Chapter 711: "I Just Want His Arm And Leg."

Because of the attack power behind Fu Lang Zu's attack, a massive explosion of dust and dirt soared upward as if it were a volcanic eruption.

The colossal shockwave was terrifying, making the earth ripple like water and breaking nearby trees like chopsticks.

Our girls felt their hearts rise to their throats, making their hearts almost stop. This was an attack that Yaseia had no chance of surviving.

"FU LANG ZU, I'M GOING TO SLAUGHTER YOUR ENTIRE FAMILY!"

Tengliu's enraged shout rumbled across thousands of kilometers as her body became a streak of light and burst through the dust cloud, dispersing everything and showing the aftermath.

However, what they saw was not the sight of Yaseia's corpse but a strange aftermath.

Yaseia was uninjured, standing tall as if the enormous explosion had not affected her.

By her side, the land was divided into two very different parts.

One part was similar to before, only cracked because of the land ripple.

The other was utterly decimated; it looked like someone had taken a mountain-sized shovel and lifted all the land on Yaseia's right, leaving behind a chasm.

Fu Lang Zu's palm was touching the ground, while the previous inconspicuous person by Yaseia's side was in a position that showed that she had redirected the attack.

Tengliu stopped in her tracks, stupefied. "That woman deflected the attack so perfectly that all the energy was thrown sideways, not affecting Yaseia."

By Doriel's side, Fu Lang Zu was also stunned. While his claw-like palm strike descended onto Yaseia, the woman moved seamlessly, like flowing water, and flawlessly redirected his entire momentum. Moreover, she added some on her own to make it impossible for him to stop the attack mid-way.

Yaseia was utterly unfazed at this result. With her personal maids by her side, she was fearless. Even when she was a child, these maids protected her from people much stronger than Fu Lang Zu, not letting even a single dust mote touch the hem of her skirt.

With cold eyes, Yaseia looked at Fu Lang Zu. "I said, I won. Fu Lang Zu, you have broken the promise we made, you have attacked me with the intent to kill, and you have done so while being warned beforehand."

Yaseia looked toward the secret realm with a frosty expression. "Cao Chenghua, what will you do? What do you think I should do?"

Cao Chenghua's face had visibly changed. He had promised Yaseia that he would protect her, yet the arrogant and rash wolf had almost taken her life.

If this was not a slap to his face, nothing else was.

"Fu Lang Zu."

Fu Lang Zu finally reacted and looked upward at the man, who appeared like a silent shadow, levitating while flapping his four jade-like wings.

"Do you think that you have the qualifications to challenge my decisions?"

All the top experts from the Continental Shadows, amounting to 17 people, appeared on Fu Lang Zu's side.

Admiral Tidal Crest was the to speak. "Cao Chenghua, are you really going to act and destroy the balance we've maintained for so many years because of a junior?"

The people from the Supreme group, numbering 13, also appeared on Cao Chenghua's side.

However, before he could answer, Yasenia interrupted coldly. "Hey, do you really think that I have no grounds to challenge your powers?"

Everybody looked at her. Yasenia met their gazes, unflinching. "Do you think that I'm a suicidal bastard who wants to challenge the top powers of an entire continent without any basis whatsoever?"

After they heard her, their faces changed, becoming more serious, and their eyes landed on the unassuming Doriel by Yasenia's side.

Yasenia looked at Fu Lang Zu, meeting eye to eye, and stated. "I want him either dead or crippled. Otherwise, you'll have to deal with the consequences."

A silver-furred female wolf stepped forward. "Yasenia, that's enough. Things don't need to go to the end."

Yasenia looked at the woman who spoke and squinted. "Zephyrith, I'll forgive the nonsense you just said, so stay out of this before I break my promise with Sierra."

Zephyrith's red eyes flickered with hints of joy when she heard Yasenia insinuating that Sierra had asked Yasenia something related to her. However, she forcefully suppressed these ceaselessly growing feelings. "Yasenia, I'm speaking for your own good. Fu-."

"Zephyrith."

Fu Lang Zu warned with a deep tone, making her stop speaking. "Don't interrupt."

Zephyrith looked back and forth between Yasenia and Fu Lang Zu and then sighed, taking a step back.

Yasenia completely ignored the woman. It was not time yet to "recruit" that woman to their power.

Fu Lang Zu smiled mockingly. "You said some grand words right now. Do you really think that you can ask for them to cripple or even injure me?"

The dragoness didn't bother with him and looked at Cao Chenghua and Monarch Beastmaster. "If the leader of the Thirty-Three clans and the grand marshal of the Holy Beast Empire has a strand of self-respect left in them, this should be the result of your asinine actions toward me."

Their faces fell, looking at Yasenia deeply. Cao Chenghua spoke. "While it is true that him attacking you is not a good judgment, aren't you unharmed? I think that crippling him is going too far."

The dragoness looked at him and moved toward the Monarch Beastmaster. "What about you?"

He crossed his arms and spoke. "You are too young to understand the power balance in our continent. Therefore, I don't blame you for asking for such a thing. However, it is impossible."

The dragoness looked at them, growing disdain and disgust pooling inside her by the second.

She spat with dripping disdain. "I thought at least the top powers of an entire continent would be reasonable individuals who are not self-centered and corrupt. That, if you couldn't fulfill your words, there was going to be at least a minimum of rationale and order in their actions."

Yasenia barked a derisive laugh. "Ha! I was mistaken. It seems I was relatively lucky for gathering the top powers that are at least somewhat rational."

Then, with a chilling smirk, she spat. "Maids, I want Fu Lang Zu's arm and leg. Inflict some painful poison in him also. Please don't kill him yet. He has his uses."

Fu Lang Zu laughed. "Who are you calling? Do you really think that the woman by your side can do that? Yasenia, you are underestimating-."

CLANG!

BOOM!

His body shot backward like a cannonball, and in the place where he previously was, a dog woman wearing formal and beautiful maid outfits and smiling gently appeared, her luxurious halberd having just finished doing a wide arc. "Ara? He managed to react~. What a nice puppy."

Leila, the dog-kin maid working with Andrea, smiled softly. "However, you've been quite bad and attacked our Young Miss with the intent to kill, right? If I don't break every bone in your body at least twice, I feel like I will be unable to sleep~."

Admiral Tidal Crest reacted quickly and summoned a massive ax to attack Leila. The dog-kin leisurely spun her large weapon as if it were a light tree branch instead of a two-meter-long heavy halberd and finished the spin with an upward strike. "[Magma Strike]."

An oppressive aura burst from her as a tsunami-like magma wave exploded from her vertical strike.

BOOM!

Admiral Tidal Crest's bulky body was similarly shot back like a cannonball.

The other sixteen people from the Continental Shadow shouted as they sent a barrage of attacks toward Leila.

The power behind them was enough to flatten several mountains.

"Who are you!?"

"You dare appear here? You are courting death!"

"Arrogant!"

Leila chuckled. "So energetic, Selena."

An alluring red-scaled lamia appeared from nowhere, holding a massive shield and a very long sword. Her maid outfit fitted her voluptuous figure while her white shield and sword gleamed with otherworldly lights.

"[Tempered Glass Fortress]."

A small dome surrounded her and Leila, and they were swallowed by all the skills in an explosion that created an earthquake.

The leaders from the Continental Shadow sneered.

"Did they really think we are pushovers?"

"We should've held back to leave them alive. They looked quite good."

"While it is a shame, attacking the leader and vice leader is not something that can be forgiven."

Suddenly, an alluring voice joined their chat. "And you think that attacking our Young Miss is something acceptable? You poor, poor things. Unless we beat sense into you, it seems that our Young Miss will continue being looked down upon."

The dust settled, and Selena and Leila, completely unharmed, were standing together with another forty-six women who wore similar outfits. The aura coming from them was making even the space around the twist.

At the lead, an alluring yellow-scaled and blue-eyed dragon woman held a spear crackling with powerful lighting. She spoke again, making them realize that it was she who had just spoken. "Say, do you think the world will fall into a lot of trouble if all the top powers from one of the major organizations fall here?"

Her words, accompanied by the tyrannical and murderous aura that surrounded the forty-six women, made all the spectators and powers listening feel a chilling sensation as if a dagger was pointing at their hearts.

Wuria, at the side, couldn't help but stare at that beautiful lamia that was bursting with extremely powerful energies. 'Who is she? I've never heard of a lamia like her... Isn't she stronger than me? Wait.'

Suddenly, the purple-scaled lamia remembered the beautiful red-scaled lamia serving Yasenia tea and pampering the blonde-haired human woman. Her eyes almost popped out of their sockets. 'It's her!? She had this kind of strength!'

Admiral Tide Breaker's shout snapped them out of their trance created by the imposing aura from their presence. "Fu Lang Zu, protect yourself!"

Fu Lang Zu, who had been thrown flying without control, stood up, feeling dizzy because of Leila's strength. 'Who in Heaven's name are these people?'

His entire body suddenly chilled, making him feel the threat of Death, and out of pure animalistic instincts cultivated from his bloodline and cultivation technique, he ducked.

SLASH

A dagger sliced the space where his throat previously was, and the strength of that strike cut all trees a few hundred meters behind the attack with the wind pressure.

Doriel looked at the retreating Fu Lang Zu emotionlessly. "That was a warning. Give me your arm and leg so that Young Miss is happy. I might not torture you if you do so willingly."

Fu Lang Zu's face dropped, and he snarled. "Do you think you can do as you please!? Do you think that this KING is easy to deal with!? Kill them all and capture the dragon! I want to see if they are as arrogant when the person they serve is screaming under me!"

Cao Chenghua shouted. "ENOUGH!"

Everybody looked at him, and he spoke. "Remember that the Power Summit is approaching, and it will happen in four years. You can resolve the differences then by using the juniors. There is no need for a fight between top experts to happen."

Yasenia looked at him and spoke. "Okay, I'll forgive the poison. I just want his arm and leg, and I'll leave him alone for now. I want a broom and a back-scratcher, and his limbs feel quite fitted for that role."

Cao Chenghua looked at Yasenia coldly. "Junior, do you think I'm playing? If your subordinates attack Fu Lang Zu, we will defend him. You can resolve your differences when the summit comes. If you act now, all major cities will prohibit your current shops from functioning."

Yasenia smiled. "A threat?"

Cao Chenghua snorted. "A warning. Don't be too arrogant. I admit that your... maids are really strong. But they can't face all of us."

Yasenia looked around and laughed. "If I counted correctly, there are 45 High-level Epoch Core cultivators, 126 middle-level Epoch Cores, and a few hundred low-level ones, counting the powers from The Supremes, World Arbiters, and Continental Shadows."

The dragoness looked at Chao Chenghua, and her smile widened. "That's not enough deterrent."

Everyone froze, looking at Yasenia with an incredulous expression.

The dragoness ordered. "Doriel, give me his arm and leg in five seconds."

Before they could react, a massive aura explosion that engulfed the area with deep darkness burst from Doriel.

The normal-looking human's aura became highly malevolent, as if a terrifying monster had escaped the abyss it was locked in.

"[Slaughter Intent Level Eight], [Death Intent Level Eight], [Shadow Intent Level Eight]."

Doriel's body, surrounded by shadows, vanished from her standing point and reappeared an instant later by Fu Lang Zu's side, emitting so much killing intent that her presence withered any plants in her wake.

Of course, Fu Lang Zu was not a pushover, so he reacted quickly and deployed body-enhancing skills.

His muscles bulged, and his skin hardened to the point of being comparable to high-ranking treasures. "My body is now tougher than high-level Heaven-ranked armors; good luck cutting anything."

Then, he clawed at Doriel with a powerful attack that twisted the air because of the sheer physical strength behind it.

Doriel's looked at him with her obsidian-like eyes. "[Innate Skill: Malevolent Devil Gaze], [Absolute Sky Severing Strike]."

Fu Lan Zu felt an extremely ominous presence and got lost in the abyss that was Doriel's obsidian-like eyes.

Then, he felt a burning pain in his arm and leg.

Feeling strangely lighter, his body lost balance and fell to the side.

He tried to use his leg to balance his body, but the fall wasn't stopping. Confused, he looked down, and he saw his right arm and leg missing.

Looking back, Yasenia was holding his arm and leg with a cold expression while Doriel faithfully stood by Yasenia's side, being petted by her tail like an obedient kitten.

'Huh? What happened?'

All the other experts present also felt pressure for the first time in centuries. Even the usual aloof Mermaid Queen's face was tensed, looking at Doriel with an incredulous gaze.

For the first time in her life, she had felt fear from someone.

Chapter 712: Provocation. Returning Home.

After falling to the ground because of his loss of balance and stupefaction, Fu Lang Zu realized what had happened, and his handsome face twisted like a demon's. "YOU LOWLY DRAGON DARED TO TAKE MY LIMBS!?"

With his roar, a massive aura explosion swallowed the surroundings, and he launched himself toward Yasenia as torrents of energy boosted his body's strength many times over.

Selena stood in front of Yasenia, holding the giant shield, and easily blocked the aura burst.

His claw and Selena's shield collided, creating a ringing clang. However, the heavy lamia used perfect defensive techniques with her serpentine body, allowing all the strength of the attack to be dispersed and not create even a strong gale.

Enraged, the Wolf Patriarch began attacking with his remaining arm and using his cultivation level and leg to release a brutal rampage.

Yasenia stood behind Selena, indifferent, her alluring dress not even moving as the lamia and wolf Patriarch fought around her at speeds that her eyes couldn't follow.

She looked at the Continental Shadows while she held Fu Lang Zu's limbs and spoke. "You have ten seconds to convince him not to attack me before I kill him. While I'm not against an all-out war, it is not time yet."

The leaders looked at the relatively weak woman standing leisurely with cold sweat dripping from their backs.

If the lamia defending Yasenia missed even one attack, Yasenia would die even before she could react, and yet, there was not even a hint of nervousness coming from the dragon woman, only calm and indifference.

Suddenly, a shadow appeared behind Yasenia, swinging his sword toward her neck exceptionally quickly. "You speak too much."

It was the leader of the Nine Silent Fangs Sect, the strongest assassin of the Distancia Continent.

Yasenia couldn't feel him even with her natural instincts before he attacked, showing how much of a difference in strength there was between them.

If she were alone, the only outcome would've been death.

But she wasn't alone.

Flashing like lightning, a spear stopped the dagger ten centimeters before it struck Yasenia, creating another melodic sound of weapons colliding.

The Silent Fangs Sect Master's face changed as he felt a strong wind approaching his stomach. He hastily used a skill to dodge and retreat, making the leg that was about to land in his stomach phase through as if he were black smoke.

After reappearing 10 meters away, everyone looked at the alluring yellow-scaled dragon woman with azure eyes holding a spear with solemn expressions. Her reaction and movement speed had been too quick.

Alaia spoke with a cold tone. "If you think you can even touch our Young Miss with us present, you are not thinking long enough."

Yasenia turned and smiled, not bothered by the fact that she almost died. Her trust in the maids was bottomless. "Six seconds left. And since this person has attacked me, I'll also add the entire Continental Shadow leaders to the killing. Oops, as I explained, there are only two seconds left... One..."

Finally, Admiral Tidal Crest's voice boomed. "Stop!"

Fu Lang Zu jumped backward and looked at him with a face filled with wrath. "Do you really believe her bullshit!?"

