Chapter Thirty-Three: Stunning

It's not that the people in the teahouse and Zhuang Rui were short-sighted; it's just that Qin Xuanbing's outfit today was truly stunning.

Although it was still freezing cold outside, Qin Xuanbing was wearing a gorgeous Western-style floor-length dress. Her high breasts rose and fell slightly beneath the dress, extending down to her firm and high buttocks. She wore a pair of silver high heels, and with her height of 1.7 meters, her whole figure formed a perfect S-shaped curve.

Her smooth black hair was styled into a high bun, and Qin Xuanbing's stunningly beautiful face, as if sculpted from white jade, appeared even more noble and charming against the backdrop of her high-swept black hair. For a moment, everyone in the hall had a strange feeling, wondering if they had come to the wrong place. Was this some kind of gathering of a wealthy royal family from abroad?

Lei Lei was dressed very beautifully today, but standing next to Qin Xuanbing, she became inconspicuous.

Looking at Zhuang Rui, who was in a daze, Qin Xuanbing felt a sense of pleasure. This was the kind of behavior she was familiar with, and she was used to the stares from all around her. "I don't believe he won't fall at my feet."

A thought suddenly popped into Qin Xuanbing's mind, and she was startled by her own words. A blush rose to her face, making her even more radiant.

Zhuang Rui also came to his senses at this moment. He didn't think he had done anything wrong. Didn't he see that all the men in the hall were staring blankly at Qin Xuanbing? Compared to them, he was doing alright.

Knowing that Qin Xuanbing didn't have much affection for him, Zhuang Rui simply nodded to her in greeting before pulling Liu Chuan aside and asking, "Where are Boss Song and the others? Why aren't you with them now that you're here?"

It was almost 10 o'clock, and as the host, Boss Song shouldn't have arrived yet, so Zhuang Rui was slightly surprised to see them all sitting in the lobby.

Upon hearing this, Liu Chuan gave a wry smile and said, "I've been waiting for you here since I came in. How could I dare to go to them if you didn't come? You don't know Old Man Lü's temper. He was being polite to you yesterday, but if he gets angry today, he could kick me out. Let me tell you, that old man..."

"Liu Chuan, you little brat, you're talking about this old man behind his back again. Tomorrow I'll go and talk to the management office. The market management fee you pay is too low. It needs to be doubled."

A loud, resonant voice suddenly rang out, and six or seven men walked in through the center of the door. Leading them was the old man Lü that Liu Chuan had mentioned. Song Jun and Boss Wang were also among them, suggesting they had arranged to meet together. Behind them were several other people Zhuang Rui didn't recognize, each carrying items wrapped in boxes or silk or similar fabrics.

"Hey, Uncle Lü, Grandpa Lü, we've always had a good relationship, haven't we? You can't trip me up, can you? Watch my foul mouth..."

Liu Chuan greeted her with a grin and jokes, opening his arms as if to give her a hug. This startled Manager Lü, who quickly stepped aside. Just as he was about to speak, his eyes fell on Qin Xuanbing standing to the side. After a careful look, his expression turned somewhat unpleasant.

Seeing that Old Man Lü probably recognized Qin Xuanbing, Liu Chuan quickly started winking at Zhuang Rui.

"Old Master Lü..."

"Hello, miss. My name is Xu Wei, and I am the general manager of Xu's Jewelry in East China. Are you also here for today's tea tasting and jewelry appraisal? Would you mind getting to know me? You know, your outfit would be perfectly complemented by jewelry from our company."

Zhuang Rui went to greet him, but before he could finish speaking, a young man stepped out from beside Manager Lü and went straight to Qin Xuanbing, interrupting Zhuang Rui. However, his flirting skills were indeed not very good, and several people in the room were already secretly laughing. But he was right about one thing: if Qin Xuanbing had a diamond necklace on her fair neck, it would better accentuate her noble temperament.

Well, there's no need for me to say anything more. The people that Old Master Lü brought were so enthusiastic, he probably wouldn't dare to chase Qin Xuanbing away. Zhuang Rui smiled, not caring that he was interrupted, and turned to look at the young man.

The man appeared to be around twenty-seven or twenty-eight years old, with fair skin and a pair of exquisite gold-rimmed glasses perched on his nose. He was quite handsome and dressed in a well-fitting Armani casual suit. Zhuang Rui worked at a pawnshop and was somewhat familiar with foreign luxury brands. He knew that the man in front of him, just by wearing this outfit alone, was almost worth the same amount of money as the gourd from Sanhe Liu yesterday.

"Xu's Jewelry?? I've never even heard of that name..."

Looking at the attentive and well-dressed man in front of her, Qin Xuanbing knew he must be a young master from some family in the mainland. She curled her lips slightly, feeling a sense of powerlessness. There were just too many self-important people in this world.

It's important to understand that Qin Xuanbing is no ordinary pretty face. Due to her family background, she has been exposed to diamonds and jade since childhood, developing a keen eye for jewelry. She later studied jewelry design abroad for two years and even received an order from the British royal family. Qin Xuanbing is quite famous in the jewelry industry in Hong Kong and even in countries like the UK and the US. Jewelry designed and crafted by her is often in high demand, with any piece worth over a million. So why would she be interested in the Xu's Jewelry that this man in front of her is talking about?

Qin Xuanbing came to the mainland for two reasons. First, she wanted to avoid the entanglements of those wealthy young men. Second, she wanted to investigate the mainland market and see what the demand for jewelry was like, so as to decide whether her family business should enter the mainland market. If she had only come to the mainland for the former reason, she probably would have been arrested and taken back by her father long ago.

Although the jewelry industry and the antique trade have many similarities, they also have many differences. Otherwise, Qin Xuanbing wouldn't have made a rash offer and broken the rules in that kind of setting yesterday.

"I'm not a jewelry display model, I don't need to bring those things," Qin Xuanbing said calmly, the meaning of which was clear: I don't want to know you.

Upon hearing this, Xu Wei's smile faltered slightly, but it quickly returned to its usual cheerful expression. He turned to Boss Song, who was arranging the private room, and said, "Boss Song, you're the host today, aren't you going to help with the introductions?"

Song Jun chuckled, seemingly not too impressed with this person. He stepped forward and introduced Liu Chuan and Zhuang Rui, then led the group to a large private room. He had no idea about Qin Xuanbing's background, so how could he introduce her? However, Xu Wei noticed that Qin Xuanbing and Lei Lei seemed to be Liu Chuan's female companions. His eyes, hidden behind his glasses, carefully scrutinized Liu Chuan.

"Xu Wei, that's more like hypocrisy. He can still laugh after being rejected to his face. What a piece of trash."

Liu Chuan, who was walking at the back, whispered in Zhuang Rui's ear that the way Xu Wei looked at Lei Lei earlier had made him very unhappy.
