Chapter 171 Tell Bernard to Get His Ass Out Here

The Chapmans informed the Vikrom and Logman families that Howl and Daniel were hospitalized. However, they did not tell them who thrashed Socialite Club.

The Chapmans wanted it to remain a secret.

A high-end club run by them got thrashed by a useless son-in-law of a second-tier family.

The news alone was humiliating enough and they would not want others to laugh at them.

Hmph!

A member of the Logman family scoffed, "Are you kidding me? That useless brother-in-law of yours? If he was the one who thrashed the club, I'll eat shit!"

"This little bastard is trying to waste our time! He really thinks someone will save him. Hahaha..."

The Vikrom and Logman families laughed at him. They did not believe a word Sky said.

Vicky mocked him, "No one can save you now. Even if God is here, he won't be able to take you away! You are doomed the moment you swing the bat at my brother's leg."

"Make him kneel for a day and we'll torture him later!" someone said.

It was suicidal for a young boy from a second-tier family to hurt the young masters of two first-tier families. Sky clenched his teeth. His eyes were teary but he did not cry.

He was slowly slipping into despair.

Then, a servant of the Vikrom family came in hurriedly.

She said, "Ms. Vicky, someone named Kaze Lee is here and he wants us to give Sky Quint back."

The Vikrom and Logman families were shocked before they laughed again.

"That useless son-in-law of the Quint family is so stupid. He wants to take Sky Quint back? Who does he think he is?" Vicky scoffed and signaled the bodyguards of the Vikrom family.

"Send someone to deal with him. Make sure he comes in on his knees!"

She wanted to torture Kaze as well.

Sky alone was not enough for her to lash out her pent-up anger.

Several bodyguards went out hurriedly.

"Aahh!"

As soon as they went out, painful cries were heard.

Then, all of them were tossed into the living hall like ragdolls.

They twisted and twirled on the floor in pain.

The two families were shocked when they saw the security guards defeated in just the blink of an eye. They widened their eyes when they looked at the entrance.

“Vicky Vikrom, who do you think you are? You are not worthy of making me kneel!”

Kaze appeared with a frosty look.

There was no one behind him, meaning he came alone.

It infuriated the two families at once.

“You useless trash! You have some nerves to come here and hit our bodyguards! You must have a death wish!” Everyone looked at him with a threatening gaze.

Kaze ignored the threats. He scanned around and quickly located Sky on the floor.

“Sky, get up!”

He strode over to Sky and helped him up.

Sky found his confidence with Kaze’s arrival but he could no longer control his tears.

“Kaze! You're here! They made me kneel, and they slapped me!”

Kaze saw his swollen face and it infuriated him.

He looked at Vicky angrily and said, “Tell your grandfather Bernard- Vikrom to get his ass here right now!” Bernard Vikrom was the head of the Vikrom family and Vicky’s grandfather.

Vicky was fuming. “Think you're some big shot? You want to see my grandfather? Kneel and slap yourself a hundred times, apologize, and we'll talk!”

“Ask him if he has the nerve to make me kneel and apologize!” Kaze knew no one would inform Bernard of his arrival, so he turned around and faced the mansion.

He channeled his energy into his voice and shouted, “Bernard Vikrom, I am Kaze Lee! If you don’t want your family to be destroyed, get the Chapter 172 Two Family Heads Kneel Kaze’s shout was as loud as thunder, shaking even the entire Landor Residential Area.

Vicky and the others who were closer to him felt an extreme pain in their ears. The shout was so powerful that it felt as if their souls were being blown out of their bodies.

They stared at Kaze blankly, stunned by the sheer energy of the shout.

Deep inside the mansion, Bernard was talking to Peter, the head of the Logman family, and they were discussing Howl’s and Daniel's injuries.

Suddenly, a terrifying roar resounded, shaking even their cups of tea on the table.

Even though Bernard and Peter were seasoned family heads, accustomed to storms, they were paled by the bellow. What was even more terrifying was the name they heard.

“Kaze Lee?”

Bernard and Peter exchanged a quick look and saw the horror in each other's eyes.

The name left a strong impression on them.

They saw the young man in person during the rebuilding of the new Construction and Material Society. They knew how powerful he was and how he annihilated the society in minutes.

They got up immediately and left the study room.

Back in the living hall, the other family members temporarily recovered from their shock. 173

They rubbed their ringing ears to ease the pain and glared at Kaze.

