Chapter 24: The Three Barbarians of Ouyang... Are Really Invincible

Chapter 24: The Three Barbarians of Ouyang... Are Really Invincible

The three barbarians of Ouyang are the three sons of the current head of the Ouyang family, Ouyang Zongheng. They had large backs and thick waists, resembling humanoid beasts. With their terrifying combat prowess and superior strength, they were considered humanoid destroyers within the imperial city and given the nickname of the three barbarians of Ouyang.

The eldest was Ouyang Zhen, the second was Ouyang Wu, and the youngest was Ouyang Di. When their given names were combined, it formed "really invincible". The three of them were triplets, so their appearances were quite similar. Their cultivation levels were around the same, at fourth grade Battle-Spirit. They once followed their father, General Ouyang Zongheng, out to the battlefield and were experienced with bloodshed.

Even though they were called the three barbarians of Ouyang and showed no respect to anyone within the imperial city, they were extremely obedient towards their only sister, Ouyang Xiaoyi. When they heard that their delicate and dainty sister was actually being confined within a little restaurant, they were enraged by the news.

As the three of them furiously headed for the restaurant, they were like a volcano that was about to erupt.

Zhao Ruge and Sun Qixiang, who were secretly monitoring the little restaurant, immediately noticed their movements and were gloating about it. Zhao Ruge was even sneering incessantly; he had always wanted to find a chance to take revenge, but now he did not even need to do anything.

The three barbarians of Ouyang were called humanoid destroyers for a reason. Destruction followed everywhere they went. When the opportune time came, he would only need to step on that god damned deadpan shop owner's face.

If you followed the main road of the imperial city and walked past the Immortal Phoenix Restaurant, then turned left after walking for a few dozen meters, you would find an alleyway. If you stepped inside, you would find Bu Fang's little store.

Bu Fang was curled up on his chair as he basked in the sun. The warm sunlight shining on him made him feel warm and sleepy.

Ouyang Xiaoyi was sitting nearby, bored. Since she was bored and wanted to quickly eat the Lees Fish and Fish Head Tofu Soup, she began to diligently cultivate.

As the three barbarians of Ouyang stepped into the alleyway, their auras directly spread out and created a strong wind that stirred the dust around them.

Boom boom boom!

The three of them were like wild beasts. Every single step they took made the ground quiver.

"Big brother! That little restaurant in front of us is the one responsible for confining our little sister! Let's go and kill its audacious owner!" Ouyang Wu said with a deep voice as he angrily glared.

Ouyang Di patted his chest and his beard fluttered as he roared, "Damn it! How dare he confine our precious little sister! I swear that if we don't tear him down by today, I will abstain from wine for three days!"

"Let's go and see who would dare to do this." Ouyang Zhen was the most levelheaded among the three. However, since it involved his sister, he was still more agitated than usual. As he recalled his little sister's adorable voice and appearance, and imagined how she might be suffering from unbearable torture at that very moment, he felt as if his heart was being torn to pieces.

The big black dog lying on the ground suddenly felt a series of tremor. It immediately opened its weary eyes and looked towards the three huge figures ferociously coming its way. It opened its mouth and yawned, then resumed its sleep.

Bu Fang was also woken up by the tremor. He puzzledly looked up and saw the three barbarians of Ouyang standing outside.

"Who are you people? Are you here to eat?" Bu Fang expressionlessly asked.

"Bah! You fraud, who would want to eat here! We're here for our little sister!" Immediately, Ouyang Wu—who had the worst temper—angrily shouted.

Bu Fang went into a daze, thinking, "Looking for your little sister? These three guys who look exactly like Zhang Fei[1] must be mistaken. We're a decent restaurant, not a brothel."

"What little sister, we don't have any here." Since they were not there to eat, Bu Fang could not be bothered. He continued to curl up on his chair.

"How dare you try to trick us! I can feel my little sister's aura, right within your restaurant! If you don't hand her over, we'll level this little restaurant!"

Ouyang Di cracked his knuckles and made bone creaking sounds, as he maliciously looked at Bu Fang.

Bu Fang expressionlessly glanced at the three of them. He finally realized who they were looking for: it was that little loli, Ouyang Xiaoyi.

Bu Fang stood up and shouted towards Ouyang Xiaoyi who was cultivating nearby, "Hey brat, someone is looking for you."

Bu Fang's shout interrupted Ouyang Xiaoyi and work her up from the cultivation state. She surlily glared at Bu Fang, then she looked out of the store. She quickly noticed that her monster-like brothers were standing outside.

Ouyang Xiaoyi's expression immediately changed. She knew that it was definitely Xiao Yanyu who revealed her location.

"Smelly boss! They are my brothers and they are here to bring me home. Help me stop them..." Ouyang Xiaoyi whispered, then she ran towards her room and disappeared.

Bu Fang blinked as he expressionlessly looked in Ouyang Xiaoyi's direction, and was filled with doubt.

He once again glanced at the three men standing outside.

He thought, "The cute and adorable Ouyang Xiaoyi and three ugly and burly savages... Are they really from the same gene pool? They have the same parents, but why do they look so different?"

