Chapter 811 Impersonator Dies

“Don’t worry, Darcy. Those two families will pay very soon.”

Kaze then told them about Loid going after the two families.

The entire family was surprised.

What happened?

Kaze openly sent Loid a big surprise but Loid did not blame him or punish him. Instead, he agreed to help to deal with the two families?

“Loid Farland’s men accused me for no reason, he owes me this much,” Kaze simply explained.

He then called Snow.

“Snow, how’s things now?”

“Mr. Chairman, people are saying that the governor received your gifts and agreed to help you take down Blake Bowman. Now everyone tried to copy you and ask him for favors. Some diligent ones called the company and asked for verification on the matter.”

Kaze nodded. “Then just let it be. Don’t clarify or deny anything, let them go. Anyone who copies me will be punished.”

“Mr. Chairman, will it affect Governor Farland’s reputation?” Snow was worried that the governor might not be happy about this.

“It’s fine. His men tried to hurt me, what’s wrong with me giving him some trouble?” Kaze said nonchalantly.

As the governor of the state, Kaze believed Loid was more than capable of dealing with trivial matters.

After the call, Kaze looked at Darcy. “Darcy, we are in for a good show. Those idiots laughed at me for courting death, we’ll see who will be laughing at the end.”

Back at Wuthering Pavilion, both Hudson and Gregory received the news and it put a bitter look on their faces.

“What the fuck? Loid Farland is that cheap? He embarrassed us all for some houses and cars?”

Hudson, who always had his emotions under control, cursed out loud and smashed the tea set before him.

He spent quite the favors to make Blake the mayor, yet he was dismissed on his first day in the office.

Trafford, the officer from the governor’s office, was also taken away, causing Hudson to lose an important connection in politics.

More importantly, the Vinlands and the Lees openly announced that they would be going after the five companies and Kaze, yet it turned out miserably.

The Vinlands and the Lees were embarrassed.

“Hudson, try to think about it from another perspective. Loid Farland being greedy might be useful to us.”

Gregory scoffed. “In terms of money, there’s no way Kaze is richer than the two of us combined. If he surprises the governor with gifts, we’ll do the same and turn the tables around.”

Hudson’s eyes gleamed with hope.

He called his men in and told them to find out what gifts Kaze prepared for Loid.

“Master Hudson, we’ve gotten the news from the governor’s office. Kaze gave the governor two mansions, two supercars, and the shares of a few companies. The gifts are valued over a hundred million,” his man said after some investigation.

“Mhmm! Moneyface! Over a hundred million and Loid Farland punished his man? What nonsense!” Hudson grunted heavily.

He revered the governor before but after this, he felt scornful.

The governor of the state took down his own man for a mere hundred million? He must be out of his mind.

“It doesn’t matter. Hudson, why don’t we prepare five hundred million and give it to Loid Farland? We’ll make him go after Kaze and the five companies!”

Gregory wanted revenge direly.

Hudson nodded. “I agree, but don’t give the money under our names. Use the smaller companies to do it. If things go south, we can still get away.”

He was a diligent man and never liked to get his hands dirty.

“Alright.” Gregory laughed and continued, “Five hundred million for five big companies? This is the biggest bargain in history! Once we get our hands on them, we can get more than five hundred million!”

Chapter 812 Such Nerves

The five companies’ combined assets were more than five hundred million, probably even more than five billion.

Gregory was delighted.

Since Loid accepted the gifts openly, he had no scruples about giving more. He ordered his men to send more gifts in the name of one of his companies.

Meanwhile, Loid was visiting a steel factory for inspection with his men.

Since Kaze did not want his identity to be revealed, it would be strange if Loid came to Lilyrose because of him.

Therefore, he came to Lilyrose to inspect the local factories, nominally.

After inspecting the factory, he went to the factory's cafeteria for lunch.

Then, a group of suited men came in and asked for a meeting.

"What is it?" Loid asked as he chewed on his food.

A middle-aged man went up to him with a flattering smile and said, "Governor, I am Alvin Springman, Jade Nova Ltd.'s CEO. I humbly thank you for your care over all Lilyrosean, so I prepared some gifts to show our gratitude. Please accept them."

He then gave Loid several share transfer contracts.