Admiral Tidal Crest squinted. "Don't let anger go to your head. She was clearly prepared and unafraid from the beginning. Can't you see that we are falling into her plans? She clearly wants to provoke us into action!"

Fu Lang Zu was silent for a long time, looking at Yasenia with deep hatred. "You'll regret it. You don't understand what forces you are fighting."

Yasenia looked at him deeply, and her lips arched in mockery. "A dog that barks usually doesn't bite."

Veins bulged in Fu Lang Zu's forehead as he held his anger, but after a few seconds, his entire aura wholly changed to a relaxed one. "I'll see you again during the Summit... If you are alive by then."

Yasenia laughed. "Oh? You finally listened?" Yasenia threw his arm at him. "Here, a treat for being a good boy."

Fu Lan Zu saw his own arm splat on the ground, bouncing three times, and inside, his anger burned increasingly brighter but increasingly colder.

The rest of the people watching couldn't help but take a deep breath as the killing intent radiating from Fu Lang Zu was making them feel suffocated.

Yasenia saw the man lean down to grab it, and she took out a talisman she got from Lost Town and used it.

When Fu Lang Zu grabbed his arm, a big log had replaced it.

Yasenia had recovered the arm with a spatial transfer talisman. Because the arm was a dead object, it was easy to move with spatial techniques.

Yasenia said apologetically. "I forgot I need it for something. Sorry, I'll keep it. Oh, that log is a peak-level Earth Rank material, so I hope that is enough compensation."

Nobody talked.

Even the leaders of the rest of the powers couldn't help but grimace at Yasenia's actions. 'T-That's too much.'

Not saying anything, Fu Lang Zu took out his sword and disappeared into the distance.

Yasenia's face became serious as he looked at the dot getting smaller and smaller. 'Unexpected. If he can swallow this much insult, I'll have to reevaluate the threat of that man. However, if I kill him now without him being the one attacking insistently for my life, it will start a chain reaction and probably develop into a World War. That's not something I want now. I need to get stronger first to guarantee that none of the maids have a chance of dying during that War. They are largely invincible as they are now, but the chances of one or two of them dying are not tiny. Not to mention the burden I'll place on Coraline's and Tengliu's powers is also great.'

Tengliu approached Yasenia, wanting to say something, but Yasenia cut her with a look. "We are leaving."

Then, she took out her flying boat, the [Skeletal World-Jumping Warship], and boarded it with the maids. The luxurious ship was primarily white, with black and golden accents and intricate red runes filling its hull.

Before the leaders could react, the ship basically disappeared from their sight, making their eyes widen because of its speed, and their spiritual sense caught it reappearing in the secret realm.

All the people Yasenia left behind boarded the flying ship, and then Yasenia used 10 Purple Crystals to activate one of its skills, a spatial jump.

The space before the Warship twisted, and they all disappeared from that place far outside the detection range of the powerhouses gathered there.

The Devil Smashing Ape King sighed. "Youngsters these days are full of excitement."

The Mermaid Queen asked, her voice incomparably serious. "Where did so many experts appear from? I could feel danger from nine out of the forty-nine women around Yasenias... Not to mention that woman named Doriel. She is really dangerous."

Hearing the Mermaid Queen, one of the strongest publicly recognized experts, many of the top powerhouses from the groups gathered became solemn.

Tengliu looked at them and smiled. "What did I tell you, Cao Chenghua? I told you, quite clearly, that this was stupid. Not only did you not manage to do what you aimed for, but your public image has plummeted. Good job, really. Such a valiant effort in smearing one's pristine name is not easy to see even if you wait 10,000 years."

Cao Chenghua looked at Tengliu and spoke. "If you didn't take her side, things would be much different."

Tengliu shook her head. "Wrong. If I had taken your side, she would've moved and not only given a warning. After all, I'm in a complicated relationship with her that can snap at any moment."

Tengliu saw Coraline, Wuria, and Gireila leaving with their groups, and she did the same. As she left, she warned. "Cao Chenghua, I'm giving you one last warning because of the favors you did to me in the past. If you ever have to choose between being on her side or being against her, pick her. The people you've seen today aren't the strongest in her power."

Leaving those words, Tengliu left toward the Astral Sky Sect with dozens of high-level harpies following behind.

Monarch Beastmaster from the Holy Empire looked at Cao Chenghua and asked. "What are you going to do?"

The middle-aged, handsome man looked toward the direction Yasenias left and sighed. "I don't know. Where did such a superpower appear from? These last five years have been too chaotic..."

The others nodded, and they began discussing for the next half an hour.

Monarch Beastmaster suddenly said. "The Continental Shadows have become more active over the last century. Moreover, Fu Lang Zu's recent confidence is also strange. While he has been heavily injured, he can probably heal in a decade or maybe a bit longer. Regardless, the only end of the conflict between Yasenias Dravory and Fu Lang Zu is either side disappearing."

They all cringed when they remembered what Yasenias did with Fu Lang Zu's limbs.

"That was ruthless."

"If she did that to me, I might have gone berserk."

"If the dragon woman loses and falls into his hands, I can't even imagine what she will go through."

"Right, Fu Lang Zu is also very vengeful. He will probably attack not only her but everything she considers dear."

While they discussed, a jade thunderbird suddenly appeared with an urgent expression. "Patriarch, bad news!"

Cao Chenghua frowned. "Speak."

"Yasenia Dravory didn't return to her own sect with that ship! I've received news that she had appeared in the capital of the Garuda Clan and asked for Huang Tao's life!"

The Mermaid Queen looked at Qiao Mei Lan with cold eyes and asked. "That's the man that exited with you and reported about that lie, right?"

Qiao Mei Lan's body became sluggish as extreme fear gripped her heart. She had never expected the person she thought was an ant to have such a background. She stuttered. "Q-Queen, I swear I wasn't lying! S-She, that dragon woman, didn't Her Majesty see how she treated Honorable Patriarch Fu Lang Zu? She probably wants to toy with your majesty as well!"

The Mermaid Queen's eyes cooled down, and they looked at the man, who had a nervous expression. "What happened next?"

The man gulped. "T-The Garuda Grand Elder naturally denied her wishes. H-However, the dragon woman stormed into the Garuda clan's capital center with brute force and kidnapped Huang Tao, heavily injuring all the people that came in her way."

All of them became solemn, and the Garuda Patriarch, who was a few meters away, burst with anger. "That woman!"

The Mermaid Queen noticed something, and she asked, confused. "If so, why are you so nervous?"

The man licked his lips and stuttered. "T-The dragon woman discovered me and told me to tell Her Majesty the Mermaid Queen what truly happened in the secret realm."

Then, the man proceeded to explain how Qiao Mei Lan was about to exchange five mermaids with Huang Tao for a treasure in the secret realm.

Qiao Mei Lan screamed, her eyes trembling with nervousness. "Lies! I never did so!"

The Mermaid Queen looked at her for a second with a gaze cold enough to freeze a hellscape. "Qiao Mei Lan, you will be interrogated once we return. If his words are the truth, you'll be imprisoned in the [Lightless Chasm] for 1000 years, and your cultivation will be crippled once you exit it."

Qiao Mei Lan's face turned an unhealthy white tone, and she screamed. "Lies! They are lying, My Queen! How could I ever do something like that!? T-They are my sisters!"

The Mermaid Queen waved her arm, and Qiao Mei Lan's eyes rolled, fainting. Then, she spoke to one of the high-ranking women that came with her. "Take her away and use the Truth Stones. It seems that I'll need to do a clean-up once I return."

The ones who came with her were the Queen's trusted aides, and they all followed her words like the decree of a God.

One of them grabbed Qiao Mei Lan by the tail and flew toward the Mermaid Kingdom while dragging Qiao Mei Lan away.

The Queen then muttered. "It seems I'll have to make a visit to Yasenia's clan eventually. Wait for the people that entered the secret realm, and then return. I'll go prepare a few things."

Then, she streaked across the sky like a shooting star.

In this manner, Yasenia's adventure in the secret realm ended, and the entire world learned that a new superpower, Astral Sky Sect, was born.

*****

Kali: We are returning home!

Yasenia: Hahaha, did you miss it?

Kali: Well, the thing I like the most is alchemy and you, so there is no better place and home.

Yasenia: Honey~. I love you, too~.

Author: Already getting lovely dove even before we return? I can smell the sweetness of the following chapters!

Yasenia: Hehe.

Author: I summon you!

Arfa42: I'm here.

Cecile: Hm.

Arfa42: Yassy, I have a question.

Yasenia: Ask away.

Arfa42: How do you feel about the future concubines? Will you give them a little bit of love or just family affection?

Yasenia: If I have any, it will be familiar affection. Didn't I say that my heart is already full? There are many types of affection besides love, and I will give them that kind of affection, not love.

Yasenia: Love is a very special emotion, and I feel that it will feel less unique if I start "loving" many people. It's a feeling you have for a select few, while your affection for others is more leaning toward appreciation and lust.

Yasenia: Therefore, they will not become lovers if I have concubines.

Arfa42: Can you really stop yourself from loving them?

Yasenia: What is there to stop? Liking them is a matter of course, or else I wouldn't accept that person as a concubine. But loving is different. It's not something that can really be explained in words. While it sounds like sophistry, I understand what I'm trying to explain, which is enough.

Arfa42: I see. It is an interesting mindset. I respect it. I hope you have all the success in the World, Yassy. We are rooting for you!

Yasenia: Thank you.

Author: And that's all for today.

Chapter 713: Returning to the sect.

Once Yasenia returned to her sect, she was welcomed by the top figures, which consisted of the Sky and Astral elders. While there were supreme elders, all of them were from the maid groups.

Naturally, the news of what she did at the exit of the secret realm had already spread and reached the ears of these people, which explained their anxious expressions as they looked at her.

Other than them, Tengliu, Coraline, Wuria, and Gireila were also with them, accompanied by their respective entourages of top-level powerhouses.

Yasenia knew what they were worrying about but acted calm and ignorant of the situation. The maids and the rest of the people flew out of the warship, and Yasenia stored it back in her spatial ring.

"It is a pleasure to be welcomed by the elders and the Matriarchs."

During the last five and a half years, the number of experts entering her sect had been significant, so many top-rank experts were not related to any of the four primary races supporting her, meaning Lamia, Ember Phoenix, Harpy, and Lobster.

One Astral Elder, a dragon-kin that Yasenia's charisma had attracted into the sect, asked with a stern tone. "Sect Master, I understand that we need to appear strong. However, isn't it too much to go against the top powers of the Continent? What will you do if they band together and siege the sect?"

Yasenia was about to rush to meet Kaleina, but his words stopped her, annoying her. She took a deep breath and relaxed her expression, looking at him. "Are you saying that I should give up our treasures?"

The man nodded without a shred of doubt. "Different situations call for different solutions. Why would you prioritize treasures over the security of the entire sect? Even if you have the treasures, without a sect, they are meaningless."

Looking around the nearly 190 Epoch Core people, she asked. "Who else thinks similarly to this elder?"

About eighteen people took a step forward and began speaking.

A middle-aged woman with wings spoke softly. "Sect Master, you are young, so you might not know. However, the number of powerhouses you saw today in the Secret Realm's entrance is just a small part of what each of those powers has."

Yasenia's age has already spread around, and people knew that she was younger than a century. The reason this information was known was to attract people with her potential and also not to be mistaken by a talentless cultivator.

After all, in their eyes, a cultivator with less than a century reaching the initial realms of the Epoch Core realm was nothing but a genius that appeared only once every millennium. However, if she were old and only at the initial levels of the Epoch Core realm, it would affect her reputation. Remember that this information would've been uncovered just by being able to enter the Secret Realm.

However, while there were many benefits, the backlash of revealing this information is that many of the previously respectful elders looked at her as a more immature and rash person, even when her decision-making had not only been maintained but also improved as her understanding of the Distancia Continent increased.

Yasenia looked at the eighteen people who stepped forward, speaking like seniors toward a junior while listing who knows how many reasons to tell her that her actions were "rash" and "thoughtless" and sneered inwardly.

"I understand your fears, but the Wolf Patriarch was already targeting us. I wanted to provoke him to action so that he could be killed during the conflict, leaving other powers with no reason to refute or criticize my actions. However, his patience was commendable, and he managed to swallow the insults. This doesn't mean anything, though, as we will eventually start a War with them."

One of the older beast humans who stepped forward sighed. "Aish, this is why youngsters are not prepared to lead strong powers."

Yasenia looked at them for a few seconds and smiled. "I see. I was too lenient during these last years, and now I'm seen as a soft and easy-to-bully person. While I'm glad that you are not fearful of putting your suggestions forward, you are dismissing all my actions based on my age."

Her words sounded soft, but the power behind them made a few people flinch.

With a laugh, she continued. "Since when was age important in the cultivation world? Age is but a number to measure a cultivator's talent. A 1,000-year-old in the Spiritual King realm will always lose to a 100-year-old in the Epoch Core realm. Likewise, an expert alchemist that can create Heaven-ranked pills will always be more valuable than an old cultivator that can only create Earth-ranked treasures."

After seeing their expressions stiffen, the dragoness looked at those eighteen people and ordered. "From now on, you will be demoted to inner-sect elders for ten years. If notice of you using your power to bully others because of your status reaches my ears, you will be directly expelled in the best-case scenario. I don't mind having discussions; however, be respectful toward the Sect Master who has created and set up every resource you currently use."

Then, she turned toward the rest of the people gathered and spoke. "From now on, limit Astral Sky Sect's activity to 4,000 kilometers around us. We are going to be targeted by the Continental Shadow, and if any person goes further than that, they might disappear without any notice. Also, there will be rules and items provided by the sect to allow people to see if assassins are lurking nearby and to block charm-related skills. Nine Silent Fang and Nine Peach Blossom sects are dangerous for normal people."

The dragoness commented. "For every one person from our sect they bother, we'll return it hundredfold. If they are shameless enough to send seniors to attack juniors, destroy a few of their secondary branches as a warning, leaving no one alive. We'll be reactive, but the reaction must be explosive and ruthless."

The dragoness turned toward Doriel and commanded. "Set up an information network and quick response team to provide safety to our disciples. Also, use strength to measure how far a person can go from the sect. They will have to create a formal petition for exploration beyond the ranks, and anybody violating any of the rules set up will be expelled from the sect."

Then, she turned toward Alaia and commented. "Strengthen the defensive formation in Astral Sky City; if they want to deal with us, they will have to cut off our human and item resources from the root. Astral Sky City is where 40% of our sect members come from, so targeting it is more than normal. Finally, create more strict requirements toward people that gain certain authority in the sect and increase punishment for disrupting peace and affecting the sect's morale or safety."

"Yes, Young miss!"

All the maids disappeared and began doing preparations. She turned toward the stunned elders and ordered. "From now on, the fifty people that have been a mystery for you will be your direct superiors. They are called [Astral Sky Fairies], and they are our strongest trump card. They are also directly under my command and don't take orders from anybody else. Joining them is not impossible, but you have to be female, and you have to pass a test that might kill you."

While she had no intention of increasing the maid squad, if a person could pass the tests and become one, it meant that they were qualified. After all, there was a requirement in the tests that tested loyalty toward herself.

If they could become a personal maid, they would be loyal; that was Yasenias confidence in the testing created meticulously by Tatyana herself.