Vicky shouted, “Shut up! All you know is yell! My grandfather is talking to Grandpa Peter about how to deal with your family! If you dare disturb them, you are dead meat! No one can save you today!”

“Shut your mouth!”

Suddenly two aged and strong voices came from behind them. Everyone turned around with surprise.

They saw Bernard and Peter together, helping each other as they strode over to Kaze as quickly as possible. “Mr. Lee, welcome to my humble abode! | apologize for the delay!” The heads of two first-tier families bowed humbly in front of Kaze. Vicky was stunned, and so were the other family members.

They all looked at Kaze blankly.

They could not understand why Bernard and Peter would revere highly the useless son-in-law of the Quint family.

Sky looked at Kaze in shock as well.

He knew Kaze was powerful but the scene before his eyes surprised him once more.

Even Master Quint had to bow before the two family heads yet they bowed at Kaze.

Kaze looked at the two old men and said coldly, “Bernard Vikrom, Peter Logman, look what you two have done. Your grandsons insulted my wife, I told my brother-in-law to break their legs as punishment and you brought him here, slapped him, and made him kneel?!”

Bernard and Peter were sweating profusely.

Bernard explained, “Mr. Lee, we thought the one who broke Howl’s and Daniel’s legs was just a junior of the Quint family. We did not know he was your brother-in-law!”

“Yeah, Mr. Lee! If we knew Howl and Daniel insulted your wife, then we would have broken their legs ourselves. We didn’t even need Mr. Quint here to do the favor!”

Peter was shuddering when he explained.

Kaze said coldly, “Your granddaughter wanted me to kneel and apologize to you. Tell me, Bernard, do you want me to kneel and apologize to you?”

Thump!

Bernard fell to his knees immediately. Peter as well.

The two of them had knelt before during the ceremony.

They could never forget the scene where two thousand people knelt before Kaze. Since they had done it before, there was no hesitance in doing it.

again.

“Mr. Lee, no! We do not deserve it! We should be the ones who kneel and apologize!”

The atmosphere in the house went silent all of a sudden..

Chapter 173 Soaring Dragon

The others from the Vikrom and Logman families knelt as well.

They dared not stand while their heads of families were kneeling in fear of the young man, so it must mean he held the power to annihilate them easily.

They had made a huge mistake!

Kaze looked at Vicky and the others coldly. “That’s it? You think kneeling is enough? All of you slapped Sky right? Now slap yourself like how you slapped him just now!”

Slap! Slap! Slap!

Vicky and the others slapped themselves immediately and did not hold back.

The continuous slaps sounded like a round of applause celebrating Sky's innocence. When all of their faces were swollen, Kaze tapped Sky's shoulder and brought him away. "Come on."

The two of them then left the mansion.

The slaps continued for a little longer before they stopped.

Other than Bernard and Peter, everyone else from the two families had swollen faces.

"Vicky, you almost doomed us all!" Bernard shouted at his granddaughter.

Peter lashed out at his family as well.

4/4

It was fortunate that Kaze did not hold them responsible or else their families would end today.

"Grandfather, who is he?" Vicky asked cautiously as she endured the scorching pain on her cheeks.

Bernard looked scared. "We don't deserve to know who he is but he's definitely someone powerful, like a dragon that soars in the sky. | saw him destroy Construction and Material Society myself!"

Everyone gasped in fear.

Afraid, Vicky asked, "I thought the society was taken over by Ray Forrester and Perfect World Group." The rumor was as such but only those who attended the ceremony that day knew what happened inside. No one dared to spill a single word about it.

"Don't pry into Pandora's Box!"

Bernard glared at everyone and said, "Keep your mouths shut about Kaze Lee. You leaked anything about him and both our families would be doomed beyond rescue!"

Everyone nodded in fear and swore to keep their mouths shut. Sky was in the passenger seat. Kaze gave him the same balm to apply on his face again. The chilly feeling felt great and it healed his face swiftly.

Sky looked at Kaze with admiration. "Kaze, why are you so strong? The heads of the Vikrom and Logman families bowed to you! Does it mean | can do whatever | want in Lilyrose?"

He got excited.

He used to be a target for bullies and now with Kaze on his side, no ure to lay a myc

TINTI UNU MO TUmmy anymore.

Kaze frowned. "You are not allowed to use my name to bully others, understand?"

He did not mind telling Sky his real identity but the boy was still childish and naive, and it would only set the wrong example for him.

