Chapter 511 Talks With Seelima (Part-2)

Hearing Alexander's not-at-all-concerned answer, the Queen Mother understood that convincing Alexander to apply his expertise to develop Adhan would be a fool's errand.

Which she found to be a shame, as seeing how much he was able to transform the barren lands of Zanzan, she could only wonder how much he would be able to do to a resource and population-rich region like Adhan.

But since Alexander had very clearly said he was not interested, Seelima did not push him further.

You could lead a horse to water, but you could not make it drink it.

While Alexander made his thinking even clearer to the Queen Mother, saying, "To be honest, I do not mind if Pasha Farzah takes control of the court."

"In fact, as long as he keeps Ptolomy on the throne, I think that will be better for us."

"Because he is very unlikely to muck it up as Ptolomy could."

Alexander hid nothing of his preference on who he wanted to see running things.

And surprisingly the Queen Mother did not seem at all offended by this, as she instead only raised her eyebrow and tempted with a bit of playful demeanor, "But don't you want to be the one running the court?"

"Hahaha," And this absurd proposal made Alexander burst out laughing,

He neither had the prestige nor the know-how to navigate the complex machinations of Adhan's court and its politics.

And the Queen Mother of course knew this, so this was just her testing Alexander's greed.

Something Alexander had passed with flying colors.

So as a final test, her lips curled up in an amusing tone, and asked with her eyes narrowing, "Then if you do not mind who runs the court, what if I killed Ptolomy after having his son?!"

The Queen Mother very casually dropped here an apocalyptic idea, the contents of which were nothing as lightheaded as the tone she said it with.

And it even made Lady Inayah who was quietly sitting jerk involuntarily.

'After killing two kings, she seems to have developed a taste for it,' The raven-haired black lady thought to herself, as she would not put it past someone as ambitious as Seelima to actually do that.

After all, she had killed the father of her child before.

While Alexander too was shaken by the nonchalance with which she uttered this idea, so openly and unreservedly, like she was not planning to commit regicide, but simply squash a bug.

This was definitely not something one said so breezily.

So it made him wonder if she was really serious, or if she was looking at Alexander's reaction.

Because Adhan under Ptolomy, and Adhan under her would be two completely different beasts.

And though Alexander might tolerate a tame, weak Adhan under Ptolomy, it might not be necessarily the case if Seelima was to rule over it.

At least that was her type of thinking.

While Alexander who was posed with the hypothetical scenario thought for a while on how to answer, oscillating between whether to act aghast at the thought and swear his loyalty to Ptolomy or to produce a toady smile and condone the act.

And a while later he gave this answer, "Your Royal Highness, I think you misunderstand me."

"You believe that I'm wary of you. Or that I do not like you. Or that I think you are scheming against me."

"But that is not true at all." He shook his head as he said so, before lightly smiling and saying,

"In fact, I actually think you ruling Adhan's court is quite a good idea. And I support it."

"And this is because you are smart."

"And it is much easier to live with a smart person."

"Because a smart person will do things logically. Things that benefit oneself."

"And that means you can predict them."

"Whereas a foolish person will do whatever he likes."

"And it is very difficult to play with a chaotic teammate, who can easily sabotage his own team."

Alexander had clearly made his preference known.

And the answer made Lady Inayah sitting close blurt out aghast, "Alexander, y...you." as she then turned to the Queen Mother to shout, "And you too Seelima! What are you two saying?"

The lady could not believe the two people sitting near her were even discussing such a topic.

And it made the goblet she held in her hands shake uncontrollably.

After all, this noble lady still held some respect for the king unlike the woman next to her.

While the lady next to her chuckled at the answer, and in a flirty tone posed, "So, you are saying I'm predictable huh?" I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

"Yes. But in a good way," Alexander smiled the reply, adding,

"That's why although some might think I prefer His Majesty Ptolomy because he is more malleable, but actually I would much prefer to see you in control of Adhan."

"Of course, I would aid in the act. But I will not stop it either."

While Lady Inayah looked at the two with incredulous eyes, the frank answer made Seelima ruminate for a while as she hummed, ".....".

And she quite liked what she heard.

It seemed that if she ever thought of disposing of Ptolomy, Alexander would at least not be a hindrance.

Now, this was only a thought, but the Queen Mother liked to keep her options open.

And so in a cheerful tone, she raised her goblet and roasted, "Well then Lord Alexander, let our alliance be as long and enduring as the earth itself," as she then gulped down her wine, and Alexander followed.

This was what the Queen mother really wanted to talk to Alexander about, to find his interest in other province's

And given that Alexander had expressed no interest in it, it meant Pasha Farzah and her could carve up the court with no problem.

As Seelima was done with her round of questioning, Alexander had one last one of his own,

"By the way, I have to ask," He prefaced, "Since Your Highness is so interested in Adhan's politics, why are you here? Why not in Adhan managing His Majesty?"

This was a very good question, as given how ambitious Seelima was, one would figure she would be spending every waking moment of her life laying with Ptolomy to get pregnant and secure her position.

pandasnovel.com But there was a complex reason to this "Should I say because I enjoy the view here?" The Queen Mother wanted to give an insincere answer.

But given that Alexander had revealed mostly his true thoughts, she felt it was necessary to reciprocate the action.

So she said with a bit of a sigh, "The poison that killed Alosmer was procured by Farzah, given by Inayah, and mixed in the food by me."

"This is almost common knowledge in the upper echelons of the nobility circle. Amenheraft made sure of it."

"And he did this because he knew most nobles would not side with a group that committed regicide."

"And so the counter plan that we came up with was to put all the blame on me, reasoning that it was I who actually poisoned the food, and then have me leave Adhan for a while as the nobles calmed down."

"And it has worked till now, as most nobles chose to ignore the regicide given the main culprit did not show her face in Adhan for the time being."

The Queen Mother here revealed something Alexander had no idea of, as this secret deal was struck between the three men and women and they did not think it was relevant to inform him.

So he was surprised to know that the Queen Mother was in effective exile here.

This was really unexpected.

'No wonder she agreed to the hostage deal so readily! It was the perfect happenstance for her,' Alexander also felt enlightened, as well as understanding why neither the mother nor daughter were trying to get pregnant right now- because declaring such a child as the crown prince would be politically too immature.

Some time needed to pass to cloud the nobles' memories.

So he gave a light smile, and said, "I see. Then I hope your time in Zanzan is enjoyable,"

"How long do you intend to stay?"

"What! Tired of me already?", the Queen Mother gave a teasingly smile at Alexander's inquiry, before answering, "Not too long."

"Given I will spend six months in Adhan, and six months in Zanzan from now on, it will be three years for you."

Meaning the Queen Mother intended to flirt between existing in the public eye and in private exile for the next six months, or until the armistice ended.

And this made Alexander naturally question, "But will not staying in Adhan for so long defeat the purpose of your exile?"

"Haha, well that boy Ptolomy will get lonely if I stay any shorter," The Queen Mother pointed out.

Which was very true given how crazed he had appeared with Alexander when talking about the two women, and Alexander did worry how the manchild would react if he did not see them for too long.

While the redhead further added,

"And besides, those old coots at the court still need to be reminded that I still exist, don't they? I might be in exile, but I'm not dead, haha."

Sure enough, Seelima's power-hungry nature also had a part to play. as she seemed to willing to jeopardize the entire plan just to show the nobles just that.

And she justified the act by saying,

"Don't worry, Farzah has informed me the nobles might be as hostile as we thought them to me."

Chapter 512 Reasons To Go (Part-1)

Hearing of Seelima's planned journey, Alxx was of the mind that she did not take even that risk.

Who knew how the nobles would react upon actually seeing her?

Or how accurate Pasha Farzah's information was?

But that was ultimately her decision and not something he could really butt his head in.

And so he nodded and thinking the conversion was over, attempted to excuse himself.

"Lord Alxx, please sit, we have something more to discuss," But he would be proved wrong was this invitation came from Lady Inayah.

Who then explained to a surprised Alxx, "Although you will not have to go Adhan as an advisor to the king, we would appreciate it if you could at least come to the capital during the Jtaama this year. As a guest."

This made Alxx raise his eyebrows at this request, "....for social purposes?"

He asked with an enigmatic smile, knowing that during this pilgrimage many nobles or their representatives would come to Adhan to perform the holy rite.

Even Amenheraft would be there.

But Alxx was not really interested in meeting anyone there.

He knew he was not welcomed by most Adhanian nobles, so what did it matter what the others did?

"Haha, no, no I know that you have no interest in that," And it seemed Lady Inayah knew Alxx well enough.

So she reasoned, "No, the reason why I want you to come is because I believe the journey will be quite fortuitous for you!"

"I believe you have a lot of gain from going there, so much so that you might even regret not going there."

This bold statement produced a intrigued low mutter from Alxx, "Oh?", as he could see little of that happening.

Other than the legumnum, there was little he desired from Adhan.

And he was pretty sure Lady Inayah knew this.

So he waited for the ruler of Agrinat to explain herself.

And the mature lady began, "For instance, I remember that my lord wants to mint his own coinage."

pandasnovel.com "But have you thought about minting the ropal!?"

The moment she said this, it felt a loud boom had erupted across the whole room, and the whole place seemed to have all its sound taken out.

The ropal was the exclusive coinage of the royal family and one of their most powerful trading tool to control Adhanian.

For instance, the royal family could impose sanctions on misbehaving nobles using the ropal, by such as declaring that their own coins could not be traded for the ropal, which would cripple their local economy because it meant they would be unable to pay the temple tithe demanded of them every year.

The royal family did not even need to go that far most of the time, as they could just peg the ropal too high against their coin to make them bleed.

