

THE GUARDIAN'S SWORD

Chapter 1481

Chapter 1481

“Brother Sean, I probably shouldn’t go...

“Tomorrow. I’ll go tomorrow.”

Caitlyn said and tried to close the car door.

“What are you saying?

“Get in the car. I’m taking you shopping for clothes.

“I’ve been busy lately. I don’t have time to show you around.”

Sean reached for Caitlyn’s hand and pulled her into the car.

“Alright...”

Caitlyn hesitated slightly but did not decline again.

She did not have to treat Sean like a stranger.

The car probably drove on for less than two kilometers.

Sean made Zander pull over at the roadside.

Zander was confused. Was Sean not taking Caitlyn shopping for clothes?

However, he would not ask questions and only followed orders when Sean was involved.

There was a spacious road in front of him. The streetlights on both sides of the road were also lit up.

Visibility was not a problem.

Sean got out of the car with Caitlyn, while Zander wisely stayed in the car and waited.

“Brother Sean, this is.....”

Caitlyn glanced around their surroundings and looked suspiciously at Sean.

A school was not far from them.

The school had existed for many years.

Sean and Caitlyn used to hang out here together when they were kids.

"I remember when we used to come here."

Sean smiled indifferently as he walked forward slowly.

"Yes, I remember."

Caitlyn followed Sean with a slight nod.

The memory of that time recurred to them at the same time.

When Sean and Caitlyn were young, they would come to this place every day like other children.

The difference was that those kids were here for school.

Sean and Caitlyn were here picking up empty water bottles discarded by the students around the school.

Sean vividly remembered the two of them leaning over the railing and looking inside the school.

It had a sports field with lush green grass and all sorts of sports facilities.

Sometimes, students in uniform could be seen raising the flag in the sports field.

However, the security guards at the school gate forcibly chased them away every time.

Everything in that school was new to them and was what they looked forward to.

May taught them how to read, but it was no match to school.

Therefore, the greatest desire during their childhood was to receive formal education like the students here.

Or perhaps they were more envious of the children picked up and dropped off by their parents. everyday.

However, they often came here when they were little, no matter what.

"Brother Sean, why did you suddenly bring me here?"

Caitlyn asked quietly, looking at the school in front of her.

It was dark inside the school.

There were only a few dim lights on the sports field.

"Do you remember our childhood dreams?"

Sean asked, standing with his hands behind his back in front of the railing and looking ahead.

“Of course, I remember!”

Caitlyn froze before smiling and looking at the distant school building.

“Do you remember what I used to brag about when we were little?”

Sean nodded gently before asking again.

“Brag? Brother Sean, I don’t think anything you say is bragging.”

Caitlyn froze before replying sternly.

“Haha!”

Sean laughed before tapping Caitlyn on the back of her head.

Caitlyn enjoyed Sean’s doting behavior.

“Brother Sean, I remember you saying starting a bigger school than theirs when you grow up and are capable.

“Then we will be the headmaster, and there will be no more security guards kicking us out.’ Caitlyn looked ahead and smiled as she recounted the story.

It was slightly childish and even left people not knowing whether to laugh or cry.

However, it was this childlike thought that left a deep impression on Caitlyn.

Caitlyn was simple, young, and as pure as the driven snow at the time.

She only accepted Sean, and Sean was all she wanted.

What you draw on snow was what you ended up with.

Sean said a lot of things and made a lot of vows to Caitlyn when they were little.

That included starting a school.

“Yeah, you remember.” novelbin

Sean smiled. It was what he was going to tell Caitlyn.

He had paid five billion dollars for the land in Campbell District.

All relevant procedures were completed during this time.

He had also completed the compensation contracts with the original residents of the area.

Everything was ready except one tiny crucial item.

Sean fought against Billion Trees Real Estate recently.

Therefore, there was only preliminary preparation work and no real construction.

Now that the thing with Billion Trees Real Estate was settled, Lennon Real Estate and Billion Trees Real Estate had merged into one company.

With Johnson and Zane's help, Sean decided it was time to get to work.

He would plan some housing around that area when the time came.

However, he could forget about the rest, but the orphanage was indispensable.

Hospitals and schools would be included.

Other developers wanted to make use of the land as much as possible.

Therefore, they would build as many high-rise buildings as they could.

They would narrow the space between the buildings as much as they could.

Sean's biggest idea in buying this land was to create a new home for Queen Children's Orphanage.

May would have it easier by then.

Therefore, Sean wanted to invite May and the rest to come over and be involved when they start tomorrow.

"I'll give you an address tomorrow.

"Go with Aunt May."

Sean checked the time before whispering.

"Hmm?"

Caitlyn paused slightly before coming to himself.

"Oh, yes. You don't need the address.

"I'll have Zander pick you up tomorrow."

Sean thought for a moment before adding with a smile.

"Brother Sean, what are we going to do?"

Caitlyn widened her eyes with curiosity.

"It's a surprise for you.

"I think you'll like it very much."

Sean turned to look at Caitlyn and said with a smile.

Chapter 1482

Chapter 1482

"Surprise? What kind of surprise?"

Caitlyn blinked, unable to hide her curiosity.

"It's not a surprise if I tell you."

