

Heaven 581

Chapter 581: Millionaire! The last treasure.

Two items were left to sell from the auction. They were the top two items.

The first one of lesser quality was Yasenia's peak-level Heaven-Ranked pill. The other was the final item, which was still a mystery.

Ghana spoke as the auctioneer pulled down the cover for the pill. "Lady Tengliu, you have twenty-seven million in the card."

Tengliu nodded.

The dragon woman presenting the auction smiled and allowed the aura of the pill to engulf the hall.

The presence of the peak-level Heaven-ranked pill could warp the energy around and create an aura of its own.

Everyone leaned a bit forward, captivated by it.

"Next, we have the [Core Soul Formation Pill]. It's a peak-level Heaven-ranked pill that breaks all logic. The Astral Sky Clan informed us of its effects, and although we find it difficult to believe, they've placed their reputation on the line and promised that these were the effects."

The woman smiled. "The fact is, this is the only [Core Soul Formation Pill] in their possession. One of the items they can't replicate from the ones presented because the herbs for it were found in a secret realm."

Murmurs of interest could be heard from the attendees.

"This miraculous pill was found in a tomb in a secret realm four hundred years ago. Even then, the extremely high quality of the pill jar has maintained its effects as if it were a recently made pill. The purity of this gem is an astounding ninety-eight percent! An unheard number on pills in the heaven-ranked."

Tengliu's face changed. "Is it really that old and of that quality?"

Yasenia strengthened the anti-spying formation and nodded. "I would not lie in easily disproven facts. This is quite literally the strongest pill I have."

Tengliu's eye twitched. "Why are you selling it?"

Yasenia answered. "It's of no use for us. Although it could help us, it is not imperative. Honestly, my dual cultivation technique has better effects than it. The more I learn about it, the more impressed I am. Recently, I've learned that purifying the soul is possible with it."

Cecile blinked. "Is that why I've absorbed the [Void Soul Phoenix Tear] faster?"

Yasenia nodded. "The Dual Cultivation technique is honestly miraculous to the extremes. Where did you get it, Mom?"

Tatyana commented. "In the tomb that I visited and learned the ritual for... you know, you."

Yasenia nodded and thought. 'So, it is from the Moon Goddess and Sun God tomb. No wonder it is this powerful. My cultivation technique is also part of it. It is a combination of the [Convergence of the Sun], [Convergence of the Moon], and [Convergence of the Stars], creating [Convergence of the Celestial Bodies].'

Her attention went back toward the auctioneer when she began describing the effects. "The effects are as follows. This pill helps the cultivator cross any Heavenly Tribulation except the one that allows us to cross into the divine realm that Hero Distancia crossed."

Yasenia remembered. 'Right the Transcendence Realm. Is it called that for Body Cultivators? I think it might have another body.'

"Not only that, but during the tribulation, the pill will use the Heavenly Lightning to purify the soul, strengthen meridians, strengthen the dantian, eliminate impurities in the body, enhance the bloodline, nourish the Physique, and increase the talent of the cultivator."

"Moreover, it would give a passive cleansing to the body and eliminate impurities at a tremendous rate even after it, making cultivating take half the effort for twice the results."

"As we said before, a miraculous pill!"

The Hall was silent before it became extremely lively.

Tengliu blinked repeatedly and looked at Yasenia. "Child, is what she said true?"

Yasenia nodded. "Yes, it is a pill given to talented disciples back in my hometown. The effects on me and my dears are not as pronounced because of my dual cultivation technique. It would benefit us, of course, but it's not imperative."

Yasenia also thought in her mind. 'Moreover, Kali has a better recipe gained in the Lost Town called [Heavenly Core Fusion Pill]. She still lacks the skill to create it, but I believe she will be able to by the time we reach the time to cross into the Dantian Spiritualization Realm.'

Tengliu gulped and asked. "Yasenia, dear. If, and only in the future, you find it in your heart to forgive Aunty Tengliu, could you use that Double Cultivation technique on me? You said it has similar effects, right?"

Yasenia internally sneered; this harpy was on a banned list for true intimacy. But on the outside, she frowned and shook her head, showing an apologetic expression. "Most probably not, but we'll see. As I always say, the future is uncertain, and I've felt Aunty Tengliu's sincerity these last hours. However, it is too early to say."

Tengliu wasn't discouraged and smiled, rubbing her face with Yasenia to display her growing affection. "Mn, I will be waiting, child. In the meantime, let's buy this pill first."

Yasenia closed one eye and smiled, allowing Tengliu to nuzzle her. This kind of affection she didn't mind that much because of the lack of romantic intentions behind it.

"The initial price for the pill is two million Flawless Parus. This is a pill that can make a genius out of a normal cultivator, and the fate of any cultivator who ingests it will be changed. In our opinion, it is more valuable than any wealth a person can accumulate. Minimum increment of 500,000."

"Begin!"

They, the bids, flew out like arrows released in a war.

The price went from two to three to four to seven million in less than a minute.

Moreover, names of sects, clans, and empires flew around as the competition became heated.

"You blind man, I need this pill for my granddaughter! 7,500,000Parus!"

"Are you the only one with precious descendants!? Our prime disciple would become unbeatable with this pill! 8,000,000 Parus!"

"You both are acting like wild humans. Step back. My crippled boy has clogged meridians; this medicine would be his salvation. 9,000,000."

"I also have a crippled son, old lady. 10,000,000."

"The Ocean Swallowing Mermaids bid 11,000,000."

Tengliu sneered and bid.

"The Storm Feathered Harpies bid 15,000,000!"

An ethereally beautiful voice spread around. "Lady Tengliu, our mermaid princess, would love this pill. Please step back this time. 15,500,000."

Tengliu laughed. "You are dreaming if I would give up this pill. I don't have descendants, so getting this pill ensures the harpies have a leader after me. 17,000,000!"

The voice of the woman became colder. "Lady Tengliu, this pill is too important. 17,500,000."

Tengliu fired back without fear. "If you think so, then bid for it. 20,000,000! Let's see whose pockets are deeper."

"Tengliu, don't force our hand. 20,500,000."

"I'm forcing your hand? Please, don't play wordplays. You know I'm not fearful of your Mermaid Queen. Do you think a grand elder is enough to intimidate me?"

"Blasphemous! Our Mermaid Queen is the most talented creature in this land!"

Tengliu looked at Tatyana and Yassenia and smirked. "You may be surprised soon. 22,000,000!"

"We won't forgive about it this time."

"You both have been playing quite a lot. 22,500,000."

The man's voice was calm and deep. Tengliu's smile disappeared. "Tsk, Holy Beast Empire. When did you arrive?"

"Well, not long ago. My pockets are currently 25 million, Tengliu. Do you have this much?"

Tengliu blinked, and her smile became wide. "25,500,000!"

"Huh?"

Tengliu laughed. "You didn't expect it, right? Hahaha. This time, I win~."

The man grumbled. "You usually only carry a few million around. How do you have more than twenty-five today? Your luck is too good."

Tengliu smiled and hugged Yassenia. "It really is good~."

"25,500,000 going once, 25,500,000 going twice, 25,500,000 going three times... 25,500,000 going four times, sold!"

Tengliu didn't waste time and descended onto the arena.

The ethereal woman's voice sounded. "As perverted as always, going naked everywhere."

Tengliu rolled her eyes. "Are you jealous? I know I'm gorgeous, but you should avoid making it public that you envy my beauty."

The woman spat. "Shameless."

She stored the pill jar in her ring and returned to her VIP room, ignoring the other woman.

Yasenia's pockets were nearing 100 million Flawless Parus with this last item sold. A hefty sum that some first-rate powers might not have available.

Yasenia asked. "Aunty Tengliu, is it possible to change all these Parus to physical currency?"

Tengliu nodded. "Come with me later. We can do the exchange in a single afternoon. However, do you have enough space to store so many spirit stones?"

Yasenia nodded. Her Five Realm Spatial Ring had enough capacity that Tatyana used it for most of her life until she gained her current spatial ring.

The auctioneer smiled. "Congratulations to the Storm Feather Harpy Matriarch. The battle was intense. However, remember that we still have the last item."

The hall that became bustling with sound after Tengliu won got silent again.

The woman approached the last curtain covering the final item and revealed it.

The reaction compared to the pill was leagues apart.

The aura of the item melted with the Heavens and Earth as the surrounding temperature increased a few degrees.

Weak cultivators began sweating, and those with affinities toward water and similar felt uncomfortable.

The effects of this item were something Yasenia had seen very few times in her life and made her eyes widen. "Transcendence Ranked!?"

The powerful aura of enigma, power, and profoundness left everyone speechless.

The auctioneer smiled. "This is our final product. The person who put it on sale is anonymous and doesn't want to be tracked. Our auction is very serious in this endeavor, and we will protect them with all our might. For other people to have confidence in the future when leaving us in the care of these quality items, we will use our power's entire strength to protect this secret."

"The otherworldly treasure you are looking at is an ancient Body Cultivation technique! This cultivation scroll promises to give the cultivator enough strength to meld with the Sun and embody it. To be able to blow up Celestial Bodies with a single punch and create another with the next. Giving the user an indestructible body that can cultivate in the cores of the Sun."

"A cultivation technique found in a secret realm, kept in the ring of someone for two hundred years, and the person being unable to cultivate it or entrust it to someone, they decided to put it for sale."

"The name of this miraculous technique is the following."

"[Immortal Sun Obliterating Body]."

Yasenia sat up from her lazy attitude, and her eyes glowed with surprise and joy. 'A Sun attributed technique? Hahaha!'

She instantly turned toward Carbira and asked urgently. "Carbira, can I use the Parus I've won from the auction?"

Her excitement was clear, so after confirming with the higher-ups, Carbira nodded. "Yes, there is no problem."

Yasenia smiled. "Perfect."

Tengliu asked. "Is that technique suitable for you?"

Yasenia nodded, but she didn't elaborate. The reason she wanted it was for her darling, not for herself.

Although, if she didn't find anything suitable, she might as well use it.

Yasenia knew that her darling was cultivating all the time that she wasn't forging.

If it weren't for Yasenia showing up occasionally to relax her and pamper her big girl, she feared that her current obsession would open her to Heart Demons again.

Although Spiritual Breakthrough, the event that happened when a cultivator got rid of all Heart Demons, would give the cultivator a lot of resistance to regaining Heart Demons, it was not foolproof nor immunity.

Yasenia got rid of Andrea's demons in the tournament years ago.

However, Andrea felt rushed after seeing all her other dears gaining inheritances and powerful items.

Evelyn gained the inheritance of a god and a Natural Treasure.

Kali had the inheritance of a Primordial Creature and had a Spirit Empress under her command.

Cecile was Yasenia's soulmate, had a bloodline known throughout the universe, and was extremely talented.

Angel was the inheritor of one of the strongest between heaven and earth, with a treasure that probably was born eons ago.

Mentioning Tatyana was unnecessary, and then Yasenia, the dragoness who, defied all logic.

Andrea, who only had her hard work and Natural Treasure, was not up to par.

Therefore, Yasenia's desire to get this was deep enough to make the others in the room feel pressure radiating from her body.

Her eyes glowed with determination as she leaned on the balcony.

'I'll get it, no matter the cost.'

Even if she didn't say it, her every cell radiated fighting spirit.

Tengliu opened her mouth to give advice, but Tatyana glared at her, silencing the Harpy Matriarch.

This was a chance for Yaseenia to prove that she could control her emotions and be calculative and rational even in unexpected or urgent situations.

Tatyana would not allow anyone to intervene in her decision-making besides those fighting for the treasure.

Chapter 582: Fighting for the [Sun Obliterating Immortal Body].

The Auctioneer continued presenting the item and said something that took Yaseenia's attention.

"By the way, the cultivator was kind enough to allow us to reveal where it comes from. This cultivation technique comes from a secret realm that was discovered recently, about two hundred years ago. This Secret Realm is in the Southwest part of the continent, near [Dolgor City]. According to estimates, it will open again in three to eight years. The best estimate is five and a half years, but the possibility of opening sooner or later exists."

"For more information about the Secret Realm, sirs and madams will have to visit [Dolgor City]."

Yaseenia became thoughtful. 'I think I've read about this city. It is one of the major cities in the continent.'

Tengliu commented. "Dolgor? That place is quite a deep well."

Yaseenia asked. "Do you think I can open a branch of my clan there?"

Tengliu pondered. "If you do so with my and Coraline's support, it's possible. However, you need a few Epoch Core Realm cultivators. Your usual intimidation tactics won't work as well as they did here in Koran City. There are powers there that actually request a fight, after all."

Yaseenia pondered. 'Then... I should find a place nearby to set up a sect. Even if they want to stop me, after I manage to set up a formation, it will be basically impossible... Hm. Yes, I'll do so. Koran City has become too small for me too quickly, so it's time to create my main headquarters and power in Distancia.'

Tatyana and Cecile heard her, so Cecile asked. 'How will you call it?'

Yaseenia smiled. 'Astral Sky Sect.'

Tatyana lifted an eyebrow. 'Oh? You are opening a sect?'

Yaseenia nodded. 'Yes. It's a sect with the Astral Sky Clan leading it and the Dravory Family on top. People who enter the Astral Sky Clan will be those who pass the test I'm doing right now. The test for the sect can be laxer.'

Cecile asked. 'And the test to enter the Dravory Family?'

Yaseenia heard the warning, but she just laughed. 'There isn't one, sweetheart. That's our family. The only way to make it bigger is by making children~.'

Tatyana smirked. 'I can bet you there will be an exception in about a year or two.'

Yaseenia blinked, confused.

Tatyana didn't explain.

Yaseenia ignored it and continued thinking of ways to create her Sect securely.

She blinked and remembered that the [Holy Beast Empire] ruled those lands. Then, the dragon woman she spoke to on the first day appeared in her mind.

'That person I made connections with is from the Holy Beast Empire, right?'

As puzzle pieces clicked in her mind one after another, an intricate and detailed plan formed in the intelligent dragoness's mind.

She was aroused from her thoughts by the auctioneer's shout.

"Knowing this, let's bet, let's dance with each other for this unique treasure! The initial price is Ten Million Flawless Parus, minimum increment of five hundred thousand!"

Yasenia asked Tatyana. "How deep are our funds after selling all those treasures?"

Tatyana didn't answer and smiled. "Who knows?"

Yasenia frowned and closed her eyes.

Her powerful mind began calculating all items sold from three days ago until now. As numbers flew in her mind, three bets were made.

"The [Forest Sky Empire's Soaring Clan] bids twelve million!"

"The [Nine Golden Body Sect] bids thirteen million."

"The [Holy Beast Empire] bids fifteen million!"

Yasenia's eyes opened as the number formed in her mind. 'I have close to eighty-two one million.'

Yasenia opened her mouth, using her Empyrean Dragon Authority and Monarch intent in her words. "The [Astral Sky Clan] bids Thirty Million."

The enormous jump in price, accompanied by the imposing Royal Dragon aura, washed over everyone, hitting their hearts like a hammer would a bell.

Yasenia's momentum and will to get this item was clearly transmitted to all, silencing many about to bid and forcing them to sit back in their seats.

Moreover, the high price eliminated ninety-nine-point-nine percent of her competition.

The auctioneer was also stunned briefly, but she reacted fast. "T-Thirty million coming from the Astral Sky Clan Matriarch!"

