Chapter 91 My Best General

The six ferocious men stared at Kaze with overflowing killer intentions.

“Dan, are these your best men?”

Gold Tooth’s expression shifted when he saw the men.

Dan was released from prison a year ago and he swiftly rose into prominence in the underworld. He was able to make a name for himself in the underworld because he had these six men working for him.

However, the six of them barely showed themselves in public and they would only appear when Dan wanted to kill his target. They were considered Dan’s secret weapons.

It was also Gold Tooth’s first time seeing them.

“Hmph, I guess you are not that stupid.”

Dan added, “The six of them are veteran war generals who came back from the battlefield. All of them had taken countless lives mercilessly. I pay them millions per year. I think I don’t need to tell you how powerful they are.”

He then looked at Kaze and bellowed, “Go! Teach this little shit a lesson!”

“Yes, sir!”

The man on the far left, Number One, stepped forward and went up to Kaze. He looked ferocious with the frosty glare and exuded an intimidating aura as he moved.

However, before he got close to Kaze, a towering figure stood in front

It was Draco, in his glasses.

“Take your glasses off. I hate people trying to act cool!”

Number One threw a punch at Draco’s face.

He wanted to smash the glasses and Draco’s face altogether.

Draco remained silent. He raised his hand and caught the punch. “Let go of me!”

Number One shouted. He pulled as hard as he could but Draco’s hand was like an iron clamp, holding his fist in position. Angered, he lifted his leg for a kick.

Then, a sudden pain in his arm stunned him.

Crack!

A clear sound of a broken bone resounded.

His robust arm was easily snapped by Draco.

Before Number One could even make a noise, Draco kicked him away and sent him crashing onto the wall several meters away. The whole office shook upon impact.

Number One cried excruciatingly and it shocked Dan.

He waved at his men. "All together! Get him!"

The other five men jumped on Draco, but each of them was sent flying back, crashing onto the wall like Number One.

All six of Dan's men were defeated in the blink of an eye.

"Who the hell are you?"

Dan's arrogance was replaced by fear as his face turned pale. He looked at Draco with utter shock.

"He is my best general," Kaze said casually as if the fight had not happened.

Dan's most ferocious men were single-handedly defeated by Draco. The six men struggled but they got up on their feet.

"Do you know why I broke one arm each? The six of you are veterans. who came back from the battlefield yet you become the hitmen of some lousy gangster? The six of you are a disgrace!"

Draco then slowly removed his glasses, which had remained in place throughout the brief fight. When the six men saw Draco's face without the glasses, they were dumbfounded.

"Chief Commander Draco Lang?! The chief commander of the War Dragon Squad?!"

"Then, the one beside him... Could it be..."

The six men looked at Kaze. They were veterans who once served in the army, so after learning Draco's true identity, they realized who Kaze really was.

Thump!

The six of them knelt in front of Kaze. Even though the broken arm put them in excruciating pain, they insisted on kneeling.

They looked at Kaze with reverence and eagerness.

Kaze was the legendary God of War the living legend in every veteran's heart, the warrior who had never lost a battle!

Chapter 92 Madame Miru of Left Group

"Chief Commander Draco Lang?!"

Dan finally recognized Draco and his legs turned weak.

Draco's identity was more shocking than the fact that he single-handedly defeated six ferocious men. The chief commander was a renowned figure who fought at the borders!

One word from him and Dan could die ten thousand times over!

Dan then stiffly turned his head to Kaze.

He clearly remembered Kaze calling Draco his best general.

Kaze's true identity became obvious from that point.

Thump!

Dan collapsed under pressure and fell to his knees. He prostrated in fear as he said, "God of War! | was wrong! | shouldn't have disrespected you! | should be punished!"

He kowtowed repeatedly.

The God of War's authority was unchallenged and it could kill Dan like a dog. Dan knew he might die on the spot. If the God of War was merciless, the disrespect alone was enough for him to wipe out Dan's entire family. "So, are you willing to come work at the construction site?" Kaze asked.

