Chapter 511: Planning the Ambush.

Yasenia looked at the tall mountain and pondered. "As Kali said, here is a good place to set up everything. Hmm, Angel dear, how skilled are you in this kind of large-scale formation-building?"

Angel looked at the mountain peak and asked. "You want me to create a formation big enough to cover this whole mountain?"

Yasenia nodded. "Yes. I don't know if you are skilled enough, though. Moreover, it will probably have to resist constant attacks from many cultivators as well as having enough strength to fight against them."

Angel didn't give an answer right away and analyzed the surroundings.

She flew upwards rapidly, and the others followed. Angel was the core of this operation, so until she started, the rest of our girls could not do anything.

Mirrory, Tatyana, and Valeria just followed behind, leisurely observing their actions.

Yasenia's mind entered her serious thinking mode, and her aura became sharper.

"What do you think, Angel?"

Angel was also serious and answered with a calm tone. "The time I'll need will be the most restraining factor. Creating a formation powerful enough for what you want me to do in this short time frame is impossible. Moreover, time is still ticking, and I must plan everything."

Yasenia nodded and commented. "Planning it is good enough. This time, I want to also have in mind how strong our seniors really are. Therefore, we'll do the planning this time, and they'll do the building. I want to use Tatyana's formation skills with Mirrory as an aide with Valeria's skills as a core for the effects."

Kali asked. "I suppose you want to use Valeria's skills because I would be the one contributing to the formation's attack patterns."

Yasenia nodded. "Correct. I want your and Evelyn's skills to be the core of our attack and defensive formations for ambushes. The combination of storm and nature attacks is perfect. Andrea's skills are powerful but not as good with large-scale armies."

Evelyn frowned. "I disagree. Andrea's Sun and Metal skills combine in powerful area-of-effect attacks. Fighting against Andrea is like fighting in an inferno that consumes everything in its way."

Yasenia refuted. "You are right. However, what about when the enemies are in the hundreds? What if the terrain is not a small arena but this whole mountain? We are not strong enough yet to cover this terrain even while enhancing everything with the formations. Conversely, your fast lightning attribute and Kali's ability to create armies that sustain, heal, and multiply themselves is much better."

Andrea asked. "You mainly want to use Kali's army formation skills, so my Sun attribute would actually be in the way, right?"

"Yes. Andrea, you are the strongest when fighting on the front lines. However, Kali is the strongest when two armies are fighting, and she unleashes her powers."

Andrea asked. "What about Angel?"

Yasenia shook her head. "Angel's army-building skills are powerful, but they are too telling. Who else in this continent can create glass-attributed creatures to fight off enemies? Using intelligent dryads or plant creatures can mask the attack like an ambush from an unknown third party."

Evelyn realized. "Right, we are not only choosing the strongest but also something that can pass under the radar even when we use our skills in the future."

Kali asked. "But, if I use summoning skills in the future, won't it be the same?"

Yasenia shook her head. "Not at all. Plant creatures exist by themselves. Moreover, there are clans made of them. At least, there should be if Ghana hasn't lied in her reports."

Yasenia continued. "I remember reading a report that a few of the plant creature clans were captured and used by alchemy sects as ingredients in the past, so their resentment toward powerful sects is more than justified. Kali's skill to summon them won't affect anything as long as Kali's summons don't show intelligence at any given time."

Kali nodded and asked. "Yasenia, my plant creatures can benefit from your energy because of your close involvement in my development. Why don't you also participate? I think it would also make everything much stronger."

Evelyn answered. "Yasenia's skills are too unique. Have you seen people using attacks like Yasenia's throughout the junior tournament? If one of the attacks is raining down stars or something like that...."

Kali laughed. "Right. It is like saying that Yasenia has something to do with it. Speaking of which, do Plant Summoners, or summoners in general, exist in this continent where Body Cultivation is the main path?"

Yasenia commented. "It's not unheard of. Beast tamers are more common than in the Sky Continent. However, since only humans can create complete beast bonds, they are beast tamers connected by exotic but less restraining skills. Conversely, this has prevented Demonic Beast Cultivators from appearing since connections are much more fragile."

Andrea was impressed. "You are extremely well informed, love."

Yasenia nodded without a change of face. "Besides one or two hours every other day, I've buried myself in books and reports from the harpies. My knowledge of the continent is still shallow, but I can defend myself."

Tatyana, Valeria, and Mirrory looked at them with eyes full of praise. The conversation was productive; they didn't just mindlessly follow Yasenia's opinions and sought extra knowledge to help with the progress.

The discussion was fruitful and flowed like a well-oiled machine. Moreover, Yasenia's leadership ability was pronounced at times like this, showing the growth and maturity she gained during her trial.

Angel finished observing the surroundings and commented. "Yasenia, to create the formation, it should go like...."

Yasenia interrupted. "Speak to the seniors, Angel. They are the ones who know best and will be building all of this. We'll be listening from the sides and giving you second opinions."

Angel blinked twice and looked at the calm face of the dragoness. 'Wow, she looks... different. So imposing and elegant.'

Yasenia saw Angel's dazed face and squinted with a smile. "Angel, stop being dazed and begin explaining. You are about to droll."

Angel used her hand to feel her chin, but she sensed it was dry, making her pout. "You deceived me!"

Yasenia and the others laughed.

Then, our girls moved around the mountain.

Angel led the conversation, explaining where to place the nodes, what kind of runes she needed, what type of energy channels she would use, and the ink types required for the formation in her mind.

Kali and Evelyn interjected occasionally to help Angel understand how their skills could interact with the formation and ways to make everything much more efficient.

Yasenia and Andrea also helped from time to time, but they mostly stayed silent.

Tatyana, Valeria, and Mirrory looked around and nodded, not holding back any comments they had and using questions to develop the girls and teach them new things along the way.

The night was extraordinarily productive, and four hours quickly went by.

It was four in the morning when they finished everything, with just three hours left for their meeting.

Valeria spoke first after looking at the formation's last touches. "Everything is thorough and considers many situations. Strength is lacking in some areas if someone powerful appears. But, if you want to kill someone like Young Master Fu while the human beasts we are traveling with protect him, this should be enough."

Tatyana agreed. "Yes. However, let's enhance it a bit more. Also, have you thought how many you want to kill this time?"

Evelyn, Kali, Angel, and Andrea were momentarily confused.

Kali asked. "What do you mean, mother-in-law? We kill Fu Yu and get done with it, right?"

Yasenia shook her head. "That's not enough. If only he dies, it is too suspicious."

Evelyn and Andrea were quick to catch up to Yasenia's intention.

Angel asked. "What do you mean?"

Yasenia explained. "Imagine a giant ambush against five of the nine sects, a few powerful clans, and other powers, but only Fu Yu dies after the whole ordeal. It is unnatural to the extremes."

Kali and Angel understood Yasenia's intentions. Kali asked with a slight frown. "How many do you plan to kill?"

Yasenia answered indifferently. "As many as our setup can kill."

The others were surprised.

Yasenia looked at them and spoke. "I do not plan on eradicating them. The seniors should have life-saving treasures or similar things that could misdirect our plans. However, as long as only a few juniors die, they won't use those powerful life-saving items."

Yasenia squinted. "I'm tempted not to kill Fu Yu immediately but using more long-term measures... That way, connecting this with us would be impossible. Our beef with him is a linking part that many will find."

Yasenia continued. "Angel, Evelyn, Andrea, Tatyana, you four must be injured. It would be best if you do so while trying to save one of the elders or someone influential. Kali and Valeria, during the confusion, hover around Young Master Fu and release poison or something that will surely kill him even if our plans are interrupted mid-way. If he survives the ambush, we'll have a surefire plan to backfall into."

Yasenia searched her ring and took out four black and purple pills. "This pill's name is [Skin Splitting Poison]. It makes the skin frail enough that just a touch can injure it. If you see that the attacks are not enough to injure you, take one of them. A single clash with someone at the same level will create wounds all over your body."

Yasenia then took out a pill with different tones of red and commented. "This is the antidote. Swallow it as soon as the battle ends. If someone sees you, say it is a healing pill. These pills are from Lost Town, so the chances they exist here are minimal. I haven't seen anything similar in the catalogs I've browsed."

Evelyn asked with curiosity. "When did you buy them?"

Kali commented. "I bought their recipe. I've been making ten pills of each recipe I got since then. I'm still not halfway there because some ingredients have yet to mature, but I have a wide variety of pills ready. I even made a few attack pills like the [Thunder Fire Explosive Pill]. Their attack power is similar to an early-level Unification Realm cultivator blow, so they are not that useful."

Evelyn laughed. "As expected of our genius alchemist."

Angel suddenly asked. "Can't you give them to someone as a healing pill and make them explode inside them?"

Everyone blinked twice and looked at Angel.

Kali smiled. "I'll keep that option in mind."

Andrea asked while looking at the poison. "Did you test them, Kali?"

Kali nodded. "I used the three harpies that attacked Yasenia to perform various tests with my poisonous and healing pills. Those three are very useful and very resilient. To be honest, I'm often surprised at the durability of a Body Cultivator. I believe a Spirit Cultivator of similar strength should already have exhausted themselves and died."

Evelyn and Andrea sighed. "The darkness that hides in the gentle Angel and Kali still takes me off guard."

The night went by quickly, and Yasenia and company returned by five in the morning.

Angel pointed at a rooftop and commented. "Look, Yassenia. Someone is looking at our room there."

Yassenia followed her finger and saw someone hiding in a stealthy position. "Oh, my baby has such a sharp eye."

Angel smiled and hugged Yassenia, to which our dragoness answered by patting her head.

Tatyana asked. "Should I kill him for spying on you? Hmm, maybe death is too simple. Do you need more test subjects, Kali? That one seems strong."

Yassenia shook her head. "Will it affect us in any way?"

Tatyana shrugged. "The master will probably feel frustrated. But if they come to us because of this, it is like telling the world they were observing you in secret. Probably, they will just be more careful the next time."

Yassenia was curious. "I want to see you capture him. However, how will we carry him back?"

Tatyana blinked. "Right. I forgot... Then, I'll just kill him."

Tatyana extended her fair and beautiful hand and then clutched it into a fist as she chanted, and her red eyes glowed with a bloody light. "[Death Intent Level Nine], [Destiny Intent Level Nine], [Fated Death]."

They all had the vision of seeing a string being cut.

Tatyana lowered her hand and released a breath. "Wow, using that skill is much more tiresome than I expected with this body. If I only had the energy you have available, little treasure, I would be empty right now."

They all blinked repeatedly, and then an idea flashed in their mind. 'Don't tell me...'

They focused on the person, and the previous faint aura had disappeared. Andrea gulped. "He died?"

Tatyana nodded. "He died."

Our girls didn't know what to say.

Valeria commented. "Intentions are really powerful."

Evelyn asked. "Does that skill work on us, Tatyana?"

Tatyana tilted her head, confused. "Why would it not work? If it has life, then I can kill it."

Yassenia asked. "What do we do with the body?"

Tatyana shrugged. "Leave it as is. Somebody will recover it later... Right, the spatial ring."

Tatyana waved her hand, and the spatial ring flew into her hand from the corpse.

Tatyana looked at it and tsked. "So professional. It has nothing but a few assassination tools."

Tatyana crushed the ring and smiled at Yassenia. "Let's go back, little treasure."

Yassenia nodded, and the others followed Mommy Tatyana obediently.

While using stealth skills to move around, they arrived at their inn without problems. They checked the surveillance formations and saw nothing out of place or anyone coming to check on them.

Therefore, they entered, and nobody realized that our girls had moved in the middle of the night.

Chapter 512: Preparing to return to Koran City.

Once inside the inn, they all stretched, not minding about the outside as much. Evelyn asked.

"There are two hours until the meeting time. What should we do until then?"

Kali suggested. "How about we cultivate and condition our bodies? We'll be fighting soon, after all."

Andrea supported the idea. "We can do so. Let's go cultivate for an hour or so."

Yasenia looked at Andrea and asked. "Darling. Have you tried wearing the armor yet?"

Andrea shook her head, and she instantly saw Yasenia's eyes light up with light as her expression told her how much her dragoness wanted to see her in the new armor.

Tatyana asked. "By the way, what is its name?"

Andrea summoned it and made it float before her. Our tall woman looked at it closely and pondered. "A name. I honestly don't know. My previous armor was called [Knight's Promise]. How about I call this one [Knight's Vow]? This armor is my vow to become stronger, my first step in my path."

Evelyn asked. "Knight... Why are you so obsessed with knights? I'm not even sure what they are besides horse-riding warriors in armies."

Andrea laughed. "My father used to read me stories before going to bed. My favorite was about a powerful person who carried justice to evildoers with armor and always saved people in distress. He was humble, understanding, helpful, and carried a heart of gold below his tough outside."

Andrea smiled softly. "It reminded me of my Father's image."

