

Heaven 1050

Chapter 1050: Dan Family's Gratefulness.

Their conversation was quite fruitful, revealing a few interesting details about the [Deadly Magma Cave] and [Moon Swallowing Mountain]. For example, she learned that after many years, their families had managed to create enchantments in their clothes to avoid the extreme temperatures in those two locations.

"Oh! You are still here, Little Yasenia."

Everyone heard a voice that sounded familiar but also different. The touch of age in the woman's voice had disappeared, leaving behind a smooth and elegant voice. Looking over, Yasenia raised her eyebrow while the rest of the Dan family and Lady Gong had their eyes widened and mouths open.

The woman at the door had gorgeous white hair due to age. However, her face had changed from wrinkled to beautifully aged facial features. Her skin looked much more moist, and her wrinkles faintly appeared at the sides of her eyes and mouth. Even then, no one could ignore the woman's appearance, as she looked striking for someone of her age.

Family Head Dan asked, confused. "M-Mother?"

The woman's eyebrow raised, and the authority and pressure she gave with that single gesture forced all maids to straighten their backs. "You dare not recognize your mother!? Stupid Son, I am going to cane your butt if you ask such questions again!"

Dan Liangyang's lips twitched. "That's my mother, alright? No other woman would dare to speak to me like that."

Dan Liangxian spoke, her tone amazed. "Mother-in-law, have you looked at yourself in the mirror?"

Grandma Dan sighed. "Why would I? To see my raisin-like face?" She looked at Yasenia, smiling gently. "I'd rather come and look at Little Yasenia! Did these two treat you properly? If they bullied you, you can tell me!"

Yasenia laughed softly and waved her hand, summoning a standing mirror by her side as she answered. "They have not bullied me, Grandma Dan. However, you should look at yourself once before we continue our conversation."

Grandma Dan sighed and looked over, freezing in place right after she saw her reflection. "Huh?" She raised a hand, touching her face, and saw the woman in the mirror doing the same, changing her expression to pure disbelief.

Looking at Yasenia, she saw the dragoness smiling at her and nodding. Grandma Dan covered her mouth and quickly ran to Yasenia's side, hugging her. "Thank you! Thank you so much! Little Yasenia, I really don't know what to do to return this favor!"

Yasenia patted the back of the woman gently. "Just tell me about these two locations. That's more than enough to repay me."

Grandma Dan separated and slapped Yasenia's shoulder, her face quickly changing from emotional to a scolding one. "How can that be!? Husband!..." The finely aged woman looked around, blinking. "Hm? Is he not done yet?"

"I am here."

Looking toward the entrance, everyone saw Grandpa Dan looking exactly the same as before. Yasenia was not surprised. After all, this man was a Transcendent Realm cultivator. Her food would not have drastic effects on him. Moreover, as a Transcendent Cultivator...

Grandpa Dan saw Grandma Dan's condition, and after raising one eyebrow, his body changed faintly, his appearance changing to a tall and strong elderly man with white hair and a tidy and thick beard.

Grandma Dan smiled and ran over, falling into his arms like a little bird returning to her nest. "Husband! Let's accompany Yasenia and her group to the [Deadly Magma Cave] and [Moon Swallowing Mountain]! We can't let anything bad happen to her!"

Grandpa Dan smiled and caressed Grandma Dan's soft and silky hair. "Of course."

Dan Che couldn't help but look at Yasenia with respect. This was the first time Grandpa Dan would venture into either of the forbidden lands after losing his leg. Being able to earn so much respect from both elders in such a short amount of time was impressive.

Yasenia felt Dan Che's gaze and looked over, smiling faintly and nodding. Dan Che's face went red with a puff, and he shook his head. 'Stop, stop, stop! Lady Yasenia is someone far above my own!'

Meanwhile, Lady Gong was almost crushing the chair she was grabbing onto from the strength she was using to hold herself back from glaring and shouting at Yasenia. While she wallowed in her jealousy, Lady Gong's eyes flashed, and she smiled. "Lord Dan, Lady Dan, since Lady Yasenia wants to go explore those places, why not take the chance to make a large expedition? I can tell my family and do a joint operation!"

Yasenia raised her eyebrow, quickly seeing through her intentions. 'You want to ask daddy and mommy to deal with me? Perhaps Grandma and Grandpa? Tsk, tsk. You are really pushing against my bottom line, aren't you?' Yasenia gazed at Lady Gong and thought. 'I wonder... How strong is the Gong Family?'

On the other hand, both current heads of the Dan family have never had anything against Lady Gong. After all, Lady Gong maintained a perfectly formal and innocent facade in front of them. Grandma Dan and Grandpa Dan were more aware of her because, during their usual walks around the city, they had seen her real personality by chance in the past. So, Lord Dan nodded. "Sure. We can do a spontaneous visit with the Gong, Lin, Zhu, and Che families."