Dan looked up at Kaze, baffled.

What did that mean? The God of War was not going to kill him?

Draco grunted and said, "You are not worth being killed by the boss."

Back when Kaze was serving in the military, he used to kill ma notorious war criminals and enemies. Compared to them, Da nothing.

Dan felt an instant relief and he started to kowtow again.

Then, loud noises came from outside the office.

Dan's men outside were crying for help.

"Boss! This is bad! Madame Miru from Leteria Group is here with several hitmen! She's here to slap you!" One of the men managed to hurry into the office and informed Dan.

Bang!

Before he could catch a breath, he was kicked away from the back.

Several suited men came in without saying a word.

Behind them was Miru, expressionless and cold.

"Kaze? What are you doing here?" Miru was surprised to see Kaze in Dan's office.

A sudden thought rushed to her and she teased, "You are here to beg Dan Niners to not go after Darcy right? | guess you are not all useless, at least you didn't bring Darcy here. But it's still lame."

She saw Draco and Gold Tooth but she did not take them seriously.

She had no idea who Draco was because she was not in Lilyrose when Draco became the Chief Commander.

She knew about Gold Tooth but she simply assumed he was just a guide. Plus, Gold Tooth tried to force Kaze and Darcy out of Horizon

Kaze exhaled and said, "Miru, which eye of yours sees me begging Dan Niners? Can't you see he's already on the ground?" He did not expect Miru to charge into Dan's office with her men Dan's men outside did not even slow her down.

Miru then saw Dan, who prostrated on the floor.

A quick pause later, she burst into laughter. "Dan Niners, you got scared and prostrated on the floor before me and my men charged into your office?"

Dan knew Miru. He was upset when she mistook him kneeling for her. "Miru Scarlet, it's because..."

Slap!

Before he could finish, Miru slapped him in the face.

"This is for the slap that your man, Big Fly, gave me!"

She stared at Dan after the slap.

"And Darcy is my best friend. Don't try to cause problems at her construction site anymore or I will destroy you!"

Chapter 93 Self-Righteous Woman

After Miru left the construction site, she went back to Lefteria Group to get some hitmen and headed to La Familia Club. The slap on Dan was indeed revenge but her priority was to help Darcy settle the problem.

“Madame Miru, I dared not cause trouble at Ms. Quint’s construction site anymore. I won’t...” Dan kowtowed as he begged for forgiveness. Darcy was the God of War’s wife.

“That’s more like it. Let’s go.”

Miru grunted and wanted to bring her men away.

Kaze then said, “Dan, bring your men along and start working at the site.”

He did not want to waste all the free manpower.

“Kaze, you really know how to seize the moment. If I didn’t come here with my men, would you still have the nerve to ask Dan Niners to work at the site?” Miru sneered. She had never liked Kaze and after what happened, she looked down on him even more.

She turned to Dan and said, “It’s a good idea. Bring your men to Passion Fragrance District construction site and work for a month!”

With a gangster boss like Dan moving bricks, no other gangster would dare to cause problems at the construction site. “Yes, yes! Right away!”

Dan dared not defy the God of War's order.

Miru thought it was her who had successfully intimidated Dan, which delighted her. She wanted to tease Kaze again but he had gone out of the office.

“Boss, do you want me to teach that woman a lesson?” Draco

If Miru was not Darcy’s best friend, Draco would have slapped her when she teased and disrespected Kaze. “Just ignore her. She’s just a self-righteous woman.”

Kaze did not want to be calculative since she did bring her men to solve the problem for Darcy.

Ever since he came back to Lilyrose, other than Hector and Agnes, Miru was the only person who had been unconditionally good to Darcy.

Kaze was willing to tolerate her lousy attitude on this point alone.

After sending off Draco and Gold Tooth, Kaze wanted to drive back to the construction site.

Then, Miru came up to the car and got into the rear seat.

“What is the meaning of this? You want me to be your driver?” Kaze was speechless.