When everyone thought that nobody would answer, the auctioneer's eyes opened at the sound of a male voice.

"The [Forest Sky Empire's Royal Family] bids Thirty-five million."

The deep and power-filled voice counterattacked Yasenia's momentum with bloodline pressure, but the dragoness's peak-level Ancient Beast Bloodline was unfazed.

Yasenia's face darkened. 'Why is a representative of a royal family here!?''

However, she didn't back down.

Her voice boomed again, using her [War Intent] as a form of intimidation on top of everything else.

As if a drop of blood landed on the water, her warm golden eyes were tainted by a deep red, and Yasenia felt her consciousness flickering.

A bloodthirsty desire bloomed in her heart as hints of killing intent spread to the outside. When her mind was about to drown in power and murder the War Intent instilled in her, a face flashed in her mind.

She remembered Andrea's face when working.

She remembered her darling's worried face while cultivating.

She remembered the sigh she heard in her forge.

The monstrous and uncontrollable desire to destroy receded, and the dragoness recuperated control over her emotions.

Yasenia's resolve and desire engulfed her uncontrolled mind, and her thoughts became clear and focused on one single thing.

Until today, she has always been restrained. When a senior appeared, she always backed down. She was taking a step back and thinking about the long run.

However, she was not giving up this time.

This was an essential item for Andrea, and Yasenia would not give up.

The red that swam in her iris because of the War Intent stopped glowing murderously, and it shone with the brilliance of determination!

'I'll get this for my darling!'

War was not only physical combat but a fight to win something!

"The [Astral Sky Clan] bids forty million."

Her aura boomed with such momentum that Tatyana had to protect Carbira.

People thought she wouldn't retaliate against the Royal Family of an Empire after they showed off their bloodline aura, but her words were like an explosion of might that made dragon-related people feel like they wanted to kneel.

The effect on other beast-related people was not mild by any means.

It was like thunder in a clear sky, startling everyone.

Tengliu's eyes opened wide as the young dragon's momentum rivaled some seniors she knew.

Yasenia's entire body gave the aura of not wanting to lose again to powers above herself.

The man in the VIP stand made a sound of interest. "Oh? Good aura! Are you sure you don't want to back down, Astral Sky Clan? You are facing a Royal Family."

Yasenia's clear mind spun, and an idea flashed in her mind. "Senior, I'll be disrespectful this time. But I won't back down unless your gathered wealth today is higher than mine."

The man asked. "Is this cultivation technique so important that you are willing to offend a Royal Item?"

Yasenia said seriously. "I would offend the World if needed."

There was silence at that bold statement before laughter sounded. "Hahaha, those are big words! However, saying it and making your words a reality is two very, very different things. Are you a reckless and arrogant person? Or are you someone who can carry over the threats you speak?"

Yasenia smiled as the conversation stirred in the direction she wanted.

She summoned the life-saving talisman Tatyana gave her and allowed a strand of the aura to leak outside.

Everyone felt their bodies erupting with chills, and a deep primal fear invaded their souls.

"Senior, this should be a good enough answer."

The man's calm voice was not that chill anymore. "What was that?"

Yasenia spoke. "Senior, that's not the main problem today. Is whether I have the qualifications to face your family. I think that this is enough."

The same deep voice asked. "Who are you? This is my first time feeling a bloodline as powerful as yours, together with an aura that made my body cower."

Yasenia answered coldly. "As I said, it is irrelevant. Will you bid or not, your majesty?"

The man paused before answering. "Hahaha! To think I'll have a day like this. Let's be honest with each other. My funds are sixty-five and a half million Parus. Are yours higher?"

Yasenia's voice continued to be aloof and indifferent, with firmness and elegance in it. "They are, your majesty."

"Good. Then, the [Sky Forest Empire] retires from the bid."

The other powers didn't speak, but their silence spoke volumes.

Yasenia spoke aloud. "This junior has received your benevolence even while breaching etiquette. Those from the [Sky Forest Empire Royal Family] will have a ten percent discount in our shops for a hundred years."

"Hahaha! Good, good, this old man has nothing to say. Give it to her."

The dragon woman wanted to ask if anybody else wanted to bid, but the man spoke, interrupting her. "I said give it to her. There is nobody here who will bid after that."

Yasenia knew that the [Sky Forest Empire] was the number two power of the continent, closely followed by the other Empire of the three named [Ocean Chasm Empire], the [Jade Thunderbirds], the [Ocean Swallowing Mermaids], the [Sky Scale Dragons], and the [Nine Golden Body Sect].

Hence, acting humbly as she did after getting the item was necessary.

A strong will to get what she wants without forgetting her position as a minor power was a good quality that other major powers would appreciate.

By the way, the power that was considered the strongest was the [Holy Beast Empire]. This time, they didn't place enough importance on this auction, hence their lack of funds.

As the person from the Royal Family said, other powers didn't speak, and the auctioneer soon finished the counting.

"Sold to the [Astral Sky Clan] for 40,000,000 Flawless Parus!"

Yasenia's smile bloomed, and the people looking at her in the room felt their hearts skip a beat.

The beauty of her relieved and happy laughter was a sight worth painting.

She floated downwards and landed on the stage.

The dragon woman in charge blushed slightly and presented the item to her. "Here it is, the [Sun Obliterating Immortal Body] technique."

Yasenia grabbed it and smiled. "Thank you."

"Cough. Yes, um, you are welcome, Lady Yasenia."

Yasenia stored it and looked toward the number three VIP room. Then, she made a gesture that represented gratefulness. "This junior is grateful."

Then, she flew back toward her own room.

Chapter 583: The Dragoness Finally Snaps.

After winning the item, Yasenia returned to her room and let her body fall onto the comfortable couch, her head landing on Cecile's lap. "Well, that went very well. I was prepared to lose all the fortune I amassed back there."

Cecile lifted her eyebrow and inserted her fingers in the dragoness's soft hair to tenderly massage the scalp. "We've lost about half of our profits. Are you really okay with it?"

Yasenia looked at her and smiled. "It is more than worth it. That technique might have limitations because of the attribute rarity and probably difficulty. However, we can use it quite easily."

Yasenia added to Cecile and Tatyana. 'Moreover, since I have the Sun attribute. My descendants will probably also have it. Also, the description says that the cultivator will be able to eventually absorb energy in the core of a star, which probably makes the technique compatible with the Star Attribute. If I find one with Moon attribute, I will be able to create an appropriate cultivation technique eventually.'

Tatyana asked aloud. "Little treasure, do you think you handled this correctly?"

Yasenia looked at Tatyana and nodded confidently. "I think I did. I might have been a bit too pushy, but the price would've probably escalated further if I wasn't like this."

Tatyana continued. "If they could win against you regardless, wasn't everything you did pointless? You would've been in a spot."

Yasenia agreed. "However, I saw that even Tengliu could only gather 27 million in a short amount of time. I gave a fair assumption that someone might have triple her money, which is about 81 million. Hence, I had a high chance of getting it."

Yasenia further explained. "Moreover, if they had more capital than me, being like this might have opened the door to me buying it for a favor. I was prepared to give a peak-level Heavenly item as extra payment for the power to resign and give me the treasure."

Tatyana smiled and nodded. "Very good, you thought it deeply."

Yasenia smiled back, and Tatyana commented. "But, if their power was not understanding and was an arrogant power that liked to throw their weight around, you could've offended them very deeply for not giving them enough respect."

Yasenia snorted. "So be it. Although I can't fight back right now, I still have my life-saving teleportation talisman. I can jump toward my mansion and then hide inside. The formations there should be strong enough to hold anyone back. Moreover, there is her."

Yasenia's eyes landed on Tengliu.

Tengliu's eyebrow twitched. "You wanted to get me involved like that?"

"Why not? You said that I could use your name as I liked, right?"

Tengliu sighed. "Cunning child."

Yasenia smirked.

Tatyana agreed and commented. "Have you taken into consideration that you are not a hidden and small power now? The little show you did has placed you in the spotlight, especially using the talisman's aura as a deterrent."

Yasenia nodded. "I couldn't gamble. My experience is not enough to guess how seniors think. What if one of them always carries their treasury with them? The purchasing power of an Empire's Royal Family should be in the billions. I needed to make a statement and buy favor. Buying that cultivation technique is enough reason to step out of hiding."

Tengliu commented. "Although it is true that our main powers have a lot of capital, most of it is used to keep the power going. If someone has one hundred million flawless Parus to spend freely, it would be considered a lot."

Yasenia touched her chin. "I see."

Tengliu laughed and threw herself on top of Yasenia, intending to fall on top of her while she lay down. However, Yasenia's tail reacted quickly and, with practiced motions, did a beautiful and ethereal arc.

Bang!

Tengliu's face met with the golden tail tip as her body flew to the side.

Everyone blinked, and Yasenia coughed. "Sorry, I'm accustomed to having this reaction."

Tengliu quickly moved and sat near Yasenia, completely ignoring the fact that she was tail slapped away. "It doesn't matter much, though. You were so beautiful back there! I really want to rain kisses on your beautiful face again~."

Yasenia's eyebrows twitched. "Please, spare me."

The dragoness sighed at the "abandoned puppy" expression the millennial harpy was making. 'At least she is controlling enough not to act on her desires without control or borders. It seems that once I say no, she will really stop. This is good... Tsk, why wasn't she like this since the beginning? Everything would be much less awkward.'

Yasenia heard the knock on the door, snapping her back from her thoughts. Tengliu smirked a bit mischievously and lay between the couch and Yasenia, hiding most of her body.

"What are you doing?"

Tengliu sniggered. "I will hide my presence and see what this person wants without taking me into account. Can you use that gorgeous and long tail to hide me?"

Yasenia rolled her eyes, but her tail moved and landed on top of her, hiding her upper body from sight.

Tatyana went to open the door.

The person at the door was a tall and handsome man with large brown-reddish wings on his back.

Cecile's eyes flickered. 'Phoenix bloodline. Quite weak, though.'

When he stepped inside, he put forth a broad smile, and before he could register who was in the room, the sight of Cecile made his pupils shrink, leaving him slightly speechless.

Yasenia's eyes flashed with hidden and suppressed emotions. 'You better not be a second Tengliu. You are not influential enough to make me back down.'

Carbira was stunned, but a look from the man silenced her.

The man stepped inside without saying a word and sat on an armchair in front of them.

Without making an effort to stand up from her lying position, Yasenia smiled. "Well, manners are quite not there, it seems. However, for your demeanor and low-level Epoch Core strength, I'm guessing you are the leader of this Auction house."

The man smiled and nodded. "You are right, Yasenia Dravory. To think that you allowed Miss Ghana to increase her strength to the High-Level Ethereal Soul realm so quickly, your power creates nothing but miracles."

Yasenia internally sneered. 'Did you learn it from those fraudulent cards to participate in the event? You must be frustrated I didn't insert my own energy, so I'm still a big question mark for you, right?'

Yet, her face showed a smile as she laughed politely. "Small things. Your power being able to set this up is the one who deserves praise."

He laughed, trying to appear generous, but Yasenia's sharp eyes felt pride and arrogance in that laugh. 'Did success this time get to his head? It wouldn't be strange considering how many powerful people attended.'

Yasenia's eyes flashed. 'However, how much of this is my influence? The many heaven-ranked treasures must've had a lot of influence.'

The man said. "That right, Lady Yasenia. I'm very happy with the event I managed to create. Even Royal Families from the Three Empires came. My humble name is Pei Zhang. I've come to speak about an alliance because of the number of items you presented."

Yasenia sat up without forgetting to use her long and thick tail to cover the not-small harpy "hiding" behind her. Then, she crossed her long legs and leaned back on the woman, ignoring the heavy breathing she was hearing.

"Well, let's hear it."

"Directly to the point, right? Hahaha."

Yasenia smiled. "No need to speak pleasantries. I find them out of place and vocabulary without meaning. It's better to go directly to the point."

The man nodded. "Hm, I agree. Then, let's not go in circles. I want to sign an alliance with your clan and be provided items from you. If we want to change powerful powers to regular customers, we need something unique to auction every time. Something that can tie them to us."

Yasenia's mind spun, and understood what was the thing he wanted.

However, she didn't stop him and asked. "For example?"

The man said, hiding the greed inside him. "The [Soul Enhancing Pills]. I don't know where your alchemist learned from, but the people I sent to your shop always come back with new discoveries. Hence, I would like to buy one of the unique pills and have a steady supply to sell them in the auction. Of course, I would pay generously."

Tatyana, at the side, wanted to laugh. 'No wonder his power stays as a low second-ranked power. So shameless and greedy. Does he take Yasenia as stupid or something?'

Yasenia naturally saw his attempt, and her smile thinned, her face becoming colder. "You want to buy the rights to sell it, meaning I would not be able to sell that specific pill myself, right?"

Pei Zhang flapped his wings once, making a small refreshing gale.

He smiled refreshingly and looked at Cecile handsomely. "Don't you think so too? The deal benefits both of us, and it is a win-win situation. Your matriarch would be able to rule over Koran City without problems."

Cecile's and Yasenia's noses twitched and smelled a lingering fragrance.

Yasenia's small smile completely disappeared as she looked at him increasingly coldly. 'Does everyone think that they can step on me as they like? I have yet to swallow the humiliation I received while facing Tengliu, and now this man is trying to afflict Cecile with this filthy scent!'

The dragoness had always been on the brink of bursting into a rage for two days since she could do nothing about Tengliu.

Her pupils had become vertical lines as her aura involuntarily leaked.

Cecile and Tatyana looked at him coldly, and Tengliu and Ghana ignored him.

Tengliu thought that if she couldn't influence her mind, this man's attempt to influence Cecile or Yasenia subconsciously was nothing but a pathetic action that would only irk the sensitive dragoness. 'Well, thanks for becoming an outlet for the child to vent~.'

The man smiled calmly. "What do you say?"

Yasenia smiled widely, making him also smile, and she spat with dripping disdain. "You, pathetic creature that deserves nothing but death. You come here intending to practically fuck me in the ass and throw me into the garbage while telling me that the deal is worth it? Do you think I'm retarded? Do I look like a cultivator who has had a mental deviation while cultivating and has problems thinking straight? I was going to find you so that you could return the rest of the items in your care in a friendly manner, but now I want to do so much worse."

Carbira stiffened, Ghana's eyes opened, Cecile looked on coldly, Tatyana sneered, and the "hiding" Tengliu looked at him with pity.

The man was not much better, as he didn't expect this kind of reaction. "W-What?"

Yasenia continued smiling, but the man finally realized that her eyes were filled with disgust and anger. "Not only are you shameless, you are also deaf. Was my speech too complicated for a person who seems to lack the brain part in the soul? I'll give you a chance to dismantle your power from anywhere near me before I raze your fucking bullshit power to the ground."

Tengliu gulped in the back. 'So, I was saved from this reaction. Thank the heavens, I met with Yasenia when she was still weak and gained a second chance...'

Angel: Wow.

Evelyn: Wow.

Andrea: Wow.

Kali: Wow.

Cecile: Hmph.

Tatyana: Little treasure is so beautiful~.

Author: Welp. Yasenia finally snapped after being stomped on for so much time.

Angel: Yes... It's very rare for Yasenia to swear like that...

Evelyn: Now that you say it...

Andrea: So... Brilliant Auction House is no more?

Author: Who knows~. Anyway, I summon you!

Randomplant: Hello!

Evelyn: Hello! What's your question?

