanbing, standing in a relatively quiet corner of the exhibition hall.

"Are all men like this? If you hadn't seen us, were you going to go with Liu Chuan to see the Beijing car models too?" Qin Xuanbing was dressed very brightly today, wearing a white Adidas tracksuit. Although she was wearing flat sneakers, she was already 1.7 meters tall, and standing next to Zhuang Derui, she didn't look inferior at all.

"Dude, you don't need to go that far to see women. You can see them naked in no time."

Zhuang Rui thought to himself with a hint of resentment, but his eyes followed his thoughts and fell on Qin Xuanbing's high breasts. Qin Xuanbing's slender waist made the two peaks appear even more proud and upright.

"What are you looking at?" Qin Xuanbing felt a rush of heat to her face when she noticed Zhuang Rui's gaze fixed on her chest, and her cheeks flushed unnaturally.

"Look at the mountains, oh no, look at the great rivers, they're coming."

Zhuang Rui almost blurted out the words "look at the mountain peaks," but luckily Liu Chuan and Lei Lei came over at that moment and quickly gave him a way out. Qin Xuanbing knew that Zhuang Rui was lying, but she was too embarrassed to ask any further questions. She bent down and went to tease the little white lion that was circling Zhuang Rui's feet.

Liu Chuan, however, walked to Zhuang Rui's side with a bitter face, clearly unaware of how many unequal treaties he had signed with Lei Lei.