

THE GUARDIAN'S SWORD

Chapter 1491

Chapter 1491

Sean was not joking when he said that.

He was indeed preparing a store for Caitlyn so that she could run a small business herself.

As for the matter of the orphanage, he would invite professional workers to go over later on so that May can get some rest.

Caitlyn would definitely feel embarrassed if Sean kept giving her flowers after all.

As the saying goes, it was better to teach a man how to fish rather than give him a fish.

If Sean gave Caitlyn a source of income, she would then be able to fully support herself in the future.

Caitlyn would be able to support herself when Sean leaves Joules Town in the future too.

“Ah, this is...”

Caitlyn was a little confused when she heard this.

Did Sean actually say he wanted to come to a store like this to buy goods?

Who even stocks up with branded goods? What with were they supposed to pay for them?

However, since Sean had said so, Caitlyn could do nothing but stay quiet.

She just could not help thinking to herself, would it not cost hundreds of thousands since one piece of clothing already costs tens of thousands? And Sean would be purchasing hundreds of thousands of pieces at once?

Spending hundreds of thousands on clothes was not something Caitlyn would ever dare think of even in her dreams!

“Uhm, sir...”

“What did you, just say?”

The shop assistant's eyes widened at this moment. She did not really dare believe her ears. "Please pack up these two rows of clothes.

"What's not to understand?"

Sean said indifferently as he pointed to the clothes to his right and left.

Whoosh!

The customers in the shop, including the shop assistants, looked over in unison.

What kind of joke was he on about?

Did people even buy clothes by the rows?

Did Sean think this was a cheap vegetable market?

A random piece of clothing from the Chanel store costs tens of thousands.

Was he really not joking?

It was not like the shopping assistants here never met rich people.

It was no longer rare to see someone buy five or six pieces of clothing at a time.

However, for someone like Sean, he was not simply just rich. He was truly ostentatious!

That aside, could Sean even go through so many clothes after buying them?

He was definitely a huge customer in the eyes of the shopping assistants as long as he could actually pay for them!

"Sean, why are you joking around?"

Sherry said to Sean with a frown.

"I think this is something absolutely normal. You think it's a joke though.

"Just how low is your self-esteem?"

Sean asked back calmly as he glanced at Sherry.

Did Sherry not like to make fun of people and their economic conditions?

It just so happened that Sean's economic condition allowed him to be this capricious.

"You! What are you bragging about?"

"Are you aware of the pricing of the clothes here?"

“Who are you to act all pretentious when you’re dressed so cheaply from head to toe?”

Sherry instantly yelled at Sean when his ridicule put her in an awkward position.

“Is there even a need to look at the price when buying clothes?”

“Do you think I’m poor like you?”

Caitlyn burst out laughing when Sean said this.

She had never realized before that Sean was this sharp when he verbally attacks someone.

In fact, Sean’s words were rather vicious!

Something that one found expensive yet he was not even interested in looking at the price.

How could one compete with that?

“Pack them up.”

Sean looked at the shop assistant and said again.

“Yes, yes, sir. I’ll have them wrapped up for you now.”

The shop assistant finally registered the situation. She immediately turned around and hurried away to pack up all of the clothes.

“Brother Sean, why did you just buy them without asking my size?”

Caitlyn took Sean’s arm and asked again.

“Miss, our clothes are specifically designed for young consumers.

“So, they’re all essentially one-size-fits-alls. They would also fit you better.”

The shop assistant hurriedly explained to Caitlyn when she heard her question.

“It doesn’t matter.

“If they don’t suit you, we can give them to the cleaning lady at the orphanage.”

Sean waved his hand, his tone extremely casual.

Whoosh!

Hearing this, the eyes of everyone in the store widened again.

Give them to the cleaning lady?

He was actually going to give clothes with a price tag worth tens of thousands to the cleaning lady?

Was this Sean person truly so wealthy and carefree?

As for Caitlyn, she was unable to say a word. She just nodded honestly

“What are you guys doing?”

“We’ll see what you’ll do when he can’t actually manage to fork out the money!”

Sherry rolled her eyes before shouting at the shop assistant.

“Uhm...”

The shop assistant was shocked. She subconsciously looked at Sean.

She had been over the moon just now that she had forgotten about this.

If Sean was messing with them and did not actually have enough money to pay them after she was done packing up the clothes, would this not be a waste of time?

“That’s right. There are a lot of people looking to impress others by feigning their wealth nowadays.

“He might claim later on that he has money just that he forgot his card at home or something.”

Ruby, who was beside Sherry, also added with a curl of her lips. The shop assistant’s movements halted when she heard this.

Chapter 1492

Chapter 1492

Considering this kind of thing had happened at their shop in the past

Someone once picked out several pieces of clothing and had them all packed up.

In the end, when the time came to pay the bill, the customer said they forgot to bring their wallet and they ended up wasting a lot of time.

“Here’s my card.

“Swipe it.”

Sean gestured to the bank card he took out just now with his chin and said calmly.

“Uhm, yes. My apologies, sir. Let me tally the bill for you first.”

The shop assistant was a little embarrassed and grabbed the calculator

Sean nodded slightly before taking a seat on the sofa to the side to wait.

“You’re still pretending! Let’s see how long you can keep this act up!

“You’re just a stinking soldier.”

Sherry folded her arms, her face filled with disdain.

It was not as she was not aware of Sean’s identity.

They had heard from Caitlyn many times before that her brother Sean became a soldier who defended his home and country when he went off to the army.