One male elder frowned and asked, confused. "Why don't you accept males?"

Yasenia looked at him and pondered how to answer. "Hm... Because they would be upset."

The men between her elders couldn't help but have their lips twitch.

Tengliu, who had been listening from the side, asked. "Hey, can I take that test?"

Yasenia was surprised by her request, and even Tatyana looked at Tengliu with wonder. This was something even the Death Empress didn't expect in the slightest.

The dragoness frowned for a second and spoke. "Aunty Tengliu, I'm not trying to belittle you. However, the success rate of becoming a maid barely reaches 0.001% on people with similar talent to yours."

Tengliu, Coraline, and the others had their eyes widen. Tengliu could easily rank in the top 10 talent-wise in the entire Distancia Continent. However, now Yasenia was telling them that the fifty people by her side had similar or superior talent to her.

Naturally, it wasn't easy to believe. If they didn't know Yasenias personality, they would've thought that she was joking with them.

Yasenia didn't explain and spoke. "Later, spar with one of the Supreme Elders. They are all part of the [Astral Sky Fairies] group, so you'll be able to understand what I'm talking about."

Yasenia was about to leave after having set up everything when she remembered something. "Right, Aunty Tengliu, they hate you a bit, so be careful. They might use the spar as an excuse to beat you up harshly. Aunties, I'll be doing my things for a few days; we can discuss our next actions later; you are welcome to stay in my sect until then and explore freely..." The dragoness looked at the people behind Coraline and the others and warned. "Try not to do anything silly, or you might pay a hefty price. Ask for the rules before you do anything, or I won't be responsible for any damage."

Her words made the four Queens' lips twitch. The four of them thought similarly. 'Speaking with this little girl is truly an experience. I don't understand how her elders can treat her as a junior when the superficial plans she had laid out are already so comprehensive. It feels like talking with an old monster with thousands of years of experience instead of a young 50-year-old.'

With everything set up, Yasenia used her skills and streaked through the sect toward her private residence.

When she left, people finally looked at the others and saw a naked Garuda man beaten black and blue, held from the scurf of his neck by one of the maids.

A few men cringed when they saw that place, looking as if someone had ground meat and thrown it there. One elder couldn't help and asked. "W-Who is he, Lady Fairy?"

The maid holding him answered flatly. "Huang Tao. He dared to have some designs toward Young Miss, so we've given him a superficial beating. He will go to the torture rooms later to suffer and be punished for his asinine actions."

'A superficial beating!? He is half dead!'

The male elder gulped and smiled. "Right. G- Good luck, I guess."

'Offending the Sect Master is nothing but stupidity. I guess those eighteen people had been lightly punished because they had good intentions...'

The woman nodded at him and looked at Kali. "Young Miss has told me that you can do experiments with him to research an anti-charm pill. After all, he is one of the core elders from the Dual Cultivation sect, so he must have quite a few secrets on his body. We'll capture more test subjects once the Nine Peach Blossom Sect starts targeting our members. At that time, we'll have a reason to do so, after all."

Kali nodded and looked at the man as if he were nothing but an experimental resource. Her empathy toward people who targeted Yasenia was null. "I'll try to create something soon. However, I might need Flora's help; please tell her later."

The maid answered respectfully, completely different in how she treated the other man. "I'll certainly do so, Lady Kali. Oh, I almost forgot, Lady Kali, Young Miss has asked me to ask you to research a parasite that's easy to kill and defend against with the right tools but has strong spreading powers."

Kali nodded again, thoughtful. "Breeding one will take a while, but I'll try my best." Then, she smiled chillingly. "If she has asked for something like that, it seems that they have angered her quite a lot. I should do my best."

Tengliu and Coraline were more in touch with our girls' secrets, so when they heard the word "parasite," they felt disturbing crawling on their skin, making them shudder.

Now that they knew what Kali's parasite expertise entailed, they would take the entire continent as enemies rather than anger Kali. The concept of parasites, to what extent they could affect a person, and how they affected cultivators were something straight out of a nightmare.

Even these women who would instill fear and respect in millions by mentioning their names were careful around the three-tailed fox girl.

*****

Angel: Why are people so afraid of parasites? Whenever I go to Kali's room, they are pretty cute, squirming around like silly things, and very colorful! Even when I poke them, they only make silly high-pitched sounds. They are very amusing.

The girls: ...

Yasenia: Cough, honey, is there no danger?

Kali: Don't worry, love. How could I allow little Angel to play with the dangerous ones? The ones I show Angel are the prettiest and least harmful ones.

Yasenia: Oh, I see. Then, there is no problem.

Evelyn: There are quite a lot of them!

Yasenia: Why? I trust Kali.

Evelyn: I- You- But... Sigh, you are right. Sorry, Kali, those things are just too dangerous, and I can't help but fear them.

Kali: Hahaha, don't worry, Evelyn. I'm aware that Angel's and Yasenia's reactions are unusual. Moreover, you are never afraid of nestling between my tails, and that's more than enough to show that you also trust me. After all, if you were afraid of parasites I control, you would never relax enough to fall asleep between my tails.

Evelyn: *Blushes* Cough. They are just so fluffy and comfortable that I forget about everything.

Cecile: Agreed.

Evelyn: Oh? Even you rest on them?

Cecile: After sparring with Kali.

Evelyn: ... I see. You two are pretty good friends.

Kali: We knew each other before knowing Yasenia, so yes. Thanks to her usual indifference, Cecile was one of the few people I could speak with back then.

Cecile: Hm. Your pills were affordable and very effective. A good deal.

Kali: Hahaha.

Author: Well, let's move on. I summon you!

Volfkami: Hello!

Andrea: Welcome.

Volfkami: Yasenia, when you get strong and skilled enough, do you plan on making trial spaces for the powers, sects, and clans that follow you to train them? Like "secret realms" made by you within your territory and for your people in order to keep a certain standard.

Yasenia: Yes. It's a standard thing to create in a clan or sect. However, an entry test and the systems in place are enough for now. For example, if you remember, we went on an excursion back in the Rita Academy toward the Cloud Layers. That's one sort of test that large powers usually have to filter people.

Yasenia: I'm still thinking about it, so I'm similarly looking forward to that day.

Author: And that's all for today. Bye-bye, dears.

Chapter 714: A Dragoness' Peaceful Hour.

In a beautiful garden that was behind a house built on a mountain, a purple and golden eastern dragon was sitting alone, plucking flowers and looking a bit dazed.

Her usually lively appearance was nowhere to be seen, as nervousness was clearly noticeable in her impatient gestures. Her tail smacked the ground, her hands plucked the flowers quite quickly, and her beautiful golden eyes looked around constantly.

She had heard good news from the maids who had cared for her for the last months, but she also felt nervous even when she was happy.

When the more than two-meter-long eastern dragon heard the sound of soft steps, she turned around, and her pupils expanded.

The woman that appeared was, in her opinion, the most beautiful in the World.

The woman's golden eyes also resembled her own, and the connection between them felt clear in the mind of the young dragon.

With eyes dripping with love that made the dragon tear up, the woman opened her arms and called her. "Kaleina, my baby, I'm home."

"Mommy!"

Kaleina threw the flowers and rushed forward, quickly arriving in front of her mother and hugging her while also coiling around her. The beautiful woman's floral scent filled her nostrils, and the warmth of her soft body relaxed Kaleina's body to the point of soul-level comfort.

Then, knowing what she liked, Kaleina felt her Mommy's tail curling around her, giving her a pleasant sensation of her scales rubbing with her mother's beautiful blue and golden scales.

The hug was tangling, showing the deep nostalgia both felt. Kaleina felt her mother's soft hands tenderly caressing her scales, heard that familiar powerful heartbeat, and relished in the caresses she missed for months.

As they embraced in the beautiful garden, Kaleina's nervousness began to dissipate, replaced by a profound sense of security and love. As if sensing her nervousness, her mother whispered words of reassurance into Kaleina's ear with a gentle smile, soothing any lingering anxieties.

"Don't worry, love. Now that I've returned, I won't be leaving for a long time. I promise."

Kaleina took her head from the crook of her neck and looked upward with unshed tears in her eyes. "Really?"

Yasenia looked at her daughter's face and felt her heart twist with guilt. However, she didn't regret it. After all, she needed to become stronger if she wanted to protect the beautiful creature between her arms.

She answered, kissing her face slowly and tenderly as if she were afraid that her kisses would damage her. "Of course, my baby. Mommy will stay by your side for many years."

The vibrant colors of the flowers surrounding them seemed to come alive as the two beings, one a beautiful dragon and the other a graceful woman shared a moment of reunion.

Yasenia moved under the shade of a tree, changing to a comfortable red kimono with a wide-open front, and placed Kaleina's head on her lap.

Then, while looking at the young dragon and smiling softly, she continued caressing and pampering her.

The mountain breeze would usually be chilly, but with the formations around the house, it felt warm and pleasant. The rustling grass and the occasional sound of the critters living in the garden felt peaceful and relaxing.

After months of constant fighting, Yasenia couldn't help but feel all the tension in her body leaving her. While it was the truth that she relished in battle, she treasures these moments of peace much more.

From the very start, although knowing how impossible it sounded, her wish had been to create a family in a remote place and live in peace with her lovers.

Still, that dream felt further and further away as her fate entangled with other people, as her opponents increased in might, and as her own strength allowed her to see how vast the Universe really is.

The dragoness felt her little daughter's soft scales and smooth hair and looked into the distance. From the small hill where Yasenia planted this tree, it was easy to see the entirety of the sect.

The sight was majestic, to say the least. The abundance of residences was able to house hundreds of thousands, towering pagodas built for training, the distant elemental areas where people trained, the arenas, the commercial area, the forest bordering the sect where low-level beasts lived, and the many more infrastructures were magnificent to look at.

'I'm the owner of all of this, huh.'

The dragoness looked at everything, entranced. This time, with Sarah, she almost died once more. Not to mention the many times Fu Lang Zu would've annihilated her if it were not for her maids. Yasenia didn't know how many times she had been on the edge between life and death.

'Now, after I've provoked him so much, he will retaliate ruthlessly. I don't even know if he will wait until the summit or not.'

The dragoness didn't expect him to swallow so much insult; that was completely out of her plans for that situation. Thankfully, it wasn't her only plan to deal with him righteously.

'My objective is not to slaughter all the powers that anger me but to create a sect with a solid foundation in Distancia that can last for many millennia. Brute force might solve the problems now, but if I don't take root in the continent, the Astral Sky Sect will be treated like a pariah regardless of their strength when I'm gone, and they probably will crumble from the inside.'

Yasenia understood that the "respect" she had gained until now was nothing but the minimum qualifications to have a conversation with the various superpowers.

'Now that I've gotten the body cultivation techniques, I honestly have no reason to continue developing this power. The objective of the Astral Sky Clan was to secure powerful body cultivation methods for all of us. But, thanks to this secret realm, I've already done so.'

If she was completely ruthless, the dragoness could swallow all the resources that the sect would gather during the following years and then leave without any care in the world. After all, she knew that her stay in Distancia was slowly coming to an end, and her returning here after she left was probably something that never would happen.

Distancia was nothing but a step in her long cultivation journey.

With her cultivation speed, what will she become one thousand years from now? Yaseña didn't know, but she understood that probably even Distancia's Heavens would not be out of reach.

'A thousand years...'

Yaseña chewed the number. It was a number thrown around very often by the seniors, but when trying to imagine how many things could happen in such a long time frame, Yaseña couldn't realistically fathom it.

The dragoness looked at the softly breathing dragon on her lap. 'How big will Kaleina become in one thousand years? By then, the difference in age between us will be considered negligible.'

Yaseña laughed. 'We are basically from the same generation, no? 1050 years is no different compared to 1005 years.'

Looking at it like this, she felt no wonder why Tatyana and the other seniors thought that it was too soon to have children. 'They told me that even a 500-year-old is considered a young adult in the high-level heavens. Well, even in Distancia, junior competitions go up to 80 or even 100 years. It doesn't feel that surprising when you put it in comparison.'

The dragoness laughed at the ridiculousness of the cultivation world. 'An 18-year-old is considered an adult, and yet there is so much age difference after that. Isn't this strange?'

Yaseña heard steps, and she looked over to see Cecile and Tatyana walking over. With silent steps, they sat on her sides, not bothering the sleeping Kaleina.

Cecile asked. "What are you thinking about, my love?"

Yaseña commented softly. "The future."

Cecile leaned on her shoulder and asked. "The future?"

Yaseña nodded. "What will I be doing 1000 years from now? Won't Kaleina and I be the same generation by then? Things like that."

Both of them laughed softly.

Tatyana commented. "Honestly, Yaseña. I'm of the opinion that you should reserve having children until you reach at least the Transcendence Realm. However, an opportunity like Distancia is hard to come by after we leave."

Yaseña looked at the expansive sect and commented. "Safety, right?"

Tatyana nodded. "While it is true that powers in Distancia are not weak because of the advantages body cultivation gives, they are very manageable. Moreover, since we are in the lower heavens, people that can travel from World to World are as rare as a dragon's horn and phoenix's feather."

The dragon and phoenix women by her side blinked, looking at Tatyana curiously.

Tatyana chuckled at their reaction. "It's a proverb, a proverb. Don't take it that literally."

Yasenia and Cecile laughed softly.

Tatyana asked. "What are your plans now, little treasure?"

Yasenia pondered. "Breakthrough into the Fifth realm."

Cecile blinked, feeling something from that way of speaking. "Fifth realm? Not Dantian Spiritualization Realm?"

Yasenia nodded and commented. "I'll increase my Spiritual, Body, and Beast cultivations to the limits of the fourth realm before I break through. Knowing what's to come, if I don't become the strongest I can, I'll probably perish."

Tatyana snorted. "As if I'll let that happen."

With a soft laugh, Yasenia commented. "While I trust that you won't allow it, being overly prepared is never wrong when facing something as difficult as the Heavenly Tribulation. It almost killed me in the first three realms, and it actually killed me once while crossing into the Unification realm, so I must be careful."

Tatyana and Cecile became silent.

The image of Yasenia turning into dust from the Heavenly Lightning strike was deeply etched in their minds.

Even if it was for a few moments, the feeling of despair at that time was heart-gripping.

Tatyana promised. "I'll make preparations."

Our dragoness didn't reject it, saying silly things like she needed to overcome them by herself. Instead, she turned her head and gave Tatyana a soft and tender kiss. "Okay."

Cecile commented. "Right. What about combining the cultivation techniques to create one suitable for you, Yasenia?"

This was something that had the dragoness stumped. She had no idea how to create, much less combine, cultivation techniques.

Of course, it would've been a problem if she hadn't had the cheat code leaning on her other shoulder. "Well, Mom. What do you think?"

Tatyana laughed and extended her hand. "Give them to me. I'll see what we do."

Yasenia took out three jade scrolls; one was red with beautiful golden markings representing the Sun, another was white with blue markings characterizing the Moon, and the last was blue with constellations and many other images depicting the stars. Then, she gave them to her.

Cecile asked, confused. "Tatyana, the Sun here is not the same Sun as in Sky Continent, right? Same for the Moon. Why are they all called Sun and Moon?"

Tatyana smiled. "The heavens gave those names to represent the closest star and closest moon to the world. For example, isn't it strange that the days last the exact same here as they do in Sky Continent? Heavenly laws affect the movement of everything in the cosmos, and if a World blooms with life, the heavens forcefully change the trajectory and many other things."