Kaze did not want his brother-in-law to become a lawless bully in the city who trampled over others with power.

“Yes, I got it!”

Sky shuddered.

Kaze brought Sky back to the construction site.

Agnes was alone in the office, waiting anxiously.

“Kaze, you brought Sky back?!”

Agnes widened her eyes in disbelief when he saw Sky in one piece. Kaze asked, “Where's Darcy?”

Agnes sized up her son-in-law strangely. She said, “Someone named Eliot Everia called her and said he could save Sky. She went to meet him at Nation Hotel.”

Eliot Everia?

The Everia family?

His invitation was anything but a good deal.

Then, the phone rang.

It was from one of the two Tiger Fangs soldiers he arranged to protect Darcy in the shadows. “Sir, the Everia family is making a move against Ms. Quint. The whole

Chapter 174 Nation Hotel

Kaze was infuriated. He exuded a ferocious aura that could frighten others easily.

Agnes and Sky were terrified. Their faces turned pale.

It was their first time seeing Kaze this angry.

“Kaze, what happened?” Sky asked.

Kaze went off without saying a word.

He called Draco while driving out of the construction site. He said, “ Tell Lone Wolf to bring his men. I want him to take over Nation Hotel as soon as possible!”

He hung up the phone and drove off to the hotel.

“Everia, if something happened to Darcy, I'll drag every one of you to hell!”

At the presidential suite of Nation Hotel, a handsome young man was seen drinking wine on the couch as Darcy stepped in. He looked relaxed but when he laid eyes on Darcy, a strange zeal and lust appeared in his eyes.

Darcy felt uncomfortable while being stared at.

“Mr. Everia, why did you change the location from the restaurant to the suite?”

“I've heard Ms. Quint is a beautiful woman and now that I've seen you in person, you do not disappoint.”

Eliot twirled his glass and added, “This is the highest floor of Nation Hotel. You have a panoramic view of the city from here. Don't you ycul:

He then waved at Dan's men who Darcy brought along.

“You two, out. Lock the door. I want to have a private talk with Ms.

Quint.”

The men knew exactly what Eliot wanted to do. They shook their heads and argued, “No. We are here to protect Ms. Quint!” “Ms. Quint is absolutely safe in my place.”

Eliot's expression turned grim. He shouted, “OUT!”

They did not budge an inch.

Dan gave them orders to protect Darcy at all costs.

Thang!

Suddenly, a skinny man appeared behind them and knocked them out with two swift hand chops. The two men were unconscious on the floor.

The skinny man squatted, grabbed their ankles, and dragged them away. He also locked the door when he walked out. "Stupid," Eliot grumbled.

He then smiled at Darcy and said, "Alright, Ms. Quint. We are finally alone now."

"Eliot Everia, what are you trying to do?!"

Darcy was afraid and angry. She knew what Eliot wanted to do to her.

Eliot grinned. He tossed his phone at Darcy. "Have a look yourself."

Darcy played the video of Sky being slapped by the Vikrom and Logman families.

573

His cheeks were swollen and his mouth was bleeding. "Sky!" Darcy's expression turned pale.

"Ms. Quint, since we are both adults, let me get straight to the point. I like you, I want to have sex with you. Sleep with me and I'll tell the Vikrom family to release your brother."

Eliot enjoyed Darcy's angry yet terrified look. He swore to get his hands under her dress.

Darcy instinctively stepped back. She glared at Eliot and bellowed, " Don't even think about it. My husband is already on his way to the Vikrom family. He will bring my brother back!"

"Ms. Quint, do you take me as a fool or are you too naive?"

Eliot laughed. "Your useless husband went to save your brother? | underestimated him but | don't think he can escape this time. | have my leverage here. If you don't suck me off, I'll tell the Vikrom family to kill your husband as well."

"NO!"

Darcy shouted anxiously.

Eliot stripped his shirt on the couch and revealed his toned body. He tapped on his lap and said, "Come on. | like a woman who takes the lead."

Chapter 175 Serving Soldier

"Eliot Everia, anything but this!" Darcy begged.

"Then I'll tell the Vikrom family to kill your husband."

Eliot picked up his phone and called Vicky. "The useless son-in-law of the Quint family, is he there at your place?" "Yeah, Eliot."

Vicky's voice came from the phone.

Eliot glanced at the pale-looking Darcy. "Kill him!"

He sounded casual as if he was telling Vicky to kill an ant.

