Chapter 59: Visit

Juliana looked up at him and did not refute his words, "Come on in."

Juliana led Benson to Grandma and introduced him to her, "Grandma, this is Benson."

Benson bowed his head and tried to make his voice gentle as he politely called out, "Grandma."

Grandma looked up at this man, who was nearly one meter nine in height, handsome in appearance, and elegant in manner, and was stunned for a long time, full of disbelief.

She found it inexplicably harmonious when he stood with Juliana.

Grandma couldn't help but ask, "Are you really... Benson?"

Benson nodded, "Yes, Grandma."

Grandma nodded with a smile, "Go on in. Why didn't you tell us you were coming? We didn't even prepare anything at home."

Benson handed out the gift box, "I'm sorry for the trouble I caused you."
