

Hail the King 421

Chapter 421: Accumulation (Part One)

Although Fei was very close to the realm of Moon-Class and could easily defeat anyone in the Star-level, he still couldn't stand and travel in mid-air with no support. Therefore, he used the skill [Raven] and summoned the big bird. After he stepped onto the back of the big bird multiple times in mid-air, he finally got into the ancient city safely.

He looked around, and he felt like this Death Ancient City looked scary under the moonlight.

The colossal stone structures were bright under the silver moonlight, but that also contrasted with the dark shadows cast by them. The broad streets were empty and quiet, and the only things that were moving were the blowing wind and the ghost fires, A.K.A. the Will-o'-the-wisps that were dancing on top of white bones. This city looked like a city that belonged to the ghosts.

Sand grains were everywhere on the street, and the dry water wells were filled with sand as well. The ragged shrines and statues could still be seen, and a huge palace that was more than 400 meters tall was still visible from afar. Perhaps this city was too old, the roof of the palace had already partially collapsed.

After comparing everything to the age of the city, Fei felt like this city was in good shapes.

The defense walls around the city were all about 100-meters tall. Dense battlements and watchtowers were kept fine, but the only thing was that a ton of sand piled over them.

Fei stood still and scanned the area using his massive spiritual power.

"No signs of life. A dead city. The structural integrity of the city is fine, and this city could hold 30,000 soldiers, but....."

He soon discovered something strange; it seemed like a magnetic field enveloped the city.

Fei saw traces of this as soon as he entered the city.

The items on him that were made from metal all shook as they were being pulled down to the ground. Any average person would stagger in this situation, and he or she might not even be able to walk around with metal items on them. Only when Fei put away the metal armor of the Druid Character and put on a robe made from cloth and a pair of leather boots, that phenomenon he was experiencing disappeared.

“Could it be that this strange magnetic field is the real reason why this city has fallen?”

Fei walked along the streets and carefully observed the surroundings.

He quickly rejected his hypothesis.

There were a lot of skeletons lying on the ground, and they were weak; as soon as Fei touched them, they would break apart easily. From the weakness of the skeletons, Fei could tell that they were all civilians when they were alive.

A phosphorus light shone on these broken skeletons.

None of the skeletons was complete; it felt like Demon Beasts attacked them or an invading troop killed them.

After Fei walked forward on the main street for a bit longer, he saw a tall stone pillar with a ton of wooden cages hanging on it. The cages contained a lot of skeletons, and some of the skeletons were reaching their arms out of the cage; Fei could tell that these people were struggling to survive when they were alive, and they died from starvation.

He also saw a few crowns and some prestigious accessories on a few skeletons, and he felt like they were the royals of the city, and they got tortured here by their enemies.

Beside this stone pillar, there were a ton of sands. However, Fei was still able to see thousands of skulls. There was a small mountain made from skulls, and a few iron spears with skulls on them were stabbed into the ground in front of this mountain. Blue ghost fires danced on this mountain, and it looked creepy and chilling.

“These people are massacred..... A bloody massacre.....”

When Fei walked pass this mountain, he felt like he could still hear the hoarse screams and cries, and it seemed like the souls of these poor people were reluctant to leave.

Fei searched around this ancient city, and he still didn't find any signs of life.

The nest of the Berserk Metal-Eating Ants was about 100-meters away from the city, and hundreds of millions of Berserk Metal-Eating Ants lived there. It was strange that those little creatures weren't interested in this city; put it in another way, it seemed like these creatures were a bit scared of this city.

"It seems like something in this ancient city is a nemesis to those ants; that is the only reason why those ants didn't occupy this city."

After he thought about that, Fei felt comfortable placing his troop here. If those ants could get into the city, 30,000 soldiers weren't even enough for a feast for all little creatures.

Chapter 421: Accumulation (Part Two)

"However, it seems like there is a magnetic field inside this city; metal weapons and metal armors couldn't be used at all..... Both Tanasha and Paris didn't mention this in their notes. How can my soldiers be placed in here....."

Fei felt like there were some discrepancies between the reality and those two intelligent women's calculations; these discrepancies shouldn't exist.....

"Could it be that this magnetic field only appeared after Emperor Yassin came here?" Fei shook his head and stopped thinking about that, "Let me find that secret tunnel first!"

In the notes those two women gave him, they both recommended Fei to use this deserted ancient city as a second base. This city and Dual-Flags City could compliment each other and sandwich the enemies in between.

Due to the existences of the Berserk Metal-Eating Ants, the vicious desert bandits never touched this place. Although it was rumored that a ton of treasures was placed in the city, the Moon-Class Elites had taken those away over the years, and this city was also not attractive in the eyes of adventurers.

The people of Jax also knew about this city.

However, they couldn't enter this place.

The red quicksand moat that was more than 500 meters wide and all the Berserk Metal-Eating Ants living in it formed an excellent natural defense that no elite troops could get through.

However, in the messages Tanasha and Paris had to Fei, they said that they read a book written by Emperor Yassin in the Royal Library of Zenit, and they found out that Emperor Yassin came to this ancient city when Dual-Flags City was being constructed. Although Emperor Yassin didn't find anything unusual in the palace in this city, he did accidentally discover an underground tunnel that bypassed the nest of the Berserk Metal-Eating Ants and led to a place outside the red quicksand moat.

Emperor Yassin didn't tell anyone about this; perhaps this wise emperor kept the secret so that it could be used in the future.

Fei quickly found that secret tunnel by following the instructions Tanasha and Paris gave him.

Almost everything in this Death Ancient City was built using a type of black stone that had magnetic properties, and this underground tunnel was no different. This tunnel was about five meters wide and more than four meters tall; three carriages could travel side by side in this tunnel, and cavaliers could also charge in here.

An underground tunnel like this was magnificent.

However, it was apparent that the creators of this tunnel didn't get to use it, and they were all killed.

Fei didn't find any corpses or bones in the tunnel, and there weren't any specks of dust. The only thing was that there wasn't any air ventilation in the tunnel, and there wasn't much oxygen. If Fei was an ordinary person, he would die after standing in the tunnel for too long.

Fei walked along the tunnel for about ten minutes, and he finally got to the end of it.

There was a huge two-sided stone gate that opened outward.

He was confident that a ton of sands was pushing on the other side of this stone gate.

Even if a Moon-Class Elite was here, he or she might not be able to open it.

Fortunately, the man standing in front of the stone gate was Fei.

After he switched to Barbarian Mode, he unleashed his crazy physical strength and pushed against the stone gate.

Boom! He pushed open the gate.

At this moment, all the sands rushed into the tunnel alongside the moonlight.

After air rushed in, it became easier to breathe.

Fei calculated the time and knew there were roughly five hours before dawn. He took out a pen and a piece of paper, wrote a letter, and summoned [Death Yellow Cape] Kashya from a blue portal.

“Ms. Kashya, please give this to Strategist Aryang in [Wolf Teeth Legion]; they are 30 kilometers to the southeast of Dual-Flags City.”

“Ok.”

Kashya packed the letter and instantly dashed towards the direction of [Wolf Teeth Legion] like lightning.

Fei, on the other hand, switched back to Assassin Mode.

He set up many magic traps around the exit of the tunnel, and he went back to Diablo World afterward in satisfaction.

There was only one last quest left.

Fei and Elena had already entered [Worldstone Keep].

This was a magnificent building. Compared with the gloomy and chilly underground tombs and dark cities Fei and Elena had been in before, the inside of [Worldstone Keep] was as fancy as a king's palace. The gold tiles with white cube decorations on the ground and the decorative ceiling all added to the luxuriousness of the building.

However, the laughter of the final boss Baal and the demons that were charging at Fei and Elena from all directions ruined it.

This was the most terrifying place in Diablo World.

All the demons and monsters here had great strength, and they had some basic intelligence. With magic weapons and armors, each of them was equivalent to a Four-Star Warrior in the real world.

There were three levels in [Worldstone Keep].

After four hours of killing, Fei and Elena finally got to the third level from the first level.

In the process, Elena had leveled up multiple times; she was now a level 84 Magic Archer and a level 46 Paladin.

Fei, on the other hand, was still at level 99. Although he got a ton of experience points, his level didn't change.

However, Fei was already prepared for this.

He wasn't worried; this was just an accumulation process. Once he got through [Worldstone Keep], entered [Worldstone Chamber], and killed final boss Baal, he would have completed all the quest in the normal mode, and the associated changes could occur.

Chapter 422: The Calm Before the Storm (Part One)

The final boss Baal was hiding in [Worldstone Chamber] which was connected to the third level of [Worldstone Keep].

However, its terrifying and arrogant laughter could be heard throughout [Worldstone Keep].

Baal's laughter was filled with pressure and murderous spirits. That intense violent and cruel sensation traveled through the area like waves, and the invisible power continuously hammered Fei's and Elena's eardrums and mental states. Anyone who was weaker than Fei and Elena could have fallen into a state of chaos and lose their minds.

When they finally reached [Worldstone Chamber], four hours had passed.

Fei didn't continue and kill the final boss; since there were more important matters for the king to take care of in the real world, Fei packed up the rewards that were dropped by the monsters and exited Diablo World.

The cold wind was still blowing in the desert.

After Fei returned to the secret exit of the tunnel that connected to the Death Ancient City and cleaned up the magic traps he set up earlier, he waited patiently.

After one hour passed, the sky turned brighter. There was a faint light appearing on the horizon, and it signified the beginning of the new day.

Suddenly, a series of loud clip-clopping noises sounded followed by the appearance of a team of cavaliers. Their weapons were reflecting the weak sunlight, and their presence was pressing.

"They are finally here?" Fei jumped onto a sand hill and looked in the direction of the cavaliers.

There were about 5,000 of them, and they were protecting a bunch of carts with supplies on them. The cavaliers who were leading the charge were wearing white capes and silver armors, and they were holding up flags with either a two-headed polar bear on them or a wolf head with shiny fangs on them.

They were the flags of Zenit and [Wolf Teeth Legion].

Fei relaxed a little. “It seems like everything went fine,” he thought.