Randomplant: Tatyana, Valeria, Mirrory, I was wondering and wanted to ask.

Randomplant: Would Yasenia's Dual Cultivation technique make any difference if the girls and Tatyana used it as well, or would it not be necessary? And how much different is Yasenia's energy when using the technique compared to other cultivators?

Tatyana: It isn't necessary with this one. As said before, it is an extremely high-level technique, so if the partner allows Yasenia to completely take control, it isn't necessary to learn it.

Tatyana: As you should know, the girls' level of trust in her is basically bottomless. So, their dual cultivation is basically perfect.

Tatyana: Then, speaking about the difference in energy... Well, Yasenia is like someone a realm above herself, so it is nurturing to the extreme. Comparing it is like nectar or honey to mud.

Randomplant: That big of a difference?

Tatyana: If you take into account bloodline, constitution, etc. Yes. The difference is quite literally like the distance between heaven and earth.

Randomplant: I see.

Author: And that's all for today. Thanks for reading~.

Chapter 584: Brilliant Auction House's Fate.

The man naturally wouldn't take this nicely, and his face fell. "Dragon, who do you think you are? I give you a generous offer, and this is how you answer? Ha! As expected of a beast, manners and intelligence are lacking."

Yasenia finally lost her smile, and her face became frosty. "I've allowed your power to have one hundred of my Heaven-ranked items, yet instead of trying to create a beneficial collaboration, you are trying to steal the [Soul Enhancing Pills]?"

The man laughed coldly. "Disrespectful woman, I was offering a trade."

Yasenia barked a laugh. "A trade? How much? Ten trillion Flawless Parus? If your offer was below those numbers, then you are dreaming! Even that amount would not be enough to sell it!"

The man sneered. "You are delusional. It's only a pill. One hundred million Parus is more than enough! Especially for an upstart and new power like yours."

Yasenia felt a fire of anger burn inside her. "Only a pill? A pill that increases the soul that body cultivators have so much trouble cultivating is only a pill? My market is THE CONTINENT. How many people live is how many people want that pill! Are you still trying to deceive me, or do you think that I really do have mental troubles?"

Yasenia stood up, disregarding the hiding Tengliu, and summoned [Draconic Heart]. Her auras burst with extreme momentum and smashed onto the low-level Epoch Core cultivator.

This time, the auras weren't for intimidation, so she didn't hold back anything.

Soul, intents, aura, bloodline.

The very presence of Yasenia's existence materialized in the form of her draconic form and roared, making the air around her twist as the energies rampaged ferociously around her.

Everyone in the room felt as if someone had grabbed their heads and pushed them down into heavy water.

Their chest felt suffocated as their legs wanted to bend to the overpowering sense of the presence of the dragoness.

The man acted quickly, flapping his wings, creating distance, and summoning a sword himself. The shock of Yasenia's momentum confused him enough that his legs trembled as he asked with a stutter. "W-What are you!?"

If he put effort into it, he might be able to resist because of the entire realm in advantage. However, he was too terrified to try and fight back.

Moreover, he felt weak in her eyes, unlike those top-quality Epoch Core cultivators she had met until now.

Yasenia sensed extreme danger coming from him, but the feeling wasn't like in the past, of absolute despair.

She felt that, even with just having entered the second level, her leap in strength allowed her to at least exchange a few blows with him. Playing her cards right, she might be able to injure him.

Carbira shouted while being pressed onto the ground just from the passive aura. "Y-Yasenia! Please stop!"

Yasenia's face didn't calm down as she directed her angry face toward Carbira, scaring her. "Carbira, you've seen what kind of leader he is. I'll give you a chance now to come to work for me and escape what's about to happen to this power. He is not someone who has anything of value. Being greedy is natural, but his greediness is too deep."

Carbira shook her head and answered while trembling. "I-I can't. Please, Yasenia, reconsider, he didn't have bad-"

"Stop. His intentions are more than clear."

Yasenia sent a message directly to Carbira's head. 'I've seen this kind of people many times. They would do anything for greed. Do you want proof that he is not of value just because he raised you?'

Yasenia looked at the man, and a light flashed in her eyes. 'This is your last personality test. Depending on the answer...'

Yasenia stored her sword again and asked without reeling back her monstrous aura. "I'll give you one chance to redeem yourself. You give me Carbira, and I'll leave the seventy Heaven-ranked items behind for you to do as you please. Moreover, I will leave without making trouble."

The man clenched his sword hand, considering whether to make a sneak attack. However, he finally decided not to. "I don't believe you. That's too bad of a deal for you."

Those words were like a stab in Carbira's heart. The pain was so sharp that she cringed physically.

Yasenia squinted. "I really value her. Are you sure you don't want to take the offer?"

The man relaxed his stance, but Yasenia saw his eyes move toward Carbira for a split second.

Yasenia's every muscle tensed as her cultivation coated her body, creating her white [Celestial Dress]. 'Oh, no, you don't.'

The man rushed toward Carbira, intending to use her as a hostage. His Epoch Body Realm cultivation allowed his body to move at extreme speeds.

Yasenia also shot toward him like an arrow released from a bow.

CLANG!

Before he arrived and grabbed her, he had to turn around as the giant [Draconic Heart] descended, wanting to split his head in half.

However, he blocked the attack.

Yasenia followed the attack with a kick toward his gut, to which he answered with a knee block.

The shockwave from the collision hadn't even spread far when Yasenia's tail latched around his only remaining support and pulled hard.

His balance crumbled, and the strong muscles in Yasenia's tail threw him across the room.

The speed was not enough for him to lose control, so he stabilized his form and stopped himself before colliding with the luxurious room's wall.

Yasenia's pupils were thinned to lines as she stood protectively before Carbira, her elegant white dress fluttering with the pressure generated by her aura accompanied by her long raven hair.

Carbira's vertical eyes locked onto that back for a few seconds, and she didn't know what to do.

Yasenia spoke. "See? I told you he wasn't anything good. As soon as I said that I liked you, this was his reaction."

The woman on the floor didn't answer, but through her spiritual sense, the dragoness could see tears dripping from the base of her protruding pearly black eyes.

The man laughed disdainfully. "So you aren't that strong! That aura you are giving... about a high-level Ethereal Soul realm? I was on guard against a junior like you? Haha, Yasenia, this is the day you die."

His cultivation level burst and it fought back against her powerful presence, pushing it back enough to make him not sluggish anymore. "See? Like this. The difference between realms is much higher than you can imagine, child!"

Yasenia reeled back her cultivation aura and stopped [Celestial Dress], returning to her revealing, blue [Empyrean Cosmos Dress]. 'Cecile, go with Carbira to the storage and retrieve our items. I'll need Tatyana in a while.'

She sent an additional message to Tengliu. 'Aunty Tengliu, can you help Cecile retrieve my items and take care of little Carbira?'

Tengliu smiled. 'Sure~. Leave this to Aunty. Do you want any other items in their storage?'

Yasenia blinked. 'Take only the cultivation techniques and profession-related techniques. I have very little use for any other kind of items.'

Tengliu nodded and looked at Cecile. 'Follow Aunty Tengliu~.'

Yasenia communicated this in less than the blink of an eye.

She then looked at the man and smirked. "Since the beginning, I didn't want to fight you head-on. Do you think you are worth me fighting you? Hahaha."

The dragoness flew upward and threw a formation of collapsing stone, making the ceiling fragile enough for her to burst through.

Her presence spread around hundreds of meters like a tide, catching the attention of the retreating seniors.

Everyone looked up at the blue-dressed dragoness and spotted her breathtakingly beautiful and imposing appearance.

"Leaders that have attended the Brilliant Auction House. I have discovered something you might be interested in."

The man shot from the same hole Yasenia created and floated a distance away from her. "What are you doing, Yasenia?"

Yasenia sneered. "The card you were forced to use and insert the energy into has a formation that allows the Brilliant Auction House to decipher your auras. What is their intention? That's for all of you to discover."

The man's eyes opened wide like saucers, but he recovered quickly and countered. "Bullshit! Are you so hurt by our conversation that you have to resort to these cheap and useless tricks!? Who would believe you when you demanded my auction house not to take anything from your earnings this time!"

Pei Zhang naturally condemned. "I'm an upright merchant, and I will not allow you to escape with this unpunished!"

Then, he charged toward Yasenia with the intent to kill her before she spoke anymore.

Yasenia didn't bother blocking and looked at the leaders, knowing very well that someone was going to interrupt.

Luscia and Coraline appeared between them simultaneously. "Halt."

The man's movements froze comically mid-air as the auras of a mid-level Epoch Core and a High-level Epoch Core cultivator constricted his every movement.

Yasenia, fearing that he had something in his ring to save his life, deployed an instant formation created to block access to the spatial ring.

"Seniors, I've locked his spatial ring for five minutes. It has taken much time to deploy it, but I was able to create the formation just in time. You are welcome to interrogate him. I would not lie on something so easily disprovable."

Yasenia saw the pale face of the man and sneered. 'As I said, I'll raze your power to the ground.'

Coraline and Luscia weren't aware of this fact, but they trusted Yasenia. Hence, knowing that this was a very plausible thing, their anger toward the Brilliant Auction house was like roiling waves.

Coraline spoke as the most senior. "Is what Lady Yasenia is saying the truth, Pei Zhang?"

The man stuttered. "L-Lady Coraline, you must not get deceived by that cunning dragon!"

Coraline looked around and spoke. "I think we all want something like this to be destroyed. Let's not be stupid and agree that whatever power wants to keep this becomes the enemies of the rest."

About forty people floated upward, all within the middle level of the Epoch Core body realm or above.

The passive pressure that came from everyone here made it a bit difficult for Yasenia to breathe even with all her auras on full throttle as they were.

One man with draconic features asked Yasenia. "Junior, you know what will happen if what you said is a lie, right?"

Yasenia nodded. "Senior, this little one wants fairness for this matter. I will not resist any inspection as long as it is related to this case."

The dragon man looked at Yasenia for a few more moments and nodded. "As the fifth elder of the [Sky Scale Dragon Men Clan], I agree with what Lady Coraline is saying."

A woman with a fishtail and an otherworldly presence that could enchant even the purest of creatures spoke through her white face veil. "The [Ocean Swallowing Mermaids] also agree. I was the one using that card, and the last thing I want is for my aura to fall into the hands of someone I don't know. Here, use my card to prove it, dragon."

The card was thrown and landed in front of Yasenia.

Yasenia didn't take it and flew down to pick Tatyana, flying back up to the sky with her in her arms. "This woman is an expert formation master. She will now demonstrate it."

Tatyana acted as if she wasn't able to fly on her own and grabbed the jade card. Then, she tapped it and began working on it.

Her speed could be much higher, but she had limited herself to a skill level near Angel's. Hence, she had to use ten minutes.

After a while, a bubble drifted from the formation with an ocean blue and green colored energy strand in it.

Yasenia felt every spiritual sense in the area focused on that strand.

Then, the [Ocean Swallowing Mermaid] senior's aura burst from her, pushing Yasenia down onto the building from midair.

"You filthy creature dared to steal my aura?"

All the hairs on Yasenia's body stood up as the presence of that woman was too big. Unlike Tengliu's aura, which had no killing intent behind it, this time, this senior was furious.

The feeling was like being at the bottom of a profound ocean and being squeezed all around.

Tatyana muttered something, and the pressure around her disappeared. 'Don't worry, little treasure~. Mommy will protect you~.'

Yasenia wanted to smooch the beautiful woman between her arms, but now it wasn't the time nor place.

Yasenia looked toward the street, and she frowned. A few mortals and low-level cultivators were on the road, literally bursting into a gory explosion because of the pressure. 'S-She really doesn't care.'

A few seniors protected the town quickly, keeping her aura at bay.

The woman with the blue fishtail appeared before Pei Zhang and grabbed him by the face. Her dainty hand looked beautiful, but the pressure was apparent as an eye popped between her fingers.

"Tell me something before I kill you and erase the Brilliant Auction House from this continent. Did that dragon keep it a secret until now, or did she know it before now?"

Only now, Yasenia understood why she felt her aura so strongly. It was also aimed toward her!

The man gurgled an answer. "K-Knew, she knew!"

Yasenia saw the veiled woman turn and look at her, and she spoke calmly. "Senior, I only deciphered it before my conversation with him."

The woman was silent for a few seconds. "Who do I believe, dragon? A man that's about to die? Or someone like you?"

Yasenia smiled. "Senior, he is a man that's about to die because of me. The desire for revenge is clear."

The woman asked. "Then, why didn't you say it earlier?"

Yasenia lifted an eyebrow. "I went to converse with him because of this. Who knew if I was the only one that didn't know? Maybe all of the seniors here had a deal with him."

The woman wasn't stupid. "Then, why did you speak aloud back then to catch our attention? I doubt he told you that he collected them for malicious intent. He is stupid, but he isn't completely retarded. I've spoken to him a few times."

Yasenia smiled. "Senior, it's quite easy. I had another of you with me, confirming my suspicions."

Tengliu appeared beside Yasenia with Cecile, Ghana, and Carbira. "And here I am! The most beautiful woman~. It has become quite a fun situation."

The mermaid trailed her words and clicked her tongue. "Tengliu... Tsk. She is with you?"

Tengliu smiled. "That's right. This cute and beautiful junior is under my wing~. All of what she said is mostly the truth."

"Mostly?"

"Well, I'm not with her only to confirm this." Tengliu hugged Yasenia and kissed her cheek. "I was with her because I've become quite fond of her~."

Yasenia's face fell, and she pushed her away. "Senior Tengliu, please keep your jokes for another time."

Tengliu snorted. "You are not fun."

The mermaid nodded. "Well, whatever." She threw the man with one hand toward the center of the Auction house.

He was like a meteor, as a giant explosion occurred.

Then, she waved her hand, and a tsunami engulfed the entire auction house.

The auction house area was enormous, but the water engulfed everything quickly and brutally.

With another wave, the water froze, encasing everyone and everything that was in there in ice.

"I'll take this ice cube and will send back to your powers those who are not part of the Brilliant Auction House. The rest will die. Also, I will share the strongest items with all of your powers equally."

Then, the woman floated the gigantic chunk of ice the size of a small mountain and flew away while carrying it, speeding into the distance.

Cecile muttered. "Wow."

Something Yasenia ultimately agreed with.

Chapter 585: Brilliant Auction House's Finale.

After the mermaid left with the entire Brilliant Auction house, all the other seniors retreated without saying anything.

Yasenia found it strange. 'Can the [Ocean Swallowing Mermaids] do as they please?'

Tengliu commented. "Let's go, Yasenia."

Leaving questions for later, Yasenia looked at her and nodded. The girls summoned a flying sword, and Yasenia carried Carbira in her arms as they flew back.

The dragoness looked at Carbira and saw that her protruding black eyes leaned in the direction of the brilliant auction house.

There were a few trails of tears on her smooth and white cheeks, making the dragoness sigh.

"Carbira, I know that you might feel my actions are extreme..."

Carbira's eyes moved and pointed in Yasenia's direction. Her voice sounded stuffy and without energy. "They were. Why did you do that?"

Yasenia commented. "I didn't intend to do something like this at first."

Carbira remembered how Yasenia avoided putting her energy in the cards. The crab woman herself didn't know that there was such a gimmick hidden in them.

With a whispering voice, Carbira asked, sounding weak and defenseless. "Then, why?"