This move would mean more expensive imports for the nobles, and though it would also make exports cheaper, but because many nobles produced just enough to satisfy their own needs, most could not export enough to take advantage of the lower export cost.

But they were almost socially forced to export many expensive things, such as fine food, clothes, timber, and jewelry to keep their social status.

And because no one noble was capable of producing everything they enjoyed, such policies would grievously hurt nobles below the Matbar (Marquiss).

,So Lady Inayah suggesting giving another power the ability to mint this, and thus removing this restraint and even enabling him to employ some of the aforementioned policies was an almost absurd thought.

It would be something like America giving another country the ability to print the dollar.

And so understandably it was enough to make the Queen Mother go, "Inayah! What are you saying! Yo..you!"

It seemed it was her turn to be shocked as she thought, 'This kid is already hard enough to control as is. And Ptolomy has already made so many concessions.'

'Now even giving him the ability ropals...will we even be able to call ourselves the royal family a while later?'

And Seelima knew that Lady Inayah must be aware of all the inside plays, which made her suggestion all the more shocking.

And in that same vein,, Alxx too was very much moved.

He certainly knew of the ropal's powers and understood that if he had the ability to mint them, instead of making his own coin which had no name or prestige would make both his internal and external trade a hundred times easier.

Now, in this time period, a coin's prestige was very important, as it made that coin made it very much recognized, and its value very much trusted.

Now what did it mean by 'very trusted value?'

Well for coins of this time, their value was usually determined by the amount of gold, silver, or any other precious metal it contained.

There were exceptions where nobles minted their own coin made of iron or bronze and fixed it against the ropal or gold, even when the value of the metal did not match the value of gold it represented.

But those were the rare exceptions, and never usable outside that noble's particular territory.

Because if you only use it between yourself, you could even use bottle caps as currency. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

But that did not mean other powers would exchange their gold and silver for your crappy coin.

So in general, coins were made of precious metals.

And many times the value of these metals was so much that they were usually never made purely out of them.

For instance, 1 gm of gold was 5 ropals, which was already too big of a note.

And conversely, if a coin was to be made of just 1 gm of pure gold, it would be also physically too small, making it prone to breaking or one losing it.

So usually coins were mixed with everyday metals to give them weight and dimensions.

And this gave the ones minting the coin the chance to mix more filler metal and decrease the weight of precious metals in their coins.

And because the public value of the amount of precious metal would be said beforehand, traders would trade according to that, and lose out on every transaction.

This phenomenon was called debasing and had been widely practiced throughout human history, both here and in Alxx's previous life, usually when an empire's finances were not doing so great.

And it was not like only mixed coins were subject to this.

Even pure gold coins could have a bit of their edges shaved off, not enough to make a visible difference in size or weight, but in this way, over the minting of billions of such coins, tons of gold could be saved.

Or worse, so-called pure gold coins might just be mixed with impure metals to keep the coin's size and weight but decrease its value.

Now, all such techniques could be caught.

In fact, this was the kind of problem the king had given Archimedes.

But as it could be easily seen it was a very hard thing to do in everyday trading, and made even harder when these lower quality coins would be mixed with genuine ones.

And this is where the ropal came in as it was very prestigious and its value 'very trusted'.

Because for all its faults, the Adhanian royalty had never debased its currency.

So the ropal was the standard that every noble traded against, confident they would get a fair trade.

And it was this trust in the coin that gave the royal family power to enforce the sanctions.

So knowing this background, it was not difficult to see the Queen Mother's shock and Alxx's intrigue.

"What do you mean, Lady Inayah?" And his tone clearly changed here, from nonchalance to thick anticipation.

"Haha, well, I know that you have some interesting things being made here. So if you could divulge some to His Highness...." Lady Inayah trailed off in a wistful tone, indicating for Alxx to trade his inventions for the privilege.

"..." Alxx did not say anything but looked expectantly at the Queen Mother.

If the thing had the slightest chance of working, it would need the strong arm of the Queen Mother.

'No! Never! Forget it,' And this was the instinctual response of Seelima.

But she intelligent woman did not utter them outright.

Seelima had known Lady Inayah long enough to know she would not make the suggestions without very deep consideration.

So she only clenched her teeth and lowly growled, 'Explain!'

"Haha, oh Seelima, I see that you are still stuck in time." Contrary to the heavy mood of her counterpart, the black lady was much more breezy, as she reasoned, "The ropal had its power when the royal family was united. But now....well, I would not be surprised if Amenheraft starts minting his own coin."

"In fact, I think it is only a matter of time."

"And it is very possible that many pashas will switch to that."

Lady Inayah's prediction made the Queen Mother flinch because this was not just possible, but inevitable.

Hence Lady Inayah's next statements came naturally,

"So the question is how to boost the amount of ropal?"

"And I believe you know the answer."

As the mature noble lady then turned to Alexander to sweetly smile and say,

"This will require personal negotiations with His Majesty."

"And although I cannot promise anything, it is certainly worth a try, wouldn't you say?"

It seemed Lady Inayah was right.

Alexander would really regret it if he passed up on this chance.

Chapter 513 Reasons To Go (Part-2)

Lady Inayah's frank analysis of their situation made the Queen Mother think about a problem she had not yet considered.

The noble lady was 100% correct in saying that Amenheraft would start to mint his own coin.

And the would-be result of that was made very clear in Lady Inayah's following analysis.

"The former king might be as poor as a beggar now, but that does not mean this situation will last too long." She began, explaining,

"Because at one point, all the tithes from all the temples across the empire will be coming to him."

"They might not have arrived right now due to the provinces still recovering from the drought and making no income, but within a few years, they will start coming in without a doubt."

"And that will start making Amenherft fabulously rich."

Lady Inayah ominously hypothesized as a rich Amenheraft meant an Amenheraft with a big army.

And she was still not yet finished with her doom forecast, as she continued,

"Even if we assume not all the rest of the nine provinces pay their due, at least a few provinces will surely do."

"Many of the rulers of those provinces seriously believe in Amenheraft's divinity and will surely proclaim their allegiance to their king."

"Which also means that all our ropals will start getting remelted into other coins, decreasing their supply and with it our influence."

"Until finally, we are left with nothing!"

As she finished, Lady Inayah's final sentence made a chill run through the Queen Mother's spine, and her hands involuntarily jerked.

Losing her power and influence was undoubtedly her biggest nightmare.

"So you are saying that by using the gold that Alexander gets from abroad, we can keep minting ropals and so keep our supply?" The Queen Mother had enough grasp of economics to understand that concept.

"Yes!" Came a swift nod, adding, "And not only abroad. We should also focus on doing trade inside our country,"

"Because by doing so we will be able to keep the supply of ropals high as we will not accept any payments except in ropals."

"Meaning everyone will need to keep ropals with them, and not remelt them to other coins."

'While trading with other countries will give us the gold we will need to contend with the nine provinces.'

"Because you know, our biggest gold mines are in the Jahruma and Sahum provinces."

"And that's also why I wanted Alexander to share some of his inventions." Lady Inayah finished with a slant eyeing on Alexander.

It seemed that just as the Queen Mother had predicted, the merchant lady had indeed made the offer after a great deal of thought, confident that the increase in production of all those new products would bring great benefits to them.

As for which particular products she was eyeing, well the specifics could wait.

"Increase trade? With other countries? Like you always wanted?" The Queen Mother, ignoring all the other analyses, chose to focus on those specific words and sent a sharp look upon hearing it.

The reason for this was because she was one of the hardline traditionalists who saw foreign trade as one of the core evils, and it was one of the very few core ideologies that she disagreed with Lady Inayah.

Though it was funny given she had no problem collaborating with foreign powers to oust Alozmer.

But anyway, people did have contradictory personalities, and in the case of Seelima, she justified the deal as only a one-time thing, as opposed to doing regular trade.

"Haha, well a rising tide raises all ships." In response to the Queen Mother's mild glare, Lady Inayah only innocently chuckled the reply, playing it off like she was only an innocent bystander benefitting... which was kind of true.

"Hmph! I sure the rising tide bought with it a navy too!" The Queen Mother lightly snorted at this wag, but ultimately did not object to the proposal.

Because deep down she knew her counterpart was right.

The ropal was no longer the ultra-valuable currency it once was.

And if they did not take measures now, it plummeting through the ground was just around the corner.

And the Queen Mother would rather let 'these foreign influences' as she liked to put it, enter Adhanian than let Amenheraft win so easily.

But she also felt there was still one last roll of the die for her to play.

Hence putting on a coy look, she flitted her eyes, and in a warm voice said, "Lord Alexander...are you willing to sell some of the gold you get? We will even buy it at a higher price, say 52,000 to the kilo."

It seemed the calculating woman saw the privilege of minting the ropal worth that higher price.

"Haha," And Alexander's empty laugh as a reply said all that he thought about the deal.

Don't mention a measly 2,000 to the kg, even an additional 20,000 would not move him enough to take the deal.

Which made the Queen Mother pull a wounded, helpless smile. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

The expression was so natural, and she looked so weak and forlorn that it even made Alexander who knew of her true nature feel a great twinge of regret.

'Seductress! No wonder Alosmer had so many beauties, but still got wound up around her finger,' He then cursed.

But seeing the Queen Mother was even now reluctant to wholeheartedly support the plan, Alexander felt his reply might have been too rude.

So, as if to soothe a bit of the beautiful woman's wounded heart, decided to make the redhead view it from another perspective.

"Your Highness, I believe you might not be viewing our deal the same way as I am."

"You see giving me the ropal is hardly as bad as you are making it to be."

"Because think about what happens if the ropals stay with you and I mint my own money."

"Then, if what Lady Inayah said comes true, the ropal will not become secondary to Amenheraft's currency, but possibly territory!"

