Chapter 13 Divorce Before Returning to the Quint Family

Agnes glared at Kaze as she breathed heavily. She ran into the kitchen and came back out with a knife.

“Keep talking nonsense! If not for you, we wouldn’t be expelled! I will kill you!”

As soon as her words subsided, Agnes swung the knife at Kaze.

“Mom, what are you doing!?” Darcy cried in shock, her face turned pale.

Hector was frightened as well. He did not expect his wife to do something so dangerous.

The knife was swung at him, but Kaze was not afraid at all. With a swift move of his body to the side, the knife missed him and hit the floor at the door.

“What the hell?!”

A frightened cry came from outside the door.

Everyone turned to the entrance and saw Henry, frightened.

“Henry? What are you doing here?”

Agnes recollected her composure and went up to the man.

Henry slowly recovered from his fright. He forced a smile on his and d said, “Agnes, I heard you guys were expelled from the family, thought I’d visit with some gifts.”

The mood turned serious when Henry mentioned the word “expelle

Henry smiled and said, “Don’t worry, Agnes. My father knows Ray Forrester. I can ask him to explain that it’s all Kaze’s fault and your have nothing to do with it. I believe Master Quint will forgive you then.”

“Really?”

Agnes looked at Henry with gratitude and disbelief.

Henry nodded proudly. “Of course, but you have to tell Darcy to divorce Kaze immediately.”

“Of course. We have wanted to throw this useless piece of trash out for a long time now.”

Agnes knew what Henry was thinking. She smiled and invited him into the house. “Come on in.”

“Darcy, go make some tea!”

Darcy smiled bitterly knowing that for her family to return to the rest of the Quints, she must first divorce Kaze. She went to the kitchen and made tea.

Henry stared at Darcy’s back as she walked into the kitchen. He gulped nervously as her voluptuous figure was imprinted in his

She was indeed the most beautiful woman in the city.

In his mind, he already pictured the rough sex he would have with Darcy once he got her.

“One more glance and I’ll dig your eyeballs out,” Kaze said coldly.

“Henry can stare however he wants, it’s none of your business!” Agnes bellowed angrily. “Why are you standing here? Get the hell out of my house!”

Hector agreed and said, “You better turn yourself in or you won’t make it out alive when Ray Forrester comes after you.”

“Hector, if he turns himself in, he won’t be able to host a birthday party for Darcy. I was looking forward to the surprises he’d come up with,” Henry said with a grin.

Hector laughed. “You are really humorous, Henry. What can a useless piece of trash do?”

Agnes grunted and said, “We’ll give you a chance. If you can make something happen, something grand, we will let Darcy stay with you. Otherwise, get a divorce!”

“Understand? You piece of trash!”

Henry was not bothered at all. What could a recovered retard possibly do?

In his opinion, Kaze and Darcy’s divorce was inevitable.

Later that night at the office of Sky High Investment Group, Kaze looked out the window and gazed upon the colorful city. He was in deep thought.

Then, heels clacked behind him.

His assistant came in with a stack of documents.

“Mr. Chairman, it’s late. What can I do for you?”

“Book the most extravagant hotel in the city. I am hosting a birthday party for my wife in two days. And prepare a one-hundred-million investment contract...”

The next morning, a certain article made the headlines.

The chairman of Sky High Investment Group booked a seven-star hotel, Seven Moon Estate, to host a birthday party for the woman he Seven Moon Estate was a local landmark.

The interior was grander and more luxurious than a palace for kings.. Even with money, one must book a few months in advance to get a room. Ray Forrester tried to book the entire event hall before but was rejected.

Now, the Chairman of Sky High Investment Group beat him to it.

All families and companies wished to meet the chairman, even for a glimpse.

Therefore, everyone started to get prepared.

Jealousy could distort one’s mind, especially Deborah who was also preparing for her own birthday party.

Since it was the Chairman of Sky High Investment Group, she dared not compare herself or had any complaints.

The Quint family members gathered at the mansion.

“Grandfather, the other families are going crazy. They are gifts for the chairman. Do you think we should as well?” San

“Samus is right, but what should we prepare?”

Master Quint frowned as he pondered.

The chairman already had an abundance of everything.

“Why don’t we...”

Samus looked at the Goddess’ Heart adorning Deborah’s neck.

Deborah covered her necklace with her hands. “No! This is my birthday present from Vincent! I won’t give it to someone else!”

She would never let go of the necklace or she would lose the right to “Grandfather, I don’t think that’s the point since the chairman doesn’t really need anything. Now that he’s hosting a birthday party, everyone is attending. What about mine then? Should we delay? Or host it earlier? I can’t just cancel it...”

Deborah looked depressed. She loved to flaunt herself. She thought the sixth floor of Cloud Nine was grand enough but then the chairman booked the Seven Moon Estate.”

Master Quint pondered for a while. He tapped the table and said, We’ll do it in the afternoon. After that, we will all attend the chairman’s birthday party.”

“I guess that’s the only way...” Deborah reluctantly nodded.

“Deb, you don’t need to feel sad. If we can get close to the chairman, I’ll host another, bigger party for you,” Master Quint said.

Deborah was thrilled.

A day went by in the blink of an eye.

Almost everyone in the city gathered at Seven Moon Estat birthday party even started.

If she could get the investment, she would be one of them as well. As for Darcy and her family, they were destined to live in poverty.