He instantly howled, and those cavaliers heard him.

“Where are you!” someone shouted, and they instantly rushed toward Fei’s direction after Fei reconfirmed his location.

This troop got to Fei in about five minutes.

“Your Majesty! It is my honor to see you again!”

“Legion Commander, it is Cindy’s honor to see you again!”

“Legion Commander, it is Reyes’ honor to see you again!”

Old Aryang who was wearing a leather armor, [Magic Princess] Cindy who was wearing a black robe, and [Silver Armored Vicious Sword] Reyes who was wearing a white cape and a silver armor got off of their horses and saluted at Fei. They were all excited, and their nervousness disappeared.

“No need to complicate the process. There isn’t enough time, so let’s do this quickly. There is a secret tunnel behind me, and we need to get the food and supplies into the city safely. Also, notify everyone and make sure that they don’t step into the red quicksand moat; there are powerful Demon Beasts living in there.....” Fei had already switched to Barbarian Mode, and he said that as he lifted his hand; all three of them who were single-kneeing on the ground were uplifted by the invisible force.

“As you wish, I will organize everything and order the troops to enter the city.”

Old Aryang who was now able to do some walking knew that the time was tight. He had a lot of things to talk to Fei about, but he decided to do that at a later time. After he saluted at Fei again, he turned around and started to organize the entry.

“Sir, we met again,” [Magic Princess] Cindy dusted off the sands on her robe as she smiled at Fei; at that moment, it felt like a flower had blossomed, and it got rid of the darkness.

“Princess Cindy, it must have been tough traveling this much,” Fei smiled and replied.

When this powerful female mage joined [Wolf Teeth Legion], Fei was surprised and joyous. A mage was much more valuable in a war, and Princess Cindy was a genius mage who mastered several powerful spells. Fei could sense the passionate heart under her cold and emotionless appearance.

“Hey, hey, hey! This is not fair! Cindy, you have never smiled like that in front of me who is ultra-handsome! Why are you smiling like that in front of the Legion Commander? Could it be.....” [Silver Armored Vicious Sword] Reyes wrinkled at Cindy and joked with her.

“If you can defeat the Legion Commander in a battle, I will smile for you.”

Chapter 422: The Calm Before the Storm (Part Two)

Fei smiled again after hearing the joking tones. At least it seemed like these two masters who all had strong personalities were becoming friends; it was a good sign. A united [Wolf Teeth Legion] was better than a [Wolf Teeth Legion] that was filled with internal conflicts. In a way, this level of harmony reflected the work that old Aryang had been doing.

At this moment, another series of clip-clopping noises sounded.

“It’s the scouts of Jax! They are here!” the expression changed on [Silver Armored Vicious Sword]’s face. He asked proactively, “Sir, let me go and kill them all! We don’t want them to know about our traces.”

“Haha! Great! Let all three of us have a little competition to see who gets the most kills,” Fei dashed towards the enemies as he said that.

“Ok! [Magic Wings]! [Floatation]! [Increased Speed]!”

Cindy shouted as she cast a few spells, and the magic elements in the area surged around her. A pair of translucent green wings appeared behind her back, and she flew towards the enemies quickly like a battle angel.

“Haha! Let me show you..... [Joy Sorrow Sword]! [Separate Gather Sword]! Go!”

[Silver Armored Vicious Sword] shook his shoulders, and two dashes of chilling lights shot out of the mysterious sword box on his back; these two swords instantly traveled more than 500-meters and killed the four Sand Tiger Cavalier charging at the front.

There were only more than 100 Sand Tiger Cavaliers.

The scouts of Jax had noticed this troop of Zenit very early; they monitored this troop carefully when this troop entered the region close to Dual-Flags City. Therefore, a team of scouts of Jax had been following them closely and wanted to see what they were up to.

However, they didn’t expect this troop that was only focused on charging forward to turn around and attacked.

“They had master warriors! Run!”

“Run in separate directions! Tell Prince Fairenton about this! Quick!”

The leader of the scouts knew something was off and instantly turned his horse around as he gave out a series of commands. All the Sand Tiger Cavaliers turned around and started to retreat.

Although this leader with the fast reaction didn’t save his own life, it did allow three scouts to successfully escape. Those three scouts dashed into the desert, and the message was being passed out.

“Damn it! Sir, let me chase after them!” [Silver Armored Vicious Sword] wanted to charge after those scouts.

“No need! The invaders of Jax will know that a portion of the legion came here sooner or later. We have bought enough time, so it doesn’t matter if they know about it now. We have more important matters to take care of,” Fei shook his head and explained.

“Ok,” Reyes rubbed his chin and suddenly laughed, “Hahaha! I killed the most enemies! Mr. Alexander, quickly give me the prize!”

As Fei dashed towards Death Ancient City, he laughed, “Did I say that the person with the most kills would get a prize?”

Cindy giggled, but Reyes didn’t have a comeback.

“Your Majesty, all the food and supplies are moved into the city according to the plan. Just like what Your Majesty said, there is a special magnetic field inside the city. All the metal gears won’t work..... most of the soldiers had switched to leather armors, and we have ditched most of the metal weapons and armors; that is how everything went smoothly.”

Strategist Aryang saw Fei returning to the exit of that secret tunnel and quickly reported everything.

“Great! Let’s make the next move! Pass my order! Leave 2,000 cavaliers here to clean up the city. Cindy and Reyes, you guys stay here as well to watch over everything and make sure that everything is secure,” Fei gave out orders right away, “The rest of the cavaliers and Strategist Aryang shall follow me back and meet up with the rest of [Wolf Teeth Legion]. The rest of the legion should use this opportunity and get into Dual-Flags City.”

“As you wish!”

“Sir, let me go with you,” [Magic Princess] Cindy suddenly stepped out and expressed her wish.

“Cindy, this ancient city needs to be watched over by someone powerful. It is better if you and Reyes stay here. If master warriors from Jax come, please kill them for me,” Fei thought about it and rejected Cindy’s proposal.

“Ok then,” Cindy thought about it and nodded.

[Silver Armored Vicious Sword] Reyes glanced at Fei and Cindy repeatedly with a meaningful smile on his face as if he discovered something.

After the two master warriors and the 2,000 cavaliers entered the city, Fei closed the stone gate that was more than ten tons heavy. After that, he used his power and stirred up the sand around the area; all the traces of this secret tunnel disappeared.

After everything was ready, Fei hopped onto the horse that a soldier got for him and led the 3,000 cavaliers with Strategist Aryang towards the rest of [Wolf Teeth Legion].

It was almost dawn, and it was the most critical moment.

Chapter 423: Return of the King (Part One)

It was dawn, and everything was quiet.

Whoosh!

A big arrow with white fletching pierced through the air and struck the ground; the body of the arrow vibrated rapidly.

“Who is it? Stop right there!”

After seeing the appearance of a team of cavaliers and hearing the loud clip-clopping noises, Torres who was in charge of guarding the campsite shot out an arrow and shouted to warn the unknown troop. There were three more arrows placed on his bow, and he was ready to shoot them out if something felt wrong.

The rest of [Wolf Teeth Legion] placed their campsite 30-kilometers from Dual-Flags City. When they set up the campsite, there were already scouts of Jax appearing around them; it was wartime, their enemies could attack and raid them at any time.

Close to dawn, Strategist Aryang received the order from the Legion Commander, and he left with carts that carried all the food and supplies and 5,000 cavaliers. Currently, Chambord's former No.1 Master Warrior Lampard was in charge of overlooking the campsite, and all the soldiers in [Wolf Teeth Legion] were aware and were ready for the enemies to show up.

When Torres heard the noises made the cavaliers and didn't get a response to his warnings, his mind instantly tensed up.

"If you don't declare your identities, we will shoot," Torres warned again as he signaled a scout behind him to report the situation to Lampard.

There was still no response.

A cold light appeared in Torres' eyes as he released the three arrows on his bow.

Whoosh! Whoosh! Whoosh!

The three big arrows left three white traces of afterimages in the air as they dashed towards the person charging at the very front.

At this moment, a powerful energy surge appeared and crushed the arrows into specks of dust.

"Hahaha! Fernando! Your archery skill improved again!" laughter sounded.

Torres' body instantly froze.

This voice was so familiar to him that he almost engraved it into his soul. After his expression froze for a second, he was overjoyed! He was so excited that his hands started to shake. He turned around and shouted at one scout behind him, "It is His Majesty! King Alexander is back! Go! Quick! Tell Mr. Lampard! Tell him that His Majesty is back!"

Almost at the same time, a flag with a two-headed dog, an ax, and a sword on it appeared and fluttered in the wind.

It was the flag of Chambord.

The person leading the troop was the handsome king of Chambord!

“Your Majesty!”

Torres jumped off of his Roaring Flame Beast and single-kneeled down with the scouts around him.

“Haha! No need for all these complicated salutes. The time is tight; follow me to the central tent,” Fei laughed.

The king was happy to see his guard as well. He could tell that Torres’ strength increased a lot and was about to reach the level of mid-tier Five-Star. If a weaker warrior was in Fei’s position, the three arrows couldn’t be handled that easily.

“As you wish!” as if they found their spiritual pillar, Torres and the scouts around him hopped onto the Roaring Flame Beasts and hurried back towards the campsite of [Wolf Teeth Legion] with joy.

Buuuuuuuu!

The loud bugle sounds resonated in the campsite.

The gate of the campsite opened, and commanders of all levels walked out with excitement on their faces. The person leading the way was a tough man with red hair and a huge black sword on his back.

Chapter 423: Return of the King (Part Two)

“Your Majesty and Mr. Aryang are both back? Great! I only know how to fight, and I can finally give the burden of commanding troops to you guys!” Lampard replied. Although he was usually neutral and emotionless, he was relaxed and cheerful at this moment.

“Your Majesty!”

“Your Majesty, Oleg missed you so much!”

All the commanders and all the members of Chambord single-kneeled on the ground. All the Bylaw Enforcement Officers, the Saint Seiyas, and the leaders of Chambord such as Robbin and Oleg were all emotional. Especially Oleg; he was about to rush over to Fei and hug onto his legs.