Sean smiled and kept Caitlyn in suspense.

"Oh, Brother Sean, don't you know your sister has OCD?"

"It's immoral of you not to finish your sentences!"

Caitlyn reached for Sean's arm, half-angry and half-coquettish as she spoke.

Her clear eyes looked aggrieved, making it hard for others to refuse her

"I'm not telling you.

"You'll find out tomorrow after you reach the place."

Sean smiled and shook his head, still standing firm to his ground.

"Oh, the suspense is killing me."

Caitlyn pouted in frustration.

She knew Sean's character. There was no way he would tell her if he did not want to talk about

Therefore, she could only give up.

"I'll send Zander to pick you up tomorrow.

"Go there with Aunt May."

Sean slowly turned around and said as he looked at Caitlyn.

Sean was going to tell May and Caitlyn tomorrow that the land was the orphanage's future home.

The surroundings of the orphanage would be equipped with a school, hospital, and other amenities.

"Don't bother, Brother Sean.

“Aunt May and I probably don’t have time to go over.”

Caitlyn shook her head gently, knowing that the orphanage had so many children who could not live without them.

Zander had hired several caretakers to help them out.

However, there was no way May could trust her children with anyone else.

“I know

“But you’re going no matter what tomorrow.”

Sean nodded gently He knew what Caitlyn was thinking.

However, as the head of the orphanage, May had to attend the opening of the new orphanage.

Sean wanted to surprise them in person.

“Well...

“Alright then.”

Caitlyn hesitated for a few seconds before agreeing anyway.

After all, Sean knew about the orphanage’s condition.

He would not insist if it was not important

“But you don’t have to ask Zander to pick us up.

“You know Aunt May and I have a lot to do.

“So, we can’t confirm the time, and it’s not good to keep Zander waiting too long.

“When we’re done, give us the location, and we’ll take the bus there

“Joules Town has a wide range of bus routes, so it’s easy to get anywhere.

Caitlyn looked at Sean and said.

Having lived without her parents since childhood, Caitlyn had developed the character of not bothering others whenever she could.

“Silly girl.”

Sean reached out and rubbed the back of Caitlyn’s head.

“Let’s wait till you’re done then.

“Let me know when you’re done, and I’ll send Zander to pick you up.

“It’s probably around half past eight.”

Sean thought for a moment before saying to Caitlyn.

“Okay! Got it.” novelbin

Caitlyn nodded sweetly and agreed with a smile.

“Come on.

“Let’s shop for clothes.”

Sean turned around and retraced his steps.

“Brother Sean, let’s not waste money...

“Aunt May told me not to let you spend any more money...

Caitlyn hesitated for two seconds before saying sheepishly.

After all, Sean had been spending a lot of money on them since he got back.

Besides the supplies he sent to the orphanage, Sean also bought Caitlyn a house.

Sean hired the orphanage’s security guards and caretakers.

It made May and Caitlyn slightly uncomfortable.

It was not that they wanted to be polite to Sean but they knew he had just retired from the army.

Even if he had some money, he should not spend it like that!

“The last thing your brother needs is money.

“Come on. Let’s also buy Aunt May some outfits.”

Sean smiled and stepped into the car.

Tomorrow marked the start of the construction at Campbell District.

As Sean’s family, May and Caitlyn should not dress too shabbily for such an important occasion.

Sean did not care about external factors.

However, he was now chairman of Lennon Group after all.

He should pay attention to their image.

“Alright...”

Caitlyn nodded gently and followed in Sean’s footsteps.

Sean walked slowly ahead under the streetlamp, his shadow stretching long across the ground.

With her hands behind her back, Caitlyn stepped on Sean's shadow one step at a time. The way she had her hands behind her back as she trotted earnestly was amusing.

However, Caitlyn was earnest. Whenever Sean took a step, she trotted a step too. "By the way..."

Suddenly, Sean remembered something, stopped abruptly, and turned around. Bang!

The next second, Caitlyn bumped into Sean's chest.

"Ah... It hurts..."

Caitlyn covered her nose with her hand, tears welling up in her eyes.

Chapter 1483

Chapter 1483

"You..." novelbin

Sean looked dumbfounded.

"You... It's all your fault..."

Caitlyn's little nose ached, and she rubbed it gently.

She did not expect Sean to stop suddenly!

She kept her head down as she followed in Sean's footsteps.

However, Sean unexpectedly stopped, and Caitlyn bumped straight into him as she failed to stop.

"How can you take care of the children if you can't even take good care of yourself?"

Sean asked, rubbing Caitlyn's nose and shaking his head.

"It's different, okay?"

"I'm also a kid in front of you."

Caitlyn shook her head and replied righteously.

"Yes, yes, yes. You're right."

Sean shook his head helplessly and turned around to walk on.

“Brother Sean...

“Hehe...”

Caitlyn giggled before catching up and grabbing Sean’s arm.

Sean tried to withdraw his arm.

No girl other than Willow had ever been so intimate with him.

However, seeing Caitlyn’s innocent eyes, Sean did not have the heart to do it after all.

Sean liked his sister with all his heart.

The two have lived together at the orphanage for as long as they could remember.