“No! Please! No!”

Darcy was devastated!

How could Eliot kill someone at will?

Why was there no one to punish him for his crimes?

The call went quiet for a moment before Vicky said, “I’m sorry, E

Eliot was stunned. “Sorry? What do you...”

“You don’t know? That’s because she dared not kill me.”

An emotionless voice sounded all of a sudden.

Darcy was startled. She turned around to the entrance and saw Kaze.

“Kaze!”

Eliot was surprised.

“The hotel is filled with my men! How did you get in?”

Eliot was shocked. He looked at Kaze anxiously and in fear.

Not only did Kaze enter the hotel without hindrance, he even entered the presidential suite without notice. The presidential suite belonged to Eliot alone and it only opened for him.

Without his orders, no one could get in or even reach the highest floor.

Kaze scoffed. He did not want to answer the question.

He went up to Eliot, grabbed the man's hair, and slammed his head on the tea table.

Crank!

"Aaargh!"

The tea table broke instantly. Eliot cried like a dying pig.

Kaze then grasped his neck and lifted him before slamming him to the ground. Eliot's knees were slammed followed by a loud crack. His kneecaps were broken upon impact.

His scream echoed across the room.

Kaze did not want to spare him. He punched the man in the face. again and again without holding back. If he did not make it in time, Darcy would be ravaged again.

“Kaze, stop! You are going to kill him! You will go to jail if you kill him!” Darcy immediately pulled him back before he could kill Eliot.

Kaze kicked Eliot on the chin, knocking him out cold. Of course, he would never kill Eliot in front of Darcy.

“Come on, let’s go back,” Kaze said softly as he held her hand.

After Henry, Darcy was relatively calmer this time.

She shook her head. “I can’t go back now. I have to go to the Vikrom family to ask them to release Sky. Even if I have to kneel or get slapped, I’ll do it!”

Kaze said, “Sky is already back at the construction site office. He’s fine.”

“Really?”

Darcy looked at Kaze in shock. She believed he would not lie to her, so she followed him out of the suite. When she stepped out of the hotel, she saw many soldiers in uniform and armed with guns.

The air reeked of blood.

“Kaze, who are they?”

Darcy curled her arms around Kaze’s arm tightly. She could find safety in his presence.

Kaze said, “Serving soldiers?”

“Of course | know they are soldiers. | mean did you call them here?” Darcy rolled her eyes at him.

Chapter 176 Jade Estate

“Yeah.”

Kaze nodded. He was happy that Darcy would ask the question.

Before this, she would never assume the possibility of him having such capability.

When they came out of the hotel, the entrance was already surrounded by a police line with many bystanders who were watching. curiously.

There were also many reporters with cameras waiting for the scoop. of the day.

Vice Commander Jayden Belfast from Garo Spec Ops Team was answering the reporters' questions.

“We are from the main Garo Spec Ops Team. Our brother team, the Tiger Fangs, got ambushed while escorting a VIP to Nation Hotel. We believed villainous criminals were behind the attack.

“The Strategic Department is highly concerned about this case, so we were sent here to wipe out the criminals. A few of them are killed on the spot.”

The bystanders and reporters applauded loudly.

“Ouch!”

Kaze gasped in pain all of a sudden because his waist was pinched.

“Hmph! You almost got away this time! You like to tease me!”

Darcy rolled her eyes at him and released his waist.

“Thank goodness that a VIP is at Nation Hotel,” she said happily and many

She was worried about the Everias getting back at Kaze since he beat up Eliot.

There was no way the Everias would spare them, but after what happened at Nation Hotel, they would have to worry about other stuff instead of getting revenge.

“Ms. Quint! Thank God you are okay!”

Then, Dan’s men came out from the hotel, holding the back of their heads. They ran up to Darcy to check on her. They also apologized to Kaze when they saw him. “We’re sorry, Mr. Lee! We have failed you.”

Kaze waved his hands. He already knew what happened and it was not their fault.

“Let's go.”

Kaze did not want to get his picture taken, so he brought Darcy out from the side exit.

There was a group of Garo Spec Ops Team soldiers standing guard at the exit.

Darcy wanted to explain what happened but the soldiers saluted at her before they stepped aside to make way for them. “Kaze, why did you park your car so far away?”

They had to walk for quite some distance before they reached an empty space where their Audi A4 was parked. There were a bunch of people watching them strangely, seemingly talking about them.