Alexander very casually made quite the ballsy little claim, saying that his one little city could produce more value than the biggest and one of the richest provinces in the country.

The size and population difference between the two would even make the match between David and Goliath seem fair.

And any other time, just hearing this would be enough for the Queen Mother to simply walked away from the conversation then and there, saying, "I do not have the time to listen to lunatics."

But knowing that Alexander had just made a deal worth 800 million with the two, and it was likely just half of his stock, the Queen Mother was forced to take stock.

While Alexander was still speaking,

"So, you see, by giving me the ability to mint the ropals, you will be able to keep some of the exclusive powers that come with it."

"And I will be able to use the coin's prestige to ease my trade and commerce."

"It's a win-win."

The end of Alexander's reasoning bought a while of silence among the trop.

"....." And for a while, the only sound the Queen Mother made was a low metallic humming as one of her beautifully manicured nails, painted a bright red circled the mouth of the bronze cup, while her eyebrows were furrowed in thought.

Alexander wondered if someone placed their ears on her head if they would be able to hear 'the spider' weave its webs.

And it was quite a long while before the imperial woman opened her mouth, starting with a sigh, "Ahhh...." as she finally came to terms with her situation.

And finally acquiesced to the proposal, "Okay! I will talk to Ptolomy about it. It seems this is indeed something that needs to be done."

This got a bright smile and a "Yea" cheer from Lady Inayah, while even the usually reserved Alexander revealed his pearly whites.

If it was the love of his life making the offer, Ptolomy was far more likely to accede.

But still, the Queen Mother advised them to not get too excited, saying, "Even if I make the request, just as Inayah said, I cannot guarantee anything."

"Many others in court will certainly not like it," adding,

"And I'm even not sure he will agree to it."

"He might be weak, but it's also this weakness that sometimes makes that child do stupid things. Because he thinks that those make him powerful."

"So it's very much possible he will simply deny the request, or make an absurd demand."

The Queen Mother seemed to know Ptolomy quite well and said this in an exasperated tone like a mother would about a spoilt child, which was normal given that she basically raised him.

And finishing her talk by turning to look at Alexander, she very affirmatively said, "If you want to get the minting rights, you have to come to Adhan."

"Even if in name only, he is the king after all."

Nod

And Alexander agreed with a solemn affirmative shake.

bandasnovel.com There was a limit to how much one could get done by carrier pigeons and riders.

And no matter how much authority Ptolomy actually possessed, still, even as a formality Alexander was required to meet him face to face when wanting this monumental.

Never mind the deal was still not officially struck and there was still the slight chance of failure.

Hence Alexander made up his mind to go.

And in fact, it was not the only thing he needed to go for, as Lady Inayah would go on to list.

Chapter 514 Reasons To Go (Part-3)

The deal reached here put Alexander in quite the good mood.

He had not even considered that such an offer would be on the table.

And this alacritous mood seemed to be easily noticed by Lady Inayah.

"Haha, I'm glad my lord likes my idea," The noble lady hence pointed out, and then asked the critical question, "So have you decided which products you want to sell the secrets to?"

"Hmmm," And this made Alexander subconsciously hum.

This was indeed a point to ponder on.

Paper was the first and easiest choice to choose to sell as it was a low-value but highly labor-intensive product to manufacture.

And for all that effort it would not even one that rich as there was not enough demand for papyrus anyway.

But as for all the others, Alexander was very reluctant to sell any.

The value of glass and sugar did not need to be said, but even the lingerie and soap had secret technologies that he was reluctant to part with so soon.

Inventions such as the spinning jenny and the chemistry of the soaps were something he still wanted to get some good years of use out of.

Not to mention all of them were all luxury products with high-profit margins, in much contrast with the paper.

As for his other industrial inventions like steel and cement, they were strategic resources that Alexander would not consider.

While Adhan had all the salt they even wanted, and Ptolomy would not be interested in the mass production of bricks as it was useless without the cement to effectively use it.

"...My lady, would it be possible for me to use the recipe for the brown sugar?" Hence Alexander made this request, putting on a coy, shy face similar to the one Seelima had made.

"Hah!" And this got a short guffaw from the Queen Mother sitting next to them, almost mirroring the reply Alexander had given her regarding trading his gold for coins.

Oh, how the tables had turned!

And this little reply particularly pleased Seelima because when Alexander had given that reply, she had made a note in her mind to one day surely repay the favor.

But she never imagined the chance would come so quickly.

While hearing the reply Alexander only shook his head as the expected result.

It was only natural the Queen Mother would try to take as much advantage as she could.

And Alexander quite regretted making that prior promise.

But he had only done that because he felt hoarding all the secrets to himself would alienate him even from his allies.

And because he could have never even predicted that such an offer would be even made.

But denied the chance to retract his previous promise, Alexander now got to thinking which products he found the least attractive.

"Lord Alexander, perhaps I can help!" And it was in this great time of his need that this saintly voice of Lady Inayah chimed beside his ear, who cunningly pointed out, "Remember, although you have sold us the brown sugar recipe, you have not agreed to let us sell it to the other nobles."

"So I believe you will be able to sell that to much of the court and buy their consent that way."

"And then His Majesty will be much more likely to agree!"

Lady Inayah pointed out a loophole that Alexander had simply not thought of, mostly because it required both Lady Inayah and Pasha Farzah to play along.

And this advice pleased him almost as much as it irrigated the Queen Mother.

'Ina...Inayah you! Do you like this brat that much?" She spat out.

The Queen Mother felt this was one of the prime opportunities to swindle as much as she could from Alexander, most notably the white sugar recipe.

In fact, when she said she agreed to the proposal, it was said mainly with this product as the prize.

But none of it would work if Lady Inayah and Pasha Farzah did not cooperate.

And the reason why Lady Inayah did not wish to do so baffled her.

Clearly, she would also benefit from Alexander sharing his secrets.

While the lady in question, facing Seelima's accusatory and even somewhat angry look put on a light, angelic smile to say,

"Now, now Seelima. Alex here is our ally. And we should not try to scam him just because we have a chance here."

"What if he makes something even more amazing in the future and then refuses to share?"

"Now wouldn't that be a tragedy?"

Lady Inayah knew the Queen Mother held some prejudice against Alexander, and felt she was being blinded by that emotion.

Now, this statement also showed that Lady Inayah was quite the visionary as many would feel the pinnacle of Alexander's inventions had to be the white sugar. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

Or they would be like Seelima, temporarily blinded by the value of the current thing in front of him to not adequately consider the future.

But in defense of the Queen Mother, there was indeed a reason behind the imperial lady's rashness.

"If he does make something like that he can keep it. I will keep that 100,000 ropals a ton white sugar and be happy." Seelima brashly said out aloud, revealing her plan.

They had not yet discussed which products each side wanted.

And for a moment, this revelation caused a bit of an awkward silence.

Alexander even noticed the Queen Mother go a bit red.

She could not remember the last time she had made such a rookie error.

Perhaps never.

But the fact that she had made it also went on to show how much she wanted that secret.

Because according to her the value of this sugar was so much that she would rather take this guaranteed prize rather than wait for some illusory fruit that Lady Inayah was alluding to.

'Who knows how long that will be?' She justified.

And in many ways, she was correct in her assessment.

Because Alexander really did not have any inventions which could match the sugar's worth pound for pound.

Thus, hearing this desire, Alexander also made his desire clear with a casual wave of his palm, "The white sugar recipe is out of the question for now. You can keep your ropal."

The offhandedness with which he said it fully showed his stance.

And seeing it, after a while the Queen Mother could only reluctantly nod.

'Perhaps in a few years.' But that did not mean she had given up on it entirely.

Only temporarily.

While Lady Inayah seeing this saga come to an end flashed a consoling smile to Alexander and said, "Alex, take your time to make the decision. The meeting is in a few months away."

This made Alexander nod and say, "Thank you."

And these two words showed more respect and sincerity than a whole book could.

For Alexander felt that this noble lady had really helped him out here.

She could have easily joined Seelima to pressure him but she didn't.

And whatever her reason was for doing so, that did not change the fact that Alexander had greatly benefited from it.

"Hahaha, oh Alex, you cutie. Don't be like that! You're making me blush," To Alexander's serious demeanor, Lady Inayah replied only with a breezily, casual tone, and then pronounced, "Also, I do have other reasons I want you to come to Adhan."

"One is because I hope that you can entice some of the more neutral nobles to our site using your new things."

"You can decide what you will use to entice them and the price."

"And secondly because of that thing you mentioned to Pasha Farzah. I think it could be done if approved by His Majesty."

This cryptic sentence naturally drew the Queen Mother's attention, while even Alexander was confused by what Lady Inayah was referring to.

Until she refreshed his memory.

pandasnovel.com "Oh you know, that idea of yours to secretly arm the northern barbarians with your steel weapons and have them attack Rahu and Saibad!" She said placidly.

"What!" And the instant Lady Inayah finished saying her sentence, the Queen Mother almost jumped up from her chair and then turned to look at both of them like they had lost their minds.

In fact, she was so shocked that her lips were trembling with disbelief, and struggled to find the words to describe her emotions.

Rahu and Saibad were Adhania's two of the three northern provinces, and along with Matrak, they had always acted as the bulwark against the northern steep barbarians who would launch regular raids into Adhania to loot and plunder.

So to even suggest that they cooperate with those heathens to attack their country's own territory was not even a thought that had crossed the Queen Mother's mind.

It was beyond an absurd thought, like the US cooperating with a known terrorist group.

"That was just us spitballing. I wasn't serious," And seeing this violent reaction, Alexander quickly tried to calm the engaged woman.