Both have no parents, so they accompanied each other and depended on each other since they could remember.

May was kind to them and did her best to take care of them.

However, adults and children’s worlds were different.

Speaking of which, Sean and Caitlyn had the deepest bond.

Of course, the affection was limited to brother and sister to Sean.

“Brother Sean, you don’t know...

“I cried so hard after you left. Aunt May said my pillow was never dry...”

Caitlyn murmured suddenly as she looked at the street lamp.

“I’m back now, aren’t I?”

Sean paused before replying with a smile.

“Yes...

“It’s good to have you here.”

Caitlyn nodded heavily and held Sean’s arm a little tighter.

She pressed it close to her arms.

Caitlyn looked at the road ahead, thinking about something. Only she knew that she wanted the road to be a little longer...

That way, she could take Sean’s arm and walk a little longer.

Vroom vroom!

Just then, Zander came to pick them up in a car.

Caitlyn blushed and quickly let go of Sean's arm.

They got in the car and left.

Soon.

Sean, Zander, and Caitlyn arrived in the nearby downtown area.

It was not far from the orphanage. It was a 20-minute walk at most.

However, it used to be out of reach to Sean and Caitlyn.

It was because there was a residential area between the orphanage and the downtown area.

That residential area was called the wealthy area.

The properties here were expensive. Those who could afford to live in them were either rich or noble.

The orphanage was like a gulf, separating the orphanage and its neighbors from the busy. downtown area.

"Brother, the clothes here are overpriced!"

Caitlyn felt timid as she got out of the car and looked at the bustling scene ahead.

In Caitlyn's opinion, the street stands selling clothes at a flea market were the way to go.

"Why do you keep thinking your brother is poor?"

Sean was helpless as he looked at Caitlyn and asked.

"I don't..."

"It's just that. I'm a little uncomfortable wearing expensive clothes."

Caitlyn turned to look at the neon signs in front of her, still unsure.

"Ahem..."

Sean could not help bursting into laughter when he heard that.

He had once felt the same way as Caitlyn.

Therefore, rather than saying he was nonchalant about his physical appearance, Sean was actually never used to that lifestyle.

When a person was used to wearing cheap clothes with the most expensive costing a little over 100 dollars, anyone would feel unaccustomed when they suddenly switched to clothes costing thousands and tens of thousands of dollars.

“Wear it a few times, and you’ll get used to it.

‘You’re going to a very important occasion tomorrow, and you mustn’t embarrass me.

Sean looked at Caitlyn and deliberately put on a straight face as he spoke.

“Oh, is that so?

“Al... Alright then.”

Caitlyn quickly nodded at this.

After all, it did not matter to her, but she took it very seriously when it came to Sean.

Sean said nothing but walked on.

He had always taken pity on Caitlyn.

When she was a child, she regarded Sean as her family member and depended on him. She accompanied him every day as she grew up.

However, Sean later left the orphanage to join the army, and it was like abandoning Caitlyn

Being abandoned by the person you trusted and depended on the most, anyone would be upset

Therefore, Sean earnestly wanted to make it up to Caitlyn.

“How bustling. It’s so bustling at night.

‘Don’t they have to sleep and go to work the next day.

Caitlyn followed Sean’s steps closely as she looked around.

Chapter 1484

Chapter 1484 novelbin

The decorations on both sides of the street were magnificent.

There were many customers at the upscale store.

These storefronts were so upscale that poor people would retreat from them at a glance.

Caitlyn would have turned away after taking a glance.

Having Sean with her today gave her a lot of confidence.

However, it was only a matter of daring to look twice.

There was a saying that no one dared spend lavishly when they were penniless.

Therefore, Caitlyn dared not shop here even though it was not far away from the bustling business district.

In her opinion, shopping meant going to the street stall to pick up some cheap clothes.

Or going to the market with May to buy groceries.

That was Caitlyn's definition of shopping.

"Look around and choose whatever you like.

"I'll pay for all your purchases today."

Sean glanced at Caitlyn and said half-jokingly.

"Haha, I won't hold back then!"

Caitlyn paused, laughed, and walked merrily forward.

There were stalls on both sides of the street, selling little whatnot.

However, even if it were roadside stalls, its items were much more exquisite, and its price was much more expensive than those other street stall items outside.

"Slow down."

Sean called out to Caitlyn from behind.

Caitlyn moved through the crowd ahead like a child.

"Got it!"

Caitlyn replied before walking on.

"Commander."

Zander, who was in the back, took a few quick steps and walked to Sean's side.

"What's the matter?"

Sean replied, never taking his eyes off Caitlyn.

“She’s a good girl.”

Zander said with a quiet sigh, still looking ahead.

“You found out?”

Sean smiled at the words.

“Yeah...

“She didn’t have to make it so tiring, hard, and... poor...”

Zander nodded gently with emotion and admiration in his tone.

Sean understood what Zander meant and nodded.

Not many girls of Caitlyn’s age would make life too hard for themselves.

It did not matter if they did not come from a wealthy family. It would be easy for girls to get money and have a good life if they wanted it.

Besides that, with Caitlyn’s looks, she could easily have had a privileged life.

When it came to looks, Caitlyn was one in a million.