"Oh? Alvin Springman of Jade Nova? Let me have a look."

Loid took the contracts for a few glances before he put them away. He asked the others, "What about the others? What brings you here?"

"Governor, I am Sunny Sandman from Rose Garden Ltd. This is a little gift to show our gratitude."

"I'm from Continental Construction..."

The men went up to the governor one by one, presenting the gifts they prepared.

A man and a woman were watching from behind.

The woman was Ivy Adams, the CEO of Hudson Investment Firm. The name of the company was a giveaway that was fully owned by Hudson.

It was a new company that was registered in Lilyrose and it was a co-funded company by Hudson, Dexter, and Jake.

The man was Cosmo Lee, Gregory's nephew and also one of the direct descendants of the Lees.

After Narian lost his legs to Kaze, Cosmo took his place and became the CEO of the branch company here in Lilyrose.

They nodded as they watched Loid take all the gifts from the suited men.

They then went up to the governor.

"Governor, we are the representatives from Hudson Investment Firm and Lee Solutions. These are the gifts that we prepared for you."

Cosmo then put a stack of documents in front of Loid.

The stack of documents contained numerous share transfer contracts and property contracts. In addition to Cosmo's identity, the others shot him an envious gaze.

"The Lees and Hudsons are indeed rich!" someone exclaimed.

Loid looked at the stack of documents in front of him and asked, "This is a lot. What do you want?"

Cosmo and Ivy were delighted by the question.

"Governor, Quartet Group, Sky Ocean Corporation, Perfect World Group, Lefteria Group, and Shangrila Group. These five companies have broken many laws and I hope you can investigate them one by one," Cosmo said openly.

"Governor, there's also Kaze Lee, a brutal thug. He broke my father's leg in the hospital, in front of a crowd! He should be convicted of his crimes!" Ivy said viciously.

She was the daughter of Alfred, Hudson's butler.

n's legs. He's a vicious thug!"

m then exchanged a quick and delighted gaze.

Kaze gave Loid a hundred million, so the two families topped him by giving Loid five hundred million.

Loid would surely answer their requests.

However, at the next moment, something unexpected happened.

"Nonsense!"

Loid slammed the table and bolted up.

“You are openly bribing the governor of the state! Who gave you the right to commit such an atrocious act in broad daylight?!”

Chapter 814 Go For Wool And Come Back Shorn

“Contact the local police department and arrest those who tried to bribe me today! Investigate them thoroughly and punish them accordingly!” Loid said coldly as he waved his hand.

The men who tried to bribe him cried in sorrow.

“Governor! Please! We are so sorry! We were deceived by Kaze Lee!”

“Yeah, he should be arrested, not us!”

No matter how they clamored or cried, Loid was unfazed.

Knowing that they would be arrested no matter what, Alvin and the others plunged into despair. They cursed Kaze for misleading them and cried because they were being arrested.

They came here not to bribe the governor but to get themselves arrested.

If they did not try to copy Kaze and bribe the governor, they would be fine.

Now, they spent money on the gifts and even got themselves arrested.

Ivy and Cosmo had it worse.

They resented Kaze more than anyone and they thought with five hundred million, they could use Loid to crush Kaze.

However, Kaze turned out to be fine and they got themselves arrested.

They were agitated, furious, and aggrieved.

On top of that, Loid showed ‘extra care’ to the two of them.

He pointed at Cosmo and Ivy and said coldly, “You two. You are from Hudson Investment Firm and Lee Solutions, am I right? Since you tried to instigate me to investigate other companies, you are hereby suspected to maliciously target other companies. Your companies will be investigated instead.”

Cosmo and Ivy almost passed out on the spot.

They went out for wool and came back shorn.

Not only were they arrested, but they also got their companies in trouble as well.

Cosmo cried, “Governor, I’m the Lee family’s...”

He was interrupted before he could finish.

“I don’t care who or where you are from. You shall not escape this time!”

Loid did not give them any chance to speak and walked away, leaving those who tried to bribe him crying and aggrieved.

Soon, Don arrived and arrested Cosmo, Ivy, and the others.

They tried to bribe the governor openly and there was no way they could escape this time.

Meanwhile at Lee Solutions’ branch in Lilyrose, all the employees were busy working.