“The car died earlier, so | ran to the hotel because | was worried about you.

It was an excuse that he simply came up with.

He parked the car in an empty space because he had to get into the Garo Spec Ops’ helicopter to reach the helipad of the hotel. He knew Darcy would not believe him even if he told her the truth.

The news about Nation Hotel spread across the city like wildfire and it quickly reached the upper social circle. The Socialite Club was thrashed and then Eliot was beaten up and arrested, both on the same day.

Eliot was beaten up to the point that he was comatose.

Terrible things had happened to the two of the three top families in one day.

How scary.

Jade Estate was located near Jade Lake, near the mountains of Lilyrose. It was considered an ideal place for a getaway during summer...

It was one of the Everias' private estates.

To connect to the city, the Everias even built a freeway connecting to the main roads of Lilyrose.

Jade Estate welcomed many guests today.

Many expensive cars entered the estate.

They were all there to visit Eliot after what happened.

The number of guests proved how well-connected the Everias were.

After all the visiting guests left, the three family heads of the top three families got together.

Chapter 177 Three Family Heads

Edward Everia, Belarus Golding, and Flint Chapman.

The three of them were said to be the real mayors of Lilrose.

Mayor Johnson might be the mayor in the public's eyes but every decision he made must go through them one way or another. Without their permission, no decisions would be made.

The three of them were close and united. They advanced and retreated at the same time, and nothing could separate them.

It was because of their union that they were able to control the city.

"The events at Socialite Club and Nation Hotel happened on the same day, and both of them are related to the Quints. How strange."

Flint, the head of the only family that had not witnessed anything transpire, mumbled as he observed his partners' somber expressions. Rather than reveling in their misfortune, he was apprehensive ab the unfolding events.

"Especially Nation Hotel. This is terrifying. Even the Garo Spec Op Team is there! | supposed the Everias lost a lot..." He looked at Edward who wore a somber expression.

Belarus was relatively calm because only his club was thrashed; Tiffany was fine.

Eliot was Edward's favorite grandson yet he was comatosed. Edward wanted to kill the person who hurt his grandson.

"We hired a number of convicts with criminal records to handle the dirty work. They were all at Nation Hotel. The Garo Spec Ops Team stormed in and killed them all!" Edward said coldly.

Belarus nodded. "I have forty men at the Socialite Club as well and they are all crippled."

Having thugs and convicts to handle their dirty works was not something honorific, but it was no secret among big families as it was a common method for them to get work done. "Is it all because of that Lee kid?" Flint asked.

Edward shook his head. "It's not him. The Tiger Fangs were escorting a VIP to the hotel but got ambushed by our men, so the Garo Spec Ops Team showed up. They verified it after the raid, but if not for Darcy, my grandson wouldn't be there, let alone being bedridden!"

His hatred for Darcy grew deeper.

Belarus said, "I've found out that the six men who trashed my club are Dan's men, all veterans from the battlefield. They should have nothing to do with the military anymore but it was Kaze who contacted them."

After rounding up the information they got, they came to a conclusion -Kaze was involved in both incidents but not the one who caused it.

"So, Kaze has Dan as his support, which is nothing to us. Dan got lucky this time. He and Gold Tooth are the only two gangster bosses left in the underworld, but there are still people who can deal with them," Flint said with a much more casual tone. The three families did not take the gangster bosses seriously. Edward might be infuriated but he was able to think calmly.

He said, "Flint, Dan is nothing but we cannot underestimate the one behind him. Him trashing Socialite Club proved that his support is not afraid of all three of us."

"Are you saying that it is Ray?"

The other two frowned.

War

Ray mysterious and he rose to prominence too fast.

He never crossed paths with either of the top three families.

However, after he wiped out and absorbed the Construction and Material Society, his next target seemed to be the top three families.

“Hmph. If Ray wants to come after us, then we'll give him what he wants!”

Chapter 178 South River Strategic Department Chief Commander The three families were local tyrants so they were not afraid of Ray, an outsider.

Therefore, they decided to go to war with him.

They had been eyeing Ray's wealth for some time now.

Edward said, “Ray had been secretly supporting the Quints, and now he used Kaze's name to thrash the Socialite Club. We shall move against the Quints, especially Darcy and Kaze. I want them to suffer the consequences of hurting Eliot.”

He made the two of them a priority because of what happened to his grandson. The other two family heads nodded.

