

The Guardian's Sword #Chapter 1531 - Read The Guardian's Sword Chapter 1531

Chapter 1531

Chapter 1531

They were shocked.

There was not a single guest in the entire banquet hall who was not shocked.

Chloe was the heiress of the Lathan family and the apple of Old Master Lathan's eye. She was the most popular person in Joules Town.

It was all right if Chloe only knew Sean.

However, Chloe disregarded her image and her identity as the heiress of the Lathan family. She bowed to Sean in front of many people and said something so unforgettable.

If there were reporters here, Chloe bowing to Sean would be on the front page of Joules Town's newspapers tomorrow!

Perhaps Joules Town would be in turmoil because of it!

"You exaggerate."

Sean said indifferently instead of taking credit for it.

"Mr. Lennon, your help to me might be nothing to you, but it was a huge help to me... Anyway, just come to me if you ever get in trouble, Mr. Lennon. The Lathan family will always welcome you!"

Chloe looked Sean straight in the eye with her beautiful eyes and spoke firmly.

"Thank you."

Sean nodded with a smile.

Chloe also nodded with a smile. Then she turned to look at the guests and raised her voice, saying, "Everyone, I know you're afraid Mr. Lennon will rise in Joules Town and take some of your profit away. That's why you boycott him. But please rest assured that Sean won't stay in Joules Town for too long. He's just a visitor in Joules Town.

"He hasn't left because he has some unfinished business. He will leave when he's done. You don't need to chase him away. Maybe he won't stay even if you ask him to stay!

"Besides, Mr. Lennon's a friend... no, an ally to the Lathan family. If anyone has a problem with him, you'll have a problem with me! Any affluent family against him is going against the Lathan family! Do you hear me?"

As soon as Chloe finished speaking, the guests in the banquet hall nodded vigorously.

"Yes, Ms. Lathan. We're so sorry we misunderstood Mr. Lennon."

A young man with blond hair said quickly.

He was ridiculing Sean aggressively just now but was now apologizing. He was a classic case of a fence sitter who took whichever side with the upper hand.

"Since Ms. Lathan has said so, we'll give her face and make things easier for Mr. Lennon."

A middle-aged man stepped forward and said gently.

"Yes, yes, yes, we'll give face to Ms. Lathan. Besides, since we misunderstood Mr. Lennon, our conflict with Mr. Lennon is over... Mr. Lennon, we're sorry about earlier. We crossed the line."

An elegant woman in the crowd stepped forward and bowed to Sean as Chloe had just bowed. The other guests also nodded, and the oppressive and tense atmosphere in the banquet hall vanished instantly.

The guests even looked at Sean with a smile, nodded, or greeted him as if they had been friends for years.

Sean was surprised.

Chloe was the heiress of the Lathan family, which was already a surprise. Chloe was so influential. She helped him solve his problem and also eliminated his conflict with the affluent families with a few words. You could describe it as magical.

The Lathan family was indeed Joules Town's top family. Their name was useful!

"Thank you, Ms. Lathan. You've done me a great favor."

Sean thanked Chloe, and Chloe smiled back at him.

Chapter 1532

Chapter 1532

Then Chloe turned her head to look at Jacob and Victor.

Jacob was Old Master Collins' youngest son, and the Collins family was influential among these affluent families.

Although the Collins family was much worse than the Lathan family, it was also much stronger than ordinary affluent families. Most of the conflicts between Sean and those guests tonight were provoked by Jacob.

Therefore, his attitude was all the more important.

"What do you think, Mr. Collins?"

Chloe asked. Her gentle calm voice was like a spring breeze.

Listening to the melodious voice and looking at Chloe's beautiful face, Jacob subconsciously let go of his female companion's hand as if he was mesmerized by Chloe.

However, he was a member of the Collins family after all. He soon came to his senses and nodded quickly.

“I’m not going to argue with you, Ms. Lathan. As long as Sean doesn’t give me any trouble, I won’t pick on him. But how the Collins family treats him isn’t up to me. It’s up to my father.”