Miru said, “If not for my timely intervention, you really think Dan Niners would let you go? Why can’t you drive me around? Stop talking, start driving.”

She was purposely provoking Kaze with a mission to kick him away from Darcy. Darcy was not thinking straight when she married Kaze, so as her friend, Miru had to save her from the abyss. Kaze could not throw Miru out of the car, Darcy would kill him if he

He sighed and started the car.

Back at Passion Fragrance District's office, Darcy was still t Fish about the sales proposal. One of the employees came into the office.

“Ms. Quint, Mr. Chairman is here at the site. He wants you to see him right away.”

She glanced at her watch. “Shit!”

She was so carried away with the discussion that she lost track of time. Her grandfather told her on the phone to settle the matter with Dan Niners and he would come over himself in the afternoon.

When she strode out of the office, Master Quint, Rudy and his family were already strutting into the Project Department. “Darcy, how is it going with Dan Niners? Have you apologized to him?” Master Quint asked directly.

“Grandfather, | was discussing a sales proposal with Fish, and | forgot about it.

Darcy bit the bullet and decided to be honest.

“How could you forget about something this important? What are you doing?”

Master Quint was furious.

“Darcy, how dare you ignore grandfather's order? Do you still regard him as your grandfather?” “I think she doesn't want to apologize to Dan Niners and simply wanted to drag us all down! She wants us all dead! Fire her immediately!” an Samus and Deborah fanned the flames, further pressuring Darcy on her mistake. They had been holding their anger back for two days

now. Ever since their father, Rudy, was dismissed, Darcy took charge of Passion Fragrance District.

The whole company thought Rudy and his family were losing power and Darcy would eventually rise to the top. Therefore, no one took them seriously anymore.

The executives who used to flatter them for benefits avoided them like the plague now. The feeling of losing power was terrible.

They wanted Darcy out of Quintessential Group and regain control over the company. However, they could not locate Jean, Rudy's ex- secretary, anywhere and the Hanser family could not do anything either.

No matter how aggrieved Samus and Deborah were, they had to endure it. They did not expect Darcy to make such a huge mistake, which was a good opportunity for them to channel their grievance to her.

Of course, they would take the chance to criticize her and fire her if

POSSIDIC.

Master Quint was highly concerned about his power and authority in both the family and company. He grew suspicious once he heard Samus and Deborah.

He clenched his teeth and glared at Darcy. "Darcy, are you trying to drag us all down? You hate us that much? You hate me, your grandfather, that much?"

"Grandfather, no! I would never try to drag the Quint family down, I am a Quint as well! Why would I do that?" Darcy argued. Her grandfather's accusation put her in a difficult position and she felt aggrieved. "You keep denying that!"

Samus bellowed, "We saw fifty of Dan Niners' men working on site when we came in! If you really cared about the Quint family's life and death, you would have sent them back and apologized! How dare make his men work for you for free?! Are you out of your mind?"

Before Samus' words subsided, an employee rushed into the office with a horrified look.

"Mr. Chairman! D-Dan Niners is here with his men! There are a lot of them! Few hundred of them!"

The employee stammered out of fear.

Master Quint and the others turned pale when they heard the employee.

Dan Niners was a boss in the underworld and Quintessential Group had completely stepped on his tail!

He came to the site himself with hundreds of his men! They must be here to raze it to the ground!

"The company is doomed! Darcy, you've doomed us all!"

Rudy and his family glared at Darcy as if they wanted to eat her

“Are you happy now, Darcy? You don’t need to worry about me firing you as well because the whole project is doomed!” Master Quint was livid.

Darcy was horrified. She regretted her procrastination and should have gone to Dan with an apology sooner.

“Go talk to Dan Niners! No matter what it costs, you better overcome this problem!” Master Quint angrily stomped his walking stick and left.

At the construction site’s entrance, Dan and two hundred of his men were there.

Big Fly and the others, who were arrested by Tiger Fangs earlier, were also among them.