He knew how much the Adhanian nobility hated those tall, white men, and when he had bought the idea of secretly arming those nomadic horsemen with heavy iron weapons, something they seemed to lack, and then pointing them toward their enemies, it was really him throwing out ideas and seeing which stuck.

"That may be, but Farzah and I think the idea was merit." While Lady Inayah did not appear at all fazed by the smoldering volcano sitting beside her, only turning to her to say,

"And Seelima, let us wait to hear what His Majesty has to say."

Now Alexander had three reasons to go to Adhan.

Chapter 515 Seelima And Inayah (R-18) (Part-1)

Lady Inayah's numerous arguments for the trip finally convinced Alexander to take the journey to Adhan.

The potential upsides were too great, and the worst that could happen was him coming back empty-handed.

He also considered this time to be the most optimal for two reasons.

One was the timing.

So the sooner he got his minting going the better.

The sooner he could make the other nobles defect to his own side the better.

And the sooner he could get the permission to arm the northern barbarians and have them attack Adhan's territories to distract Amenheraft, the better.

While the second reason was that he felt that his borders were relatively secure right now, while from the next year, Alexander planned to launch yearly campaigns against other power.

As such he replied with a smile, "Okay Lady Inayah, you have convinced me. I will go to you Adhan during this year's Jtaama."

"Excellent!" The answer naturally got a cheer from the lady, who then proposed, "Let's celebrate."

And to that effect, Alexander raised his hand to toast but was surprised to see none of the ladies follow.

Instead both the ladies only stood up from their chairs.

"...???" Alexander thus looked at the two in askance.

"Hehe, oh you innocent boy, that's not what celebrate means here," Lady Inayah's voice had suddenly changed here, from a joyous, businesslike tone to one hungry with desire.

Clearly, her celebrations were R-rated.

While the woman next to her, the Queen Mother only flashed a playful smirk at him, while she wiggled her fingers towards her maid standing in the distance, who quickly got behind her and started undoing the complicated lacing of her extravagant dress.

Alexander's lips twitched at this impending thing to occur.

It seemed both the women had a very particular plan set up for him.

And he was not sure whether he should excuse himself, or gleefully eat the food being served to him.

And while he was in the midst of this indecision, the body that had so many times tempted him was finally revealed to him.

The heavy red gown of the fiery redheaded Queen Mother fell to the ground with quite some rustle, showing that the combined weight of the fabric and the numerous jewels embedded into them was not insignificant as Alexander focused on the body that was garbed it.

And though the Queen Mother still had her lingerie, it was a sight for him to behold.

The very first thing that attracted his eyes were naturally the twin peaks, which were even more abundant than he had guessed.

And as the two mountains were quartered by a bright red, heavily embellished, lacy bra, it produced a deep valley that tempted Alexander to stick his face in and smother himself.

While moving below, the imperial woman had a smooth, blemishless tummy with some fat that gave it volume and added temptation.

Proceeding it was a willowy waist that seemed to sway in the wind, while her wide hips and the secret garden were covered by a similarly extravagant lacy underwear.

And below that was possibly her most beautiful features, her meaty, toned thighs that most men would willingly suffocate under.

Once Alexander's eyes moved from her upper, heavy assets it was of course drawn to the next best thing, the lower half of her underwear, which was stuck so snugly that it seemed to vaguely form a cameltoe.

Alexander's lips felt perched at that sight.

And best of all, all of these rich assets were covered with an exotic wheat-colored skin, that had no blemishes to speak of, and a healthy sheen that seemed to make the radiant woman glow.

"Like what you see!" Noticing Alexander's blazing gaze, the Queen Mother slightly stepped forward as she asked this, no said this, for she was that confident in her body, while she right hand on her hips to take a provocative pose, her huge melons swinging temptingly at Alexander, their deep ravine trying to suck in his eyes.

".....very!" Alexander tried hard not to take an audible gulp so as to not embarrass himself as his eyes fought hard to tear themselves off his majestic work of art.

Alexander had always known the woman possessed a killer body as her silhouette obviously showed that.

But knowing and seeing were two completely different things.

And seeing the body for the first time, he would frankly admit he had grossly underestimated her charm. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

So his eyes fully soaked in the sight, observing how her devilishly beautiful face perfectly complimented her sinful body, and Alexander felt that her title as one of the most beautiful women in Adhania if not the world was fully earned.

And this was just the front side!

"Hehehe, my, my poor Alex. Are you so smitten by her that you forgot I even exist? Oh! I'm wounded," While from the side, came Lady Inayah's playful, overly dramatic voice, as she too stepped forward, matching ranks with her counterpart and posed the same pose as the Queen Mother, only she used her left hand on her left hip.

Like Seelima, she too had shed her outer garments helped by the maid, and revealed a blue set of lingerie that was also heavily decorated and jeweled like Seelima's.

It seemed Gelene's business was doing well.

And as the two women stood side by side, Alexander's eyes flittered between the two, finding it hard to focus on any single.

There was the Queen Mother garbed in her red underwear, and giving off a unique glow from her wheat coloured skin tone, while left of her was Lady Inayah, garbed in blue underwear, her caramel skin glistening under the afternoon's golden sunlight.

And since the two women possessed very similar bodily characteristics, with both having enormous peaks, a slender waist and the perfect hips, Alexander felt his eyes being torn from either sides.

And sensing the scorching gaze of a young man, two the women felt quite pleased at still having got it, while Lady Inayah giggled, "Hehe, tell me, do you like this view?" Or this!" as she twirled around to show her back side.

As did the Queen Mother.

And Alexander felt his appreciation for the two bodies increased two fold.

Because while viewing from the front, Alexander would subconsciously prefer Seelima to Lady Inayah, as she was prettier, from the back, there was really no such distinction.

Lady Inayah's jet black hair contrasted with the Queen Mother's flaming red one, as both manes reached their backs, which appeared like a flawless piece of black and wheat colored jade.

And below was the thing that made Alexander truly hard, the two flanks.

They were both huge, and perfect in their shape and form, with a blue, lacy underwear covering the ebony rump, while next to it was a wheat colored butt quordoned by bright red underwears of similar design.

Alexander could see slight beads of sweat on them, possibly due to the outside heat and because of being sat on for so long, which seemed to emanate a sweet, musky smell, and being an ass-man, Alexander had to try hard to not grab the two peahcs and start squeezing them.

And as if they could read Alexander's desires, the two butts seemed to move towards a bit, as both women bent a bit, and even let Alexander see some of the outline of their secret caves.

These women really knew how to tempt men.

And a while later turned they around to face Alexander, their eyes squarely landing on Alexander's hard tent.

Which made Lady Inayah grin, and the Queen Mother produce a triumphant smirk.

While Alexander, having pleased his eyes enough then produced a helpless smile to say to the Queen Mother, "Your Highness, His Majesty promised to declare war on me if I did anything to you...or with you."

pandasnovel.com Alexander did not mind the strip tease, but anything beyond that did not seem prudent, though he was truly reluctant to obey that command.

The meal looked too appetizing.

But this declaration only produced a haughty bark from the proud imperial woman, "Hah! Who does that brat think he is?"

"I will sleep with whomever I want until he marries me. Till then I can even tie him up and make him watch!"

Clearly the Queen Mother was of the mind to live her life on her terms, and if Ptolomy really did marry her one day, it is likely that he would be sitting and standing by her command.

While from the side Lady Inayah chimed, "What His Majesty doesn't know, won't hurt him," to soothe Alexander's concern.

Which was true given they were in a secluded part of the manor, purposefully designed as such to give the Queen Mother some privacy, and the only witness being the maid who Alexander had never heard speak.

As the half-nude lady then reminded with a giggle, "Besides, you were just talking about killing him. Where has that courage gone?"

'Eh, true.' And with that reminder, Alexander's last inhibitions were wiped away, and he decided to enjoy the food in front of him.

"So, may I know why you want to do this?" But before that, he wanted to confirm there were no hidden strings attached.

"Haha, relax this is not Thesos. We Adhanians take sex much lightly," And understanding this, came Lady Inayah's light chuckle, while the Queen Mother's answer was much more straightforward, "Because I want to."

Following which she approached the still-sitting Alxx, her crotch directed towards his mouth as she then hungrily ordered, "Lick it!"

And Alexander was all too happy to oblige.

Chapter 516 Seelima And Inayah (R-18) (Part-2)

As the Queen Mother stepped forward and gave her order, the meal placed before Alexander tantalized three of his five senses.

First came the sight, which went without saying that it was beautiful, no magnificent, as the red underwear hid the woman's most precious spot.

And as Alexander craned his head forward to get a look, he found that he could faintly make out the vague outline of the flower garden, and even noticed a slight dark patch on the lower half.

Clearly, the Queen Mother very much wanted this.

Then there was the smell, which was a rich, musky mature odor that Alexander could only describe as an aphrodisiac for men.

And at the odor's request, Alexander let his nose directly smash against the thin linen fiber, and started grinding it, taking in the hot, musky smell.

Sniff, Sniff, Sniff

And the large audible whiffs spoke volumes of the extent of his liking

It was heavenly.

And soon came the taste, as Alexander bought out his tongue, and started savoring the salty, musky juices, flowing out even through the fabric.

"Ah! Yes!" Even at this relatively, the Queen Mother seemed very pleased, as she then grabbed a fistful of Alexander's hair and locked his face against her crotch, before starting to grind them by herself.

While Alexander diligently continued performing his duties, taking in the mature woman's ambrosia and loving every second of it.

"Oh! Coming!" And a while later, the Queen Mother howled her release, holding nothing back in her shout as she pressed Alexander hard against her groin.

And her moan was so loud that it echoed off the veranda and into the far distant sea beach.