Sherry truly did not believe that a veteran like Sean could have such enormous financial resources.

That was why she was so sure that Sean would definitely make a fool out of himself today.

The shop assistant held the calculator in her hand tapping away as she quickly calculated the total price.

“Sir, these clothes are worth 326,800 in total.

“It’s 290,000 dollars after the discount.

“A detailed listing of the prices will be displayed on the receipt later. You can look...”

The shop assistant slowly turned to look at Sean after she calculated the price.

She also could not help but be rendered slightly speechless when she stated the price out loud.

One order selling for 300,000 dollars was too terrifying!

This was the first time in her two years in the industry encountering such a huge client.

“Why does it cost this much?

“Didn’t you say the discount for that piece would be seven or eight thousand before??

Caitlyn could not help her eyes widening when she heard this.

Two hundred and ninety thousand!

Spending two hundred and ninety thousand on clothing. Caitlyn would not even dare to have dreamt of this!

“Miss, the price of the clothes isn’t fixed...

“Like this one. This is designed by the chief designer of our brand. The fabrics used are also very rare.

“We have less than five of this piece in our shop and there are probably slightly over a hundred pieces only in the entirety of Joules Town. Just one of these costs 36800 dollars.”

The shop assistant explained to Caitlyn patiently as she held up the clothing.

“This is...”

Caitlyn’s mouth moved but still, she said nothing in the end.

Many times did poverty truly limit one’s imagination.

Back then, Caitlyn would never have been able to imagine that an LV bag would cost tens of thousands. Even a belt fetched for tens of thousands.

Fortunately, however, she was no longer poverty-stricken like before now that Sean was helping her out.

“Swipe the card.

“The PIN is six Os.”

Sean picked up the bank card and handed it to the shop assistant.

“Uhm, yes. Okay!”

The shop assistant was stunned before she quickly brought the credit card machine.

“Sherry, could he really be able to fork out that amount?”

Ruby had been stunned for two seconds before whispering to Sherry.

“How is that possible?”

“It’s 290,000. He’s just a lousy veteran.”

Sherry pursed her lips. She did not believe at all that Sean would be able to fork out that amount of money.

“Didn’t you say before that you spent nearly 300,000 dollars dining at a hotel?”

“Was this the Sean who was going to pay that bill?”

Ruby paused and then asked again.

“Hmph! He didn’t even pay the bill in the end.

“He didn’t actually even spend that much money at all that day. He knew the manager, so he just put on a show.

“He had settled the bill quietly. It was probably only some ten thousand dollars. He then got the manager to go along with him just to make Young Master Jordan look bad.”

Sherry curled her lips. She only understood this later.

“So I see. This is what actually happened!”

Ruby also nodded when she heard this.

It looked like Sean was indeed someone who was just trying to impress others by feigning his capabilities.

He definitely would not be able to afford all these clothes worth two hundred and ninety thousand.

Beep! Beep!

Under the watchful gazes of multiple individuals, the shop assistant picked up Sean’s credit card and started scanning it.

After a moment’s operation, the deduction went through. The receipt was also slowly being printed out as well.

The shop assistant was stunned at this moment along with all the other customers in the store. Pin-drop silence filled the store with only the sound of the receipt printing sounding clearly.

“S-Sherry...”

“It seems that the transaction was successful...”

Ruby’s eyes widened and her heart was beating faster and faster.

Hiss!

Sherry’s eyes had also widened to the max then as emotion filled them.

She swore just now that Sean would not be able to spend so much money.

However, the receipt for the successful transaction was like a hard, resounding slap across her face now.

Two hundred and ninety thousand deducted just like this?

Sean really just spent close to three hundred thousand taking Caitlyn out to buy clothes?

Everyone in the store felt like they were dreaming at this moment.

They could not believe their eyes but before them, was a reality that they could not shrug off!

Chapter 1493

Chapter 1493

“S-Sir...”

Eyes wide, the shop assistant slowly turned to look at Sean, her actions stilted.

She also did not think that the deduction would be successful.

“What is it?”

Sean looked at the shop assistant and asked.

“N-n-no-nothing...”

“Sir, this is your card. May I have your last name?”

“I could arrange for you a distinguished VIP membership card.”

The shop assistant was rambling for the moment.

Sean was not interested in applying for a card at first, but after glancing at Caitlyn, he changed his mind.

“Go ahead.”

“Put down her name and contact.”

Sean pulled Caitlyn over and said lightly.

“Ah, me... Alright then!”

Caitlyn was stunned for a second but still nodded and agreed in the end.

“Okay, okay. Miss, please follow me.”

The shop assistant immediately led Caitlyn away to get her a VIP card.

As for the other shop assistants, they gathered around one after another to help pack up Sean’s clothes.

They definitely had to flatter and provide for a huge customer like this.

“What are you looking at?”

“Do you not have to money to settle the bill?”

Sean slowly turned his head and glanced at Sherry when he asked that.

“You! Who says I don’t have money?”

“Get me the bill!!!”

Sherry gritted her teeth and then went toward the counter as well.

She was indeed beyond surprised at Sean spending three hundred thousand dollars.

However, a surprise it may be, it was still not enough to get her to bow down.

“Help me settle my bill first!”

Sherry came to the counter and said in a rude and unreasonable manner.

“Miss, please wait a moment. We will be done here soon.

The shop assistant hurriedly faced Sherry and explained softly.

“Did you not understand what I said?”

“They’re just a platinum member. My boyfriend has a diamond VIP card here.

“Look it up. His number is 186...”

