

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 693 - Korean Featured

C693 Korean Featured

After leaving the Chamber of Commerce, Wu Tian was still thinking about the tea he had here.

It would be great if he could keep drinking like this ...

This Guan Ruonan was really interesting. He didn't know who she was and started to be interested in her.

"Alright, we've temporarily reached a small agreement. The rest of the matters will be done after I return home."

Wu Tian stretched his back. What he said made Wu Zaibin feel relieved.

As expected, he was very useful when he came. As soon as he started, he was half successful.

"President Wu, we don't have anything to do right now anyway. I've found an interesting place recently, why don't we take a look?"

Wu Zaibin secretly winked at Wu Tian, and the two boys immediately understood.

Before this, Wu Tian had heard that Korea was exceptionally developed in certain industries, and was even very famous throughout the world.

Most of the boys were fascinated by the place.

Of course, Wu Tian was no exception. A few years ago, he watched a lot of those kinds of action films.

"What are you guys talking about? Where are we going next? What's your plan?"
Seeing the two of them carrying her on their backs, Loong Yun quickly came over.

However, once she interrupted them, the two boys immediately stopped discussing and appeared obedient.

"It's nothing, it's nothing. Let's go, let's take a good look around, I also want to see what's so special about this Korea Country."

Wu Tian pretended that they didn't discuss anything much. They drove to the center of the city.

Although Wu Tian could not understand the words here, he could still feel that the Korea Country was indeed powerful.

"Even the most prosperous place in our S City is probably incomparable to this place."

Wu Tian looked at the bustle of this place and could not help but sigh.

The place they were at right now, was an ordinary commercial street. Although it could be said to be ordinary, if it was placed in the S City, it would be extraordinary.

The business street was bustling with people, and they were all wearing famous brands.

Every shop was famous. Just by looking at the decorations and furnishings, one could tell that they were not ordinary.

"I have to say, it really does look like that. After all, he has been developing for quite a long time."

Wu Zaibin was also very emotional. He glanced around and soon found his target's shop.

He quietly gestured to Wu Tian to look over, and the two intentionally avoided Loong Yun.

Wu Tian looked around and nodded as if he was enlightened. Both of them revealed a vulgar smile.

Loong Yun pretended not to say anything at the side, but she had actually seen all of their movements with her own eyes.

"Where are you guys going to play? I want to go to the cosmetics store over there and have a look."

Since they had the intention, she might as well give them the chance.

Loong Yun also saw the shop just now. Although it was just a glance, she immediately blushed.

The customs of Korea were a little too damaging to the culture, and this kind of thing was publicly displayed in front of everyone.

"Really? That's great! You go ahead and pick one. If you have anything you like, buy one for Shen Xue and the others. I'll reimburse you for the money when we get back."

As he said this, Wu Tian, along with Wu Zaibin, rushed towards the heaven of all the men.

Loong Yun looked at their backs and sighed helplessly.

"There are so many girls around, yet you still want to watch that kind of movie? I really don't understand."

Since she couldn't figure it out, she decided to leave it at that. Loong Yun then went shopping.

In China Country, these video discs could not be circulated, so it could be said that people were secretly spreading them, and did not dare to let others know.

However, there was no need to worry about it in Korea Nation. They could even publicly sell it.

The customs and habits were also more open. It was said that there were even some shops in this industry nearby.

Looking at the dazzling array of products, it was as if the two of them had never seen the world before, and were completely engrossed in it.

"How about it, President Wu, isn't this place really impressive!" Wu Zaibin seemed honest, who would have thought he was so wretched.

Wu Tian secretly gave him a thumbs up. Finally, someone understood him. This was what a good brother should be like!

Seeing the two of them so excited, the clerk immediately recognized them as foreign tourists and hurried over.

"Hello, can I introduce you to our special recommendation?"

The little shop assistant's brother spoke very fluently in China and spoke very fluently. However, he still had a bit of an accent in Korea.

Wu Tian looked at his smile and did not know what he meant.

"Special recommendation? What special recommendation? Your China language is pretty good. "

Wu Tian and Wu Zaibin looked at each other. No one knew what was going on, so they decided to listen to what he had to say.

"Customer, you are being too courteous. I once stayed in China to study. Here is the recommended absolute package for you to satisfy you! "Come with me."