Cecile and Yasenia nodded, and Yasenia smiled wryly. "Challenging the heavens who control all of this sounds like an idiotic thing now."

Tatyana shook her head. "It's not. While Heavens are, in practice, omnipotent, they are also chained by the laws naturally created that prevent them from controlling all creation. They are nothing more than a spectator and a judge. Shouting, 'I'll destroy the heavens,' will always be met with some retaliation, as that's blasphemy toward the thing controlling everything. However, the retaliation won't go beyond certain limits."

Tatyana suddenly waved her hand upward, sending a Death energy wave that crashed against a silent lightning bolt. "See?"

Yasenia smirked. "Complicated, but I get the gist of it. By the way, how strong was that lightning bolt?"

The Death Empress shook her head. "For you? Weak. Even if you did nothing, it would only make you feel a small tingling. I blocked it because I didn't want it to wake up Kaleina."

Cecile asked. "Can't I use that as a training method? If I shout that constantly, I will receive those attacks all the time, no?"

Tatyana's and Yasenia's lips twitched. Tatyana advised. "You better don't. While they can't interfere normally, during the tribulation, they will increase the difficulty if you have been too blasphemous."

Cecile nodded with a dejected expression. "I thought I had created the perfect training method. It would be available everywhere, after all."

Mother and daughter didn't know how to answer to her outrageous way of thinking.

*****

Andrea: Such a cozy scene.

Yasenia: Yes.

Author: Well, let's move on. I summon you!

Randomplant: Hello!

Angel: Alo.

Randomplant: All cultivation styles have a dantian creation stage, but if you already have one created, what happens when you cultivate a second or third style? Is another dantian created, is the energy production and containing capacity of the dantian you already have increased, or does something different happen?

Tatyana: Well, that is something that you'll see in detail when Yasenia cultivates, but it is something similar to Dantian alteration. Said in terms you would understand... The software gets an update so that it can run another program.

Randomplant: That's a strangely fitting comparison.

Author: And that's all for today. Bye-bye!

Yasenia: Quite straightforward.

Tatyana: I mean, there is nothing else to say.

Yasenia: Well, you are not wrong...

Chapter 715: Creating Yasenia's Body Cultivation Technique.

Two weeks had gone by since Yasenia returned from the secret realm.

During this time, Valeria, Tatyana, and Mirrory had been doing nothing but trying to create a Body Cultivation Method for Yasenia.

Naturally, as the person who would receive the tailor-made cultivation technique, Yasenia had to spend most of the time with them.

But, since the dragoness had already set up everything in her power, she had nothing else to do.

Her efforts during the last years finally became visible, and she finished creating a comprehensive and almost autonomous system that needed minimal effort on her part. Each day, she needed about two hours to deal with everything, and she could let things accumulate until the next day.

Only urgent matters would need to be reported to her during the rest of the day, which were very rare.

Having freed up so much time, the dragoness used half of it to create the cultivation technique with the seniors and the other half to spend with her dears in a leisurely and intimate manner.

At this time, Yasenia was in the middle of a room filled with complex runes, formations, and energy veins.

She was entirely naked and standing in the middle of everything while lights, mist, and other fantastical effects scanned her and moved around her.

While ninety percent of the work was done by the seniors, Yasenia needed to do the final ten.

Creating a cultivation technique, even if it was a derivative, was incredibly complicated. With her main body and using mountains of resources, even Tatyana took over 12 years to create Yasenia's current main cultivation technique [Convergence Of The Celestial Bodies] from their Sun, Moon, and Star components. Furthermore, the ones Tatyana used back then were already suitable to be merged.

Now, with a much weaker body, Tatyana, Mirrory, and Valeria were trying to create a combination using [Lunar Tide Reversal Body Technique], [Immortal Sun Obliterating Body Technique], and [Stellar Fusion Core Body Technique].

Mirrory commented as she moved her energy through the formations they set up together. "It's quite interesting, right?"

Valeria was by Yasenia's side, using Yasenia's body as a channel to aid Tatyana and Mirrory and give them information about her. The Nature Spirit Queen smiled. "These three cultivation techniques are extremely perfect. I thought that it was a coincidence that Andrea's technique was so good, but it seems that all those that could be retrieved with the [Diamond Key] were exceptional."

Tatyana twisted her hand, and the flow of the energy changed abruptly, increasing the temperature of the room. "Not only that, they feel as if they all come from the same source."

Yasenia felt Valeria's large hand traveling down her stomach slowly, stopping on her genital area and pouring energy. This wasn't the first time, so the dragoness wasn't surprised.

Valeria leaned down and whispered. "Sorry, little Yasenia."

Yasenia smiled, looking at Valeria with trust in her eyes. "Don't worry. I understand that you need to analyze my entire body. Avoiding touch is just silly."

Tatyana snorted. "Right. Don't act like a shy virgin when you've already eaten her once."

Valeria chuckled and hugged Yasenia closely while leaning down, giving her a tender kiss on the cheek. "Well, I can't deny that I'm happy that I'm touching what I've been longing for again."

Yasenia blinked. "Longing for?"

Valeria sighed and pouted. "Yasenia, the pleasure you gave me was a first. Honestly, I've been using my shared senses with Kali to quench my lust. If not, I might have jumped you already."

Tatyana commented mercilessly. "Until you understand what I told you about, you can only continue to suffer."

Valeria's pout deepened. Yasenia couldn't help but think that she would probably be able to hang a pot on her lips from how pronounced it was. She laughed at the thought of the almighty Spirit Queen being used as a pot-hanging tool.

Smiling when she saw Yasenia laugh, Valeria continued moving her hand to the dragoness's thighs while asking. "What are you laughing at, little Yasenia?"

Yasenia blinked and smiled playfully. "Not telling~."

Mirrory squinted and commented with a small laugh. "She probably wanted to use you as a pot-hanging tool."

With surprise in her eyes, the dragoness asked. "How did you know?"

The Nature Queen tickled the dragoness's plump thighs in response, making her burst into laughter. "Oh! Hahaha, Valeria, stop! Hahaha."

"Apologize, or I'll tickle you until you cry~!"

The dragoness sincerely apologized; the knowledgeable senior was too much of a tickling expert. When Valeria heard her apologies, she was satisfied and crouched to rest her chin on Yasenia's shoulder. After all, even when Yasenia was considered very tall among human-sized creatures, Valeria was quite literally three meters tall, almost double Yasenia's height.

"That's what you get for being disrespectful. Next time, I'll also tickle you until you apologize sincerely."

Yasenia laughed and asked, looking at her. "Are you copying my methods?"

The Nature Spirit Queen smirked. "Yes. I saw that you do that when you want to punish the girls, so I wanted to try. It's quite fun seeing you squirm in my arms."

"Sigh, why do I feel like you will use any excuse to tickle me from now on?"

"Fufu~, be prepared, little Yasenia."

Tatyana suddenly commented. "Oh? A breakthrough. Look at this."

She sent information to the other three, and Yaseña could only understand a small part of it. Valeria blinked. "Oh wow. That's really ingenious of you."

Mirrory agreed. "Using the formations this way is interesting. How about if we add this method?"

Tatyana and Valeria looked at the reviewed information and nodded. Tatyana commented. "That's much better. We could elevate our chances of success from my original 20 to at least 45 percent."

Confused, the dragoness asked. "Isn't that too little?"

The seniors explained, and Tatyana was the one who spoke first. "Creating a cultivation technique is something that must be done by repeatedly trying. Therefore, even having a two percent chance of success is good enough. We can elevate that to forty-five, and since each percentage is a qualitative jump, they are excellent odds."

"I see."

Valeria commented. "But, if we want to use this, we need to use Yin and Yang energies. How do we do that?"

Tatyana commented with a flat expression. "Dual Cultivation."

Valeria and Mirrory blinked twice. Mirrory asked with confusion. "You want me to Dual cultivate with her?"

Tatyana shook her head. "No, you are not needed. Truth and the elements you can provide are not Yin or Yang enough. However, I have an extremely pure Yin energy, and Valeria can transform her energy into an extremely pure Yang energy as a life spirit."

The Nature Queen commented. "I mean, I can do that, but I'm primarily Yin-related when it comes to fertility. While it is true that Life is one of the most powerful Yang elements, things change in that aspect because I chose a female form when I humanized."

The Death Empress nodded. "I know, but you've forgotten one thing. Little Treasure's constitution is the [Celestial Yin and Yang Body]."

Both women realized, and Mirrory commented. "Right, I was too focused on the techniques and completely forgot that she has that Heaven-defying physique."

Valeria similarly agreed. "If we take into account that, it is certainly possible."

The dragoness, who had been listening, asked. "So... um... I'm going to Dual Cultivate with Mom and Valeria?"

The three nodded. Tatyana commented. "Although I hate to admit it, this is the fastest and by far best way to create it. Things would've been different if you didn't have the [Celestial Maiden Ascends Through The Heavens] Dual Cultivation technique. But you have it. And that thing is completely game-changing."

The dragoness didn't have a problem. While dual cultivating with Valeria was not something in her plans, the only reason she didn't do so now were two things.

The first problem, and the most important, was Tatyana's consent.

The Second problem was Valeria's feelings. While Yaseña could feel affection toward her, the feeling was not love. Of course, the dragoness didn't think this was strange.

While Yasenia herself was a walking seductress and had most of the qualities someone would want to find in a lover, Valeria was a senior who had lived through countless years, so for someone like that to fall in love with our dragoness in less than a decade was utterly unrealistic.

Unless there was a special bond, like Tatyana's and Yasenia's, a change in feelings, one as important as love, to appear in a senior, took time and effort.

More so when Valeria usually saw her as nothing more than a young, interesting, and likable junior. Add to that Yasenia's lack of initiative and Valeria falling in love with Yasenia, and it was not bound to happen for who knows how long.

The only thing that might have been pulling them closer together was the link between them, Kali.

While Kali worked on slowly and naturally changing her previously blooming feelings toward Valeria, Valeria was slowly being affected by the strengthening love of her master toward Yasenia.

Like it or not, Valeria was spiritually connected with Kali to a soul level. Their connection was no less than [Interlocked Souls]. Therefore, Kali's feelings slowly entered the ancient Nature Spirit Queen through their connection.

Valeria noticed these feelings coming through the connection, and since she had never truly loved before, she was not aware of what they were. So, with the curiosity a senior had toward new experiences, Valeria accepted the leaking feelings from Kali's very soul.

That's why, as time passed, Valeria's attempts at intimacy with Yasenia were slowly increasing, and she also treated her so nicely.

In a natural and non-harmful way, Valeria's feelings of senior-to-junior affection for Yasenia were slowly but surely being affected by Kali's love.

Her current position was a good example.

Valeria crouched behind Yasenia, hugging her and resting her chin on her shoulder while her hands tenderly and softly caressed Yasenia's body to complete the technique.

She could caress her thighs without a problem and without the need to hug her, but she was doing so.

Usually, Valeria would've felt indifferent from touching Yasenia. After all, touching a naked body was nothing special for her.

However, inside of Valeria's heart, there was a spark of joy from being so close to her.

The scent of the dragoness, the softness of her skin, the temperature of her body, and the memories of the wild night when she lost herself in Yasenia's sensual body slowly but surely affected the Nature Spirit Queen.

The attentive Death Empress naturally noticed these signs, and that's why she didn't mind Valeria dual cultivating with Yasenia when it was entirely for Yasenia's benefit.

One could argue that dual cultivating would also be beneficial, but Tatyana knew it was unnecessary. After all, her own body's Yin energy was more than enough to "feed" the bottomless pit that was her little treasure.

While her current body was at a similar level as Yasenia's, the quality of her Yin energy was leagues above what Tatyana should possess. It was so strong that she couldn't share her Yin energy with Yasenia for quite some time until she managed to control the quality and output.

Mirrory commented. "Yasenia, prepare yourself. Your body will become the core of the formation, and you will need to process vast amounts of Yin and Yang energies. This time you will need to use the technique you learned from your Dual Cultivation Technique and suck Valeria's and Tatyana's energies. Unlike before, you need to be selfish and not share. Don't worry about damaging them; even one of them would be able to 'bloat' you with enough energy to burst, so suck without any regard."

Yasenia asked. "The technique is [Heavenly Maiden Absorbs The Heavens], right?"

Mirrory nodded. "Yes. That one. How is your mastery over it?"

Yasenia coughed. "It should be stronger than my control over Sunrise."

The three seniors blinked, and Tatyana asked, confused. "How? That technique absorbs energy during Dual Cultivation one-sidedly, so you should've never used it... Ah!"

Yasenia nodded awkwardly. "I used it quite a lot during my War Trial. I threw all my sympathy away, wanting to become stronger during that time and finish as soon as possible, so I used all the tools available to me... Honestly, if what I did during that trial was done outside, I would've long been classified as a Demonic Cultivator."

Tatyana, Valeria, and Mirrory realized something.

Valeria hugged Yasenia tightly to comfort her and said softly. "No wonder you hate being classified as someone who forces themselves onto others. You perfectly know what that entails."

Yasenia nodded and muttered. "Sorry, since it was a trial and I knew they were not real, I did quite a lot of very evil things."

The three seniors looked at her softly, and Tatyana stepped forward, hugging her from the front. "Don't worry, little treasure. You did well. When you came outside, you never even thought of doing that, which shows how much control you have over yourself."

Mirrory comforted her. "Using all tools available in a place where your survival is at stake is not completely wrong. As long as you have a bottom line and understand the truths of your actions, the actions you did mean nothing. A trial is ultimately a place to test one's limits, which you did admirably."

The dragoness cheered up again and nodded with a smile. Her smile stiffened a bit as two pairs of hands approached her genitals.

Valeria bit one of her ears while Tatyana bit one of her breasts.

Mirrory smirked as she saw the dragoness stiffen. "Now, little one, it's time you go through a trial of a similar magnitude. I hope your mind stays the same after this~."

Only now, Yasenia registered that she was about to be fucked by two ancient seniors that were an expert in the arts of carnal pleasures.

The second their fingers grazed her sensitive spots, a massive shock of pleasure forced her back to arch as a loud moan escaped her throat. "Aahn~."

Her eyes widened in stupefaction because of her sensitivity. Just a light touch on her nipples and labia had forced a moan out of her. 'W-What?'

Mirrory commented with a smirk. "Right. We forgot to add, but since you are the core of the formation and energy constantly flows through you, you will naturally be more sensitive than usual. Good luck."

Yasenia looked at Mirrory with fear and sent her most honest prayer to the heavens. 'Oh heavens, please give me strength.'

*****

Evelyn: Will our dragoness even survive?

Andrea: Although tempting, I would be more afraid than anything to be "attacked" by those two.

Cecile: She even cut the connection with me to not overwhelm me.

Kali: I hope the heavens answer her prayers because those three probably won't.

Angel: Poor Yasenia...

Author: Hahaha, let's move on~. I summon you!

Andrew Miles: Hello!

Kali: Welcome.

Andrew Miles: Tatyana, the maids that died in the line of duty while Yasenia was growing up, did you make them part of your undead army?

Tatyana: I didn't. While talent is important when I create undead to classify their quality, I lack no normal or elite undead. I can create General Class Undead with my resentment, but how could I resent those who died protecting my little treasure? So, instead, I gave them a Ritual that would cleanse their souls and guarantee that they are reincarnated in at least a good family.