Yasenia smiled and commented. "It is a good name."

Andrea was confused. "Hm?"

Yasenia laughed. "[Knight's Vow]. It is a good name."

Andrea was silent for a second and then laughed with Yasenia.

Tatyana commented. "Well, put it on."

Andrea nodded and made her clothes disappear, leaving herself in just undergarments. The armor had internal padding, so clothes were unnecessary while wearing it.

Yasenia heard two clear gulps and looked to the side, seeing Evelyn's and Angel's eyes staring unblinkingly at Andrea's sculpted body.

Yasenia didn't say anything because although her eyes moved, her spiritual sense was basically licking Andrea's body. Those feminine curves combined with the marked muscles and tall frame were mouthwatering.

The armor levitated toward her. Unlike what they expected, this armor molded around Andrea's body instead of opening and slowly warped around her like a liquid.

Tatyana commented, impressed. "Hoh? It actually has that function?"

Yasenia asked. "Which function?"

Tatyana smiled and spoke. "All Transcendence Realm and stronger items can mold to the user. For example, if a giant were to use Andrea's armor, it would grow in size."

Evelyn blinked. "Then, wouldn't it be possible to get infinite materials by destroying the enlarged armor?"

Tatyana rolled her eyes. "It comes back to the original size when destroyed."

"Wow."

Yasenia's exclamation made their eyes move toward Andrea again. Andrea had taken out her halberd and was in her initial combat stance, wearing the black [Knight's Vow] with golden runes and edges.

Evelyn cursed. "Fuck, my heart is accelerating."

Angel spoke bashfully. "Andrea, you look so handsome~."

Yasenia's tail wagged as her eyes became predatory. "Say, darling~. Can we roll in the bed-sheets once, twice, or thrice before leaving?"

After spinning the halberd a few times, she stored everything in her ring again, returning to her underwear.

Andrea gave Yasenia a side glance and waved her hand, summoning the white dress to cover her body. "We can't love. Control your lust. You are making a certain part of me uncomfortably stiff with those hungry eyes."

Yasenia pouted and moved between Andrea's arms. "But after showing me such a charming you, you can't leave me without nothing."

Andrea sighed and kissed Yasenia's lips. "Get comforted with that. You can go with Evelyn if you want~."

Evelyn blinked twice when Yasenia's eyes landed on her. Before she knew it, she was scooped by her, and both disappeared into a room at the side for twenty minutes.

Before that, Tatyana saw a golden purple dragon gently floating into her embrace. Kaleina lifted her eyes and looked at Tatyana.

Both blinked twice, creating quite a cute image.

Meanwhile, the other girls sat down and began cultivating.

After twenty minutes, Evelyn opened the door, and with wobbly steps, she walked to where they were all cultivating, sat cross-legged, and joined them. "My heavens, I can still feel her shape inside me."

The others opened their opened eyes and saw a gentle looking and mellowed Evelyn. Her violet eyes were misty, and her cheeks were naturally ruddy.

The others coughed. 'She really looks... Nourished.'

Yasenia stepped out with a seductive smile and took Kaleina from Tatyana. The small dragon rapidly curled around Yasenia's neck and hugged her face, licking her with affection.

They all saw how the seductive aura changed into a tender and motherly one in a few seconds while Yaseenia interacted with Kaleina.

Yaseenia looked at Kaleina and pondered how to protect her.

'I'll maintain my dragon form and wear the neck protector during the battle. The pocket inside should be enough to keep her safe. To ensure, I'll dodge all attacks near my head.'

Kaleina was slithering around Yaseenia, moving on the ground while sniffing a few places.

Then, the little dragoness sensed her mommy's eyes on her and looked up, squeaking happily.

Yaseenia smiled and moved her tail to play fight with her. She used it like a snake and even lifted the tip from the ground while leaving the rest to slither around.

Kaleina saw the menacing golden tail tip approaching like a snake and tensed. Yaseenia laughed and made her tail shake, creating a sound when the scales trembled with her movements.

Kaleina's pupils thinned as she took this as a threat and attacked.

Yaseenia dodged her and poked her belly.

Kaleina let out an angry sound that sounded not more menacing than a squeaky toy and attacked again.

Yaseenia rested her chin on her hand while looking at her with a smile.

She did these plays for two reasons.

The first was to sharpen Kaleina's instincts.

The second and more important one was because Kaleina looked adorable while battling her fingers or tail.

"Baby, you are doing great. Oh! You almost got me~."

"Squeak!"

"Hahaha, I got your belly again. You have to dodge, dear."

After thirty minutes, Yaseenia saw Kaleina was tired, so she used her tail to scoop her up and carry her to her embrace.

The tiny purple dragoness felt Yaseenia's body heat and snuggled close to her while taking a deep breath to calm down the rapid breathing.

"Kaleina, let's eat before we leave, all right?"

Baby girl Kaleina recognized the word "eat," and her tail wagged while her eyes opened. "Squeak!"

Kaleina went to the left breast and used her serpentine body to coil around it once. Not that it could coil more times because of the breast size.

Then, with the support of her tiny arms, she opened her mouth and bit the nipple.

Yaseenia felt her baby using her body to squeeze so that more milk poured out, and she smiled. "You are so clever, baby."

She used her fingers to caress her and heard her purr.

Yasenia felt happy, and her tail wagged slowly, creating the endearing image of mother and daughter wagging their tails while the mother was breastfeeding her baby.

Tatyana entered the room and saw this image, making her pause momentarily to appreciate the scene.

Yasenia turned her head and smiled. "Is it time to leave?"

Tatyana nodded and stepped forward, sitting beside Yasenia and leaning on her. "We can wait until Kaleina is satisfied. There is no rush. We still have an hour left. Walking there leisurely will take about forty minutes, so there is still time."

Yasenia nodded and leaned her head on Tatyana's.

They didn't speak and enjoyed each other's presence while watching Kaleina drink her milk.

'These moments with little treasure are delightful. I feel like I can stay in this position for centuries and not get tired.'

Twenty minutes later, all of them were prepared and ready to go.

Yasenia slowly walked out of the inn with her dears and traveled at a moderate pace toward their meeting at the east gate.

When they arrived, twenty minutes were left for the accorded hour, which was seven in the morning. Even then, most of the clans were already here. Only a few powers hadn't arrived yet.

The girls spotted the Fu clan and smirked. Evelyn chuckled as she hugged Yasenia's arm. 'Well, the first step is complete. If these people didn't come, all would've been for nothing.'

Yasenia placed her arm around Evelyn's shoulders. Our now tame and clingy pervert girl smiled sweetly and hugged Yasenia's waist, leaning against the comfortable side breast. 'My love. Your height is really delightful. My face is right beside your tits.'

Yasenia smiled softly. She loved how tender Evelyn became after a lovely and pampering session.

Yasenia asked. 'Will there be surprises or not? What do you girls think?'

Andrea commented. 'Probably. What I hope is that no Epoch Core cultivators come with us. It would make everything much more complicated.'

Angel laughed. 'Andrea, you jinxed it!'

Andrea rolled her light green eyes. 'As if saying something would make Epoch Core Realm cultivator pop out of nowhere.'

Jorey spotted Yasenia and happily approached. "Lady Yasenia, did you have a pleasant night?"

Yasenia nodded. "Yes. What about you, Lady Jorey?"

Jorey smiled and answered. "We had a small celebration for ranking in the top sixty."

Carbira also approached. "Lady Yasenia. I'll be in your care when returning."

Yasenia nodded. "I'll do my best. However, Carbira, with the Nine Sects around, we should not have any problems."

Carbira nodded. "Well, you are right. There aren't any people crazy enough to attack our group."

Kali thought with a wry smile. 'Oh, Carbira. You are speaking to that crazy person.'

Angel retorted. 'Yasenia is not crazy! She is very smart!'

Kali quickly agreed. 'You are right, Angel. Yasenia is the best, after all.'

Angel smiled.

Jorey looked at Kali's three tails and spoke. "Lady Kali, is there really no secret to those tails?"

Kali shook her head. "As Yasenia explained, it happened overnight. I wish I could tell how it happened to summon more of my tails."

Elder Song approached from the side. "Oh? Lady Kali, do you have more tails hidden?"

Kali laughed calmly while she wanted to smack her face for the slip-up. "Well, the name of my bloodline has a four, so I thought my bloodline was impure."

Jorey asked curiously. "May I ask which bloodline you have?"

Kali looked at Yasenia as if asking for permission. Elder Song smiled a bit badly, feeling a twinge of jealousy. "What, Lady Kali, can't you answer it yourself?"

Kali smiled back. "I always leave the important decisions to my wife, Elder Song."

Yasenia commented, giving a quick cold glance at Elder Song that nobody noticed. "It's not necessary to say it. Those things are a bit personal unless used as a mark for a clan."

Elder Song frowned for a second. Then, she sighed. "Excuse me, Lady Kali. I was rash. My way of speaking was not proper."

Kali did not expect an apology, but she smiled. "No need to worry. We all have tempers. Something must have happened, right?"

Elder Song nodded. "Yes. You see, yesterday... Ugh."

They all saw Elder Song looking in one direction and scowling.

Yasenia and the others followed her gaze, and Andrea's lips twitched.

Angel giggled. 'See? You jinxed it!'

Yasenia and the others also couldn't help but chuckle.

Chapter 513: The Seniors' intentions.

The two people who landed right before their group were the tiger-kin Patriarch Huo Yang and the senior woman from Elder Song's clan, Song Mei Ying.

Elder Song muttered. "The reason I'm annoyed is my aunt."

Song Mei Ying and Huo Yang approached with smiles and greeted Yasenia.

The tiger man said. "Yasenia, my friend. I didn't know you were leaving right away. If it weren't for Song Mei Ying informing me, I would've missed you."

Yasenia didn't become flustered at their arrival.

If they decided to come with them, the Yasenia could see the limits of what they built yesterday.

If they didn't come with them, then there was no reason to become flustered. Therefore, she took it easy and answered with a smile. "I have a few things to take care of back at home. I forgot to ask about your residences, so I couldn't pass to visit you before leaving. Moreover, visiting other cities is rare, and yesterday night we roamed the city together."

The tiger kin Patriarch naturally knew about it but acted like he didn't. "That is lovely. I'm sure you had fun with them."

The serpent woman looked at Elder Song and smirked. "Little Song, aren't you standing a bit too close to Yasenia? Hohoho, you'll have me as a competition if you can't catch her heart quickly."

Elder Song blushed and stomped on the ground, showing rare childishness. "Aunt Mei, please don't tease me in front of her!"

Elder Song sighed and caressed her forehead. "Why did I have to tell you about Yasenia?"

Aunt Mei laughed and looked at Yasenia. "Hahaha. Did you know that she is after you?"

Yasenia chuckled. "Of course. We discussed it together and said it was too early to become anything. I've also recommended Elder Song not to focus on me too much since I have a cold heart for romance."

Aunt Mei lifted her eyebrow. "I see. You are really too tempting, Yasenia. Have you broken that many hearts?"

Yasenia shrugged calmly. "What can I do? My mother and father gave me this appearance."

Huo Yang joked. "You could hide your appearance. Your dress does quite a poor job at that."

Yasenia smirked and pushed her chest forward, jiggling her pair of breasts. "I'm proud of my beauty. It may create small bothers from time to time, but I find it worth it."

They all chuckled, and Yasenia finally asked. "Do you need something? The two of you must be busy, so coming here today is something I honestly didn't expect. Let's get to the point and save time for both of you."

Aunt Mei nodded and asked. "We wanted to ask two things. First, did you kill somebody yesterday?"

Yasenia acted confused and shook her head. "I did not. Did someone important die?"

Aunt Mei smiled and shook her head. "One of my people died yesterday, and we found them on the top of a roof. The dying conditions are extraordinary since the body is not even damaged, so I was curious."

Yasenia asked. "Not damaged?"

Aunt Mei waved her hand. "Do not care about it."

Yasenia didn't insist, but internally she was sneering. 'So, it was you. That's good to know.'

Huo Yang commented. "The second reason we've come is that we heard from Little Song that you can transform into your dragon shape."

Yasenia was honestly confused this time. "That's it?"

He nodded. "That's it. We are curious about how you look in your beast form. Most beasts do not have the strength or bloodline level to transform besides a few major races. As you should know, dragons are quite a weak race in general, so we are curious to see a dragon that can morph into a humanoid form."

Tatyana, Valeria, and Mirrory had to do a double-take at his comments. 'Dragons are weak?'

They had heard about it before, but she thought it was something the low-level people believed. Not a factual thing.

'What do you think happened?' Asked Tatyana to the other two.

Valeria commented. 'Finding a Continent with weak dragons is so strange. Dragons have such strong adaptability, vitality, longevity, and strength that it is difficult for them to be weak.'

Mirrory said. 'Dragon people exist and are pretty strong—one of the top races. Hmm, do you think there is something in this continent that stagnates a beast Dragon's growth?'

