

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 742 - Complete Defeat

C742 Complete Defeat

After eating her fill, Yan'er was no longer afraid of anything. She wanted to walk past Wu Tian's position arrogantly and find a place to shower and change clothes.

"Where are you going?"

Wu Tian looked at her with a smile, then used his body to block the door.

"Get out of the way, don't worry about me!"

Yan'er glared at him angrily. On the contrary, she was getting closer to Wu Tian.

She didn't believe it. With her father's status, she couldn't make this person yield.

"You want me to get out of the way? What are you thinking? How is that possible?"

Wu Tian sneered, pushed her away, then turned around and locked the door.

It seemed like he had taught her a lesson that wasn't deep enough, but she still didn't know who was the boss here.

She did not understand her own situation. It was truly a foolish thing to do.

"Hey, what are you trying to do? Hurry up and let me out! I'll get my dad to put you in jail! "

No matter how loud the noise was, Wu Tian pretended that he couldn't hear anything and was completely unmoved.

The temperature outside was almost 30 degrees, and the temperature Wu Tian set inside was even 35 degrees.

This was nothing. Yan'er, who had just drunk a lot of water, was now in a miserable state. Immediately, she started sweating profusely again.

She actually wanted to take off her outer clothes, but she was afraid that Wu Tian would barge in and harm her, so she didn't dare to do anything in the end.

The more she knocked at the door, the faster she sweated. The sweat on her body was already starting to become sticky, almost making Yan'er suffocate.

"Hurry and let me out!"

The voices inside became softer and softer, but Wu Tian remained unmoved.

About half an hour later, Wu Tian opened the door and a wave of heat rushed out.

Yan'er was already lying on the ground, neither speaking nor moving.

Wu Tian went over to take a look. She was still awake, but her body was already soaked through.

"If you listen to me, I'll let you go. Tell me, why are you monitoring me?"

Yan'er didn't want to continue like this anymore. She answered whatever Wu Tian asked. She really didn't want to stay here any longer.

"I just want to investigate who you are and punish you. Who told you to embarrass me on the street back then ..."

Although she sounded weak, Yan'er tried her best to speak in her own voice.

She really did bear a grudge against him. Wu Tian suddenly felt a little uninterested. He had originally thought that there was some important person behind all of this.

"Alright, you've passed the test. You can go take a bath now." Wu Tian helped Yan'er up from the floor and sent her to a guest room.

In order to prevent her from escaping, Wu Tian purposely watched from the door.

He wasn't particularly worried that she would run away. Yan'er hadn't changed her clothes, so how could she leave this place, unless she was naked?

Listening to the sound of water splashing in the bathroom, Wu Tian started to recall if Yan'er was of any use to him.

No matter what, she was Minister of Finance's daughter, she might be able to help him.

Another thing was that Yan'er didn't seem to have a good relationship with her father.

The reason for such a delinquent girl to be like this was definitely due to the lack of discipline within the family, or perhaps it was a betrayal due to the strict discipline within the family ...

After an unknown period of time, the sound of water in the bathroom could be heard for an hour or two.

What was she doing ... Wu Tian was tired of waiting outside by himself.

"Hey, what are you doing in there? How long has it been? " Wu Tian went over and knocked on the door. He really didn't know what this guy was doing.

"Why are you outside? How am I supposed to leave if you're outside ..." Yan'er's surprised voice came from inside.

"Alright, alright, alright. Hurry up and come out." Wu Tian went to the door, opened it, and then closed it again.

However, he didn't go out. He just made a noise for Yan'er to hear.

Soon, the sound of water stopped and a smooth and tender leg stretched out from the bathroom door.

The top was wrapped in a bathrobe. Although it was difficult to see her figure clearly, it was enough to leave one with endless reveries.

"You're finally out. I thought you were living inside."

Wu Tian suddenly came out from behind the door and looked at Yan'er with a smile.

Yan'er was scared out of her wits by Wu Tian and almost fell down to the ground. She immediately screamed.

"Ah, what are you doing! Help! Don't come over, I'm going to call the police! "

Yan'er's face was filled with fear, probably thinking that Wu Tian was ready to take a fancy to her.

"What is it? What else can I do? "

Wu Tian locked the door with a click. This place was his company, and the soundproofing of these houses was very good. Even if this Yan'er called for the heavens, no one would notice.

"You, you're a rapist. Let me tell you, if you touch one of my fingers, my dad won't spare you!"

Yan'er tightly held onto her bathrobe. She didn't think that she had just escaped from hell and ended up in another trap.

Tears fell from Yan'er's eyes and slid down her cheeks.

Wu Tian originally wanted to tease her again, but he didn't expect this guy to be crying.

"Alright, alright. I brought you some clothes that you can wear." Wu Tian turned around awkwardly and threw some pajamas over.

Although Yan'er still felt that Wu Tian was very dangerous, she still changed into these clothes while crying.

It was the first time that she was wearing clothes so close to a man. The feeling of being played with and humiliated surged to her heart in an instant.

Although Yan'er didn't cry, her tears flowed even more.

"Okay okay okay. Why are you still crying? I've prepared some food for you. You should rest first, but I can't let you go right now."

Wu Tian was very well-prepared. He opened the door and a few people pushed a dining cart in.

They put down their stuff and Wu Tian walked out with these people.

He had locked the door quietly, and had taken the clothes she had left in the bathroom.

Seeing that Wu Tian had finally left, Yan'er finally felt relieved.

As she ate, she realized that she didn't hate Wu Tian that much anymore.