Kaze called Shin and told him to release the men for labor.

“Open up! We are here to work!” Dan said politely to the security guard.

The security guard shivered and refused to open the gate.

Master Quint and the others came over and they overheard Dan’s request. They were already shaking.

The gate could not hold back that many people, so Master Quint ordered the security guard to open the gate.

He went up to Dan and bowed.

“Mr. Niners! I’m the chairman of Quintessential Group, Logan Quint. Please don’t joke with us! We would never dare ask you to work here!”

Chapter 95 Labor Work to Repent His Mistake

“Mr. Niners, we'll send back the fifty men working at our site. It was Tiger Fangs who sent them here, we had nothing to do with this!”

Tiger Fangs helped Quintessential Group yet Master Quint showed no appreciation for that. He even criticized the Tiger Fangs for their intervention and forced Dan's men to work for free at the construction site. Dan sounded even more polite when he found out that it was Master Quint he was talking to.

“Master Quint, we are really here to work. Just let us in. Me and my men deserved this. The Tiger Fangs are right to reeducate us through labor work.” The Quints were more afraid than ever when they heard Dan. To them, Dan was speaking sarcastically.

Samus went up to Dan and said with a trembling voice, “Mr. Niners! Darcy is in charge of the site. She agreed for your men to work here, we had nothing to do with this.”

Nothing to do with this? Dan was slightly surprised. It seemed like the God of War's wife was not too close with her extended family.

Samus saw Dan's reaction. He stomped and shouted at Darcy, “What are you doing there, come here and apologize to Mr. Niner! It's all your fault!”

Slap!

Samus was slapped to the ground by Dan.

“You piece of shit, who are you to make Ms. Quint apologize?!” Dan kicked Samus in the stomach.

Under everyone's horrified gaze, Dan went up to Darcy and go to his knees.

“Ms. Quint, it's my fault to send my men to cause problems at your site. | am terribly sorry about this. | am here with my men to apologize and we will work here for a month for free. It is our way to repent for our mistakes!”

Two hundred of his men immediately knelt together.

“Ms. Quint, please accept our apology and allow us to repent our mistakes through hard labor!” Two hundred men shouted en masse.

Master Quint was shocked by the grand scene. His hand stroking his beard froze in the air.

Samus blanked out on the ground.

Rudy and Deborah looked at Darcy in fear.

Everyone on site was shocked and left speechless by the scene.

The gangster boss, Dan Niners, brought two hundred of his men here. to apologize to Darcy and requested to work at the construction site. for one month just to repent for their mistakes?

What had the world become?

Darcy was at a loss for action. She had no idea what happened.

She did not know if it was a misunderstanding or something else, neither should she agree to Dan's offer. Then, her phone rang.

It was from her friend, Miru.

"Hey, sweetie! I've settled Dan Niners for you. He and his men should be at your construction site, begging to work. Don't need to t because you are my BFF, and that's what BFFs do!" Miru then hung up the phone.

Darcy was deeply moved by her friend's call.

Miru got slapped because of her and she felt bad about it.

To her surprise, Miru was not bad and even helped her to settle Dan Niners' issue.

She took a deep breath and then said, "Mr. Niners, I'll accept your apology. Please work at the site. I don't actually need you to move bricks or any hard labor. I need you all to watch over the site and prevent others from causing more trouble."

Dan did not expect the God of War's wife would forgive him and be so polite to him. He was flattered.

"Ms. Quint, you are too kind! We'll do labor work and watch over the construction site! From today onward, I, Dan Niners, will be your watch hound!"

Chapter 96 Eunuchteny

Dan got up and stared at Semus.

Get this little shit out of here! How dare he threaten Ms. Quint!”

Samus was thrown out of the construction site despite his begging and crying.

Master Quint and the others were shocked as well. They were afraid that Dan would toss them or so they quickly left the scene.

Dan led two hundred of his men into the site.