Tatyana frowned. 'We have to investigate this. I hope it is a coincidence, but I can't gamble with little treasure. Let's go dragon hunting when we have free time.'

Valeria agreed. 'Don't worry, Yasenias is also important to us.'

Tatyana rolled her eyes. 'It is important until your Masters don't find her important.'

Mirrory sighed. 'My silly girl is stupidly in love with your daughter, so you shouldn't worry. Sigh, living in her soul and hearing her thoughts is sometimes too much. Yasenias name comes up so much that I have to silence her occasionally.'

Valeria laughed. 'Well, mine is similar. "Will this pill help Yasenias?", "This poison may be useful for Yasenias." She is always like that.'

Tatyana smirked. 'My daughter is the best, after all. That should be the normal occurrence.'

The other two tsked their tongues and answered simultaneously. 'My cutie/child is the best.'

The three of them squinted, and you could see them preparing their imaginary throats and preparing their arguments.

Then the three seniors began an epic battle with words in the soul realm without anyone knowing about it.

While the three seniors discussed with each other, Yasenias tried to guess why they wanted to see her dragon form. 'Do they want to discern my race and get more info about me?'

Yasenias observed them stealthily and saw one item on Huo Yang's waist that she didn't spot the other day. 'Hm. I don't know what is that.'

After a moment, Yasenias placed it aside in her mind. 'Well, it doesn't matter. I have a concealing formation created by Mom, so you'll be able to read nothing no matter how strong that thing is.'

Yasenias had planned to transform a little further ahead to hide from curious eyes. The main reason was that she didn't want her dragon form to be too widely known.

However, she didn't bother with it anymore since the people she wanted to avoid were already here with clear intentions.

'Dears, look at the device on his waist and try to guess its functions. It should be a measuring device of some sort. Remember the shape so we can buy it if we see it later.'

'Understood.'

After giving Kaleina to Tatyana, who had a calm expression but was in the middle of a heated argument, Yasenia walked away from the group and transformed.

Similar to the other time, the hurricane of energies gathered toward her in a vortex.

First, her pink skin changed from the root of her tail, slowly changing into a scaly blue body.

The beautiful blue scales spread on her body as her shape changed. Her straight legs began curving as the knee and ankle changed.

The fingers and fingernails also grew and became thicker.

The beautiful dress fused with her body, and her height increased.

She went from two meters to three, and Yasenia curved forward, landing on all fours while her torso, neck, and face lengthened.

By the time she was four meters tall on all fours, her chest had flattened, and her entire body had become dragon-like.

Then, two large dragon wings unfolded from her back, and her crystal mane and golden horns appeared, giving her that ethereal feeling.

Her long tail became even longer in proportion as her body stylized and became lean and muscular.

Every fold, every crevice, and every scale shone with the majesty of an Ancient Ranked Beast, taking the breath of everyone looking away.

Jorey sighed. "Even if it is the second time seeing this, I can't get used to it. She is so... beautiful and imposing. Truly a majestic creature."

Elder Song agreed from the bottom of her heart.

Yasenia extended her wings widely, casting a giant shadow on them with her eighty-meter-wide wing span.

With the Sun and Moon on her wings, Yasenia's body shone like a night filled with stars.

The tiger Patriarch and Elder Song's aunt looked at the device stealthily and were puzzled.

Huo Yang frowned. 'No result? How?'

The item he had was a treasure to measure energy levels and bloodline. Knowing the actual cultivation realm, bloodline level, and many more characteristics of the person were not complicated with its help.

The problem with it was that it needed energy emitted from the person. Therefore, using it during combat, or in this case, a transformation, was ideal.

However, the treasure couldn't read anything because of Tatyana's interference.

'Huo Yang, what the hell is this?'

'If you ask me, then who do I ask?'

The two seniors didn't think about something interfering with it.

This treasure was created by one of the most recognized and renowned Formation Masters of the continent. Until now, it has not failed once. Therefore, high-level people lacked concealing means because this item made hiding almost impossible.

In their knowledge, there were two times when it didn't show anything.

The treasure had broken, and it was not functional anymore, or the person they were measuring was above the strength level of the item, which, honestly, very few were qualified for that.

Naturally, they didn't think it was the second option. Although there was a concealing formation, the show of strength created by Yasenias transformation was not enough to impress these seniors as much as it did with the others.

They've seen far more imposing scenes.

Huo Yang sighed. 'What a shame that it broke. We could've measured her strength accurately and gained the upper hand.'

Song Mei Ying scowled. 'You didn't check before taking it with you, so it's not a shame but a blunder. I didn't expect such a basic mistake coming from you.'

Huo Yang sighed. 'Do you really think I didn't check it? Yesterday it was working perfectly.'

Song Mei Ying almost laughed in anger. 'Right, it broke magically. Do not place excuses. Since we weren't able to read anything, let's leave. I can sense a few others around, so maybe they have gotten the reading.'

'Whatever.'

Song Mei Ying exclaimed. "Yasenia, you are as beautiful as little Song described you. You are like a piece of the night sky that fell and took a dragon form. Honestly, you are giving me the impulse to paint you."

Yasenia spoke. Her voice was mellow but with an ethereal echo in her dragon form. "Many thanks for the compliment. I would be honored to be painted by someone like you."

The tiger kin looked around and asked. "By the way, where are the slaves you bought?"

Yasenia tilted her dragon head and commented. "Back in Koran City. I have to train them before I do anything with them, so the faster they begin, the faster I can use them. Moreover, they would slow me down if they followed me around. Maybe even escape, so I don't want to risk it. I told my soulmate to carry them back yesterday."

Huo Yang smiled. "I see. Either way, we have things to do, so we won't delay you anymore. Have a nice journey!"

Song Mei Ying smiled. "Take care of my niece, Yasenia."

Yasenia nodded, and her lips arched. "Good luck with your work. It has been a pleasure. I hope we have many encounters in the future."

They nodded with smiles.

Then, the two flashed away, disappearing in less than a second.

Yasenia couldn't help but become wary. 'They are so fast I can barely follow them with my senses. They basically vanished from my detection range.'

Chapter 514: Ambush. A sword that splits mountains.

Our girls saw Yasenia looking in the direction the seniors left, so they asked. 'What is in your mind, love?'

Yasenia heard Andrea's questions and shook her head. 'Nothing, don't worry.'

Kali jumped and landed on Yasenia's snout, carrying her earthly and fresh natural scent, making Yasenia's nose twitch. "You smell delightful today, honey."

Kali chuckled and commented aloud. "Love, we should depart. Everyone has gathered."

Yasenia nodded and flicked her snout upwards. Kali used the momentum to jump up and softly land on Yasenia's back.

The other four also jumped upward and stood on Yasenia's back.

Yasenia twisted her neck to look at them, and Tatyana took the chance to take out Yasenia's neck protector and give it to her.

Yasenia wore it quickly, and the others didn't notice how Kaleina slid through a hole into the neck protector.

The little girl landed in a dimly illuminated, cushioned room filled with toys and food. The food was behind a few challenges Kaleina had to overcome, pushing Kaleina's creativity and mind further, even if she was a baby, and feeding her development.

Moreover, since this room was connected with Yasenia's reverse scale, her heartbeat could also be softly heard inside—a heartbeat Kaleina recognized.

Everything in this room was perfectly created for Yasenia's daughter, with formations that cushioned any impacts and momentum from the outside.

This unassuming neckpiece was a peak-level heaven-ranked item solid enough to resist impacts and many other things.

The neck protector was golden and not very big, just enough to protect the area of her reverse scale. More like an armor part, it looked like a pendant fitting for her neck. However, thanks to Yasenia's size, it was more than big enough to fit everything described previously.

Elder Mao, the Golden Body Sect's Elder, took the leadership position and spoke. "Let's depart."

Yasenia extended her wings and flapped, moving air and energy with her wings and propelling into the air with the agility a creature her size shouldn't have.

Unlike the last time when she stood on the back, flying comfortably, Yasenia took the lead in the ground and flew ahead.

No one said anything as the majestic creature flapped with empyrean beauty and elegance.

This gesture was Yasenia's first trap. She was making sure to guide the group directly to the ambush location that was on the way.

If she let somebody else guide them, they might deviate from her intended path. Moreover, because she was new to the area, nobody would think that something was off for Yasenias to take the course they took while coming to Torrent City from Koran City.

While flying, most people stayed silent. Our girls just enjoyed the sensation of riding their dragon lover as the clouds moved around them.

Carbira approached her and asked. "Lady Yasenias, do you want to check on how your treasures are doing when we return?"

Yasenias flew leisurely and commented. "I'll leave that to my subordinates. I must do a few things after I return, so I don't have time for it. I trust you, and they can do a good job pricing."

Carbira nodded. "I'll speak to Hanna, then. She is the one leading the interaction between our powers, after all."

Jorey was a little surprised and joined the conversation. "From what I know, you've placed quite a few High-level items. Do you trust the harpies that were with you for less than a month that much?"

Yasenias moved her giant golden eye and looked at Jorey. "I do. Even if they fail to do a proper job, it's not that big of a deal. As I said, the wealth I've placed in the action this time is large, but we are not selling everything at once, so we can correct mistakes as time passes."

Yasenias smiled. "Moreover, rather than living as if everything wants to kill me, I rather take things leisurely and avoid stressing so much. If I failed to evaluate their character, I can only blame myself and will become better for the next time."

Jorey laughed. "That's too inappropriate. How could you take things so easily? What if those mistakes result in an irreversible outcome?"

Yasenias sighed. "Then, that's my destiny."

Our girls almost spat blood. 'Bullshit! I call bullshit on that! Our lover is lying and trying to manipulate all of you again! Yasenias rather slaughters a thousand innocents to find a culprit than let the culprit go!'

As our girls were thinking, Yasenias, deep down, didn't think like that.

She was cunning, cautious, and scheming, wary of all who weren't her lovers or close family like her maids back at home.

Her senses in discerning intentions and emotions were also exceptionally sharp as a dragon, and even then, Yasenias sometimes didn't fully trust a person even if she knew they didn't mean harm.

To put it into perspective, right at that moment, while talking with smiles, laughing with them, and joking together with these people, Yasenias was guiding them toward a lethal ambush where many would die.

A smile with a dagger hidden beneath was very suitable to describe Yasenias's interactions with her competition.

Naturally, all of this was hammered into her by Tatyana's training and reinforced during her days in the trial.

While making small conversation, two-and-a-half hours went by, and nobody suspected anything. Yasenia's way of words was good enough even to make their guards relax and join the conversation about exciting treasures and materials.

Although flying in her dragon body was faster than in her human form, she was not flying alone.

Inside the group of a little less than two hundred people, there were a few with low cultivation levels that wouldn't be able to catch up if Yasenia went faster.

Therefore, the one-hour trip was lengthened to two-and-a-half hours.

Yasenia's sharp golden eyes caught the mountain range in the distance and began circulating her energy.

'Dears, be careful. This is our first real combat on this continent. Although it is something set up by us, the risk of a clan or sect going wild between us and using the chaos to attack us is possible.'

Yasenia's tone lowered and became colder. 'Do not rely on anyone, and only implement the plans we prepared if they are possible. If someone is threatening your life, kill them. If someone is trying to set up a trap for you, kill them. Safety comes first. We'll think of ways of speaking out of the predicament only after all of you are safe, understood?'

'Understood.'

Yasenia's tone softened. 'As planned, Mom, you'll take control of the formation. I trust whatever you do, but please remember that we are juniors.'

Tatyana smirked. 'Fufu~, this will be fun.'

"Lady Yasenia, what do you think of the tournament?" Elder Hao from the Earthly Sword sect asked.

"Hm? Didn't we speak of that when we received the results?"

"No. I'm not talking about how good it was. I'm curious if you will take part in it again next time."

"Honestly, I'm not sure, Elder Hao. Why do you ask?"

Elder Hao smiled. "Well, my disciples have seen how strong your humans are, and they want to battle with them."

Yasenia chuckled. "Well, as I said, I'm not sure. I guess it will depend on how much I can develop and grow in the following years. My main reason for participating this time was to put my name out in the open and to show that our skills were real."

Yasenia sighed. "It's good for publicity but can also gather unwanted attention. For example, catching the eyes of Elder Song's aunt and the others was completely out of my calculations. Thankfully, they were interesting and educated seniors and gracefully accepted my opinions."

Elder Mu commented. "So, you are hesitant because you may gather too much attention?"

Yasenia nodded. "That's right. I may participate again in the future. Yet, unless I become much more influential, participating yearly has no real meaning. Because the competition is fierce, creating enemies is not hard. For example, that bunny clan that tried to harm Evelyn will probably never be truly allied with me."

Elder Song snorted. "Just a low-level second-rate clan. They were blind for acting against your slaves and got the appropriate distribution.'