So, it was probably a good thing that there was nobody in the vicinity, neither around the room nor anyone below the veranda.

'So sensitive!' While Alexander below exclaimed in his mind at the woman coming even through her cloth, before quickly feeling that the woman's crotch had again started grinding against his deft tongue.

'And she recovers so quickly!' Alexander found out.

It appeared Seelima was one of the rare women who were hypersensitive and would come quickly, but nonetheless could go on without taking a rest, only growing bit by bit wilder after each release.

This was also one of the reasons her husband had loved her.

After all, which man doesn't want the satisfaction of knowing he can please his woman in bed and drive her wild?

As Alexander understood this and resumed his work, the free Lady Inayah approached her 'sister in bed' from behind, and whispered, "Hehe, enjoying Alex all by yourself, how greedy! Here let me really lick you."

pandasnovel.com The hot breath against her ear made the Queen Mother quiver a bit in anticipation, as she quickly felt a pair of fingers clip her underwear band on either side and then in one swift motion, pulled them down to her ankles, making her lower half finally nude!

And this revelation naturally made Alexander pull back his head to get a better view of the sights and found the garden every bit as beautiful as he would have imagined it to be.

On the top was a small, well-kept red bush gracing the mons pubs, it now moist it thick juices, while below it was the precious pearl still hidden by a thick hood, followed by the healthy, bright red labia that bloomed like the most beautiful flower, hidden within which was the holy grail, out of which flowed copious amounts of honey, while a few lewd stings of glistening juices trailed from it, still clinging stubbornly to the underwear.

The sight was heavenly and the smell raw and hungry.

It was the pheromones of a female in prime condition, and Alexander's base instinct could only urge him to breed her.

"Had a good look?" While from above, the Queen Mother unabashedly smirked at Alexander starting at her most precious spot, seeming to love the boy's attention down there, as she then urged him to continue the service.

"Ahhh!" And a short moan quickly escaped her, as Alexander started to eagerly lap up the juices, savoring the raw taste of ambrosia, and using his tongue to paint her garden with his juices.

He first kept his tongue around her vagina, licking, sucking, and kissing the labia minora and eliciting loud moans, "Ahh, yes, do it like that...ohhh coming..."

After a while of which he decided to move on to the actual prize- the hot, dark cave. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

While in the meantime, at the back, Lady Inayah, who was not willing to let Alexander have all the fun, decided to take control of the Queen Mother's other hole, as after removing Seelima's underwear, the ebony lady squatted down to part the creamy flesh of her sister, revealing to the world something it had rarely seen, the Queen Mother's puckered hole.

It was a healthy, pink color and as the bright sunlight shone on it, even the creases and rumpled rings around it seemed to become more beautiful.

While the sudden contact with the air and anticipating the impending act made the hole itself twitch with pleasure.

"Hehehe, it's nice to see you again chuu," And knowing this, without further ado, Lady Inayah landed a heavy kiss on the hole, her hot breath entering the tunnel and making Seelima arch her head back and scream in pleasure.

"Ahhh, yes, that's it. Ohh nice!"

Seelima loved getting both her holes teased at once.

And this euphoric feeling accelerated as she felt two actual tongues invade her twin nether holes simultaneously, as Alexander finally inserted his tongue into the actual hole and claimed his prize, relishing in its mature taste and loving how the hot cave squished his soft organ, its wall dancing with pleasure.

While on the opposite side, Lady Inayah also snaked her pink tongue up the narrow canal and started thrashing around, smashing it against the intestinal lining, and taking in the musky flavor."

And this made Seelima let out unrestrained moans one after one, each one louder than the other, as she started to experience consecutive orgasms soon.

"Ahhh...oohhh...mmnnn...ehhhh,"

And a while later, no coherent words could be heard coming from the haughty lady, only lustful songs.

Working below, Alexander was surprised to hear the usually composed woman lose so much of herself to pleasure as if the knots tying her uptight personally were being slowly chipped by the constant waves of pleasure, and so decided to up the ante, as he moved his hands, which were currently resting on his thighs to her creamy butt.

He had always dreamed of fondling them when staring at them from behind.

And so now that he had the chance, he literally grasped the opportunity with both hands, as his palms rejoiced at meeting the juicy rump and started to enjoy them.

They were soft, firm, and fleshy, and Alexander's hands moved almost as if they had a will of their own, softly caressing, strongly squeezing, gently kneading, and even lightly pinching them.

Her bubble butt was an exquisite part to experience and the warmth and sensation he got from made him feel as if his hands had become glued to the rotund globules.

This rough action naturally got another high-pitched howl of approval from the regal woman, who soon felt Lady Inayah's hand the fray, doubling her pleasure and driving her insane.

And once Alexander started to peel back her hood and directly attack her pearl, sucking, kissing, and mostly importantly biting it, the imperial woman finally came in a way she had rarely done in a long time.

"Ahhh...ehhhhhh...ohhhhh," The Queen Mother's knees went a bit weak and she became a little bowl legged as she tried to support herself, while she thrust her garden forward against Alexander's face, totally flushing it with her juices.

The woman was an occasional squirter, and more particularly, did it only during intense releases.

"Hah...hah...hah..." Finally, after coming who knows how many times, the Queen Mother at last began to show some fatigue, as she let go of Alexander and took in deep breaths.

"Hahaha, so how was it Alex?" While from behind, Lady Inayah got up to ask Alexander with a cheerful smile.

And matching her eyes Alexander smiled the sincere reply, "Her Highness truly is the most beautiful woman in Adhania, " while lapping up all the residue juices around the lips.

He quite liked this thick mature taste.

"I know right! I've been always a bit jealous of her," Lady Inayah playfully shot back to Alexander with this, while simultaneously slanting her eyes towards the Queen Mother, or more specifically her still bound breasts.

And then with a mischievous glint in her eyes, her claws suddenly dug into the two masses of fluffy goodness, giggling, "Especially these! They are bigger than mine, hehehe."

"Ahhh! No Inay...ehhhh!" And as soon as the lady grabbed the Queen Mother's twin peaks and started fondling them, the still-sensitive woman was overloaded with pleasure once again and came not just once, but multiple times in short bursts, her eye becoming almost white.

"Here, let me get these out of the way. Help you breathe," While Lady Inayah, masquerading herself as a helpful samaritan, then deftly unclasped the Queen Mother's bra, letting it fall to the ground and finally showcasing to Alexander the two mounds that had always drawn his eyes.

Full, fluffy, and firm, the perfectly shaped breasts were immaculate, and the way their mass made them oblong only added to their charm, while on the tips of the wheat-colored breasts were a pair of fine, pink buds, each surrounded by a small lake of sakura.

Chapter 517 Seelima And Inayah R-18 (Part-3)

Alexander's throat suddenly felt parched seeing the huge melons sway tempting at him, a sight which was made instantly made a few times better when they were propped up the two hands behind them, which then started to fondle them into various shapes.

"These are something else, aren't they Lord Alexander," Lady Inayah grinned wildly as she started to massage the beautiful organ, making the Queen Mother start to moan again.

And as the skillful hands squeezed, kneaded, and pressed the huge melons, followed by grabbing the perky buds and then pinching and twisting them, euphoric howls began to come out of Seelima's mouth.

"Mmmm, yes...Inayah you really know your thing... ahhh...pinch harder!" Lady Inayah clearly knew how to pleasure her counterpart, and soon it made the Queen Mother come.

And finally, having had enough pleasure to sate her lust for now, the Queen Mother decided to rest for a while Lady Inayah finally stepped forward to say, in a slightly pouty voice, "Alex, you are only paying attention to her. Have you forgotten there is another woman beside her?"

"Haha, of course not, of course not," Alexander quickly run forward at the accusation, and getting behind her, quickly started to free the beautiful ladies trapped boobs.

And as they were freed, huge globules bounced playfully in the air, before Alexander started to massage them just like Lady Inayah had done to the Queen Mother.

And they felt every bit good as they looked, causing him to immerse himself in squeezing the huge melons and twisting the stiff buds.

"Lady Inayah's breasts are truly a marvel of the gods." He could not help but whisper near the ear, while his stiff tent ground against the lady's rear crack, feeling the heat even through the underwear.

"Ahh, good boy," And this made the black lady moan, as her hands snaked to touch the engrossed organ, and when she found Alexander was still clothed, cooed in a pitiful voice,

"Oh, you poor boy. Why are you still clothed? Let Aunt help you."

Saying which she quickly turned around and as Alexander took off his tunic, Lady Inayah undid the knot on his pants and pulled it down.

And as the turgid organ sprung to life, almost hitting her face, Lady Inayah was shocked by the size.

"Alex! What happened to you?" She asked incredulously.

Because the size, shape, and girth of the organ Lady Inayah knew from before was nowhere to be seen, instead being replaced by a monster.

Of course, this had happened because after the Shiva drugs showed no side effects, Alexander also started having them regularly, with the change being quick and startling.

Just as Ophenia had described, the miraculous medicine grew his penis to be longer and fatter, and its sauce to become thicker.

And the change was so noticeable that his women who had even slept with him just three days ago would find it visibly different.

In fact, it was so efficacious that it actually made Alexander fear that he had inadvertently developed a tumor.

But fortunately, those fears were alleviated when he saw past a particular point, the organ stayed the same.

But that point was still humongous.

"Haha, well I'm still growing," Alexander made up this excuse at Lady Inayah's question, while the black lady seemed not to care, instead appearing to be more interested in the organ itself.

And deciding to have a further look, she started to use her hands to inspect it.

And soon Alexander began to feel the soft palms squeeze the rigid spear, as Lady Inayah marveled, "Really! You youngsters are something else," before saying with twinkles in her eyes, "Let's have a taste."

