

HEROIC KING

Chapter 10: trade

Resisting the temptation of this price, Lin Han turned his attention to rare resources. There are very few ways to obtain rare resources in the Eternal Realm. Only at certain times, there is a chance to obtain some when dealing with a large number of wild monsters. Characters, of course, one of the most stable ways is the wild mines.

Generally speaking, a wild mine with rare resources will cause great disputes. In the end, either the big guild or some loners with extremely strong troops won it. In the previous mission, Lin Han obtained 25 units of mercury, sulfur and gems. These three rare resources would sell for sky-high prices in the early stage.

Sure enough, when Lin Han looked at the price of 2,500 gold coins per unit of gems, he was so happy that he almost fainted. This price was something he couldn't even think about before. I remember that three days after the player appeared in Longcheng, it was rare. The price of resources is less than 600. Although the price has rebounded in the past, it has been hovering at 1,000 gold coins per unit. Rare resources are what players need to recruit advanced arms. The scarcity of advanced arms is destined for players to be unable to recruit on a large scale. This is why there are few rare resources, but the price is not very high.

"Sell 20 units of mercury, gems, and sulfur!"

Although the price is very attractive, Lin Han did not sell all the rare resources. In his memory, there are several recruitment points for advanced arms. As long as there are enough resources, he can recruit several advanced arms in the early stage. .

The combat effectiveness of a single high-level arm is not very high, but it is still extremely sharp when dealing with low-level arms. With its high defense and high attack, it is almost a knife to deal with low-level arms, while high-level arms are super thick. Even if they are surrounded by blood, they are not afraid at all. If they encounter some advanced units with area damage ability, it is even more crazy.

"Please note that after 10 units of rare resources have been sold, the rare resources will be reduced to 2,200 gold coins per unit. Would you like to sell them?"

When Lin Han was happy, a prompt popped up. As expected, just like his memory, when these resources are sold in large quantities by players, the price will continue to drop. Selling 10 units of resources will reduce the price by 300. After Han sells these 20 units of rare resources, the price of rare resources will drop to 1900 gold coins per unit.

"It's just too dark."

After getting 44,650 gold coins, Lin Han walked out of the resource exchange while muttering. There were only 47,000 gold coins in total, and the handling fee was almost 3,000, which was almost catching up with a green level 5 treasure. However, when he walked out of the resource exchange, Lin Han had already spotted other players on the street. They were two orc players. Seeing what they were discussing in front of a shop that specialized in selling arms and armor, he saw Lin Han, a black warrior. Approaching, the two orc players became nervous at the same time.

Originally, Lin Han didn't know what they were doing, but when he saw these two guys whispering after he appeared on the street, and their eyes kept drifting towards Lin Han, Lin Han felt something was wrong. These two guys discovered something, otherwise they wouldn't have become so nervous after discovering Lin Han.

"Please let it go."

Lin Han doesn't care so much. At the beginning, any resource is very important. If there is really any good thing here, Lin Han will never mind if he has it in his pocket. He just sold a lot of resources for his gold coins. It has risen to 50,000, which is definitely a terrifying astronomical figure in the early stage. If it is more economical, Lin Han is not afraid of anyone.

"Forging blueprint of arms equipment - black heavy armor. Limited arms - melee humanoid arms. Equipment effect - defense +3, health +50, 20% chance to reduce damage by 20 points when attacked. Selling price: 7500 gold coins. "When Lin Han saw a blueprint for the forging of arms equipment sold by this shop, he understood why these two guys were so nervous. If he saw this drawing and then saw other people approaching, he would definitely be nervous too. .

"I want this drawing."

How could Lin Han hand over such a good thing to someone, immediately took out a bag of gold coins, put it on the table and said to the dark elf NPC.

"Hey! Friends, we saw this thing first!"

Seeing that Lin Han bought it without even thinking about it, the two orc players were in a hurry. If they had the gold coins on their bodies, they could buy this blueprint directly, but once they bought this blueprint, both of them have less than 500 gold coins in their hands, which is why they hesitated to buy them. This is the only gold coin in their hands. If they are all used up, it will be a great hindrance to their future development.

"See first? See first why don't you buy?"