Yasenia looked forward and pondered how to explain what she did honestly and without hiding things. She sighed and commented. "Well, for starters. My reason for not taking advantage of my knowledge directly and setting up the power was you."

Carbira listened silently.

"I knew that you liked Pei Zhang as a senior, so I decided not to say anything about it." She sighed again. "However, the way he acted was very different from what I expected. He not only tried to scam me, he was deceiving me, trying to control me, and also trying to seduce me and Cecile."

Carbira looked at Yasenia and asked. "Then, what about Tengliu?" Yasenia paused and looked down. "Will you also get rid of her once you have the chance, as you did with my power?"

Yasenia stayed silent and sighed. "Yes. If I were strong enough, Tengliu would have died."

Tengliu, listening from the side, already knew it, but hearing it directly again made her feel a prickly sensation in her heart.

Carbira looked at Yasenia for a few seconds and then looked in the direction of the Auction House. "In the end, everything comes down to who is stronger. Politics, economics, strategies, schemes... Nothing makes sense if the other party is strong enough."

Yasenia agreed. "It has always been like this, Carbira. This happens even between mortals. Those more influential can take advantage of the masses because they have power beyond them. I've seen it many times and in many forms."

"A village chief stealing the son or daughter of the farmer. "

"A town mayor using his relation to a cultivator to steal from others and kill without repercussions."

"A race with an advantage oppressing another race because of past conflicts that have nothing to do with the present."

"A merchant with enough money to buy people."

Yasenia sighed. "The World is not fair, and everything eventually comes down to who has the bigger fist. There is a semblance of balance and rules between equal powers, but as soon as one of those powers takes that step ahead and becomes unreachable, everyone else will have to lower their heads."

Carbira leaned her face on Yasenia's shoulder, and the dragoness felt a single drop of water fall onto her breasts. But the sky was full of clouds. "The World is very cruel, Yasenia."

Yasenia caressed her head. "It is. That's why I must be ruthless with my enemies. That's why being merciful is a luxury, not a norm. That's why... I decided to nip the problem at the roots and eliminate the Auction House once I knew the leader didn't love you as you did him."

The drops of water falling on her chest increased in number, and a stifled and intermittent sobbing entered her ears.

Yasenia muttered. "You can sleep when you feel tired, Carbira. And... I know it's soon to make a decision, but if you want to work with me in the future, I'll take good care of you."

Carbira made a nasal sound and buried her face in Yasenia's neck, making the dragoness feel the wet eyes resting on her skin.

After arriving at their house, Yasenia left Carbira in a free room near her residence so that it was easy for the crab woman to find her.

While walking toward Kali's alchemy lab, Yasenia asked. "Tengliu, are the [Ocean Swallowing Mermaids] that influential that they can decide on this matter without the other powers speaking? Even the attending Royal family stayed quiet."

Tengliu shook her head. "They are not that influential, but this time, the Brilliant Auction House made a big mistake that offended all powers. If there were any behind them, the power who planned this would not step forward and protect them because it would be like placing a target on their back."

Yasenia asked. "What about the riches she took with that action?"

The white harpy smiled. "They are very fair in those regards. They probably will take the Brilliant Auction House members, interrogate them, and all those who aren't part of this will be liberated and sent to their houses within a few years."

She continued. "The treasures will be equally divided, but only with those she considers worthy. Thankfully, I managed to get your money... and a bit more because you warned me."

Yasenia's eyebrow lifted in interest. "A bit more?"

Tengliu smirked. "Well, I got about 120 million Flawless Parus, all your heaven-ranked items, and forty-two cultivation techniques. It would be best if you looked at them slowly. Where is your treasury room? I'll leave you with half of the Parus beside all your treasures."

The dragoness extended her hand. "Pour it in my ring."

Tengliu blinked. "This occupies a lot of space in the ring. Are you sure your ring can store it?"

Yasenia nodded, so Tengliu poured the Flawless Parus, heaven-ranked items, and cultivation techniques rapidly from her spatial ring, and Yasenia absorbed them. Her spatial ring could track how many spirit stones there were, so she was not worried about any tricks besides Tengliu having lied since the beginning.

Yasenia saw Tengliu stop when she gave her 70 million, making her blink. Tengliu smiled. "A little extra as a present~."

Yasenia looked at her and sighed with a smile. "You are trying to bribe me."

Tengliu chuckled and hugged her arm. "I am~. Is it working?"

Yasenia sighed again. "Well, very slowly."

The harpy Matriarch snorted. "Greedy Dragon. Ten million is not enough to buy you?"

Our dragoness laughed. "Not enough. I am proudly a greedy dragon."

They stayed silent for a few moments until the Matriarch asked. "What are your plans?"

Yasenia pondered and shared a few of her objectives. "I need to expand to a main city. Ideally, Dolgor City. It would be best to be near that opening secret realm. Then... cultivate. If I have time and resources, opening a sect is also on the list."

Tengliu nodded and suddenly paused, her face gaining a frown. "Yasenia, I received a message to return soon, so I'll leave soon."

"What happened?"

Tengliu shook her head. "Don't worry. I can take care of it quickly."

Yasenia thought for a moment and stepped forward to hug her. "I have yet to forgive you, but if you give me some time, I'll eventually find it in my heart to give you another chance... After I punish you a little bit."

Tengliu was surprised, but soon, she used her white arm wings to hug her back with a smile and buried her face in Yasenia's neck. "Take your time, child. I know how hard it is for dragons to forgive those who offended them deeply. The fact that you are giving this old woman a chance is enough to make me smile for a few months."

Yasenia separated and nodded. "Have a safe trip, Aunty Tengliu."

Cecile. "Senior, what about the spar?"

Tengliu smiled mischievously. "Oh? Right, I promised. I was going to leave in a few hours, so I can spare a few minutes for you. Okay, attack me."

Cecile blinked and looked around the garden area where they were walking. "Here?"

Tengliu waved her hand. "Don't worry. I'll control your strength not to destroy anything."

Cecile nodded. Then, her aura burst from her as white flames danced around her body and wings, and the temperature plummeted, freezing the plants in the surroundings.

A bow was summoned on her hand, and she flapped her wings to create distance and fly into the air, simultaneously charging one of her strongest attacks. "[Moon Freezing Catastrophe]."

The phantom of a giant bow appeared with three arrows knocked on it, and then she released the string.

The air around Cecile exploded with a monstrous wave of energy as the black, silver and green arrows fused and bent space to appear before Tengliu.

Tengliu smiled, and she clenched her fist lightly, punching very gently.

The collision made the ground around Tengliu sink, but the arrow didn't explode.

The punch shattered and vanished the arrow with a loud sound similar to breaking glass, making Cecile's eyes widen.

"Here I come, child."

Cecile's senses extended as her mind went to the extremes, sensing the surrounding energies to react as quickly as possible.

However, before she could register anything, Tengliu poked her cheek. "Gotcha~."

The Phoenix woman saw Tengliu's mischievous smile as she floated beside her and quickly used [Blink]. Her figure disappeared and appeared a few meters away.

Tengliu exclaimed with honest admiration. "Oh! Your control over Space is so high!"

Cecile didn't stop and sent a barrage of silver arrows with wind shredding everything around them.

Tengliu blinked and slapped all the arrows without moving from her floating place, not receiving even a scratch. "Not bad. I'm really impressed, Cecile. Your strength is abnormal to the extremes for someone younger than thirty. Be careful, I'm attacking~."

Tengliu appeared beside Cecile again and lightly punched her shoulder.

BANG!

Cecile's eyes widened in pain as she felt like a meteor smashed her shoulder, and her body flew across like a shooting star.

Her Phoenix bloodline quickly regenerated her fractured bones, and she flapped her wings to stop herself hundreds of meters away.

Cecile frowned and began using all her arsenal of arrows and buffs. However, Tengliu matched her pace and took every attack with her body, not receiving even a red mark on her white and lustrous skin.

After five minutes, Cecile fell back down to the ground, panting and with sweat all over her body, and completely exhausted.

The passive aura Tengliu was constantly emitting, and the "ambushes" that forced her to waste energy were enough to push her to exhaustion, not to mention the "gentle" blows she ate.

Tengliu landed in front of Cecile and smiled. "Happy, Cecile?"

Cecile looked up and frowned. "Don't stand on top of me. I can see your genitals."

Tengliu laughed and stepped backward. "It's not much better from here, no?"

Cecile rolled her eyes as she sat up. "At least I can look at your face without having it shoved in my face."

Tengliu burst into laughter again.

Cecile then sighed. "I'm satisfied, yes."

Tengliu smiled and leaned forward to pat her head. "Very nice."

Cecile didn't move but gave her an annoyed glare.

The Harpy Matriarch turned around and flew into Yasenia's arms one more time. "Well, I'm leaving, little Yasenia!" Then, she tiptoed and kissed Yasenia's forehead.

She flashed a brilliant smile, her violet eyes bending beautifully, and with a white flash, she vanished.

Yasenia looked in the direction she left and sighed, but there was a hint of a smile in her eyes.

Cecile walked groggily and leaned on Yasenia, muttering. "Are you really going to forgive her? You did that Pei Zhang much worse for much less."

Yasenia lifted her chin and kissed her lips softly. "Let's allow nature to take its course, okay, sweetheart?"

Cecile became a bit more energetic after the kiss and nodded. By the way, Ghana had returned to her post as soon as they arrived, so only Tatyana, Cecile, and Yasenia were left.

Tatyana asked. "What about Carbira?"

Yasenia smiled wryly. "I don't know. I'll let her figure things out herself. Let's take it slowly. I've been too hasty lately. The number of things I've done last month is already outrageous, so let's slow down."

Tatyana went toward Ghana to sort things out about the Brilliant Auction House connection loss and keep an eye on people trying to take advantage because of the void they left behind.

Cecile decided to cultivate and digest the gains from the spar against Tengliu. She realized that although she had many types of arrows, her definitive attacks were a bit lacking.

Yasenia also arrived at the alchemy room and prepared herself to step inside.

Evelyn: The auction has officially ended!

Cecile: Literally. There is no auction house anymore.

Evelyn: Well, you are right.

Kali: Poor Carbira. This must have been a deep blow.

Andrea: Dear, do you think that you overreacted?

Yasenia: I don't. Moreover, from Tengliu's description, I'm sure that there won't be many innocents involved.

Tatyana: But there will be some.

Yasenia: ... So be it. I'm still totally outclassed. I can't afford to be cautious.

Author: Well, let's leave this for another time. Now... I summon you!

Dante: Hello!

Angel: Welcome back, Dante.

Dante: En, so... I wanted to ask the seniors. Have you ever met a person with five attributes or more? How strong were they, and how did they fare with so many different attributes in their body?

Tatyana: Hm... There are people with that many attributes, although it is a rarity.

Mirrory: They are strong, but they are also weak.

Dante: Hm?

Mirrory: More attributes mean their cultivation path is harder. They have to comprehend more energies, laws, and concepts. Advancing in later stages is quite a nightmare for them.

Valeria: Moreover, people with five attributes exist, and they are not that rare. However, five attributes end up conflicting most of the time. Hence, the cultivator will be crippled from birth.

Dante: Oh!

Yasenia: Did Sarah have five attributes? I remember she did.

Dante: Really? I forgot...

Author: Well, there you have it.

Dante: Um. Thanks!

Author: Little lurkers, it is time to end today's chapter~. Tomorrow, there will be a lot of fluff~. Bye-bye.

The rest: Bye-bye!

Chapter 586: Spending Quality Time With Kali.

While all of this happened, a certain fox was concocting pills in her alchemy room.

Yasenia arrived and silently opened the door, secretly looking inside.

She saw how Kali created her pills, and there was an extra person, or well, cute dragoness present in the alchemy room.

It took a bit of time to spot her because Kaleina was moving around Kali's three thick and fluffy tails.

Kaleina spent time with the other girls when Yasenia was doing something, or she was not present, and today, Kali was the one in charge of the cute creature.

While concocting, the Lady Fox made sure to keep a part of her spiritual sense on her to avoid any dangers.

Not that she needed to because, as previously stated, the little dragon was slithering between her large fox tails.

Little Kaleina loved her fur's softness and the light earthly scent that recreated nature.

The dragoness grabbed around and moved, diving into the light green fur and exiting a few moments later.

She blinked her jewel-like golden eyes and looked at Kali's back. Then, she called her with her crispy and young cute voice.

"Kali Mama!"

Kaleina's crisp voice entered her big fox ears, making them twitch and turn in the direction of the sound.

The Fox Lady smiled and asked. "Yes, dear? Do you want something?"

After much consideration, they decided their children would call them Mama and their name, while Yasenias would be Mommy, Mother, or whatever the children were comfortable with. This way, every child would feel included, and the mothers would also feel close to each of them.

Kali finished concocting the batch of pills and put out the Alchemy fire.

Her tails moved, and she carried Kaleina into her arms. The little dragon was already as long as their torso if stretched in a line.

The juvenile snake-like length made her much prettier than the little noddle that fit snugly in their hand a month ago.

Her lustrous purple scales adorned by the developing gold-colored patterns and those moist and soft golden reptilian eyes tickled Kali's motherly instinct, making her lean downwards and kiss her little head.

"Kali Mama! Eat! Hungry!"

Kali looked at how the little claws pointed at the side, the plate with the recently baked pills. Kali shook her head with a small laugh. "You can't eat those yet, dear. You are too young."

Kaleina half understood and nodded. Then, she began trying to open Kali's dress, making the fox woman feel amused. 'Does she want me to breastfeed her? Sorry, dear, but I don't know how to produce milk yet.'

The little dragon tried to open her clothes for a bit, and not being too successful, she frowned and looked at Kali, making one crisp and beautiful exclamation. "Hungry!"

Kali laughed and summoned a bottle with Yasenias breast milk and a bottle nipple from her spatial ring. "Here it is, dearest. It's quite late, so I don't know when your Mommy will return, but this should do until then."

She approached it to her mouth and cradled her body so that she was comfortable. "Here, love."

Kaleina used her claws to grab the bottle nipple and bit down to suck. Out of instinct, as she did with Yasenias breast, her body coiled around the bottle, and she squeezed.

Kali blinked at the strength of her bite and how the bottle was squashed by the young dragon's strength. Moreover, the row of sharp teeth that had already grown seemed to sink into the nipple, piercing it in a few places. 'This bottle is a mid-level Spirit-Rank treasure... Does Yasenias not feel pain?'

However, she quickly remembered that although her lover's body was as soft as jelly, damaging her was another matter. She has seen her spars with Tatyana, and the times she saw Yassenia being flung away by a powerful punch from her were too many to count.

She herself has also sparred against her a few times, needing to use Valeria if she wanted to win. 'I don't understand Yassenia, really, hahaha. She has a super soft and jelly-like body, but in combat, injuring her is a nightmare.'

Her mouth became a bit dry, remembering how it felt to be hugged by her.

The knock on the door snapped her out of her thoughts, and she turned her head to the side. "Enter-ah."

Kali's heart fluttered as she saw Yassenia leaning on the door frame and looking at her with such a soft and loving gaze that her heart felt as if a jar of honey had spilled on it.

However, her makeup took her off guard, making her want to chuckle. 'That wasn't made by her, hahaha. Who did try to put makeup on her?'

A little laugh left her mouth even when she wanted to hold it back. "Who put makeup on you, dearest? Do you need me to retouch it? Those eyebrows are a bit... Haha."