An executive was shouting, trying to excite the employees.

“I want everything on the five companies! Master Cosmo is meeting with the governor! When he comes back, we will move out! Once we take down the five companies, everyone here will be rewarded with a high bonus!”

The employees were excited by the incentive.

“Master Cosmo is back!”

One of the employees rushed in and shouted in panic.

“Master Cosmo’s return is a good thing, why do you look so scared?” asked the executive.

However, his eyes widened in shock when he saw Cosmo.

Cosmo was brought in by police officers and his hands were cuffed.

What happened?

Everyone was stunned.

The officers from the investigation team brought out the warrant and said coldly, “No one moves. We have the warrant to search your office and take whatever we deem as evidence!”

After the office was searched for evidence of the company's violation of the law,

Cosmo was taken away.

The same thing happened to Hudson Investment Firm.

Soon, the two companies received a sanction from the city council.

Other than a hundred million fine, the two companies were blacklisted. They were not allowed to make any investments in local establishments.

Johnson was fierce this time as he was aggrieved.

Blake almost got him killed because of the Lees and the Vinlands, so he got revenge when he had the chance.

With Kaze having his back, there was nothing to be afraid of because even the governor was forced to go after the Lees and the Vinlands.

"What the fuck? Is Loid Farland coming after us?!"

Back in Wuthering Pavilion, after Hudson and Gregory got the news, Hudson flipped the table around.

Chapter 815 Madam Vinland

Aside from losing five hundred million, the two investment firms were also fined more than a hundred million, and got blacklisted.

Meaning, the Vinland and Lee families' plans to annex the five companies were foiled before they even started.

Hudson and Gregory were furious.

Kaze was fine when he gave the governor gifts, but they were arrested and fined when they did the same.

What nonsense?

Yet they had to swallow the grievance because they dared not argue with Loid.

Even though the two families were wealthy and powerful, they could not afford to offend the governor of the state.

“Kaze! That little bastard!”

While Gregory was shouting to vent his grievance, he received a call from his brother, George.

“Greg, you piece of useless trash! What did you do in Lilyrose? Your son’s legs were broken and you are trying to make it even by getting my son arrested?!”

“Get back here immediately! I don’t care what you do. You will go to the governor and beg him to release Cosmo, even if you have to kneel or beg!” George shouted from the other side of the phone.

Cosmo was his favorite and youngest son.

Now that Cosmo was arrested, he hated his stupid brother for causing it.

“Hudson, please, I beg you. You have to get Kaze! Get him and I’ll owe you big time!”

Gregory dared not defy his brother, so he quickly went back to Sunrise City.

On the other hand, Hudson also faced criticism from his family.

He soon received a call from his family.

Julia Kars, also known as Old Madam Vinland, called him.

She was the family head who ruled the Vinlands for over half a century. She was the one who raised Darcy’s grandmother, Tanya, into a powerful woman.

Tanya was the one who founded Quintessential Group. If not for her early death, the Quints would be as powerful and wealthy as the Lees now.

Therefore, Old Madam Vinland had absolute power in the family and no one dared to defy her.

“Hudson, I am disappointed in what you have done in Lilyrose. I think I might have overestimated your capabilities. You still have much to learn and you are still miles away from catching up to your late sister. Go apologize to my great- granddaughter and then come back to Chrysant!”

Hudson was furious when he heard Old Madam Vinland’s words.

He never liked his sister, Tanya, for being more capable than him. He believed she used the family’s resources to start Quintessential Group.

More importantly, his mother demanded him to apologize to Darcy and her family!

“Mother, why must I apologize to the girl? She disrespected our family and her stupid husband beat up Yume! Yume is your favorite great-granddaughter. Why is an outsider more important than her?”

Hudson was aggrieved.

“It’s your fault for what happened to Yume. You spoiled her!”

Old Madam Vinland said coldly, “Darcy was raised by Tanya and I believed in Tanya’s abilities in choosing the right person. If Darcy could come back to us, our family would continue to flourish for a hundred years. You and your children will also benefit from it.

“Why are you still so stupid and stubborn? You know Darcy is as stubborn as Tanya and going rough on them won’t work. You almost forced them over the cliff and ruined the relationship! You imbecile!