Andrew Miles: Something like that exists?

Tatyana: It's pretty costly to do, but yes. It is a highly complex ritual that uses Fate to tie the reincarnating soul with a prosperity Fate string. Of course, not many use it because it can affect their own Fate. However, I am immune to after-effects because I'm outside Fate.

Andrew Miles: Wow.

Tatyana: It's not that impressive. While I say a "good" family, it is very vague. So, it can be a perfect family that suddenly gets raided by bandits. Or a good family that has a horrible person by their side and makes them suffer. It is just a better option than "random" reincarnation.

Andrea Miles: I see.

Author: And that's all for today~. Bye-bye!

Chapter 716: Start of the ritual. (R-18)

After Tatyana's and Valeria's fingers began caressing her body, Yasenia shivered with pleasure.

It felt as if their fingertips carried electricity, sparking her nerves and sending pleasure waves through her body.

Yasenia released a soft moan, and her alluring voice pleasantly tingled Tatyana's and Valeria's ears.

The entire room they were in was filled with numerous formations that moved the energy around their bodies. These soft energy waves caressed Yasenia's body like a gentle breeze, but at the same time, her sensitivity increased many times over.

While being hugged from behind by Valeria, Tatyana snuggled in her arms and stole her lips to invite her tongue into a tantalizing dance; both women caressed Yasenia's non-sexual areas slowly.

With their several skills, foreplay was wholly unnecessary. Even if they started having sex now, Yasenia would never feel uncomfortable about it. Even now, Tatyana and Valeria could see with their spiritual sense how Yasenia's dick was painfully erect and spewing precum while her pussy was drooling love juices as if it wanted to devour something badly.

However, they wanted to pamper her, so they didn't proceed to do the act straight away.

Her soft moans of pleasure as they caressed her were so enthralling that their bodies would flinch with her voice.

Yasenia's eyes, as Tatyana kissed her and interlocked tongues with her, became hazy and moist. The golden color of her beautiful draconic eyes was enhanced by the unshed tears of pleasure, giving her gaze such allure that even made the hearts of these two seniors thump.

While their experience was vast, and they'd seen their fair share of beauties and handsome men, there was an additional layer of affection toward Yasenia that made her otherworldly appearance even more enchanting, exciting them.

Valeria unconsciously tightened the hug while she began kissing Yasenia's nape. Her emerald-green eyes softened, and her hand moved toward Yasenia's tail and grabbed it from the root.

However, the second she touched the now ultra-sensitive tail, Yasenia moaned aloud, her back arching and looking at Valeria with eyes that dripped seduction and wanted affection.

Attracting her mates through unconscious gestures was a natural reaction from the dragoness, who was seduction incarnate.

When Valeria looked at those golden eyes that looked at her so tenderly, her ancient heart thumped, making her feel strangely excited and nervous.

Without even thinking, she leaned down and captured Yasenia's lips. The dragoness's eyes widened in surprise, but when she registered the tasty saliva and energy from the Spirit Queen, her body softened, and she answered.

Valeria unconsciously became more excited when Yasenia answered her kiss, and she deepened it as much as possible, making the precious creature between her arms moan.

Tatyana looked from the side with a smirk, leaving a trail of kisses as she went down her neck, arriving at Yasenia's proud and large breasts. 'Fufu, they are even bigger than my head~.'

While Yasenia delightedly swallowed the energy from Valeria's saliva as they pleasantly and deeply kissed, she felt a wet and slimy thing lick one of her nipples.

As if she had been electrocuted, her entire body trembled as her waist arched together with her back, making her already prominent chest even more pronounced.

Moreover, as Valeria held her tail when her waist arched upward, the hand slid across her sensitive scales, making Yaseña's eyes flip upward as a throaty moan escaped her mouth. "Mmmmmph!"

Valeria and Tatyana smiled as their spiritual senses caught Yaseña's dick and pussy, spurting a small jet of transparent liquid.

Yaseña had had a mini orgasm with just a lick to her nipple. Her body was already glistening with droplets of sweat, while her thighs had a transparent and slimy liquid that was not sweat sliding down.

Her mouth was freed, and Yaseña spoke with a trembling voice. "S-So much pleasure?"

When Tatyana licked her nipple, she felt as if her brain had stopped functioning for a second. Her entire body was burning with lust, and all they did until now was caress her body.

She could feel deep inside her how excited her constitution was, making her want the promised Yin and Yang energies quickly.

Mirrory at the side commented. "Don't worry, this formation will protect your mind. Things that would've made you lose your mind will be more than bearable. Moreover, there are no after-effects, so it won't affect your nightly activities with the other girls."

Yaseña's body trembled as the hands of the two seniors slowly approached her sensitive breasts and genitals. "T-That's not the problem, ahn~."

Valeria whispered with a low and reassuring voice; her long finger, because of their size difference, finally arrived at the soft and moist pussy lips. "Don't worry, little Yaseña. Just give your body to us; we will never do something that will hurt you."

Looking upward at the gentle eyes of the Nature Queen, Yaseña nodded obediently. She felt completely out of control in this situation, which was not strange. However, even while she didn't feel in control, her heart only beat in excitement and trust toward the two women holding her.

"I-I trust you."

Valeria and Tatyana took turns and kissed her lips once as a reward.

"Good girl, just leave everything to us."

"That's right, little treasure. Sink your mind in this experience. We will never hurt you."

Right after they spoke, Valeria's fingers slid across her slit while Tatyana softly grabbed her breasts.

As if a ball of fire and electricity exploded inside her, Yaseña let out a loud and sharp moan. "Aah!"

The finger parting her labia tenderly caressed her plump lower lips as Tatyana's fingers accurately sank into her large breasts, massaging the deep tissue.

"Oh! OH! What is this? Ah! Ah! Ah!"

Yaseña's tail swiftly moved, curling around Valeria as if to secure her body so that she didn't go flying while her arms tightly hugged the woman before her.

Mirrory waved her hand, and before Yaseña noticed, they landed in a bed that suddenly appeared in the middle of the formation. Then, she refocused on manipulating the energy of the room.

Of course, this bed was only a mattress with a bed sheet. But the bed was filled with silver, gold, and white runic symbols and array patterns that coincided with the ones around.

They had prepared it after making sure that they would use this method.

Valeria sat with her legs open and placed Yasenia in between. Their size difference allowed for her large green breasts to surround Yasenia's head while Tatyana leaned over Yasenia.

The long and thick tail of the dragoness coiled around Valeria a couple of times and squeezed as Valeria gently caressed the outer part of her genitals, and Tatyana focused on her breasts.

Suddenly, as Tatyana continued to fondle her with a peerless technique that would render any woman helpless, a white milky substance spurted and landed on her face.

Tatyana looked at the breastmilk dripping from Yasenia's delicious-looking pink nipples and licked her cheek, catching the drop of sweet milk into her mouth. "Valeria, increase the pleasure a level."

Valeria kissed the top of Yasenia's head, and her finger dug deeper into the dragon's lips, sinking into the vagina.

"Aaahn! Aaaahn! Aaaaah~!"

Yasenia moaned as the long finger explored her insides, and her milk was sucked from her breasts with ravenous hunger.

The single finger going in and out of her pussy felt as if it was digging her soul out. Because of the increased sensitivity, Yasenia's sensations built up quickly, and her body tensed. 'I'm cumming!'

Valeria felt the vagina suddenly tightening and squirming around her finger as a warm liquid soaked her hand, followed by Yasenia's dick spurting semen upward and smearing Tatyana's breasts, face, and hair with it.

Her dick gushed semen seven times, but with the inhuman loads, Tatyana was utterly soaked.

Tatyana smiled seductively, using her hand to scrap what stayed around her naked body, and placed it in her mouth. 'Ah~, delicious.'

Yasenia's vagina was still tightening and squirming as if it wanted something. Valeria leaned down and whispered tenderly. "It's a finger, Yasenia. It can't release semen for you."

As if understanding, the squirming insides calmed down.

Valeria gulped at this reaction.

Then, as Yasenia returned from her orgasm, she felt something growing while touching her back.

Tatyana kissed Yasenia's lips and spoke. "Now, love. It's time we begin with the first day of intercourse."

Yasenia's relaxed mind activated at those words, and her eyes widened. "F-First day?"

If there was a first, it meant that there were a few more.

Mirrory at the side chuckled. "Did you think that creating a technique is so easy? We'll need at least a week."

The dragoness had orgasmed with just their fingers, and now they were telling her that she was about to have sex for a week straight. Although our girl trusted them really much, she couldn't help but gulp and ask. "A-Are you sure everything will be okay?"

The three seniors laughed lightly and reassured her.

Then, the dragoness felt Valeria's big hands grabbing her by the bottom of her thighs and lifting her as if she were weightless.

She was confused, but then she remembered what touched her against her back and hastily used her spiritual sense to look.

Her eyes widened at the monster that was aiming upward like a mighty pillar. That thing was already outside the dick category and had entered the forearm league. 'I might not be able to circle it with my two hands...'

"V-Valeria, I'm going to break."

The nature queen leaned forward, smiling as she looked at her. "Don't worry, the other day, it disappeared entirely inside you. Down to the root~."

Yasenia's heart thumped, and even Tatyana was a bit speechless. However, she didn't comment since she knew that Yasenia liked two kinds of dicks, either perfect fit like Andrea's, which were her favorite, or monsters that other women would scream in fright and flee from.

Tatyana floated upward, opening her own legs and showing Yasenia her perfect pussy. "Love, I heard that you did something fun with Evelyn. Can you do that with me?"

Yasenia wasn't looking at Tatyana as her hungry eyes were locked on Tatyana's vagina, but she listened to her words.

The three seniors saw Yasenia's perfectly big and beautiful penis expanding and changing forms.

Soon, it became pinkish with a size that doubled the previous one and a form made to penetrate any hole, with a thin tip that widened quite a lot and a slimy substance around it. It was precisely the same as her dragon dick.

Tatyana licked her lips and floated above Yasenia's dragon dick, which, because of the absurd size, had the tip of the head lodged between her own breasts.

Of course, while it was much larger, with the qualities of a dragon's dick, it would mold and perfectly fit even holes that someone would find impossible.

Tatyana's eyes flashed with excitement. "Love, things will start becoming serious now. From now on until the end of the ritual, there will be no stops."

Yasenia felt the massive pillar kissing and opening her lips, resting there snugly as if it belonged between her labia, and then looked at the juicy pussy floating right above her own dick.

Then, with a nod, she spoke, excitement, anticipation, lust, and a slight fear bubbling inside her. "I-I'm ready."

Well, she was not ready.

Valeria lowered Yasenia slowly while Tatyana gently swallowed Yasenia's dick.

The second Yasenia felt her pussy being widely opened by Valeria's dick, her entire body exploded in pleasure. However, even before she could moan, Tatyana's pussy swallowed the tip of her dick, making another wave of insane pleasure crash in her mind.

Both sensations were originally enough to make her gently orgasm, so now, with increased sensitivity, they were so powerful that the dragoness couldn't even moan as a monstrous orgasm climbed up her spine and finally exploded in her brain.

They were curious about the silence, as they expected at least a moan, and when they looked at Yasenia's face, they understood why.

Before they were one-fifth into their respective way, Yasenia's brain exploded with pleasure she had never felt before and burst into an uncontrolled silent orgasm.

Her face was completely ruined as her breasts, dick, vagina, and tail began spewing fluids like a sprinkler. If she were not a powerful cultivator, this single climax might have dehydrated her.

Meanwhile, Tatyana and Valeria released a loud unexpected moan when Yasenia's semen shot upward like a spear and pierced into Tatyana's womb, while Yasenia's widely opened pussy contracted like a vice and squeezed Valeria's dick into an orgasm that the Nature Queen didn't expect.

Mirrory looked from the side with a speechless expression as her two companions were forced to climax as Yasenia's body erupted with fluids. The tail, especially, had uncoiled and was wagging while sprinkling semen all around the room. 'Wow. Thankfully, her mind is protected, and this ritual will continue even if she faints.'

Mirrory observed for a second and chuckled. 'She fainted, and it is just the beginning. It will be quite fun to see those two lose their minds while exploring Yasenia's enhanced body~.'

While it was true that Yasenia's sensitivity was increased, her body was also similarly enhanced.

They didn't tell her because the two seniors were confident in dealing with her, but they had underestimated what kind of pleasure a Progenitor Queen of Yasenia's caliber could really bring.

Chapter 717: Commotion Throughout The Continent. (R-18)

After Yasenia fainted, Tatyana and Valeria took a deep breath to control the raging pleasure waves affecting their bodies. The quality of Yasenia's Yin and Yang energies entering their bodies had agitated their nerves like a lightning bolt coursing their bodies, which took them by surprise.

Tatyana was biting her lip not to let out a moan as she thought, her eyes shining delightfully. 'Such a pure Yang energy~. Delicious~.'

Valeria, on the other hand, was keeping Yasenia in the air not to overwhelm her with pleasure too much while her dick felt the pure Yin energy released by the dragoness. 'Oh my~, she has such a perfect body for bearing children~. I really want to put a little seed inside her and allow it to bloom~.'

While thinking as such, they weren't just enjoying the moment. While Yasenia poured Yang and Yin energies into them, the opposite was also happening.

Their powerful Yin and Yang energies surged across Yasenia's meridians, revitalizing her exhausted self.

The fainted dragoness was startled awake, her golden eyes sluggish and watery as the side of her lips glistened with her alluring saliva. She didn't know what happened for a second until she felt the thick phallus spreading her vagina and the tight pussy tightening around her own dick.

Her body trembled in pleasure even without movement, and she looked at the two women with confusion. "W-What, Ahn~, happened? Ah! Mmm~, it feels so good. Oh~."

Yasenia's body answered instead of her mouth, squirting another load into Tatyana's womb while her vagina leaked transparent fluids that drenched the entire length of Valeria's green dick.

It was as if the dragoness's body was asking her two mates to continue their act quickly.

Both women smiled gently and continued their slow penetration.

The dragon's brain couldn't think of anything else besides the feeling of her uterus being crushed and pushed upward while her dragon dick pierced into Tatyana's womb and pushed against the uterine walls.

If Yasenia were a mortal woman, she would probably be screaming in pain. However, since her body was mostly perfected for intercourse, her inner elasticity and her pleasure receptors accurately transmitted the feelings to her brain.

The pleasure she was currently receiving was strong enough to render an ordinary cultivator at her level mentally impaired.

Out of strength, her body was limp, only held by the two women who finally managed to swallow or pierce her to the roots.

Because of the ridiculous sizes the seniors were using, you could see the shape bulging Yasenia's stomach well past her belly button, a place where no phallus should have any business being. A similar situation occurred with Tatyana's deformed stomach.

But Tatyana's and Valeria's godly techniques, coupled with Yasenia's innate sexual adaptability, made the current situation possible.

Once fully lodged inside, they weren't hasty to start moving, allowing Yasenia to become accustomed to the sensations.

Mirrory at the side was operating the formation without a single change in her face, slowly creating runes and text that were engraved into a very high-leveled scroll.

Mirrory saw the two seniors constantly kissing and caressing the dragoness, making her appear more like a blob than anything else, and chuckled. "They are sure having fun."