Belarus said, “The Quints' Passion Fragrance District project is about to presale soon and Darcy has been running around to get loans long as we intercept the loan, we can destroy them.”

The fate of the Quints was sealed by a few words from the three family heads.

Then, Edward sighed and said, "Now, the Everias are in trouble. After what happened at Nation Hotel, our family has gotten on the bad side with the military. Flint, you have men inside the military, do you have any solution?"

He looked at Flint with a hint of hope.

"I received some news recently and I believe it will do us good so it's a fantastic opportunity." Flint smiled and continued, "The South River

Strategic Department

u

ceremony will be held at Lilyrose. I can pull some strings and we can attend the ceremony. If we can get close to him, then we will have strong support from the military."

The news delighted the other two.

The top three families were well-connected in the business and political world. Once they secure support from the military, they could further strengthen their status.

"The chief commander of the South River Strategic Department? Why is he having the inauguration ceremony here?" They found the event confusing.

Flint pointed up and said, "Don't forget that Lilyrose is the headquarters of the Lilyrose Strategic Department, where its chief commander currently lives."

The South River Strategic Department was a state-level strategic department, while the Lilyrose Strategic Department was the main strategic department that commanded several state strategic departments.

Since the current chief commander resided in Lilyrose, it was norm for the new chief commander of the state strategic department to pay a visit out of respect.

Besides, Chief Commander Lang came from the God of War Palace, which made him possess higher rank than other chief commanders.

“Alright then. We must attend the inauguration ceremony by any means. We might not get to Chief Commander Lang but I believe we can at least get to the new state chief commander!”

The news of them wanting to attend the ceremony spread like wildfire and made headlines.

On the other side, Kaze brought Darcy back to the construction site.

Darcy breathed a sigh of relief when she saw Sky was safe and sound.

Agnes asked Darcy if Eliot had taken care of the Vikroms and released Sky, but Darcy simply brushed her off with vague excuses.

She did not want her mother to know about the incident at Nation

Hotel because she did not want her to worry. Besides, she had decided to take this secret to her grave, or else she would risk being targeted by the Everias. That night, the evening news reported the incident at Nation Hotel.

The hotel was forced to undergo reformation since criminal activities were held on their premise by wanted fugitives. The company that owned the hotel, Nation Food and Beverage, was being investigated as well.

Nation Food and Beverage belonged to the Everias. The investigation put them in a difficult spot.

Darcy felt relieved, but Kaze knew the Everias would not just let it go this easily.

However, he was not concerned about it because the fate of the top three families was sealed a long time ago.

The reason why he did not move against them was because he wanted to wipe them all out once and for all and uproot all their connections together.

From his early life, he had gleaned a crucial lesson: "Cutting the grass without uprooting it allows the spring breeze to revive it!"

Chapter 179 Albert Hiden

On the second day, Darcy went back to work.

She made an appointment with the Lilyrose Bank's director, Liben Radar, to talk about the loan.

Kaze stayed at home to do chores.

Halfway through cleaning the living room, Draco came in his sexy shades.

Kaze went out to see him and saw him smoking at the lake frivolously. He did not look like the chief commander at all. "Kaze, you better stay away from that guy."

Agnes came back from a stroll with Hector and grumbled at Kaze when she went into the house.

When Gold Tooth came to their house to forcefully evict them, Draco intervened, broke Gold Tooth's arm, and chased the thugs away.

Agnes appreciated his help but she was also scared.

Draco did not hold his punches back during the fight. He must not a good guy.

After what happened to Sky, she disliked her family having contact with people like that. "Ma'am, I'm a good guy with a legitimate job," Draco said with a wide smile.

If it was others, Draco would have slapped the person for suspecting him. He dared not defy or even be rude to his boss' mother-in-law.

Agnes grunted and then wheeled Hector into the house.

She had no idea that the man she deemed dangerous was the chief commander everyone was curious about. "What is it?" Kaze went over.

Draco said with a smile, "Boss, Albert is being transferred to the South River Strategic Department as its chief commander. He heard you are here in Lilyrose, so he wanted to hold the inauguration ceremony here. He even begged me to ask you to attend."

Many soldiers attended his special training. Some of them continued to serve under him and some of them were transferred away.

Draco nodded. “Yeah. After the special training ended, before you could give them the medal, they were summoned back to the front line due to unexpected situations. It became their biggest regret.”

Kaze nodded since it was for old time’s sake.

“Fine. I’ll attend.”