“I don’t think you are fit to run the family’s business anymore.”

Hudson’s face turned pale.

Old Madam Vinland stripped Hudson of his power with just one word.

“NO!”

Hudson slammed the phone on the floor, smashing it.

“I’ll kill Kaze and take down the five companies! I’ll show Mother what I can do! I’m better than Tanya!”

His expression resembled a ferocious beast. He refused to just go back to Chrysan on a bitter note.

“Are the Twin Ghosts here yet?” he asked.

Chapter 816 The Twin Ghosts Arrive

It was Hudson’s men’s first time seeing such a scary expression on his boss.

He said with a shaking voice, “Master Hudson, they are here already. Do you want to see them?”

“No. Tell them to go after Gold Tooth and Dan Niners.”

Anger had distorted the features on Hudson’s face. He said wickedly, “Kaze will be the last. I will go after the people around him, one by one.”

Although he could not get Kaze through legitimate means, he could still send his killers after the idiot.

The news of Hudson Investment Firm and Lee Solutions being fined shocked the business world.

No one thought it would turn out like this.

Kaze sent gifts to the governor and he was fine; the others sent gifts to the governor and they were arrested.

What a twist of events.

Back in Horizon Mirror Mansion, the Quints were also surprised by the news.

“The Lees and the Vinlands are expelled from the city just like that?”

Darcy could not believe the news.

She plunged into despair when the two families were onto her and her companies. She even considered handing over the company shares to keep her family safe.

No amount of money was worth her family’s safety.

Yet the two families were expelled from the city by the governor.

“Thank God. I mean, thank the governor for helping us! If not for him, we’ll be in deep trouble this time,” Agnes said as she put her hands together, praying as if the governor was God.

Kaze smiled and said, “Mom, you don’t need to thank Loid Farland. If you really want to thank someone, you can cook me a good meal because I told Loid Farland to take care of it.”

The moment Kaze tried to claim credits, Agnes was agitated.

“Don’t even get me started, Kaze. You are the one who started all this by sending gifts to the governor and you almost got us in trouble! Thank goodness the governor is wise and didn’t come after us.”

She poked Kaze in the arm and said, “You should make me a meal! Not the other way around!”

Kaze shrugged because he knew no one would believe him even if he said the truth.

He got up and went to the kitchen to cook a meal.

Meanwhile at Bay Club, Dan and Gold Tooth were having beer again.

Gold Tooth raised his glass and said, "Dan, cheers! We celebrate because Master Lee got rid of Hudson Vinland and Gregory Lee!"

"Hahaha! Of course, we have to celebrate! Those two families are nothing compared to Master Lee!"

Dan raised his glass for a toast.

When they were invited to Wuthering Pavilion, they sided with Kaze and beat up Dexter, Jake, and the other chairmen in front of Hudson.

They worried that Hudson might come after them.

Now that the two families were expelled from the city, they were delighted.

While they were drinking and eating, excruciating cries came from outside the room.

Gold Tooth heard the commotion, got up, and shouted at the door, "Which bastard is making noise outside? King Kong, get the bastard in here!"

Bang!

King Kong, whose face was covered in blood, fell into the room and said with all his strength, "Mr. Gold Tooth, run! The Twin Ghosts are... Pft!"

Before he could finish, a foot stomped on his back, crushing his spine.

His body twitched a few times before dying.

"The Twin Ghosts of Chrysant?!"

Gold Tooth and Dan were horrified when they saw the two people who came in.

"Are you Gold Tooth and Dan Niners?"

The Twin Ghosts came in looking like real ghosts with messy hair and bloody hands.

They even sucked the blood from their fingers.

The blood seemed to trigger them as their bloodshot eyes bulged even more.

Dan and Gold Tooth were terrified. They dared not look into their bloody eyes.

Chapter 817 Brutal

“G—Guys, we are all in the business together. Why don’t we sit down, have some beer, and talk...”

Gold Tooth forced an ugly smile on his face knowing that he was dealing with the notorious Twin Ghosts of Chrysant. Even his voice was shaking.

He tried to stall the Twin Ghosts while figuring out a way to request help from Kaze.

Otherwise, Dan and him would surely die at the hands of the Twin Ghosts.