Her eyes landed on Yasenia's protruding stomach, and she lifted an eyebrow. "She sure is something."

After an hour and about three more orgasms from the dragoness, Mirrory spoke. "Both of you, we need more Yin and Yang energies, or we'll take forever."

Tatyana and Valeria nodded, and they spoke to Yasenia. "Little treasure, we'll start moving. From now on, just focus on your body and sink in the sensations that you feel. Don't care about anything else other than us."

The dragoness looked at her and nodded.

First, Tatyana grabbed the root of Yasenia's tail and moved along, finally grabbing the limb and semen-leaking golden tip. She moved it and pierced her own butt hole, and the tail quickly sneaked inside, filling Tatyana's ass to the brim and expanding her anus.

Tatyana felt the hot wave of pleasure and smiled, delighted. "Perfect, now we have everything occupied."

Yasenia was about to speak, but a soft and gentle force twisted her head as Valeria captured her lips again. "Mmm~."

Then, while being grabbed from behind by Valeria and Tatyana straddling her, both seniors began moving their waists.

Mind-melting waves of pleasure assaulted the dragoness as her heart thumped with excitement and pleasure.

Her brain lost focus on everything other than the sensation of her mouth, breasts, dick, vagina, and tail.

The thrust of the Nature Queen penetrated deep enough to feel as if she was fucking her brain instead of her womb, while her dick and tail felt as if they were melting inside Tatyana's holes.

Moreover, as her orgasms hit her mind constantly, her breasts became swollen and spurted milk that was drunk by the two seniors.

Both seniors suddenly did an abrupt thrust, making her vision flash with white, and her insides were filled with highly pure Yin and Yang energies.

These energies run rampant inside her, trying to break free, but her constitution and celestial energy suppress them, allowing her dual cultivation technique to absorb them.

While she absorbed those, Valeria and Tatyana changed positions, with Valeria placing her on all fours while Tatyana lay below her and fucked herself with her dragon dick.

Unlike a common dick, even while it was much bigger, it was soft and hard at the same time, with inhuman adaptability that stretched the vaginal walls to the limits right before the woman started feeling pain.

In short, dragon dicks were a perfect fit for almost any pussy that was smaller than its girth and length. Of course, it could also expand slightly, but if the opponent was too big, no matter how good, the penis wouldn't be able to exert all of its capabilities.

Naturally, Yasenia, who had a more than two-meter-long tail that could also be used as a sexual organ, would be able to have sex with creatures many times her humanoid size with no problem, not to mention her "action" range while in her giant dragon form.

Yasenia's body rippled with each of their thrusts, and the sound of flesh colliding echoed in the room as the dragoness's heavenly moans echoed in the room.

Her mellow and attractive voice was like the melody of a singing siren, making both seniors further feel their bodies burning with lust and affection for her.

Each time Valeria's waist slapped onto Yasenia's ass, the ripple sent the large breasts of the dragoness into a bouncing motion.

Valeria hilted herself, and her back tensed as her penis-like clitoris spurted liquid into Yasenia's womb again, filling it to the brim and spilling some more. The nature queen felt delighted as her fluids filled the dragon's womb. 'Ah~, I need to understand what Tatyana wants from me so that I can have a lovely time with Yasenia later~.'

As a creature tied with life, Yasenia was like an ideal mating partner. The absurd fertility of the dragoness would invite almost any creature that had sex with her to either impregnate or get impregnated by her.

It felt as if the seductive and voluptuous body was asking to reproduce with a begging expression, making it extremely difficult to hold back.

Meanwhile, Tatyana was having a really hard time holding back her own moans, the dragon dick was many times more pleasurable than she anticipated.

The feeling of being gently and tenderly stretched while also roughly and deeply penetrating her was a combination that could drive any woman to the end of her wits.

Even as an extremely experienced senior, she was helpless and could only orgasm every fifteen minutes, feeling entirely at the mercy of the dragon dick and tail that ravaged her holes.

Of course, Tatyana wasn't using any profound dual cultivation techniques other than some to increase her inner flexibility so that she wasn't hurt.

Still, the fact that Tatyana felt on the verge of "losing," even if it was because of the array's increased sensitivity while not using techniques, was unthinkable for her. 'The future will be exhilarating~.'

Both seniors continued having sex with the dragoness, not stopping for a second, as they couldn't get enough of her tempting body.

Meanwhile, the dragoness felt as if she was floating in clouds, her body constantly ravaged by the pleasure that melted her into a puddle of purring, groaning, moaning, and affection.

Mirrory was speechless as she looked from the side. By now, she had noticed how Tatyana and Valeria were becoming more aggressive, not because of the formation but because they were relishing in making love with Yasenia. 'Does it really feel that good?'

As an eternal virgin, cough, I mean, as a very old senior, the Ancient Mirror was slightly confused. For her, the body was nothing more than a channel to connect her existence with the World so that she could deploy her powers.

Still, the eyes filled with pleasure from Tatyana and Valeria were piquing her interest. Seeing Angel getting lost in pleasure was not strange because she was a junior and lacked mental discipline. However, she knew that these two women were different, making her wonder if it was really that pleasurable to do it with Yasenia.

Regardless, she had no intentions of doing anything, not now nor in the future.

While controlling the interchange of Yin and Yang energies, Mirrory continued to fuse the knowledge of the three cultivation techniques with Yasenia as a medium.

Slowly but surely, it started forming.

One day went by.

Two days went by.

Three days went by.

Time flowed, and on the fifth day, the scroll was finally complete. Mirrory looked at the bed that thankfully had a function to absorb the sexual fluids and mix their energy into the formation as another energy source.

Suppose it wasn't there, and who knows what kind of pool of sexual fluids would've filled the room already. The number of times Yasenia had ejaculated during the five days was approaching 1000.

Without the healing properties and energy gathering that supplied Yasenia at a nearly inexhaustible rate, the dragoness would look withered by now.

Still, she was completely vigorous, with a healthy sheen of sweat on her supple and perfectly smooth skin as her waist moved in sync with the other two.

Valeria's giant dick slid in and out of her with ease while her dragon dick plowed Tatyana's flower and made water flow with each of the squelching thrusts.

Moreover, Yasenia's tail had been exploring different holes during all this time, and currently, it was thrusting deep into Valeria's pussy.

The two seniors were completely enamored as they made love to the dragoness, pampering her, kissing her, caressing her, and whispering words of affection to her.

Mirrory was surprised because although both of them still had the "dominance" in the sexual activity, Yasenia was far from passive and even sometimes took the lead.

Of course, the times she was pinned down and fucked to oblivion overwhelmed the times the opposite happened.

Mirrory spoke loudly. "Yasenia, release all your Celestial Energy through your next discharge; don't worry about it damaging you. We've already prepared."

The dragoness began moving her waist quicker as she expertly dug into Tatyana while she twisted her waist to caress Valeria's dick.

Her tail dug, twisted, and scrapped Valeria's entire vaginal passage, making her moan.

A few seconds later, the Celestial Energy Star in the middle of Yasenia's dantian burst with incomparable might, creating a stifling aura inside the room that suppressed even the seniors for an instant.

Then, while using her Dual Cultivation Technique, Yasenia thrust deeply into Tatyana as she used the lodged tail to push Valeria's waist on top of her so that she could thrust deeply.

With a loud roar of pleasure, three wombs were filled with semen at the same time. Yasenia filled Tatyana's and Valeria's, while Valeria filled Yasenia's.

As Celestial Energy was mixed into the Dual Cultivation Technique, both Tatyana and Valeria's eyes flipped upward without control, and their bodies tensed as a massive orgasm that rocked their world hit them.

The extreme quality of the Celestial Yang and Yin energies caused havoc in the two seniors' bodies, making them spasm in pleasure and scream as tears and saliva flowed down their faces.

Mirrory was stunned, not expecting Tatyana and Valeria to go on an orgasm spree that made them quiver like fish out of the water.

However, she didn't get distracted as all the energies converged in the scroll, and the formations of the entire room shattered, signifying the successful completion of the ritual.

The scroll floated in the middle of the room, and then its aura burst outward, piercing through the walls of the room and spreading across the entire sect and even further.

An ancient aura appeared around the entire Distancia Continent as the Heavens rumbled above their house.

Without any warning, countless lightning bolts fell on top of the scroll. However, the scroll itself released an aura burst that spread upward, shattering all lightning bolts and blowing the Tribulation Clouds away.

Then, Yasenias ring lit up, even when she was unconscious, and her spiritual cultivation method scroll flew upward, dancing around the body cultivation manual.

Both of them circled each other as if they were measuring the other scroll's worth, and then they streaked into Yasenias dantian, making every phenomenon come to a halt.

While the entire World became extremely confused and afraid, inside the unconscious Yasenias Dantian, two more planets appeared orbiting her Celestial Energy Star. They both radiated a profound aura of might as they peacefully and gently orbited inside.

Mirrory, who saw everything, was flabbergasted, her face showing shock and bewilderment. 'What in the Heaven's name happened?'

Chapter 718: New Body Cultivation Technique!

After the massive event that shook the entire world happened, every single power became alert and began searching for answers. After all, the aura that the scrolls had released was incredibly Ancient and powerful, making low-level cultivators and mortals feel lightheaded all around the World.

The tribulation clouds above Yasenias mansion were powerful, and some of the sect members spotted them. However, because the aura released by the cultivation scroll was so profound, the aura of the Heavens didn't manage to spread fast or far enough to be sensed before the Tribulation Clouds got destroyed.

Therefore, while some people were curious, they didn't associate it with the powerful aura that spread all around.

Mirrory looked at the fainted Yasenias and heavily breathing Valeria and Tatyana and got thoughtful. Such an event was entirely out of her expectations. Not even her highest estimations approached what happened a few moments ago.

Her body flashed, and she appeared beside Yaseenia, touching her forehead and using energy to analyze her. 'Thankfully, her mind was protected by the formation before it got destroyed.'

Mirrory could only imagine the potency of the pleasure Yaseenia felt while orgasming while releasing Celestial Yin and Yang. Even Tatyana and Valeria, who had souls far beyond the mortal realms, almost fainted.

If such a wave of pleasure hit Yaseenia unprotected, the damage would've been irreversible.

Then, before Yaseenia woke up, Mirrory placed her hands below Yaseenia's armpit and slowly lifted her. Valeria's penis slid out and was released with a pop sound.

Mirrory then moved to an empty spot and laid her on her back. 'Hm, the transformation of her penis has been undone, it seems. Are there any other changes?'

Mirrory took her wrist and sent a pulse of energy around her to check everything thoroughly. Her eyes widened slightly. 'Impressive. Her beast core and spiritual cultivation have gone through a qualitative transformation. She has jumped directly to the Ninth Level Fusion Core Beast and Ninth level Unification Realm.'

After she continued inspecting, her wonder only increased. 'Her body has also improved tremendously. Even without protecting herself with energy, she should have a physique strong enough to deflect low-level Heaven-ranked weapons. She probably can break high-level Earth Rank treasures with her bare hands.'

The Ancient Senior was impressed. 'Even without Body Cultivation, she has such a strong body. Once she starts body cultivating' Her lips arched. 'Her foundation is already equal to outer sect disciples from high-level worlds. Amazing.'

While outer sect disciples might sound weak, the standards of a high-level world were incomparable to anything else. Even mortals would be able to live up to 500 years in those worlds, which showed the quality of the ambient energy.

While talent, bloodline, potential, etc., were essential to one's strength, the environment was also a significant factor contributing to a cultivator's foundation.

This was also one of the reasons why high-level world people looked down on those who came from lower worlds.

While she inspected Yaseenia's body, Valeria and Tatyana slowly stood up, having recovered enough to be able to keep their own bodies on their feet.

Tatyana moaned a sigh. "That was incredible. This much pleasure is a first."

Valeria nodded, her emerald eyes still looking hazy. When her eyes landed on the naked dragoness, her body burned with lust. Of course, she wouldn't do anything. However, when Tatyana saw Valeria's member becoming rock hard again, she grabbed it with one hand as she smiled. "Let her rest, or I'll cut this."

Valeria's lips twitched. "Did you think that I would be blinded by lust?"

Tatyana shook her head and laughed. "No, but just in case. After all, this situation is probably a first for you as well, right?"

Valeria didn't deny it. Then, the Nature Queen looked at Tatyana seriously and spoke, her voice not messing around. "Tatyana, tell me clearly, what do I lack to become Yasenia's mate? Or, at least, what do I need to do for you to allow me to mate with her?"

Tatyana paused and looked upward at the serious eyes of the woman.

In truth, the Death Empress realized that Valeria's feelings toward Yasenia were already growing. Her affectionate and pampering actions during the week-long Dual Cultivation made it more than apparent.

However, Tatyana knew that if she allowed Valeria to begin mating with her now, Valeria's feelings would stop growing as rapidly as they were now.

The situation when long Dual Cultivation sessions that could affect a senior's heart occurred was far from being possible, and having a few hours of sex each day wouldn't move the heart of a senior of Valeria's level.

No matter how affectionate, pleasurable, or intense a Dual Cultivation of one or two hours was, someone at their level would be far from satisfied.

Tatyana feared that the Nature Queen would grow greedy for more of Yasenia's attention. While she wasn't against people being obsessively in love with her little treasure as she was, there were many different kinds of obsessions. Some were healthy, like Cecile's, and others were very problematic.

If things went wrong at one point, Valeria developing an unhealthy obsession would not be entirely out of the question.

Tatyana opened her mouth after thinking for a few seconds. "Valeria, while I admit that you are somewhat sincere, it's too soon. Allow yourself to come more in contact with her, use your connection with Kali to understand her feelings, observe her actions, and come to a decision. Give it a few decades. After all, don't we have all the time in the World? If it weren't for Oliver, that child, I wouldn't have even tried to seduce her before she was 100 years old."

Valeria pondered and nodded. "Well, a few decades is not that long. I can do that."

Tatyana nodded and sighed. She didn't expect her little treasure to manage to create a small opening in the Ancient heart of the Nature Queen, who had not known love since her birth.

Valeria waved her arm, and an extremely beautiful floral dress hid her seductive figure. Tatyana did the same, summoning an elegant black dress.

Mirrory asked them with a smile. "Hey, have you two looked at your cultivation?"

They tilted their heads and looked inside themselves. Their eyes widened with a stupefied expression. Tatyana commented. "Impressive. With this, I'll probably have to do half the effort for double the results until I arrive at the Dantian Spiritualization realm."

Valeria chuckled. "With this amount of energy, Kali can probably unlock her fourth tail after her tribulation."

With a laugh, Mirrory commented. "I admit that your cub is exceptional, Tatyana."

The Death Empress smiled smugly. "Of course, she is my daughter, after all."

A mother's biggest pride was always her child's success. Having these two recognize Yashenia was extraordinary, so Tatyana was feeling overjoyed.

After sitting around Yashenia, Valeria took the dragoness in her arms and used her energy to surround her with curative energies. They flowed into Yashenia, nourishing the starving cells and meridians and increasing the body's activity.

After a few moments, Yashenia's eyelids trembled, and she opened her eyes. Looking at Valeria, who was cradling her like a child, she leaned on her and rubbed her face on her. "What happened?"

Valeria's heart almost exploded. 'She is so cute~.'

Tatyana knew that Yashenia was somewhat dazed, so she laughed and commented. "Little Treasure, we've finished. The technique is done."

