

Her Seven Little Bodyguards - Chapter 1049

Using a metaphorical approach, Vania dedicated the artwork to her babies. The children had become jealous when she previously dedicated a painting to Hanson.

'Though simple, I must say that the painting is excellent. It takes decades of experience to achieve such skills.'

'Having studied for 15 years, I can say with certainty that I couldn't create such a masterpiece. Well done, Vania!'

Even with ordinary works, Vania still managed to stand out.

Getting praise from everyone, Vania decided to give them a treat. "Didn't you all want to learn painting from me?"

"Tonight at 8 o'clock, I'll see you in my live broadcast.

"We'll learn this artwork together with those who enjoy painting."

'A master's class is precious. Even though I can't paint, I'll have to tune in.'

'I wonder how much the market value of this live broadcast would be.'

'I'm so ready for the live stream!'

'President Greyson is so good to her fans.'

After the episode was aired, staff revealed that Vania's performance this time was intentionally simple to give other contestants an opportunity to showcase their skills.

However, the other contestants proved to be disappointing. Even with Vania holding back, they still couldn't achieve any breakthroughs.

This left the audience feeling a bit disappointed.

Ironically, Vania, who initially didn't intend to attract attention, ended up trending as the number one topic after the show.

At eight o'clock in the evening—

'Is this her studio? It's so grand!'

'Can we all agree that this studio is the best in the country?'

'No, no, I think it could even be ranked first internationally.'

'Ah, I really envy Vania.'

As soon as the live stream began, netizens started engaging in lively discussions.

Just now when the camera panned, numerous famous paintings by renowned artists throughout history came into their sight.

Each of them was priceless.

Seeing the netizens' comments, Vania chuckled.

"Actually, those paintings are all replicas. I prefer to collect replicas."

Saying so, she even went out of her way to showcase the paintings up close.

'What??' A row of question marks appeared in the live chat.

Soon, netizens began to respond.

'Ah, I remember during the previous filming of the program, President Luke mentioned that most of the decorations at home are replicas.'

'Yeah, I think he said that only the replicas are truly unique, right?'

Vania nodded. "Exactly. I believe replicas are the ones that are truly unique.

"After all, if I want to buy genuine ones, I can buy them at any time. In contrast, it's not easy to come across replicas.

"Besides, I'm not counting on the paintings to appreciate in value."

As netizens listened to Vania's response, they initially laughed along with her.

But as they listened further, they stopped laughing.

Vania simply didn't care about the trivial amount of money that came from appreciation. Besides, she herself was an international design master. Her works would be collected by many too.

'Well, poor people like us can never truly understand why you would buy replicas.'

'D*mn, Vania. You must be quite rich.'

'Vania, you must be the GOAT in your industry.'

As Vania read the comments, she burst into laughter again.

What on earth is a "GOAT" though? Although she didn't understand the term, she didn't ask out loud.

"Let's get started with today's topic now. Is everyone ready with their drawing supplies?"

'Yes, we're ready.'

The netizens commented in the live chat.

"Let's begin then," Vania said, holding her brush and ready to teach.

Suddenly, the door of the studio was swung open.

Since the camera was focused on Vania, the viewers couldn't see who had entered.

They only heard a man's voice asking, "Darling, would you like me to be your art model?"

'Ah! Is that President Luke's voice? Did I hear that right?'

'Art model? President Luke does have some interesting ideas.'

'President Greyson, let's paint a human figure today.'

'President Luke may be late, but he'll always come.'

'He's here. Finally, we get to see President Luke expressing affection again.'

Vania thought that Hanson would come, but she didn't expect him to become so witty in his remarks.

He even started to spice things up.

Suppressing the urge to hit him, Vania replied mercilessly, "No need."

An art model? That's the kind of idea he would come up with.

But he's better off as a spectator.

Unable to resist a quip, she replied sarcastically, "It would be a waste of talent for you to be a model."

On the other hand, hearing Hanson volunteering to be a model, the viewers in the live broadcast became excited.

They were openly eavesdropping on the conversation between the two.

'I feel like we're hearing something that we shouldn't have heard. It's thrilling.'

'President Greyson's live broadcasts are getting more and more exciting.'

'I'm blushing. President Luke sure knows how to flirt with his wife.'

Just then, Hanson's seductive voice sounded again. "How can it be a waste of talent? It's my honor to be your art model!"

He even posed. "Darling, how do I look in this pose? Am I handsome?"

Vania couldn't bear to look at him anymore and refused to answer. copy right hot novel pub

Yet, Hanson kept asking.

Finally, with a flushed face, Vania couldn't hold it in any longer and growled, "Can you stop saying whatever comes to your mind?" We are on a live broadcast right now!

Hanson nodded seriously.

Just as Vania thought he agreed not to speak recklessly anymore, he answered, "I know you're doing a live broadcast. I'm watching it too." Saying so, he showed her his phone screen. He was indeed watching the live broadcast.

With no signs of embarrassment, he shamelessly added, "The fans really enjoy our banter."

But Vania didn't enjoy it. She was left speechless, as she realized that he had absolutely no shame when it came to being in front of the camera.

In the live chat, her fans were all speaking up for Hanson.

'We would love to see President Luke. Please bring him in!'

'President Luke is oh so charming.'

Vania caught a glimpse of the comments in the live chat.

Immediately, she quipped, "Is he that charming?" Doesn't anyone find Hanson childish?

Vania's question had an impact on the fans. Now, they were all busy listing Hanson's glorious achievements in the live chat.

In fact, they even questioned Vania, asking why she hadn't given in yet facing such an outstanding man.

Vania was choked speechless.

Hanson didn't let her off the hook either and continued asking, "Darling, am I no longer charming to you?"

Thinking that his charm tactics were losing their effect, Hanson felt the urge to think of a way to change his wife's perception.

Vania rolled her eyes helplessly.

What did that have to do with what she just said?

She got up and gave her spot to him. "I'll leave today's live broadcast to you then.

Since the fans wanted to see him, she decided to go along with their wishes.

Hanson gladly took over the hosting duty.

Once he took over the role, he started to liven up the atmosphere. "Everyone, whatever that you want to ask, just type them down in the live chat."

The netizens didn't mind whether Hanson would answer their questions or not. They just asked anyway.

'Is President Greyson really pregnant with another baby?'

'President Luke, how did you manage to get your wife pregnant with septuplets? What position did you use during you-know?'

'Tell us please. Did you do it seven times in one night?'

The questions were getting more and more absurd. In the end, the live stream was abruptly shut down.

And it was due to inappropriate content.

This was the first time that a live broadcast was shut down because of inappropriate content.

The fans couldn't stop laughing at Hanson's expense.

As they made joking comments about the incident, Hanson's name made it to the top trending topics.

'Hahaha. I watched that live stream. Poor President Luke. He didn't even get to answer any questions yet.'