Together with Manny and his near who had started working, almost three hundred gangsters were working there. Darcy did not know whether to be angry or laugh at the scene.

What gave Miru the idea to make Daarsan's men work at the construction site for free? If the news got out, people would think Darcy was a mob boss.

Inside a VIP ward at Lilyrose Prime Hospital Henry was still beaten

Dad, am I a eunuch now? Does it mean I can't fuck women for the rest of my life?!” Henry stared blankly at the ceiling and spoke lifelessly

He did not move for three days after he realized he lost his senses

Roger in a terrible looking at his son who was as cold as a snake

Henry, it's my fault that this happened didn't protect you. Don't worry: I will avenge you."

"Revenge! I want revenge!"

Henry shouted like a vengeful spirit all of a sudden.

Then, his shouts stopped and he asked, "Dad, it's been three days. Why haven't you avenged me? Are you lying to me? You don't avenge me?"

Roger held his son down and said as tears rolled down his face, "I've already told Gold Tooth to do the job when this happened to you. I want Kaze Lee and his family out of Horizon Mirror Mansion and I can torture them slowly.

"Unfortunately, Chief Commander Lang is their neighbor and Gold Tooth was thrown out. But they've run out of luck. With the Lee family's support, I've gotten the gangsters to work for me and I've told them to ruin Quintessential Group's construction site.

"I'll ruin Darcy's career first and then force her to marry you. She will serve you as your personal maid for life!"

He had convinced the leader of the Lee family, George Lee, to surrender Darcy to Henry instead of delivering her to Narian Lee. Narian had been eyeing Darcy's beauty for a long time now and he was unhappy with his father's decision.

Henry was no longer a man yet Darcy would have to serve him for life.

What a waste of exquisite beauty.

However, he knew the Lee family needed the Hilfinger family's help to get Perfect World Group, eventually moving against Kaze. Despite the bitterness, he agreed to surrender Darcy to Henry.

Little did Narian know that Roger had a much more vicious and crazier idea.

Henry was Roger's only son and now that he had been castrated, it would put an end to their family's lineage.

Darcy was beautiful and smart and if she could bear the Hilfinger seed, the child's genes would be amazing.

Henry could no longer impregnate any women but it was not a problem. Roger was only in his fifties. He was rich and healthy and he could do his son the favor.

"Dad, that's the craziest idea I've ever heard. It's great! That bitch Darcy is arrogant and always thought she was superior to others. I want to see her down on her knees and serve me.

"And Kaze Lee, I want him to see everything with his own eyes yet helpless against it. I want him to die in despair!" Henry shouted and cried madly.

"Alright, alright. I'll do whatever you want. I'll get the doctor over here. to sedate you."

Roger got up and wiped his tears off. He ordered his men to take care of Henry before he walked out of the VIP ward. "Mr. Chairman! Something happened!"

A woman ran over to Roger as soon as he stepped out of the ward. It was Kelly.

Chapter 97 Do Nothing

Roger looked at Kelly coldly.

The reason he allowed Kelly to live was because Henry had sex w her before he was castrated.

If Kelly got impregnated, then Roger would allow her to live until she gave birth to the child.

If not, she would have two more months to live.

Therefore, Roger recruited her to the new Construction and Material Society and made her the new chief secretary.

Kelly was living the life of her dreams. If she could bear Henry's seed, then she would become the daughter-in-law of the Hilfingers and strengthen her position in the family.

Little did she know, she was already dead in Roger's eyes.

“What is it?”

Roger put the vicious gaze away and asked in a normal expression.

“Mr. Chairman, Dan Niners turned on us. | just got the news that he and his men are working at Darcy’s construction site!” Kelly said with a hint of disappointment on her face.

She wanted Darcy and Kaze to suffer but even a gangster boss like Dan would submit to them. Roger was infuriated and shocked by the news.

“Dan Niners and Gold Tooth are the same, they are both cowards! The Tiger Fangs are not Quintessential Group, why are they so afraid of them?”