His loyal man, King Kong, was just killed before his eyes!

“Twin Ghosts, that old fag is just stalling. Don’t fall for it!”

A wicked voice came from the door.

It was Dexter, Lyn’s father.

Jake and the others were also there, all staring at Gold Tooth and Dan.

Dexter, Jake, and the others resented Gold Tooth and Dan for slapping them in front of everyone back at Wuthering Pavilion.

Gold Tooth's and Dan's expressions turned bitter.

They should have slapped them to death back at Wuthering Pavilion and this would not happen.

"I know he is stalling," said Dawn, the elder brother of the Twin Ghosts.

His emotionless and frosty voice gave Dexter and the others chills.

"Dawn, stop wasting time and do it," said Dusk, the younger brother.

He walked over to Dan.

"Gold Tooth, get ready!"

Dan's eyes turned vicious as he threw a punch at Dusk.

Dusk had a hint of contempt in his eyes as he looked at the incoming punch. He countered by grabbing Dan in the wrist.

Dan was as strong as Hudson's bodyguards. He was known for his ferocity in the underworld and he fought his way up the ranks with his fists.

Yet he fought like a child in front of Dusk.

No matter how he struggled, he could not break free from Dusk's hand.

"Ugh! Aaaaargh!"

Dan screamed excruciatingly as his expression was distorted by pain.

His forearm was broken with just a snap!

At the same time, Dawn seized Gold Tooth as well.

Gold Tooth cried loudly as he was seized by the neck, struggling strongly.

Dawn scoffed. "These two useless shit are the most powerful gangsters in Lilyrose's underworld now? What a joke. Now that the woman is hiding, I guess there's no one left in Lilyrose's underworld."

The woman that Dawn mentioned was Miru.

"I guess we don't even need to go after Kaze Lee ourselves. It's boring," Dusk said as he cracked another bone in Dan's arm.

"Aaargh!"

Excruciating cries echoed across the room for the next few minutes and it gradually died out.

Only faint breathing noises gasping for air could be heard in the end.

Dan and Gold Tooth collapsed on the floor like ragdolls.

“Thank Master Hudson. We don’t usually let people live,” Dawn said as he walked away with Dusk.

“Hahaha! Gold Tooth, Dan Niners, look at yourselves! You were all fierce and vicious at Wuthering Pavilion but now you are like a piece of shit when someone stronger than you beats you up!”

Dexter, Jake, and the others finally got revenge. They walked up to Dan and Gold Tooth, sneering at them.

They even kicked Dan and Gold Tooth to vent their anger.

Dan and Gold Tooth were severely injured and could not fight back. Breathing was a luxury to them because their ribs were broken.

“Call the police!”

Dan and Gold Tooth’s men came in after Dexter, Jake, and the others left. They were shocked to see their bosses in their own blood.

“Police ain’t doing shit! Call the ambulance! Right now! They are dying!”

Soon, the ambulance came and brought Gold Tooth and Dan away.

It was a restless night for the underworld of Lilyrose.

Chapter 818 An Eye for an Eye

The Twin Ghosts came to Lilyrose with a bunch of gangsters from Chrysant.

With the two monsters taking the lead, Gold Tooth and Dan's territories were all swept.

Some of their men escaped to save their own lives, while some turned on Dan and Gold Tooth and sided with the Twin Ghosts instead.

In less than one night, the underworld of Lilyrose had completely changed.

Leteria Group already lost the battle with the Twin Ghosts at Melrose and Miru was still recovering. They could not do anything to stop the Twin Ghosts from taking over.

With their ferocity and brutality, no one in Lilyrose's underworld was able to stop them.

On the next morning, while Darcy was having breakfast, Miru called her to give her a warning.

"Darcy, stay at home and don't go out for the next two days. Hudson Vinland had lost his mind. He brought the Twin Ghosts here to Lilyrose. Even Dan and Gold Tooth were hospitalized. I think the Twin Ghosts will go after

"Miru, you have to be careful as well."

you soon."

Darcy's face turned pale. She put down her phone and warned Kaze not to go out as well.

If Hudson wanted to come after them, then he would go after Kaze first.

"Dan and Gold Tooth are hospitalized?"