Yasenia smiled but did not comment. Her mature dragon face's smiling expression gave her a pleasant and approachable feeling without losing on majesty and elegance.

Elder Mao praised. "I see. That's a good mentality. By the way... Hm?"

Elder Song suddenly screamed anxiously. "LADY YASENIA, DODGE!"

BOOOM!

An enormous white beam of pure energy zoomed out of the mountain at an unavoidable speed.

With enormous strength, the beam landed right on Yasenia's belly, blasting the giant dragon into another mountain at a tremendous speed.

Bang!

Yasenia's body sank into the mountain with a vast dust explosion, creating landslides on the sides of the mountain.

"What happened!?"

"Something hit the dragon!"

"On Distancia's name, who has guts big enough to ambush the nine sects!?"

Elder Mao was calm and began giving orders. "Protect the juniors and leave the area quickly! We should retreat from this place before we are surrounded and trapped here!"

Elder Song, Carbira, and Jorey looked into the crater anxiously, but they knew the priority. Therefore, they were ready to abandon Yasenia.

Yet, before leaving, a mighty and wrathful dragon roar blew the dust cloud away.

"ROAR!"

The resonating and low sound made everyone's heart tremble as the figure of the wrathful dragon appeared from the rubble with a large gash on the stomach, but unhurt either way.

Yasenia released most of her pressure as she flapped and rose into the air again.

Then, with a growling voice that carried a horrifying wave of killing intent, her voice rumbled in the area.

"WHO DARES ATTACK ME!? COME OUT IF YOU HAVE THE GUTS AND SHOW ME WHOSE CLAN I SHALL ANNIHILATE FROM THIS EARTH."

The area around Yasenia was turbulent and wrathful, making everyone freeze momentarily. The dragon's rage was multiplied by her [Empyrean Dragon Authority] and her [Monarch Intent Level One], making her words resonate with the souls of everyone present.

At that moment when Yasenia's presence inundated the area, a massive dome appeared around them that covered the most prominent mountain and trapped everyone inside.

They all snapped out of their daze and frowned. 'Crap, her rage was too impacting and stole our chance of escape.'

Elder Hao frowned and grabbed his sword, entering a sword-drawing stance.

With a movement that seemed slow but was nothing like that, he unsheathed his sword and attacked the formation without holding back.

"[Sword Intent level two], [Earthly Sword Body], [Earth Splitting Slash]."

The sound of Elder Hao's action to unsheathe the sword was like a sharp cry that could cut everything in its path.

The aura around him was so sharp that it created visible cuts in the air itself.

Then, our girls saw for the first time the power of an Ethereal Soul Body Realm Cultivator on the brink of a breakthrough without holding an ounce of strength back.

His monstrous bodily strength, coupled with his [Sword Intent], and added the drawing skill from the Sword Sect, made his action so fast that it created a flash of light.

The air before the man was split, creating a vacuum as the invisible slash rushed with deadly momentum toward the dome.

After a moment of silence, the sonorous explosive sound of the formation's wall and the attack colliding echoed.

BOOOM!

Our girls saw a crack in the shape of a line extended for an entire kilometer and a half across the surface of the dome as the shape of the dome bent slightly outward.

Chapter 515: First altercations. [Vine Horror Soul Hound].

After witnessing the large crack across the dome's surface, Yasenias couldn't help but feel her heart twitch. Although she was confident in resisting an attack like that, losing a limb to it was a best-case scenario.

Unless she unleashed everything in her arsenal, that attack would be a dangerous blow to face.

On Yasenias's back, the girls discussed among themselves.

Evelyn asked with a serious tone. 'Can the formation hold against a barrage of such attacks?'

Angel answered positively. 'Yes. It should.'

Andrea commented. 'It would not be logical if it couldn't hold on, to be honest.'

And as soon as Andrea finished speaking, the crack along the surface of the colossal dome covering the mountain and a large part of the surrounding area healed instantly.

Our girls relaxed, but the rest of the people had a grimace on their faces.

Yasenias was still acting enraged, and her aura was blasting around like a hurricane of energy. She shouted aloud again as if she didn't care for the dome's situation. "YOU LOWLY CREATURES. COME OUT AND FACE ME!"

Elder Mao shouted. "Lady Yasenias, calm down! Could you attack the dome and try to destroy it?"

Yasenias's golden eyes turned toward them, and her pressure made them feel suffocated.

Elder Mu frowned and looked around them. "Lady Yasenya, we have visitors. It looks like the ambush is more than a formation."

Elder Song was enraged because of the attack Yasenya had received, and her face was cold and murderous. "It doesn't matter. Let's slaughter them all for provoking us."

The creatures that appeared were hundreds of plant creatures led by a powerful-looking tree man.

The plant lifeforms were together and had an imposing aura. However, the seniors found it slightly lacking for being an attack formation prepared to deal with them.

An Elder from the Fu family asked. "A Tree Man? What are they doing in this area? They should be much further north."

Elder Mu squinted and spoke. "Be careful. They are not a common species. Look, his race is a [Bone Melting Tree Man]."

Elder Mao was stunned. "Those? I thought they almost went extinct-."

Yasenya coldly interrupted, her voice filled with killing intent. "Even if he is the last of his species, today he will die."

Before the seniors said anything, Yasenya flapped her wings and flew above the group of plant creatures.

Then, the already monstrous aura around Yasenya multiplied many times over.

"[SUN DRAGON BREATH]!"

Yasenya's draconic body gained a faint golden glow as the energy around her was absorbed by her body.

Yasenya wanted to show unmatched strength, so she absorbed all the energy she could and moved a thread of Celestial Energy into her attack.

The dragoness's breath attack was an innate skill.

Innate skills were skills part of oneself, a skill she had an extreme affinity for. Therefore, adding this strand of Celestial Energy was possible.

Even then, the way she used to add the Celestial Energy was not a natural addition but a forceful action. Instead of sharpening a blade, it was like using more brute force without care for the edge breaking.

As the attack went from her insides out, Yasenya felt her throat bloat and about to burst. The energy rushing out of her was burning its way out as the pressure became so dense that it began condensing the air around her.

However, the result of the attack was well worth it.

Yasenya roared without holding anything back.

ROAR!

With a dragon cry that made everything tremble, a golden beam spanning more than two hundred meters wide burst out of her mouth, scorching everything in her path.

The monstrous breath attack moved instantaneously for everyone observing the horrifying attack, and it bathed the surroundings in a tsunami of light and heat.

The [Sun Dragon Breath] exploded in the middle of the recently formed plant creatures and burst in an explosion that consumed and carbonized everything around the impact point.

Everyone was blinded for a few seconds and impacted by the powerful shockwave of the breath attack a few moments before they regained their sight.

The shockwave was like a steel wall, almost throwing the juniors off their flying swords.

The energy in that attack horrified them as the strand of Celestial Energy made their senses scream danger in every sense possible.

When they saw the results of the attack, they broke out in a cold sweat.

The dome covered the largest mountain peak and five surrounding ones. They were much smaller than the main peak, but they weren't small.

Yasenia's breath attack had annihilated one of those peaks with every plant-based creature in that area, leaving a bubbling magma pool behind.

It didn't end there.

Because the creatures had spawned near the edge of the formation, the attack had also impacted it head-on, generating spider-web-like cracks that covered a large portion of the dome.

Yet, as it appeared, the cracks also healed as fast as before. Before a second went by, they had disappeared, leaving behind a pristine, transparent structure.

Jorey gulped and smiled wryly, looking at the bubbling lava pool. "Well... That's that for the ambush, I guess."

Carbira muttered. "Heavens, I didn't know Lady Yasenia was this strong."

The Elders also looked surprised. They knew that Yasenia was strong, but this was a confirmation that Yasenia's attitude until now was deserved.

In truth, however, Yasenia has deceived them all.

Was Yasenia's attack stronger than Elder Hao's? Not by much.

The damage was different, and the impact and aura were different. However, if Elder Hao had directed that attack toward one of these peaks, it would've probably created equal destruction in the shape of a slash instead of an explosion.

Yet, as Yasenia usually did, playing with her auras and using the visual factors, she ensured that they thought her strength was much superior.

In their minds, Yasenia was now an Epoch Core Realm Cultivator. Someone above their strength that was within the limits of an Ethereal Soul Realm Body Cultivator.

After the impact of all the girls on Yasenia's back, there was one missing.

That person was Tatyana.

Tatyana took the chance to slip away after Yasenia smashed into the mountain to take control of the formation.

Right now, she was looking at the bubbling crater and blinking. 'That was supposed to be the first wave... I didn't expect her to annihilate it right away.'

Tatyana sighed. 'Well, it doesn't matter. Those things were just an appetizer. I should begin activating the real skills of this baby. What should I begin with? Well, it is quite obvious. I should begin killing people!'

The seniors looked around carefully and discussed with each other. "Do you think this is it?"

"The formation is still running. There should be more people outside."

"Lady Yasenia's attack was strong and unexpected, so it should've disturbed their plans greatly."

Yasenia looked around and said, her ethereal voice echoing around. "It's not that simple. Keep up your guard-."

"ARGH!"

Everyone turned around and saw a black wooden arrow piercing a junior's stomach.

Before anyone could do anything, the impaled man screamed, and the arrow exploded in a reddish mist that made those who approached instinctively to help scream in pain and fly away with their swords.

The people touched by the reddish mist had blisters growing on their skin as a few parts began to rot away.

Thankfully, they all had healing pills and took one before the effects became dangerous.

Yet, the man that was struck did not have the same luck or time to react.

As the mist completely surrounded him and also seeped inside him, his body decomposed and rotted away quickly, making a puddle fall from the sky with a sword.

The man that had the arrow melted in a puddle and fell from the sky.

Following that arrow, everyone saw thousands of forest creatures appearing from the surrounding peaks, all with strengths in the Mental Nourishing Realm and a few with greater power.

A few held black bows between the army's creatures, which people assumed was where the arrows came from.

Elder Mu quickly shouted. "Protect the juniors from the arrows! The poison should not be strong enough to pierce our barriers."

Elder Hao squinted as he looked around. "There are a few auras I find dangerous."

Among the thousands of creatures, there were twenty powerful ones at the low level of the Unification Realm. Each of the four groups that appeared had five of them.

Then, there was a giant quadrupedal creature made of vines in the largest group of plant-based creatures. The body was not aesthetic as the vines wriggled constantly, and the head was terrifying, with a deformed mouth with sharp and purple leaking teeth and eye cavities that shone with a purple light.

The aura around it was strong enough to intimidate even the highest-level seniors in the group.

This formation was prepared with time, and its power was far above anything our girls could achieve while fighting.

Yasenia looked at that creature and concluded that she wasn't its match. Although Yasenia and the girls planned a few things and objectives, they didn't know all the functions the seniors included in the formation.

Kali exclaimed. 'What is that thing? I haven't seen that creature before.'

Valeria explained. 'That's a [Vine Horror Soul Hound]. It's still juvenile, but the strength is very high. It should be more than enough to keep the five elders from the Nine sects occupied.'

Andrea commented. 'Just from its aura, I can feel my body shudder. I think only that thing would be quite a challenge to defeat between all of us.'

Mirrory commented. 'It would be a difficult battle, but you can probably kill it without getting severely hurt if you play your cards right. However, these body cultivators will have it rough because its aura affects the body and the soul.'

Yasenia looked around and squinted as she maintained her body in place. "Elder Mao, that thing feels dangerous even for me."

He nodded with a severe face. "I understand."

Elder Song asked. "How should we divide the battlefield?"

Elder Mao commented. "How about trying to communicate first? Honestly, this is looking much more dangerous than it did at the beginning."

Elder Yu snorted. "We could also just charge and destroy all of them."

An elder from another clan interrupted. "Elders from the nine sects, we ask for your cooperation in protecting our juniors."

The five of them turned around and saw that all the powers were looking at them.

Elder Mao thought for a moment and nodded. "We will do as much as we can."

Yasenia internally snorted. 'Those words serve as a facade. The second you are in danger, you will probably not protect them.'

Then, he turned and spoke aloud while looking in the direction of the Vine Horror.

Chapter 516: The Elder's battle.

Elder Mao took the leadership position and ordered aloud. "We have twenty Ethereal Soul Body Cultivators. You five will cover the juniors and fight the small army. The rest of us will try to finish the powerful ones behind the army. Once we are done with them, we'll clean everything up."

The five he pointed at nodded with severe expressions.

The plant-based creatures didn't instantly attack, confusing them. They all saw the giant horror hound take a few steps forward and open the malformed mouth, leaking a thick violet substance from its mouth.

"You stole everything. Now we've come to take revenge. You are the first, and we'll continue this hunt until you all disappear."

The sound was stringent. It was so bad that a few people cringed while listening to it and covering their ears. The screeching of the voice echoed like a sharp vibration that made most people nauseous even while placing their hands over their ears.