Sherry snorted coldly and began reciting a series of numbers.

“Diamond VIP?”

A few of the shop assistants in the store were also stunned when they heard Sherry say this.

Sean immediately reached platinum VIP membership after spending three hundred thousand today.

However, for a Diamond VIP, one would have to spend an accumulation of more than five hundred thousand in the store to reach that level!

Moreover, diamond VIPs did indeed enjoy better privileges. They were far more valued by the store than platinum VIPs.

Hence, if Sherry could fish out her diamond VIP, the shop assistants would then only be able to leave Caitlyn to one side first.

Click, click, click!

The shop assistant moved quickly and tapped the keyboard a few times. Indeed, she was truly a diamond VIP.

Moreover, the boyfriend that Sherry spoke of was no stranger to the assistants in the store.

The man was a famous playboy and often brought different women to the store to buy clothes.

Sherry Johnston was just one of the many.

Regardless however, since Sherry was about to provide the account number and password, they had to treat her like a diamond customer.

“My apologies, Miss Johnston. This...”

The shop assistant looked troubled as she glanced at Caitlyn.

“It’s okay. I’m not in a hurry.”

Caitlyn nodded lightly. She did not wish to trouble the shop assistant.

“Leave her alone.

“Do you not understand ‘first come, first served’?”

Sean strode over. He would not allow Caitlyn to be wronged in front of Sherry.

“Sir, I’m really sorry but...”

“We have regulations at our store. Diamond VIPs have privileges. We dare not break them either...”

“Please, don’t worry. We will be done with this lady soon.”

The shop assistant first apologized to Sean before hurriedly explaining.

“Ah, I suddenly noticed that this dress looks pretty good. Why don’t I go try it on again?”

“You guys can just wait for another half an hour then. Haha!”

Sherry looked absolutely smug then.

So what if you could come up with three hundred thousand dollars?

Should he not step back in the presence of a diamond VIP?

“What are the VIP levels above diamond?”

Sean glanced at Sherry before then looking away and asking.

“If it’s higher than diamond, they would be...”

Just when the shop assistant was about to answer him, Sean immediately interrupted them.

“There’s no need to mention them.

“Just give me the highest.”

Sean cut them off with a wave of his hand. His tone was calm but also extremely domineering.

Whoosh!

Everyone looked at Sean once again.

“Sir, the VIP rank upgrade is based on total spending or the amount of a single top-up.

“You need to spend more than 800,000 in the store, or top-up 1 million at a time to be a supreme VIP...”

The shop assistant shook her head slightly before then explaining to Sean.

“Top-up one million then.

“Swipe the card.”

Sean placed the bank card on the table again without a single ounce of hesitation.

“What?”

At this moment, everyone was stunned.

If three hundred thousand was nothing, one million was definitely not a small number!

Just how loaded was Sean that he was not even hesitant to top-up a million?

“Sir, are, are you sure?”

The speed of the shop assistant’s heart was also reaching its highest at this point.

She had initially thought about how she would already be getting quite some commission from a three hundred thousand dollar transaction in one single day.

She did not expect this bulk to be following behind.

If Sean were to top-up the card with one million, she would definitely then get a whole lot more in commission!

“Do it.”

Sean nodded lightly.

“Alright, okay. I’ll handle it for you.”

The shop assistant quickly accepted the bank card and swiped the card again.

This time, everyone present including Caitlyn, watched this scene with bated breath.

It might not be a big deal for Sean to fork out three hundred thousand dollars.

Since many families were actually able to come up with three hundred thousand dollars.

Not many families could come up with one million, however!

For example, the customers in the store at this moment would never be able to fish out one. million in cash regardless of the clothes they bought being tens of thousands of dollars.

Whirr...

A payment receipt was slowly being printed out from the card reader again in the next second. Everyone’s hearts almost stopped beating at this moment.

One million, one million dollars!

Sean had actually been able to fork it out.

Moreover, the million was just for a card at a clothing store!

This, just what was this?

Just what was the net worth of a person who was able to spend one million on a card in a clothing store?

Everyone was so shocked they were speechless.

The crowd was dead silent.

Sherry lowered her proud head completely this time.

Chapter 1494

Chapter 1494

Three hundred thousand might not scare Sherry.

However, who would not be stunned after someone came up and directly forked out a million dollars to apply for a card?

Regardless, Sherry and Ruby were both extremely perplexed and shocked at the moment.

Caitlyn, on the other hand, was not so surprised.

She had, after all, seen Sean buy two houses worth several million in full with her own two eyes.

She did not know how much money Sean had, but one million was probably nothing.

“Mr-Mr. Lennon, your card...”

“Ah, also, here is your supreme VIP card...”

The shop assistant’s hand was trembling slightly when she reached her hand out to pass two cards to Sean.

the

This was her first time preparing a supreme VIP card for someone after working here for so long!

“What should you call me?”

Sean accepted the bank card and turned to face Caitlyn.

“Brother- 11

Caitlyn smiled sweetly.

“That’s right. Here, for you.”

Sean was also smiling as he stuffed the one million dollars supreme card directly into Caitlyn’s hand.

“Thank you, brother...”

Caitlyn smiled again, wrapping herself around Sean’s arm as if she fit there.

“Dear Lord...”

The surrounding customers and shop assistants all looked at them blankly.

He just forked out one million dollars just like that.

The “Brother” was indeed an address worth calling!

They would also like to address Sean as “brother” a hundred times if they had the choice.

At this moment, both Sherry and Ruby’s faces had turned red as they said not a word.