Grandma Dan frowned faintly. However, since her son gave his approval, telling him to do otherwise was too much of an interference of power. If she did so, people would think that they were the ones in charge instead of her son, something she really wanted to avoid. 'Tsk. That brat of the Gong family placed me in an uncomfortable position. Well, even if she tries anything, my Husband will deal with it! A brat like you trying to scheme around my Husband? You are 10,000 years too early!' R

Grandpa Dan saw his wife's scrunched nose and faintly laughed, instantly understanding her thoughts.

Yasenia spoke. "I'll return with my people then and gather them twenty kilometers north of this city in two months. This should be enough time for your families to prepare, right?"

Grandma Dan nodded. "Of course!" Then, she walked over and asked with a welcoming smile. "Are you sure you don't want to stay in our house? You can take your friends here as well!"

Looking at the encouraging woman, Yasenia pondered and asked. "We are quite a few people, though. Around 140. Are you sure you don't mind?"

Grandma Dan waved her hand. "Have you seen the size of this house? One hundred forty people can be easily accommodated!"

Yasenia hummed. Feeling Grandma Dan's eyes on her face, she couldn't bear to deny the woman's begging. She smiled faintly and sighed. "Sure, sure. Then I'll take up your offer. I was thinking of staying in an inn either way, so this solves my housing problems until then."

Triumphantly smiling, Grandma Dan commented. "Great! I'll ask the maids to prepare the rooms!"

With that talked out, Yasenia and her maids bid a momentary farewell to the Dan Family and left, reuniting with the others.

The first ones to arrive were Yasenia's wives, the maids, and the Beast Heir group. Angel jumped head-first into Yasenia's softness and took a deep breath. However, she paused and raised her face with a frown. "Why do you have the smell of another woman?"

The dragoness's lips twitched. "You can actually smell her? She was in contact with me for ten seconds."

Angel snorted cutely. "Don't underestimate my ability to distinguish non-Yasenia smells from you!"

Yasenia laughed and kissed her forehead. "Sure, sure. I won't. This scent comes from a kind Grandma that gave me a hug of thanks. Happy now?"

"Happy!" Angel patted Yasenia's cleavage, erasing other smells, and then he dove face-first into the deep valley once again.

Evelyn asked, curious. "So, what happened? You've found information quite quickly."

The dragoness yanked Evelyn into her side with her tail, surrounding her with her arm, and she answered. "Well, I was lucky to have encountered an elderly husband and wife who knew about them. It seems that the Dan, Gong, Lin, Zhu, and Che Families are aware of these places. There might be a few other sects, but these five seem to have quite a strong influence in this regard."

Andrea crossed her arms with a hum. "I heard about the Lin family. I asked in an inn, and the daughter of the innkeeper came and told me quite a few things."

Evelyn smirked and teased. "I wonder how Lady Andrea would manage to do that~. Did you seduce her?"

Andrea rolled her eyes. "Do I look like someone who goes around seducing people left and right like our resident Dragon?"

The dragoness blinked twice, having taken a stray bullet while laying down. "Hey, I didn't seduce anyone this time around!"

Alaia coughed. "Lady Yasenia, Young Master Dan Che seemed quite interested."

All the girls raised their eyebrows and looked at Yasenia with questioning faces, which prompted the dragoness to explain everything that happened.

After hearing the story, Cecile commented. "They are nice Elders."

"Agreed." Evelyn smiled. "If all Elders were like them, the world would be such a better place."

Tatyana nodded twice. "Right. Old people like them are nice to come by from time to time."

Everyone looked at the Ancient Woman with deadpans. "Those two are probably children in front of you!" Of course, no one dared to say their thoughts aloud.

The rest of the people arrived one by one, eventually gathering everyone. Yasenia proceeded to explain everything once more, and listening to the fact that even Transcendent Realm cultivators had been heavily injured, many leaders frowned, becoming wary.

Yasenia saw their faces and smiled. "As I said, no one is forced to follow after me. If you ever want to settle down, you are welcome. This city seems like the perfect place, to be honest. Resources are rich, and since there are Transcendent Realm cultivators, that means that all of you have the ability to cross that last stretch as well. Moreover..." Yasenia took a deep breath and smirked. "The energy quality is nothing like Distancia's."

Yasenia's words were indeed the truth. Finally, some of them couldn't resist and stepped forward. "Yasenia, thank you for all that you have done for us. However, after our visit to Ruin World, we've understood how far we truly are from the Sixth Realm." The person speaking was Cao Chenghua, the Jade Thunderbird Patriarch. "We are willing to follow you. However, it seems that our strength is just not up to par. Therefore, we will now separate from you while wishing you success."

The dragoness smiled and stepped forward, cupping her fists. "Our time together might be short for you, seniors. However, I learned many things. Thank you for being understanding in Distancia and allowing me to build a family. This favor is something I carry deep within me and will never forget." Then, she commented. "If my children ever appear in this world, I hope you can give them a little hidden hand. Some of them are sure to follow in my footsteps and will arrive here sooner or later."

Cao Chenghua laughed. "Leave that to us. Using Body Cultivation, I don't believe we can't create an influential power!"

Then, around 30 people bowed and left.

Yasenia saw them leave and then turned around. "Let's go to the Dan Family Mansion."