Elder Song's face changed, and she shouted. "Be careful. That thing has soul influence!"

Yasenia was impressed. 'Just the voice is able to make the souls of these people tremble. It may instantly kill those with weaker souls if it shouts with all its might.'

Elder Mu looked over and asked aloud. "Which power are you from, creature? Why did you set up an ambush? Why do you claim we stole everything?"

The giant quadrupedal vine creature seemed incensed by those questions, and its body writhed in a nauseating manner. "You forgot... You forgot? YOU FORGOT ABOUT OUR SUFFERING!"

The creature's screech was so sharp that a few juniors fainted and fell from their flying swords.

The elders decided to land on the ground and cushion their falls. They were standing on the tallest peak, so looking around was not hard, even when they were on the ground.

Elder Song felt her body telling her that fighting this thing was too dangerous, so she shouted. "This is a misunderstanding. We can-."

SCREECH

However, the creature interrupted with a scream that made the air around its body visibility tremble.

Yasenia was still flying above them, looking over the battlefield. She knew that although this was planned, Tatyana would probably not pull punches with them.

Elder Mao looked up at Yasenia and asked. "Lady Yasenia, will you join us in the fight?"

Yasenia answered indifferently. "No."

They all frowned and asked. "What is your plan?"

Yasenia looked at them and squinted. "I've been involved in this situation because of you."

They all flinched because it seemed like that. Yasenia snorted. "Don't worry. I will also contribute. Yet, I'll fight on my own. Do not worry about me; I can protect myself."

"While all of you fight with those things, I'll ask Angel to find a weak point for this Formation. If we destroy it, escaping shouldn't be too hard."

Elder Hao frowned as he scratched his sword's pommel. "Can't you kill that giant thing with the previous attack?"

Yasenia sneered. "I don't think an ambush set up against a group from the Nine Sects would be this simple. Even if I kill it, so what? I'm the strongest combatant, so I should focus on guarding the only person that can get us out of this situation. In this case, it is Angel."

They all looked at the blonde human on Yasenia's back and frowned.

Yasenia continued coldly. "I know that being saved by a human will leave behind a bad aftertaste, but living is better than dying, right?"

"Moreover, seniors from this power might be coming our way, so I'll focus on helping Angel decipher the formation. The last thing I want is for this situation to become more complicated."

They found it reasonable, so nobody said anything else.

Fighting with their flying swords wasn't possible as it would consume too much energy, so everyone decided to fight on the ground besides Yasenia.

After they all landed on the ground, it felt like a switch had been flipped, and every plant-based creature surrounding them charged toward them.

The five seniors assigned to protect the juniors surrounded them and took out their weapons.

Meanwhile, the other seniors shot toward the group of charging creatures with the intention of fighting the leaders of the four groups.

Yasenia coldly spat. "Burn. [Draconic Noon]."

With the Sun Energy accumulated from her breath attack, she used [Draconic Noon] in her dragon form.

Unlike the descending strike created with her sword in the human form, the attack in the dragon form was different.

A ball of golden energy materialized before Yasenia and ballooned to a monstrous size in a fraction of a second. Then, the dragoness clenched her claw and punched the ball.

The ball bent outward and burst into a golden eruption while taking a draconic shape. The dragon silently roared as the extended wings and body transformed into a cascade of golden flames that incinerated a significant portion of the army before the quadrupedal creature.

As the golden energy wave immolated everything in its path and rushed toward the powerful creatures at the back, the quadrupedal creature screeched at the wave.

When the attack was about to arrive, the giant creature stomped the ground, creating a small earthquake and black-colored vines caught the dragon shape wave, squeezing it out.

The golden wave was like a balloon that was squeezed and popped into particles, dissipating it completely.

Evelyn cursed. 'Fuck me. It can pop [Draconic Noon]?'

Yasenia commented. 'Evelyn, focus. That wasn't a strong attack either way, so don't get that surprised.'

The Ethereal Body Realm Cultivators didn't lose the opening Yasenia created and charged into the clump of high-level enemies surrounding the quadrupedal creature. At the same time, the seniors from the nine sects faced the vine creature.

As such, a battle began as the Five Elders from the Nine Sects attacked the giant creature together while the other ten kept the rest high-level monsters occupied.

"YOU ASININE CREATURES. DO YOU REALLY THINK THAT CHARGING RIGHT AT ME IS AN INTELLIGENT THING TO DO!?"

The Vine Horror Soul Hound opened its malformed mouth to the limits and roared with all its might.

The shriek from the creature created a sound wave that rushed toward the five elders at high speed.

Elder Song shouted. "Behind me!"

Then, she took out a guqin and lifted all seven strings at once. This pull was something Elder Song wouldn't usually do. She was a woman who cherished her instruments a lot. However, she had no choice before this soul attack.

Her strings released and echoed in a sound wave that rushed against the screech of the creature.

BANG!

A deafening sound exploded from the collision.

Elder Hao took the chance and lunged forward, instantly crossing the distance between the horror and him.

"[Earthy Sword Barrage]."

The giant creature was almost larger than Yaseia, so they concluded it was slow. However, to Elder Hao's surprise, the creature turned its head quickly, and many vines shot toward his sword strikes.

CLANG!

The first sword attack and vine created a metallic sound. Then, a metallic cacophony was created by the repeated collisions created in the next instant.

Elder Mao used his Golden Body techniques to approach and increase his bodily strength many times over.

"[Hundred Golden Fists]."

With the weight of his whole body, his fist shot toward the giant creature's side, leaving a light trail behind.

The creature's vicious head twisted to look at him as he approached, and Elder Mao saw an evil smirk appearing on its mouth.

A fortified spike shot upward from the ground, intending to impale him.

"Not so fast!"

Elder Yu appeared and used a giant hammer to smash against the rising spike, blasting it to pieces.

Elder Mao's fist connected thanks to this.

BANG!

With an enormous shockwave, the creature's feet left the ground for a few seconds and slid sideways.

Tatyana was personally controlling this creature, and her tiny smirk widened. 'Interesting. Now, play with mommy for a while, children, hahaha.'

Tatyana's laughter was imitated by the creature that was just hit. However, the sound sounded terrific and malicious as the mouth twisted in a horrifying grin.

Elder Song and the others felt an instinctual fear rushing up their spines. They didn't know why, but they somehow knew this thing outclassed them.

Even across another creature, Tatyana's majesty could not be missed.

Elder Song played her guqin and created an upbeat melody that boosted their morale and strength. "Focus! Remember that it was soul attacks, so be always prepared."

Elder Song blinked, and in that instant, she lost the creature. 'Huh? Where is-.'

"[SOUL HORROR SCREAM]!"

Elder Song quickly reacted and created a poorly formed barrier around herself.

SCREEECH!

Her eyes widened as the blood vessels in her eyes burst, and she coughed a mouthful of blood.

The creature slammed its claw, trying to flatten Elder Song to a pulp.

Elder Mu snorted. "[Flora Control]."

The Soul Hound moved its shining violet eyes and looked directly into Elder Mu's eyes, making her feel as if darkness had engulfed the world for a second. This was another mental attack from the creature, which interrupted the skill.

Even then, the beast froze for a second, enough time for Elder Yu to move Elder Song away and for Elder Hao and Elder Mao to enter into close-range combat.

His fist shone with golden light.

Elder Mu approached and took Elder Song from Elder Yu, starting to use her healing skills.

Elder Yu didn't stay around and joined the battle, landing a blow with his hammer on the side.

"Tsk, this thing is quite durable. I only managed to dent a few of the vines. We need heavier firepower to damage it!"

Elder Mao commented. "Keep it up. We need to get used to the attack patterns before we can create opportunities."

Then, after recovering Elder Song, all five of them got locked into battle with the thing Tatyana was controlling.

Meanwhile, Yasenya flew over the battlefield as if she was moving Angel around to find the weak point of the formation.

'Dears, prepare yourselves. The following combat is very real; although we control most of the formation, there may be accidents. Fight without holding back.'

Angel commented. 'Yasenya, the formation is working at a twenty percent capacity. If they don't have any powerful trump cards, we should be able to kill all of them. What should we do?'

'Don't. Carbira, Elder Song, Jorey, and the other Elders are useful. By the way, Jorey has weak combat power. How is she doing?'

Kali answered. 'She is surrounded by the five seniors left behind, together with Carbira and other weaker juniors. For now, besides having a nosebleed because of the screech, there is nothing out of place.'

Yasenia was fighting against many attacks coming from the ground while carrying her dears on her back, and she had little time to observe the battlefield situation.

Tatyana seemed to have been focusing on her for a while, and a constant rain of arrows, spears, and many more projectiles shot at her without rest.

Yasenia had to zig-zag, barrel roll, and make abrupt changes of pace to avoid the attacks.

Even then, she was hit by a few from time to time.

Thankfully, her scales were durable enough to avoid serious injuries, while the girls on her back also helped block a few of the attacks.

Even then, it was quite the roller coaster for the girls on Yasenia's back.

Chapter 517: Angel's Horrific Power. Yasenia's Empyrean Presence.

Yasenia continued dodging while her girls narrated the battlefield situation to her.

Andrea commented. 'Love, Young Master Fu is not fighting. He is in the group with the weak juniors even though his strength should be around mid-level of the Mental Nourishing Realm.'

Evelyn sneered. 'What did you expect, for him to fight courageously? I bet he is holding back from using one or two life-saving treasures that could help while his peers are fighting to protect his ass.'

Angel spat. 'So cowardly. Others that are weaker than him are fighting with the seniors against the wave of creatures.'

Kali sighed. 'This will make killing him more difficult. After all, Jorey and Carbira are near him, so if a creature slips through to kill, those surviving would be strange if a person as strong as Young Master Fu dies.'

Yasenia bathed another wave of creatures in her Sun breath and spoke. 'Do not focus on him. Remember what I have told you.'

They all felt Yasenia warning them so many times was a bit redundant. However, their stance changed to a more attentive one.

Yasenia was a veteran of War compared to them, so they knew that her words were not to be lightly taken.

While they discussed the battlefield, another screech that flowed the battlefield spread around. However, this time, it carried hints of pain with it.

Tatyana warned. 'Be careful, little treasure. The second wave is coming.'

Their eyes moved to the creature and saw that one of the four legs was missing. The five elder's combined efforts had allowed them to have a tiny window to create a crippling attack.

The creature trashed everything around it with maddened filled screams and blows, forcing the five elders to retreat.

Elder Yu shouted in his deep baritone voice. "It is going berserk! Be careful!"

"BERSERK!? WE ARE GOING BERSERK!? HAHAAAAHA. FOOLISH BEAST HUMANS. DO YOU THINK THIS IS ENOUGH TO STOP US!? THAT THIS IS ENOUGH TO BEAT US!?"

With the wild howls and words, the creature's aura bloated as it expanded like a monstrous wave covering the whole battlefield.

The plant-based creatures that could create sounds howled in a cacophony of strangled screams.

Unlike common beasts, a plant creature's tonality was different. Hence, sounding so bizarre and terrifying when they fought.

Kali's face changed as he saw a hint of green aura in every beast's eyes. 'Don't tell me. Is this Valeria's enhancing skill?'

Valeria smirked. 'More than that.'

As Valeria finished speaking, the whole mountain and its surrounding trembled as every tree and vegetation grew at fantastical speeds.

The roots of the plants were so strong that they burst through the hard soil and lifted the earth in a massive earthquake.

Jorey almost lost her footing as she shouted. "What is happening!?"

Fu Yu screamed to the seniors. "You useless old men! Aren't you here to protect me? Kill these animals quickly and stop this!"

Yasenia could fly calmly since the creatures had retreated briefly and regrouped.

Multiple screams from the juniors' group caught her attention, and she moved her golden eyes quickly to see the situation.

The crown of the trees wasn't very dense. Hence, the visibility was not impaired enough to hide from her eyes.

The vines that had sprouted from the ground had moved as if they were alive and took seven of the fighting juniors underground with them.

"NOOO!"

"AUNT! Please help me!"

"UNCLE!!"

"Ahhh!!!"

The five elders reacted quickly, trying to attack, but the speed of the vines was unparalleled. One woman, the aunt of one of the males that were swallowed, screamed with grief and punched that area.

An enormous explosion occurred as her physical strength dented the vines.

Right after, the vines around the impact zone zoomed toward her like lightning and latched onto her limbs.

"YOU FUCKING CREATURES, RETURN MY CHILD!"

Angel, Kali, Evelyn, and Andrea felt some sympathy for the struggling woman and curiously looked at Yasenia to see her expression.

However, Yasenia's face was emotionless and as cold as ice on the Moon.

Her golden slit eyes observed the tragedy with unsettling calmness, overlooking it as if it was a familiar scene, making them shudder momentarily. 'How many times has she seen this scene?'

The eerie voice of the quadrupedal creature spread around like a horrific whisper.