Sherry had been showing off in front of Caitlyn just now, thinking that she was a diamond-level VIP.

Now, however, she was intimidated by Sean's million for the time being.

Even if she was not intimidated, the store would definitely give priority to Caitlyn who was a supreme customer!

"Sherry, he Sean is so rich..."

Ruby's gaze on Sean now carried admiration in them.

Extreme wealth always captures the hearts of others easily.

Why would most of the second-generation heirs be surrounded by beautiful women otherwise?

Ruby really could not stop herself from being moved after seeing Sean throw out millions at this moment.

Even Sherry was looking at Sean then, gaze complicated.

She did not refute what Ruby said either.

"If memory serves me right.

"Didn't someone say just now that they would write their name upside down if I was able to pay this amount?"

Sean said lightly as he pulled on his ear.

Whoosh!

The eyes of everyone in the store were directed toward Sherry in unison.

Those words had indeed come out of her mouth.

Sean's gaze was also slowly moving toward Sherry.

"You, I-"

Sherry flushed. She wanted to say something but could not get a single word out.

She no longer dared to behave impudently at all while facing Sean who had been able to so easily fork out a million.

"Your parents are the ones who gave you your name. It's not for you to write upside down."

Sean looked at Sherry and said calmly.

"I-I'm sorry..."

Sherry lowered her head and apologized softly.

Sean slowly withdrew his gaze. Of course, he would take Sherry's words seriously.

His efforts were not worth being wasted on a small person like this.

"Let's go, brother."

Said Caitlyn from the side softly.

Sean nodded and ended his conversation with Sherry.

The shop assistant also immediately packed all the clothes that Sean had selected just now into high-grade packaging bags.

Then, using the discount that came from the supreme card, recalculated the bill.

The refund was topped back into the card.

Sherry kept her head down and said nothing throughout the entire process. She did not dare raise her head until after Sean and Caitlyn left the store.

Sean and Caitlyn did not have the time to bother with Sherry's thoughts.

After that, Sean brought Caitlyn to pick out some clothes for May. They were also not cheap. Caitlyn had still been amazed by the prices at the start.

She soon got used to it gradually, however.

Seeing Sean constantly swiping his card and having his money deducted, Caitlyn's eyes were filled with admiration.

She was feeling beyond happy deep down.

It was not that she was happy that Sean was rich.

In fact, Caitlyn would definitely find it much easier than Sherry to score a second-generation heir if she wanted to.

There would also be many among the second-generation heirs who would be willing to spend money on her without blinking an eye.

However, Caitlyn did not need anyone to do this for her.

The important thing was not the items but rather the person gifting them.

As long as Sean was the one gifting them, Caitlyn would still feel extremely happy even if it was something cheap.

"Uhm, we've really bought quite a lot..."

After Zander stuffed everything into the boot, it was packed.

“Catie isn’t usually willing to buy stuff.

“These would be enough for her for a long time.”

Sean smiled. Spending this amount of money was nothing to him.

Moreover, Caitlyn was no stranger so it was right for him to be spending on her.

This was why after Sean bought all of Caitlyn’s clothes, they were once again off to buy jewelry.

Chapter 1495

Chapter 1495

They were all extremely expensive too.

However, Caitlyn had also reached acceptance. She would not refuse any of Sean’s gifts.

Considering they both grew up together since they were kids.

It would not be an exaggeration to say they were childhood sweethearts.

This amount of money really could not be a measure of their relationship.

Queen Children’s Orphanage.

When Sean and the group returned, it was already close to midnight.

This was Caitlyn’s first time coming back this late.

May knew that Caitlyn was out with Sean and so, she had not been worried at all.

“Tch. And here I thought you were actually going to bring me to a hotel, brother.” Caitlyn immediately said haughtily after getting out of the car.

She knew Sean definitely had no other reason for taking her clothes shopping.

“Silly girl, take your clothes and go.”

Sean rubbed Caitlyn’s head and scolded her with a smile.

“Tsk, I’m not a kid anymore.”

Caitlyn straightened her chest and said proudly.

Not to mention, Caitlyn’s figure had definitely developed pretty well.

While she did look a little thin, she had all the curves in the right places.

“Cough... Hurry on back.”

Sean hurriedly look away as he said with a light cough.

“How am I supposed to be able to carry so many things...”

Caitlyn lifted her finger to point at the many clothes in the trunk as she said somewhat speechlessly.

“Uhm...”

“Zander and I will help you bring them to your room.”

Sean spoke and gestured for Zander to get down the car.

“Ah, commander, I am unable to help you with this...”

Zander shook his head quickly and remained seated in the car, unmoving.

He could help Sean and Caitlyn carry their stuff when they went shopping. He would not be joining them in their fun now, however.

“Why can’t you help?”

Sean raised his brow slightly and asked when he heard this.

“Can I enter Miss Caitlyn’s chamber so casually then?”

Zander shook his head again as he answered reasonably.

Sean shook his head helplessly. He then picked up her things and headed toward the courtyard.

“Brother, wait for me. Let’s keep our voices down. Aunt May and the children are asleep by now.”

Caitlyn was also trying her best to carry as many things as possible as she followed Sean’s footsteps.

Sean and Caitlyn took three trips to move everything.

Caitlyn’s small room was also now filled to the brim.

“Uhm, how are you going to sleep?”

Sean looked at the tight room and asked with a furrow of his brows.

At present, there was almost no room for them to even plant a foot in there.

There were even all kinds of things on Caitlyn’s bed.