"She doesn't want to see you," Bu Fang honestly said.

"What?! Are you trying to stop us? Damn it! How dare you confine my sister!" Ouyang Zhen was furious. His mind was filled with images of his little sister being tortured.

Unforgivable!

Boom!

The enraged Ouyang Di took a step first—creating a blast of wind—and appeared in front of Bu Fang; his hideous face was only inches away from Bu Fang's face. The wind was blowing Bu Fang's hair, causing it to flutter.

Bu Fang expressionlessly asked, "Are you trying to cause trouble?"

"So what if I am? I even want to tear down your store!" Ouyang Di loudly said as he angrily glared.

"Whitey, someone's causing trouble," Bu Fang calmly shouted.

"Troublemaker, you will be stripped as an example to others," A mechanical voice sounded out, then Whitey's gigantic body appeared behind Bu Fang; its mechanical eyes were blinking.

Ouyang Di's eyes narrowed as he grinned and said, "You even have helpers! Brothers, let's get him together!"

Ouyang Wu and Ouyang Zhen appeared behind Ouyang Di, and their auras surged forward like a stormy sea as it continuously assaulted the little store.

With their auras, an ordinary building would have already collapsed from the impact. However, Fang Fang's Little Store was completely unaffected.

"Interesting, there's really something strange with this store!" The oldest brother thought.

Ouyang Zhen knitted his eyebrows as he glanced around his surroundings. Other than the slim, fair gigolo and that iron lump puppet, there was nothing else in the area... Oh, there was a big black dog sleeping at the entrance as well. His mind was filled with possibilities.

"It looks just like an ordinary store? How would such a store dare to confine my little sister?

"Could it be... This shop owner is hiding his abilities?! Or is there an expert from the Sects hiding within the store?"

Ouyang Zhen seriously looked at Bu Fang and became even more confused. Bu Fang was only a second grade Battle-Master, and was even weaker than his sister.

Just as Ouyang Zhen was skeptically thinking about the situation.

Bang! Bang!

As two loud noises sounded out, two gigantic figures flew out and shamefully crashed into a wall.

Ouyang Zhen was startled by the sound. When he turned toward its direction, his pupils constricted from what he saw.

He witnessed his brothers' thrown figures deeply stuck within the walls of the alleyway...

"Sorry, big brother! It's all an accident! An accident!" Ouyang Wu and Ouyang Di were coughing dust as they crawled out from the wall.

What an embarrassing situation: two of the three barbarians of Ouyang were actually thrown out as if they were balls.

[1] Zhang Fei was a general who served under Liu Bei during the three kingdoms period. He was a burly man with a large beard.

Chapter 25: Why Is There No Wine When There Is Lees Fish?

The three barbarians of Ouyang got ready for a battle; they gathered the true energy within their body and gravely faced the puppet, Whitey, standing behind Bu Fang.

"Big brother, this puppet is very strong. We were thrown out before we even knew it!" Ouyang Di alertly looked at Whitey with wide eyes. He felt that the puppet was very powerful.

"How could a puppet be this capable? Could it be that it was created by an expert of the Sects? But how is that possible when they were so easily destroyed by our troops?" Ouyang Zhen thought.

Bu Fang expressionlessly looked at the three humanoid beasts. He was not interested in what they were thinking, so he simply said, "I will let you off this time since you're that brat's brothers. However, there won't be a next time."

"Big brother! Is this gigolo threatening us?!" Ouyang Di asked, incredulous.

Within the imperial city, no one dared to threaten the three barbarians of Ouyang. They might not be playboys, but they were more terrifying than them. Everywhere they went, silence followed. No one wanted to attract their attention.

However, at that very moment, they actually met a reckless gigolo that dared to threaten them. Were the three barbarians of Ouyang the type of people that could be easily threatened by others?

"The dignity of the three barbarians of Ouyang will not be violated!" Ouyang Zhen fiercely said as he angrily glared.

The corner of Ouyang Di's mouth curled up. "This is our big brother! This is our big brother that led us in our domination within the imperial city! We will not yield!"

However, Ouyang Zhen's next line almost made Ouyang Di vomit blood.

Ouyang Zhen glanced at Whitey standing behind Bu Fang and said, "Young man, let's talk this over. If you hand over our little sister, we can forget about this."

Bu Fang expressionlessly replied, "You'll have to ask your sister. She didn't pay after eating so she has to work off her debt. She needs to work here for a week and this is only the first day."

"What?! Our sister didn't pay for the food?" The three barbarians of Ouyang were stunned, their mouths were wide open from surprise.

Ouyang Wu replied, "Then it's definitely because your food tastes bad. Otherwise, why wouldn't our sister pay up? Even though she's a little unruly and fierce, she's still reasonable."

His words instantly caused Bu Fang to frown. As a chef, he hated it when others criticized the taste of his food, because it was the greatest insult to him.