Kaze was furious.

He knew the Twin Ghosts were after him by attacking Dan and Gold Tooth.

Dan and Gold Tooth took orders from him and slapped Dexter, Jake, and the others at the Wuthering Pavilion.

Now that the two of them were hospitalized, he wanted to visit them.

Kaze called Miru and asked, "Where are Dan and Gold Tooth? I want to see them."

"Kaze, what are you talking about? I told Darcy to not go out! If you step out of the door, you will be in danger. You've already gotten Dan and Gold Tooth hospitalized, don't you dare put Darcy in danger."

Miru scolded Kaze and slammed the phone on him.

Kaze did not want to talk to the unreasonable woman, so he called Snow and asked her to find out using his name.

“Mr. Chairman, they are alive and they are in the orthopedic department of the hospital.”

Snow called back with results in less than a minute.

If they were transferred to the orthopedic department, it must mean that their bones were broken.

Kaze came up with an excuse to take a stroll at the lake and went off.

Draco was teaching Sky how to throw a punch when he saw Kaze come out.

He got into the car as well. “Boss, I’m coming too. I can be your bodyguard.”

He heard from Sky that the Twin Ghosts might come after Kaze.

When they arrived at the hospital, they saw Dan and Gold Tooth bedridden.

“Mr. Lee, the patients suffered from more than a hundred cuts and bruises and many bone fractures. The people who did this to them are ruthless. Even if they recover, they might not return to their old lives. They might be crippled. It will get worse with aging as well.”

The doctor knew Kaze was close with Professor Whiteman, so he explained the situation in meticulous detail.

“Killing is but an instant. Those two psychopaths tortured Dan and Gold Tooth for fun and kept them alive on a thread. It’s worse than killing them,” Draco said.

coldly.

He saw worse on the foreign battlefield, but those vicious men were affected by war and it changed how they think.

A psychologist was extremely important in treating soldiers who returned from the battlefield.

The Twin Ghosts were not soldiers and had never been in war. They were simply psychopaths who enjoyed hurting people.

“An eye for an eye. We’ll get them.”

Kaze was expressionless as he continued, “Tell Albert to come here. He said he wanted to avenge Miru himself.”

“I’ll inform Albert right away.”

Draco then called Albert.

Then, the heads of the Vikrom, Logman, and Joestar families came to visit.

The three of them had masks and glasses on to cover their faces.

Kaze frowned. "Why are you people looking like you are here to steal stuff?"

"Mr. Lee, Chief Commander Lang!"

The three of them took off their masks and glasses and bowed respectfully.

Bernard said bitterly, "Mr. Lee, the Twin Ghosts came to Lilyrose, and Gold Tooth and Dan were attacked. We are just scared."

Other than Dan, Gold Tooth, and Johnson, they were the ones who sided with Kaze back at Wuthering Pavilion.

Now that Gold Tooth and Dan almost got killed and Johnson almost lost his mayor's position, they were terrified as well.

They were afraid that the Twin Ghosts would go after them.

Peter sighed and said, "No one knows who is next in line but the three of us would probably suffer. I don't dare to let my family go out either."

"Yet even at our own house, we are still scared. Steve Lee of Melrose was killed at his own place with fifty bodyguards around," said the head of the Joestar family.

They told Kaze that Hudson had made it clear. Anyone in Lilyrose who was close to him could be the next target.

“Hudson Vinland, that old geezer. Loid Farland warned him already and he’s still challenging me.

وژ

Kaze was furious. Hudson’s stubbornness surprised him.

He did not know that Hudson had lost his cool because of the call with Old Madam Vinland.

“Don’t worry. I’ll tell the police department to send officers to your house and keep watch. If the Twin Ghosts show up, just shoot them.”

Kaze calmed the three of them down and then called Don.

The commotion in the underworld alarmed Don and the entire police department. He was currently having a meeting to plan for an upcoming operation.

When he received the call from Kaze, he quickly sent officers out.

Other than the Vikrom, Logman, and Joestar families, Perfect World Group, Sky Ocean Corporation, and Shangrila Group were also placed under the police’s protection.

With so many layers of protection, Kaze believed the Twin Ghosts would not be able to penetrate either one of them.