“Then tell Old Master Collins what I said when you get home tonight.”

Chloe said indifferently.

With that said, Chloe looked at the silent Victor again.

Victor was the head of the Joules Town government, in charge of hundreds of people, so he was powerful in Joules Town.

However, he instantly felt guilty under Chloe’s gaze.

Before Chloe could speak, Victor quickly said, “Please don’t worry, Ms. Lathan. I won’t give you a hard time, Mr. Lennon. But I hope you’ll agree to one condition, Mr. Lennon.”

“What condition?”

Chloe glanced at the calm Sean and helped him ask.

“Mr. Lennon, I hope you’ll stay away from my daughter as far away as possible.”

Victor said solemnly.

As a father, that was the only thing he would not budge on!

Therefore, Chloe looked at Sean with questioning eyes, and Sean exhaled helplessly.

“Mr. Barlowe, I already told you I have no interest in your daughter because I’m already interested in someone! Besides, once the new orphanage is set up and everything else is handled, I will leave Joules Town... Are you relieved now?”

Victor finally nodded when Sean said so.

A conflict you could even call a war without smoke ended just like that.

Sean felt fortunate that although he was not afraid of Victor, Jacob, and other affluent families, the problem might have to be solved by force if Chloe had not arrived.

Then things would get out of hand.

Chloe's arrival had indeed helped him!

The party restarted. The guests wanted to say hello to Chloe, but Chloe was not interested in socializing with them.

Chloe did not even go over to talk to Victor and Jacob but stayed by Sean's side all the time.

"She's..."

Chloe asked curiously as she looked at Caitlyn next to Sean.

Chapter 1533

Chapter 1533

"She's my sister."

Sean replied without hesitation.

Although Caitlyn was not related to Sean, he did treat her like a sister.

"She's not your biological sister, right?"

Chloe asked with a smile.

"Yeah, but we're closer than biological siblings!"

Sean said solemnly.

Listening to the two's conversation, Caitlyn's pretty face reddened. Besides that, she lowered her head shyly.

"She gets shy so easily..."

Chloe joked, looked at Sean, and asked seriously, "Mr. Lennon, you came to Joules Town to meet the patriarch of the Collins family, Old Master Collins, right?"

William was the patriarch of the Collins family.

Sean did want to meet William at first.

However, he only wanted to meet the big shot from Janestown through William.

Zander recently found out some things about the person too.

The man's name was Hanson Lupin.

More than 20 years ago, the Lupin family was famous throughout Dragon Kingdom. They even had a legend.

Sean did not know much about the Lupin family, but he had heard much about them.

Hanson was said to be a member of the Lupin family.

If he could meet him, get his help, and return to the army, it would be easy for him to get revenge on Blaze

Unfortunately, William disliked him when he visited William the last time. He was even indifferent to him and belittled him.

It was also one of the reasons why Jacob had such a strong opinion of Sean at the party tonight Jacob was William's son, and William's attitude naturally affected Jacob's attitude.

Chloe suddenly brought it up and mentioned that Sean wanted to meet William. Then she must have had someone look into Sean's whereabouts.

Sean did not mind because Chloe did not mean any harm.

If Chloe had been malicious or even hostile to him, she would not have shown herself and rescued him

tonight

Besides, Sean had set up Lennon Group in Joules Town, defeated Billion Trees Group, and built a new orphanage. With the series of actions, maybe Chloe had heard about him from someone else.

However, it was a question Sean could not answer because it involved too much privacy.

“Must I answer?”

A wry smile spread over Sean’s face.

“Of course not. If you don’t want to answer it, forget it... I’m trying to help you out. The Lathan family has far more power and influence in Joules Town than the Collins family, so I figured I could help you in the same way that William could help you. I want to repay you for taking care of me.”

Chloe spoke earnestly, her tone and expression sincere.

Sean heard this and felt a warm current in his heart.