While Kaze chatted with Draco, Sky snuck out of the house.

“Kaze, can you take me out?”

When he snuck over to Kaze and Draco, he even called Draco ‘bro’.

Draco tapped his shoulder and said, “Haha, bro! You are my bro forever! If you get into any trouble, call me and I’ll settle it for you!”

Sky nodded and smiled. He had no idea how big of a favor he had earned.

“Get out of here!”

Kaze kicked Draco away and then asked Sky, "Where do you want me to take you?"

"My mom told the guards and the butler here to watch me. I am not allowed to leave the neighborhood," Sky said with a bitter look.

Agnes was terrified after what happened yesterday and decided to ground Sky.

"But I've agreed to join my friends' gathering today. I can't just stand them up. She's okay if I go out with you," he begged. Since it was just a gathering and nothing serious, Kaze nodded.

Agnes also allowed Sky to go when she learned that Kaze would be going together.

After he brought Sky back from the Vikroms safely, Agnes had a much better impression of him. "Where's the gathering?" Kaze asked while starting the car.

"Lily Garden Hotel!"

What a coincidence.

The car then drove out of Skylar View District.

Inside a VIP room of Lily Garden Hotel, more than a dozen young men and women gathered.

The girls were taking pictures with their phones and cameras.

"This is the hotel that Andrew Shawn and Liv Ackerman stayed at a few days ago! We can finally come here during our semester break! I'll post it online and my roommates will be freaking jealous!"

Chapter 180 Brag About Kaze

“Andrew and Liv apologized to the hotel owner, right? It went trending and made headlines. | heard the owner of the hotel is powerful and has connections with the military!”

The boys were much more interested in the hotel owner.

Then, Sky and Kaze arrived.

Kaze, who was older than them, captured all the attention with his arrival.

“Sky, why did you bring an uncle to our gathering? Who is he?” one of the girls asked. “He’s my brother-in-law, Kaze Lee!”

Sky proudly introduced Kaze as if he were some celebrity.

“Oh, he’s married?”

The girls lost interest in Kaze.

“Sky, your sister is beautiful, how did your brother-in-law get her? Hey, man, why don’t you give us some tips?” The guys were jealous but also admired his charms.

Sky did not know how to answer his friends.

When her sister was forced to marry Kaze, he was still in high school and had no idea about it.

“Sky, you guys have fun. I'll take a stroll outside.”

Kaze did not understand the youngsters and could not find a common topic, so he decided to leave them alone.

Then, a young couple came into the room.

“Xion, Celine, you guys are here!”

The guys and girls in the room welcomed the couple.

Xion waved at his friends and then looked at Sky with a contemptuous grin.

“Sky, are you a baby? Why would you bring your brother-in-law to our gathering? Thankfully Celine didn't date you back then, or else you would have to bring your parents instead of a condom to have sex!”

“Xion, come on!” Celine nudged her boyfriend to stop the embarrassing talk. They were flirting with each other. Sky felt depressed when he saw how close they were.

When he was in high school, he liked Celine for a while but Xion liked her as well.

In the end, Celine got together with Xion.

Sky almost forgot about it but their arrival reminded him of his bitter past.

Celine then had a glance at Kaze. She then had a glance at her boyfriend who was dressed in branded items.

A hint of disdain flashed in her eyes. She said, "Sky, judging from your tone, I thought your brother-in-law was someone powerful, but I don't think so. Why are you bragging about him? How childish."

"Celine, what are you talking about? My brother-in-law is powerful!" Sky was furious when he was mocked by the girl he used to like. Xion had a glance at Kaze and said, "Powerful? I don't think so." Kaze did not want to get involved in some children's squabbles. He UORGU Unji

"Yeah!"

Sky could not leave, or else his friends would think that he was afraid of Xion and he would not be able to earn respect from his friends anymore.

"Then you can stay."

Kaze wanted to leave but Xion stopped him.

He said, "Hold on, did I say you can leave?"

"Piss off!" Kaze said coldly with furrowed brows.

He did not think a university student could be this arrogant.

Xion grunted and ignored Kaze. He looked at Sky and said, "Believe me when I say I can make your 'powerful' brother-in-law crawl out of this place with just one word."

Before he could catch a breath, he was slapped. Xion's face turned red instantly.

"You slapped me?!"

He glared at Kaze viciously.

Kaze shook his hand and then sat down on the couch.

"I'd like to see how you are going to do that."