Her lover smiled and walked forward, quickly reaching her side and gathering her in a gentle, soft, and sweet-smelling embrace.

Her nose couldn't help but twitch as she took her scent in and reclined in her embrace. 'She is so fragrant.'

"No need for that, honey. It was Evelyn who did it."

The mellow and deep, seductive voice caressed her hearing sense, adding to everything else, while the soft lips of the golden-eyed beauty landed on hers. 'Sigh, my life is complete~.'

Yassenia saw her little fox squinting in happiness and chuckled. "How was your day, honey?"

Kali answered, her three tails wagging as she leaned in her arms. "I just finished a batch of [Bloodline Enhancing Pills]. Do you want one? They are quite tasty."

Kali knew that Yassenia didn't need them and that the effect was so small that it was negligible, but she didn't mind feeding her lover peak-level Earth-rank candies. They actually tasted quite nice.

Yassenia knew that Kali liked feeding her pills, so she agreed. "Give me one, then."

Kali smiled and picked one, placing it in Yassenia's mouth. Her lover playfully took her fingers inside her mouth and used her long tongue to lick around them sensually.

Verdant green and golden eyes locked as Kali felt her heart accelerate with the moist and soft sensations on her fingers.

Kali snapped out of it and retrieved her fingers while feeling her face burn. "Cough. H-How are they?"

Yassenia's low laugh tingled her ears again as the dragoness leaned beside her ear and spoke with a breathy and seductive tone. "Not bad, but you are sweeter than any pill or candy I will ever try."

Kali's face burst into red, but she didn't separate from Yasenia, her tails wagging quickly behind her. Then, her face was lifted slowly, and her scarred lips met with the perfectly soft and creamy ones of her lover.

Soon, tongues began dancing as Kali eagerly kissed her gorgeous lover. 'I love her so much~.'

Kaleina finished her dinner at that moment and opened her eyes, which were closed because of her feelings of contentment while tasting her Mommy's breastmilk.

She spotted Mama Dragon doing something strange with Mama Kali and quickly exclaimed in a voice as beautiful as a tiny bell ringing. "Mommy!"

Yasenia stopped kissing and pampering her fox and used her tail to pat and caress her baby. "How have you been doing with Mama Kali, dearest?"

Kaleina smiled and crawled into Yasenia's arms. "Is Fun."

Yasenia kissed her little mouth and corrected. "Remember, baby. It is said. 'It was fun.'"

Kaleina blinked and repeated obediently. "It was fun!"

Yasenia smiled proudly and bathed her face with kisses. "You are so clever, dearest."

Kali looked from within Yasenia's arms with gentleness in her verdant green eyes. 'She is really good with children. I really can't wait to give her one.'

Valeria spoke in her mind. 'Why not ask for one, Kali?'

Kali answered. 'It's still too early. I will do so when Yasenia feels things are relatively safe.'

Valeria chuckled. 'With how overprotective she is, maybe she will only feel safe after she takes over the continent.'

Kali internally laughed, finding it a very possible option. 'It doesn't matter, really. We are a bit young still.'

Valeria agreed. 'That's true. I think you all should at least be a century old before getting children.'

Kali muttered. 'One hundred years... What strength do you think we'll have by then?'

Valeria answered. 'Hm... Taking into account your current speed of cultivation and the rate it is increasing... I would say about level four of the Dantian Spiritualization Realm.'

Kali blinked. 'Is that a lot?'

Valeria chuckled. 'Geniuses in the Sky Continent take at least one hundred years to break through into the Dantian Spiritualization Realm. There are people who literally take one thousand years or even five. I'm being a bit generous by taking into account Yasenia being your lover.'

Kali nodded. 'I see. Cultivation slows down tremendously as we rank up, it seems.'

Valeria nodded. 'That's right. '

Yasenia turned toward Kali and saw her looking at them but with her mind elsewhere. "Honey, what's in your mind?"

Kali's eyes refocused and smiled, speaking about what Valeria said. Yasenia nodded. "I see. Well, I'll see what I do. Right now, we truly have more important matters pending."

Kali looked at Kaleina and asked. "By the way, dear. What's the difference between one and more children?"

Yasenia laughed softly. "Well, the problem is the thing that happens before the child is born, honey."

Kali coughed, feeling a bit embarrassed. "Right. Being pregnant is not too safe."

Yasenia kissed her while laughing. "You are so cute sometimes, honey."

The three spent about half an hour together.

Later, Yasenia cleaned the make-up and made dinner, informing her dears and the leaders to gather with her to speak while dining.

These people were Coraline, Finnegan, Drasha, Luscia, and Ghana.

Once they all gathered, Yasenia began explaining what she had learned and a few things regarding the core of the Astral Sky Clan.

Ghana heard Yasenia's arrangements and asked. "Is it really necessary to substitute these harpies? I think they are doing fine currently."

Yasenia nodded. "Yes. They are good. But I think these lamias can do a better job. You are not aware, but their skill and strength are higher than theirs. I didn't change them at first because of personal reasons, but I've been a bit unjust to the rest of the clan, focusing too much on one race instead of a whole."

Ghana nodded and didn't complain. "I see."

Coraline asked. "If my lobster clan people are skilled, will they also be promoted?"

Yasenia commented. "They will. However, they will all have to swear a few oaths if they want to work on core matters about the clan."

Finnegan frowned. "Yasenia, aren't you being a bit rude?"

Yasenia blinked and looked at him with a smile. "Hm... Well, then let one of my people work directly under Lady Coraline and see all the documents she has to deal with."

Finnegan opened his mouth, but no sound came out, being quite speechless. Coraline rolled her eyes. "Don't listen to him, Yasenia. Do as you see fit."

Yasenia nodded. "I will."

Andrea suddenly asked. "By the way, what's up with Tengliu?"

Yasenia remembered. 'Right, I didn't tell them about what happened in detail because I didn't want them to worry while I was with her.'

Yasenia quickly explained it. She was already calm about it, especially after blowing off some steam with the Brilliant Auction House.

While speaking, Evelyn, Kali, Andrea, and Angel scowled at Tengliu's attempt. But after hearing the whole tale, they relaxed slightly.

They understood that things were already solved, and throwing a tantrum right now would do good to nobody.

While the adults spoke, Ebirah was squatting beside Kaleina, her long pink hair dropping down and her beautiful finger poking at the little dragon while giggling. Her gleaming pink lobster tail slapped the ground in glee.

"Little Kaleina, you can't catch my finger~."

Kaleina growled and attacked the disobedient finger, seeing it as prey.

They looked with normal expressions, but suddenly, Ebirah felt her finger being locked in place for a second. She was stunned, and although the lock only lasted less than a second, she stopped for longer, and Kaleina managed to grab the finger and bite. "Hehe, caught!"

Ebirah's eyes widened. "Little Kaleina, what did you do?"

The seniors around were stunned, and Yasenias smiled and explained. "That's her innate space attribute control. Her affinity for that attribute is honestly the highest I've ever seen."

Drasha asked, doubtful. "Then... Did that newborn just lock space for a brief second to catch Ebirah's finger?"

Yasenias nodded calmly. Kaleina has been doing these small tricks occasionally with her tail. To reward and incentivize her, Yasenias allowed herself to be caught each time she did them.

As she usually did, her tail moved and coiled around her little daughter and brought her to her arms. "Baby, you are so talented. Here, your favorite milk candy~."

Luscia sniffed and was surprised. "It smells so sweet. What milk did you use?"

Yasenias answered normally. "Mine."

There was a small moment of silence.

Andrea coughed and commented, breaking the awkward atmosphere. "Well, we finally have everything set up. Isn't that right, Yasenias?"

Yasenias placed Kaleina on the table, and her tail picked Evelyn up, placing her on her lap. "You are right. This busy month has finally gone by."

Coraline asked. "What are your plans, little Yasenias?"

She placed her chin on Evelyn's shoulder and pondered. "Probably, open a branch in the city near the soon-to-be-opened secret realm."

"Which one?"

Yasenias clarified. "At the auction house, I learned about..."

Coraline exclaimed. "Oh, that one. Dolgor City is quite far from our home, to be honest. Will Ebirah also enter?"

Yasenias nodded. "Andrea will come, so naturally, Ebirah will follow."

Finnegan asked. "Is that secret realm opening soon?"

Coraline nodded. "Yes, the one Yasenias wants to go to has a limit in cultivation, though. If I remember correctly, it only accepted low-level Epoch Core and below the last time it opened. If you enter there, you'll reveal your strength, Yasenias."

Yasenia shrugged. "It doesn't matter. By then, I have confidence in having enough strength to protect myself against Epoch Core people."

Luscia lifted an eyebrow. "It opens in about five years, no? Are you sure?"

Yasenia nodded confidently. "At least I won't be helpless against low-level Epoch Core. Above that, it will still be difficult, but them instantaneously killing me without knowing what hit me will be difficult, giving me enough time to maneuver."

After conversing about specific plans, Yasenia said goodbye to the seniors and went to bed with her dears.

Evelyn: Five years...

Cecile: A lot of time to train.

Tatyana: It will go by quicker than you think.

Yasenia: I wonder what strength we will achieve?

Author: There are a lot of treasures from hundreds of chapters ago that you all will ingest between a lot of things, so it will be quite a power-up.

Angel: Looking forward to it~.

Author: Yep. Well, I summon you!

Ma Alondra Morillo: Hello!

Andrea: Hello! How are you doing?

Ma Alondra Morillo: Good~. I'm here to ask Yasenia something.

Yasenia: Oh? Ask away.

Ma Alondra Morillo: So... What if the Girls are against or dislike the future members of the Harem? What will you do?

Yasenia: Future members?

Ma Alondra Morillo: Yes.

Yasenia: I don't have plans to have extra future members in the harem, to be honest.

Ma Alondra Morillo: But... What would happen?

Yasenia: Well, in the hypothetical case, I would quickly deny their entry and part ways amicably. If my current dears are uncomfortable with someone, I will not force it.

Ma Alondra Morillo: What if they want to force it?

Yasenia: Then, she will prove why my dears didn't like her, and I would be ruthless depending on the offense she had committed.

Ma Alondra Morillo: I see.

Yasenia: Anything else, dear?

Ma Alondra Morillo: Nope. Thanks!

Author: Well, then, this is today's chapter end. Bye-bye, little lurkers!

Chapter 587: Dragoness pampering Evelyn and Andrea! (R-18) [End Of Book 10]

After that discussion, Yasenia went to Evelyn's room.

The electric-blue-haired woman was sitting on the bed, reading a book about tailoring. Seeing that she was first, Evelyn smiled happily. "Today I'm first? Lucky~."

Yasenia chuckled and slowly leaned over Evelyn, pushing her onto the bed and landing on top of her. Yasenia wanted to ask something, but seeing Evelyn's eager and slightly bashful gaze, she couldn't help leaning down and capturing her lips.

Evelyn sighed through her nose and opened her mouth to let Yasenia's long tongue inside.

The tongue filled her mouth and licked her in places no human tongue could reach, making Evelyn moan.

After a while, Yasenia separated and slowly retracted her tongue from her mouth. "Dear, do you want to do something special today? How about..." Yasenia remembered what Evelyn requested in the past and smirked while she asked. "How about I also call darling?"

Evelyn looked at Yasenia, surprised. Since she came back from the trial, Yasenia had been only doing one-on-ones.

Not that any of them complained. They couldn't get enough of making love with their dear dragoness, no matter how much they did it.

Evelyn asked, curious. "Why so suddenly?"

Yasenia blinked. "Well, you asked me about it, right? I thought I gave you permission to call somebody else, but you have yet to call anybody."

Evelyn was stunned. "When?"

Yasenia blinked. "Didn't I say that if you want to do it with somebody else, you can wait in their room?"

Evelyn frowned and searched her memories. Then, she remembered, and her mouth opened. "At that time? I thought you were not serious."

Yasenia rolled her eyes. "When have I ever joked with bedroom matters? Silly dear. So, do I call Darling? Or maybe you prefer Baby? Who else do you want?"

Evelyn blushed a bit and whispered. "How about Andrea today... and we call Angel tomorrow?"

Yasenia laughed and kissed her lips. "So greedy~. Well, let me call her."

Evelyn nodded with a blush and said, a bit embarrassed. "Also... Can you two be rough, and also, um, can I be sandwiched between you and Andrea?"

Yasenia laughed and asked her darling if she wanted to come.

Andrea agreed and came shortly after.

Yasenia used this time to soften her dear with kisses and caresses.

By the time Andrea arrived, she saw the naked Evelyn with opened legs below a bare-clothed Yasenia.

Yasenia was not penetrating her. She was using her fingers while kissing Evelyn, making her so wet liquid was dripping down her crack.

Naturally, Yasenia's body was quick to follow suit, and her own pussy was also drooling without nobody touching it yet.

The tall woman smirked and stored her clothes in her ring.

As she approached, her dick hardened, going full mast quickly.

Then, she approached silently and pushed her face between Yasenia's legs while her hands played with Evelyn's asshole, which was smeared with her dripping fluids.

Yasenia and Evelyn moaned.

The slimy tongue exploring her folds was electrifying for our dragoness. Andrea didn't hold back a single bit, after all, and her tongue would pass through every corner, slurping the savory fluids.

Evelyn was not much better as Andrea's elegant long fingers pierced deeply into her hole and also gently and pleasantly caressed her insides, stretching her gently.

"Mmmh! Darling, Ah! You are eating me so ravenously! OH! Your tongue is so deep~."

Evelyn moaned loudly when the skilled, tanned woman hooked her fingers gently. "AH! A-Andrea, oh! My ass and pussy feel so good!"

Yasenia moved her waist back a bit and then lowered it.

Andrea stopped eating the delicious and soft pussy and used her hand to grab the hard dick.

It twitched excitedly in her hand, and she smiled while pumping it up and down. "Love, you must be a good girl and listen to me, okay?"

Yasenia's tail wagged, and the grabbed dick twitched. "Y-Yes, Darling~. Oh! You are stroking me in the best spots~."

Andrea knew perfectly well how to do a handjob to her dragoness. The times she has made her cum with her hand were not little.

Yasenia devoured Evelyn's lips as she moaned.

"Evelyn, place your legs around Yasenia's waist."

The deep female voice tingled Evelyn's ears, and Yasenia's divine moans echoed in the room, making her heart tremble with excitement.

The small woman obeyed, making her pussy face upward right below where Andrea was pointing Yasenia's dick.

This made the hefty precum drip down onto Evelyn's pussy, making her shudder as each drip fell. 'Y-Yasenia's precum is falling into my pussy~.'

Andrea soothingly ordered while using her free hand to pump her dick. "Love, slowly lower your waist."

Yasenia's tail moved and coiled around Andrea in a signal of love.

Then, she lowered her waist while her dick was guided by her lover's hand. "Yes, darling~."

While lowering herself and kissing Evelyn, she felt her tip touching Evelyn's lower lips.

Andrea ordered. "Stop."

Yasenia used all her willpower to stop and not drop her waist to pierce into her dear's folds.

Andrea began pumping Yasenia's penis and talked to Evelyn. "Evelyn, does Yasenia's precum falling into your vagina feel good?"

Evelyn shuddered as Andrea moved Yasenia's dick across her slit, squeezing it when the tip was on her vagina, making precum leak and drip inside.

"Y-Yes! I love it~."

Andrea looked as Evelyn's lower lips moved when the wide head of her dragoness's dick parted them while moving up and down the slit.