Perhaps Chloe was right. The Lathan family was indeed more powerful than the Collins family. Maybe the Lathan family could help.

However, Sean looked at Chloe and decided not to.

He did not want to involve a gentle woman like Chloe in his revenge, or he might get her into trouble.

“It’s okay. I can handle it myself.”

Sean spoke succinctly.

Chloe understood what Sean meant, so she did not insist. Instead, she joked around with Caitlyn.

“You haven’t had enough food, have you? Why not continue?”

Sean said with a smile and touched Caitlyn’s head.

Caitlyn blushed and shook her head. “I’d better not, or those people will laugh at me.”

Chapter 1534

Chapter 1534

Chloe chuckled before Sean could say anything. She said, "Who would laugh at you when I'm around? Here, I'll eat with you."

With that said, Chloe took the plate and fork and started eating with Caitlyn.

The two women were treating the fancy party like a buffet.

However, none of the guests in the distance dared to taunt her. Instead, they praised her.

"Though Ms. Lathan is the heiress of the Lathan family, she's not arrogant. She eats and drinks as she likes. She doesn't put on any airs."

"Yes, Ms. Lathan is indeed a breath of fresh air. Anyone will be impressed!"

"Wouldn't it be nice if we could have dinner with Ms. Lathan?"

The guests looked over enviously, but none dared talk to each other, let alone eat together.

"Why don't you eat some too?"

Chloe looked at Sean and said with a smile.

Sean glanced at the guests in the distance and shook his head as he laughed. "Forget about me. If I eat with you, those people will be so jealous of me."

"Haha, Mr. Lennon. It turns out you like to joke around too.

"I'm not joking. The way you look at those people..."

Time flew by. Before he knew it, it was already 10 p.m.

The party was over.

Sean took Caitlyn's hand and said goodbye to Chloe before driving back to Queen Children's Orphanage.

Caitlyn was also carrying a large plastic bag full of leftovers because there was so much food at the party.

Caitlyn thought it was a waste, so she packed up some and brought them home.

If Sean and Caitlyn had packed up the food before Chloe arrived, there would have been a lot of eye rolls, taunts, and sarcastic comments from the guests.

However, Chloe was around. While Caitlyn packed up the food, the guests kept talking about saving food and traditional virtues in different ways.

The guests were indeed sociable. They were crafty and two-faced.

“Why did you bring back so much food?”

May asked, looking at the food Caitlyn placed on the dining table with shock.

“They’re from the party. I didn’t think they could finish them, so I packed them up and brought them home

Caitlyn said with a chuckle.

May was between laughter and tears. “Who goes to a party and takes their food home? Do you think you’re going to a restaurant?”

Caitlyn made a face and stuck out her tongue.

The children had gone to rest, but it was not too late, so May called them over to eat.

The meals Caitlyn packed were mostly meat. It also had plenty of seafood. It was an eye-opener for the kids who never had a big meal. They could also get some nutrients.

The children ate around the dining table, laughing, and enjoying themselves. Sean found it comfortable to watch the scene.

Maybe it was what happiness felt like.

The Collins family.

William, the 60-year-old patriarch of the Collins family, was sitting behind his desk in the vintage study, listening to his son Jacob's report.

When he heard Chloe had come to Sean's rescue, his expression instantly became complicated.

"How can this be... Since when did Sean become close with the Lathan family?"

William said to himself, tapping his forefinger on the desk.

Jacob sighed and said, "Old Master, maybe we were wrong. Sean might be at his downfall, but we still can't underestimate what he's capable of... Shouldn't we change our attitude before we make an enemy for the Collins family?"

Hearing Jacob's words, William's heart wavered!

Chapter 1535

Chapter 1535

Because the Collins family and Sean were never meant to be in opposition.

William was a friend of Sean's adoptive father. They were close. The reason that the Collins family had conflicts with Sean was that William was dissatisfied with Sean.