Following this Alexander felt his hot rod be licked on the head by Lady Inayah's warm, pick tongue, which flicked off the clear precum and deposited inside her mouth, and an instant later came to a squeal of ecstasy, "Ohh, just the precum is so thick! By the gods!"

Lady Inayah shuddered to think what the actual thing would taste like.

And just that though made her come a bit.

And then, without any delay, the hungry cougar launched her mouth against the hard spear, opening wide and starting to take in the whole thing bit by bit, her head bobbling up and down near Alexander's crotch as she did, with each cycle making her lips get closer and closer to the base root until the whole giant organ was inside.

Lady Inayah might have been surprised by the size, but that did not mean she could not handle it.

Chuuppp, Suckkkk, Chuuupp

And once she took it in, she started to rapidly move back and forth, as an obscene sound began to reverberate across the room as Lady Inayah administered her fellatio.

While Alexander felt he was in heaven, as the experienced woman produced a sealed vacuum and sucked him with all her might, eager for the white sauce.

Unlike the other blowjobs his women did Alexander, where their main aim was to please him, this time, the goal seemed to be only the giver's pleasure, and it resulted in a much rougher and primal affair. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

Though Alexander did not dislike this type of play, and as he gazed down at the woman diligently bobbing her head up and down, leaving a clear, layer of saliva on his spear, his eyes were suddenly drawn to the breasts underneath her chin.

And soon his idle hands were idle no more, and they relished the soft, pillowy feeling.

'These boobs were definitely among the best of the best' He said to himself.

While Lady Inayah, feeling her mammaries getting toyed with felt even more turned on, and looked up to send an amorous gaze at Alexander, before it turned a bit mirthful, as she parted her legs to form an M, and parted her underwear to start masturbating.

Squelch, Squelch, Squelch,

It seemed the lady was open to giving Alexander quite the show, as he noticed her hot snatch take three fingers simultaneously, and this produced a nasty sound that mixed with the wet sucking sound to make the air play a chorus of depravity.

This lewd scene and the expert work of Lady Inayah's tongue soon produced results as feeling one particular flick of the warm tongue against his frenulum, Alexander was pushed to his limits, and moaned, "Ahh...coming."

And an instant later, Lady Inayah's head was grabbed by two powerful hands and her face pinned against the groin, before Alexander thrust his penis deep into her warm, velvety gullet, to deposit his thick, creamy load.

SpurIt, Splurt, Spulrt

And as the white turbid liquid painted her inside, "Mnnnnmmm!" Lady Inayah would only helplessly emit a low groan, while her cheeks puffed up to accommodate the almost inhumane amount.

Gulp, Gulp, Gulp

But soon large swallowing sounds became audible, as the experienced woman adjusted herself, and began to savor the taste- the thick, creamy, heavenly taste.

'Oh god! I will addicted to it!' Lady Inayah squealed in her mind at the superb taste, and even before Alexander could finish his first orgasm, Lady Inayah began to form a vacuum and suck again, eager to clean his pipes.

"Ahhggh," And for the 'still sensitive from cumming' Alexander, this act was both painful and immensely pleasurable.

Thus for a while, the only sound around the two was the loud slurping and sucking sound emanating from a mature lady who sat squatted in a lewd M form as her drooling honey cave wetted the wooden floor below with turbid spring water.

"Ahhhhhh!" And finally, after what felt like an eternity did Lady Inayah finally release Alexander's now flaccid organ.

And then with stars shining in her eyes, she looked up to Alexander and flash a lewd grin to say,

"Oh Alexander! Where were you all my life? The sperm was so rich, and thick!"

"If I had known you had this, I would not have bothered with the sugar recipe!"

Lady Inayah appeared smitten by the taste, and her appraisal even made the Queen Mother who had recovered question, "Is it that good Inayah?"

She knew Lady Inayah had good taste.

And this got the ebony lady chuckling as she simply said, "I would eat my bread with it."

Lady Inayah had basically compared Alexander's release with butter, as she then turned to the still-sleeping monster and brought her lips closer to give it a shower of kisses to show her appreciation.

pandasnovel.com "Chuu", thank you. Chuu, thank you for tasting so good. Chuu, please let me again have a taste. Chuu, I loved it."

Lady Inayah licked the head, the shaft, the base, and even the balls, as she then started to swallow the family jewels, twirling them around inside her mouth, and making Alexander hard once again.

It seemed Lady Inayah was smitten.

Finally, at long last, Lady Inayah's mouth separated itself from the huge organ, as she then turned to the Queen Mother to offer, "Wanna try?"

Lady Inayah's suggestion made Seelima's eyes finally land on the huge organ, and her eyes became thick with lust and desire.

Even her throat began to feel parched and felt that musky, white liquid oozing out from that delicious organ was the perfect refreshment.

But the Queen Mother did not approach to give him a head.

Instead, her face strangely produced a slightly disgusted look, as she then instead haughtily turned around and commanded, "Let's move the divan, Inayah. I want to see if his size matches his skill."

It seemed the Queen Mother here wanted to see Alexander's endurance.

Chapter 518 Seelima And Inayah (R-18) (Part-4)

The reason why the Queen Mother refused to taste Alexander was because she saw sex as a powerplay game, where the one doing the servicing was lower than the one receiving it.

And since the Queen Mother had always been in the lower category, and had only reached the upper category recently, she was reluctant to perform these plays, even if they would be pleasurable to her.

She only made others give them to her, which was also why she made Alexander give her a cunnilingus.

And such preference would manifest even in the preceding part of the celebrations as Alexander was made to lie down on his back on the soft devan, his back sinking into the soft cushion, while the two ladies approached him.

"It's quite the tool isn't it!" Lady Inayah could not help but again marvel at Alexander's hard penis that was standing up proudly into the sky, her lower half drooling to have a taste.

While the scenery was arguably even more beautiful from Alexander's point of view, as two busty, fully naked women approached him from either side, one sporting a small red bush, the other a jet black one, as both their heavy breasts swung devilishly with each step, make Alexander even harder.

"Hmph! Let's see it feels as good as it looks," The Queen Mother put on a tough act at Lady Inayah's praise, though her eyes could be seen being subconsciously drawn to the fat dragon.

pandasnovel.com 'It's so thick! And veiny! Oh!' The heavy-looking monster was incredibly grotesque by any standard of artistic judgment, but seeing his almost club-like meat rod, covered in thick veins Seelima's heart skip a beat.

Her womanly instincts were telling her that this was the cock of an apex predator, and she wanted it.

"Well then Your Highness, he's all yours," And as if Lady Inayah could smell the need from her sister, she offered the first go with a smile.

And the Queen Mother was more than happy to accept.

So without any further ado, Seelima slipped her leg over Alexander's thigh and got on top, now staddling him as her swollen lower lips hovered just above the engrossed, bulbous red head, while clear, hot water from the top slowly drenched Alexander's organ and made it hellishly hard for him not to resist the urge to thrust his hips up and smash those hips.

But soon his thirst was quenched, as after a few short, tantalizing rubbing between the two organs, the heat from the rod was too much for the Queen Mother to resist, and she plopped her hips down with the brave words, "Be sure to entertain me boy!"

A bravado that she came to regret instantly.

Because as the wide tip of his thick, veiny spear spread her vulva and vaginal walls, the Queen Mother felt a sense of satisfaction she thought she had forgotten.

"Ahhhhh...Nnnnh~" And a loud moan escaped her lips to express that feeling.

This was it.

Seelima realized that this was the feeling had been missing for so long.

A fullness she couldn't imagine.

It was as if their lower parts were created for each other.

As if their forms were molded to fit just like this.

It was a divine feeling.

While Alexander too similarly felt an exquisite feeling fill his lower half as his organ entered the hot canal.

It was hot, moist, and most surprisingly of all comfortable.

It was not oppressively tight, nor hot nor loose, but the walls simply snugly hugged the organ and massaged him, their peristaltic movements bringing Alexander ever closer with each cycle.

Alexander wanted to be inside it all day and come over and over again without ever leaving, a feeling he had rarely encountered during sex.

While for the Queen Mother, just having the hard cock was not enough.

She wanted to relish it to the full.

So soon she began to ride Alexander with full abandon, as she placed her hands on his thighs and started to move her hips fast and hard, her heavy butt smashing against Alexander's thighs, and her hips kissed Alexander's, producing a wet, lewd sound.

-slap- -slap- -slap-

The mating was wide and primal and seeing how her heavy breasts swung wildly side to side, and her red mane fluttered in the wind, Alexander also began thrusting from below, with the Queen Mother loudly moaning every time his bulbous head hit her cervix.

"Ahhnh... Nhhhn.., HhaAnh..."

-slap- -slap- -slop- -slop- -slap- -slap-

"AhhhNhhaAaa... NaahHhnhh... AahHhhh..., AhahHNn..."

Seelima really did not care who heard her as she screamed her lungs out, unable to form coherent words. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

And her voice reached a new octave when Alexander could no longer hold back the temptation to feel the swinging melons and decided to play with them, grabbing them with both hands and starting to play with them.

They were naturally heavenly to touch, soft, firm, and heavy, his fingers dug into the marshmallowy goodness and refused to leave.

While the pink nipples were hard and stiff, and when Alexander started to pinch and twist them, he felt the walls around his shaft contract and squeeze him harder, while Seelima let out another howl.

And this mating act continued for who knows how long until finally Alexander began to reach climax and let the Queen Mother know.

"Agghhh, I'm coming. Let out," He moaned, knowing that cumming inside was a bad idea.

But Seelima showed no sign of slowing down.