She even used the tip to make circles in Evelyn's clitoris, making both of them moan.

Yasenia was very excited and moaned with a voice that made the bones of the other two soften. "D-Darling, I'm going to cum~."

Andrea felt her own pleasure rising, so she asked with a deeper voice and rougher breathing. "Are you? Where do you want to cum, love?"

Yasenia looked back and looked directly into her darling's light green eyes. "Inside. I want to flood my dear's uterus with my seed!"

Andrea's heart trembled at the moist golden-pink eyes begging her while the soft tail moved around her body like a pair of arms hugging her and feeling her body. 'Mmm~, Yasenia really knows how to use her tail~.'

At the same time, Evelyn felt her womb squeeze as a shudder of pleasure invaded her when she heard Yasenia.

During all this time, while Andrea used one hand to masturbate the dragoness and move her, she made sure to bring Evelyn pleasure by rubbing Yasenia's dick on her vulva.

So, it wasn't just Yasenia; Evelyn was also about to cum.

Evelyn moaned when Yasenia's dick rubbed her clitoris again. "Oooh! I'm going to cum. I'm cumming!"

Andrea then ordered. "Yasenia, pierce downward."

A flash of lust gleamed in Yasenia's eyes, and she dropped her waist strongly, as her dear liked it.

Her large and sensitive penis went right into the wet and slimy pussy all the way until it pushed against the cervix, and the tip pushed it slightly open.

Evelyn's eyes went wide as her folds were penetrated this roughly, and her womb was pleausrably crushed in the same motion.

The electrifying pleasure coming from the thrust broke the dam containing her orgasm, and she moaned throatily as her body arched and her vision flashed white. "OOOH!!!"

Yasenia followed almost instantly.

Evelyn's vagina clenched and wiggled with her orgasm, and Yasenia smiled lustfully and discharged a massive load inside Evelyn.

"Ahh! So good!"

Andrea used her hand drenched with Yasenia's precum to pump her own dick as she saw Yasenia clenching to pump her semen inside the spasming woman below her.

The front row of the widened pussy and semen-pumping dick made Andrea groan and cum. However, what she didn't expect was a tail tip to move quickly and devour her own dick.

The feeling was similar to piercing a tight vagina, and Andrea leaned back while her balls squeezed her semen out. "Urgh!"

Yasenia's eyes flashed with euphoria as Evelyn's Yin fluids and Andrea's Yin semen entered her body. 'Their Yin energy is delicious~.'

While their body was accustomed to Yasenia, their Yin energy had been nurtured to be of Yasenia's taste. So, our dragoness loved their fluids as much as they loved hers.

After cumming, Yasenia turned her face with moist golden-pink eyes.

Our tall, caramel-colored woman gulped when she saw the predatory glint in those vertical pupils.

The aroused dragoness pushed Andrea down and mounted her. Then, she used the tail to guide her darling's dick and dropped her waist down.

Andrea moaned aloud as the wiggling, tight, moist, and undulating vagina swallowed her dick.

Andrea grabbed Yasenia's waist and moaned. "Fuuck me!"

It felt as if her dick was melting as Yasenia's pussy made everything in its power to milk Andrea.

Yasenia smiled lustfully. "Oh~. I will~." Then, she began jumping on her.

If Yasenia's vagina wasn't enough, the visual stimulation was otherworldly.

The gorgeous dragoness was jumping up and down, and the alluring and voluptuous body followed her jumps, jiggling sensually.

Moreover, the penis of her lover was still as hard as before, glistening with fluids and also moving up and down while she fucked herself silly on her dick.

"Darling, darling, darling! Ah! Ah! Ah! More, more! Give me your seed!"

Andrea barely held back her moans, but that resistance was easily crumbled, and in less than a minute, she was moaning as her hands grabbed and squeezed the massive breasts bouncing in front of her face.

The softness in her hands was otherworldly.

She saw Yasenia's tail curling inwards, and Andrea's eyes flashed with complex emotions of anticipation and fear.

Then, she felt a hard, bumpy, and wide tip poking her vagina.

Andrea's eyes opened, and soon, her mouth followed with a loud moan. "AHH!"

Yasenia didn't stop jumping as her tail penetrated Andrea's vagina and pushed against the cervix.

Yasenia groaned. "Oh! Your pussy is so tight!"

Although Andrea was tall, her vaginal length could be considered short, so it was effortless for Yasenia's tail to reach her cervix.

Andrea felt the tail moving inside her in and out, using the soft bumps created by the softened scales to stimulate her folds.

This, the visual stimulation, and Yasenia's vagina squeezing her length made the previously dominant woman moan like the girl she was deep in her heart. "AH! AH! Yes, yes! It feels so good!"

Our dragoness leaned forward and hugged the excitedly moaning darling and captured her lips. "Cum, darling. Cum inside me. You are such a good girl~."

There wasn't a single person who could resist her seductive whispers.

Andrea orgasmed, piercing upward as much as she could and filling Yasenia's uterus with her delicious Yin-attributed semen. On the other hole, the dragoness's tail absorbed the Yin-attributed energy discharged through her vagina.

Evelyn returned to herself a few moments ago from her orgasm, and she saw Andrea melting between Yasenia's arms as her balls twitched, clearly pumping semen into the dragoness.

Evelyn gulped and licked her lips. 'Watching these two fuck is too arousing... Oh.'

Evelyn saw Yasenia looking at her and smiling. 'Ah... Now it's my turn to get fucked silly, it seems.'

Yasenia lifted her waist, and the penis slid outside with a pop created because of her suction on it.

The dragoness pointed at Andrea's dick and smiled. "Mount it."

Evelyn blushed at the order-like tone.

She crawled and opened her legs around Andrea's waist. Andrea came back from her orgasm and saw Evelyn on top of her, with a drooling pussy right above her dick. "Eh?"

Evelyn stuttered. "W-Well, Andrea. I'll be in your care."

Yasenia stood behind and grabbed Evelyn's waist, pushing her down.

Before Andrea could answer, her dick lodged into Evelyn. They moaned together as their sensitive genitals linked together.

Yasenia laughed seductively. "Don't move, dear, darling."

Evelyn stopped when her lips touched the base of Andrea's dick, and she breathed out. Her hands rested on Andrea's muscular abdominal area, stealthily feeling the marked abdominal muscles. 'Wow~.'

Andrea laughed and patted her head. "How does it feel?"

Evelyn nodded with a smile. "Very nice, ah!?" The usually mischievous girl felt Yasenia's tail tip poke her asshole and spurt large amounts of liquid.

Yasenia had learned this in her dragon form. She could spurt precum in large amounts at the beginning.

Evelyn felt strange with all the liquid that her dragoness spurted. "What was that, Yasenia? Mmm~, I'm feeling hot."

Yasenia moved behind her and hugged her closely. "Lubrication~."

Then, Evelyn grunted as Yasenia's large dick invaded her asshole.

The dragoness was thick enough that she could feel Andrea's dick twitching inside Evelyn's vagina.

Evelyn felt the stimulation, and her body trembled. There was also a slight feeling of panic. 'M-Maybe it is too much?'

"Yasenia, I-."

Yasenia turned her head and kissed her softly. "Shh, don't worry, dear. Believe in me, okay?"

Evelyn nodded and kissed her back.

Yasenia chuckled. "Darling, we are coming~."

Andrea blinked, confused. Then, she saw the dragoness pushing Evelyn down and making her lay on top of her muscular body.

Evelyn's face fell directly between Andrea's breasts.

With Andrea and Yasenia sandwiching her, Evelyn's body expressed its happiness by clenching down below.

Yasenia kissed her blue-haired dear on the ear. "We'll move now, okay?"

Evelyn blushed and nodded, hugging Andrea and burying her face between the heroic woman's perky breasts.

Right after, she felt the two members deep inside her move in and out, making her moan.

With Yasenia's heavy breasts on her back and Andrea's surprisingly large ones surrounding her head, Evelyn felt like she was in heaven.

Softness and hardness mixed her senses, electrifying her brain with pleasure waves that made her throatily moan. "Oh! Yes! YES!"

It wasn't even two minutes when she reached the first of many orgasms to follow.

The other two also moaned as Evelyn's insides clenched and spasmed. The little girl squished between her was doing an excellent job taking in their members.

"Oh, Dear. It feels so good inside you~."

Andrea moaned. "Mmm~. I'm still sensitive. Ah! Evelyn, your insides are trembling like crazy."

Evelyn loudly screamed. "AH! AH! With your two, OH! Dicks! MMm~. Fuuucking me, shit! I'm going crazy! I'm cumming again!"

Andrea felt her navel being splashed by Evelyn's squirt while the more petite woman bit her breasts, and her eyes rolled.

Yasenia and Andrea felt their rising orgasm and accelerated from the gentle pumping, making Evelyn's eyes roll to the back of her skull.

They pierced as deeply as possible and flooded her insides.

"AHH!!!"

The only semen Evelyn could absorb was Yasenia's. However, that didn't mean that Andrea's Yin semen didn't feel pleasurable as it flooded her womb.

Absorbing same-attributed fluids needed a specialized Dual Cultivation method, something neither Andrea nor Evelyn had.

Of course, Yasenia didn't forget to feed her darling, and the dragoness's tail was comfortably lodged inside the heroic woman's warm vagina, releasing semen each time Yasenia came.

Their session continued, Andrea and Yasenia changing which of Evelyn's holes they made love to.

Evelyn fainted at one moment after a massive orgasm. Not having had enough, the dragoness attacked the tall and heroic woman, piercing her pussy with her dick and placing her in the matting press position to pump Andrea full.

Andrea moaned and turned things around mid-way when she placed her on all fours and pierced her from behind.

Our tanned woman knew that this position made Yasenia extra submissive, so she used it when Yasenia was going too wild in her pussy, leaving her extra sensitive.

When Evelyn came back to herself, the dragoness came to her. However, instead of wild sex she expected, she felt the dick slowly piercing inside her and oh so gently massaging her folds.

"Dear~, I love you~."

Evelyn's heart felt full as Yasenia tenderly made love to her twice.

Then, while she sprawled on the bed, her body twitching, she saw Yasenia doing the same with Andrea.

Instead, she laid on her back, opened her arms to welcome Andrea on top of her, and whispered loving words while Andrea made love to her slowly.

Evelyn smiled softly through her tiredness. 'She never fails to make love to us gently at the end. I love it.'

By the time their session ended, Andrea and Evelyn lay side by side, extremely tired and cuddling with the dragoness in the middle.

Evelyn said sleepily, kissing Yasenia's shoulder. "It was so nice~."

Yasenia chuckled and kissed Evelyn's damp hair. "I also felt really good. Good job, dear."

Andrea kissed Yasenia's ear, and our dragoness turned to capture her lips. "How was it, darling?"

Andrea yawned and buried her face in Yasenia's black hair. "En. I wouldn't mind doing it again like this."

Our seductive dragoness smiled sweetly. "I love you, darling, dear."

Evelyn mewled, rubbing her face on her breast, pamperedly. "Also love you~.

Andrea hugged Yasenia protectively. "I love you too, love."

She spent about ten more minutes like that with them. Then, she went to the bathroom and cleaned both of them with care.

Finally, after they were clothed, dry, and comfortable, she carried Evelyn to the main bed between her arms while Andrea followed with half-lidded eyes while she hugged Yasenia.

After placing her dear on the bed and tucking her darling in, Yasenia kissed their forehead lovingly and went to her other dears, leaving behind a single sentence, said tenderly and softly.

"Goodnight, my precious treasures."

Chapter 588: Encounter with an acquaintance.

After that night, time flowed like water.

Day after day, week after week.

While working hard and training without stopping, days were short, and weeks felt like hours.

They blinked, blinked again, and a month seemed to pass each time.

During these first four months, Yasenia focused on opening branches in all the surrounding cities that were less than a week in travel.

She needed a workforce for that. Hence, instead of lowering her standards, Yasenia sent the S.L.U.T. girls together with a few beast humans.

During these months, the Astral Sky Merchants had gone to many powers and bought a few.

Her fame had spread around, so all powers presented them without resistance. The reason was that Yasenia always gave a low-level Earth-rank item for each slave she bought.

Our dragoness had enough Earth-ranked treasures, and when she saw one intact girl, she offered extra rewards, telling other powers that if they still had someone like this, it would be in their interest to keep them safe.

In four months, the number of "human slaves" had increased from around thirty to 300.

These were not all bought directly, but her Astral Sky Merchant group went to Slave Auctions to buy them.

To make sure they bought the correct slaves, Esther would always go with them and point at who Yasenia was interested in.

The beast humans knew that this human was the leader of the human slaves, so they listened, knowing that she probably had some idea of Yasenia's intentions. Moreover, just in case, they contacted Yasenia after carrying them back to the mansion and never received complaints from her, only praise and rewards.

One of them found it strange that quite a few cried whenever they saw Yasenia, but no one gave extra thought to that. Human slaves feeling relieved when a good master bought them was not that rare, after all.

After these four months, Yasenia received a strange visit with a peculiar batch of slaves.

Strange, because the power visiting her was the [Devil Smashing Apes], the third-ranked power in the Thirty-Three Clans. These people were quite far away from Koran City, so their visit was strange.

A tall and muscular woman with her arms covered in fur and a monkey tail approached Yasenia with a smile.

Her height was above two meters, Yasenia had to look up to meet eye-to-eye. "Welcome to my Astral Sky Clan. How can I help you?"

The woman nodded. "One of our elders came here previously, and heard about your price for selling slaves. The leaders have been catching a few, so we decided to send a convoy with a few of them. Does the price that's rumored still for offer?"

Yasenia nodded. "Of course! One low-level Earth-rank treasure per slave I'm interested in."

The woman asked. "We have quite a few... Are you sure? Our leaders would be delighted, but we would understand if the price falls if you want to buy in bulk."

Yasenia waved her hand. "What kind of deal maker would I be? Our merchants have a good saying. 'We are honest as long as they don't try to abuse our honesty.'"

The woman nodded and called for the slaves to come.

Yasenia looked over and saw a few hundred people walking, making her surprised. However, there were males in this batch, making her blink curiously.

Yasenia said. "Elder from the [Devil Smashing Apes], will you be kind enough to explain the male specimens between the batch? I hope you didn't allow them to touch the females or vice versa."

The ape woman smiled thinly. "Don't worry. Although a few of them are not pure, as we got the notice of your existence a bit late, we've made sure to make them presentable. We know you don't buy males, but we decided to try our luck since we were coming anyway. There are a few good ones, after all."

Yasenia frowned and sighed. "Well, let's see them up close. I won't be stubborn after you've said so much."

The middle-aged-looking female smiled. "Perfect. Come with me."

A batch of two-hundred-and-thirty-one were waiting in the adjacent room.

She looked at them and saw a few of her girls from the fan club. She was already used to the sight of despair, but an inaudible sigh left her mouth. 'Sigh, my little darlings have suffered. Thankfully, I've learned that they are not that commonly used as sex slaves but more as working slaves and such. It seems that the powers I've met were more in the dark side of the trade.'

Yasenia felt even more guilty when she saw the joy and relief in their eyes when their eyes landed on her body.

Suddenly, she felt a malicious gaze and turned her head with a puzzled expression. 'Someone is looking at me murderously?'

Yasenia's eyes landed on a tall and disheveled man lacking an arm. Yasenia squinted, finding him familiar. However, the face was marred, so she couldn't really tell.