He then waved his hand and did not seem overly concerned.

“Whatever. They can turn if they want. Darcy and Kaze got two more.

days to live. Two days later, the meeting for the new Constru

Material Society will be held and | will throw them into the despair then!”

He was not concerned about Dan turning on him as Dan was not strong enough to change the situation.

He had partnered up with more than a dozen gangster bosses in the underworld and things were progressing smoothly. Many other construction sites decided to submit to his coercion and stopped their purchase with Perfect World Group. The new Construction and Material Society would be the new supplier for those sites.

Using the gangsters was the best method to solve the problem. They acted so fast that not even Perfect World Group could respond in time. Two more days and the society would monopolize the entire construction industry.

He waved at Kelly and said, "Go prepare for the meeting. Send the invitations out. I want the meeting to be grand. I want all the influential figures from politics, business, and the military to be there."

"Yes, got it!"

Kelly went off with an excited smile on her face.

Meanwhile, Kaze drove Miru back to Lefteria Group before heading back to Passion Fragrance District. The moment he got out of the car, he received a call from Snow.

"Mr. Chairman, since yesterday, many construction sites have stopped purchasing construction materials from us. I believe in two days, we will lose our market share in Lilyrose.

"Mr. Forrester wanted me to ask you if we should do something to restrain the new Construction and Material Society?"

It was a matter of life and death for Perfect World Group but it sounded like something trivial in Snow's words.

In fact, Perfect World Group knew exactly what Roger was doing. Snow and Ray were never threatened by Roger's move.

Ray inquired about Kaze's opinion because he wanted to see if there were other options. He knew Kaze was going after the Hilfinger family.

"Tell Ray, don't do anything for now." Kaze added, "Snow, do you think it's more shocking to stop the construction of a building or demolish it once it's built?" "The second option of course."

Snow knew what Kaze meant. "Mr. Chairman, are you planning on using the rebuilding of the Construction and Material Society to deter the Lee family from Sunrise City?"

"That's right."

Kaze was happy with Snow's quick response.

He wanted the Lee family to apologize to Darcy and her family but there had been no response. Therefore, he wanted to send the new Construction and Material Society back to the Lee family as a huge surprise.

As for the Hilfingers, they were never his concern.

Chapter 98 Invitation

"Sir, I am still investigating James White's death, but I found out that the Lee and Hilfinger families were behind his expulsion from university..." Kaze remembered James' expulsion like it was yesterday.

James was on the verge of graduating with his degree course but then someone accused him of plagiarism and got expelled from the university.

He was aspiring to be a scientist and the incident ruined his future. It put him in a slum for quite a long time. Kaze knew James' character well enough to know that he would never plagiarize. Someone must have framed him, so he planned to help his friend.

However, James was afraid of confronting the university about the incident and he told Kaze to stay out of it. Before Kaze knew it, James had gone south to start a new career.

Snow informed Kaze that the one who reported James to the university was a student named Jessica Summer. She had a group of friends as witnesses as well and they were Haiden Ludgram, Wayne Gerome, Zack Centauri, and Kurt Ashford.

They were all instigated by the Lee family to accuse James of plagiarism.

Kaze realized James got involved because of him. James was a talented man and he might eventually be Kaze's right-hand man in the future.

The Lee family had already targeted Kaze back then, so they decided 1/3

Gus

James realized it was the Lee family who framed him but he did not understand why. In order to not affect Kaze, he decided to keep the truth to himself.

"Sir, Jessica Summer is not in charge of any educational institution. As for the others, they were all recruited by Roger Hilfinger into the new Construction and Material Society. Roger Hilfinger trusted them to watch the gangsters he recruited to do his dirty work."

“They did something wrong in the past and they should pay for their actions now,” Kaze said as a hint of frostiness flashed in his eyes.

They all destroyed James’ life and he was forced to go south to start a new life and career. He founded the Shangrila Group on his own, but the damage was done.