After saying that, the young man turned around and led the two of them to the back door of the store. From here, it was a street, but this street was filled with lights and neon lights.

Pink lights shone on the ground, revealing an atmosphere that made one unable to refrain from being enthralled.

"Hey, could this be ..." Wu Tian was a bit excited, his hands began to tremble.

Wu Zaibin, who was on the side, was no better than him. These two belonged to the type of people who said that they had evil intentions but no guts.

In China Nation, he had never dared to cross the lightning pool by even half a step. He had only heard of this sort of place before, but had never actually been here.

Seeing the two of them so shocked, the little shop assistant was already used to it.

"I've brought a lot of people here. This time, I've brought a very popular recommendation for the two of you. "Look at the shop on my left, this is for the topic of uniforms, this is for the topic of maids, it's the most recent two stores that are quite popular."

Of course, it was not just that. Wu Tian looked along the row and saw that most of the shops on the street were like this.

Although the outside entrance was quite narrow, once they arrived on this street, it was as if they were suddenly enlightened. It turned out that the inside was a completely different world.

"Oh, President Wu, we're in trouble now. I'm afraid we have to go out bent over..."

Wu Zaibin was stunned. Happiness came too suddenly, so suddenly that he wasn't prepared for it.

"That's right, I'm a bit scared now. What should I do?"

Wu Tian suddenly felt a bit warm under his nose. He actually had a nosebleed.

This was like a child who had never drunk a single sip of wine, suddenly pouring him a few bottles of Maotai. He simply could not endure this kind of stimulation.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 694 - It Is Not Fair to See Things on the Road

C694 It Is Not Fair to See Things on the Road

Although they said that they didn't want to, but the two of them were still quite honest.

Following the shop assistant's footsteps, the two of them lingered on this street.

Watching one family after another fascinated them.

"President Wu, I think this is pretty good ..."

"Aiya, this won't do! Why do you have such poor judgement? Your aesthetic standards are too poor. I think that one over there is even better."

"President Wu, that guy over there is amazing!"

The two chattered on like old peasants who had never entered the city before. They felt very close to everything that happened.

"You two don't have to rush."

The shop assistant had long since gotten used to this kind of thing. Whenever he brought foreign guests, it was usually like this.

This was because there were very few countries like the Korea that would allow such red light districts to use transparent windows, and would directly use people as exhibits.

You could see the girl in the shop on the street, what she looked like and what kind of clothes she was wearing.

The two of them studied for a long time, and in the end, no one dared to walk into a shop inside.

Just as he was looking around, a few muscular men suddenly threw a thin and weak boy out from a shop in front of them.

They chattered in Korean, but no one could understand what they were saying.

This commotion immediately attracted the attention of many pedestrians nearby. They stood far away and pointed at something with their hands.

"What's wrong?"

Wu Tian remembered that the shop assistant should have understood, so he asked him.

"Seems like he was looking for someone. The bodyguards thought he was here to cause trouble, so they threw him out."

This sort of thing wasn't considered new in this sort of place. There would always be a few that occurred.

Sometimes, customers didn't pay or cause trouble. In short, without these bodyguards, this place wouldn't be able to run properly.

"So that's how it is ..."

Wu Tian nodded as if he had thought of something, then prepared to return to his decision.

It was just that the boy had crawled up from the ground. There were wounds all over his body, and he must have been beaten up a lot.

He crawled back to the store and knocked on the door.

"Let me in, let me meet my sister!"

However, this time, both Wu Tian and Wu Zaibin cast their gazes over at the first moment.

Because this boy was actually speaking in the language of China.

What was going on?

Wu Tian immediately became interested. He exchanged glances with Wu Zaibin and walked over.

When the shop assistant saw this, he quickly followed.

Seeing how this guy did not want to give up, the bodyguards that came out this time were not unarmed, but holding a steel rod in their hands.

"How many times have I told you that there's no one here for you? Hurry up and leave!"

Although this street was a paradise for men, it was still a hell for girls.

But the boy didn't want to leave. He clung to the handle of the door and wouldn't let go.

This action of his had a serious impact on the operation of their shop. Upon seeing this, the bodyguards directly came over with iron rods in their hands.

Wu Tian could not stand watching this any longer. He quickly stopped it and kicked the bodyguard aside, then pulled the boy aside.