Sean's father, Colin, was considered a big shot when he was alive, so William had high hopes for Sean. Therefore, when Sean came to Joules Town and asked William for help, William was disappointed with Sean, thinking Sean was no match for his adoptive father, Colin!

If it were Colin, he would rather die than live in grievance. There was no way he would come to Joules Town only to ask himself for help.

William's contempt for Sean was all from this incident.

However, Sean's subsequent performance repeatedly surprised him.

Firstly, he started Lennon Group, brought down Billion Trees Group, and built the new orphanage despite resistance from all parties. He was undaunted even when he confronted Joules Town's affluent families. Tonight, the top family in Joules Town-the Lathan family was openly on Sean's side!

At this moment, Sean was more powerful than William or even the whole Collins family!

To put it crudely, Sean could easily strike the Lidell family down if he wanted to. William could not stop him, even if he mustered the Collins family's power!

"Sean really blows people away."

William said slowly and sighed.

If he had known that Sean was so powerful, he would not have neglected Sean or even despised him and rejected his request.

"Tell everyone that none of us in the Collins family have to go against Sean. Of course, there is no need to be friendly with them. After all, he might not be willing even if we want to curry favor with them."

William pondered for a moment before finally saying.

Jacob nodded vigorously. He felt the same way.

He thought about it tonight when he saw Chloe stand up to Sean regardless of her status. Seeing William so open-minded and not stubborn, it was for the best.

"So Sean's earlier request to see Mr. Lupin..."

Jacob asked cautiously.

"I'll talk to him about it, but there's no hurry. Once this blows over, find a chance to invite Sean to the Collins family."

William said cautiously.

"Yes."

Jacob nodded in agreement.

Queen Children's Orphanage had become famous.

Due to the construction of a new orphanage, Queen Children's Orphanage, which was previously unknown, had become the focus of attention in Joules Town.

The orphanage was often visited by reporters these days. Even philanthropists came to Queen Children's Orphanage and offered to donate.

However, May turned down all donations. With Sean's support, the orphanage had no lack of funds.

If they accepted the donations of those philanthropists, it would not help much and might lead to unnecessary disturbances.

After all, she did not stay at the orphanage to gain fame and wealth but genuinely wanted to raise and care for homeless children.

Reporters and philanthropists were not the only visitors to Queen Children's Orphanage.

There were also members of the affluent families of Joules Town.

Chapter 1536

Chapter 1536

After the party, Sean reconciled with most of the affluent families in Joules Town. With Chloe's public support, many affluent families, who switched sides for personal gain, sent their children to visit Sean in Queen Children's Orphanage.

Their goal was to link up with the Lathan family through Sean.

Sean was polite and hospitable to these people, of course. However, he made no promises when it came to the Lathan family.

Because he knew he could not speak for Chloe, let alone cause her trouble.

The new orphanage was also in construction. The construction company had greatly shortened the construction schedule with the help of the latest construction methods and equipment. The orphanage was not so large, so it was expected to be completed soon.

Perhaps bored, Caitlyn thought about taking the orphanage children for an outing.

May rejected Caitlyn's proposal as soon as Caitlyn brought it up.

“It’s not safe. We have so many children and so few adults. Can we handle them? Besides, children are playful. What if one gets lost or gets into danger?”

May cared too much for the orphanage children and feared they would get hurt, so she rejected Caitlyn’s suggestion.

Caitlyn was aggrieved and approached Sean to put in a good word for her.

However, Sean also failed to convince May.

Although Sean was a nine-star commander and the Guardian God of War of Dragon Kingdom, he could not be tough in front of May.

“Well... Since Aunt May disagrees, let’s forget about it.”

Sean said helplessly.

“I wanna go out. Look. Everyone stays at the orphanage all day. It’s like imprisonment if you don’t go out. It’s bad for the children’s growth.”

Caitlyn stood by her idea as she kept persuading Sean and May.

Just then, Zander walked in with a newspaper.