Fei was touched by all the reactions as well.

All the emotions his subjects were expressing weren't faked; the king could sense it. Although fatty Oleg was exaggerating, his feelings were real as well.

After he kicked Oleg on the butt, he laughed, “I heard that you are being lazy again while I was gone!”

“Your Majesty! I've been wronged!” Oleg explained with a bitter smile on his face. However, he was actually happy that Fei did that; he knew that this was the king's way of expressing the intimacy. If one day Fei stopped kicking his butt, he would be worried.

Everyone laughed seeing this scene.

“Alexander..... you are finally back?” a crisp and ear-pleasing voice sounded behind everyone, and all the people around Fei moved and created a path. The future queen Angela walked towards Fei; as she blinked her crystal-like eyes, tears appeared.

“Angela,” Fei quickly walked up and hugged her. After he kissed her on the forehead, he whispered, “I'm back..... I missed you.”

Angela didn't say anything back, but she hugged onto Fei tightly with her thin arms.

An unfitting sigh sounded, and it broke the warm and loving scene.

Fei frowned and looked in the direction of the voice, and who could it be if it wasn't the [Fallen Princess] Victoria who was lazy and loved treasures. It was obvious that this girl rushed out of her own tent in a hurry, and she didn't get a chance to change; she was still wearing a fancy dress with a lot of luxurious-looking accessories on her. She sure did look like a princess; her skin was smooth and shiny, and she looked gorgeous.

It looked like this girl was living comfortably in the legion without Fei's scolds.

After seeing Fei's stares, this pretty girl screamed and ran away. As she was running away, she explained, "I didn't want to dress up....."

Everyone laughed after seeing this.

"Huh? Why are you so quiet today?" Fei asked as he saw blonde loli Emma standing quietly behind Angela; she wasn't like herself today, and Fei wasn't used to that. After he pinched her cheeks and put her on his shoulder while ignoring her punches and kicks, he said to everyone, "The time is tight, and we can catch up later. For now, please return to your positions and listen to the orders from Strategist Aryang!"

"As you wish!"

All the commanders and soldiers replied.

Inside the campsite of Jax.

"Your Highness, I have something to report to you..... when I dived into the water well that day, I discovered something strange," Inle who finally woke up inside the central tent reported to Prince Fairenton right away after he opened his eyes.

"Strange? Tell me slowly."

After seeing the earnest expression on Inle's face, Prince Fairenton knew that this matter might be serious, and he sent away the guards in the tent.

"Your Highness, it was like this....."

Inle recalled what had happened and slowly told Fairenton everything.

When Inle first dived into the water well, he didn't make any discoveries. Unlike the waters wells in Dual-Flags City where the water was clear, the water Inle dived into was very muddy. However, in order to complete the mission Prince Fairenton gave him, he made up his mind and dived deeper.

Due to his bravery, he was able to discover that mysterious city at the bottom of the ocean as well.

It seemed impossible for him to go that deep into the ocean, but he did make it happen.

He was a really good swimmer and diver, and somehow, he was able to minimize the insane water pressure at the bottom of the ocean.

The water closer to the bottom of the ocean was clearer, and Inle was able to see what was around him. He was instantly shocked! Who could have imagined that there was a vast ocean under the desert?

After he calmed down a little, he found out that what was causing the strange behavior of the water was an invisible force stirring up the ocean; it felt like there was a creature struggling to get free from the bottom of the ocean.

Technically, Inle could have returned to the ground and reported this to Prince Fairenton, but this man was too narrow-minded.

His mind was solely focused on figuring out the real cause of this strange phenomena for Prince Fairenton, and he decided to dive even deeper to have a better look.

Since the rope that was tied around his waist was already stretched to the maximum, he pulled out his knife and cut it off; that was why the cut was so clean when the soldiers of Jax pulled the rope out of the water.

Chapter 424: Ancient Bloodline (Part One)

Although Inle was good in water, no one expected him to be this amazing in it; it was unimaginable!

As a Four-Star Warrior, he was able to dive into the places that Fei couldn't even get to!

The insane water pressure was greatly minimized on him. When he was experiencing the water pressure that could easily crush a Seven-Star Warrior, Inle suddenly felt like something strange occurred in his body; as if a blockage in his body opened up, he was now capable of a level of agility and coordination that was far beyond his imaginations.

At that moment, he felt like he was a water-elemental Demon Beast and was able to swim anywhere.

In addition, he realized that his eyesight significantly improved underwater; he could see anything that was within a few hundred meters from him.

Therefore, the mermaid-like creatures and the structures at the bottom of the ocean that Fei could only sense using his spiritual power were seen by Inle using his eyes.

After hearing the story, Prince Fairenton fell into a moment of silence; he was thinking about something.

After a while, he opened his mouth and said, "When we were in Big Snow Mountain, my master had discovered that there is a strange Ancient Mystic Bloodline inside your body. It seems like this hidden bloodline is activated by you accidentally. Perhaps it is a water-elemental Bloodline, and that was how you survived in the water. Even if this is the case, it is still too dangerous! Since you reached the limit, why did you still go deeper? If I didn't go look for you, you would have died."

"I..... I wanted to figure out what was at the bottom of the ocean for Your Highness....." Inle lowered his head and said with a guilty expression on his face.

"We would be able to figure it out sooner or later; you don't have to risk your life. I would be really hurt if you died."

Fairenton patted Inle's shoulder. This man who grew up with him was just like his real brother; wait, compared with his real brothers who were cold to each other and saw each other as potential threats in the royal family, Inle was even closer to him. Therefore, Fairenton didn't want anything bad to happen to Inle.

"I got it, Your Highness," Inle scratched his head. After he thought for a while, he suddenly lowered his voice and whispered, "Your Highness, I suspect that the buildings at the bottom of the ocean are a part of a Mythical Ruin that hasn't been discovered yet. It might even be a Six-Star Mythical Ruin."

"I already thought about that," Fairenton nodded as excitement flashed in his eyes. "This is an important matter! If this news got leaked, numerous powerful warriors and the powerful empires could rush to here. If that happened, even our empire couldn't get any benefits from it. Therefore, we have to keep it a secret." he said.

"Your Highness! Don't worry! Even if I die, I won't tell this to another person!" Inle patted his iron-like chest and swore.

A smiled appeared on Fairenton's face, but he then shook his head and said, "I trust you, but I'm worried that another person also knows about this!"

"Another person?" Inle was confused.

"Since the water acted strangely in our campsite, then it must have happened in Dual-Flags City as well. How powerful is the King of Chambord? He must have noticed something. I think the situation is far more complicated than we expect," Fairenton said as he shook his head with a concerned expression on his face.

This prince was born with talent, and he was taken in as a disciple by a Moon-Class Elite from Cultivation Saint Land – Big Snow Mountain. He currently was less than 20 years old, and he was already an Eight-Star Warrior; that placed him in the top-tier of genius warriors in the region.

However, after he came to this war zone, he got defeated by Fei multiple times in terms of strength and intelligence; he got destroyed in battle, and most of the food supplies of his troops were burned..... as if the King of Chambord was his nemesis, Fairenton's self-pride was completely shattered by this man.

He thought he would hate and would want to get rid of a person like that, but he felt like this genius King of Chambord gave him a strange feeling; he wasn't that envious and didn't hate this king that much.

"Maybe it is because that the King of Chambord isn't one of my brothers, and we don't need to compete for the throne? Who can be sure that the two genius warriors who belonged to two antagonizing empires won't become friends? But is that really suitable?" Fairenton was in a dilemma, and he couldn't make up his mind.

Chapter 424: Ancient Bloodline (Part Two)

At this moment, a series of footsteps sounded outside the tent. Then, a guard reported to him that the scouts brought in the newest information.

"Bring him in!" Fairenton ordered; he stopped thinking about that complicated question.

"Your Highness! 5,000 cavaliers of Zenit left the campsite of [Wolf Teeth Legion] and entered the desert while avoiding us. They were headed towards the Death Ancient City, and we followed them closely. However, we were discovered close to the Death Ancient City, and only I made it back alive....." the scouts who survived the massacre reported to Fairenton. This scout was covered in blood, and there was still an arrow on his back.

Bam!

After hearing the report, Fairenton clapped this scout's back with his palm without saying anything.

Everyone was shocked.

Tink!

The big arrow that had pierced into this scout's body was forced out, and Fairenton quickly pressed onto a few main arteries and Warrior Energy channels on this scout with his fingers; he was so fast that his arms left a series of afterimages in the air. What the prince did immediately stopped the bleeding.

He was healing this scout.

Everyone inside the tent calmed down; they were scared for nothing.

“Thank you for your service! You, please take this warrior to the healing facility for the full recovery,” Prince Fairenton whipped his hand and ordered.

“Thank you, Your Highness,” the scout was very touched.

Fairenton was a prince, but he was willing to use his own Warrior Energy to heal this low-level soldier. This unexpected move touched this scout who was worried that he might be punished. No one knew that this low-level soldier swore to himself that he was willing to die serving Prince Fairenton.

This scout was moved to the healing facility quickly.

“Pass my order! Call over all commanders who are above the rank of battalion commander! A meeting is being called!”

“As you wish!”

After Fairenton thought about something, he walked towards the map that was hanging off of the wall. After he looked at the location of Dual-Flags City, Death Ancient City, campsites of Jax, and a few ancient trails, he was shocked.

“Could it be..... are the soldiers of Zenit planning to enter..... Impossible! Other than the powerful Moon-Class Elites, no one was able to enter the Death Ancient City! The red quicksand moat and the numerous Berserk Metal-Eating Ants exists, and they are a barrier that no one could get through..... but why would a team of cavaliers from Zenit go there? Don’t they know about the dangers?”

Fairenton thought about it for a while and felt like that was possible.

After all, the Death Ancient City was located in the territory of Jax, and it made sense that the people of Zenit didn’t know about the dangers around it.

Soon, the commanders entered the central tent.

“Erdous, you lead 6,000 Sand Tiger Cavalier and inspect the Death Ancient City. If you encounter the cavaliers of Zenit, make the decision that is appropriate in the situation; if you think you could win, attack and kill those cavaliers!”

