

Guardian gods 176

Chapter 176:

This situation was a win-win situation for the demon as it got a stronger body but at the same time it also lost its identity as a full demon, which is why its situation is the same as Osita. Its new body came with a few limitations it hasn't completely gotten over yet which is why it grew out body doubles which can act on its benefit.

The demon Aska looked at the walls on its cave to see multiple incubative structures with each holding a Murloc demon "A new batch has to be grown, i still need a little more time to get fully adjusted with this body"

Laying down and holding the blessing in its hand, Aska muttered "I underestimated you this time demigods, next time it will be different. For now we both deserve a time off to recuperate from our damage"

On the Northern part of Nana, close to the battlefield where a battle took place between Björn and the silver kingdom. A red magic circle opened up where a tall female figure wearing a kimono appeared from, she can be seen floating above the ground with bat-like wings behind her.

Yuki looked at her position before the smell of decay and sound of flies caught her attention, Flapping her wings she flew up to take in the sight of the battlefield, her attention was mostly drawn to the huge ridges that stretched for miles only to stop where a mountain was cleaved in half.

"That must have been the goddess" She thought to herself before looking up to the moon, for some reason Yuki can't help but think she was probably already in the sight of the goddess so like a trained princess, she performed a bow and said "I will be staying here for a while your majesty, hope you don't mind"

Opening her hand, a map appeared where the circle was drawn showing Björn's kingdom, wasting no time Yuki flew off heading toward it. It took her about an hour to get to Björn territory and it took her another hour before she appeared in the sky above the main kingdom.

She noticed how empty the streets looked, she saw a few male and female shadows giggling while hiding from plain sight, and soon Yuki's ears twitched as she heard a loud cheering noise come from the huge building structure in this kingdom.

Frowning, Yuki followed the sound until she appeared close to the huge building structure she noticed was a colosseum. Flying closer to the colosseum, Yuki noticed how big and huge the building structure was.

From the sky, there were people who she couldn't really refer to as human, as they were all huge, easily her height with each having a distinct animal feature on them. From the amount of people she saw on the colosseum she probably can guess that half of the people in the kingdom were right there which was why the streets were empty.

Looking at the center of the colosseum, Yuki was met with the sight of different were beasts going at each other, the way they fought was beautiful and had a savagery to it. There was no formal way of fighting but they made it look formal as they used their instinct to tear at each other.

Yuki's eyesight moved when her eyes clashed with two of the humans looking at her with a frown on their faces. From their sitting position, dress and people surrounding them, Yuki could guess that they were the two generals of Björn that survived the war "Olaf and Finn"

Finn, who was holding a woman in one hand and a wine jug in the other, pushed both away as his bird-like eyes narrowed, capturing the full figure of Yuki, his hand went for his bow behind him as huge golden wings appeared behind his back.

With a swish that pushed everyone around back, Finn took up to the sky and soon appeared opposite of Yuki. Frowning Finn asked "Who are you?, are you with the silver kingdom?"

Seeing the serious Finn, a mischievous smile bloomed on Yuki face as she said "I am your new king and that is all that you need to know"

Yuki didn't even see when Finn drew his bow but all she saw was a flash of golden light headed for her to which she swerved her head to the right as an arrow went past her.

Holding his bow up with a newly formed arrow, Finn asked once again with seriousness on his face "Who are you?"

Yuki, still feeling mischievous, suddenly shivered as she felt her sight change. Looking away from Finn she looked down to the now quiet colosseum where she was met with a sight of glowing crazy animalistic eyes, each eyes conveying the emotion of tearing her into pieces.

Among all this was Olaf's figure that caught her attention as he was also clenching his axe looking right at her with a crazy eyes, Wiping off the mischievous smile on her face Yuki turned serious remembering the report she had on this kingdom and their way of life.

Her action till now, normally should have had her killed. "They are all like an animal, I already intruded on their territory and yet I still dare play in their face" Yuki thought to herself before raising her hand in defeat.

"My father and Your leader Björn are the same" Yuki said, hoping to calm the situation.

The arrow on Finn's hand grew brighter and the bloodlust on Yuki increased "Demon. I believe demons don't usually just talk or is friendly with each other"

Yuki frowned "Indeed, they don't but you should know that depends on the circumstances and i believe you will understand the circumstance after hearing me out"

Finn, mouth moved in a way that Yuki didn't understand before dispersing the arrow and putting down his bow, Yuki felt the bloodlust and sight on her disappear, but she felt the disappointment in those eyes as they looked away from her, Yuki's mouth twitched as she muttered to herself "They really are all crazy"

"Follow me" Finn said to Yuki as he flew away heading to a building close to the colosseum, Olaf on his seat at the colosseum saw that, stood up as he walked away to join them.

Soon all the three were now in a well decorated room with a large table between them, Both Olaf and Finn looked at Yuki who was now calmly drinking the tea made for her.

"Before I begin, do you all know what happened with your highness Björn?" Yuki asked to which both Finn and Olaf nodded.

"We do, we both know that he has ascended to godhood" Olaf said with a hand on his chin.

Yuki nodded "That makes this easy then. I am here to Inform you both that Björn is in danger right now and you two are the only one capable of helping him"

Both Finn and Olaf sat up right hearing that "What do you mean by that, how could he be in danger when he is already a god"

Yuki chuckled in her heart before seriously saying "Him being a god doesn't exempt him from danger, another god ascending can be a danger to him, even a mortal who figured out a way to challenge god is a danger to him or maybe even the origin gods"

Not giving them a chance to say anything, Yuki continued "His highness Björn didn't prepare his ascension cordially like he should and a good example of that is how your current kingdom is going on about your daily lives, you see ascended gods need something called faith energy to survive and get stronger. This faith energy is something that can only be delivered by the believers of the ascended gods"

To finish off her explanation, Yuki asked a question "Have any of you paid attention to the sky where his throne has been since his ascension?"

"We both have, everyday" Finn answered.

"Has there been any difference or change?" Yuki once again asked.

To that, both Olaf and Finn shook their heads. Yuki smiled before saying "Do you know why that is?"

Olaf spoke up "We have thought that he may have sustained some damage from the goddess during his ascension, leaving him to focus all his energy on healing but from your word we now have to think of the factor of him not having enough faith energy"

"I thought they were all brutes" Yuki thought to herself while outwardly still smiling "You are indeed right Olaf"

"His highness Björn, should have had enough energy from the war that should have converted into faith energy once he ascended but the goddess destroying his domain in the process expend a lot of this energy as instead focused on healing the damage so that he can successfully ascend. Now that he has ascended, he has no converted faith energy or any energy at all to act which is why his throne still hasn't showed no change"

"I would say that right now, His highness Björn is in a deep comatose state and hasn't fully comprehended his ascension" Yuki said as both Olaf and Finn frowned.