

HEROIC KING

Chapter 9: Mysterious Lich

"Is anyone here?"

With the experience of the previous life, Lin Han did not dare to rush into this seemingly shabby store. After clearing his throat, Lin Han asked in a low voice, the hoarse voice of the cemetery family was spread here, clearly visible.

"Who?"

An equally hoarse voice came from the darkness in the store. In the darkness, two faint green rays of light appeared. A row of small green letters floated over his head - "Dean - Frostfire"

Dean, this is the name of this NPC, and the one in front is the title of this guy. In the Eternal Realm, any NPC with a title is a super strong, and this lich who seems to be blown by the wind is also one of them. One, don't look at it bending over and looking weak, if it really fights, even Lin Han in the previous life is definitely not enough for this guy for a minute.

"Lord Dean, I know that you have the second-level town heart of the cemetery family here. I think I have met your requirements, so I want to buy a town heart."

Lin Han respectfully put his right hand on his left chest and said, this is a kind of etiquette of the black warrior, a kind of respect for the strong, and after seeing Lin Han's appearance, Dean's eyes twitched with green light. Then turned back into the darkness.

When it reappeared, it had already put on the dark green and black robes unique to the lich, with silver-white and black chains wrapped around its dry arms, and the breath of death spread around its body. It is its normal form to feel this feeling clearly, and that thin body is only used to deceive those who do not know.

"I haven't asked about the world for many years. I didn't expect that someone would be able to find my trace, boy, I can see that you are a little lord, um, very small, I can use one finger. The kind that crushed you."

Dean floated in the air and said slowly, at this time the name on the top of his head had changed from green to pale gold, even if it wasn't the first time for Lin Han to see it, he felt incredible. In the eternal kingdom, the only person who can have a pale golden name It is a legendary hero, that is to say, this lich named Dean is a legendary hero.

"Uh, as for how to describe it like that."

Listening to Dean's description, Lin Han really doesn't know what to say. Although it has such strength, it is too hurtful to say it directly. But Dean didn't seem to take Lin Han's words to heart, and continued to say in his hoarse voice, "Since you said that your strength meets my requirements, then go ahead and help me clean up at least 1,000 units of skeletons. , and 1000 units of skeletons, and then kill 200 units of that pesky zombie, and I will admit that you are qualified to get the heart of the town from me."

"Ding! You accepted Dean's quest - the qualifications recognized by the Lich."

"Qualifications recognized by the Lich - C-level mission: Listen to the boy, although I don't know how you know my identity, but it is not so simple to get things from me, you go and kill me 1000 units Skeletons and bones, yes, the zombie thing is so disgusting, kill me 200 units too, only then will I admit that you are eligible to buy things from me, remember, you only have one day, one day You have no chance after that. Quest reward: Dean's eligibility to buy."

"Hey, finally got it!"

Looking at this quest, Lin Han was overjoyed. If he wants to buy the Town Heart from Dean, he must first complete this quest. It is said that the quest of this lich is limited in number, and only fifty players can accept it at most. quest, and only after completing this quest will the player get the right to buy items from Dean.

It's a pity that when Lin Han knew the news, the number of fifty players had already been divided up. Dean is not only selling the heart of the town, but also many other messy treasures. Even troop architectural drawings. Of course, these are more than just one task to qualify for purchase. To obtain these things, you must brush your favorability to worship at Dean, which is a terrifying number.

Lin Han will now gain 30 favorability points after completing this quest, and this is just the beginning of Dean's favorability quest. At the beginning, the relationship between the player and Dean was cold, then friendship, friendliness, reverence, and Worship, it takes 1000 favorability points just to upgrade from indifference to friendliness. That is, he has to do this kind of quest 30 times. The most annoying thing is that the quest released by this guy is random, maybe you can accept one this time. A 30-point favorability quest will only have 10 points next time. If you are lucky, you can also receive hundreds of favorability tasks. It all depends on luck.

After releasing this quest, Dean disappeared into the darkness again, and Lin Han no longer stayed there. His goal had been achieved. Before completing the quest, Dean would not say anything more to the player. It's a waste of time here. It's better to go to Taobao on the NPC side. If you're lucky, you can buy top-quality treasures at very low prices, but the opportunity is rare. Before Lin

Han came to Longcheng, those treasures were long ago. It was divided up, and the good things that I usually brushed occasionally were quickly bought by some lucky people and people who specialize in squatting.

