

He kissed me

Hunter's POV.

"Fu.ck it. "

I cursed and slammed my lips on her sweet, juicy lips, which I had wanted to taste again since the moment I rst kissed her. Though it was for a fraction of a second, I got addicted to her lips.

When I entered my room a few minutes earlier, it smelled like her, making my wolf restless. I was pacing around the room to calm my beast down. Then I saw her coming out of my bathroom wearing one of my sweatshirts.

O, Goddess!

I had no idea my boring sweatshirt could be so sexy, or it became because she wore it.

I swallowed hard to nd my voice. I had to make everything clear to her and.... to me?

I told her that I had a girlfriend and I loved her. Her expression changed after hearing my confession. Her innocent, big, bright, blue eyes started tearing up. She was angry. I lost control when she called me a selsh jerk.

How dare she?

I pinned her to a wall, and I regretted my action the next moment. Her closeness made me lose my last string of control, and now I was sucking and nipping her soft, sinfully pink lips, drinking in her sweet taste. I took her bottom lip between my teeth, slightly biting on it, and she opened her mouth in a gasp. I took the opportunity to thrust my tongue inside her sweet intoxicating mouth. The moment my tongue touched hers, I was lost.

Sh.it.

I was totally wasted. Her hands clenching my shirt, pulling me closer, encouraged me to take a step ahead. I moved my lips on her jawline, leaving a trail of wet kisses. My lips moved down the length of her neck and stopped at her marking spot.

Why did I have a strong urge to mark her then and there? My canines came out elongating, and the moment my teeth grazed her neck, she pushed me away with all her strength. I was startled and took a step back.

She was breathing heavily. Her mouth was slightly open. Her eyes were half-closed due to our intense kiss.

I turned my back, clenching my sts to my sides.

What the hell was I going to do? Had I really lost my mind? I need to stay away from her.

"You.. you stay away from me," I told her, whispering more likely to me, and I barged out of the room.

I couldn't take the risk of staying with her in the same room until I gured out what was wrong with me.

I mind linked Dylan that I was staying with him tonight. I went for a run to slow down the adrenaline rushing in my body.

Roseline's POV.

I woke up alone in the room. Hunter never came back. Maybe he went to his girlfriend to spend his night with her.

An awful feeling rose in my heart with this thought. He made it clear last night that he loved his girlfriend.

Okay!

Fine!

I could endure this as I didn't expect anything from this marriage.

I heard a knock on the door, and it clicked open. I covered myself under the duvet. Evelyn poked her head inside.

"Good morning."

I smiled to see her. "Good morning. "

"How did you sleep last night?" She asked, and then she looked at the sweatshirt covering my body and squeaked, "O Goddess! I am sorry, I forgot to ask you about sleepwear last night, and you had to sleep in these boring sweats of Hunter."

Oh, you had no idea how comfortably I slept last night in this sweatshirt.

"It's alright ." I smiled.

"Where is Hunter?" She asked, looking around for Hunter. I shrugged because I didn't have any clue about him.

"Okay, get up and get ready. After breakfast, we go shopping. You need a dress for today's ceremony. "She hurriedly pulled the duvet down my body, dragging me out of bed and pushing me slightly inside the bathroom. I giggled at her impatience.

I shut the bathroom door and started nishing morning business, followed by a quick shower. Then, I remembered that today was Hunter's coronation, and our marking and mating rituals would be performed after his coronation.

Hell!

I was in great trouble.

Last night he told me to stay away. What would I do if he marked and mated with me? How could I control myself to maintain distance? As I had heard, couples couldn't help keep their hands off each other after marking and mating.

Oh, moon goddess, please give me some strength.

After an hour, we left for shopping. Dylan was our chauffeur for today. He took us to the mall.

Dylan and Evelyn were teasing and stealing glances at each other, and from their body language, I could tell they were attracted to each other.

Okay! Here was a little love story growing, and I was excited to see how it would end. I just hoped that they both would express their feelings to each other.

After wandering in the mall for three hours, we nally found a dress for me to wear on tonight's special occasion, and with that, we shopped for many more dresses and accessories.

At the time of billing, I opened my wallet to give my card for payment, but Evelyn stopped me.