Her delicate features were beautiful yet adorable.

She was a little short, but it made her look more delicate and cuter.

With her beauty, she would have no problem finding a rich boyfriend.

For example, Wes Jordan, who Sean had met earlier, had madly pursued Caitlyn before. Caitlyn could get designer clothes, bags, and all kinds of luxury goods as long as she a nod.

gave him

However, Caitlyn did not give in. She stuck to herself and willingly stayed in the orphanage She took care of dozens of children like a nanny.

Besides that, she was a nanny who did not get any pay.

Even if Caitlyn did not want a rich boyfriend, she had no problems leaving the orphanage to find a job and support herself.

However, she did not go anywhere and stayed at the orphanage for the children and May.

“The little girl is silly

“She’s too kind.”

Sean nodded gently with the same admiration in his tone.

"I just don't understand why she would do this..."

Zander asked with a cough after glancing at Sean.

"The orphanage raised her, and she's giving thanks in her way."

Sean paused and said what was on his mind.

"Commander, I think she was... waiting for you..."

Zander coughed again before saying quietly.

"Waiting for me?"

Sean froze at this.

"Yes, she was waiting for you.

"She rejected any rich suitors for you.

"She didn't leave the orphanage to live alone because she's afraid you will come back one day and can't find her. "

Zander nodded gently and said earnestly.

As the saying went, onlookers knew better than those involved.

Sean was involved, so maybe he did not see it that well.

However, Zander noticed.

Zander also noticed Caitlyn's feelings for Sean.

"Well... Yeah, I'm her brother.

"We grew up..."

Sean was silent for a few seconds before trying to explain.

"Commander..."

"She feels more for you than what you call brother and sister..."

Zander took over the conversation and said again.

Sean instantly fell silent.

He had thought of Caitlyn as a sister all this time.

Even though he had other ideas sometimes, Sean did not overthink.

Whether he was deliberately avoiding it or did not have such ideas, what Zander had just said.

seemed to have exposed something.

Sean did not want to expose it.

“Stop it.

“Willow’s all I want for the rest of my life.

“I only think of Caitlyn as a sister.”

Sean frowned slightly and said to Zander

“Yes...”

Seeing Sean frown, Zander lowered his head and said yes.

He dared not say anything upsetting after Sean got angry.

“Brother Sean, hurry Hurry over!”

Just then, Caitlyn waved her hands to Sean.

“Coming.”

Sean paused for a moment before walking toward Caitlyn.

However, what Caitlyn did not notice was that Sean’s gaze looked a little complicated.

Some things could be regarded as nothing if no one brought them up.

However, a lot of things changed once it was brought up.

Sean suddenly wondered if he had done something wrong.

He saw Caitlyn as a sister.

However, what if Caitlyn got the wrong idea about the way they got along?

If Sean left Joules Town and left Caitlyn here alone, would it not make her feel worse?

Nothing hurt more than giving hope and then disappointment.

With that in mind, Sean decided to talk it out with Caitlyn.

Chapter 1485

Chapter 1485

“Catie.”

Sean called softly as he reached Caitlyn.

“Hmm? What’s the matter, Brother Sean?”

Caitlyn asked, turning her head to Sean.

Sean locked eyes with Caitlyn, and his mouth moved.

He wanted to say something, but he had no idea how.

Should he tell Caitlyn not to like him, and it was never happening between them?

There was no way Sean would say that.

If Caitlyn did not feel that way about Sean, it would be awkward for both of them.

Therefore, Sean and Caitlyn looked at each other for ten seconds but could not utter a single word.

“Brother Sean, what’s come over you?”

Caitlyn held out her little hand and waved it in front of Sean’s eyes.

“No...

“I only think it’s time for you to find a boyfriend.”

Sean touched the tip of his nose and replied in a hurry.

He wanted to sound out Caitlyn first.

“Tsk! I don’t want one.

“I’m going to stay at the orphanage and help Aunt May.

“Besides, Aunt May said someone must take over when she’s old and can’t move.”

Caitlyn shook her head. She could not stand to see the orphanage children homeless.

However, as long as she was around, she would provide a haven for those children.

Even if it were not home and in poor condition, at least she would not leave them cold and hungry.

“Well, you can’t spend your entire life without a boyfriend, can you?

Sean paused before whispering in reply.

“Brother Sean, people like me don’t deserve partners.

"I owe my life to the orphanage and Aunt May.

"If Aunt May hadn't taken me in, I wouldn't have existed.

"The orphanage gave me everything I own, so my priority after I grew up is to repay the orphanage.

"I have no time to think about anything else."

Caitlyn looked at Sean sternly.

After looking at each other for a few seconds, Caitlyn shook her head and smiled again.

"There's no way I'll leave the orphanage.

"Whoever is with me has to carry the burden of the orphanage with me.

"Tell me, who would be so stupid as to stay with me?"

Caitlyn replied with a smile before Sean could say anything.

Although she spoke nonchalantly, there was sadness in her eyes.

After all, she was young. Young people had young lifestyles.

However, the products of youths, luxury goods, bars, and other entertainment had nothing to do with her.

"Well..."

Sean scratched his head, unable to speak.

