

Heaven 17

Chapter 17

On the outside, the people were freaking out! Three minutes to complete two levels!? The others that have entered with her haven't even completed the first level! Some girls were already with starry eyes thinking

‘Kyaa she is so handsome!!’

‘My big sister is so amazing! I will become a member of her Fanclub in the future!’

There were also some perverted ones that thought while bleeding from their nose ‘Look how her melons move when she clashes! Ahhh! I want her to dominate me in bed as she does with the beasts!!’ Who was this last person? Well, we won't say to keep her privacy.

Yasenia controlled her breathing and looked towards the next group. She still had more than half of her energy and her physical stamina was doing fine. At this pace, she will be able to complete three or four more rounds.

Yasenia saw her next group of opponents! They were four rank two, initial level wood Komodo dragons! One was coming from the left another from the right and the last two from the front. ‘This Komodo dragon has less defense than the one I fought before; the problem is their poison is more lethal than the other variants.’

Yasenia then sighed, ‘Luckily, they are at the initial level compared with the middle level one. But there is one problem...’ She looked around at all the trees and vegetation around her and muttered “I'm in a forest...”

‘I will charge in but with controlled speed, then if they don't spat their poisonous breath, I will do the same I did with the other one. I will try to use the low branches in that area to maintain myself in the air and dodge their nature attacks. Then improvise depending on the situation.’

Yasenia readied her sword and charged towards the one on the right. Seeing that it was attacking her with its claw she used her tail and legs to propel herself passing over the 3m tall Komodo dragon.

Yasenia swung the sword towards the spine and did a deep gash cutting the spine making it roar in pain and try to turn its head to spat poison.

However, Yasenia followed by her tail piercing its skin and using it as an anchor changing her direction from forwards to downwards and landing on the back of the beast Bang! making a powerful impact that almost sunk the Komodo dragon waist into the ground!

Then knowing that the tail and lower back was useless before the dragon could recover from the impact she did a big swing and cut it from the middle cleanly.

She jumped fast of the beast and let it die from blood loss while charging towards the other three. Seeing that they have already grouped she decided to go for the chaotic battle style.

Yasenia advanced and while dodging the breath of the right dragon to the left she slashed off one of the legs of the left dragon. She followed by a jump avoiding the claw from the middle one and the roots that were growing on the ground.

Yasenia latched onto a branch with her tail, and she dodged the breath attack from the injured dragon swinging herself. Yasenia launched herself from that branch towards the one that did the first breath.

She landed on its snout closing its mouth and punched downwards with [Presence of the celestial bodies] Warped around her fist Bang! Sending its head crashing to the ground and completely disorienting him.

Feeling the tail of the middle one coming her way she jumped from the head backward doing a backflip and spinning to use the blunt tail tip to hit the side of its head Bang! Its head was whipped to the side and the dragon moved four steps!

She turned towards the disoriented dragon and finished it off before it recovered from her punch. After that, she started running towards the legless dragon.

Because of the big injury, she was able to fight it easily for some seconds, and before the other dragon came, she finished it off sliding below its head and doing an upward horizontal slash on its neck beheading it.

To wrap things up, she charged against the last Komodo dragon, seeing that it was opening its mouth she dodged the breath attack to the right, and then using her sword she opened its side making the organs spill, finally retreating waiting for it to die of blood loss.

This fight was almost four minutes because of the initial planning. Sensing that she had only 40% of her energy and that she was getting tired, she decided to end it with the next round. She looked around and saw one, rank two upper-level, one and a half meter tall wind tayra.

Yasenia frowned 'This will be difficult. Ranged beasts are not my forte. Let's use the trees to close the distance and then do an all-out attack I will leave after this round anyway, even if I receive some injuries it won't matter.'

Yasenia turned and ran towards the part with more abundant trees, The tayra followed her with faster speed than her! She turned and hid behind a thick tree trunk then jumped towards a branch. And disappeared in the leafy crown of that tree.

The tayra reached her previous spot moments later and sniffed the air. Then it looked upwards and saw a big branch falling on its head! It clawed the air above it and created wind claws destroying everything easily.

However, Yasenia's smell was covered by the newly cut grass and leaves! The tayra lost Yasenia so it changed positions fast and tried to find the trace of its prey!

Yasenia used the tall trees to follow it from above, trying to be as silent as possible. Then stopped on top of the giant tayra and thought in her mind '[Presence of the celestial bodies: celestial coat]' this technique used one-third of her remaining energy.

Yasenia covered herself with a golden and silvery glow and it also creates a lot of white firefly-like lights around her making her look like a goddess! Then she put herself upside down with the help of her tail dangling from the thick branch. She put her feet on the branch, bent her knees, put her sword aiming for the middle of the tayra, and pushed with her whole leg strength!

The tayra sensed energy gathering atop of it so it instinctively looked upward and attacked with an extremely potent wind blade! Yasenias didn't even blink as she crashed into the wind blade Bang! making her celestial coat almost break!