Fairenton gave out an order.

“As you wish!” the commander named Erdous accepted the order and walked out of the tent.

“Kendo, you lead 6,000 Sand Tiger Cavaliers and go towards the Death Ancient City as well after 30 minutes. If Erdous is successful, you don’t need to reveal yourself. But if he is trapped by the soldiers of Zenit and is in danger, charge in and combine forces. Make sure that the cavaliers of Zenit are all killed around the Death Ancient City!”

Another order was given.

This was an intelligent move.

There would be 12,000 soldiers of Jax around the Death Ancient City. Even if they encountered the 5,000 cavaliers of Zenit, they had the numbers advantage and would almost have a 100% chance of winning. Even though master warriors were crucial in these battles, the Warrior Energy one master warrior had was limited. If a Nine-Star Warrior was depleted of his or her Warrior Energy, he or she could be killed by ordinary soldiers.

Even the most powerful warriors weren’t fearless.

“As you wish!” Kendo put on his black metal helmet and walked out of the tent in excitement; he was so blood-thirsty that he was already licking his lips.

To the soldiers and commanders of Jax, only battles could excite them. The two days of pure defense already caused a little uproar in the campsites.

“Pass my order! Increase the number of scouts we have around the campsite of [Wolf Teeth Legion] and closely monitor them! If anyone at Zenit is behaving strangely, report back to me as soon as possible! The reinforcement of Dual-Flags City would for sure try to get through us and get into Dual-Flags City today. According to our plan, they would be all captured and killed if they try to get through our defense line, haha!”

Fairenton gave out a few more orders, and he was feeling great.

“As you wish!” all the commanders replied.

“Your Highness, if the King of Chambord makes his move, no one on our side could defeat him.....” someone notified the prince carefully.

With a smile on his face, Fairenton replied with confidence, “Don’t worry, I already found the solution.”

Chapter 425: Death Moment (Part One)

“Really? Great!” after hearing the confident statement made by their head commander, the tough generals on the side of Jax were all relieved.

In these few days, the pressure that damn King of Chambord brought them too much pressure; the king pressured the 60,000 soldiers of Jax himself! If there was someone who could deal with him..... No! If there was someone who could take up some of the King of Chambord’s time, it would be easy for the soldiers of Jax to conquer Dual-Flags City.

“It is a great news! But what is His Highness’ solution?”

A lot of the generals were murmuring among themselves.

At this moment –

Boom! Boom! Boom!

A loud thunder-like clip-clopping noise sounded, and shouts and roars sounded afterward. These sounds came from the east direction, and the ground soon started to shake.

“What is going on?”

“Could it be the reinforcement of Zenit? It couldn't be! The scouts haven't reported back yet!”

Fairenton and the commanders rushed out of the tent and saw a ton of sand grains flying in the air farther away. The cavaliers who were in black armors were charging towards the campsites of Jax like a flood, and the chilling lights reflecting off of their weapons feared a lot of people.

“Your Highness! A large number of cavaliers of Zenit showed up behind us!” a scout rushed back on a horse and reported to Fairenton as he jumped off of it.

Prince Fairenton walked up on a sand hill while being surrounded by the commanders. After he took a better look, he smiled and said, “There are only about 6,000 cavaliers! Where did the rest of them go? Huh, how dare they attack our campsites with so little soldiers? Pass my order! Tell the troops in the middle to back away and tell the troops on the two edges to move forward. Form a U-shape formation, and let them come into the trap of death.....”

“As you wish!”

Bugle sounded, and a few commanders behind the prince hopped onto their horses and rushed towards the troops that have been stretched over a long distance to pass down the orders.

Soon, the situation on the battlefield changed.

The middle portion of the troops started to slowly back away, and they kept their distance with the 6,000 cavaliers of Zenit.

When these 6,000 cavaliers entered the attack range of the archers, the archers on the side of Jax shot out numerous arrows. The arrows almost covered the sunlight, and they pierced into the formation of the cavaliers. The sounds of arrows piercing into flesh resonated in the area and blood spilled in all directions. There were cavaliers of Zenit falling off of their horses at every second, and they were stomped into meat paste by the horses behind them. The scene was really cruel and bloody.

However, this cruel scene couldn't stop the cavaliers of Zenit.

As the cavaliers charged forward, they all drew out their weapons in silence.

“Charge!”

The commander leading the charge shouted, and the cavaliers increased their speed even more.

The distance between the soldiers of Jax and the cavaliers of Zenit was closing at a fast pace.

Soon, the arrows lost their effectiveness.

After the spearmen and shieldmen of Jax backed off for 200-meters, they finally arranged a defensive formation. Their spears were pointing forward at a 45-degree angle, and their metal shields lifted up; it seemed like these soldiers placed a terrifying metal forest in the desert.

At the moment, the strongest soldiers were leaning forward and pressing against the shields with their shoulders as they waited for the cavaliers of Zenit to collide in with them.

“Spearmen..... throw!”

A Star-level warrior commanded. He was the commander of this formation, and he was standing 20-meters behind the shieldmen with a brown metal armor on him. With calmness on his face but frenzy in his eyes, he calculated the distance between his formation and the cavaliers of Zenit, and he threw out his black iron spear after he empowered it with his Warrior Energy and ordered the spearmen to do the same at the same time.

Whoosh! Whoosh!

Thousands of spears followed that black iron spear and flew towards the cavaliers, and this was the last range-attack there would be in this battle.

On the other side, the commander leading the charge sensed the intense murderous spirits. With a grin on his face, he reached behind his back and pulled out his huge black sword.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

Chapter 425: Death Moment (Part Two)

As a series of loud booming noises sounded, hundreds of spears that were flying at him exploded into dust.

A dash of lightning shot out of the clouds of iron dust and struck onto the metal shields ten-meters away. As if lava was poured onto snow, it instantly went through six layers of shields and shot towards that commander of Jax.

That commander's pupils contracted instantly; he knew that this commander of Zenit was a lightning-elemental warrior, and he knew danger was approaching.

In that split-second, he only had the time to raise his blade and try to block the attack.

In the next second, he sensed a vast indefensible energy flowing inside his body, and he flew back into the air. As his body got numbed, the gasps and shouts of the soldiers around him sounded.

Then, he lost his consciousness.

Boom!

Death arrived, and a blood flower blossomed in the sky.

The flood-like cavaliers collided into the metal forest-like spear and shield formation, and roars and screams both sounded at this moment. Limbs flew into the air, blood spilled in all directions, and the helmets, armors, and weapons of the soldiers from both sides were stained.....

This was a war!

A soldier of Jax slashed a cavalier of Zenit as he roared, but his head was pierced by another cavalier using a spear. The spear pierced through his mouth and nailed him onto the ground. Although he was struggling and trying to fight back, the life energy was being drained from his body at an insane rate.

Beside him, another soldier of Jax got half of his head chopped off, and his single eye was staring into the sky that was turning red.

With the thrust from the horses, the cavaliers of Zenit charged into the formation of Jax and started to kill the enemies. At the same time, some of them were pulled down from their horses and got killed by the enemies as well.

On a hill not too far away.

The head commander's flag was fluttering in the wind, and it looked majestic.

The person under the flag was wearing a set of fancy armor, and his dark-red cape was fluttering in the wind as well. Who could it be if it wasn't Prince Fairenton? At the moment, he was carefully observing the battle.

Beside him, there were two mid-aged men who weren't wearing metal armors but cloth robes. From their appearances, one could tell that they were not a part of the military. With powerful auras around them, it looked like they were both stronger than Prince Fairenton who was an Eight-Star Warrior.

Since these two were able to stand beside Prince Fairenton, it spoke to how strong they were.

"There is such a powerful warrior on the side of Zenit except for the king of Chambord? Such terrifying lightning-elemental Warrior Energy! It is close to Eight-Star!" after seeing the commander of the cavaliers of Zenit chop open the spear and shield formation, Prince Fairenton who was closely monitoring everything was shocked. He turned around and asked, "Why don't we have any report on this man from our Military Headquarter?"

A commander behind him who was in charge of information collection and intelligence was confused as well. "We should have all the information. We got all the information on all the masters in [Wolf Teeth Legion]. Where did this Eight-Star Warrior come from? Huh? Your Majesty! His look, his figure, and his black sword..... they remind me of one person....."

"You mean Chambord's former No.1 warrior Frank Lampard?"

Fairenton had been studying the King of Chambord's history, and he was very familiar with the people who were close to Fei. Since Lampard was formerly known as the most powerful man in Chambord, he was studied by the prince. However, from the information the prince gathered, it seemed like this man was formally known as the No.1 warrior before because the King of Chambord didn't show his true color yet. The reports said that Lampard was only a Three-Star Warrior, and Prince Fairenton couldn't believe that this man's strength increased so much in a few months.

"It should be him," that commander behind Fairenton thought about it and said, "This man is mysterious, and he keeps a low-profile. He didn't participate in the competition hosted in St. Petersburg, and not a lot of people have seen him in battle. But..... but many people believe that he is powerful. After all, all the warriors around the King of Chambord suddenly showed their shocking powers. I think....."

"Eh, you are right," Fairenton nodded and replied.

He was almost used to strange things happening around the King of Chambord; many things that had happened around the King of Chambord were hard to understand. Prince Fairenton untied the cape from his armor and said, "Since this warrior named Lampard is very close to the King of Chambord, killing him would be like chopping off one of the King Alexander's arms. I think Alexander would be deeply saddened by it! Hahaha!"

"Your Highness, are you going to battle him yourself?" the commanders around him were shocked.

"Is there anyone else who could take him on?" the prince put on his helmet and asked.

All the commanders around him didn't an answer to that question.

The Jax Empire did have masters, but there wasn't one around here. They thought that this troop that had Prince Fairenton who was an Eight-Star Warrior as its head commander would dominate over Dual-Flags City, but the appearance of the monster-like King of Chambord completely turned it around. Although there were more soldiers on Jax's side, they lacked in the department of masters!

Right now, the prince even had to deal with a normal commander on the side of the enemies himself! To the generals on the side of Jax, this was a huge embarrassment for them.