"Oh, Brother Sean, don't worry about me!

"I have a crush."

Caitlyn was silent for two seconds before saying suddenly.

"Is that so? Really?" novelbin

Sean was stunned. He had not thought of that.

"Of course it's true. Would I lie to you about such a thing?"

Caitlyn nodded and looked at Sean seriously.

"Whew! That's good."

Sean exhaled gently.

Caitlyn already had someone she liked, so he did not have to worry about Caitlyn having any special feelings for him.

However, for some reason, Sean's relief was mixed with some sadness.

Sean did not know where the sadness came from. Maybe it was just the inevitable feeling a brother got when his sister had a boyfriend.

It was like how a father felt when he saw his daughter get married.

"That's good? Brother Sean, what are you talking about?"

Caitlyn asked, frowning slightly and looking at Sean.

"Nothing.

"Let me meet him sometime.

"I'll have to check out your boyfriend."

Sean shook his head and looked at Caitlyn with a smile.

Instead of smiling, Caitlyn looked at Sean with mixed feelings.

"He... I don't know if he likes me.

Caitlyn was silent for a few seconds before looking away.

"Is he a fool?"

"My sister is gentle, adorable, and kind.

"He's lucky that you like him. How dare he not like my sister?"

"Unless he's a fool."

Sean curled his lip as he spoke half-jokingly.

"What if he's a fool..."

Caitlyn lowered her head slightly and said casually.

"Then stop liking a fool like him. Get another one."

Sean shook his head and said solemnly.

"You don't understand women!"

Caitlyn was speechless before turning around and walking forward.

"What... What do you mean?"

The usually calm Sean was a little confused at this time.

Zander behind him shook his head and sighed.

He did not expect the invincible and clever nine-star commander, Sean Lennon, to be so ignorant when it came to romantic relationships.

Caitlyn's hints were so obvious. Did he not understand?

Chapter 1487

Chapter 1487

"Tsk, you're bragging!

"Only a fool will believe that."

Caitlyn replied, shaking her head.

She trusted Sean, but she did not believe this.

Sean had only been back in Joules Town for a few days. How would he have time to start a big business?

With so little time, he probably did not even have time to get a business license.

"Silly girl."

Sean shook his head with a smile and did not explain much. novelbin

Caitlyn and May had been so busy with the orphanage that they never cared for the outside world.

Therefore, not knowing about Lennon Real Estate was also given.

However, they would know everything by tomorrow.

They would also have an idea of what Sean was capable of now.

"Welcome to Nelsa."

As soon as they entered the store, someone came over to greet them warmly.

"Thank you..."

Caitlyn blushed and thanked her quickly.

She was not used to such an occasion.

"You're welcome, Miss.

"Come with me, please. We have professional stylists here.

"We'll choose the most suitable outfit according to your figure and skin tone."

The store assistant led the way politely.

There were not many people in the whole store except several store assistants.

However, even if there were only a few customers, their turnover was more than those street stalls selling out 100 pieces if all of the store's products were sold.

Some clothes were so expensive that you would wonder if the fabric was made of gold.

However, someone would always buy it no matter how expensive it was.

Besides, many people flocked to an international brand like Nelsa.

"Brother Sean, the store assistants here are so beautiful!

"They provide good service too..."

Caitlyn was beside Sean, whispering in admiration.

Sean chuckled when he heard that

Any clothing item here cost thousands or tens of thousands of dollars. Who would patronize them if they had a bad attitude?

Besides, the people who would patronize a shop like this were those who did not lack money.

The store assistants would not randomly offend the rich.

"Just take a look.

"Give it a try if you see something you like."

Sean prepared to walk forward as he led Caitlyn.

"Mr. Lennon, there's a phone call for you.

"It's from Jeffrey."

Just then, Zander called out to Sean at the door.

Sean turned around to see Zander pointing to his phone.

"Okay."

Sean nodded.

Jeffrey would not just call if nothing happened.

It would be something important if he called.

Therefore, he would answer the call.

“Catie, look around first.

“Take whatever you like. I’ll come back to pay for them later.”

Sean said and turned around to walk out of the store.

“Hey...”

Caitlyn froze, wanting to follow Sean outside.

“Miss, please come with me and let our stylists help you choose.”

The store assistant nearby smiled at Caitlyn and said politely.

“Ah, well...”

“I’d better wait for my brother.”

Caitlyn glanced around the shop and hesitated.

She was more confident when Sean was around.

She would never walk into a fancy store like this without Sean.

“Miss, it’s okay.

“Even if you don’t buy any clothes here, Nelsa can design and match outfits for you for free.”

The store assistant saw Caitlyn’s nervousness and quickly said with a chuckle.

After all, as a senior store assistant, having an eye for people was essential.

When customers walked into the store, they could judge the chances of a sale just by their first impression of the customers.

They could also tell at a glance whether the customers had money.

It was obvious that Caitlyn, who was in her pajamas, had no money.

However, the store assistant could tell from Sean’s temperament that he was no ordinary person.

It was why they were so polite to Caitlyn.

“Al-Alright...”

Seeing the store assistant so enthusiastic, Caitlyn could not reject her politely, so she could only follow the store assistant.