“This time | will let them taste the destruction of their lives.” Kaze had sentenced them to death with just one line. After the call, Kaze headed to the Project Department. Darcy shared with him the good news when he walked in.

“Kaze, you're back! Miru has solved the problem with the site! Look at the workers, they are all Dan Niners’ men! He is also working together!”

She was happy with the outcome.

With Dan and his men at the construction site, no other gangsters would cause a problem there anymore. “That’s great.”

Kaze was happy that Darcy was happy. He did not even claim credit.

Darcy's happiness lasted until the next day.

Before she headed out to the site, Agnes told her that Master Quint had ordered a family meeting. Something must have happened.

Darcy and her parents headed to Master Quint’s place immediately.

Master Quint was looking at the invitation on the table with a bitter look.

The invitation was from the Construction and Material Society to invite the Quint family to the rebuilding meeting tomorrow. Rudy and his family reacted bitterly as well.

“Father, the whole industry is saying that Roger Hilfinger got the support of the Lee family from Sunrise City and he had partnered up with all the gangsters of the underworld to monopolize the business.

“The gangsters, other than Gold Tooth, will be the board members of the society. They sent their men to different construction sites to force them to purchase construction materials from them.

“Perfect World Group did not do anything to counter it and everyone was disappointed. They decided to succumb to the Hilfinger family’s coercion.” Master Quint sighed when he heard Rudy. “Are you saying the Construction and Material Society instigated Dan Niners to cause problems at our site?”

Chapter 99 Just Attend “Yes!”

Rudy nodded. “Perfect World Group can’t do anything about it. I think the Construction and Material Society is making a comeback!

“Now that the news of Darcy refusing to buy from the society and Dan Niners and his men working at our construction site has gotten out, the society would probably be embarrassed. This meeting would probably make us the common target.”

Everyone in the family panicked.

All the other families agreed to the Construction and Material Society’s terms except for the Quint family. Darcy was the person in charge of Passion Fragrance District and she was still trying to resist.

If they attended the meeting tomorrow, Roger would definitely make an example out of them.

“Father, we can’t escape from this anymore. If we don’t attend, Roger Hilfinger will have an excuse to target us. The problem is who shall attend the meeting.”

Rudy then shot a gaze at his son, Samus.

Samus said, “Grandfather, our family is not going. You should send the one who is in charge of Passion Fragrance District.” “Yeah! Send Darcy! She’s the stubborn one! Let her make a fool of herself!” Deborah echoed.

In the past, Samus and Deborah were usually eager to attend a big event like this.

However, this meeting was obviously a dangerous one and the two of

LIGHT WIOcry an

LITC Coponsivity Daily.

Thén, Darcy and her parents arrived.

“Darcy, the meeting for the new Construction and Material Society is tomorrow. You are to attend as a representative of Quintessential Group.”

“Grandfather, can someone else go?”

Darcy's face turned pale as she heard her grandfather asking her to attend.

She had constant nightmares about Henry trying to rape her and it just haunted her last night. She dared not attend the meeting.

Roger Hilfinger must resent her!

However, the Quint family had no idea about Henry's incident.

In fact, only a handful of people knew about Henry's unfortunate castration.

After the news got out, Roger spent a fortune to cover the news, print and online. He even hired spammers to spread fake news to distract the public's attention.

Otherwise, the castration of Henry Hilfinger would make an explosive headline. "No. You are in charge of the construction site. Who else is more fitting than you?" Master Quint shoved the invitation into Darcy's hands.

Darcy's hands were shaking as if she was holding a burning iron.

"It's okay, Darcy. Just attend. Roger Hilfinger won't eat you Kaze consoled her. alive,"

Darcy nodded stiffly.

Deborah and Samus grinned.

Kaze was an idiot to think that the meeting was nothing serious.

Master Quint was happy to see Darcy's obedience.

Deep down, he was jealous.

"After the meeting tomorrow, the Hilfinger family would probably become a top-tier family in Lilyrose."

The Hilfinger family's current core business was built on a business department that Quintessential Group cut off many years ago.