“Commander, Joules Town Martyrs’ Memorial Garden has recently opened for tours. Shall we go...”

Before Zander could finish speaking, Sean’s eyes lit up.

“Martyrs’ Memorial Garden is enclosed, so children can’t get lost there. We can take the children to Martyrs’ Memorial Garden to learn new things and cultivate patriotism. What do you think, Aunt May and Caitlyn?”

Sean asked excitedly.

Caitlyn agreed instantly. “Yes, yes. Anywhere as long as I can take the children out!”

May thought about it and found Sean’s suggestion reliable, so she nodded in agreement.

“Alright, but you must keep an eye on the children and be careful!”

May reminded them solemnly.

Therefore, Sean and Zander drove May, Caitlyn, and the children to Joules Town Martyrs' Memorial Garden from Queen Children's Orphanage.

Joules Town Martyrs' Memorial Garden looked old. Although it had been renovated several times, it still looked like it had lived through many changes.

Besides that, as soon as they entered Martyrs' Memorial Garden, it became quiet as if there was a rule that made you speak quietly.

Of course, it only worked for grown-ups.

The children were still jumping up and down, chattering.

Sean did not scold the kids. In his opinion, it was normal for children to be playful as long as they did not spoil things.

"Be careful not to randomly touch anything in here. This is Martyrs' Memorial Garden, where all those who fought for Dragon Kingdom are buried. We must respect them."

Sean reminded them in his usual tone.

Chapter 1537

Chapter 1537

"Got it!"

"Understood!"

Two children shouted and laughed.

Sean shook his head helplessly. Watching the kids playing around, he could only let them do whatever they wanted.

Fortunately, none of the children touched Martyrs' Memorial Garden's tombstones or anything else, even though they were playful. They only looked with their eyes.

Sean was relieved to see that.

“There are so many martyrs buried here!”

Caitlyn looked around and marveled.

Zander, who followed her, nodded and said, “Of course. When Dragon Kingdom was in limbo, major wars rarely happened, but small-scale battles kept happening. People died defending the country almost every day. These are called martyrs, and they will be buried in memorial gardens all over Dragon Kingdom. It’s not a small amount, of course.”

Hearing Zander’s words, Caitlyn was filled with deep admiration and was touched.

It was because these people risked their lives to fight. They even sacrificed their lives to have the peaceful Dragon Kingdom now.

All martyrs were worthy of respect!

“Uncle Sean, I want to be a martyr when I grow up!”

A child suddenly ran up to him and said firmly.

Sean and Zander smiled at each other when they heard this.

Although the little one was naive and did not even understand what the word “martyr” meant, Sean and Zander were amused to hear him say that.

Just then, a sudden retort came from not far away.

“What’s with all this noise? Don’t you know you should keep quiet in Martyrs’ Memorial Garden? What if you disturb the martyrs? Where are your manners?”

Two security guards walked over. One glared at Sean, Zander, and the kids, and the other did not look too well either.

“Sorry, the children are too young to know better.”

Sean apologized because the kids were indeed a little noisy, and the security guard was telling the truth. However, the two security guards became even more aggressive as soon as Sean apologized.

“Is the children too young to know better an excuse? Children don’t understand, and you adults don’t either! Knowing you have to be quiet here, how dare you bring so many children to Martyrs’ Memorial Garden? Do you think this is a playground?” The security guard who had shouted earlier shouted again. Another security guard took over the conversation and criticized everyone, including Sean.

“Look at you! What are you doing? You dress so casually to visit Martyrs’ Memorial Garden. You also shouted and made a scene after coming in. You have no basic manners or common sense! Who are you to visit Martyrs’ Memorial Garden to pay homage to our forefathers? Who do you think you are?”

“Sorry, we’ll keep an eye on the kids.”

May was the director. Seeing Sean and the children being so severely criticized, she rushed over to apologize to the two security guards.

However, the two security guards only kept on talking.

None of them noticed that army SUVs had somehow pulled up to the entrance to Martyrs’ Memorial Garden.