“Miss, these are seasonal clothes. See if there’s anything you like.”

The store assistant introduced to Caitlyn as they walked.

Caitlyn nodded slightly, confused as she looked at the dazzling array of clothes in front of her.

She was overjoyed at the same time.

After all, shopping for clothes was never tiring for girls.

It was just like how a thin girl, who usually lacked exercise, would be exhausted if you asked her to run 200 meters.

However, if you let her go shopping, she could walk ten kilometers all day without taking a break.

It was women's nature to shop and buy nice clothes.

The same went for Caitlyn.

However, her previous living conditions were so bad that she suppressed this instinct.

Looking at the dazzling array of beautiful clothes in front of her, she could not help feeling excited.

In particular, a light blue dress with floral embellishments delighted Caitlyn.

However, Caitlyn could not resist taking a look at the price tag and was instantly discouraged.

"Gosh! It's so expensive!"

Caitlyn's palms quivered as she looked at the label. Then she could not help crying in exclamation.

She was so shocked that she could hardly contain her voice.

Several nearby customers and store assistants looked this way.

Caitlyn blushed and quickly lowered her head like a child who had done something wrong.

She did not expect the clothes here to be so expensive.

Such clothes would probably cost less than 100 dollars on the street stalls outside.

Caitlyn had thought it would only be 200 or 300 dollars tops, no matter how expensive it was.

However, she had no idea that the dress cost more than five figures!

Was a dress costing tens of thousands of dollars not a joke?

Caitlyn never thought that a piece of clothing could sell for tens of thousands of dollars.

Was the dress made of gold?

Chapter 1488

Chapter 1488 novelbin

“Miss, the clothes here aren’t expensive...”

A store assistant sounded speechless.

They spent their days around clothes that cost tens of thousands of dollars.

They were used to them, so they thought the price was common.

However, Caitlyn still could not accept the price.

“Try it out if you like it.

“We have a sale today.”

The store assistant was friendly and did not look down upon her.

After all, such high-end stores would recruit professionally trained staff.

Although they could not rule out some bad quality employees, most employees were still professional.

Caitlyn looked at the dress again.

She liked the dress.

“How much is it after the discount?”

Caitlyn asked quietly after two seconds’ silence.

Before the store assistant could answer Caitlyn’s question, several expensively-dressed female customers smiled.

They only bought clothes based on their liking, not the price.

In other words, people who dared to walk into the store did not even need to ask the price.

Therefore, they were somewhat contemptuous of Caitlyn’s behavior.

They originally had no animosity toward Caitlyn.

However, in their opinion, Caitlyn had already humiliated them by coming to the store.

It was important to know your limitations.

She was poor, yet she came to such a high-end place.

Was she not bringing down the status of the wealthy?

Therefore, they were a little upset with Caitlyn but said nothing more.

“Miss, the dress you were looking at will cost somewhere between 8,000 and 9,000 dollars after the discount.”

The store assistant looked at the price tag, did some math, and said.

“It’s... It’s still too... Forget it. Let me have another look around.”

Caitlyn shook her head and prepared to leave.

“It’s okay, Miss. You can see it again if you have something you like.”

The store assistant remained polite. She was professional.

“How hilarious.

“What is she doing here if she can’t afford it?

“She should stay where she belongs.”

A female customer suddenly curled her lip and said

There was no concealing the pride and disdain on her face.

The girl looked about Caitlyn’s age, but her outfit was quite different from Caitlyn’s.

While Caitlyn wore cheap pajamas, the girl wore heavy makeup and was scantily clad. “You!”

Caitlyn turned sharply to look at the girl.

Caitlyn was not exactly delicate.

She was already an orphan. How would she survive the world if she was weak and easily picked on?

May taught them to be kind from an early age but only in moderation.

Therefore, Caitlyn had always been something of a prickly hedgehog.

She was poor but her ambition was not.

She would retaliate against those who deliberately bullied her.

However, Caitlyn admitted she chickened out today.

She felt a deep inferiority as she faced the fancy decor and clothes costing five figures.

The inferiority made her lose the courage to even talk back to the customer.

“What are you looking at?”

“Am I wrong?”

“Buy the dress if you refuse to accept it!”

“It’s not that I look down on you, but I’ll give you 50% off. Can you afford

The girl was all the more excited when she saw Caitlyn looking at her.

“It’s not like I’ve never met rich people.

“But I’ve never seen anyone so bad-mannered like you.”

5,000 dollars?”

Caitlyn gritted her teeth, feeling that the girl opposite her looked just like a nouveau riche.

She did not look like she was from a truly rich family at all.

Although Caitlyn did not come from a rich family, she often met successful people who came to do charity.

Most of them were calm and good-mannered.

They were nothing like the girl opposite her.

“Manners?”

“You’re talking to me about manners?”

“What a joke. Even if I have no manners, I’m a customer here. I’m their God!

“How about you? You have manners but can only leave empty-handed in shame, right?”

The girl got more heated as she spoke. She immediately put down the clothes she was holding and pointed behind Caitlyn as she shouted.

“Ruby, what’s going on?”

Just then, a pretty-looking girl came out of the dressing room.

The girl looked elegant in the designer clothes she just changed into.