Instead, upon hearing it, she actually sped up, as if eager to taste the seed inside her, while Lady Inayah, who had been patiently waiting for her turn on the side, cooed, "Don't worry about it, Alex. We have the medicine for any accidents."

She was obviously referring to the legumum, and Alexander thanked the gods for that plant.

Because Alexander too felt too good to want to pull out, and with the legummum, he was assured that could deposit his seed into the hot cave of this haughty woman without worry.

And so soon with a groan, and one last thrust, Alexander let his seed erupt, scalding the mature woman's inside, and painting it white, as a wave of euphoria washed over him, his body rejoicing at being able to bed such a beautiful woman.

While the Queen Mother let out an ear-splitting howl that dwarfed any other.

"Kyaahhhh... hahhhhhh."

She was a screamer and as she felt the hot sauce fill up her insides, the thickness and quantity were so much that she imagined her belly bulging up and her eyes rolled back and her tongues slightly stuck out.

'I'm definitely going to get pregnant,' She thought as she felt the thick, jelly-like sperm spread through her cervix into her womb, dying her insides white, and for a moment, being able to carry the offspring of such a potent male filled her heart with joy.

While Lady Inayah from the side gave a triumphant smirk looking at the Queen Mother being broken out of her facade.

She knew something like this was going to happen the moment she had tasted that thick sauce, that seemed to be still stuck in her throat.

In fact, in the intervening time she had waited for the two to finish enjoying their act, she was actually busy scraping her teeth, gums, and the inside of her cheeks for any remnants of the goody goodness, and munching on them, savoring their salty, musky flavor.

And because it had been Alxx's first load, it was especially rich and creamy, so with each gulp of the thick sauce that she ingested, her pussy throbbed that much more for the real deal.

The taste had been nothing Lady Inayah had before and it even made her feminine instinct to ask, 'Hmm, should I get a child with him?' though it was not yet an issue to really seriously ponder...yet.

While on the other side, the Queen Mother was still sitting on Alexander's hips without moving, only taking in heavy breaths, as his crotch began to be flooded with the white turbid liquid.

It seemed that Seelima's womb could not contain so much of the released seed and it was freely leaking through the unplugged hole now that the penis was temporarily flaccid

But the Queen Mother did not get up and release Alxx.

She was still not satisfied yet.

And neither was Alexander as his little brother began to spring to life inside her.

Just cumming twice would never be enough for him.

And soon, both man and woman were ready to go.

"No fair! It's my turn next!" But as the Queen Mother was getting ready to start round two, her hips stirring from their slumber, Lady Inayah gave this protest.

And she was then promptly ignored by the Queen Mother, who began her pumping once again, slowly increasing her speed, and making Lady Inayah pout a bit.

'Hmmp! Just because she's a royal,' The ebony lady spat indignantly at the Queen mother not respecting her turn, before consoling herself by saying that her sister was much more pent up and she needed it more than her.

And so soon, the act resumed with the same, if not more gusto.

While Lady Inayah, after seeing it for a while suggested this to the Queen Mother, "Seela, you have already shown Alex your boobs."

"Why don't you turn around and show her your butt?"

"I have always seen him ogling at those, hehehe."

And this sounded like a great idea to Seelima, who quickly flipped herself and presented her huge ass to Alexander, before continuing the act.

Chapter 519 Seelima And Inayah (R-18) (Part-5)

When Lady Inayah said that she found Alexander ogling at the Queen Mother's mother this was indeed true.

He would very inconspicuously swipe his eyes over the prime rump in his casual day-to-day interactions.

And who could blame him?

It would be a crime to not gaze at such a beauty.

But he was also sure to keep it as discreet as possible.

And was pretty confident no one would be able to catch him in the act.

So imagine his surprise when Lady Inayah revealed his lecherous act to the person involved.

If Alexander was not currently being ridden on, he would have certainly blushed and been found out.

And so his heart was filled with doubts about how he was caught.

Whereas the truth was much simpler.

Lady Inayah had never actually seen Alexander do it but made it up according to past experiences as she had seen the Queen Mother get such looks from other men.

While the woman in question really could not care less what Alexander had done.

Because currently her lust-filled head wanted one thing and only one thing only- More pleasure.

And if that could be achieved by showing her butt to Alexander, she would gladly oblige.

Hence, upon Lady Inayah's advice, the large lady deftly swung around with an expert twist of her hips, using Alexander's large penis as the fulcrum, and present her magnificent flanks to him.

They were large, voluminous, and soft, with an exotic wheat color, and seemed to have a beautiful golden sheen to them as the golden afternoon sun reflected off the tiny beads of sweat that had formed on them, making them almost glow and glitter.

Alexander really could not have asked for a better view and made a note to thank Lady Inayah for her suggestion later.

For now though, he decided to enjoy the proceeding act, as once the Queen Mother was in position, she bent down to grab Alexander by his legs, and started to rapidly move her hips, hungry for her second round of the milk.

Slap, Slap, Slap,

"Ahhhh... oohhhh... nmnnnm..."

The lewd wet sounds were accompanied by the canary-like singing of the Queen Mother.

While, from Alexander's point of view, he was witness to a truly memorable scene.

He saw the flawless back of the Queen Mother draped in long red hair dance to the tune of her hips, while her ripe butt cheeks clashed against Alexander's hips faster and faster, the fleshy butt swaying and rippling like jello with each strike, with even her flawless pink puckered hole being revealed in her current bent down posture.

While the beautiful woman rode him with such speed and ferocity that he could even see the lower half of them turn red from the repeated flesh claps.

But the Queen Mother did not seem to care about how her ass looked right now.

In fact, those slightly stinging sensations from the reddened areas only seemed to make the Queen Mother moan louder as she searched for even more pleasure.

'Ahhh! The way his cock scraps against my walls and pries them open! Magnificent!'

'And nobody has gone so deep, ohhh! I cum everything his giant head hits my cervix.' Seelima screamed to herself in ecstasy, as she continued to experience orgasms after orgasms with each ride.

And soon her pleasure increased as Lady Inayah decided to insert herself into the play, feeling she had given the imperial woman enough alone time with Alexander.

So, the ebony woman approached the Queen Mother to pry open her sexy butt cheeks and started to lick her pink hole making Alexander feel the walls around him constrict harder

Clearly, the Queen Mother liked it.

And a bit later, Alexander began to feel the strength of the squeeze inside the pussy increase much higher.

This was because when just tonguing her was not enough for her, Lady Inayah began to finger the hole, and it made Seelima happier.

And the constriction reached its apex after Alexander took Lady Inayah up on the following invitation.

"Hehe, here Alexander, you come too. Let's mess up Seela together." The black lady had offered with a mischievous grin, as she parted the cheeks and pointed to insert his fingers into the empty hole. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

And Alexander was all the more happy to oblige.

So his thick third finger easily slipped into the lubricated, hot canal, and was quickly joined by two of Lady Inayah's much slender fingers, and shortly after these three began to dance around the tight tunnel, stimulating it and driving the Queen Mother insane.

"Ahhh... Ina... you bad girl... Fuck!... Ohhhhh!" The redhead shouted at the top of her lungs, while Alexander felt her walls squeeze him to a dangerous degree.

So much so that in fact it seemed to him that the Queen Mother might be able to crush weaker cocks with just her pelvic muscles.

"Pah, loosen up," And feeling his cock get squashed, Alexander gave a spank on the butt.

But it only managed to make the walls somehow even harder.

While Alexander's palms sang at the sensation that came from hitting her ass.

It was so soft and springy and the sound so crisp and clear that Alexander felt he was dreaming.

It was an exquisite, prime piece of ass that Alexander could hardly believe he was being allowed to touch.

And given the other side did not mind the hit, so Alexander did not hold back and began to use large, heavy strikes on the pillowy flanks.

pah, pah, pah

He had always dreamed of grabbing those magnificent globules, but never thought it would be possible given the political situation and that the Queen Mother had initially somewhat disliked him.

So, as he was given the chance to hit, much less grab them, Alexander made sure to make use of it to its fullest and even left large, red hand prints on them as a sign of his dominance.

While from the side, Lady Inayah was genuinely surprised by this play, as from what she knew about Seelima, she hated being spanked because of how she felt it put her as the lower partner of the two in bed.

And so, given that Alexander was being allowed to do just that, and with such ferocity that she would likely have trouble sitting for the next few days, Lady Inayah felt the Queen Mother was currently really not in her right mind and was being only driven by lust.

And the only reason that she could think of why was the thing she was riding on.

'Is it even better than I thought?' Lady Inayah eagerly thought and felt even more regret for letting Seelima have another round before.

pandasnovel.com And was determined that she would not let her get a third one.

So, to get Seelima to finish quickly, Lady Inayah's hands even began to snake to her front and after finding her clitoris after a bit of searching, she began to pinch the sensitive bud with her might.

"Kyahhhh... ohhhhh... mnnnnn," And this made the Queen Mother howl even harder, and squeeze her walls tighter, which in turn made Alexander spank her harder, and made the Queen Mother even hornier, resulting in a positive cycle.

And soon, Alexander came with a groan, flooding the canals for a second time and making the Queen Mother's mind be filled with white bliss as she dropped her head low in orgasmic bliss.

This time though, she did not get the chance to rest on Alexander's hips to recover.

Instead, she was lightly pushed off him by Lady Inayah, which resulted in a low plop sound as his flaccid organ slipped out of the hot tunnel, albeit reluctantly given how strongly Seelima's walls still pulsed to hold him in.

And then she was made to rest on the divan, as her lower half dyed the soft, leather cushion a milky white as the rich sauce slowly leaked out.

While Lady Inayah got to work waking the sleeping giant up, and after a few pumps with her hands and some good, loud sucks that cleaned his pipes, Alexander was ready to go.