"What's up with that one-armed human male?"

The ape woman frowned when she felt the malicious gaze. "Excuse me, Lady Yasenia. He is very rebellious, and no matter how we punish him, he keeps being defiant. Do you want him? If not, we can kill him now."

Yasenia hummed. "That's interesting... hm?"

Yasenia blinked a few times when her sharp nose caught a whiff of his scent.

"Is there something wrong?"

Yasenia shook her head and approached with curiosity. 'Did I smell it right?'

Below the stench on him, Yasenia could detect a faint fragrance that was familiar to her.

When she was before him, Yasenia observed his facial features and suddenly smiled. "So, you are here~. Such a sad fate, isn't it? To think that we meet again in these circumstances."

The ape woman blinked. "Do you know him, Lady Yasenia?"

Yasenia sighed. "Yes. He managed to escape my mother's grasp together with a human woman after getting strong enough and gaining our trust. He is delusional and has airs of grandeur. Also, his enmity toward me is quite strong because I abused him in the past."

The man, Long Baidi, felt his eyes bulge with rage, but he was crippled and muted, so he could only look like a rabid dog.

Yasenia said something like that because she didn't know what this man told them. Hence, her saying a few things out of carefulness was not much.

The Ape woman nodded. "I see. Fate is truly wonderful. Even escaped slaves end up coming back to where they belong."

Yasenia's lips twitched at that statement, but she didn't deny it. "Elder, was there a human female with him?"

The woman shook her head. "Our encounter with him was pure luck because he started thrashing the place suddenly. He seemed enraged."

Yasenia asked. "When did that happen?"

"Hm... About four months ago."

Yasenia remembered. 'Oh? Was it because Angel breached his ring's defenses?'

Yasenia asked. "Tell me where Tang Xian is, and I might forgive you."

Long Baidi grunted with animalistic rage and pushed against his chains, making a rattling noise.

Yasenia tilted her head. "Hm? You can't talk?"

The ape woman was about to approach to undo the blockage of the acupuncture, but Yaseia just taped it with ease and removed it.

The woman was surprised. 'Such skill. She must be a master with acupuncture.'

Yaseia had never stopped studying the [Yin and Yang Acupuncture Resonance Manual], so her knowledge of the acupuncture points in the body was deep.

The elder was about to praise her, but before words left her mouth, a string of insults from the man echoed.

"YOU FUCKING SLUTTY LIZARD, I WANT TO EAT YOUR FLESH AND MURDER YOUR ENTIRE FAMILY! HOW DARE YOU TREAT THE HEIR OF THE LONG FAMILY THIS WAY!? AHHAH!!! I WANT TO DIE WITH YOU! I WANT TO KILL AND RAPE EVERYONE YOU HOLD DEAR BEFORE YOUR EYES WHILE YOU CRY IN AGONY AND ARE CONSUMED BY HEART DEMONS!"

Yaseia was honestly stunned and turned toward the similarly speechless ape woman. "He is a bit resentful and delirious. Did you torture him a lot?"

The strings of insults didn't end while they spoke.

The woman shook her head. "Besides crippling his cultivation and cutting a few tendons to avoid accidents, we haven't touched him much. Well, we also force-fed him to avoid him starving to death. After all, his body is now mortal and needs sustenance."

Yaseia nodded. "I see. It appears that the only reason heart demons didn't consume him is his lack of cultivation. However, he seems to have gone mad."

"By the way, Lady Yaseia, who is this Tang Xian?"

Yaseia sighed, tapping the howling man's acupuncture point to shut him up again. "She was a promising human with Fate element control. Sadly, after falling in love with him, they eloped. She also has a strange Heaven complex and will say things like, 'I can read your Fate.', 'I'm a saint chosen by the heavens!' and similar things."

The ape woman's eyebrow twitched. "Quite annoying."

Yaseia nodded. "Ask around for me. If you manage to find her, I'll reward you with a mid-level Earth-rank treasure of your choice. If you capture her and bring her to me... I'm feeling generous. I'll give you a Peak-level Earth rank item of your choice."

The senior's eyes widened. "Are you telling the truth, Lady Yaseia?"

Yaseia laughed awkwardly. "Well, they are a bit of an embarrassment since they managed to escape. Catching them is relatively important. However, as a new power, I have neither the power nor connections."

Yaseia asked. "What kind of weapon do you use?"

The ape woman was confused and retrieved a mid-level Earth rank staff.

Yaseia searched her ring and took out a low-level, Heaven-ranked one. "Here. For you. Is this enough to pay for all of the slaves? I think that it is better than 200 Earth-ranked treasures, right?"

The woman hastily nodded and smiled. "Lady Yaseia, I'll make sure to catch that woman!"

Yasenia laughed and looked at her with a smile. "Thank you."

The ape woman felt her heart skip a beat and smiled, embarrassed. "W-Well, I'm leaving. Have a nice day, Lady Yasenia. I hope we can see each other soon."

When she left, Yasenia waved her hand and summoned an isolation formation. Her formation proficiency had increased significantly during this time, and calling this kind of basic formation was nothing for her.

Of course, compared with her dears, Yasenia was still not qualified even to be a useful helper. Her proficiency in the profession was in the mid-level Earth rank for Alchemy, formations, and tailoring. For cooking, she was already in the Heaven-rank level, and for Blacksmithing, she was at the high level of the Earth rank thanks to her [Blacksmithing Intent].

Something she gained quite a while ago.

Either way, Yasenia pondered what to do with the few males between the bunch and Long Baidi.

Evelyn: This... It is very sad.

Andrea: Yes. I thought he would come back like a very bad dangerous event or something.

Kali: Well... He had it coming.

Angel: Hump. This is good. It saves us trouble from finding the little bug aiming for Yasenia.

Cecile: He wasn't going to make any waves either way.

Yasenia: Well, luck is a big part of one's fate. So... I can only say he was very unlucky.

Author: Yep. Let's move with today's question... Hm...

Yasenia: What's wrong?

Author: Cough, nothing. The question is a bit strange. It will also be for you, Yasenia.

Yasenia: Oh?

Author: I summon you!

SeniorKain: Hello!

Yasenia: Oh? A new person. I heard you have a question for me. Shoot.

SeniorKain: Well, when the girls get pregnant what flavor do you expect their breast milk to be? For example, do you think Angel's will be vanilla?

Yasenia: ...

The rest: ...

Author: Cough. Well?

SeniorKain: Hey, don't look at me like that. I know that all of you have probably asked yourselves this once or twice!

Yasenia: Well... I honestly don't know? If I had to answer...

Yasenia: Angel's will probably be very sweet. Evelyn's might be a bit spicy, but delicious nonetheless. Andrea's should have a strong taste that leaves a nice aftertaste. Kali's might have this natural and earthly taste. Cecile's... maybe a bit cool and sweet, like ice cream. Finally, Mom's tastes very delicious.

SeniorKain: I see. Wait. The last sentence?

Yasenia: Yes? I mean... I've grown with it, and I didn't stop being breastfed until I was four, so I remember quite well.

SeniorKain: Until she was four?

Tatyana: Any problem? As a dragon, she needed nutrition, and as a Demigoddess, my milk was the most nutritious thing she could eat.

Tatyana: Serious face Also, don't you dare sexualize it. Nowadays, I don't care since we are all grown-ups. But breastfeeding a child is something I take very seriously and something I find sacred.

SeniorKain: That was not my intention, don't worry!

Tatyana: Very good~.

Author: She might be a degenerate without shame, but new lives are something every cultivation senior takes very seriously unless they are deranged in a demonic way.

Tatyana: Oy.

Author: Hahaha, either way. This is all for today. Bye-bye.

Chapter 589: Human group's growth. (New Novel Poll Link)

Two hundred and thirteen humans stood in the room, with Yasenia present.

The dragoness looked at them and then looked at Long Baidi. Seeing his crazed face, her lips arched. "How low you have fallen, Long Baidi. Hahaha. I still remember your arrogant face wanting me to give you those things. Your family has been bothering me for a while. Do you want to know why?"

Yasenia commented. "A junior Tang clan wanted to buy me, but she was killed. Then, because of the good connections, someone from your family tried to kill me. However, she died. Then, your parents acted like children, unable to accept that their children were stupid and courted death, trying to kill me at every turn. They went as far as trying to start a beef with my mother. Hahaha. Truly stupid."

Before speaking further with him, Yasenia liberated her fans and looked at the remaining people. There were 147 women and three men between them. All of them were native humans. This left her with 63 non-native women from the Sky Continent. And between those, thirty-three were S.L.U.T. members. Or at least, Yasenia had a recollection of them.

Yasenia pondered as she looked at the other 147 native humans. "Since you were here, I decided to buy everyone... But... What should I do with you?"

Yasenia got thoughtful and had an idea. "Ah, I know. I'll leave all of you under Luna's charge. At first, everything will probably need supervision from Esther, but after a while, this might become a strength to make all your spirits brighten."

Yasenia saw a few with similar expressions to Luna when she first got her. 'Well, we've set up a mental nursing home, and it has worked quite well with Luna, so it should not be a problem slowly healing the ones that have their spirits broken. The others, about 120 of them, seem lucid enough.'

Yasenia's eyes landed on the three men, excluding Long Baidi, and frowned. 'What do I do with them? I took them out of impulse because I wanted the Elder to have a good opinion and search for Tang Xian. I mean, if I left them with her, she would probably feel that I was too narrow-minded for not accepting three harmless humans... Sigh.'

Yasenia muttered, not hiding her thoughts. "Killing will leave an uncomfortable aftertaste. After all, I do not murder without reason. Moreover, these three seem quite awake... Even now, their eyes are darting toward the windows and other places, trying to find a way to escape."

The three men froze.

Yasenia frowned, and after a while, she sighed. 'If I really accept them, it can become troublesome.'

Yasenia summoned her sword. Then, she swung it toward their necks.

Two of the fans spoke, a bit hurried.

"W-Wait!"

"Yasenia stop!"

Yasenia's sword stopped a centimeter before the neck of the first one. The strength of the swing created air pressure enough to move that man a few steps aside and make him fall onto the ground.

Yasenia blinked and looked at the two haggard women, tilting her head. "What's wrong? Do you know the situation of the Continent? You should for what you've experienced, right? If they arrived a few years later, I wouldn't mind making exceptions. But now, I can't. I'm too weak. Although my foundation is getting stronger, I'm just a wrong step away from everything crumbling like a tower of loose stones."

Meanwhile, the natives become extremely scared at the audacity of the two women ordering their master and hastily went to their knees, trembling in fear.

This distinguished natives and non-natives very quickly. After all, those who still stood on their feet were from the Sky Continent.

Yasenia didn't bother telling the natives to stand up. She knew that, even if she said it, they would probably not listen.

One of the S.L.U.T. women became flustered and hastily lifted two of the men. "Don't kneel. You are already weak enough. What if you hurt yourself."

The other approached the man who was thrown to the ground by pressure and lifted him. "A-Are you okay? Did it hurt?"

Yasenia was surprised at their tones. 'Well... Four months have gone by in whatever hell hole they've been...'

Yasenia frowned. 'This complicates things.'

The dragoness sighed and pierced the sword taller than herself onto the ground. "Explain. Did they help you? What are they for you?"

The woman smiled awkwardly. "They consoled the few of us who... Well."

Yasenia understood, but she didn't react. Many months have passed since they arrived here, so expecting them not to be touched would be idealistic and, honestly, delusional. 'Even if most of them are not used as that. The beautiful ones are probably more inclined to that fate. Being a cultivator, not being beautiful compared to mortals, is difficult.'

Yasenia's mind flashed with her dear Evelyn, and she smiled. 'Not that it matters. My little dear might not be the most beautiful, but she is adorable ~.'

She focused on them again. "All three of them are with you?"

One begged, grabbing the hand of the tallest one. "A-After I was crippled, he took care of me and... Please, forgive his life."

The other said, grabbing the hand of the other one. "H-He stood by my side all the time... I... Um."

Yasenia nodded. "No need to explain in detail."

Even in the worst conditions, affection born from dependence can bloom. 'If I killed them after they've said so much, I would be too ruthless. However...'

After pondering, Yasenia concluded. "For the outside. I do not accept men. It is a condition I put myself in to avoid scrutiny. How many of you have a crippled Dantian? Meridians, we can heal them slowly and nourish them if they are only damaged, not broken. However, the Dantian... I'm not skilled enough yet."

Of the sixty-three, fourteen lifted their arms, indicating broken meridians or damaged Dantian.

Yasenia sighed. 'It is becoming worse. In the first month, only one out of fifty were crippled. The proportion is only increasing. Not to mention...'

"How many were left behind?"

It was natural if superiors became fond of a human and refused to let them go even for an Earth-level treasure. Moreover, being adaptable, a few could've tried seducing beast humans to keep themselves safe.

Yasenia has tried making the conditions of trade good enough that they will relent, but...

One of the ones in the large group spoke weakly. "Four were left behind, Yasenia. Two voluntarily, two against their will."

Our dragoness sighed yet again.

'Sadly, I can't go on the offensive yet. By the time I can... It's probably too late.'

Finally, she turned toward Long Baidi. "At first, I wanted to torture and play with you a bit. But my mood is gone. Die."

Her tail flashed, and his head exploded. Then, she waved her hand, and the body was encased in moon-attributed ice, becoming ice crystals in the next moment that were blown out of the window by her energy control. 'And with this, Long Baidi is gone.'

Her gaze moved toward the native humans, making them tremble.

Yasenia ordered. "Use make-up on the males and make them look like women. The males with a partner will live with their lover and work at home."

Yasenia looked at the third male, who didn't have a partner between the girls, who stepped forward and muttered. "Only you are left... why was he chosen?"

One of the Sky Continent women who were not from the group answered. "I think he is too ugly, so they tried to sell him to everyone. Since his appearance is as such, he doesn't even qualify as a male breeder."

Yasenia blinked and looked at him closely. 'Well, she is not wrong.'

Yasenia pondered and took out a magic-level log.

She cut, polished, engraved, and gave it the form of a mask in less than thirty seconds. Then, she gave it to the three men.

Then, she summoned two hundred plus robes, one for each person. They were all made with mortal materials, but they were enough.

"Wear these. It's better than makeup. Also, here are some clean clothes. Moreover, the mansion has two shared bathtubs; the men will use one, and the women will use another. Esther will put all of you up to pace. Put on the clothes after cleaning yourselves."

An hour later, Yasenia went to the side mansion where the humans lived, and observed the three rows of clean women. Their faces were much more relaxed, and the gloomy feeling was gone for many of them.

After all, seeing strong humans like Esther and the others, plus their dresses, it felt a feeling of being reborn.

Their bodies still left much to desire since they looked as if the wind would carry them away, but at least they had a bare minimum of hygiene. 'Hm. It seems like Esther has given them a simple makeover, cutting nails and hair, plus spreading a bit of cream on them.'

Yasenia smiled. "Well, this is really another look."

Esther approached with a smile. "I didn't expect so many of them to come, Yasenia. This place can hold about two thousand people if we divide rooms, so take it into account."

Yasenia nodded. "Don't worry, living space will soon be of no problem. How is it? Any lethal diseases."

Esther nodded. "A few, but the water prepared by Lady Kali can kill all mortal diseases. They are all free of ailments."