Chapter 426: Change (Part One)

Perhaps he also felt like he was being a bit too aggressive, Fairenton slowly added, “The situation we are facing aren’t you guy’s fault; it is the Military Headquarter that made the incorrect decisions. Therefore, don’t be too harsh on yourselves. Make sure that you all protect this command center.”

As he finished saying that and was about to walk out, one mid-aged man beside him suddenly said, “Junior Brother, since you are the Head Commander of this troop, you shouldn’t fight at a time like this. Let me help you.”

A thankful expression appeared on Fairenton’s face, but he still shook his head and said, “Their most powerful warrior, the King of Chambord, hasn’t shown himself yet. Please maintain your peak state and be ready for him.”

“Is this Alexander really that powerful?” the other mid-aged man asked.

“He is really powerful. He is able to defeat me with one strike, so he must be very close to the realm of Moon-Class. Two Senior Brothers, please don’t underestimate him,” Fairenton said.

“Since this is the case, we will wait for him,” the two mid-aged men respected this Junior Brother of theirs, and they listened to his words.

“Thanks, Senior Brothers.”

As Fairenton thanked the two mid-aged men and was about to attack, changes occurred again; noises came from the south side of the campsites.

A level 2 Sand Tiger appeared, and the scout on it jumped off and reported as he single-kneeled down, “Your Highness! 3,000 cavaliers of Zenit suddenly appeared to the south of us, and they are attacking us from the right!”

“Perfect!” Fairenton laughed as he looked at the south direction and said, “I thought this would happen. Tell the soldiers on the right not to move! Keep up the U-shape formation and trap the enemies! Tell General Dinak who is leading the soldiers in the middle formation to send 10,000 Sand Tiger Cavaliers to destroy these cavaliers of Zenit!”

“As you wish!”

That scout jumped back onto the horse and rushed towards General Dinak. Soon, a team of Sand Tiger Cavaliers separated off from the central formation and charged at the cavaliers of Zenit that newly appeared in the south.

Fairenton’s original plan was disrupted, and he didn’t get the chance to attack those 6,000 cavaliers of Zenit yet. As he was about to, something strange happened to those cavaliers.

After the initial ferociousness, those cavaliers of Zenit lost their momentum. The former No.1 Warrior of Chambord, Lampard, used a lot of his Warrior Energy as well, and the damage he could do significantly diminished. Although the 6,000 cavaliers were still charging forward, their speed was a lot slower.

If this trend continued, even if these 6,000 cavaliers could get through the defense line of Jax, 90% of them would be killed. Also, even if that 10 % of the cavaliers successfully charged through the defense line of Jax, they won’t have the opportunity to enter the city as the soldiers of Jax would chase after them.

“This team of cavaliers is done for..... this Head Commander of Zenit surely treats his soldiers like mud; he is willing to use these 6,000 elite soldiers as bait to buy time.....” Fairenton was known for his love for his soldiers; he really did view them as precious human beings. However, after he sighed after the surprise, he thought for a while and commanded, “Pass my order! Circle these cavaliers and don’t kill them yet. They are still useful to me.”

As soon as he said that, another scout rushed towards him.

“Your Highness! The scouts in the desert reported the discovery of another troop of Zenit 2.5 kilometers away. There are 3,000 cavaliers and 10,000 infantrymen. They have a lot of heavy carts with supplies on them, and they are closing in!” that scout reported.

“Great! Continue the monitoring and report back to me when something changes!”

“As you wish!”

After Fairenton sent that scout away, he nodded in satisfaction. From the reports that he got, he gradually understood the plan of Zenit. He looked at the watchtower on the west gate of Dual-Flags City and thought, “Is that man there observing the battle as well? When is he going to move?”

The prince was really concerned about that man. He knew that the King of Chambord would cause a lot of trouble for him. If these two Senior Brothers of his weren’t here today, perhaps history would repeat itself, and this reinforcement of Zenit would easily enter Dual-Flags City just like what happened a few days ago.

“Although I have made several plans today and have the help from these two Senior Brothers, I probably still couldn’t kill the King of Chambord,” he thought.

At this moment, more noises sounded from the west side of the campsites. The flags of Zenit with the two-headed polar bear on them appeared with the dust.

Chapter 426: Change (Part Two)

“Your Highness! Cavaliers of Zenit appeared to the west of us! They are charging towards us from the left,” another scout rushed over to report.

“Tell the soldiers on the left not to move! Keep up the U-shape formation and trap the enemies! Tell General Dinak to send another 10,000 Sand Tiger Cavaliers to stop these cavaliers of Zenit!” Fairenton ordered calmly; it seemed like all of this was within his expectations.

“Your Highness, we already sent out 20,000 soldiers. If we continue to split up soldiers from the formation in the middle, there would be less than 20,000 soldiers left! That isn’t a lot of soldiers! If those soldiers of Zenit 2.5 kilometers away merge with these 6,000 cavaliers and attack the middle formation, our soldiers might not be able to fend them off,” a commander beside Fairenton spoke up and expressed his worries.

“Don’t worry. I got it! We know that they already split out 12,000 cavaliers from their legion, and most of the soldiers in [Wolf Teeth Legion] now are infantrymen who have to protect the heavy and slow carts with supplies on them. How could they charge through our defense line?” with a confident smile on his face, he continued, “If all they could do is this, then they are too naive! Even if we only have 10,000 soldiers in the middle formation, as long as they could fend off the enemies for 15 minutes, the formations on the two sides would be able to close in and surround the enemies. By then, all of the reinforcement of Zenit would be trapped and killed in front of Dual-Flags City…… I’m worried that they won’t come!”

“So, this is why Your Highness didn’t move the troops to the east and battle with [Wolf Teeth Legion] head-on,” some of the commanders behind Fairenton realized the prince’s strategy.

The prince nodded and said, “Although our soldiers are brave and ferocious, there are more than 30,000 soldiers in [Wolf Teeth Legion] after all. We could win in a head-on battle, but we would suffer 800 casualties just to kill 1,000 enemies. And if the King of Chambord decided to raid us from behind, we would be in trouble. However, it would be a different situation if we play the defensive game. The reinforcement of Zenit needs to hurry and enter Dual-Flags City, and we could penalize them for this and take it slow. Unlike us, the soldiers of Zenit aren’t used to battling in the desert, and they might not even have the expertise to find water sources. Without solid defense walls and firm structures around them, the reinforcement of Zenit would lose morale in less than a week.”

There were a few things that Fairenton didn’t share.

Since Fei burned the majority of Jax’s food supplies, what they had now could only last all the soldiers two days even though the soldiers were consuming 30% less food. If they had to travel more and raid the enemies, the consumption of food would be too much. Also, with his Senior Brothers from Big Snow Mountain here, he was also planning to lure the King of Chambord out and kill or injure him. If everything went according to plan, he would let the reinforcement from Zenit to get through the defense line, and he would order all the soldiers of Jax to charge forward when Dual-Flags City opened up the gate. If the King of Chambord was tied down by those two Senior Brothers of his, he could even successfully conquer Dual-Flags City today.

“Your Highness, we have already put so many resources to the traps on the west side of Dual-Flags City. What if they decided to go into Dual-Flags City through the gate on the north?” someone asked.

Dual-Flags City only had two gates, one on the west side and one on the north side. The soldiers of Jax had surrounded the city from all three sides except north, and this was a strategy to shake up the minds of the people in Dual-Flags City and try to get them to escape. Even though everyone on the side of Jax knew about this, it would be a dangerous situation if their enemies used this “loophole”.

Fairenton shook his head.

Others might not know about it, but he was hoping that the reinforcement of Zenit would go through the north gate. A ton of magic arrays and magic traps had been set up there, and a few teams of elite soldiers were camping there in secrecy; it would be a hell on earth if their enemies went through that.

“The patience the King of Chambord is exhibiting is spectacular.”

Fairenton frowned and thought, “The King of Chambord isn’t going to make his move? Is he just going to let these 6,000 elite cavaliers die here?” he thought.

It was clear that the 6,000 cavaliers led by Lampard were all surrounded, and they slowed down significantly. Although they didn’t suffer a lot of casualties, it was because that the soldiers of Jax got their orders from Prince Fairenton. If the order changed, these soldiers of Jax could easily destroy these cavaliers of Zenit.

Suddenly, a scout rushed over on a level 2 Sand Tiger.

“Your Highness, that troop of Zenit with a ton of heavy carts was moving fast, but it suddenly stopped moving 500-meters from us!” the scout reported.

“500-meters away?” a light appeared in Fairenton’s eyes as if he thought of something. After he thought for a few seconds, he commanded, “Tell the middle formation to open a small path and let those 6,000 cavaliers get through.....”

“Your Highness, this.....” the commanders around him were all shocked.

“It is ok. We will let them go through slowly. Even if half of them get through, they would have a hard time entering the city with our men chasing after them. After all, if we aren’t willing to make this sacrifice, how could we lure in the main troop of [Wolf Teeth Legion]?”

Chapter 427: How Dare You Challenge My King? (Part One)

“As you wish!”

Although the generals on the side of Jax were ferocious warriors, they weren’t stupid. A lot of them were experienced, and they instantly understood the prince’s intent.

Several commands were passed down, and the middle formation that locked down the 6,000 cavaliers opened up a narrow path subtly while tightening the formation in other places

Although Lampard wasn't a great commander, his warrior's instinct quickly discovered this change. After he roared, he charged towards that narrow path and tried to lead the cavaliers of Zenit through.

"Great!" Fairenton who was monitoring this area on the hill praised.

He was praising the soldiers of Jax.

Ever since Emperor Fuji inherited the throne 26 years ago during a troubled time, he was able to endure the pain and the shame and consolidate power to save the Jax Empire that was on the verge of collapse. Although these 60,000 soldiers of Jax weren't the elite soldiers, the military orders were stilling being followed strictly! Even Prince Fairenton who just became the Head Commander of this troop was able to use the soldiers swiftly. This just went to prove how powerful the military of Jax was and how mighty Emperor Fuji was. To put it simply, Emperor Fuji was the only reason why the people of Jax dared to declare war against the Zenit Empire when Emperor Yassin was still alive.