Yashenia looked at them, and her haziness disappeared. "Really?"

Her golden eyes shone excitedly, and her dangling tail began undulating in happiness.

They nodded, and Mirrory spoke. "First, put on some robes. Valeria, place her down."

The Nature Queen reluctantly placed her down, and the usual seductive dress appeared around Yashenia's perfect body, highlighting her figure and making her look sensual and elegant.

Mirrory smiled. "Look inside your Dantian; the technique should be there."

With high expectations, the dragoness looks into her Dantian, only to be shocked. 'Why is my Dantian so full of energy!?'

She curiously tried to sense her aura, and another shock hit her. 'Impossible! Ninth level in both beast and Spiritual cultivation!?'

Seeing her shocked expression, the three seniors laughed.

Yashenia looked at the powerful pressure her energy released and looked at her Celestial Energy Star. The size had grown significantly, becoming at least four times bigger than before.

Before, Yashenia was sure to be able to cast at least seven or so Celestial Skills each day. Now, however, she was confident that she could launch fifteen of them. Remember that as her strength increased, the skills also needed more energy to be used. That's why, even when the volume of Celestial Energy had grown by at least ten times, the number of Celestial Skills she could use hadn't multiplied by ten.

Other than the size of her Celestial Energy Star, the ocean of energy had also become much larger and thicker.

In Yashenia's opinion, she would probably be able to beat her previous self in less than thirty seconds. That's how much she had grown in strength during this ritual.

Yashenia pondered and looked at them, and as if they'd read their thoughts, the three seniors simultaneously shook their heads. Tatyana smiled. "Do you think that if such a miraculous way of increasing strength existed, everyone else would ignore it? This boost of energy was because of the ritual, but this ritual has placed quite a huge burden on you. If you repeated it too soon, you would probably be crippled."

Valeria smiled softly. "Remember that there are no shortcuts during cultivation, Yaseenia. Hard work is, and always will be, the fastest way to high cultivation realms."

Yaseenia looked at Valeria, feeling that her tone had an additional something, but she didn't mull much over it and nodded. "Thank you, Valeria."

Valeria nodded with a smile.

Mirrory asked. "So, what's its name? While normal cultivation techniques are named by their creator, powerful ones gain a name by themselves. Yours should fall into the second category."

Yaseenia looked into herself and observed the two new planets orbiting her Celestial Energy Star.

One of them was the [Convergence Of The Celestial Bodies], her Spiritual Cultivation Technique. The planet looked calm and balanced, with many cosmic lights surrounding it.

The other planet looked more violent, the energy it emitted creating powerful phenomena around it. Curious, the dragoness sunk her consciousness into it and analyzed it.

Then, she muttered. "I see, its name is [Celestial Cosmos Immortal Body Technique]. A technique that will allow its user to temper an indestructible body that can twist the firmament with their strength."

The three seniors blinked, and Mirrory asked to make sure. "Did you say Immortal?"

Yaseenia opened her eyes and nodded. "Yes, is there something wrong?"

Tatyana burst into laughter. "Jackpot!"

Valeria agreed. "A self-named technique with Immortal in its name is a true blessing."

Yaseenia was confused, and Mirrory realized, so she clarified. "Usually, people name their techniques with grand names so that people learn them. After all, the meaning of creating and spreading a technique is to leave behind some legacy. I've seen first realm cultivators create a technique that is literally just a fire punch and name it something grand like [Cosmos Consuming Hell Strike], or something like that. Meanwhile, the technique is not even a Magic Rank technique."

Yaseenia became speechless. 'Some people are really shameless.'

While many of Yaseenia's techniques had powerful names, that was because they had the potential to become skills worthy of their name.

Mirrory continued. "Regardless, when a cultivation technique names itself, the name is usually a sign of its quality. You only know that treasures go from mortal to spiritual, to magical, to earth, to heaven, and finally to transcendence rank. There are naturally ranks beyond." The dragoness's curiosity soared as she listened attentively.

Mirrory said. "The rank after Transcendence is Supreme Rank treasures. While transcendence treasures are powerful, they are not absolute. If, for example, a mortal were wielding a Transcendence Rank sword and could use it, people of the Mental Nourishing Realm and below would probably be powerless."

She then smiled. "However, if that same mortal could wield a Supreme Rank treasure, everyone in the mortal realms would be completely powerless against that mortal, someone like you included."

The division is just one major rank, but the distance between them is like the distance between heaven and earth."

Yasenia gasped. "The difference is that large?"

Tatyana laughed. "You've already seen one Supreme Treasure."

The dragoness blinked. "When?"

Tatyana smiled. "The Formation Pen I summoned when I was calling the maids was of the Supreme Rank. Also, you have one as well."

"Huh? I don't-" Yasenia paused and then looked at her ring finger. "Wait."

Tatyana smirked. "That's right. The [Five Realm Spatial Ring] you have is a Nine Star Supreme Rank treasure."

Yasenia frowned. "Nine stars?"

Valeria added. "After the Transcendence Realm, the power between treasures is too vast to be divided by low, middle, high, and peak. So, they are divided into one to ten stars, ten stars being the strongest."

Mirrory continued. "Now, why are we explaining this? Well, after the Supreme Rank, there are more ranks. The next one is the Ancient Rank Treasure, and the following one is the Immortal Rank Treasure."

Yasenia nodded and then paused. Her eyes suddenly widened.

Mirrory smiled. "A self-named treasure sometimes has its own rank in its name. So, the cultivation technique you've won is probably of that rank."

Yasenia felt like she was dreaming. If Supreme Treasures were already so heaven-defying, Ancient Treasures might be able to change her worldview if she saw them. Then, what about Immortal rank?

Yasenia's body erupted in chills just thinking about it.

Valeria laughed. "Now she has three Immortal Rank techniques. I can't even imagine how far she will go. Sadly, we can't tell how strong they are within the realm because we are too weak now."

Yasenia, who heard another bomb of information, was paralyzed. 'All my cultivation techniques are of the Immortal rank!?'

Seeing her face, the three seniors laughed.

Chapter 719: Provocation and Yasenia's Response.

After that day, when Yasenia gained the Body Cultivation Technique, the search for the event's origin was a priority through all the world's top powers.

People began searching for hints everywhere and trying to compare information on each part of the Continent. Naturally, it was impossible to hide the fact that something extraordinary happened in Yasenia's sect simultaneously with the event.

Therefore, the powers with the best information networks realized that the Astral Sky Sect had something to do with it. With this, the problem was bound to follow. In the cultivation World, holding treasures was considered something akin to a crime.

If you were rich and you didn't have the strength or backing to protect those riches, it was a matter of time before someone would rob you out of greed.

"Sect Master, the number of attacks toward our disciples outside the sect has increased by 3700%. Not to mention, there are many powers that insist on a meeting, asking you to explain yourself and reveal whatever gains you made."

Alaia continued reading the document as Yasenia kept a calm expression and silently listened. Kaleina was coiled around her body, resting her cute dragon head on Yasenia's shoulders while her Mommy caressed her.

She looked like an oversized scarf wound around her body.

"Other than the harassment that they've been receiving, I've heard that some powers have started poaching our members with conditions that promise three times our benefits. About 2000 people have left the sect in the last month."

The dragoness nodded and asked her to continue.

"Regarding the land around our sect, we have managed to spot a few hundred spies, and we have also spotted 30 High-level Epoch Core realm experts waiting for an ambush. Their target is probably you."

Yasenia nodded. "Have you investigated which powers are targeting us? Although, I can probably guess, but maybe they are surprised."

Alaia shook her head. "No, they are all from the Continental Shadows' various powers."

The dragoness was confused. "Didn't they see your prowess during that time? Although I admit 30 high-level Epoch Cores are a strong force that other powers might fear, it's really not enough compared to what we showed, right?"

Alaia nodded. "I think that they are not aiming for a frontal confrontation. Doriel has been following them, and a few of our juniors are in cahoots with them. I've realized that a few of those juniors are trying to approach Angel and the others. Doriel even heard one of them asking if they could accompany them outside to help them with a few things."

Yasenia blinked. "Are they close to my dears?"

Yasenia shook her head. "How many top experts of each power are there?"

Alaia looked at the paper she was holding and commented. "There are two from the Garuda race, twelve from the wolf race, and the rest are from the Silent Fang Sect."

The dragoness pondered for a moment, looking out of the window that took a large part of the wall. Then, she sighed and commented. "I didn't want to use it, but Give them one warning to each power. Tell them to retreat their pressuring, or we'll retaliate. They have one month to comply. If they don't" Yasenia's eyes flashed with ruthlessness. "Ask Kali for the thing and throw it to one of their main cities."

Alaia paused and looked at Yasenia. "Are you sure, Young Miss?"

Yasenia nodded. "They are targeting our innocent members because of a treasure, so they don't deserve mercy. Tell them that we have the cure after they realize that they can't deal with it. If they give us enough compensation and they are sincere in their apology, then we'll step forward and resolve it. If they don't" The dragoness shook her head. "Well, they will learn about the consequences of provoking us."

Alaia asked. "How much compensation is sincere, Young Miss?"

Yasenia smiled coldly. "That will depend on them. If they are giving some measly Heaven-ranked items, deny it. Try to aim for resources, ore veins, or training lands. Plots of land in a city or similar compensation is also possible. Use as many parasites as experts they've sent."

Alaia smiled and nodded. "As you order, Young Miss."

The dragoness grabbed Kaleina's head and began raining kisses on her, making Kaleina giggle. "They can't blame Mommy if they want to provoke us, right, baby?"

Kaleina nodded. "That's right! If they provoke Mommy, then they deserve punishment!"

Kaleina asked, a bit nervous. "Mommy, when is that summit you have to leave to? Will you leave for a long time?"

The dragoness smiled softly and hugged the dragon in her arms tightly. "It will be in four years, baby. Also, it won't take long. A few weeks at most."

Kaleina pouted. "A few weeks? That's too long! Can I go with you?"

Yasenia pecked Kaleina's pouty lips, making her little darling laugh. "It depends on how strong Mommy and the others become in four years. If we are strong enough, then you can come."

Kaleina's golden eyes sparkled. "Really!?"

"Of course! When has Mommy lied to you?"

Kaleina hugged Yasenia's face and licked it with a purring sound. "Never~. Mommy is the best!"

Yasenia smiled happily, asking her little darling. "How are you and Flame doing lately?"

Kaleina smiled happily. "Very good! Auntie Gireila comes often to teach her with Mama Cecile."

Yasenia smiled wryly. "You also call her aunt?"

"Yes? Is it bad?"

The dragoness shook her head with a laugh. "Not at all. It is just that Auntie Gireila also asks Mommy to call her aunt."

Kaleina blinked, and then she laughed. "Then, Mommy and I are sisters now!"

A small chuckle escaped the dragoness's mouth. "Then, you must listen to big sister and accompany her to the bath."

The little dragoness lifted her arms. "Yay!"

While going to the bath, Yasenia met with Evelyn, so she also decided to join them.

They leisurely changed and entered the large open bath reserved for their family.

The water was not only perfectly warm, but it had many medical properties that Kali and Valeria enhanced. Just bathing here was similar to taking an Earth-rank pill to increase cultivation.

Of course, it didn't compare to their cultivation rooms, but it allowed them to not "lose" time when bathing.

Evelyn lay on Yaseenia's naked body, sighing happily and content. Kaleina pouted and used her tail to splash water on Evelyn's face, making the melted woman open her eyes and look at her. "Hey, little one. What are you doing?"

With an angry snort, Kaleina said. "Mama Evelyn, are drooling on Mommy's breasts. Be careful!"

With a strange face, Evelyn looked at the little dragon and commented. "Hey, you know that these breasts are also mine, no?"

The little dragoness pouted and slithered in the water to hug one of Yaseenia's breasts. "But they are also mine! Also, I eat from them, so you can't drool over them!"

'Little girl, if you knew how many other fluids I release on her breasts at night, you might kill me.'

Lately, Evelyn had been using the magical dildo to feel her favorite pair of mountains. Yaseenia did it a few weeks earlier out of fun, and Evelyn got immediately addicted. She had lost count of all the times she had climaxed with them.

Yaseenia softly tapped Evelyn's forehead and pushed her off, hugging her little baby. "Kaleina, don't mind that. Mommy always cleans herself before breastfeeding you."

Kaleina looked down at the beautiful pink nipple and licked her lips. Looking up with a shy expression, she asked. "Mommy, can I eat a bit?"

Evelyn snorted while floating about. "Little girl, didn't you eat two hours ago."

Kaleina's cheeks glowed a bit brighter, showing her embarrassment. However, the pampering dragoness quickly moved into position and began feeding her.

Evelyn rolled her eyes. "You pamper her too much."

"Hmph, if my baby wants to drink my milk, then my baby will drink my milk."

The mischievous girl saw Kaleina squinting in delight as she sucked and approached with a smirk, tickling her stomach stealthily.

Kaleina burst into laughter, but she entered a coughing fit because she was mid-swallowing. Evelyn laughed aloud. "Serves you right~, hahaha."

Kaleina quickly stopped coughing after two gentle pats from Yaseenia, and then she lunged at Evelyn. "Mama Evelyn, today I'm going to bite you!"

Evelyn began swimming while escaping from her as she laughed. "You can as long as you catch up to me~, hahaha."

Yaseenia only laughed as she gently used the water to clean the spilled milk on her breasts. Then, she relaxed while sitting in a mermaid position, looking at how Kaleina and Evelyn played. 'So nice.'

She couldn't help but feel her soul relax.

Thinking about the minor disaster that she was about to release, her feelings were complicated. 'Things will become hectic soon. If I'd discerned his personality correctly, he would probably start a small-scale war with me after this. The other powers will also become wary of us.'

The dragoness saw Evelyn purposely slowing down and allowing Kaleina to catch up and jump onto her. "Oh no! Yaseenia, help me; little Kaleina is attacking me!"

Kaleina laughed triumphantly as she bit Evelyn's shoulder. "Now you can't escape!"

The dragoness smiled gently. "You get what you deserve, dear."

"Nooo!"

"Hahaha, not even Mommy can protect you now, Mama Evelyn!"

Looking at such a scene, the dragoness's eyes softened.

'If it is to protect them'

However, the bottom of her eyes were filled with coldness and ruthlessness.

'I don't mind becoming a devil once again.'

During the following week, the Garudas, Silent Fang sect, and Steel Back Wolf Clan received a warning letter.

"I know you are targeting me. You have one month to cease your attacks, or you'll suffer consequences you can't imagine. You have one month to cease all attacks.

-Astral Sky Sect Master."

The letter was extremely simple, but the three leaders who were in the same room couldn't help but frown.

The shadow-like person from the Silent Fang Sect asked. "Do you think it is just an empty threat?"

The one who read the letter, Fu Lang Zu, commented. "It's difficult to say. However, unless she dispatches those fairies that came to her aid, it will be difficult for her to deal any lasting damage. After all, her foundation in every single ambit other than military strength is subpar, at best."

The Garuda Patriarch was moving his waist, not stopping doing the act even in this situation, and he chirped with his bird head. His voice was unnaturally attractive because a few skills enhanced it. "I also think that we shouldn't stop. While the only thirty-five people my sect caught are low-level, they've been quite popular. It is already quite clear that the disciples are very talented."