"Return? Why bother with such complicated things? It is faster for you to join him~."

Then, the vines swallowed the screaming senior.

Just like that, one senior and seven juniors died to the vines.

The rest of the people reacted quickly and used powerful attacks against the ground, trying to blow apart the vines.

Tens of explosions sounded every second as chunks of giant vines violently exploded, liberating a few parts of the formation for them to stand firmly on.

The giant creature laughed and licked its lips with a fleshy tongue that didn't fit the rest of the plant monster. "Thanks for the fertilizer."

Elder Mao frowned worriedly. "What did you do!?"

The maw of the creature widened in a terrifying smirk. "This."

Yasenia observed the surroundings from the sky and squinted. Then, she shouted, her ethereal voice echoing around the collapsing mountain. "The vines are transforming, be careful!"

They all looked at the places where people died and saw many creatures with mixes of chunks of flesh and vines arising grotesquely.

The Soul Hound howled, and all the plant creatures restarted the attack with much higher strength and speed.

The Soul Hound cackled. "My new children arise and kill those whom you held dear! Hahaha!"

Elder Song and the others finally became fearful. "Lady Yasenia, how is Angel doing!?"

Yasenia looked at them and answered. "We are doing-Huh?"

"Yasenia!"

Yasenia felt a vine tangling her back limbs, and her lips twitched. 'This is going to hurt.'

The next instant, they all saw the vines pulling the giant dragon from the skies back to the ground.

BOOM!

While Yasenia was flung down like a rag doll, everyone on Yasenia's back was thrown away because of the speed at which Yasenia impacted the ground.

Yasenia felt all her organs squeeze because of the pressure of the impact, making her eyes widen in pain as a mouthful of blood escaped her dragon maw.

She also felt her scales and a few bones crack because of the strike.

The giant vine monster's gloating voice followed Yasenia's fall. "I finally caught the annoying flying lizard. Thanks for distracting her, beast human woman."

The seniors looked in the direction Angel was launched, and their hearts despaired when they saw almost fifty creatures rushing toward her and just a few meters apart.

Elder Mao cursed. "Continue attacking him and distract him! Someone protect that human girl! She is our only hope!"

Two seniors rushed out of the encirclement and moved quickly toward Angel's distant position.

None of the beast humans here would have thought that one day would come the time when they would risk their lives for a human.

Meanwhile, Angel stood up a bit dizzy and looked around.

She spotted Yasenia at the right moment when Yasenia spat blood, and something snapped in her head as she saw scales fall off Yasenia's beautiful body since they were too damaged.

Angel's blue eyes gained a green color as her hair became a beautiful crimson red from the roots to the tips.

"You filthy creatures, how dare you hurt my Yasenia!? [Blood Vaporizing Field]!"

Mirrory's eyes widened. 'Stupid girl, don't forget to hold back!'

Mirrory warned, but it was too late.

When Angel finished her chant, an ocean of light and glass energy flooded her surroundings, crystalizing a wide area and creating an instantaneous formation.

Glass nodes of various shapes materialized at that moment, and the ground was covered in a layered circle with complex runes, symbols, and figures.

A blood-red light lit up every glass node, and the world was bathed in a brilliant red glow.

For those spectating, it felt as if purgatory had descended on Earth. And they weren't that wrong.

Her Light and Glass attributes worked together to bounce deadly multicolored lasers all around her, creating a land of brilliant death.

All the creatures surrounding Angel vaporized, leaving a wide free area around her.

It was just an instant.

However, that wasn't all.

Angel pointed at the Soul Horror with emotionless eyes and muttered coldly. "Die. [Blood Vaporizing Beam]."

BOOM!

The formation burst into pieces as a monstrously huge red laser beam shot toward the Soul Hound.

Tatyana's lips twitched. 'A Saint's inheritor is a Saint's inheritor.'

Tatyana didn't panic and calmly waved her hand, controlling the formation with surgical precision.

The floor in the path between them rose as countless vines formed a thick wall.

The laser annihilated every barrier like fragile glass and crossed the battlefield, arriving before the Soul Hound in less than a second.

SCREEECH

The powerful sound wave rushed forward just as every barrier vaporized and impacted against the weakened laser beam, exploding it into pieces.

Meanwhile, Mirrory spoke into Angel's mind. 'Girl, quickly, act as if you fainted!'

Angel returned to her senses and quickly fell limp toward the ground while closing her eyes and as her hair changed to the usual blonde.

Our girls couldn't help but have their eyelids twitch. 'When did she learn such an attack? My heavens, it is so scary.'

Yasenia looked at the situation after getting out of her daze at the moment that the enormous laser beam rushed toward the Soul Hound.

'Sigh, my baby is such a troublesome darling.'

Yasenia quickly flapped her wings and flew upward right when the laser impacted. Then, she gathered all her aura and closed her eyes momentarily.

'Become the heavens.'

Yasenia slowly opened her eyes as her voice harmonized with the World.

"[Empyrean Cosmos Domain]."

ROAR!

Yasenia didn't roar, but her dragon cry echoed around the battlefield above the explosion sound of the previous attack.

Her deep and resounding dragon cry inundated everything around her as she activated her other enhancing abilities.

Yasenia's figure as she floated in the sky became ethereally beautiful as a galaxy of stars rotated behind her.

The sky was like the night, but the Sun and Moon shone on each side.

The sky changed into something that appeared to be plucked right from the center of the Universe.

Beautiful lights and stars surrounded the Celestial Dragoness, her figure looking like a goddess overlooking the World.

Everyone forgot about the recent attack and was mesmerized by Yasenia's empyrean beauty.

"Children, we've just begun our battle. Resist, fight, and give your all for your brothers and sisters. We shall not fall to evil."

Then, Yasenía swooped down to pick Angel and chanted.

"[Midnight: Falling Sky]."

Then, the Sky fell.

The countless stars in the rotating galaxy above them shone and rained stars all around the battlefield on a massively wide area.

Then, the Sun and Moon created a phantom image and fell together with the rain of stars.

The whole battlefield was illuminated for the following second by starlight, sunlight, and moonlight.

Someone muttered a feeling that all shared. "Such a majestic destruction."

The quadrupedal creature spoke. "Now you've done it, lizard."

Yasenía flew back and looked at it with an otherworldly indifference that made Tatyana's core shudder. "I'm not your opponent, monster."

The five elders appeared at the sides of the creature and attacked it all around.

Tatyana caressed her body as her eyes shone with wild euphoria, and a sigh-like moan left her mouth. "Ahhh~. That's right. This is my daughter~. Heavens, are you seeing this? Are you seeing how futile your attempt to prohibit me from giving birth to her was? THIS IS MY DAUGHTER, HAHAHAAAA."

Chapter 518: Dance Of Destruction.

Yasenía heard the shouts of a few seniors and saw them retreating while heavily wounded.

The plant monsters were resilient, numerous, and had many underhanded methods of attacks besides physical blows.

That was one of the reasons Plant Summoners were so respected back in the Sky Continent. A plant summoner can create armies of creatures with varied and dangerous traits and many other tricks.

Yasenía could observe the whole battlefield as her strength and power right then were enormous.

She had activated most of her strengthening auras. Leaving aside [War Intent], [Monarch Intent], [Celestial Intent], and the Assimilation Skills.

Her Dragon Body floating above in a human-like manner looked like an Ethereal Being looking down at the world.

Angel was lying on one of her claws, looking up with adoring eyes at the gorgeous creature that looked over the world like a supreme creature.

"Creatures of evil, you've challenged my patience enough today."

The creature Tatyana controlled was exchanging blows with the five seniors and looked at Yasenía for a second. The image of the celestial dragon flapping her wings majestically mid-air and radiating a profound and otherworldly aura entered her retina, making her laugh aloud.

"And what will you do, dragon? You are bound to die under my claws! HAHAAAA."

Yasenía placed Angel on her neck so she could ride her comfortably while grabbing her neckpiece.

"Monster, I shall exterminate you. [Celestial Firmament Battle Dance]."

When Yasenia activated this skill on top of every other buff, her profound and aloof aura rampaged in a storm of Sun, Moon, and Star energies.

Yasenia flapped, and her body basically vanished from the spot and appeared before one of the injured seniors was about to die to the plant monsters.

The senior saw a blur followed by a giant dragon appearing while the golden eyes radiated an imposing light.

"Disappear."

Yasenia then began rampaging mid-army while clawing, slamming her body, or using her maw and tail to strike the monsters around her.

Her enormous size made it look like a giant kicking pebbles around, and plant creatures could be seen flying all around.

Yasenia advanced through the thousands of creatures as they jumped at her and trampled everything in her way.

A large creature jumped to her side, and Yasenia flapped her wing, smashing it from above and slamming it into the ground with a giant bang.

A tree as tall as Yasenia with a humanoid shape punched toward her face, and the dragon calmly headbutted it with her horns.

The wooden fist exploded, and as the splinters moved before Yasenia, she opened her mouth and released a [Sun Dragon Breath].

BOOM!

The creature became charcoal.

The dragoness saw a giant mantis-like creature using the blades to try to cut her tail, and she sneered. "[Sunrise]."

Yasenia moved her hips, and the dragoness's tail shone with golden light as it flashed upward, slicing the creature in two and igniting it the next second.

A five-meter-tall bulky humanoid plant creature roared with a distorted voice as it charged toward Yasenia.

This creature was one of the strongest, well into the Unification Realm.

Yasenia turned her body as her claws sliced the ground in an upper crescent arc. "[Dusk]."

The attack that would transform every bit of Sun energy into Moon energy inside her body shot out in five golden crescents with silver edges.

The plant creature used vines to create an intricate shield bigger than it and placed it before its body to block the attack and continue to charge forward.

BANG!

The creature felt every fiber in its body scream as the strain and power from the blow made it almost fly away.

Tatyana thought. 'I need to stabilize it and counter-Huh?'

Tatyana looked up through that monster's eyes at the thing that had cast a shadow above it.

She saw a silver-eyed dragon looking down at her with monstrous killing intent and indifference while it slammed down its enormous claw.

'So beautiful.'

"[Moon Dragon Claw]."

An enormous explosion of Moon energies froze everything in a five-hundred-meter area.

Tatyana felt her connection with that creature cut, signifying that it was dead. Remembering those murderous eyes made her heart shudder with delight, and her mouth opened burst a maddened cackle.

"HAHAHAHA! SO YOU CAN MAKE THAT KIND OF FACE! HAHAHAHA!"

No matter how seriously Yasenya sparred or fought with her dears, her gaze always had a gentle touch and pampering tone.

However, this was the first time in her life that Tatyana saw the real Yasenya when she was battling, and her body could only tremble in euphoria. 'If you look at me with such an attractive gaze, I won't be able to hold myself, little treasure~.'

The five seniors fighting the quadrupedal creature didn't know why it began cackling madly with that monstrous voice.

Suddenly, they felt a chill going up their spines as the creature's mood changed.

The creature's mouth curved in a deformed manner. "Be careful~. I feel so aroused that I won't be able to control myself~."

The vine monster's shape also began losing the hound-like shape as it became more dreadful, showing the true shape of the heart of the controller.

A twisted and corrupt heart that only had a single light within it.

Elder Yu shouted. "Be Careful! It feels-."

Elder Yu's whole body chilled as he felt the feeling of death warping around his existence.

Out of pure survival instinct, he slammed his hammer with his most potent technique toward his back in a wide arc.

When he looked back, he saw in slow motion how the mouth of the creature was about to engulf him while his hammer traveled. He thought in despair. 'My attack is too slow! When did it appear behind me!? I will die, I will die!'

A golden light fell from above and slammed onto the upper part of the maw, closing it with the punch and giving Elder Yu enough time to strike it.

BANG!

The malformed Soul Hound was blasted flying, and Elder Yu looked at his savior. He laughed. "Elder Mao, you are truly reliable."

Elder Mao from the Golden Body Sect frowned. "Don't become distracted. It appears like the real battle starts now."

The creature stood up with a dent on its face and shrieked.

SCREECH!

Meanwhile, as Yasenja rampaged around like an unstoppable force and Tatyana continuously pushed the Elders to the brink of their Death, our girls fought around the battlefield after being flung away from Yasenja's back.

Andrea summoned the black armor with golden edges and put on the helmet. This time, unlike the previous common-looking armor, it had a draconic theme.

The gauntlets ended in claws, the shoulder protectors had a dragon face engraved, and the black horns on the helmet shone with an ominous light.

Her halberd had also changed colors into a black-golden halberd.

Andrea saw many creatures rushing toward her and spun her halberd twice while looking around with a straight back. "I've been waiting to fight for a while."

Andrea began activating two of her innate skills, [Phantom Light] and [Light Absorption].

A yellow ball of light appeared above Andrea, increasing the temperature around her. Then, our heroic woman summoned her elemental armor around her, [Chromosphere].