Emperor Fuji was like the spiritual pillar of the Jax Empire, and he was the god in the eyes of the citizens of Jax.

Throughout the history of the Jax Empire, there had never been an emperor who had this much influence and was this well received by the people.

Even Fairenton who was an Eight-Star Warrior at a young age and had been training in the Cultivation Saint Land – Big Snow Mountain respected and admired his father who he only met twice in the last ten years.

The 6,000 cavaliers of Zenit were speeding up, and they were about to break through the defense line put up by the central formation of Jax.

The chilling light in Fairenton's eyes glowed brighter and brighter!

“As long as the troop of Zenit 500-meters from here charges in and enters the trap that I have set up, I would be able to send out orders and close the trap. Once I destroy [Wolf Teeth Legion], Dual-Flags City would be an isolated city that is easy to conquer.....” as the prince was thinking about that, a series of clip-clopping noises sounded, and sand grains flew into the air as if an earth dragon was flying in the sky.

In just a few seconds, a few Sand Tiger Cavaliers rushed in. They jumped off their mounts and single-kneeled as they reported, “Your Highness! General Kendo has an urgent report! The cavaliers of Zenit that were headed to the Death Ancient City have already entered the city!” the voices of those scouts were shaking.

As members of Jax, they knew about this Death Ancient City that stood in their territories for ages. Knowing that the cavaliers of Zenit actually passed through the red quicksand moat and the hundreds of millions of Berserk Metal-Eating Ants, they were all shocked.

“What?! How is that possible?” Fairenton was shocked as well. He quickly walked forward for a few steps, and he shouted, “How..... how did they enter?”

“Your Highness, when General Erdous and General Kendo arrived at the Death Ancient City, the soldiers of Zenit already entered it. We don’t know how they entered the city, but a lot of flags with the two-headed polar bear on them were fluttering on the watchtowers on the defense wall, and a lot of the soldiers of Zenit were patrolling around. General Erdous and General Kendo sent out 100 elite Sand Tiger Cavaliers to try to pass through the red quicksand moat, but..... but.....” a terrified expression appeared on this scout’s face when he got to this part; it felt like he remembered something horrific.

Fairenton didn’t ask any more questions.

The combination of the quicksand moat and the Berserk Metal-Eating Ants was horrific, and he had seen it with his own eyes before. He knew that those 100 cavaliers didn’t end up living.

After sensing the silence in the air, that scout braved up and asked carefully, “Your Highness, General Erdous and General Kendo want to know what they should do next.”

Fairenton looked at the direction of Death Ancient City and felt funny. “The battle that was under my control is no longer clear..... something is outside of my calculations! What does this mean?” Fairenton quickly threw those thoughts out of his head and said, “Tell General Erdous and General Kendo to lead the Sand Tiger Cavaliers back immediately!”

“As you wish!” the scouts hopped back onto their mounts and dashed away.

“How could the cavaliers of Zenit enter Death Ancient City? Could it be..... Spatial Teleportation?”

Fairenton was very shocked by this news, and he immediately thought of spatial magic. However, he soon rejected this hypothesis. Spatial magic was scarce, and only the elite forces of the level 8 and level 9 empires could use Magic Teleportation Arrays. How could a small level 1 empire be able to have such rare strategic-level resources?

Chapter 427: How Dare You Challenge My King? (Part Two)

At this moment, several scouts rushed back from all directions.

“Your Highness, the cavaliers of Zenit to the south of us ran away! We lost their traces.....”

“Your Highness, the cavaliers of Zenit to the west of us also disappeared! We tried to chase after them, but they were too fast.....”

“Your Highness, the troop of Zenit that was 500-meters away also disappeared..... our men discovered more than 40 rigged carts with a few tents, some tree branches, and non-valuable items on them.....”

The more reports Fairenton got, the more shocked he was. A flash of lightning appeared in his head, and he immediately understood something. He looked at the 6,000 cavaliers of Zenit that was about to get through the central formation and shouted frantically, “Pass my order, pass my order! Kill them! Kill all of them!”

As if it was a response to the prince’s order, loud booming noises sounded on the battlefield. Silver lights lit up the region as cracking bolts of lightning appeared out of nowhere. Like grass under a sickle, the soldiers of Jax screamed as they were taken down. The last few cavaliers of Zenit successfully charged through the defense line of Jax and dashed towards Dual-Flags City.

“That..... that is..... that is a high-level Combat Technique! That man named Lampard is using his high-level Combat Technique! Isn’t he depleted of his Warrior Energy? What is going on? How is he capable of using such a powerful technique?” Fairenton looked at this former No.1 Warrior of Chambord and suddenly realized that he ignored something else.

The 6,000 cavaliers of Zenit suffered less than 10% casualties and somehow got through the central formation of Jax.

Not too far away, the metal gate of Dual-Flags City was being lowered. That ear-piercing metal creaking noise sounded like a mocking laugh in Fairenton’s ears.

Soon, the gate opened and was ready to let in these cavaliers. On top of the defense wall, the soldiers inside Dual-Flags City were cheering and clapping.

“Two Senior Brothers, please attack them!”

Fairenton understood the situation now. The members of [Wolf Teeth Legion] who needed to enter the city were these 6,000 cavaliers! There must be a lot of administrative staffs hidden among them! Under rush, Fairenton couldn’t think of anything else. He instantly asked those two Senior Brothers of his to attack. He wanted to force out the King of Chambord; if that happened and the King of Chambord was tied down by his Senior Brothers, there was still hope in conquering Dual-Flags City today! As long as the 60,000 soldiers of Jax charged towards the city when the gate was open, they could potentially have the victory.

Whoosh!

Whoosh!

The two mid-aged men dashed toward Dual-Flags City as they shouted, “Alexander, come out here and accept your death!”

A ton of Warrior Energy was embedded in the shouts, and their thunder-like voices instantly covered the noises made by the soldiers who were battling each other.

Master Warriors!

The two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain finally made their moves!

They were both fire-elemental warriors, and their energies were being fully unleashed. Red flames covered the sky, and the two of them looked like two red suns that were burning ferociously. As the temperature in the surroundings increased drastically, the desert became even less humid. Then, waves of Warrior Energies expanded outward and smashed onto the cavaliers of Zenit who were trying to make it into the city.

Boom! Boom!

The two of them punched out with their fists, and four fire dragons appeared and rushed forward. As the dragons roared and passed by, hundreds of cavaliers who were at the back of the team couldn't dodge and were all hit. Their flesh and their mounts were turned into dust, and their metal armors and weapons were liquified.

Unimaginable power!

After seeing the strength of the warriors on their side, the soldiers of Jax cheered loudly.

"Pass my order! Tell all the soldiers to charge toward Dual-Flags City! The person who gets to the gate first and holds it open shall be rewarded with 10,000 gold coins, and he would be promoted up three levels!" Fairenton shouted, and all the soldiers of Jax were stimulated as they rushed forward.

"Aren't you going to show yourself, King Alexander?"

The two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain landed on the ground and instantly leaped into the air again. Their Warrior Energies got even more aggressive, and everything around them started to burn; even several flags on the defense wall were on fire.

With supreme power, the two Master Warriors dashed towards the watchtower on the west gate.

All the soldiers of Zenit on the defense wall were stunned.

The invincible appearance of these two Master Warriors scared a lot of them; after all, a mighty warrior could even deter military forces!

Those nobles and their personal soldiers were almost crapping their pants; if Fei didn't traumatize them, they would have turned around and run away.

The situation was very dangerous.

If those two Master Warriors got onto the defense wall, they would wipe out all the soldiers of Zenit in three seconds. Once they gained control of the mechanisms in the watchtower and opened the gate for the invaders of Jax, Dual-Flags City would be conquered.....

“Hahaha! Where are you dogs from? How dare you challenge my king?”

At this moment, loud laughter sounded amongst the cavaliers who just entered the city. Then, as lightning flashed, a strong figure jumped up with his fists clenched. It seemed like the violent power of the lightning was within his control, and a ton of sparks and flashes of lights appeared around him.

This man's powerful presence wasn't weaker compared to those two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain!

Chapter 428: So Many Powerful Warriors? (Part One)

“[Lighting Speed Fists]!”

A deep yet mighty shout sounded, and that figure who just jumped up pulled his fists back behind him. With this simple move, it seemed like he had grasped the lightning around him. When he punched out, a lightning bolt splashed out and created a series of lightning webs that cut the space into many small pieces.

The lightning bolt that was the size of a big python dashed towards the one of the two Master Warriors.

“Fangs of Fire!”

After seeing the life-threatening danger, that mid-aged man shouted as he made several hand signs. He was so fast that his hands left a series of afterimages in the air, and those afterimages together looked like a lotus that was blossoming. All of the fires in the sky suddenly consolidated into two sharp fangs, and they enveloped each of his fists.

Boom! He punched out, and those two fangs shot out.

A series of loud explosions sounded as the lightning bolt and the fire fangs collided, and the energy waves expanded outward from the center of the collision. The energy waves pushed the sand grains away, and the whirlwinds created by the crash were swirling around and were strong enough to shake the earth.

All of this happened in a split second, but one of the two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain was tied down and wasn't able to attack the watchtower on the west gate.

At the same time, the other Master Warrior was also stopped.

An icy blue arrow dashed at this Master Warrior's forehead. This arrow didn't make any sound, and it couldn't be sensed at all.

Magic arrow!

That mid-aged man was shocked.

As soon as he saw this arrow, he sensed the terrifying and murderous intent from it. He smelled death, but he felt like his body was already locked onto. Before the arrow even hit him, he already sensed a considerable amount of pain on his forehead, his body was chilling down, and he felt like his fire-elemental Warrior Energy was having issues traveling through his body.

Icy magic arrow was a great counter for fire-elemental Warrior Energy.

"Fire Blade!"

That mid-aged man shouted as he grasped his hand. All of the fire around him solidified and turned into a huge battle blade that was about six-meters long and had a ton of glowing magic arrays on it. When he chopped down with it, people felt like the sky and the earth were going to be chopped in half.