The Garuda Patriarch stopped for a second and pondered. "A few more would be quite nice to have. Moreover, after we train them, I can sell them as Dual Cultivation Furnaces to the Peach Blossom sect. The profits should be above any loss she can make us incur."

The Wolf Patriarch and the others didn't react to his actions. They were more than used to it.

While Garudas were similar to Harpies in the sense that they were a very sexually liberated race, Garudas were more dominant, even sometimes forcing themselves on people.

The number of enemies they had is one of the reasons they were unable to increase their ranking in the Thirty-Three clans. However, because the Garuda Patriarch was very strong, and the people they offended usually weren't powers that could afford to provoke him, there weren't any top-tier experts that had decided to take action against them.

Then, with a bit of resentment but underlying fear, the Garuda Patriarch spoke as he restarted his waist movements. "Also, that bitch Tengliu also seems to be interested in that dragon. If I get her before Tengliu and I make her my toy, I'm sure that Tengliu will get quite angry, hahaha."

The other two pondered, and the Wolf Patriarch commented. "Let's ignore it, then. We'll react when it starts to happen. If it truly is something that we can't deal with We'll resolve it later."

However, they would come to regret this two weeks later, as an extremely contagious and deadly disease surge would envelop many of the main cities governed by them.

The number of deaths in the first week neared 3000, but in the second week, the number had skyrocketed to 50,000.

Moreover, looking at the spreading power, it didn't appear as if it would end soon.

Another letter arrived when the outbreak seemed unstoppable. It was as simple as the previous one.

"I told you not to mess with me. The disease will eventually get even the Spiritual King Body Cultivators. Deal with the consequences or pay an appropriate price. If it is not sincere enough, don't even try to get in touch with me.

-Astral Sky Sect Master."

On the same day the letter reached, many people of the Wolf clan capital, Garuda Capital, and the main Hall of the Silent Fangs heard a wrathful roar that shook the hearts of everyone. "YASENIA! I'M NOT GOING TO FORGIVE THIS. IT IS WAR NOW!"

The Garudas were even angrier since a few maids had sneaked into their cities, rescuing all the captured Astral Sky disciples and also slaughtering a few thousand that had touched those disciples.

They couldn't even do anything as the process was finished in less than ten seconds. Before the news reached the Garuda Patriarch, the maids were long gone.

*****

Tatyana: Wow, my little treasure is merciless I love it~.

Yasenia: I wonder what they will do next.

Tatyana: From those eyes You have a plan, right?

Yasenia: Sigh, nothing can escape your eyes.

Tatyana: How could it? I know you better than you do yourself~.

Author: I summon you!

Anonymous1: Hi!

Andrea: Oh? You gained some sort of name.

Anonymous1: Well, I asked Author to call me as such since I've been the one asking the previous questions.

Andrea: Well, what do you have for us today?

Anonymous1: Can you explain the difference between mastering an element and mastering an Intent linked to this element? For example, Fire element and Fire intent.

Mirrory: Well, the difference is subtle but essential. If you master Fire Intent, meaning you reach level Nine of Fire Intent, you will be able to apply that concept to every attack of yours. Your punches, your skills, your energy Everything will have the concept of fire in it.

Mirrory: Meanwhile, if you master the Fire element, first, you need to be an extremely high-level cultivator to "Master" an element. Mastering an element implies being completely in control over the element. For example, with a thought, you can manipulate the ambient Fire Energy to your will or even create or destroy it, becoming almost immune to any fire that's created with less "mastery" over yours.

Mirrory: What we call that is a Law. So, to master an element completely, you have to master the Law related to that element.

Anonymous1: So When Tatyana used her [Death Law] previously

Mirrory: Yes. That implies that Tatyana's mastery over the Death Element is already reaching monstrous standards.

Anonymous1: Wow.

Author: Yep, and that's all for today! Bye-bye~.

Chapter 720: Powers Gather in Astral Sky Sect.

A group of thirteen high-level Epoch Core people were walking down the streets of the Astral Sky Sect, looking around at the state of the place.

The leading man, with four jade wings on his back, spoke after a long moment of silence. "The concentration of energy, even in the outer edges, is incredible. How did she do it?"

The Mermaid Queen commented. "I thought my secret land had one of the best places to cultivate talents, but compared even to the streets of the Astral Sky Clan, the difference is like mud and purified water."

Lin Meiyang, the Sect Master of the Nine Pure Melody Sect, laughed elegantly and spoke. Her voice was enchanting and melodic, like the singing of an oriole. "I thought that little girl was lying to me, but it seems to be true. Astral Sky Sect does hide more than it looks."

A silver-feathered harpy snorted. "I told you, and none of you listened to me. We wouldn't need to visit her if that wasn't the case."

A purple-haired woman with purple eyes rolled her eyes. "Tengliu, stop rubbing it in their faces."

Tengliu smirked. "Why? Are you afraid of them, Coraline?"

Coraline sighed. "Childish."

To which Tengliu answered with a laugh.

The rest of the people didn't speak. They hadn't expected Yasenya to be so vicious as to unleash a disaster of such a scale. Although only three weeks had passed since it happened, each of the 30 cities targeted had lost an average of 20,000 people. The spreading power of whatever Yasenya unleashed, even when the fatality rate was so high, was something none of these powers had seen before.

These people have gone to speak with the three affected powers, but all of them told them that they weren't going to rest until Astral Sky Sect disappeared from the face of the continent.

The ones present were the leaders of the Jade Thunderbirds, Ocean swallowing Mermaids, Devil Smashing Apes, Stormfeather Harpies, Glass Scale Lamias, Sun Engulfing Ore Lobsters, Ember Phoenixes, Nine Golden Body Sect, Nine Pure Melody Sect, Nine Herb Fragrance Sect, Nine Grudge Poison Sect, Holy Beast Empire, and Forest Sky Empire.

While they walked, they tried extending their spiritual senses to investigate, but to their shock and confusion, they couldn't spread their spiritual sense further than a kilometer. It didn't even reach one percent compared to what they could usually do.

They couldn't spread it further because of the pressure the formation covering the entire sect created.

While Tengliu had warned them that she wouldn't guarantee they would leave this place alive if they did something stupid, they hadn't initially believed her. How could a formation strong enough to suppress peak-tier powerhouses exist?

However, once inside the sect, they felt like birds with their wings clipped.

This had raised the evaluation of the mysterious Astral Sky Sect one extra notch. Then, discovering the absolute difference in energy quality compared to outside this place made them even more interested but cautious about them.

As long as the Astral Sky Sect didn't fall, this environment was enough to create many future powerhouses and become a power that nobody would be able to ignore.

Furthermore, the strange architecture of the cities that clearly didn't follow the rounded design of the Distancia continent added to all previously said.

The Female Sect Master of the Nine Herb Fragrance Sect looked around with interest. "Don't mention cultivation; just the treasures this ambient energy can grow is enough to give them a competitive edge in the entire continent. Look at that shop. It's just a stall selling spiritual-rank herbs, but the concentration and purity of the Spiritual Herb are comparable to a low-level Magic Rank herb found in our gardens. When their foundations are laid across the entire place, Astral Sky Sect might become one of the Nine sects."

While a few powers present wanted to deny her words, nobody spoke. The flourishing ambient around them was enough to tempt them, not to mention rogue cultivators, noble families, and other powers that weren't large-scale. If they knew about this, even mercenary teams and other powers would be drawn to become affiliated with the Astral Sky Sect.

The outer sect was the place that occupied the biggest part of the entire place, and soon, they arrived at the inner sect.

Structure-wise, the Astral Sky Sect was structured like a very large city with different walls separating the different areas. The city also wasn't concentric but linear. Since there was only one way to enter the sect, and that was the valley between the mountains surrounding the place, the city inside the sect went from outer to inner to core to central areas.

The other places, like the training areas and other benefits like the trial of towers, were all located outside the linear city structure so that everyone could participate in them as long as they had enough Astral Sky Points.

The wall separating the outer from the inner sect had two gates, one for entry and another for exiting the area. Once they approached the gate, they looked at the two people guarding it, and they realized that they were inner sect members.

For menial professions and similar, there were plenty of missions that gave them Astral Sky Points. So, cultivators that didn't want to venture outside could take guarding, escorting, guiding, cleaning, producing, and similar missions and would receive a corresponding reward, mainly in Astral Sky Points.

Everything was set up to create an inner economy and keep everything balanced.

After crossing into the inner sect area, the various leaders couldn't help but widen their eyes. If they thought that the outer sect area already had good ambient energy, the inner sect had at least three times better atmosphere.

There weren't nearly as many people in the inner area, but the products, houses, and other places were of a higher quality.

Tengliu laughed. "If you are already surprised. Wait until we reach little Yasenias place."

The Mermaid Queen asked, dubious. "Are you saying that they have a better place than this?"

Tengliu smirked. "Better? The energy here is pathetic compared to what the core parts of the sect have."

Coraline saw that they didn't believe them, so she supported Tengliu's claim. "There are times that I honestly don't want to leave. If I didn't have a few responsibilities back in my Kingdom, I would've stayed in my residence here."

The leader of the Golden Body Sect, a man with a bulky physique and a lively attitude, asked. "A residence?"

Coraline smiled. "Of course. Since my little Ebirah is quite loved by little Yasenias and the others, they insisted on giving me a house to live with her."

Tengliu, Wurias, and Gireilas nodded. "We also have one."

The Mermaid Queen was silent for a second and asked. "How many residences are there?"

Tengliu laughed. "What, interested?"

"If anybody said otherwise, they would be lying. Even in the inner area, I feel like I can break through 15% faster than in my sect's holy land. If your words are true, I might even be able to loosen the bottleneck quicker."

Tengliu saw that the woman remained calm and elegant, not showing awkwardness, and snorted. Then, she answered. "Well, you'll have to ask her."

Their journey took a while since the leaders couldn't help themselves and explore a bit of the sect's core area.

There were even low-level Earth Rank treasures for sale, so they bought a few.

The leader of the Herb Fragrance sect was looking at a pill with wonder in her eyes. "This [Basic Energy Gathering Pill] is amazing. It has 100% purity, and the effects should be noticeable up to the mid-level Ethereal Soul realm. Moreover, it is only a low-level Earth Rank pill."

An inconspicuous middle-aged man was holding a vial with a reddish fluid with curiosity. "They even sell poisons. Not even my Nine Grudge Poison Sect is as casual with them. Well, they are quite expensive compared to their antidotes, but even then, it's quite interesting."

A middle-aged man wearing golden robes commented. "It seems I didn't make the trip for nothing."

He was handsome and heroic, with a pair of beautiful draconic golden wings, eyes, and a short, similarly golden tail. He was the actual Emperor of the Holy Beast Empire.

His aura was as strong, if not stronger, than the Patriarch of the Jade Thunderbirds.

Walking near him, a woman with royal elegance wore a green dress. She was the Forest Sky Empress. "I agree. At first, I thought that it was too much for us to come here personally. But it seems that it was worth it. I didn't expect such a perfect land for cultivation to exist."

As the leaders spoke, a woman appeared from the shadows, making them tense up.

The reason for their wariness is that they hadn't realized that she was here before she appeared.

Doriel swept them with her completely black eyes. "Hm, nobody tries to be sneaky. It seems that I won't have to kill anybody today. It's such a shame. Come with me, Young Miss has been waiting for a while."

A few of the top powers frowned, feeling disrespected. However, they were now in another person's home, so provoking them for a minor offense was not worth it.

When they arrived at the central area, the energy density became even higher, making a few of them change expressions, and by the time they arrived at Yaseenia's office, their faces had become a bit stiff.

The energy around here was so dense that it felt like they were walking through a thin layer of energy.

'If I train here, my chances of breaking my bottleneck would increase severalfold.'

While marveling about their surroundings, Doriel brought them back from fantasizing. "We are here, please enter. Young Miss is waiting inside."

Doriel opened the doors, and they all stepped inside Yaseenia's office, where the energy was even denser as complicated arrays surrounded the walls.

The room was much larger than they thought, making them confused. After all, they could see that there was more space inside the room than outside.

Other than size, there was plenty of low-key but luxurious furniture, making the room look elegant instead of extravagant.

However, their hearts twitched when they analyzed the materials of the room's items.

Everything was low-level Heaven-ranked and above. Not even their throne rooms were this luxurious.

On the other side of the beautiful and elegant room, they saw a dragoness playing with a purple-gold dragon.

It was clear from her aura that the purple-gold dragon was a child, making them think that she was probably Yasenia's child. Even if the dragon's body was very different compared to Yasenia's dragon shape, the golden eyes both dragons shared were identical.

The gorgeous woman sitting on her chair relaxedly lifted her face, revealing her alluring facial features, and smiled. If it were not because of their high-level cultivation, they would've probably felt their hearts skip a beat.

All of them could confidently say that the dragon woman before them was in the top five beauties they'd ever seen. If they didn't come here with other plans, or if they didn't know that the woman before them already had lovers, some of these powerhouses would've felt tempted to woo the woman.

Then, the beautiful woman's luscious lips parted, releasing a mellow and slightly deep voice that caressed everyone's ears. "Please, come inside and make yourselves comfortable. There are enough chairs for everyone."

Kali: A nice tour through the sect.

Andrea: They were shocked, hahaha.

Yasenia: I'm surprised. I always thought that the energy density of our sect was low. Even a standard room back in the Rita Academy would triumph over the densest energy place in our sect.

Tatyana: Well, it is normal. Compared to Sky Continent, Distancia is nothing but a baby.

Yasenia: I see.

Author: Let's move on. I summon you!

Cyan Mulder: Hello~.

Yasenia: Hello!

Cyan Mulder: Author, please summon the little baby dragon. I want to ask her something~.

Author: Right away.

Kaleina: Hello~.

Yasenia: Baby, come with Mommy~.

Kaleina: Mommy, I need to answer this big sister first!

Yasenia: O-Oh, you are right.

Kaleina: Big sister, what is your question?

Cyan Mulder: You are so cute, darling. The question is very easy, listen. What is your favorite thing to do with each of your mommies?

Kaleina: Hm

Cyan Mulder: Is it a bit more difficult than I expected? Haha.

Kaleina: Well, with Mama Andrea, I like to see her forge! It is very nice to see metal taking shape into another thing.

Cyan Mulder: I see. What about the others, Kaleina?

Kaleina: With Mama Kali, I like to relax~. She smells very nice, and staying by her side is very peaceful.

Kaleina: Then With Mama Angel, I like to play! It is also very fun.

Kaleina: With Mama Cecile, I like to hunt.

Cyan Mulder: Hunt?

Kaleina: Mama Cecile takes me outside to hunt! It is really fun when I can kill my prey and sink my fangs in their neck. Aren't I awesome?

Cyan Mulder: T-The most awesome in the World!

Kaleina: Hehehe. Then, then, with Mama Evelyn, I also like to play. Seeing her create dresses is also very nice.

Cyan Mulder: Dresses? Do you have any? I would love to see that.

Kaleina: Look!

Cyan Mulder: Ah! You are so pretty!

Kaleina: *Shy* Hehehe. Thank you, big sister.

Kaleina: Also, with Mama Tatyana, I like to learn. She teaches me many things.

Cyan Mulder: I see. What about Yasenia?

Kaleina: With Mommy? Everything is fun!

Yasenia: Hehehe.