“It’s okay. I’ll organize them tomorrow.

“I would wake Aunt May and the rest if I organized them tonight.”

Caitlyn put down the items in the hand softly to the side before hurrying to pour Sean a cup of water.

Sean, on the other hand, was scrutinizing the room.

While it was small, Caitlyn had also kept it very neat and clean.

However, after moving so many things in, they immediately occupied a large space.

There was a single bed, a chair, and a small desk with peeling paint on which some small items had been placed on it.

There was a bottle of moisturizing cream that cost more than ten dollars and a bottle of eau de toilette as well as a notebook for her to write in. There was nothing else apart from these.

The chair had been used as a bedside table and was placed beside the bed with a small lamp on it.

There was a homemade drying rack by the left wall.

At this moment, there was even a bra still being hung from the drying rack...

Sean blushed again before redirecting his gaze elsewhere.

No wonder Zander was not willing to enter Caitlyn's room. This girl's chamber was indeed not a place suited for a man to enter!

Fortunately, Caitlyn had not noticed Sean's gaze at this moment.

She felt embarrassed for Sean for spending money on her when Sean had been shopping for clothes.

However, the womanly nature that was in her heart was released now that the clothes have been bought.

She truly could not help feeling over the moon when she looked at the brightly colored clothes in front of her.

There was a saying that a woman's wardrobe would always be lacking a piece of clothing.

It was enough to see that most girls had an almost fanatical obsession with clothes shopping.

Caitlyn was also not exempted.

She was just forced to suppress this instinct because her economic condition did not permit her.

However, she naturally no longer had to restrain herself now that the clothes had been bought back.

Looking at the clothes in front of her was really dazzling Caitlyn's eyes.

After Sean downed the cup of water, he prepared to take his leave.

Since it was already so late now and Caitlyn also needed her rest. She still had to wake up early tomorrow to take care of the children.

"Brother, I want to try these clothes out..."

"I didn't dare to when we were there just now..."

Caitlyn called out to Sean abruptly and whispered.

"Go ahead then. Simply put one on.

"These are all yours. You can even change your clothes ten times a day."

Sean immediately nodded as he replied with a smile.

"I want to wear them for you to see. Why don't you help me take a look and see which ones look good?"

Caitlyn picked up a piece of clothing and said after looking up at Sean.

There was some longing, and anticipation in that gaze.

Chapter 1496

Chapter 1496

As the saying goes, women loved dressing up.

Caitlyn was embodying this saying now.

She had never worn such nice clothes and wanted Sean to be the first to see her in them.

"Alright!"

Sean and Caitlyn looked at each other for two seconds before nodding slightly.

"I'm going to go change now, yeah?"

Caitlyn immediately perked up. She picked up her clothes and went to get changed.

“Hey, hey. Wait a minute...”

Seeing that Caitlyn was going to unbutton her shirt, Sean immediately waved his hand to stop her.

He then turned around to leave.

There were no other spaces in this room.

One would have to head out even for a bathroom.

Hence, Sean definitely had to go out and wait if Caitlyn wanted to change clothes.

“Brother, I didn’t even say anything. Why are you anxious?”

“Didn’t we used to sleep together when we were kids too?”

“Don’t go. It’s too loud if you open the door. You’ll wake Aunt May and the rest.”

Indeed, Caitlyn did not mind it at all when she said this to Sean.

If Sean insisted on leaving after she said that, it would be obvious then that he was overthinking.

“You’re all grown up now. It’s not the same as when we were kids.”

Sean said softly as he rubbed the tip of his nose.

“Then why don’t you just turn your back towards me? Seriously...”

Caitlyn shook his head, speechless. She unfolded the clothing in her hand.

“O–okay...”

Sean was speechless but still turned around slowly.

As for Caitlyn, she got changed behind Sean, her clothes rustling.

This room was really too small. The distance between Sean and Caitlyn might not even reach two meters.

Hence, Sean could still hear the sound of Caitlyn changing her clothes clearly even though his back was towards her.

“Eh? They’re tight again. We’ll have to buy a bigger size next time...”

Caitlyn said quietly all of a sudden.

Sean thought the clothes had been too small at first. He was about to ask when he suddenly realized.

Caitlyn was probably talking about her underwear...

Speechless, Sean shook his head when he thought of this.

If it were any other girl, Sean would definitely think that the other was deliberately teasing him.

However, Sean did not think so when it came to Caitlyn.

It was just that Caitlyn trusted Sean too much which was why she does not shy away from him at all.

She did and said everything as she pleased.

However, Sean was still a regular man regardless of how she trusted him!

He felt helpless for a moment when he heard Caitlyn muttering softly while she studied her figure behind him.

There also seemed to be a fragrance in this girl's room.

Sean did not really notice it when he first came in.

Now, it was gradually becoming more distinct, however.

"Brother, I'm done. Should I put on the necklace you bought me?"

Caitlyn's voice sounded from behind him again.

"Sure, put it on. Let's see if it fits."

Sean nodded lightly and replied.

"Alright."

Caitlyn replied happily before fetching the jewelry box and picking out two necklaces to put on. "Done!"

"Brother, quick, look. Do I look pretty?"

Came Caitlyn's voice two minutes later.

Sean turned around lightly and look toward Caitlyn.

Hiss...

Sean's eyes slowly widened at this moment as amazement filled him.

As the saying goes, fine feathers made fine birds.

It was definitely not groundless!

Caitlyn was dressed in branded clothing and expensive jewelry at this moment and looked like a completely different person compared to before.