"Tell them if they have something to discuss, do they have to hit him?"

Wu Zaibin quickly let the clerk act as an interpreter. Although this matter had nothing to do with them, they were all from China, so it was better for them to help each other out in foreign lands.

Even if there was any conflict between the two sides, they should have just thought of a way to resolve it. If it really wasn't possible, they should have reported it to the police or something.

"They said that this boy came to harass the girls in their shop ..."

The shop assistant hesitated, but still translated according to the original words.

"Harassment?"

Wu Tian was stunned for a moment, then looked at the boy's body full of wounds. With such a situation, how could it still be called harassment?

He was about to be beaten to death, and they still said that this boy was going to harass them?

"Ask him what the hell is going on? Tell me clearly, or else this matter will not end."

Wu Tian's temper immediately rose. He was still determined to interfere in this matter.

What, they dare to bully someone just because it's their territory?

"Lad, tell me what's going on!"

The boy was already weak. Even talking was difficult for him.

"Thank you, thank you."

With Wu Zaibin's help, he stood up successfully and rested for a while on a chair on the side of the street.

Then, he slowly said, "I came to find my sister. I heard someone took a picture of her here ..."

"Your sister is here?"

Wu Zaibin looked at the boy, then looked at the shop, and instantly understood what was going on.

The name of this store had the words' Foreign Student 'on it ... Furthermore, the interior was decorated in a style along with various other things. It seemed to be the main theme of China Nation ...

Neither Wu Zaibin nor Wu Tian could have imagined that there would be such a thing ...

"Explain everything clearly. If it really is our China that is at a disadvantage, don't worry, I will be in charge of this matter."

Wu Tian's words were like a shot in the arm for this boy.

However, there was one thing that he had to say first.

"But, if they didn't do something wrong, then I can't do anything."

After all, he still had to be reasonable. The crux of the matter still depended on who was right and who was wrong.

"Big brother, if you really can help me, even if I have to be your slave, I will still agree." My sister didn't come here voluntarily. She's gone missing. I've been looking for her for two years. "

The boy used all his remaining strength.

Just from the way he spoke, he could clearly feel that this boy's body was in great pain. Breathing seemed to be a form of torture for him.

"Wu Zaibin, hurry and call the ambulance."

Wu Tian felt that he must have sustained serious injuries and that he couldn't afford to delay any longer.

"How did your sister disappear? Who are you?"

Wu Tian squinted his eyes and vaguely felt that this matter wasn't that simple.

"We were the children of merchants that were doing business in Korea, my father was the president of the merchant guild, and then, for some reason, he was killed, and my sister was kidnapped."

After saying this, the boy looked at the shop with a sorrowful expression. His gaze then swept toward a window upstairs.

When his eyes met the window, it suddenly moved, as if the curtain had been pulled.

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 695 - Enemies Have a Narrow Road

C695 Enemies Have a Narrow Road

Chamber of Commerce?

Wu Tian just came out of the Chamber of Commerce so why did he hear about the Chamber of Commerce again?

Moreover, this boy claimed to be Commerce Chamber Chairman's child ...

However, wasn't Commerce Chamber Chairman that Guan Ruonan now? Could it be that something had happened to her superior that led to Guan Ruonan's appointment?

"Don't talk for now, the ambulance will

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 696 - Knock down Korea's Finance

C696 Knock down Korea's Finance

How could he refuse something that could earn money? Who wouldn't want to earn more and more money?

The young man was the same, and he accepted the money with satisfaction.

"Go ahead."

"Can you contact the manager of this street for me? I want to buy this place."

After Wu Tian finished speaking, the young man still maintained his smile.

"What did you just say?"

"I said buy this street."

"?"

The little shop assistant had a face full of doubt. This was a whole street, Korea's house price was world-famous, it was famous for being expensive.

Even if they wanted to buy a house, they would need to peel off a few layers of leather, and Wu Tian just wanted to buy this street.

"Sir, you might be mistaken. This street is indeed a place that can be bought, but I'm afraid that even you can't afford to buy it at this price."

The shop assistant reminded him very kindly. He knew what Wu Tian was thinking, but sometimes, imagination and reality couldn't be considered together.

"I'm not mistaken. I said that I want to buy this street. Just do as I say. Can you contact me?"

Seeing that Wu Tian was so insistent, the clerk didn't say anything and finally nodded.