"Side mission started: Conquer the palates of the three barbarians of Ouyang. Their arrogance has already offended the immense pride of the host. Please use your invincible culinary skills to completely slap them in the face. The system will forever be your strongest backing. Mission reward: winemaking technique."

The arrogant and serious voice of the system that resounded in his mind startled Bu Fang. He did not expect that a side mission would start just like that, especially when there was a reward involved.

"Hey, the three of you haven't even tasted my food. How can you say that my food tastes bad?" For the sake of the mission, Bu Fang sternly and seriously asked.

The three barbarians of Ouyang looked at each other, then Ouyang Zhen smirked and said, "So what if we say that your food tastes bad? What are you going to do about it?"

Bu Fang's expression turned very cold; he was angry.

The big black dog lying at the entrance lifted up its head and glanced at Bu Fang. Then it turned towards the three barbarians of Ouyang and appeared to snick. After it was done, it went back to sleep.

"Aren't you looking for your sister? Fine, I'll give you a chance. Let's have a wager. Come into my store and taste my dishes. If it really tastes bad, then you can take away your sister. If it tastes good, then you'll go home naked," Bu Fang coldly said.

"Wager? Is this gigolo an idiot? If he can't even subdue our sister, what is he going to do with the three of us when we have bland taste buds?"

"Alright! We accept, but you have to keep to your word! After all, gigolos like to go back on their word," Ouyang Zhen said.

"Come in and order first," Bu Fang indifferently said.

The three barbarians of Ouyang looked at each other, then alertly stared at Whitey before entering the store. Once they came in, the three of them began to survey the surroundings.

"Even though the ambience isn't bad, isn't it way too small?" Ouyang Di complained as he wiggled his body.

For their humongous bodies to squeeze into the little store was indeed even more uncomfortable than Fatty Jin and his buddies, but it was still tolerable.

"Owner, do you have any wine? Give us an urn first," Ouyang Wu shouted as he banged the table. This fellow had already completely become a customer.

"I am sorry, but we don't provide wine," Bu Fang expressionlessly said.

"How can a restaurant not have any wine? Are you kidding me! Forget it, I'll see what you have here," Ouyang Wu scornfully glanced at Bu Fang, then turned toward the menu on the wall.

Then... It was as if time had stopped moving, and the store became extremely silent.

"The Lees Fish costs twenty crystals? The Fish Head Tofu Soup is twenty crystals as well? A bowl of Egg-Fried Rice can be sold for ten crystals too?" Ouyang Zhen was crude, but he was not an idiot. The price was... slightly scary.

"A plate of Stir-Fried Vegetables and a bowl of Dry-Mixed Noodles each costs a hundred gold coins..." Ouyang Wu was dumbfounded.

"Now I know why our little sister couldn't pay the bill, that's because this store is a scam!" Ouyang Di angrily roared while banging the table.

Bu Fang frowned and said, "Are you going to order? Your sister is right within this store. If you win the wager, I'll let you take her back."

"Hmph! For the sake of our sister, I'll do it even if it's a scam! I'll have Lees Fish!" Ouyang Zhen declared.

"Owner, why are you not selling wine when you have distillers grains!" Ouyang Wu unhappily asked with widened eyes.

Bu Fang expressionlessly replied, "The distillers grains are for making Lees Fish, not for making wine."

Ouyang Wu was slightly confused. "This... What's the difference? You can make wine as long as you have distillers grains, right?"

"Then give me Lees Fish as well!" Ouyang Wu said.

"Our store has only one Lees Fish left, please order other dishes," Bu Fang simply said.

"Ah! If it were not for my sister, I would just smash your store right this instant!" Ouyang Wu was annoyed. He ordered the improved Egg-Fried Rice in the end.

Ouyang Di did not say anything and only ordered Fish Head Tofu Soup.

After the three of them finished ordering, Bu Fang nodded and said, "Please wait."

Then, Bu Fang entered the kitchen and began to cook.

Zhao Ruge was sitting on a sandalwood chair as he listened to his underling's report. Then with a faint smile on his face, he said, "You are saying that the three barbarians of Ouyang have entered the store?"

"It looks like the store is not far from destruction. Even though the three barbarians are brainless idiots, their cultivation levels are quite high. Tearing down a little store shouldn't be an issue. Call up the others, we'll go and watch a good show." Zhao Ruge opened up his paper fan and elegantly smiled as he left the manor with his servants.

Sun Qixiang had already received the report of his servants. His sesame-sized eyes narrowed as he coldly smirked. "How dare you sabotage my food with chilli and even make me nude streak in public. I'd like to see how you're going to run your business after antagonizing the three barbarians of Ouyang."

Except for Zhao Ruge and Sun Qixiang, the rest of the people who received the news hurriedly headed for the little store with grim expressions. They all knew about the terror that were the three barbarians of Ouyang. Xiao Yanyu was even slightly upset. She did not think that Old General Ouyang would directly send them out. If something happened to Fang Fang's Little Store, then it would all be her fault.

At that moment, a lot of people rushed towards Fang Fang's Little Store.

They all assumed that Fang Fang's Little Store was going to be destroyed by the three barbarians of Ouyang...