A middle-aged man in his 40s with a scar on his face got nearer with several attendants.

“Why is it so noisy over there?”

Chapter 1538

Chapter 1538

The middle-aged man frowned slightly, looking upset.

An attendant nearby immediately said, “Mr. Lupin, it looks like Joules Town’s locals have come to the memorial garden to pay their respects to the martyrs but are reprimanded by the security guards in charge of protecting and managing the area.”

Hanson replied in acknowledgment before saying with a nod, “I see... They deserve criticism for not keeping quiet in Martyrs’ Memorial Garden. Come on. Let’s check it out.”

With that said, Hanson and his entourage walked toward Sean and the others.

The two security guards were still yelling at Sean and the children. They also became increasingly outrageous as they spoke.

“No wonder Martyrs’ Memorial Garden was closed to the public for so long. There’s a reason why they have strict control over the people coming here. It’s an insult to those buried here to have people like you pay respects to them!”

“Can you keep these brats under control? If you can’t, hurry and leave. Don’t give us trouble, Let alone disturb the martyrs’ peace!”

“Still noisy? Will you shut up? What’s the matter with those punks? Don’t they understand what we said? Make any more noise, and I’ll kick you out!”

“Is this a place for children? This is Martyrs’ Memorial Garden! Martyrs’ Memorial Garden is no place for children to play!”

Sean was a little annoyed.

Zander was furious.

The security guards were rude.

Although what they said was true, it was too much to criticize without reason and even label people!

Sean was about to speak when the furious Zander preempted him by saying, “Do you really understand? Do you understand what the martyrs buried here were trying to protect? They didn’t defend their country so they could lie down in a quiet place after they died. It’s to create a strong and safe country and a peaceful living environment for everyone in Dragon Kingdom, including the children!”

Zander was agitated, perhaps thinking of himself.

“Heroes give us peace, but they don’t get to see it.

“The martyrs who protected the country and gave their lives want to see the country in peace and the people’s smiling faces!

“Instead of you speaking harshly and unrelentingly, making a big fuss about casual remarks.”

As soon as Zander finished speaking, the security guards looked at him mockingly.

“What’s the matter? Are you trying to talk sense into us? But how do you know what the martyrs think? Who do you think you are?”

A security guard said with a sneer, ignoring Zander, much less taking his words to heart.

Zander was furious.

However, he did not resort to violence but turned to look at Sean.

Seeing Sean nodding at him, Zander turned to the two security guards and said indifferently, “I’m not a nobody. I’m only a soldier defending my country.”

With that said, Zander unbuttoned his top and took it off.

“What are you doing?”

The two security guards were shocked. They took a step back, looking warily at Zander.

Caitlyn and May were a little embarrassed but curious at the same time.

Once Zander took off his top, everyone except Sean was instantly shocked!

It was because Zander’s upper body was covered in no less than a hundred scars!

Chapter 1539

Chapter 1539

There were hundreds of scars on Zander’s body, covering every inch of his skin so densely that you could barely see his skin.

Besides that, the scars were different. There were bullet wounds, sword wounds, and burns.

These scars were enough to strike fear and terror into anyone who had not been to war.

The two security guards were so pale with fear that they were dumbfounded for a long time.

Caitlyn and May were shocked too. After all, it was terrifying that Zander had so many scars on his body.

They were also surprised that Zander, who they had spent so many days with, had so many scars on his body. It showed how many times Zander had been in wars and how terrible the battles had been!

“I’m only an ordinary soldier, defending the country. The war left me these scars.”

Zander said slowly, looking at the two terrified security guards.

The two security guards were not as overbearing as before. Both looked awkward and stiff, not daring to speak.

“What did I fight in all those wars for? So I can lie down in a place like this and be admired after I die? What’s the point? It’s my greatest wish that the people I protect can live a happy and harmonious life in a stable and peaceful country.”

Zander’s statement made the two security guards guilty.