"Definitely. When do you want to go?"

Wu Tian looked at the time. Actually, it was still early, he had nothing to do.

"Now!"

The shop assistant brought Wu Tian and the other two to a taxi as soon as he said he would leave.

The people who ran this street didn't live here, but in a nearby expensive apartment.

If he was looking for someone else, he might not even be able to find the real administrator.

Wu Tian could be considered to have good luck, but this shop assistant had once met this manager by chance.

Despite the fact that he did not usually show up, in fact, this person often came to inspect his street in the form of private visits.

Any store that doesn't do well will be cleared out immediately. There were even places that were illegal and out of line, and he would soon be able to rectify them.

This was also the reason why this street was so famous in the entire Korea.

"Please wait here for a moment, I'll go knock on the door."

The shop assistant said to Wu Tian politely, then he walked up and lightly knocked on the door.

Soon, a wretched old man came out from the room.

He was short and a little fat and bald, and he looked very greasy.

The only difference was that his clothes were decent. Although they weren't particularly expensive, they still had a certain style to them.

Wu Tian didn't understand what the two of them were talking about, but he could observe the expressions between the two of them.

Wu Tian still had this kind of ability. At least, this manager didn't show any sign of refusing, which meant that it was very promising.

Soon, the shop assistant came back. He wiped the sweat off his forehead. It seemed like the negotiation wasn't going to be easy.

"He asked you to come in. He said he wanted to go into the house and talk about it."

Wu Tian nodded and quickly followed him.

This manager's house was not very big, but the furnishings inside were extremely luxurious. There was a type that had a plain and ordinary appearance with a rich heart.

"I heard you want to buy my street?"

The manager signaled Wu Tian to sit down. The two of them sat on the sofa facing each other and looked at each other.

"That's right, you can say whatever you want."

Wu Tian was delighted. He didn't think too much about the price as long as it was suitable, even if it was just a little bit more expensive.

The key was that he had to fight for his countrymen.

"Sir, actually, I don't plan to buy this street. I've been doing business here for so many years, and I've put in a lot of effort."

The manager did not even need the shop assistant to translate it, as he spoke in an extremely fluent China language.

His Chinese was even more standard than the people from China.

You really can't judge a book by its cover. Those who were capable were more or less those who were hiding their strength.

"I can understand your feelings, but I want to buy it here from the bottom of my heart."

Hearing Wu Tian's words, the manager paused for a moment.

"Excuse me, but may I ask what is your reason? Why did you have to buy this place? There are a few streets next door that are about the same size as mine. "

After Wu Tian heard that, he crooked his finger at the employee and asked for the document from him.

He pushed it on the coffee table and motioned for the administrator to take a look.

It was a photo and video, and it didn't have much of an impact on the manager.

His face was as calm as if it had never happened.

"This is my reason. Actually, my thoughts weren't that noble, but I didn't want our China people to lose their breath."

"I'm sorry, but I can't agree to such a reason."

However, he didn't expect the manager to refuse, causing even Wu Tian to be stunned.

They were still far from talking about the price, which they had rejected in the beginning.

"Why, is that bad for you?"

Wu Tian was confused.

"Mr Wu, I know that you might not lack money, but I can't accept this mentality of yours. Is that really what you're thinking in your heart? Is it really appropriate to use this kind of reason to trick you? "

Even though this manager seemed to be ordinary, he was still someone who had seen countless people. To be able to manage an entire street like this, he was definitely not a coward.

Wu Tian was rendered speechless by his words. It was true, what he said about giving his China people more courage, this was indeed what he was thinking.

However, this alone was not enough to sustain his desire to buy this street.

The other point was that the owner of the shop was Shangguan Junyi.

The combination of these two factors made Wu Tian want to buy this street.

That was the only way to prevent such a thing from happening again.

"Ahh, you really are amazing. You finally saw through it."

Wu Tian sighed. He knew he couldn't hide the truth from him, so he told him the whole truth.

"I have enmity with the owner of this shop, and this method is unacceptable. If that woman came here on her own accord, I have nothing to say, after all, they did not break the laws of Korea."

Wu Tian said slowly. He carefully looked at the manager in front of him and changed the topic. He said something else that shocked him.

"The other thing is, I'm preparing to destroy Korea's finances!"