Her normal clothes had been relatively simple; a white T-shirt and jeans.

They were plain and simple and indeed gave her a somewhat rustic feel.

Yet now, donning clothes designed by this well-known designer, she was practically a different person.

Like an ugly duckling reborn as a white swan.

The clothes fit her extremely well and complemented Caitlyn's figure perfectly.

Chapter 1497

Chapter 1497

This was a women's skirt suit that was stylish and sexy.

Her two long, slender legs were also completely displayed.

"This, seems a bit too revealing..."

Caitlyn looked down. She was not used to the deep V design.

She had never worn such revealing clothes.

There was a sparkling diamond necklace just above her chest.

Which looked even more beautiful.

Gulp.

Sean could not help his Adam's apple bobbing.

It was the dead of night and they were a single man and woman of similar ages in the same room.

What was more was that Caitlyn was such a beautiful woman with a hot figure.

Who would not be affected if they were switched in?

Sean was a person, he was a regular man!

He would also have the thoughts that other men would have.

This made Sean's heartbeat gradually increase to an uncontrollable speed.

Even his breathing had become a little more hurried.

"Brother, why are you all stunned?"

“Does it not look good?”

Caitlyn’s face was somewhat flushed as she faced Sean and asked.

She noticed Sean looking at the necklace on her chest and felt shy. She hurriedly tugged on her clothes upwards.

However, in doing that, her dress got even shorter and could not cover her long, slender legs.

With that, Caitlyn hurriedly bent down to pull her clothes down.

However, the view of her chest became clearer with her bent down and tugging at her clothes like this.

Hiss!

Sean took in a sharp breath, his eyes widening again.

All of a sudden, his heartbeat soared even more.

He was unbeatably courageous when it came to acting as the commander of the nine stars army and when it came to having to make decisive kills.

At this moment, however, he was finding it hard to hold himself back!

Heroes have possessed weakness for the charms of beautiful women since ancient times. How could this saying be just a joke?

Sean had to admit that he was really moved at this time. Thoughts normal men would have were now flooding his mind uncontrollably.

Fuuu!

Sean took several quick and deep breaths before forcing himself to look elsewhere.

He had to admit Caitlyn was all grown up.

She has grown from a little girl into a slender and elegant lady.

Putting aside the changes in her mentality, just talking about her young and beautiful body made people unable to help themselves!

When Sean forcibly turned away, however, his eyes widened again.

What was that, next to Caitlyn?

That looked to be a bra...

This was probably, the one Caitlyn just changed out off...

Then, she probably was not wearing anything underneath now...

Pap!

Sean covered his eyes with his hands before rubbing his nose quickly.

While it was true that he was a soldier of honor, he was also still a young and vigorous man.

No one would be able to endure a scene like this!

“Brother, does it look bad?”

“I’ll change into something else then. Wait for me...”

Caitlyn said as she picked out another set of clothes.

“Stop changing!”

Sean hurriedly reached out and stopped her.

He was afraid that something would easily happen if she were to change her clothes again.

So, he had to get away immediately.

“Tell me then, does it look good or not?”

Caitlyn gripped both sides of her skirt and twirled before taking a step forward.

However, the room was filled with clothes and jewelry and at this moment and she lost her footing over a box.

“Ah!”

Caitlyn cried out and her body flew toward Sean.

Sean would definitely be able to dodge it with the speed of his reflexes.

If he were to do that though, Caitlyn would end up on the ground!

He had no choice but to reach out his hand and grab her.

Pop!

A warm, fragrance filled his arms and his breathing grew heavier.

Chapter 1498

Chapter 1498

He managed to catch her and maintain their balance.

However, their bodies were now very close together.

The distance between them was so close at this moment; it was almost a seamless contact.

Sean could even catch the faint fragrance coming from Caitlyn's body clearly.

The temperature in the room gradually increased and both of their breathing gradually grew heavier.

Both of them were keeping themselves still, however.

That was because both Sean's and Caitlyn's bodies were a little stiff at this time.

This was Caitlyn's first time engaging in intimate movements like this with the opposite sex ever since she had grown into a woman.

Their bodies were stuck tightly against one another at this moment.

One of Sean's palms was even resting on Caitlyn's back.

Both of them could even feel each other's body heat.

Badump! Badump!

Caitlyn could even hear her own heartbeat.

Her mind had also crashed; she did not know what to do.

As for Sean, his eyes were wide and likewise, he was also at a loss as to what to do.

"Brother..."

Caitlyn called out softly.

At this moment, her jaw was against Sean's shoulder and her mouth was next to his ear.

Her voice was like that of whispering wind and her breath was like orchids.

Her warm, exhaled breath came in contact with Sean's earlobe and it made him unable to help but feel a wave of excitement.

"Brother..."

Caitlyn called out again softly.

Although she had not gone through certain life experiences, how could she know be aware of this at this age?

Being able to feel Sean's strong heartbeat made her blush and feel extremely shy. Yet, a faint expectation had risen in her heart at the same time.

Caitlyn would feel disgusted if any other man were to hug her. She would not even give them the chance to.

However, she was lingering in Sean's embrace.

She even thought about going one step further.

Seeing that Sean was not saying anything, Caitlyn slowly reached her small hand out and gripped his back slowly.

Her breathing was becoming more rapid too.

Her warm breath kept hitting Sean's ear.

"Brother, I like you..."

"Actually, I've liked you since I was a child. I've liked you even growing up..."

Caitlyn plucked up the courage to say these words to Sean for the first time.

