Chapter 552 Dimensions

Kyle just waited awkwardly in the room.

'Did I say something wrong?' he thought. 'I mean, yeah, my Momentum is strong. I know that. But come on, these are people several Realms higher than me. They've probably lived for thousands of years. They've seen better.'

A couple of seconds after she vanished, Lady Arrowstrife returned.

'That was fast,' Kyle thought.

"Your mission has changed," she said.

"Huh?" Kyle uttered. "Am I fired?"

"No," she answered. "Your target has changed. We planned on sending you to three potential organizations. A Higher Secondary, a Lower Primary, or a Higher Primary Organization."

"Oh, is that related to the worlds?" Kyle asked.

"A Lower Secondary Organization has leaders in the Primal or Compression Realms, while a Higher Secondary Organization has leaders in the Compression or Wisdom Fire Realms. These Realms exist in Secondary Worlds, but one of them is considered weaker, while the other one is considered stronger."

"Huh," Kyle said. "So, a Higher Primary Organization has someone in the Ninth or Tenth Realm?"

"The Fusion or Universe Realm, yes," Lady Arrowstrife said. "The organization we send you to depends on your talent and powers. After you've shown me your talent in the Law of Body, I wasn't sure if I should send you to the Lower Primary or Higher Primary Organizations."

"When you showed me that you already comprehended Yin-Fire, I was certain that I would send you to the Higher Primary Organization."

"But then you showed me that you also know Yin-Metal and told me about your plans. Many people aim to become Unique Transcendents, but only very few actually have the means to achieve that goal."

"Yet, your Momentum shows me that the chance of you becoming a Unique Transcendent is not only there but very high. As a Unique Transcendent, you have a chance of infiltrating an even stronger organization."

"We decided to take a risk with you."

"We will be sending you to infiltrate the Array of Stars."

Kyle blinked in shock. "I'm not sure that's a good idea. I mean, they recruited me already."

"That is not a problem," Lady Arrowstrife said. "The only person who knows you is one of the Tertiary World Managers. Tertiary World Managers of the Array of Stars are busy traveling through worlds and managing them, and when they return occasionally, they only frequent the headquarters and different Law Wells to further their power."

Kyle thought back to Magic Lady.

"How powerful is such a manager? " Kyle asked.

"They are mostly in the Universe Realm," Lady Arrowstrife answered.

Universe Realm.

Kyle saw the image of Magic Lady in his mind.

The Tenth Realm.

She was in the Tenth Realm!

Kyle had expected a lot, but he hadn't expected THAT much.

He had thought that she was in the Eighth or Ninth Realm, but she was actually in the Tenth Realm!

Someone in the Tenth Realm had arrived in his shitty apartment and politely recruited him.

That was akin to a billionaire coming to Kyle's apartment to personally recruit him for a job.

Magic Lady was actually someone who was even considered extremely powerful in the Supreme World!

"And I won't be frequenting the headquarters, I assume?" Kyle asked.

"All Higher Supreme Organizations have their headquarters in the Immortal Dimension," Lady Arrowstrife said. "Pulling a mere Seeker into the Immortal Dimension would damage their Karmic Luck."

"What's up with this Dimension stuff anyway?" Kyle asked.

"The Supreme World exists seven times, each iteration being in a different Dimension," Lady Arrowstrife said. "The reason for that is to minimize unnecessary death."

"Wait," Kyle said. "So, this planet we are currently on exists seven times?"

"Correct," she answered. "The Supreme World exists seven times. All the Laws, materials, planets, stars, and so on exist in every single Dimension. However, depending on how the living beings in the different planes act, some planets might still be full of natural resources, while others have huge cities, while even others do not have that planet because it was destroyed in a battle."

"And what Dimensions are there?" Kyle asked.

"The Hero Dimension is considered the most sacred and prosperous Dimension," Lady Arrowstrife said. "Only beings with a True Hero Aura can enter. A True Hero Aura is the ultimate Karmic Blessing."

"The Hero Dimension is a safe haven with almost no battles. Laws and resources are abundant since only the most virtuous people in the Cosmos can enter. Any Transcendent or stronger can enter this Dimension, as long as they have a True Hero Aura."

"The second-highest Dimension is the Immortal Dimension. Only beings in the Tenth Realm or higher can enter. It is important to note that descending a Dimension is easy, while ascending a Dimension is hard and expensive."

"People in the Hero Dimension can choose to enter the Immortal Dimension, even if they are not in the Tenth Realm, but people in the Immortal Dimension will find it difficult to enter the Hero Dimension since it is higher."

"Next comes the Mortal Dimension. Only people below the Fourth Realm may enter, unless you try to enter from the Immortal or Hero Dimension. People in the Tenth Realm do not go to the Mortal Dimension since a mere slip of power could kill billions of humans, eternally ruining their Karmic Luck. Meanwhile, Mortals do not have the power to ascend or descend Dimensions."

"Next comes the Main Dimension. This is where almost every being between the Fourth and Ninth Realms resides."

"After that comes the Beast Dimension. 80% of all beasts end up there. The other 20% enter the Main Dimension. When the beast population in the Main Dimension drops significantly, beasts from the Beast Dimension are pulled towards it. Beasts can not choose their Dimension. The Cosmos decides which Dimension a beast is in."

"Next comes the Elemental Dimension. It is a very chaotic Dimension with powerful Elementals that ravage and destroy everything around them. Entering the Elemental Dimension without being in the Tenth Realm results in almost certain death."

"Lastly, there's the Hell Dimension. Only beings with a True Sin Aura end up here. The resources are scarce, and you are surrounded by sinners."

Kyle remembered that some of the new recruits hadn't had a True Sin Aura.

"What about the other recruits without one?" he asked. "I mean, we are in the Hell Dimension, right?"

"They are anchored here. Pulling them down to the Hell Dimension from the Main Dimension isn't difficult. However, pushing someone to the Main Dimension from the Hell Dimension is exceedingly difficult, and it's even more difficult to keep them there."

"Even worse, whenever anything enters the Beast Dimension, Main Dimension, or higher, the Cosmos analyzes the being."

"Anything entering the higher Dimensions from the Elemental or Hell Dimensions has to either be a powerful Elemental that learned how to travel Dimensions or someone who has or used to have a True Sin Aura."

"Elementals are killed off, while people with a former or current Sin Aura are investigated."

"If you've received your True Sin Aura while already inside the Hell Dimension, you're suspicious, and the Cosmos resists your ascension to the higher Dimension."

"If you've never (Joined the telegram channel, its time to do it <https://t.me/REtILYcMCVlxZDk1>) had a True Sin Aura but come from there, you are also not allowed to ascend. You can view it as breaking into a prison and then asking to be let out. You might not be a prisoner, but the warden won't believe you."

"But since you've condensed your True Sin Aura in a Tertiary World, the origin of your True Sin Aura is not suspicious. According to the Cosmos, you are just someone who changed their way."

"In short, you will not meet your former Tertiary World Manager since you can't enter the Immortal Dimension," Lady Arrowstrife said.

'Huh,' Kyle thought. 'That's kinda crazy.'

'It's also crazy that (we are charlie kirk) I'm going to (fart) be sent to the Array of Stars.'