Boom!

The fire blade and the icy magic arrow collided.

In the next moment, a ton of huge ice blocks fell onto the burning fire. There was a lot of vapor, and rainbows even appeared. In this battle between ice and fire, it was a draw.

As the four Master Warriors battled each other, four types of violent and destructive energies shot in all directions. The soldiers of Jax who were planning to charge forward were forced to stop. Some of the soldiers who were about 500-meters away from this battle were either burned to death, froze into ice, or struck into corpses.

“This..... how could there be so many Master Warriors on the side of Zenit?” Fairenton couldn’t believe his eyes.

Both of his Senior Brothers were fire elemental Nine-Star Warriors. After years of cultivation in Big Snow Mountain, their accumulation of Warrior Energies had far exceeded him. His master even said that both of these Senior Brothers of his could potentially become Moon-Class Elites in less than ten years.

These two Senior Brothers were the backbone of Big Snow Mountain. Fairenton thought that they were enough to handle the King of Chambord, and he would be able to seize the opportunity and conquer Dual-Flags City. However, before these two Senior Brothers of his could even make it into Dual-Flags City, they were stopped by other warriors.....

“Who are they? Who the fu*k are they?” he thought.

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

Boom! Boom! Boom! Boom!

A series of explosions sounded in front of Dual-Flags City.

The lightings collided with the fangs of fire repeatedly, and they were even.

The icy blue arrows collided with the fire blade repeatedly, and they were even.

On one side, the two Master Warriors battled each other ferociously, and standard techniques and Combat Techniques were all used multiple times by both warriors. The tens of thousands of soldiers on both sides were stunned. They were all low-level soldiers, and they could never get to see a battle like this in their lifetime. Anyone who was less than the level of Three-Star couldn't even see where the two Master Warriors were! All they could see were afterimages! As the residual forces from the collisions hit them, they felt like blades were cutting them, and they had to back off.

Chapter 428: So Many Powerful Warriors? (Part Two)

On the other side, a beautiful figure was standing there firmly like a stone. As the magic energy surged around her, she shot out one arrow after another and perfectly countered the strikes of that fire blade. The temperature around her dropped, and the sound of ice forming resonated in the air.

However, as the ice block fell, they were instantly melted by the fire below them.

After each of the four Master Warriors gave a final attack, they stopped in unison.

Where they were fighting had fires burning on one side and an ice mountain standing on the other side.

Under the high heat from the fires and the lightning bolts, the sand in the area almost got turned into lava! The only thing keeping them in their original form was the coolness coming from the ice mountain.

"We didn't expect to encounter Master Warriors like you guys in this remote location," one man from Big Snow Mountain said with an earnest expression on his face as he looked at this man and woman.

"Which one of you is the King of Chambord?" the other man from Big Snow Mountain stepped forward and asked.

“You people of Jax aren’t qualified to challenge our king!” Lampard said as he stepped forward. He was showering in thick lightning, and he looked dominating.

At this moment, he had already summoned his Leo Constellation Star Saint Set. The black Saint Armor that had 108 magical components completely covered this tough man, and this black armor looked vicious but somehow also seemed like an art piece; it redefined what an armor could look like. The Star Saint Set perfectly fitted Lampard’s body, and it gave people the feeling that it was alive! The fanciness, haughtiness, and dominance of the Leo Constellation were completely demonstrated.

The lightning that was striking down from the sky was more than ten meters in diameter, and it enveloped Lampard. When the mask component of the Star Saint Set covered up Lampard’s face, the only thing on Lampard that was being revealed was his long red hair that was fluttering in the lightning. With the light from this lightning, people were finally able to see this man’s eyes; the lights that were shooting out of his eyes felt like two sharp blades, making people sensing the pain when he looked at them.

“I’m Frank Lampard, a Golden Saint Seiya under the King of Chambord’s command!” the Leo Saint Seiya stated his name.

Beside him, there stood a Valkyrie with long red hair as well.

She was wearing a light blue magic armor. Although an ordinary black mask covered her face, the gorgeous outline of her face still made many people wanting to worship her beauty. She was wearing a pair of red boots with magic arrays on them, and her magic armor only covered her thighs, her butt, her chest, and her shoulders. A portion of her beautiful legs, waist, and collar bones were revealed, and that was enough to make any man go nuts. On top of all that, she was also wearing a pair of long and black translucent gloves, and that emphasized her pretty hands that were handling the bow and the arrows.

It felt like the gods gave the best features of a woman to her, and she was an unparalleled beauty.

However, the people in the area didn’t dare to have any wrong ideas; this girl standing on the ice mountain made a lot of them feel a chill in their spines! After all, this girl was able to defend against the strikes from a Master Warrior from Big Snow Mountain!

“Chambord, Elena,” with no emotions on her face, Elena told everyone who she was.

The two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain looked at each other in unison; they were shocked. “Both of these powerful warriors are subordinates of King Alexander? What kind of monster is King Alexander? From the look of things, it seems like he is even more powerful than these two!” they thought.

Far away on the sand hill, Prince Fairenton was dumbfounded!

“How is this possible? Senior Brother Anita and Eino are both Nine-Star Warriors from Big Snow Mountain! They used all of their strength, and they are still blocked? But..... since when did Lampard and Elena become so powerful? From the intelligence report I got from the Military Headquarter not too long ago, it stated that one of them is a Four-Star Warrior and the other one is a Six-Star Warrior. What happened in the last few weeks? With the help of these two and the King of Chambord who hadn’t even shown himself yet, how could I conquer Dual-Flags City?” he thought.

Chapter 429: Shocking Strength Increase (Part One)

The two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain were already concerned.

The gate of Dual-Flags City was right in front of them, but they couldn’t move forward anymore.

They thought that even if the King of Chambord was as powerful as their Junior Brother Fairenton said to be, they could still take care of him. However, they couldn’t even take care of two of King Alexander’s subordinates!

Only a master could understand another master! After battling their opponents for a while, Anita and Eino could already tell that this man and this woman weren’t a lot weaker than them! It would be hard for them to win in a short time. In terms of challenging the King of Chambord? They would need to use the majority of their Warrior Energies to defeat these two warriors in front of them, so it would be impossible for them to battle the King of Chambord after that.

After Fairenton gave another command, the bugle sounded, and the soldiers of Jax backed off a little.

What was happening completely ruined this prince’s plan, and the influence mighty warriors had on wars was demonstrated again.

Fairenton looked at the watchtower on the west gate of Dual-Flags City from afar, and he was feeling all sorts of emotions.

Although there were a ton of people standing on top of the defense wall and he couldn't see if the King of Chambord was standing with them, the deterrent factor was there. When facing this king, he felt like the Combat Techniques and the military strategies that he was proud of couldn't be used! He felt restrained when he first met Fei, and that feeling worsened over time.

At this moment, the 5,000 cavaliers of Zenit that survived through the battle finally got into Dual-Flags City.

The last person who entered the city was riding a level 4 Roaring Flame Beast. With his hands on the rein, he looked through the gate and at the battlefield.

This person was also carrying a shorter and thinner person in his arms.

This person was a female! She was wearing a delicate helmet with the T-shaped guard on the front and a female armor. Her white and smooth skin was somewhat exposed, and her long black hair showed itself at the back of the helmet.

“Ok, Angela! You can open your eyes now! Are you scared?”

Fei lightly pulled on the rein and turned his mount around. As he looked at the battle between the four Master Warriors, he took off Angela's helmet and asked.

“No! Alexander, I'm not scared as long as you are around me,” although she was saying that, her eyes were still tightly shut. Perhaps it was due to the toughness of actually riding on the Roaring Flame Beast, she was sweating a whole lot due to the nervousness even though Fei was protecting her, but that also made her look cute.

After she said that, she slowly opened her eyes and tried to convince Fei that she was telling the truth.

“Alexander, are we through the defense line of the enemies?”

Fei laughed and kissed his fiancée's white cheek. He murmured into her ear, "Of course! We are already inside the city."

As the cranking noises and metal-gliding noises sounded, Angela finally let go of the breath she was holding in and fully opened her eyes. She looked up at Fei with proudness in her eyes as she said, "Alexander, this counts as me fighting alongside you, right? I went on the battlefield with you, and I'm a brave queen."

Fei laughed.

The few weak females including Angela, Emma, the four maids, and the lazy [Fallen Princess] Victoria all got into the city, and they were all hiding inside this team of cavaliers.

Fei was planning to send them to Death Ancient City; that way, they won't be in danger, and they didn't need to see the bloody and horrifying scenes on the battlefield where blood, limbs, and corpses were everywhere. However, for the first time, Angela disagreed with Fei and wanted to stay by his side.

Since Death Ancient City had been unoccupied for hundreds of years and Dual-Flags City had a lot more facilities, Fei decided to bring his fiancée and the girls into Dual-Flags City alongside the administrative staffs.

With only 6,000 cavaliers, it should be almost impossible for them to get through the defense line of Jax since quite a lot of them were administrative staffs who didn't know how to fight. However, under the strategies and planning of old Aryang, they got through with only about 500 to 1000 casualties. If the cavaliers were more coordinated, the number of death and injuries would be even less.

Chapter 429: Shocking Strength Increase (Part Two)

"Ah, are Emma and the girls ok?" Angela felt sweet after the kiss, but she immediately thought of her sister-like maids.

"Don't worry! They are all protected by warriors! They had entered the city before us!" as the gate of the city closed, Fei turned his mount around again and charged forward into the city with his fiancée.

Emma, the maids, and the guards were waiting for them. Fei asked the maids and Victoria to take care of Angela, and he escorted them into the Mayor's Mansion; that was where they would be living for the next while. After that, Fei rushed back onto the watchtower on the west gate.

After seeing Fei's returned, Drogba, Pierce, Huerk, Kanort and the scared nobles who were closely watching the fight were surprised; no one saw Fei leaving, and they thought Fei was still inside the watchtower.

"Sir!" they quickly single-kneeled down and saluted.

Fei waved his hand and signaled them to get up. Then, he quickly walked up and looked down at the battle.