Yasenia looked at the three men, two of them with one of the girls grabbing their arm. "Esther, limit the living space of those three men. Living within a room with basic necessities should be better than whatever they went through in the past. I don't want a problem to occur because of people thinking with their lower halves. Remember that the natives have zero education."

Esther nodded and explained. "We've decided to create ranks within the human group. Those women with no cultivation will work as housemaids, and those with cultivation will go to a training and rehabilitation camp led by Xeria, one of the two S.L.U.T. girls you saved first in the tournament. We will also search in the Body Cultivation library which ones are suitable for the techniques you've collected until now."

Yasenia asked. "How is Luna doing?"

Esther smiled. "Perfectly fine. Angel finished the ritual formation and used it in the past. Luna has Water, Darkness, and Death attributes. Her constitution is called [Emotion Reaper Physique], and her bloodline seems to have demonic traces. It is called [Flowing Dream Demon]."

Yasenia's eyebrow lifted. "[Flowing Dream Demon]?"

Esther nodded. Yasenia said, surprised. "That's a sick twist of Fate..."

The beautiful black-haired woman looked at Yasenia, confused. "How so?"

Yasenia commented with a weird expression. "That's a Succubus Demon Bloodline."

Esther's face crumpled. "T-Truth... A sick twist of Fate."

Honestly, Yasenia was impressed. This was good news in a way because Succubus had natural resistance to trauma because of sexual aspects. They were not immune, mind you. But it was the positive part in the bad.

Moreover, her talent was not worse than Cecile's before her transformation into a Moon Phoenix.

'No wonder her body was so well maintained even in those conditions. No wonder she could reach out to Evelyn. No wonder she managed to break through. She has a Succubus bloodline.'

Yasenia heard that Luna had cultivated during these months and raised to the second level of the Opening Realm and Foundation Building Realm. The Spirit and Body Cultivation path's first realm, second level.

Her attitude continued to be gloomy and mostly emotionless, but she showed a few facial expressions when Evelyn or the fan girls who took care of her were around.

She even was cute enough to call them big sisters when they asked.

Yasenia pondered. 'She just doesn't open up to me for some reason. Was it my strong attitude the day I bought her? Well, her hate for beast humans is probably deeply ingrained. Plus, I acted like a real master at the beginning. Maybe she thinks I'm just acting to get on her good books? That would be too arrogant, though. What kind of need for her do I have? But, well, she is recuperating, so I'll be a bit lenient with her.'

After sorting everything, Yasenia sent the ape woman a painting of Tang Xian.

If they found her like Long Baidi, perfect, one less worry.

If they didn't, well, she wasn't too worried.

What worried Yasenia was Angel's sister and a few of her close friends from the academy.

'Let's hope for the best and think that they are not in this continent. After all, the number of people I found is not that many... Probably cultivators have been thrown around this Universe.'

Yasenia looked out of the window in her office, and seeing the sky becoming dark, she stood up. 'Enough work for today.'

Yasenia left, thinking about the three human males. 'I hope they behave...'

Tatyana: Wow, the flag you set up is so big.

Yasenia: What flag?

Tatyana: Nothing, little treasure. I'm quite interested in what kind of thing this will bring.

Mirrory: She should've been ruthless. Now, she is a leader.

Valeria: I think that giving them a chance is not bad. All life is precious.

Mirrory: I disagree. Depending on the situation, life is expendable. Moreover, other people's lives are not equal. Ask your fox if she would rather kill a thousand cultivators or Yasenia.

Valeria: That's an extreme argument.

Mirrory: What if they are fighting in a populated city? Will you hold back to protect the lives of the city?

Valeria: Lives not mattering doesn't mean you should not care. At least try moving the battle away from the city.

Mirrory: Useless distractions that can cost you your life.

Author: Oy! I've yet to summon the dear. What are you two speaking about?

Mirrory: Tatyana, what do you think?

Tatyana: Hm? Do any lives besides Yasenia's matter?

Mirrory: ...

Valeria: ...

Author: Well, I summon you!

Sophia: Hello~.

Mirrory: Oh? A new soul.

Sophia: Yep~. Hello, Mirrory.

Mirrory: Um.

Sophia: Well, my question is for Mommy Tatyana!

Tatyana: Oh?

Sophia: Once everyone's power is more stable and secure, will you begin to show more of your truly amazing and terrifying self, or would you prefer to continue to support Yasenia from the shadows?

Tatyana: Depends... But I've already experienced many things. So... I'd rather be a spectator with the right to interfere.

Tatyana: Of course, if little treasure asks me to do something. I'll do it.

Sophia: Then, if she asks you to interfere and take the lead?

Tatyana: I would ask why. Then, I would agree or disagree, depending on her reasoning. This is not a black-or-white situation, after all.

Sophia: I see.

Author: Anything more?

Sophia: Nope. Thanks for having me here~.

Author: No problem! Well, you've heard, little lurkers. Goodbye, and have a nice day!

Chapter 590: One Year. Fuffy time with Kaleina, Angel, and Kali.

Yasenia looked at the documents, and her eyes caught a name she hadn't heard in a few months. "Flanna..."

Picking up the documents, she read them and sighed. "That giant girl has not come with us again after she returned to her clan. It seems that she had been in close-door cultivation and that her clan will definitively not join ours."

Yasenia looked through the expansive window at the side and rested her chin on her hand. "Well, some things are not meant to be. It's such a shame. She was quite a cute girl, even if she was big. She was so excited to make friends..."

Yasenia finished quickly with her work. Although they were expanding, she had arranged things better during the last months and needed at most four hours a day to sort everything up.

The rest of the day, she used it to practice her professions and also to cultivate. Honestly, besides the few hours she took to spend with her dears, her day was quite monotonous.

The power in her clan had also spread across different races, and the harpies had lost their "top" position. However, for those who were suitable for the job, Yasenia didn't do anything to them.

There were a few who were indignant, but Yasenia told them to scram if they didn't like it.

A few on the younger side who couldn't really understand Yasenia's sudden change of attitude left. After all, it is easier to go from an unprivileged position to a privileged one than vice versa.

Our dragoness missed none of them. Moreover, they were all tied by a very restraining oath, so telling outsiders what was happening in the clan was impossible.

There were three who tried escaping without telling the oath, and Yasenia directly killed them to make an example.

Although it created more dissatisfaction, it was just a temporary feeling, and the sense of respect, even if it leaned more toward fear, was more noticeable.

However, for the dragoness, everything was okay as long as they did their job. She had already reduced the importance of everyone in the Astral Sky Clan from a "small family" to a "working group."

'Well, learning from mistakes is a good thing. I'll probably make more in the future. I'm not perfect, after all. However, these situations are helping me grow a lot and solidify the skills I gained during the War.'

While thinking of her naivety in the first month, Yaseña heard a faint slithering sound accompanied by the sound of taps on the ground.

Her pondering face melted in an expression of love and softness, and she turned around, seeing the door opening and a beautiful purple creature with golden markings entering.

The large and beautiful golden reptilian eyes looked around and stopped on herself, lighting up with a smile of the creature.

"Mommy!"

Yaseña looked at the little dragon big enough to have graduated from resting between her breasts with nostalgia and love.

'She is growing so fast. Is it because of the Demon Nail I fed her? It was a powerful treasure, after all.'

Kaleina moved forward and jumped. The jump was accompanied by a faint Space attributed energy, making her jump much higher than normal.

Yaseña laughed and caught her little dear squishing her long body into hers. "My little baby, how are you doing? Did you have fun with Mama Andrea?"

"Fun, Fun! Mama Andrea and I play fight and teach how to hit metal!"

Yaseña laughed and covered her dragon face with kisses. "You are so cute, dear. I love you."

Kaleina smiled and licked Yaseña back. "I love you too, Mommy!"

The little dragoness looked around and asked curiously, her head tilting. "What are you doing?"

Yaseña looked at the hour and saw that it was the middle of the afternoon. The weather outside was cloudy, and a bit of drizzle was falling. "Well, Mommy has just finished working, and now she was about to go to find you and Mama Andrea. Do you want to do something fun?"

Kaleina nodded. "I want to learn!"

Yaseña smiled. She had slowly taught her that learning, fighting, and other productive activities were fun by giving her rewards, cuddle times, and other things.

The dragoness took a book about beasts and carried her dear to a sofa at the side. "Well, today, we will see more about ourselves! About other beasts of the world. There are super interesting ones and very rare and strange ones. Do you want to hear about them?"

Kaleina's eyes lit up, and she nodded quickly.

Yaseña smiled softly and opened the book. "Where did we leave it? Do you remember, love?"

Kaleina's tail moved from side to side as she thought, her little claw moving the pages slowly.

She couldn't read, but the book had images, so Kaleina could somewhat remember.

Although she was just half a year old, as a dragon, her intelligence developed quickly. Not to mention, Yaseña wasn't stingy in feeding her with nourishing treasures, doing very light massages with energy to enhance her, and other things.

Tatyana gave her a lot of advice on how to help her develop.

"Mommy, I found it!"

Yasenia saw Kaleina pointing at a many-legged crustacean with her little claw, and she kissed her head. "Very good, dear. Here, a milk candy."

The small dragon opened her mouth, and Yasenia fed her the milk candy. Kaleina opened her mouth and chomped on it. Some might think this was similar to raising a pet, but it was truly not. Young children need positive reinforcement when they do something like this.

Kaleina purred as the taste spread in her mouth, and Yasenia chuckled. "You are so cute, dear."

Then, Yasenia read. "The [Fossa Delving Volcanic Cratopus] is a creature that adopts the hard shell of a crab, together with the long and flexible arms of an octopus. They can grow very, very big."

Kaleina asked. "How big, Mommy?"

"Well, bigger than Mommy in her dragon form."

Kaleina's eyes widened. "Ohh!"

Yasenia laughed. "Look, adult ones can be hundreds of meters long. That means they are hundreds of Kaleina's long."

Kaleina exclaimed. "Hundreds!? That's a lot, right?"

Yasenia nodded and knew that she didn't really understand what "hundreds" meant. Hence, she explained patiently. "Do you remember the numbers? We learned them until one hundred."

Kaleina nodded. Yasenia said. "Well, imagine one hundred Kaleinas. This Cratopus is even bigger!"

Kaleina's tail wagged. "So big! Is it strong, or is Mommy more strong?"

Yasenia bragged. "Of course, your Mommy is stronger!"

Kaleina giggled. "Mommy is the best!"

Yasenia chuckled and laid on the sofa with her, her body propped up with a pillow so that Kaleina was resting on her and could comfortably look at the book with her.

They continued reading the book for fifteen minutes, and Yasenia stopped. She was young, so doing short sessions with rests and other activities will help in not burning the child's attention too much and making it a chore.

While playing together a bit, Kaleina said. "Mommy, I'm hungry."

Yasenia lifted her eyebrow. "Didn't you eat not long ago? Mama Andrea has told me that she fed you something~."

Kaleina looked at Yasenia's breasts longingly. "U-Um. T-Then, I'm not hungry."

Who could resist those cute eyes? Not Yasenia.

A minute later, the dragoness was cradling her baby while she sucked her breast eagerly.

Yasenia smiled lovingly, happy that her dear loved her breastmilk so much. "How is it, love?"

Kaleina licked her lips and smiled widely. "Yummy!"

Then, she latched again and purred while she continued drinking. Yaseña leaned back and gently caressed her body, enjoying the tender and beautiful moment with her.

After eating, Kaleina rested her head on Yaseña's soft chest and closed her eyes, hearing her mother's strong heartbeat.

Both stood silently, looking outside the window as rain fell, making it a lovely afternoon.

Angel arrived a bit later, and Yaseña cradled both of them effortlessly. Only when Kali came to remind them of dinner hours approaching did Yaseña move and go to make dinner.

Time continued flowing.

Yaseña recruited an average of twenty humans, not considering the month she recruited 200, and forty beast humans each month.

After a whole year, the number of humans had reached about five hundred, and the beast humans were nearing the one thousand.

After an entire year, Yaseña was in the medical room, grabbing Angel's hand while she analyzed her mind's state with Kali.

Mirrory and Valeria looked from the side.

Kali smiled after a while. "Yaseña, her mental damage during the acceptance of her Saint Inheritance is completely gone. Angel is healed one hundred percent."

Yaseña's eyes lit up. "Completely gone?"

Kali laughed. "Yes."

Yaseña threw herself on top of Angel and laughed happily while kissing her eagerly. "Finally, you are completely healed, baby."

Angel smiled blissfully and hugged her back. "En."

She was happy not because she was healed but because of the kissing attack she was receiving.

Yaseña's tongue invaded Angel's mouth and entangled with hers, making the blonde girl moan.

Kali's nose twitched, and she smelled Yaseña's scent getting thicker and making her nose itch.

She blushed and wanted to leave, but Yaseña's tail caught her arm.

When Kali looked back, she saw Yaseña's eyes becoming predatory and knew that she was in for a wild ride.

Angel's and Kali's moans echoed in the room.

While looking from their souls, Mirrory commented to Valeria. "It's interesting how your child has such a tight entrance. Each time I see them, Yaseña has to go slowly at the beginning. Any idea why? As a life-related being, I thought she would be more elastic to have no complications while giving birth."

Valeria answered. "Oh, but she is. Although she is tight, she can stretch a lot. If she had normal elasticity, having sex with Yaseña would be more on the painful side."

Mirrory nodded. "I see. Honestly, this is quite new for me. My previous masters were too focused on cultivation to have intercourse. I had one master who never had intercourse in his sixty million years of life. Even Fu Jing Jing only had it once or twice but lost interest quickly."

Valeria sighed. "There are a few like that, yes. It's a shame that some powerful males and females reject this action as if it is impure and end up not having progeny. Life should be spread."

Mirrory agreed. "Without spreading life, the world would eventually collapse. It is an important part."

Valeria muttered as she saw Kali throwing her head back as Yasenia released deep inside. "Oh, that looks so nice. Look at how Yasenia is pumping her delicious load inside Kali..."

Mirrory blinked. "Delicious? I hear it quite a lot."

Valeria smirked. "Very."

Mirrory nodded.

Kali's moan spread around in the meantime. "Heavens! There is so much inside me!"

Angel's throaty scream followed her exclamation. "OHH! Your tail is in my womb!"

Yasenia purred and kissed both of them. "I love you~."

Two hours later, the action ended.

Yasenia lay on her back, completely naked, and the two of them leaned on her comfortable and soft chest, snuggling closely and with satisfied faces.

Kali blinked and looked up curiously. "By the way, love."

Yasenia's hand played with her three tails as she answered. "Yes, honey?"

Kali felt her butt being massaged and sighed comfortably, burying her face deeper in Yasenia's soft body. "The side effect of using that drop of Blood Essence is gone. The recovery speed after you entered the fourth level of the Unification Realm had quite an effect in that."

Yasenia nodded. "Oh."

Angel and Kali burst into laughter at Yasenia's lack of reaction. It was the opposite of her response to the news of Angel's healing.

Angel giggled. "Yasenia, you should be more enthusiastic!"

Yasenia blinked and kissed her forehead. "I'll try, baby."

Kali said with her verdant green eyes shining with love. "You truly are... Sigh, it doesn't matter."

The fox lady and the blonde girl closed their eyes and intimately hugged their malleable lover's body, feeling relaxed and secure by her sweet floral scent.

'So comfy~.'

'So soft.'

Yasenia smiled. 'Angel is healed~. So happy~.'