"Oh no. You don't need to worry about bills. Hunter gave me his platinum card with an unlimited credit limit. "She winked at me.

He really had given his card for my shopping bills?

I shook my head. It wasn't a big deal for a rich Alpha like him.

After shopping, she took me for lunch, then we returned to the pack house, and I began arranging my stuff in Hunter's room.

Samantha came into my room.

"Roseline, Did you get a dress for yourself?" She asked, and I nodded.

"Ummm... Rose ... your parents couldn't make it come to today's ceremony." She said hesitantly, and my eyebrows shot up.

"I was waiting to meet them," I said, my voice becoming heavy due to disappointment.

"I know, my dear. But they sent us a message that your father is busy looking after security arrangements as your brother... is still busy mating with his mate." She said, blushing.

Oh.

Now I got it.

I nodded in understanding.

"You take some rest. I'll see you in the evening." Saying she left.

In the evening, Evelyn and Samantha helped me prepare for the ceremony. First, they did my makeup and hair. Then, I wore the red gown bought for tonight's ceremony. After wearing my gown and nishing my makeup and hair, I checked myself in the mirror.

Wow.

I looked really nice and different.

"Thank you, Evelyn and ... mother. "I hesitated. I was not used to calling anyone this other than my mother. But I would slowly get used to calling Samantha mother.

"Oh, dear. You look so pretty. Hunter couldn't take his eyes off of you. "Samantha said, making me blush. Little did she know that he wouldn't be affected by my looks.

But I didn't want to spoil their mood by disclosing my last night's conversation with Hunter. So I just smiled.

They took me to the venue where I saw Hunter for the rst time after our encounter last night.

He was standing there in a navy suit, talking to a group of people, looking as handsome as hell. I was lost, staring at him for a few moments. Evelyn slightly shook my arm.

"I know my brother is looking very handsome tonight. But he is all yours. You can eat him after the ceremony."

She winked at me and leaned to my side.

She whispered in a hushed voice, "I have seen your room for the mating ritual. I must tell you, the room is gorgeous ." And I blushed hard, turning crimson red.

"You are blushing, Rose. "She giggled, and I slapped her hand.

"Shut up, Evelyn." I gasped. What if someone would listen to us?

And she laughed aloud, making me chuckle too. Alpha Anthony came on the stage, announcing that the coronation was about to start. I saw a girl coming beside Hunter wrapping her arms around his neck and slightly pecking at his cheeks.

My smile disappeared in an instant. She was really a beauty with her gorgeous face and perfect gure.

Hunter hugged her waist and smiled at her with so much adoration.

I felt jealousy stung my heart. I turned towards Evelyn, who was also watching them in worry.

"Who is that girl?" I asked.

"Umm She is Clara. She is..."She trailed off, so I completed her sentence, "... His girlfriend? "

She sighed in response, and I got my answer.

Alpha Anthony called us on the stage. Hunter moved away from that girl, Clara. Evelyn took my hand and led us to the stage.

"My pack members, Today, I am so happy to announce that I will pass my legacy and crown to my son Hunter Knight." Alpha Anthony started, and pride and joy were noticeable in his voice.

"He truly deserves to be the Alpha of the Blue moon pack, not because he is my son, but because he cares for you all and keeps our pack above his life. I have personally tested and tried him so many times, and he always did his best to my expectations. So, today I am announcing Hunter as the new Alpha of the Blue moon pack ."

And with this, loud cheers and howls erupted through the sky, and Alpha Anthony placed his crown over Hunter's head. Then, everyone started shouting congratulations to Hunter, their new Alpha.

Now was the time for marking and mating rituals.

"I would like to introduce our new Luna Roseline Harves to you," Anthony said, and everyone started cheering for their new Luna. I was stunned to see their excitement. I was glad they accepted me as their Luna.

"Last night, Roseline and Hunter were married, but their marking and mating ritual is still pending." Anthony continued, "I would like to ask Alpha Hunter to mark Roseline and announce her ocially as his mate and Luna in front of us."

Sh.it!

Hunter looked at me with his dangerous eyes lled with unknown expressions.

Now I was really in trouble.