But now, the entire Dragon City is empty, and Lin Han is not sure if there are other players here. He can be sure of one thing, that is, the longer he delays, the less good things he can find.

"Come and take a look, adventurer, I have good things here!"

According to some descriptions left in his memory, Lin Han quickly found the first store. This store specializing in selling treasures often had some good things in the previous life, and the prices were very low. He often saw a bunch of players here. Wandering around, waiting for something good to appear.

But now, there is no one at the door of the store, only two orc NPCs wearing animal skins and dark red skin chatting there. When they saw Lin Han coming, these two NPCs became enthusiastic in an instant, and they hurried up to start. Display their various goods.

"Huh?! It's actually a heavy armor of bones. Damn, there is actually a soul-devouring sword here. Damn, how much did the first guy who came here earn!"

His eyes swept across several treasures in succession, Lin Han's face changed constantly, one by one familiar names appeared in his mind, he felt a little dizzy, although he was prepared for all this, but really Seeing so many treasures, he still couldn't calm down.

"Bone Heavy Armor: Green 5th-level equipment treasure, defense talent +3, increase the defense power of the skeleton troops in the equipper's troops by 2 points, and increase the health of the skeleton troops by 20 points."

"Soul Eating Sword: Green level 5 equipment treasure, attack talent +3, increase the damage of melee units in the equiper's troops by 2 points, and have a 5% chance to produce a soul eating effect when the troops attack, causing 30 additional damage to the target, and at the same time Reduces the target's movement speed by 30% for 3 seconds. It will cause an additional 150 damage to the summoned unit."

The Bone Armor and Soul Eater are both powerful treasures in the early stage. Of course, this is not the point. The point is that this is a set - the accessories of the Undead Wrath set, and the accessories of this Undead Wrath set, Lin Han is in this store. Saw all of them!

"Bonebreaker Boots: Green level 5 equipment treasure, defense talent +2, increase the movement speed of the melee arms by 0.2 meters per second, and the long-range arms by 0.1 meters per second."

"Helm of the Endless Wraith: A blue level 1 equipment treasure, attack talent +2, defense talent +3, and increase all units in the wearer's army by 4 points of damage and 1 point of defense."

"Set attributes: three attributes: undead units in the equiper's army attack +4, defense +2. Four attributes: the undead units in the equiper's army increase the attack by 10%, and at the same time obtain the set skill - undead rage."

Undead Wrath suit, this is one of the best equipment for cemetery lords and heroes in the early stage. There is no requirement for level, and the attributes are quite good. The four treasures can give players an additional 8 points of defense talent and 5 points of attack. Talent, and the Undead Rage in the suit is also a very powerful strategic skill.

"Undead Rage - Activate the power of the violent undead in the suit, make all undead units within 200 meters of yourself enter the undead rampage state, increase the attack by 30%, the movement speed by 40%, the attack speed by 40%, and the damage received. 100% for 15 seconds, cooldown: 600 seconds."

This skill can greatly improve the attack ability of Lin Han's troops in a short period of time. The 30% attack increase plus the 10% attack bonus of the four-piece suit is a 40% attack increase! Coupled with the increase in attack speed, the damage output can be almost doubled.

"This price is really not an ordinary cheat!"

Although he said he saw this set, when Lin Han saw the price of this set, he was still a little depressed. The heavy bone armor cost 2,000 gold coins, the Soul Eater Sword cost 3,000 gold coins, and the bonebreaker boots cost 2,000 gold coins. The Wraith Helmet was the most expensive, costing 5,000 gold coins, so it would be 12,000 gold coins in such a set.

Lin Han only has more than 8,000 gold coins now, but he is not in a hurry, because there is a special place to sell resources in the Dragon City, where players can convert resources into gold coins, or use gold coins to buy resources, no matter what it is, the system will extract 5% of the transaction amount as a commission, although it is a bit tricky, but in the early stage, this is the main source of gold coins.

"One unit of wood is exchanged for 400 gold coins. The price of stone and ore is the same. It seems that no one has found this place."

When Lin Han came to the resource exchange, he was frightened by the price of resources. In the previous life, he also sold resources many times. At the most expensive time, a unit of wood was only sold for 100 gold coins, but now But it is 4 times that of the previous one. This is also where the resource exchange is super tricky. The more people who buy a certain resource, the more expensive that resource will be. When a certain resource is sold in large quantities, the price of that resource will also decrease. lower and lower.