And when Sean heard this, his once dazed mind abruptly sobered up.

He absolutely could not allow Caitlyn to like him.

Sean was now engaged in a marriage contract.

Moreover, he also loved Willow so very much.

How could he allow himself to be with other women?

Sean and Caitlyn would have been a great romance story if it were not for Willow.

This was what May had always hoped for after all.

However, Sean absolutely could not do anything that would disappoint Willow now.

As for Caitlyn, she thought Sean had accepted her affections seeing that he was not saying anything. She could not help but feel a little excited.

She then mustered up even more courage and slowly moved her palm to Sean's chest.

She moved her small hand and touched Sean's button.

However, Sean reached out abruptly and pushed Caitlyn away at this moment.

"Catie, you should head to bed soon. It's late."

Sean took a deep breath to calm himself down.

“Brother, what’s wrong?”

Caitlyn was looking at Sean with a gaze that carried disappointment and some grievances.

“It’s nothing. I’ll ask Zander to pick you up tomorrow.”

Sean shook his head slightly but did not dare look at Caitlyn again.

He and Caitlyn were childhood sweethearts.

They even took a bath together when they were young. They had indeed been inseparable.

Both of them were adults now though and he would of course, not be able to endure being so close to one another.

He was afraid he would do something bad to Caitlyn if he stayed here any longer.

If that happened, not only would he be irresponsible to Caitlyn, but also to Willow.

Caitlyn had also come to her sense a little. “You... you should also rest earlier,” she said with a flushed face.

“okay”

After that, Sean hurriedly turned around and took his leave.

He felt the cool, night breeze when he came out of Caitlyn’s room.

“Seriously. A girl changes eighteen times between childhood and womanhood.”

Sean shook his head lightly and could not help but sigh.

Caitlyn used to just be a little brat who followed him around.

Now, she was a slender and elegant woman.

She was young, full of energy, and beautiful.

Anyone who saw this would have their hearts thumping

Alas, Sean had Willow now.

“What’s the matter, commander?”

Zander walked over suspiciously and asked.

“Nothing, Let’s go.”

Sean shook his head and got into the car.

Zander drove them back to Riverside Villa.

Sean had been occupied with errands outside for these past few days that he had no time to come back here and rest.

Even though he was returning there today, he would still be very busy.

Construction would be starting on that land in Campbell District tomorrow.

This groundbreaking ceremony was also very important and he could not be sloppy about it. Hence, Sean began discussing various details with Zander when he returned to the villa.

No other words were exchanged that night.

The next day, Campbell District.

Chapter 1499

Chapter 1499

The place was originally a residential area.

It was also only a small township within a town district.

In order to accelerate the development of Joules Town, its higher ups had been preparing for the development and construction of this land for the past few years.

Eillion Trees Real Estate had also spent a lot of time, energy, and money on this piece of land

Jimmy had, moreover, also been interested in this piece of land originally so it was inevitable

However, no one could have expected the final rights to develop this land to fall into Sean's hands

In fact, Billion Trees Real Estate would have definitely obtained the rights if Sean had not appeared.

It could be said that Sean's appearance was an in-expectancy.

However, it was this in-expectancy that directly dealt a fatal blow to Billion Trees Real Estate

Not only did Billion Trees Real Estate go bankrupt, but Jimmy was also even thrown into prison.

Sean, on the other hand, trampled over Billion Trees Real Estate and raised the status of Lennon Real Estate to a higher level within the business district of Joules Town.

It could be said that the Lennon Real Estate of now could definitely be ranked among the top three, even if was not the leader of the real estate industry in Joules Town.

Lennon Real Estate was very strong, be it in capital or connections.

Moreover, many companies had also signed partnerships with Lennon Real Estate.

Those who had not were also actually thinking of getting closer to them.

Hence, a lot of people attended the project building ceremony today.

And they were all notable figures within Joules Town's business district.

There were also many who had not been invited but invited themselves over.

The place was already crowded when Sean and Zander arrived.

In addition to the on-site construction personnel, there was also staff from Lennon Real Estate and those originally from Billion Trees Real Estate.

Not only that, but a few of the tycoons of Joules Town's business district were also present, including personnel from the relevant government offices.

Cars would definitely not be able to get through the front with so people coming and going so Zander parked outside ahead of time.

Then, Sean and Zander got out of the car.

"Commander, what do you think?"

Zander asked Sean as he pointed at the scene in front of them.

There was now a large stage erected upon the large field in the distance.

The entire site of this project building ceremony had been organized in an orderly manner.

Sean was not worried about any of these at all.

After all, Zander had also aided him in maintaining the operation of Reach For Will Group back when they were in River City.

Zander was no stranger to these things.

This was entirely his element.

“It’s not bad. Let’s go.”

Sean nodded before stepping forward with his hands behind his back.

The project-building ceremony today could be regarded as a simple one as per Sean’s request.

Its process had not been as complicated as when they were back in River City.

Sean had not wanted to do this at first but his position in Joules Town changed after Lennon Real Estate disbanded Billion Trees Real Estate.

Hence, some things had to be done.

After all, if they wanted Lennon Real Estate to become bigger and stronger in Joules Town in the future, it would not be enough to do everything in silence.

Zander followed Sean. He was also walking forward with his head lowered.

He knew Sean did not like fancy ceremonies and so did not arrange for anyone to come to get them.

“Dearest, the weather is so hot. What are we doing here?”

All of a sudden, Sean heard a delicate voice from in front of him.

This voice was very familiar.