A fancy women’s watch glimmered on her wrist.

Besides that, the various expensive accessories she wore highlighted her superiority.

“Sherry, are you done getting changed?”

“Nothing, there’s a bumpkin here.

“It’s alright that she wore her pajamas here. Even a dress costing a few thousand dollars after the discount is too expensive for her. Isn’t she just wasting the store assistant’s time?”

The girl called Ruby said as she curled her mouth.

“Really? Do such bumpkins exist? You’re killing me.’

The girl froze slightly before smiling and looking toward Caitlyn.

“Hey, Sherry Johnston?”

Caitlyn called out the girl’s name as soon as she saw her.

“Caitlyn?”

Sherry also froze, surprised to see Caitlyn here.

“Hmm? Do you know each other?”

Ruby was also stunned to see this. Then she asked with a slight cough.

She was a little embarrassed to learn that Sherry knew Caitlyn.

After all, if they were friends, what she said earlier would be a little inappropriate.

Moreover, the girl named Ruby was not rich. She only came to shop with Sherry

Sherry shopped for clothes while she helped by giving her comments.

“Yes, how can I not know her?”

“Remember that I told you about her? She’s Caitlyn Green.”

Sherry slowly withdrew her gaze before giving a meaningful smile

“Hmm? That’s her? She’s Caitlyn Green?”

“No wonder. I wondered how you would have a bumpkin as a friend.”

After hearing Sherry’s words, the embarrassment Ruby felt suddenly turned into more contempt. novelbin

Sherry had often complained about Caitlyn in front of Ruby.

“You...”

Caitlyn was happy to see Sherry.

After all, there were not many classmates from school that she kept in touch with.

Sean also knew Sherry.

Sherry was present at Caitlyn’s class reunion the last time.

Caitlyn and Sherry had a pretty good relationship.

Therefore, seeing Sherry’s appearance, Caitlyn happily wanted to come forward and say hello.

However, seeing Sherry’s expression and attitude, Caitlyn slowly stopped.

“Caitlyn, what are you doing here?”

“I heard you said clothes costing thousands of dollars are too expensive for you.”

Sherry glanced at Caitlyn with disdain and pride in her eyes.

She did have a good relationship with Caitlyn.

However, most women were competitive and jealous.

Sherry was extremely jealous.

Caitlyn’s life was not as good as hers, so she felt nothing.

However, Caitlyn’s jealousy erupted when she saw Caitlyn with a 20,000 dollar phone and a brother so rich.

Some people were like that. You could have a good life but not a better life than them.

Otherwise, they would turn on you in no time.

Sherry was such a person.

Therefore, she found a rich boyfriend within two days and had been enjoying her life lately

"I'm asking whether you could afford it

"Why don't I buy you one if you can't afford it?"

Sherry curled her lip and asked Caitlyn.

"I just don't like it "

Caitlyn paused before lowering her head and replying

"No way No way

"The clothes in Nelsa are made by internationally renowned designers.

"They keep up with the fashion trends and cater to young people's aesthetics, and said there's nothing you like?

you

"If you don't have money, say you don't have money Why pretend to be someone you're not?

Sherry said with a look of disdain as she folded her arms in front of her

"Yeah! Nelsa's clothes are of high quality and targeted at high society. It's not that expensive

Ruby praised the brand.

It was as if wearing clothes from this brand would make you a fairy

If she did not wear it, she would become a bumpkin to them.

"I don't have any money, and I've never borrowed any money from you."

Caitlyn glanced at Sherry and began to turn away.

"Well, don't you have a rich Brother Sean?

"Where's your Brother Sean? Is he not buying you clothes?

"He lets you walk around in your pajamas in the middle of the night.

"People would think you're in some special industry."

Sherry curled her lips, her face more disdainful.

It turned out she thought of Sean as a rich man.

However, Sherry's boyfriend was quite rich too.

Why would she care about Sean?

"Sherry, you're going too far!"

Caitlyn was angry at Sherry's insulting remarks.

"Too far? I don't think so.

"What about you getting a so-called rich boyfriend and showing off to us?

"Didn't he buy you a 20,000-dollar phone? He can spend 300,000 dollars on food, can't he?

"What's the matter? You can't even afford thousands of dollars worth of clothes. You can't pretend any longer?"

Sherry got more heated as she spoke. She started speaking without a filter in the end.

"You!"

Caitlyn pointed at Sherry and gritted her teeth angrily.

"Me? What's wrong with me?"

Sherry folded her arms in front of her chest, her face

"If smug. you can't speak nicely, shut up your worthless mouth.'

A slightly cold voice suddenly came from behind Caitlyn.

"Brother Sean..."

Caitlyn immediately turned to look at Sean.

A touch of grievance emanated from the depths of her eyes.

Caitlyn had always been tough in front of outsiders.

Even if she felt wronged, she would not show it.

However, she could not suppress her grievance in front of Sean.

"It's alright."

Sean ambled forward and patted Caitlyn on the back.

"Okay!"

Caitlyn nodded heavily and instantly felt more at ease.

Chapter 1490

"Sherry, who is he?"

Ruby looked at Sherry and asked as she curled her lip.