Nonetheless, she was able to continue her descent and pierced the Tayra with her sword in the middle of its body, followed by her legs to land a top of it. The landing and sword cut with the [Celestial coat] made it directly explode in her landing spot, sending the tayra's two halves flying!

After a bit of bloody rain, she stood up and dissipated her celestial coat. She took the jade and inserted her energy teleporting back. When she arrived at the previous examination site everyone was looking at her with very varied expressions.

She especially saw an eye-catching group of girls waving at her with big smiles, Yasenias returned the wave a little awkwardly while thinking 'Why do I feel like those girls over there are going to begin a Fanclub about me?'

Then she looked towards Evelyn and Oliver only to see Evelyn looking at her with blood following down her nose.

Yasenias on the other side was a little concerned, so she went to her side and used a handkerchief to wipe her while saying with a little concern between her brows "Are you okay? Why are you bleeding from your nose? If you are feeling bad I have some pills here."

Evelyn seeing the concerned big beauty in front of her and the deep valley between the white big mountains up close, directly fainted from excitement with a big smile and serious nasal bleeding, while in the background that group of girls was biting their handkerchief because of the sour feeling inside of them!

Yasenias was about to take some pills when Oliver said "Little sis, just... let her be, she is a little bit... special"

Yasenias picked Evelyn in a princess hug and answered with a smile "En, I know that she was excited because of me, but I didn't expect nasal bleeding. That is why I was concerned, who would have thought that I made her faint directly hahaha."

Oliver also laughed "She is truly one of a kind hahaha"

Yasenias thought for herself 'Cecile and Evelyn aren't bad... Although Evelyn lacks a little in the elemental attributes compared to me or Cecile, her constitution compensates everything, and she is fun to be around. I also like Cecile, she has a cute personality and her talents must be good for being the first in the violet class, she also only entered the past year so we shouldn't be so far apart on age.'

Yasenias put a thoughtful face, 'Although I haven't really fallen for any of them... I think they can be two of the four girls that mom is making me pick. I will try to know more about them and deepen our bond.'

Oliver then asked "Say, little sis. You are together with Aunt Tatyana in a relationship, right?"

Yasenias paused a little then, she sat down and put Evelyn to the side, "What do you mean?"

Oliver continued "I mean, a loving relationship."

Yasenia looked at him with one raised eyebrow and nodded honestly “En.” Oliver blinked in surprise, he didn’t expect her to be so frank!

Oliver then continued “So... Why are you teasing these girls? Are you planning on advancing the relationship with them? I mean, you know how attractive you are. If I hadn’t grown up with you, it would be very difficult not to fall in love with someone like little sis.”

Yasenia sensed that Evelyn awoke right in the middle of Oliver’s speech. Seeing her maintaining her fake sleeping appearance Yasenia thought playfully ‘She must have a misunderstanding on our conversation, right?’.

And Yasenia was right! When Evelyn woke up, she started to listen since Oliver said “If I hadn’t grown up with you...” So, right now, she was anxious thinking that maybe Oliver wanted to confess!

Yasenia continued as if she didn’t know that she was awake. “In truth, I was against it. Nonetheless, my body constitution has a problem. Well, in truth, it can’t be called a problem...”

Oliver and Evelyn put their attention, Yasenia said with a totally straight face “I’m extremely lustful.” Oliver spluttered while Evelyn choked with her own saliva and entered a coughing fit.

Yasenia looked towards the embarrassed Evelyn with a teasing smile ” I can’t be satisfied with only one girl, so mom told me to make a harem for myself... That is if I don’t want to break the poor girls that enter a relationship with me.” ‘With this, they should be satisfied for the moment.’

Yasenia looked at them doing strange gestures and smiled ‘Although I trust Oliver, Evelyn is a new person and I don’t know how she will change in the future. With what my mother explained to me, or my real weakness is that I can’t upgrade the quality of my Yin or Yang energy naturally, my constitution always turns the Yin and Yang energies and do a quantity upgrade because of the balancing factor of my body. I need partners that are near my strength to upgrade my quality of energy. Maybe I should tell Oliver so that he helps me find someone?’

The problem that Yasenia had was similar to cultivation. The cultivators grow their quantity of energy, then gather it, and finally break through to the next level increasing the quality. Yasenia’s body needed a trigger to do this breakthrough.

That is why she becomes more lustful, because her body wants to upgrade to the next level, and that trigger can be dual cultivating, which is the most reliable, and fastest way to do it.

Evelyn and Oliver finally entered the formation. Looking at them she realized that these formations balance themselves depending on the level of the cultivator. For Evelyn, in the first round, she had 3 alphas and in the second round she had two panthers, the third round was even more brutal having three of the Komodo dragons be middle level.

In the end, she could only defeat two of the four before using the jade. Oliver was not as miserable but he only managed to kill one of the Komodo dragons before having to use the jade.

Oliver said “Seeing you fight those beasts as if they were playthings is very different from facing them! You truly are a monster little sis.”

Yasenia chuckled and said, “I was lucky for the most part.”

Oliver looked at her but didn't say anything. He knew that Yasenia was a monster but having the difference put so blatantly in his face made him more aware of it.