Magma bubbled and coated her armor in a thick and dense layer, following the shape of her armor and making her look like a semi-draconic magma being.

"[Combat Armor Enhancer], [Combat Weapon Enhancement], [Searing Mantle], [Allow Weaver Intent Level One]."

The creatures rushing toward her had to stop, and the temperature around Andrea had become hellish. And she was yet to finish deploying her skills.

Andrea saw a Unification Realm plant creature rushing toward her and muttered. "You should be a good opponent. I can feel upper levels of Unification Realm strength coming from it."

Andrea flexed her legs and took a step forward.

The floor below Andrea cracked under her monstrous strength.

"[Solar Charge]."

Andrea pushed against the ground and sunk it in a small crater as she shot toward the plant creature, which had the shape of a rose with a thick body and thorned vines around it.

Andrea's aura and temperature were so high that the floor became a molten trail wherever she passed, and every lower-level creature in her path ignited like oil that was exposed to a torch.

With the sound of rustling leaves, the rose creature created an area filled with thorny vines that lashed at Andrea.

Andrea sighed. "I hoped you would be a little smarter, but this will sadly end in a single blow. [Heaven Born Flame: Star Born Searing Flame]."

Andrea used her charging momentum to grab her halberd with both hands and swing it in an arc.

Andrea's scarlet Heaven-born flame ignited, surrounded by the glow of white starlight across the length of her halberd and combined with every other aura and skill Andrea just used.

Andrea stopped abruptly and finished her slash. Then, the world before her became a blazing inferno.

A titanic wave of Sun energy combined with her skills and Natural treasure to form a horrendously hot attack that scorched everything in a five-hundred-meter area before her.

The rose creature and everything else before Andrea were engulfed in this hell and shrieked as they all died.

Andrea looked around and saw Evelyn's lightning strikes in the distance. She also saw her dear dragoness slaying waste in the army and spotted further in the distance an army of plant creatures fighting against other similar beings.

"Hm, let's group up with Kali and Evelyn. The first should be Evelyn."

"[Solar Walk]."

Andrea's footwork changed as her speed increased many folds and vanished in Evelyn's direction.

On the other side of the battlefield, where lightning was raining, Evelyn looked like a creature that manifested from a storm.

Her whole body was covered in blue lightning armor as her spear and body crackled with blue lighting.

Her blue hair flowed around her as her violet eyes looked around with a mischievous smirk at the corner of her lips.

'Sierra, follow my act.'

'Sure, I wanted to go out and fight.'

She pointed to the sky with her spear and shouted. "Guardian beast of our Lady, Sierra, come to me!"

A gigantic white thunder crackled in the sky and fell like a cascade of electricity, exploding against the ground. Then, from the middle of the lighting, a howl that pierced the battlefield echoed around.

AWOO!

Sierra's enormous white body manifested as the Wolf Queen's body crackled with white lightning bolts.

The spectators had just been left in awe after Angel's, Yasenia's, and then Andrea's feats, only to see a giant wolf being summoned from the sky.

This left many flabbergasted.

Jorey was even more stunned because she knew who that majestic and beautiful white wolf was.

'She can summon their Guardian beast whenever and wherever she wants!? What kind of humans does Lady Yasenias command!?

Evelyn spun her spear, and her mouth maintained her playful smirk. "Now, shall we begin?"

Her innate skill created the lightning rain around Evelyn [Electric Light Disaster]. Then, the armor around her came from her [Thunder Light Armor].

Evelyn pointed her spear, and her violet eyes shined with a beautiful luster. "[Thunder Light Overcharge]."

The blue lightning around her was consumed by white lightning as her strength, perception, and speed multiplied again.

Evelyn charged forward and used [Thunder Light Charge] to flash forward so fast that she became a white lightning bolt.

Evelyn appeared in the middle of tens of creatures and then muttered. "[Luminous Spear Barrage]."
Flashes of light surrounded Evelyn.

Then next instant, though, all the creatures around her had their bodies filled with scorched holes. Evelyn blinked. "Hm? They couldn't react to my speed?"

Sierra flashed and appeared in front of another chunk of creatures. "[Wolf Queen's Claw Storm]."
RUMBLE!

With the sound of thunder, Sierra slashed everything around her at no less speed than Evelyn.

Evelyn perceived the Unification Realm creature nearby and laughed. "I thought I couldn't try this skill, but I feel quite happy that you appeared."

Evelyn flashed in the direction of the monster with [Flash Lightning Steps] and saw a creature that used twelve stalks to walk around. The shape was elegant and elongated, looking like a serpent created by plants.

Evelyn didn't care about its appearance, though.

"These skills are still in their first forms and will evolve, but they should not be weak.

She spun her spear three times and used the first combat and enhancement skill she learned from her [Heavenly Thunder God Inheritance].

"[Storm's Descent], [Light Lightning Body]."

The world around Evelyn was silent for a second before the crackling sound of thunder inundated everything.

Then, Evelyn became a storm. Her eyes shone with electric light. Evelyn felt like every single particle of electricity around her was under her control.

Her white lightning armor was enhanced by golden lightning and shaped into a better and more defined form.

Evelyn muttered. "I see. This is... [Storm Intent Level One]."

Then, she slashed with her spear at everything hundreds of meters around her as she controlled every lightning and light bolt to annihilate everything in the surroundings.

RUMBLE!

The clamorous sound of the storm eradicated everything around Evelyn in an instant.

Chapter 519: A Fox's Battle and Contempt.

As the other girls fought, Kali was also fighting on her own.

The three-tailed fox wore her elemental armor named [Mother Nature armor]. Not only that, around her, a hundred dryads wearing different outfits stood straight.

One senior was surprised and screamed. "Lady Kali, what are those!? Are you colluding with those things?"

Kali looked at him and answered with her gentle and calming tone. "Senior, can't you see my creatures and those beasts? How could you compare them?"

The seniors focused and saw that Kali's army looked different, as every single creature was a dryad almost identical to the other.

The female-shaped women had very similar body shapes and faces. They were all tall, curvy, and with beautiful features. Their long green hair fluttered in the wind as their aura was profound but relaxing.

Their faces were expressionless, and their eyes had no actual intelligence in them. However, they looked ready to hear anything Kali told them to do.

"Excuse us for overreaction, Lady Kali."

Kali shook her head and softened her tone. "Do not feel bad. I expected it in a situation like this."

They all nodded and refocused on their fights. The monsters looked unending, after all.

Unlike the beast-like plant creatures, Kali's army was formed by four types of dryads.

The ones at the front had their bodies completely covered in wooden armor and had heavy wooden shields and maces.

The ones right behind them had lighter plant-based outfits resembling cultivation clothes and wielded swords, spears, and many other slashing and stabbing weapons.

The ones at the back wore a very light leaf dress, and their hands grabbed onto a refined wood bow.

Then, two other groups were at the sides, wearing nothing but an elegant flower dress. This last group was powerful in offensive and defensive nature-based cultivation techniques.

The number of dryads reached one hundred: thirty armored dryads, thirty melee dryads, twenty archers, and twenty skill users.

Of the skill users, five focused on healing, five focused on defensive skills, five focused on restraining abilities, and the last five on offensive skills

Kali had been practicing a lot with her summoning, and Valeria and Tatyana guided her in developing her skills.

The first piece of advice was to perfect one of her summoning skills as much as she could, and the one Kali chose was [Dryad Summoning] between [Treant Summoning], [Dryad Summoning], [Forest Summoning], and [Man Eating Plant Summoning].

Then, Valeria and Tatyana helped her with her questions, and she managed to create the current skill by putting in an incredible effort.

Kali waved her hand and made her dryads attack the other plant creatures.

They all moved in sync under Kali's commands and used basic army tactics to face the waves of creatures coming their way.

The front line kept them occupied and prevented others from slipping past into their back line. The melee dryads killed everything that passed the front-line dryads with ruthless attacks and agility.

Then, the archer dryads focused on distant enemies, continuously raining arrows and having the highest kill count between the groups.

The remaining caster dryads focused on aiding all the other groups and avoiding the formation from crumbling down when range attacks came or powerful creatures charged at them. They used their walls, rooting skills, boosts, healing, and offensive skills to keep everything under control.

Kali was not idle as she took her sword and joined her frontline dryads, guiding them in battle while also using one of her innate skills [Myriad Blooming Flowers].

The spectacle was breathtaking as one hundred beautiful women marched behind an equally alluring-looking fox lady with a mysterious veil, surrounded by myriads of flowers.

The fox was unstoppable as her sword harvested one plant-based creature after another.

The flowers surrounding Kali had corrosive effects that damaged every plant creature approaching in a two-hundred-meter radius and healing and reinforcing effects to help her front line.

Then, with the help of her battle-dance skill, [Whispering Blossom Essence Dance], she was light and flowy like petals dancing in the wind as her wooden sword sliced everything in her way.

Valeria didn't participate this time and overlooked Kali's battle while giving her advice.

Tatyana looked around and saw that the army was dwindling much faster after the girls joined the battle. Therefore, she stopped enjoying her fight so much and controlled the formation to activate yet another function.

The giant vine monster was heavily wounded after battling the five elders for a while.

During this time, the elders proved that they weren't weak at all and managed to hurt the monster quite heavily.

Tatyana couldn't exert too much of her fundamental skills through the creature, so she was being pushed back.

However, her face was extremely calm as her red eyes analyzed the battlefield like an otherworldly being overlooking the world.

Elder Song saw the giant vine monster heavily wounded and about to collapse and used her seven strings guqin to play a battle song and increase everyone's bodily strength and power for a few seconds. "[March of A Thousand Beast Men]! One last push, and it will collapse!"

With the sudden boost, the four others released a relentless attack against the Soul Hound.

Purple blood splattered around as parts of the creature were sliced off and flew outward.

Elder Man's fist glowed golden as his speed multiplied and appeared beside the enormous head of the creature. "[Fist Intent Level Two], [Golden Meteor Fist]."

BOOM!

The head of the creature rippled as the body was blasted away like a cannonball, with most of the head exploding and leaking the viscous purple liquid.

Elder Yu roared in laughter as he observed the beast lying on the ground without movement and with many wounds on its body. "Finally, we can land a clean hit! It looks very mangled. Did it die?"

Elder Mao looked at the bleeding Elder Yu and snorted. "We are not better than it. You almost lost your arm back then."

Elder Hao snorted. "The fact that we didn't lose any limbs fighting that thing is an accomplishment in itself. Its attacks are crazy and unpredictable. I've never faced a more skilled enemy than this hound."

Elder Mu used her healing skills to cure them gradually. "Stay still, old men. It is hard healing all of you. That thing's blood has a slow-acting poison that lowers the healing rate, and I need to cleanse it. Once I cleanse it, you can go help the other groups."

Elder Mao was confused as his body slowly regenerated. "It is strange..."

Elder Song asked. "What's strange?"

"That punch landed too easily. I even felt like it was smiling while I landed the blow."

Elder Yu snorted. "Smiling? Wasn't that crazy thing smiling all the time? Its laugh almost burst my eardrums a few times."

Elder Hao asked. "Was it tired? We've been fighting for almost an hour already, and maybe it was accepting its death."

Elder Mao shook his head and called for his blue eagle, which had been flying high up to avoid the confrontation. "Little Blue, be careful. High up in the sky with the rest of the flying beasts, and do not come down. I don't like this!"

This beast had been his companion for over a century, and he didn't want to lose him.

Elder Hao took her sword out and asked. "Should we brutalize its body?"

Elder Mao looked around and shook his head. "No. I feel that the problem is not in the monster...."

Yasenia took the small window of tranquility to take flight again and continue "looking around" with Angel. Angel was with her to make it seem like they were searching for the formation's weakness.

Her eyes moved toward Young Master Fu and saw he had been injured.

The blood flowed down his arm, and their flesh was opened to the bone. It looked like a single creature managed to sneak deep enough to attack him. 'Perfect opportunity.'

Yasenia hastily communicated with Kali.

'Kali, go to their side in the name of healing. Elder Mu is the only healer beside you and will be too busy in a second. Use this chance appropriately and take your time. We have a bit more than a minute.'

Kali didn't lose time as she left her one hundred dryads by themselves while she flashed beside the juniors.

The other seniors reacted, but when they saw Kali, they relaxed.

Even then, Kali could see their wariness because of her plant summoning.

Kali looked at the juniors and saw Jorey lying on the ground with her head bleeding and eyes closed, Carbira at the side with a few cracks on her beautiful pink shell, and a few other juniors with more severe injuries.

"All the injured juniors take a step forward. I know healing arts."

The seniors were surprised and hastily added. "Is this true?"

Kali snapped. "Would I lie in a moment like this one!?"

Jorey's cousin was alive and crying while holding Jorey's hand. "K-Kali, miss Kali, my cousin is badly hurt! The wound on the head is very deep!"