He even called Winnie to warn her and told the security team to send her home after work.

Don also arranged for some officers to keep guard at her place.

Kaze was worried that Hudson might go after Winnie and Brenda.

However, being in the passive defense was not Kaze's way of doing things.

He told Snow to contact Miru and tell her to use Lefteria Group's resources to locate Hudson and the Twin Ghosts.

Kaze planned to go after the boss first.

Since Hudson declared that he would go after the people around Kaze, then there was no way Kaze would hold back anymore.

Once he located Hudson, he would teach him a lesson that he would not forget!

"Mr. Chairman, I just got an update from Lefteria Group. Hudson Vinland and the Twin Ghosts are hiding. They are no longer in the residential district. It might take some time to locate them," Snow said.

"Hudson Vinland isn't stupid. He's a diligent man. He knows that Lilyrose belongs to Mr. Lee, so his only hope here is the Twin Ghosts. He's afraid of exposing himself or alarming the police," Bernard said.

Kaze nodded. He knew it as well.

Hudson went after Dan and Gold Tooth first because he wanted to clip Kaze's wings, not just take revenge for Dexter and Jake.

Chapter 820 Winnie's Weakness

Kaze was worried about Darcy, so he went home after the hospital visit.

Before he left, he asked Professor Whiteman to try his best to help Dan and Gold Tooth.

At the same time, Hudson transferred his base of operation to another mansion.

The mansion's developer was from Sunrise City and the boss was close with Hudson.

The guards would carefully check every visitor at the entrance and only then Hudson could enjoy peace of mind.

As Kaze suspected, Hudson was afraid that Kaze would locate him using the underworld's connection and then called the police on him.

Even though he still looked down on Kaze, he admitted that he had underestimated the idiot.

Kaze's connection in Lilyrose was far wider than expected.

He even transferred Yume and Alfred back to Chrysant.

“Next would be the Vikrom, Logman, and Joestar families,” Hudson said viciously as he sat on the couch.

“Master Hudson, we just got news that the Vikrom, Logman, and Joestar families had police officers at their houses. There were patrol cars around their residential district as well. The same goes for the five companies. It might be difficult to make a move on them for now,” his men said.

Hudson’s expression turned grim.

“Kaze Lee, quite meticulous I see. I admit that I have underestimated you. Too bad Blake was taken down by Loid Farland and Johnson Brooks was made mayor again. Otherwise, I don’t need to do so many things just to take down Kaze Lee!”

He cursed Loid for disrupting his plans.

Since Kaze was alarmed, Hudson could not just send the Twin Ghosts to the three families.

No matter how strong the Twin Ghosts were, they were no stronger than a bullet.

Hudson’s men said, “Master Hudson, why don’t we go after Winnie Souffle of Shangrila Group? When Ms. Yume left, she clearly said she hated Winnie Souffle and her daughter, and then Kaze Lee.”

“I’d like to go after that bitch as well but you said it, Shangrila Group is surrounded by patrol cars as well. I bet Kaze Lee expected this and would not leave her out,” Hudson said grimly.

He was aggrieved because he was in another city with only the Twin Ghosts under him.

The other thugs he brought were all defeated by Kaze.

“Master Hudson, we can use Winnie Souffle’s weakness.”

The man showed a picture to Hudson and said wickedly, “This guy is Zenny Soup, Winnie Souffle’s current husband. He’s caught up in debts due to gambling and his debtor, Kurt Ulanzi, is one of the families who sided with us.”

Hudson’s men had checked every connection Kaze had, as well as every connection of those associated with him.

“Bring this guy to me,” Hudson said.

Soon, Kurt brought Zenny to Hudson.

“Zenny Soup, this is Master Hudson from Chrysant. You will do whatever he tells you and if you can satisfy his demands, you will benefit from it.”

Thump!

Zenny knelt in front of Hudson immediately.

“Master Hudson, I will do whatever you tell me to!”

He was shaking from the excitement. If he could get close to Hudson, he would not have to bear with Winnie anymore.

Hudson continued to trim his nails as he said, "I heard you have beef with Kaze

Lee."

"Yes! Kaze became Shangrila Group's chairman through trickery and scams, and he disrespects me! He beat me and my mother! I dream of killing that bastard!"