Sean looked up and saw a girl with an enchanting figure walking by while wrapped around a young man’s arm.

Although he was unable to see her face from her back, Sean could tell who she was by her voice.

This girl was actually Sherry Johnston.

He had seen her just last night when he brought Caitlyn out shopping.

Who would have thought that Sherry was actually in an intimate relationship with a second generation heir?

One would have to come from a pretty good family background to be qualified to participate in Lennon Real Estate’s project-building ceremony after all.

“It’s because of my dad, who else? He insisted that I come and make some connections.

“He also told me that the chairman of Lennon Group is a young man.

“He said we young people share a common language and asked me to find a way to get to know him better.”

The second-generation heir next to Sherry said with a shake of his head.

“Are you serious?”

“The chairman of Lennon Real Estate is a young man?”

“I thought it would be an old man.”

Sherry was taken aback when she heard this, surprise filling her expression.

After all, a company with incredible strength like Lennon Real Estate was definitely an existence that countless people needed to look up to.

It was hard to imagine that the chairman of such a large company was actually a young man.

This young man must definition be a second-generation heir too then.

Sherry could not help but begin to entertain some thoughts when she thought about this.

“What’s with your expression?”

“What, are you interested?”

Sherry’s boyfriend asked with a frown.

“Oh, what are you even saying? You’re the only one I love, please!”

Sherry said delicately before immediately moving her body closer to the young man.

“Hmph! As if I don’t know what a little b*tch you are.

“However, I really wouldn’t mind it if the opportunity arises for you to get to know the chairman of Lennon Real Estate.

“If he can come to fancy you, then you’re pretty lucky. But, you’d have to help win some benefits for my family.”

This young man was unexpectedly magnanimous.

Not even a few words in and he already wanted to get Sherry to dedicate her life to his family’s cause.

Chapter 1500

Chapter 1500

“You’re so mean

Sherry deliberately feigned demureness as she said through curled lips.

“Chicks dig bad boys! Haha!”

The young man laughed and said nothing more after that.

“There are many big shots attending today!

“The person I saw just now was on one of River City’s TV shows before.”

Sherry said as she looked around.

Sean immediately wanted to lower his head when he saw Sherry turn around.

It was not that he was afraid of Sherry. Rather, he really did not want anything to do with her.

However, Sherry still managed to recognize him despite having lowered his head quickly. “Huh? Sean?”

Sure enough, Sherry stopped in her tracks and yelled at Sean.

A little helpless, Sean also then looked up at her.

“Baby, a friend of yours?”

The young man also stood still before turning his head to look at Sherry and asking.

“Dearest, it’s him!

“He insisted on bullying me when I took out your diamond card yesterday by topping up a million for the supreme card.”

Sherry pouted while pretending to be aggrieved.

Sean had indeed shocked her yesterday that she even apologized to him on the spot.

After that happened, she got even angrier the more she thought about it and went back to tell her boyfriend about it.

Her boyfriend, however, thought Sean was beneath him.

Now, with her boyfriend by her side, Sherry was once again getting arrogant.

“How do you do? I’m Mason Gibson.”

The young man glanced at Sean and stretched out his hand.

He was bossy and domineering but that did not mean he was stupid.

Those who were able to participate in Lennon Real Estate's project-building ceremony today must be of some status.

Which was why Mason did not attack immediately.

However, Sean just glanced at Mason before turning around and leaving. He was not interested in shaking hands with him at all.

Whoosh!

Mason's face instantly turned red at this moment.

He had taken the initiative to shake hands with Sean, but he ignored him.

This made anger abruptly burst forth in Mason's heart.

"My friend, that's not really nice of you."

Mason stopped in front of Sean and asked calmly.

"Why not?"

Sean stopped slowly and asked a question.

"My boyfriend wants to shake hands with you, can't you see?"

"Do you not know who my boyfriend is?"

Sherry said arrogantly with a finger pointed at Sean's nose.

"What the h*ll!"

Zander frowned. He was about to step forward and interject.

Sean stopped him though.

Since Sherry just would not let this go, this just so happened to be the right time for him to deal with this once and for all.

So as to prevent her from courting disaster from him in the future.

"I would like to know who he is."

Sean raised his head and said lightly.

"Don't think you're all that just because you were allowed to participate in this ceremony.

"My boyfriend's family's company has already signed a partnership agreement with Lennon Real Estate.

“My boyfriend is appearing as an important representative at this ceremony today.”

Sherry crossed her arms in front of her body, her expression getting haughtier.

“Oh. What else?”

Sean nodded lightly and asked further.

“Also, you should be honored that my boyfriend wanted to shake hands with you!”

Sherry sneered as delight filled her eyes.

“Haha, he wants to shake hands with me.

“He should ask his father if he is worthy of doing so.”

Sean was about to turn around and leave after he said that.

Anger surged in Mason when he heard Sean’s incomparably egotistical words.

“Stand there!”

“Do you believe that you won’t even be able to enter the ceremony?”

Mason pointed at Sean, his eyes full of arrogance.

Like he was the host of the day’s project-building ceremony.

“No. I don’t.”

Sean smiled meaningfully, however, as he replied with a shake of his head.

Behind him, Zander could not help laughing.

Just who was hosting today’s project-building ceremony?

Lennon Real Estate!

And Sean was the chairman of Lennon Real Estate.

In other words, every inch of land in the entirety of Campbell District that was to be developed was Sean’s property.

He was the host here.

Yet now, Mason was saying that he would be able to bar Sean from entering the scene with just one word.