Kali nodded and approached. However, Young Master Fu interjected and shouted. "Heal me first. A fucking stray attack hit me on the arm, and I'm bleeding. It also hurts like hell! What If I'm unable to make alchemy anymore!?"

Many frowned and looked with unkind eyes to him.

Kali was no exception. Her verdant green eyes flashed with malice. 'I thought of showing you a bit of mercy with how much you would suffer... I think there is no need for that anymore.'

Jorey's cousin's face became feral as she snarled. "SHUT UP! My cousin is about to die!"

Fu Yu wasn't fazed and looked at her condescendingly. "A little merchant group is not as important as my safety! You speak again, and I'll kill you!"

Jorey's cousin shouted. "You fucking asshole!"

Kali spoke coldly, interrupting before she said something out of turn. Jorey's merchant group was their ally, after all. "I can heal both of you simultaneously and many more people. Fu Yu, you lie on the left of Jorey. The other people who need healing stand close to them. If the injuries are severe, also lie on the ground."

Young Master Fu looked at Kali with a sneer. "Don't call me by my name, woman! Who the fuck do you think you are?"

Everyone felt the gentle aura around the fox lady cool down as the tails behind her waved menacingly. "Who am I? I'm your doctor, asinine creature. If you speak like that one more time and raise your voice to me, I'll kill you, even if it means making enemies with the Fu Family. Do you think I'm your servant? Do you think I fear you in any way?"

Fu Yu's expression became ugly, and he was about to open his mouth again. Yet, Kali flashed and appeared before him before anyone reacted with her sword on his neck. "Open your filthy mouth again."

Fu Yu's complaints choked in the back of his throat as he saw Kali's verdant green eyes shine through the veil. "What? Now we are silent?"

Fu Yu gulped, and just that movement of his neck's skin made him feel the cold edge of the sword, making her realize how close the sword was.

After he didn't speak, Kali's contempt reached an all-time high as she spat with disdain. "Coward."

A senior from the Fu clan stepped forward and asked sincerely. "Please, ignore his words and heal him, Lady Kali. We'll be eternally grateful."

Kali snorted and stopped intimidating him. She stored her sword and waved her hand to create the healing ground and aura.

Then, she used his vines to tie him onto the ground beside Jorey and block his mouth. The seniors from the Fu family not only did not complain, but they felt grateful for Kali closing his mouth.

"Whatever. I'll start."

Chapter 520: No Holding Back, a Dragoness's Might.

Suddenly, the ground began shaking again. The earthquake was milder than the first one when the vegetation overtook the whole area. However, the feeling of dread coming from the sensitive people was much higher than then.

The body of the giant Soul Hound melded into the ground together with all the other plant-based creatures.

Then, the destroyed vines, trees, and vegetation absorbed the energy of the world around them and regenerated in less than five seconds.

Following that, from the tallest tree, a tree that reached about four hundred meters in height, many fruits grew at visible speed and fell onto the ground.

The sizes varied, and the shapes too.

Of all the fruits, there was one that was almost twenty meters wide.

Yasenia opened her mouth and released a [Moon Dragon Breath] against the tree.

The silver beam of pure frost smashed against a spherical barrier surrounding the tree, leaving everything undamaged.

Then, to their horror, the creatures previously destroyed spawned from the fruits that fell and appeared one by one, with no exceptions.

The five elders saw the situation, and their eyes quickly searched for the giant quadrupedal monster.

As they expected, the enormous Vine Horror Soul Hound also reappeared fully healed and looked at the faces filled with fear with morbid joy in its eyes.

Its voice spread on the battlefield, filled with delight. "Thinking you've won and smashing that hope onto pieces is always delightful. The expressions you are all doing are a sight I'll never tire of."

It sauntered forward and exited the spherical protection around the giant tree. Many seniors tried to use the chance to bombard it with ranged attacks.

However, many thick vines sprouted from the ground, defending the creature and avoiding any damage.

The Soul Hound looked around with glowing violet eyes. "Anyways. Good job, beast humans. You've wasted a bit of our energy by destroying us once. Now, how many times can you destroy us?"

Elder Mao and the others finally knew that their winning chances were nonexistent from the start. "Who are you? Why are you attacking us!?"

Tatyana felt playful and made the monster make the most horrifying smirk possible.

While inflicting fear and trauma in many of them, she snarled the words with a phantasmal undertone.

"I'm your Death."

Then, it pushed against the ground and arrived before Elder Mao in a second. The speed had returned to its peak as if it was never injured.

He reacted quickly by using a defensive skill to cushion the impact he was about to receive. "[Golden Might Hardening]!"

They all saw the claw strike flash by without being able to react and impact the senior.

Time seemed to slow down as Elder Mao's body stuck to the claw for a second before being thrown away like a shooting star against the opposite wall of the kilometric dome.

BANG!

Everyone was horrified as they saw the dome wobble because of the impact.

Elder Mao heard his ribcage and skull crack, but thankfully he used the defensive skill to mitigate ninety percent of the attack.

'Its hits are so heavy! Isn't it stronger than before?'

Yasenia felt her throat completely heal from her previous attack and turned her head toward the monster. 'If I don't do something, Mom will be able to kill them all. I need to destroy the tree and damage the creature simultaneously... If I attack it, the Soul Hound should use its body as a layer of defense. However... Can I really release an attack of that magnitude?'

"Angel, love. I'll throw you out for a second. Also, take my neckgear with you. I don't know how powerful my next attack will be."

Angel didn't question her and unlatched the neckgear that guarded Kaleina and jumped off of Yasenia's back.

Tatyana had a slight connection with the Tree and felt danger, making her lips arch in glee. 'Danger? I, Tatyana, am feeling danger? Don't tell me...'

Her red eyes searched the source of the danger and landed on the flying dragoness. "Little treasure? She can damage this thing at the first level of the Unification Realm!? HAHAHA! Come and show Mommy what you are made of, love!"

When they all felt despair, the galaxy on top of them began shining brighter as the Sun and Moon rotated in orbit with the spiral galaxy in the middle.

Their eyes moved toward Yasenias, and everyone only felt awe for the following events they witnessed.

Yasenias was going to use every Intent, innate skill, and boosting skill she had together with her strongest attack.

Her dragon body was much more durable than her human body, so she felt that she could bear the strain.

To concentrate further, Yasenias chanted her skills one by one. "[Celestial Coat], [Celestial Dress], [Starry Sky], [Wanning Moon], [Empyrean Cosmos Dress]..."

The Celestial Bodies in the firmament gathered around the flying dragon as if they were her battle dress. The aura around her body became denser and more concentrated as her meridians pumped energy crazily all across her body.

The more skills she chanted, the more powerful her glow was. However, even if it reached all across the battlefield, the glow was not blinding but gentle like Moonlight.

"... [Empyrean Dragon Authority], [Constellation Steps], [Connection with the Celestial Bodies: Day and night cycle]...."

The dragon's aura exploded like a small nova before the real deal as the energy release became exaggerated while her new Movement technique increased her speed manyfold.

But Yasenias wasn't done yet.

"... [Moon Assimilation], [Draconic Heart: Claws], [Empyrean Galaxy Domain], [Firmament's Battle Dance]...."

Yasenias's body became illusory as it melded with the cosmos above her.

The dragoness could feel her body full of energy to be released, but she suppressed everything with her body, cultivation, and soul to keep chanting her last three and most problematic skill.

"... [War Intent Level One]..."

Yasenias's eyes became red in an instant while a monstrous wave of killing intent mixed with every phenomenon going on.

"...[Monarch Intent level one]..."

ROAR!

Yasenias's powerful roar shook the Heavens as it resonated with every creature present at a primordial level. Her body shone like a galaxy in a dragon shape as it soared through the sky.

Tatyana, Evelyn, and the others looked at the Empyrean Dragoness with widened eyes.

Finally, Yasenias chanted her last buffing skill, one of her innate skills she had yet to use.

"... [Moon Dragon Body]."

When she chanted it, her entire body became silver, like the Moon in the sky, as her red eyes filled with murderous killing intent overwhelmed everything in her surroundings.

Yasenia's body was releasing such an aura that Mirrory's face gained a hint of surprise.

Although it took longer to explain this, Yasenia buffed herself in less than a few seconds.

The Soul Hound saw where Yasenia was aiming and screamed.

SCREECH!

All the plant creatures attacked the dragoness in the air, but Yasenia's flapped her wings and used her [Firmament Battle Dance] to disappear from her flying spot, reappearing right over the enormous tree.

Then, she went upwards a bit to then fall down like a silver meteor surrounded by stars.

Tatyana could only move the Soul Hound in between since none other creatures had the speed to reach to block.

Tatyana saw the eighty-meter-long dragon falling head first as a Cosmic Aura surrounded it.

Then, Yasenia's otherworldly voice spread like a whisper from the cosmos.

"[Empyrean Moon Collapse]."

[Empyrean Collapse], the name of every buffing skill being applied to herself and releasing a single attributed attack with all her might.

This was Yasenia's current strength limit.

Her voice felt like the judgment from an ancient beast as the sky below the dome was suddenly filled with enormous five-meter-wide that fell together with the dragoness.

Yasenia dove down, her body bursting with silver light as the stars around her shot down in a shower of shooting stars and overcame her.

The tree and Soul Hound summoned countless vines from the ground and created a dome.

The image of the vines reaching for the sky as the sky fell onto the tree was ethereally beautiful and terrifying.

Then, the world was bathed in Moonlight as the cataclysmic clash created a silver explosion of Moon and Star energies that expanded outward, annihilating every enemy in that area.

Kali didn't miss the chance her dearest dragoness created by receiving who knows how much damage to herself.

A purple back flower inside her healing [Flower Bed] below Young Master Fu opened while Yasenia fell. From it, something jumped out and lodged inside Fu Yu.

The anesthetic nature of the flower bed to calm the pain hid the pain otherwise created from the bite.

The wound also healed instantly because of the [Flower Bed]'s effects.

Then, the shockwave from Yasenia's impact reached them immediately, showing how little time Kali took to do these actions.

BOOM!

The giant beast screeched in pain for the first time, making their ears ring because of the piercing sound.

As the mountain where that tree was almost leveled to the ground.

Yasenia flew back up, regaining her usual appearance, and picked Angel from the ground while ordering calmly. "It is weakened, attack. Angel is almost done with the formation, and we'll be able to leave soon."

They all didn't hold back and rushed against the heavily wounded monster.

The sight the attack created made a few of them stagger as they charged.

The gigantic tree was no more, as only a crater with the Soul Hound heavily wounded in the middle remained. Even the mountain supporting the tree was partially destroyed and covered in frost.

Although the Soul Hound was regenerating, the freezing Moon energy and mysterious Star energy were like a poison that kept damaging it over time.

However, what they heard from the creature was not a curse but a peal of maniacal laughter.

"HAHAHAHA! FILTHY BEAST HUMANS, DIE! [SOUL WHIMPER]."

AAAAAAA!

The piercing scream floored most of the charging beast humans as the majority below the Unification Realm screamed as if something was splitting their heads in half.

Elder Song quickly tried to use her songs together with the juniors of her Academy to fight against it, regaining a semblance of control.

Yet, even if their reaction was quick, that scream had killed another four people.

As they all fought for their lives, Angel asked worriedly. 'How do you feel, Yaseenia?'

Yaseenia kept flying in a calm manner. 'I can barely move my wings to fly faster than I can now....'

Angel was stunned because they were flying somewhat slowly for what Yaseenia could usually achieve. 'Is the damage to internal organ level?'

Yaseenia sighed. 'Bone fractures, muscle tear, internal bleeding, and my meridians are aching badly. Thankfully, I didn't add [Celestial Intent] and [Celestial Energy], or I wouldn't be able to fly in best case scenario.'

Mirrory spoke in a rare tone of concern. 'How do you feel? That attack exceeded everything I had supposed about your strength. Tatyana, Valeria, and I had grossly underestimated your strength in the Dragon Form.'

Yaseenia smiled. 'I'm healing, Mirrory. I appreciate your care.'

Mirrory spoke seriously. 'These kinds of attacks are not efficient, Yasenia. They are mighty, but the enemy won't wait until you finish. This time it was an exception since these plant monsters can't really interrupt you.'

'I understand.'

'What you must do, since you use so many different skills to buff yourself, is to find a way to use them simultaneously. Maybe, you can give up a bit of power for speed and allow the attack to be bearable. You usually use your skills at one hundred percent.'

Yasenia agreed. 'I agree. However, my control over my skills is still not perfect enough to do so. Mirrory, can I ask you how to increase proficiency back home?'

Mirrory nodded. 'Sure. I've been teaching Angel about it for a while already. Moreover, this silly girl will be delighted to have you join us.'

Angel lifted her arms and smiled sweetly. 'Yay! Yasenia will train with me~.'

Yasenia smiled softly while Mirrory's lips arched in a barely noticeable smirk.