For this orc player, Lin Han is both angry and funny. What he saw first is his feeling? Isn't this funny? After receiving the blueprint handed over by the NPC,

Lin Han turned around and prepared to leave, but just as he was about to leave, two orc players stopped him at the same time.

"What else do you want to do to me?"

Looking at the two players' faces, Lin Han didn't care. The Dragon City is an absolute safe zone. There is no way to fight between players. Even some physical contact will be judged as an attack by the system, and the attacker will directly He was shocked, but although he knew it, the two orc players didn't know it!

"You brat, hand over the blueprints, or we'll be welcome!"

One of the orc players didn't know the rules of Longcheng, so he stretched out his hand carelessly to grab Lin Han, but the moment he caught Lin Han, a powerful impact directly shook his hand away. Almost sent him flying out.

"Cut, it's embarrassing to want to do it without even figuring out the rules of Longcheng."

Lin Han turned around and left without looking. There are actually many such players in the Eternal Realm, and Lin Han didn't care much, but this drawing made him very satisfied, even though he said that this kind of equipment has a lot of equipment. Strict restrictions, but the high defense and HP provided are very powerful. Although the trigger probability of the damage reduction effect is not very high, it is better than nothing. Occasionally a few damage reduction can also improve the survival rate of the troops.

Going back to the previous store, no players have appeared here. The location of this store is more remote, so Lin Han is not worried. Besides, how many people can get so many rare resources like him in the early stage? After all, these people are only a few. Even if they got it, they didn't know the location of the resource exchange when they first arrived in Longcheng. By the time they found it, Lin Han had already swept away all the good things.

"There are so many players so soon, it seems that there are still many masters!"

When I walked out of the store and returned to the main street of Longcheng, there were already many players on the street, including orcs, dark elves, cemetery, hell, and swamps. Some players even took out their own rewards. Treasures, began to sell along the street stalls.

Lin Han looked at several booths in a row and didn't find anything good. The level of treasures that players can obtain at this stage are not high. After looking at it for a long time, Lin Han only saw two green level 5 treasures, which were only special treasures.

There are three types of treasures in the Eternal Kingdom, one is equipment treasures, the other is special treasures, and the other is town treasures. Players can equip up to 10 treasures, of which 6 are equipment treasures, including armor, Weapons, boots, helmets, bracers, and necklaces. Four special treasures can be equipped. As for town treasures, they are for the town heart. Unfortunately, it can only be equipped with a second-level town heart. The more town treasures the heart can equip.

But there are not many lucky people in the game. No, Lin Han saw a good thing among the mess.

"Wolf King Skull, Green Level 3 Special Treasure, Unknown Function."

This treasure is a huge wolf skull, which is particularly conspicuous among a large number of treasures. The introduction of this treasure does not work. In fact, players will find that it has no effect if it is equipped, because this thing is not at all. Equipment treasures, but a key, a key to open the hidden area of the wolf king's lair.

The Wolf King's Den is a very difficult dungeon in the early stage. The monsters in it are probably all tier 4-5 arms. When the players are only tier 3-

4, this dungeon is known as a death nightmare. Wait until the 5th tier. When the arms are common, the wolf king's lair has become a stable resource copy for the player.

The role of the wolf king skull was discovered by a player accidentally. When he first got this thing, he didn't know what it was used for. After equipping it, he didn't see any attribute improvement. After that, he forgot the existence of this thing, but When he cleared the level of the wolf king's lair, he found that the exit portal that should have been opened was not opened, but a portal to the next area appeared.

Since then, the role of the wolf king skull has spread, and at the beginning, even 1,000 gold coins were not worth it. The wolf king skull rose to the point where thousands of gold coins could not be bought overnight. .

"This thing is very interesting. Is it a decoration? How did it sell?"

Taking the wolf king skull out of the pile of treasures, Lin Han pretended not to care and asked. The owner of the treasure stall was a player named Dark Moon Marasa, and Lin Han remembered that this should be a member of the Dark Moon Guild. , seems to be still a high-level guild, the Dark Moon Guild was also a very large guild in the last life, occupying several continents, it can be regarded as a regional tyrant.
