Wendy Johnson looked up at Li Shilong, no longer humble, but proudly said: "Uncle, I said, you got me out of prison, it is absolutely value for money."

Li Shilong didn't expect Wendy Johnson to be the first hacker ink night.

Wendy Johnson offered it himself, so he asked her to try it.

People who spend their energy to fish out must maximize their value.

Jiang Lisha sniffed noncommittal: "Wendy Johnson, it's not that I don't believe it, it's just that you have used Miranda Sanchez's identity three times. How do I feel that this time, you are still so untrustworthy?"

Jiang Lisha questioned Wendy Johnson very much: "This time, you should not be a fake?"

When Wendy Johnson heard this, he frowned guiltily, but he was calm. "Look, they all called me boss. How can it be false?"

This time, Wendy Johnson opened a video chat directly, and the opposite four were all dark, and no one could be seen.

Only Wendy Johnson's side, her video appeared directly.

Li Shilong and Jiang Lisha stood aside, did not appear in the camera, and did not make any noise.