"Oh! Youth is such a precious thing," Seeing Alexander's rapid recovery speed, Lady Inayah would not help but let out a cry of delight, though it was really the shiva drug he had to thank for that.

It was really a miracle drug when it came to sex.

But Lady Inayah did not know all these things and simply figured Alexander to be that virile, which increased her liking of him even more.

"Come to Alexander, get up. You can't be a salted fish and expect such women to pleasure you all the time can you?"

And as Alxx was ready to be mounted, this sound reached his ear.

It seemed the mature lady in a rare twist decided to let Alexander take charge.

And to that effect, after saying that, Alexander could see Lady Inayah get beside him, and quite possibly Alexander's favorite position on the devan.

This prompted Alexander to quickly get up and experience the view for himself, for the ebony lady had gotten on all her four limbs and raised her plump, black ass to him, submitting both her shameful holes defenselessly to his scaling gaze.

Contrasting against the black skin tone, the thick pink pinks were wet with desire, and Alexander could see the light rear hole twitching in anticipation, and so without further ado, Alexander positioned himself behind and pierced the mature lady from the back in one go, eliciting a sensual moan from both simultaneously.

Chapter 520 Seelima And Inayah (R-18) (Part-6)

Alexander once again experienced that scalding hot, magma-like canal he had once before and it stretched his ability to resist cumming immediately.

While for Lady Inayah, the sensation was worlds different from what she had previously experienced.

The girth and hardness of the organ had been nowhere as this the last time, and as it screwed opened her walls and fill her to the brim, it made Lady Inayah slightly roll out her tongue.

Her passages could be felt being widened to only fit this cock, and her womb began to open and descend to her cervix to accept his seed.

'Oh! I could get addicted to this!' And this made her sing euphorically as she could finally understand why the Queen Mother had become so wild.

It was a heavenly feeling.

Afterward, Alexander began to move, and taking advantage of his position, began to strike her at places she had rarely been poked at, making the ebony lady feel pleasure she had rarely felt.

'Oh, I'm so glad he is coming with us. I will need to get Iya and the other girls to taste him as well.' Lady Inayah rejoiced at Alexander's decision to visit Adhan, as it meant she could taste him for around six months more.

And naturally, she planned to introduce him to her friends and even her daughters and then enjoy some steamy sessions together.

But those plans could wait for now.

As currently Lady Inayah lowered her head and began to scream with pleasure, while Alexander thrust inside the furnace-like pussy, which squeezed him at every thrust.

And soon, his hands began to roam all around the flawless skin, playing with her big, soft butt, caressing it, kneading it, squeezing it, and even spanking it, then moving onto her flawless back, and finally grabbing her large mountains and playing with its buds.

While at some point the Queen Mother seemed to have recovered as she then got in front of Lady Inayah, and positioned her crotch around her head, before grabbing Lady Inayah by her raven hair and smirking, "Here, Ina, since you liked it so much have this."

The Queen Mother wanted to make Lady Inayah suck Alexander's essence out of her canal.

And Lady Inayah was all the more happy to oblige.

She knew Seelima loved getting eaten out, and she herself loved drinking sperm.

And so soon, the ebony lady was getting railed from behind, with Alexander's thumb even circling and then entering her rear hole, bringing her a new tingling sensation, while in the front, her mouth was savoring the delicious cocktail made of Alexander and the Queen Mother's juices, all while her nose took in the lewd scent of a female in heat.

Lady Inayah felt she was in heaven.

And soon reached it as Splurt, Splurt, Splurt

After a while, Alexander flooded her insides with his seed, making the lady moan with euphoria and shudder with a giant orgasm.

Plop

Following this release, Alexander slowly pulled out, fighting against the strong suction of the walls to keep him there, and marveled at how small dollops of his essence began to pitter-patter down.

But they were not done yet.

Not by a long shot.

As after a while, the black lady got her energy back and moved to a new site, the railing, as she leaned against the short stone wall, facing the outdoors, and presented her magnificent ass to Alexander, before inviting the Queen Mother,

"Seelma, come here. Let's get fucked while looking at the sea."

It seemed Lady Inayah was a bit of an exhibitionist.

While the Queen Mother, remembering the pleasure from earlier, was quick to comply, and hastily got beside her sister, which presented Alexander with a nose bleeding sight.

Two fully nude busty otherworldly women were currently presenting both their shameful holes to him under broad daylight, which were already leaking with his batter, and even better, one had large, red hand prints on them, courtesy of him.

Alexander felt that he might have used up all his luck to get a session with them with no strings attached.

But he could care about the consequences later.

As currently, he quickly got behind the Queen Mother who was subconsciously swaying her beautiful butt to tempt him, and parting the fleshy mass, once again inserted himself into the birth canal, and got a heartfelt moan of 'thanks for choosing me' from the front in the process.

While from the side Lady Inayah slightly pouted, "Boooh! Alex you dummy! And after all I did everything to arrange this for you," as she swung her butt even more to make Alexander switch holes.

"Haha, sorry, sorry, my lady. But I only did you," Alexander chuckled while moving his hips roughly and rapidly, as the Queen Mother only concentrated on singing her heart out to the winds.

"Ahhhhh... ahhh... ahhhh," She was really starting to like this feeling. I think you should take a look at pandasnovel.com

And her appreciation for Alexander was so loud that he wondered how this woman mated with her husband in Adhan and not let know the entire palace know of the act.

Slap- slap- slap.

After a while of fiercely thrusting inside the Queen Mother, Alexander switched to Lady Inayah, without first cumming inside Seelia, which elicited a low needy growl from Seelima who was much reluctant to lose that feeling and got a cheer of "Yay," for the black lady.

And once Alexander switched from Lady Inayah to the Queen Mother after a while, the ebony lady cried indignantly, while the Queen Mother purred a satisfied moan.

And this cycle continued until the time for Alexander to come had come, and he decided to release it outside.

So taking his cock out, he spurted about an equal amount onto both their butts, letting the two beautiful black and wheat-colored butts have a few hot streams of scalding white liquid flow over them.

"Ahhh! Why did you do that? We wanted it inside!" But this got a moany complaint from Lady Inayah, while the Queen Mother kept a bit more composure and only swing her ass to express solidarity with her sister.

"Haha, it looks more beautiful this way, pah," Alexander chuckled in this reply as he lightly spanked the caramel butt, and spread the gooey sauce all over the smooth, ripe ass, giving it a nice, white sheen.

And he then even dug into the crack, poking at the upper, tight hole, which got Lady Inayah to produce a coy, sultry smile and say, "Oh, Alex, no need to rush. You can taste all the holes you want. We have time."

While from the side, unnoticed by the two, the Queen Mother slightly pouted a bit for Alexander not giving her the same treatment.

But that was natural given he was much closer to Lady Inayah than the Queen Mother.

Anyway, this little flirting session ended quite quickly, and the trio got back to business immediately.

And so for the following four hours, the three people had one of the most pleasurable of their lifetime, as they mated using every position and in every place in the room they would think of.

First from the railings, they had moved to the bed, where Lady Inayah mounted him, while the Queen Mother, in revenge for spanking her, sat on top of his face, bringing her huge butt down to his mouth, and making Alexander lick her forbidden hole.

Which he did with much joy, as he buried his nose to take in the lewd smell and relished feeling the soft flesh squeeze his face in.

Alexander felt being smothered to death by these twin fat rumps was probably one of the best ways to go.

After that, the two women had gotten on all fours, letting Alexander again skewer them from behind, while he fingered the other and messed her up, letting both vixens moan without restraint.

Following this, they then moved to the small wooden table, and the Queen Mother sat on top spreading her beautiful legs, letting Alexander enter her shortly after, while Lady Inayah went behind Alexander to suck and lick his balls.

Then they moved to the bed inside, and Lady Inayah was pierced as she laid down, while Alexander got to suck on the Queen Mother's breast that he had longed for so long.

They were as fun to kiss and suckled on as he had hoped, and when he lightly chewed on the thick, fat nipples, and pulled on them using his teeth, the Queen Mother sang lusty moans in his ears, driving him wilder.

Afterward, at one point Alexander even got to make the Queen Mother suck him off, as her mind had become clouded with lust.

So, he had made her kneel in front of him and pushed his rod into her mouth, before claspng her head in place and fiercely violating her tiny orifice.

The feeling was to die for, and it was further enhanced by the fact that Alexander was doing such a thing to such a proud woman.

That made the experience a hundred times better.

And there was nothing to say about her skills, which were naturally world-class. making Alexander come in little time.

But instead of letting her drink it, Alexander had decided to release it outside, giving the proud woman's exquisite face a new facial and even covering her eye-catching flaming hair with his dirty essence.

"Ahh, I'm gonna smell like cum for the whole day. And even my hair is ruined," And though the Queen Mother sounded like she was complaining, but actually she was seen rubbing Alexander's jelly all over her face, and strings of sperm could be seen extending from her hair to her hands, as a lewd, satisfied look was plastered on her face.

Seelima seemed to have reverted back to her older self, the one where she was not the Queen Mother, but only another of Alosmer's concubines, as she drowned herself in the lovely strong musky smell that was coming from her face.

She felt it had been very long since she was so happy.

pandasnovel.com In this way, no part of the Queen Mother's room was left untouched by the trio, from the bed to the walls where he had pinned Lady Inayah and railed her standing, his thrusts so strong that it seemed he was trying to become one with her, to the floor and lastly the various furniture.

Until the whole room began to smell like sex, filled with the musky odor of a virile male and two cougars in heat.

And it was only when the sun began to set that the trio decided to rest, finally having run out of stamina, as the three lay on the floor spread-eagled, with content smiles on all their faces.

It had been truly a good fuck.