After the short moment of pause, the four Master Warriors went at it again.

Three Warrior Energy surges and one Magic Energy surge erupted like volcanos. As fires burned, thick lightning bolts and ice blocks fell. The four types of power battled each other in front of the city, and the area in front of the west gate looked like a living hell.

For a moment, even the sunlight dimmed in contrast with the light emitted by this battle.

All the soldiers and commanders on both sides stared at and cheered on the Master Warriors on their sides.

It seemed like the four Master Warriors were still in an even situation.

Fei stood on the defense wall and nodded; it seemed like he didn't want to help out.

"Both these men who are wearing robes must be Senior Brothers of Fairenton....." Fei thought. When he sneaked into the campsites of Jax, Fairenton was referring to only one Senior Brother. "Why are there two now?" he thought.

Both of these men were Nine-Star Warriors, and they both cultivated ferocious fire-elemental Warrior Energy and could use several high-level Combat Techniques.

Nine-Star Warriors were rare in St. Petersburg; the number of them could be counted with one hand. Anyone who had this level of strength would be given noble status and resources as long as they expressed their willingness to serve the empire. However, two warriors of this level appeared on the enemy's side today, and that scared a lot of soldiers of Zenit.

However, the two Master Warriors on the side of Jax encountered their opponents.

Valkyrie Elena had been following Fei in Diablo World and completed many quests with him in the last while. Although most of the experience points went into her second Paladin Bloodline, she was still a level 80 Magic Archer. With the level 6 items Fei got for her in Diablo World, her combat ability was very close to a Nine-Star Warrior. Besides, she had fought a lot of bosses in Diablo World with Fei, and she accumulated a lot of experiences. All of those accumulate led to her strong presence today.

Under the sunlight, she was standing on the ice mountain and shooting out magic arrows one after another rhythmically. Her control of the tempo was perfect, and the sounds made by the bowstring vibration were like music to everyone's ears. With her present, one of the two Master Warriors from Big Snow Mountain couldn't move forward anymore.

On the other side, Lampard's ability was surprising.

The speed of cultivation this former No.1 Warrior of Chambord exhibited shocked Fei, and Fei couldn't understand it as well. Many things didn't add up; even though [Hulk Potion] improved his talent, his speed of cultivation was much faster than other warriors of Chambord.

Fei remembered that when Lampard was a Three-Star Warrior, he had water-elemental Warrior Energy. But since he switched over to lightning-elemental Warrior Energy, his strength improvement speed was too fast! Even though Fei had Diablo World behind him, he almost couldn't match up with Lampard's cultivation speed.

Chapter 430: Who Is It For? (Part One)

Although Lampard's strength increase was shocking and full of mysteries, Fei was glad to see that.

Fei had a lot of trust in this man who was like brothers with the old king and was like his uncle. Even though Lampard didn't talk much, Fei could sense the caring attitude this man had towards him.

Unlike the care originated from respect and loyalty such as the case of Pierce and Drogba, Lampard was more like an elder who wasn't good at expressing his emotions and was watching over Fei.

When Alexander was still an idiot, almost all the officials and nobles in Chambord were against him, and the Head Minister even tried to overthrow him. If Lampard didn't protect Alexander back then, Fei couldn't have had the opportunity to travel to this universe.

Besides, everyone had their secrets. Fei wasn't someone who wanted to control all aspects of others' lives, and this man was like an uncle to him.

Currently, Lampard was a mid-tier Eight Star Warrior. But with the empowerment from the Star Saint Set and the Star Energy this set pulled from the sky, his defense was on another level. With all these considered, his combat ability was also on the level of Nine-Star, and he wasn't at a significant disadvantage against this Nine-Star Warrior from Big Snow Mountain.

Fei could tell that Lampard was very experienced.

Usually, when a warrior suddenly got a lot of new power, he or she would have a hard time controlling it. As a result, they would lose to warriors who were on the same level but had more battle experiences. However, that wasn't the case for Lampard. His control of his Eight-Star Warrior Energy was almost close to perfection! He gave Fei the feeling that he wasn't new to this; Fei felt like Lampard had been an Eight-Star Warrior for more than ten years!

In fact, after some time, that Nine-Star Warrior from Big Snow Mountain was the one who fell into a disadvantage.

“Win! Win! Win! Win!”

More and more soldiers and commanders of Zenit who were standing on the defense wall swung their weapons and roared. With adrenaline rushing through their bodies, excitement appeared on their faces, and they felt like fires were flowing through their blood vessels instead of blood!

From the fear they felt when the two Master Warriors on the side of Jax showed up to the relief they felt when Lampard and Elena stopped them and to the excitement they felt when they found that these two Master Warriors who stopped the enemies were subordinates of King Alexander..... that emotional roller coaster was making them go crazy.

“We have Master Warriors too!”

“King Alexander is so powerful!”

A lot of the soldiers on the side of Zenit were thinking of the same thing, “Since the subordinates of King Alexander could stop these two powerful enemies, then King Alexander could easily take care of them, right?”

Although Fei only arrived here less than ten days ago, the series of events and incidents made the soldiers and residents in Dual-Flags City glorify Fei; he was almost a god in their minds.

At this time, the battle between the four Master Warriors reached the climax.

They were on two separate battlefields. Although they weren’t attacking each other that fast anymore, each strike contained a lot more power! Any movements made by them could cause a landslide, an avalanche, or a tsunami; the amount of damage that could be dished out by them was almost beyond the understanding of the ordinary people and soldiers.

Numerous magic symbols and glares flashed on the black defense wall of Dual-Flags City. The residual energy from the battle between the four Master Warriors hit the defense wall repeatedly, and the magic arrays on the defense wall and in the city automatically activated themselves to protect against it. Without these magic arrays, the defense wall that was more than 200-meters tall would have collapsed a long time ago.

This world was built on the Magic Civilization, and the power of magic would be demonstrated in wars the best.

As time passed by, the sun moved to the center of the sky.

A smile appeared on Fei’s face as the scale of victory was tilting towards Zenit.

After being strengthened by the [Hulk Potion], the toughness of Lampard’s body and the size of his Warrior Energy Channels were a lot better than his opponent. With the help of his Star Saint Set and the Star Energy, he outlasted his opponent as it looked like his opponent was about to run out of Warrior Energy.

Chapter 430: Who Is It For? (Part Two)

Elena got an even more significant advantage. Her icy arrows were a natural counter to the fire-elemental Warrior Energy, and this Valkyrie had a lot of mana potions in her storage space. She was able to recover her mana, but her opponent couldn't regenerate Warrior Energy that fast. Gradually, this man named Eino showed his weakness.

At this moment, changes occurred.

Two more dashes of red energies rushed towards the battlefield from the campsites of Jax.

They were also two Nine-Star Warriors! The powerful auras around them were scary, and it seemed like they were going to help out the losing Nine-Star Warriors.

Fei was shocked.

"Since when did so many Nine-Star Warriors arrive at the campsites of Jax? Did I poke the nest of Nine-Star Warriors?" he thought.

It was evident that these two new Master Warriors saw the disadvantage, and they were going to try to win using the numbers advantage.

As Fei frowned, slapped the battlement, and was about to stop those two new Nine-Star Warriors, roars sounded beside him as a few figures jumped out before him.

They were [Destructive Finger] Cech, [White-Haired Fast Sword] Pierce, [Black-Haired Vicious Fist] Drogba, and [Son of Wind] Torres.

As they roared again in mid-air, unique auras appeared around them as four huge black iron chests appeared on top of their heads out of nowhere. These chests opened, and each of them showed a set of fancy armor.

The armor above Cech's head looked like a huge scorpion. As if this armor had the life of its own, it separated itself into many components. After these components dashed at Cech, they completely covered him up.

The armor above Pierce's head looked like a metal goat. This "metal goat" had a pair of curly horns on its head, and they looked like two swirls of death. As if this "metal goat" came to life, it raised its head and roared before it turned into many components and covered Pierce's body.

The armor above Drogba's head looked like a ferocious bull, and the armor above Torres' head looked like a centaur with a bow in its hands. As both of these armors made a loud noise, they turned into black lights and covered their bodies.

All of this took place in just a few seconds.

Before the soldiers on both sides could react in time, the four men already completed their transformations. With artistic and vicious armors on them, they looked like four blood-thirsty battle beasts. As energy flames burned around them, they looked powerful and invincible.

In a few dashes, they separated themselves into two groups. Cech and Drogba went toward one enemy, and Torres and Pierce went toward the other!

Boom! Boom! Boom!

Aggressive battles took place immediately, and tens of thousands of soldiers on both sides started to cheer.

The impressive figures of the four warriors under King Alexander's command and their unique and cool transformations made the soldiers of Zenit fall into a state of thrill. They slapped their weapons and the battlements, and they all wanted to have the power of these four men so that they could fight the enemies as well.

Cheers also sounded from the side of Jax as they tried to back up their warriors.

Azeroth Continent worshipped strength, and it was even more extreme in the militaries. The battles like this where Master Warriors from each side fought each other were common on this continent. These Master Warriors didn't just represent the honor of the military; they also represented the glory and majesty of their empires and the royal families.

After seeing that the four warriors of Chambord jumped in to help, Fei knew that they were stimulated by watching the previous battle, and he decided not to help at the moment.

It was good to let his subordinates who had been cultivating in a “greenhouse” to experience deadly battles. The experiences they could get from battling Nine-Star Warriors would be precious!

Although the two new enemies were all Nine-Star Warriors, the four warriors of Chambord had empowerments from their Star Saint Sets, and they had been consuming [Hulk Potion]. They were a lot stronger than warriors on their levels. Even though they might not be able to get the victories, they could at least last a while.

Besides, Fei was close by, and he could jump in to help if anything went wrong.

Fei’s Barbarian character was now level 99, and he was pretty much invincible under the realm of Moon-Class. Since the skills in Diablo World were a lot more powerful, ordinary Nine-Star Warriors couldn’t even trouble Fei.

The only thing concerned Fei was the number of Nine-Star Warriors on the side of Jax.

“How did so many of them appear all of a sudden?”