In just a few years, the business grew so fast that it boosted the Hilfinger family to the first tier.

Now Roger had secured the support of the Lee family and also partnered up with the gang bosses of the underworld. He became the most powerful person in the underworld overnight.

The Hilfinger family would become top-tier after the meeting and was already a shared agreement among the other families in Lilyro

There were rumors about the major families attending the meeting tomorrow just to flatter Roger so they could build a stronger connection.

On the other hand, the Quint family that was once a top-tier family declined to second-tier and they continued to decline on a daily basis.

Everyone in the Quint family felt bitter at the thought of it. Master Quint looked at his second son, Hector, and sighed.

"If not for you, if not for the mistake you made and crossed someone that you shouldn't, our family wouldn't be in this situation now.

Chapter 100 Ten Thousand Men's Operation

Hector was in his wheelchair and remained silent at his father's scoldings.

The others also shifted the blame on Hector.

"Uncle Hector, if not for what you did back then, I would have already become one of the richest young men in the city! You really did drag us down!" Samus blurted his thoughts without qualms at the uncle that he respected the most when he was young.

Deborah said, "Uncle Hector, you and your daughter are the same. Stubborn as a rock. And she's going to drag us through the mud!"

"You and your family are trying to drag us all down!"

The other family members criticized Hector and vented their anger at him.

Hector, Agnes, and Darcy were petrified as they were attacked by the merciless criticism. a

The extended family had been waiting for this for a long time.

They had always wanted to blame Hector who ruined the comp.

Kaze felt terrible looking at his wife and in-laws being criticized ye unable to talk back.

He then said coldly, "Roger Hilfinger? I'll make him hand over his company willingly after the meeting tomorrow." His words shocked everyone in the room.

After a brief silence, everyone laughed at him.

"You? You stupid retard?"

"Retard! Have you won the lottery? What gave you confidence? The one billion that you won?"

"One billion is not enough. The Hilfinger family is growing into a top-tier family, they are going to have more than ten billion! Without ten billion, you can't buy out the Hilfinger's company."

"He's just talking shit, you really believe him? Ten billion, if he can fork out ten billion, that means he must have taken the money from the Monopoly board game!"

Kaze suddenly became the common target for criticism.

Master Quint was irritated by the sneers. He got annoyed and sent Darcy and her family out. "Darcy, Let's go home. Don't talk to this stupid guy."

Agnes glared at Kaze and got into the car, leaving him behind.

No one believed Kaze at all because it was outrageous.

[Kaze, you can go home on your own and better come in only after they've calmed down. Please don't talk nonsense to make them mad anymore.]

Kaze received a text from Darcy after the car drove off. He knew Darcy did not believe him as well but he did not bother to explain.

They would find out after the meeting tomorrow. He called Draco.

"Draco, call Shin and Don, and tell them to be prepared. Wait for my order during tomorrow's meeting at the Construction and Material Society. Other than that, I need a smaller group of combatants. Make it happen."

He wanted to prepare a big surprise for Roger during the meeting

Draco immediately nodded and told Kaze that he would join the operation together with Shin and Don. There would be ten thousand men ready for tomorrow's meeting.

"Boss, there's also a spec ops team in Lilyrose, named the Garo Spec Ops. There are three hundred of them. Is it enough?" Kaze nodded. "The numbers are satisfying. I wonder how they do during combat. Who is their commander?"

"Their commander is Koga Atlas. Similar to Shin, he is also a brigadier general. He came back alive from the foreign war and even participated in your special training. His codename, Lone Wolf. The men he trained are guaranteed to be good."

The codename rang a bell for Kaze. "If he served under me before, then tell him to meet me later." He did not say where because Draco would surely arrange for a proper meeting at a suitable place. After Kaze hung up the phone, Miru called him.

Why would Miru call him?

Surprised, he answered the phone.

“Kaze, I saved you yesterday. Shouldn't you at least buy me lunch?”