“He’s Caitlyn’s rich boyfriend.”

Sherry snorted, her face still disdainful.

Ruby turned around to look at Sean again.

“Haha, you call him rich?”

Ruby laughed after she looked, her face full of sarcasm.

Sean was in casual clothes-none of which were big brands. She called that rich?

As far as Sherry and the rest were concerned, wearing international luxury brands and a watch with a price of no less than six figures on the wrist was what they called rich.

Sean looked nothing like a rich man.

Therefore, Ruby curled her lip, thinking Sherry was only joking

Sherry also sneered with disdain.

Sean stole the limelight at the class reunion.

In the past, as the person with the worst condition and lowest status among her classmates, Caitlyn was a wallflower

However, the wallflower overshadowed everyone else because of Sean.

It upset Sherry.

Therefore, her attitude toward Caitlyn changed greatly

It was because Caitlyn was only a poor low-life to Sherry

Being kind to Caitlyn was like doing charity to her

Sherry and the rest loved doing charity.

It was as if they were kind.

However, Caitlyn no longer needed their charity

It naturally created a great sense of loss and disparity in their hearts.

It also instantly deteriorated their relationship, which had been good earlier.

“Sean, aren’t you rich?”

“What’s the matter? Caitlyn thought thousands of dollars for a dress was too expensive.

“You’re not faking to be rich, are you?”

Sherry curled her lip, her face full of sarcasm.

“Can’t I come here if I have no money?”

Sean asks indifferently, glancing at Sherry

“You can’t come here if you have no money.

“Don’t you know what you’re capable of? Why do you insist on coming here?

“Do you know the saying, ‘Don’t force your way into a circle you don’t belong to?’”

Sherry’s face was proud as she behaved high and mighty.

Ever since getting a rich boyfriend, Sherry’s vision and mindset had changed dramatically.

She was now contemptuous of friends she used to be close with.

She thought she should befriend heirs and heiresses.

People like Caitlyn did not deserve to be her friend.

“Do you own the shop?”

Sean frowned slightly as he glanced at Sherry.

“So what if it’s mine?

“You can’t come here if you have no money. Ask the clerk if you don’t believe me.”

Sherry chuckled and said as she turned to look at the store assistant.

Sean and Caitlyn also slowly turned to look at the store assistant nearby.

“Calm down, Miss...

“It’s not like you have to...”

The store assistant was going to say that not everyone had to purchase clothes just because they walked into their store.novelbin

However, Sherry interrupted with a cold snort as soon as she spoke.

“I’ll return all my clothes if I’m not satisfied.”

Sherry’s tone was not joking at all.

What she said made the store assistant shut up.

Sherry had already picked out several clothes just now.

Even without the one she was wearing, the ones already wrapped up were worth over thirty thousand dollars.

Although it was not a big deal, they could get a lot of commission!

Therefore, the store assistant was unwilling to stand up.

All she had to do was say one word to please Sherry, and she could get her commission.

Anyone should know how to choose.

It would offend Sean and Caitlyn.

However, the store assistant could tell that Caitlyn could not afford it.

Therefore, she did not hesitate to offend Sean for Sherry's deal.

"I'm asking you a question.

"Can we come here if we have no money?"

Sherry looked at the store assistant and asked again with a sneer.

"Ahem... Well...

"If your financial situation doesn't permit it, we don't recommend you spend money here..

"It's because our clothes here are of high quality, and the prices are quite different from those outside."

The store assistant was silent for two seconds, still trying to speak politely to Sean and Caitlyn. However, no matter how tactful she was, she was kicking them out!

"Hahaha! You went shopping for clothes and got kicked out because you had no money

"Caitlyn, you'll be a laughingstock for three years if our classmates find out."

Sherry could not help laughing when she saw this.

She even felt gleeful.

Caitlyn blushed slightly before grabbing Sean to leave.

Even the store assistant had asked them to leave.

Would they not make a fool of themselves if they stayed?

However, Sean stood still with a hint of amusement on his lips.

There was no game he liked more than competing to see who was richer.

It was because this game did not need any complicated planning. All he needed to do was do his best.

It did not need to be as complicated as dealing with Billion Trees Real Estate.

It was why he liked it.

“You can’t come without money. What if I have money?”

Sean looked at the store assistant and asked indifferently.

“Ahem, as long as you can buy more than three clothes in our store, you can become our esteemed VIP.”

The store assistant coughed gently and explained to Sean.

“Alright, don’t waste your time with him.

“Do you expect him to buy three pieces when he can’t afford one costing only thousands of dollars?

“If he can afford one, I’ll write my name backward!”

Sherry waved her hand and said impatiently.

“Well...”

The store assistant froze again.

“This row.

“And the clothes in that row.

“Wrap it all up and charge my card.”

However, the next moment, Sean whipped out a card and gently placed it on the counter.

What he said made everyone’s eyes pop.

“Brother Sean, have you lost your mind?

“Why did you buy so many?”

Caitlyn was the first to react as she grabbed Sean’s arm and asked.

“I bought them home for you to wear.

“I happen to be opening a clothing store recently. I’ll consider it as stocking up if you can’t wear them.”

Sean’s eyes were calm, his tone more nonchalant.