They had just said they could understand those buried here the best.

However, it now seemed they did not understand anything.

The one who understood the wishes of the martyrs buried here was the man with scars in front of them!

In the distance, Hanson’s expression was solemn as he looked intently at Zander.

His attendants were all shocked by Zander’s scars.

These men were soldiers who had been in the war, and they also had several scars on their bodies.

However, the number and the severity of their scars was no match for Zander’s.

If you must compare, the difference was poles apart!

“This man is worthy of respect. He’s a soldier who risked his life and never stopped fighting!”

Hanson said slowly.

Hanson’s attendants were shocked at what he said.

Hanson had a critical eye, and there were not many people he liked.

Those who could get such a high opinion from him were all the less!

However, it was almost unprecedented for Hanson to speak so highly of Zander at the first meeting.

However, the shock had not yet subsided, and Hanson’s words set off a storm in their hearts!

“The

young man beside him is not an ordinary person. He’s most likely a commander like me. And he’s at least seven–star!”

There was a look of disbelief on their faces when they heard this!

The quiet young man beside him was a commander higher than seven stars.

How was that possible?

There were probably around 100 commanders higher than seven stars in Dragon Kingdom.

There were 1.4 billion people in Dragon Kingdom. How could they randomly run into one? Besides that, Hanson said at least!

Chapter 1540

Chapter 1540

The odds that the young man was an eight or even a nine–star were even less!

“Commander Commander Lupin, why do you say so?”

The visibly shocked attendant stammered.

Hanson pointed at Sean in the distance and said, “The man must be somebody to have a subordinate covered in scars and have a lot of combat experience. So I’m assuming he’s a seven–star commander, and he’s been in the army for a long time.”

After a pause, Hanson continued saying, “Most importantly, though he looks young, there’s something sharp and unstoppable about him! I have only seen a few young seven–star or eight–star commanders with such aura, so I’m certain he’s at least a seven–star commander.”

The attendants nodded when they heard Hanson’s words.

They looked at Sean and Zander from a distance, curious about them.

At the same time, Sean, who was far away, looked in their direction as if he sensed them.

However, he soon withdrew his gaze and only looked at Hanson, who was the leader.

“He noticed us... He’s indeed no ordinary man to detect us so sharply from so far. Hahaha. It’s getting more and more interesting.”

Hanson said with a slight smile.

He was interested in the two young men.

Zander put his top back on, not wanting the kids to be scared.

The two security guards stood obediently before Zander and apologized like children who had done something wrong.

“Alright, let them go. Let’s continue our tour of Martyrs’ Memorial Garden.”

Sean said with a smile and waved his hand.

Zander nodded and said earnestly to the two security guards, “I’ll let you off the hook today because you respect the martyrs. But I hope you will be wise in the future and don't give others a hard time without reason. Just this once. Got it?"

The two security guards nodded repeatedly.

Then they left as if running for their lives.

Without the security guards, the children became active again. However, after what happened just now, the children stopped making noises. They would speak softer.

"The children are sensible."

Sean nodded with satisfaction.

Caitlyn said with a smile, "Of course, the children we've taught so carefully will be better than those heirs."

Sean knew Caitlyn was talking about the heirs at the party that night.

The affluent families and guests at the party ridiculed Sean and Caitlyn. If Chloe had not come to the rescue, things would have been tricky.

Therefore, Caitlyn disliked them and used them as the most typical example of what not to do.

"Shall we go further? It's the outskirts of Martyrs' Memorial Garden."

Sean thought about it before shaking his head and saying, "Forget it. Joules Town's Martyrs' Memorial Garden is too big. It's like a maze and is difficult for adults to navigate. Let's not take the children too far into it. It'll be hard to find the children if we do lose one or two of them."

"You're right."

Zander smiled.

Zander's smile was a little stiff because he usually did not smile.

Of course, neither Sean, Caitlyn, nor May minded it.

Just then, a young man in military uniform walked over and stood before Zander.

