

Hidden Billionaire Chapter 750 - Scapegoat

C750 Scapegoat

Yan'er did not change her words in the face of the bureau chief's personal lobbying. She kept her words to herself.

These, the few people from Police Station began to find it difficult.

"If she insists on not admitting that it's a kidnapping case, we can't continue to detain this Wu Tian. If we hold him for too long, we police will probably be complained about and it will be bad for us. "

Scarface said helplessly. The bureau chief was clear about these matters, but he really didn't want to lose an opportunity like this.

"No, we can't let Wu Tian go!" The bureau chief forcefully suppressed this matter.

He slapped the table hard, "Keep investigating, talk to that girl. Isn't her dad Minister of Finance? Use this to give her some pressure. You should understand the rest." As long as she agrees, we will immediately sue this Wu Tian. "

"But Bureau Chief, this ..." Superintendent Liu felt that something was wrong. According to the law, they should have released Wu Tian right now.

"Don't say anymore, just do as I say. If anything happens, I'll handle it."

The bureau chief's tone was unquestionable. Superintendent Liu and Scarface could only helplessly agree.

What else could they do?

"You can leave this to me. Go and rest first."

The knife-scarred man knew that Superintendent Liu really didn't want to do such a thing, so he simply put the blame on himself.

"Sorry for troubling you." Superintendent Liu looked exhausted. She couldn't figure out what was going on.

The scar-faced man looked at Superintendent Liu's back and sighed helplessly.

On the other side, the bureau chief crossed his legs as he made a call from his office.

"Haha, don't worry, this time Wu Tian definitely won't leave the police station. Now that we've found the key evidence, the rest is just the conviction, okay, okay, Minister, are you going to play golf today? I heard that a new one has opened in the west side of the city, and the facilities are very good ..."

The righteous attitude he had just now had completely disappeared, and what replaced it was a fawning expression.

The next day, Wu Tian was still being held in custody in the police station, while Yan'er had not left.

No one restricted her freedom. However, Yan'er felt that if Wu Tian didn't leave, she wouldn't leave either.

The policemen were helpless in the face of such a situation.

Yan'er hadn't committed a crime, and they couldn't do anything to her.

And according to the rules, Wu Tian could get his family to help him pay the bail when they couldn't sue Wu Tian.

However, since Wu Tian had been locked up until now, there were a lot of policemen in the police station muttering about this matter. This was already a violation of the rules.

Scarface could be said to not have slept at all. He kept thinking about how to chat with Yan'er and even wanted to check if there was any connection or background between the two.

However, the investigation progressed very slowly, and he did not get any useful information.

"How is it?" Superintendent Liu walked into the office. From afar, she saw Scarface sighing sorrowfully.

"I still can't convict him. It's been twelve hours."

The scar-faced man's face was heavy. The ashtray on his table was full of cigarette butts. It looked like there was a mountain piled up there.

"If that doesn't work, we should make him pay the bail first. This won't work if things go on like this, and our Police Station will really have problems at that time."

Superintendent Liu had been a police officer for so many years, so she knew what was at stake.

The laws and regulations of the Korea were still relatively strict, and the demands on the police were especially high.

In this regard, there was a special audit to investigate whether their police officers had failed in their duties or violated regulations.

Although they could continue to hide this matter, the chances of the inspectors finding out about it were increasing.

"Why aren't you letting them go?"

Seeing that the two of them had started working again, Yan'er did not care that she had not slept that night as she rushed over and shouted at the two of them.

"You don't need to add to the mess here." Scarface was on the verge of breaking down. He had been nagged by little girl for the whole night.

Originally, Scarface should have had a good chat with her, but he didn't think that she would teach him a lesson for the whole night.

All night.

"Don't talk about those useless things. I know that you all want to catch a hold on him, but I've already told you all that. I will absolutely not change my words." Yan'er's unexpected tenacity didn't show any signs of cowardice in front of them. In fact, her figure seemed even taller than before.

"What should we do?" The knife-scarred man didn't break at all and could only place his hopes on Superintendent Liu.

Superintendent Liu walked over with a smile and held Yan'er's hand.

"Don't worry, we're not intentionally looking for trouble with him. It's mainly because we, the police, can't ignore such a thing. I know you might be in a bad mood, but we're not in a hurry to get you to express your stance. You can think about it."

With that said, Yan'er's attitude became a bit more relaxed. She thoughtfully nodded her head and left the room.

The scar-faced man couldn't help but give Superintendent Liu a thumbs up.

But the two of them were soon unable to laugh.

An hour later, Yan'er appeared again, this time with a group of inspectors following behind her.

"I received a report saying that a citizen was in your custody."

The inspector looked serious as he stared coldly at the director of the Police Station.

When Superintendent Liu saw the report, she heaved a sigh of relief. She finally felt better.

The bureau chief was stunned, not knowing how this matter had reached their ears.

"That... I don't know about that. "

The bureau chief had a clueless expression as he quickly turned to look at his secretary.

"Chief, we did detain a person with the surname Wu, but this is in Superintendent Liu's custody and she didn't report it to you."

Hearing his secretary's words, the bureau chief looked as if he had suddenly realized something. He smiled at the inspector, "Sir, I really don't know anything about this matter. It was all done by my underlings."

With that, the police chief signed the order to expel Scarface and Superintendent Liu in front of the inspectors.

That would be letting the censor go.

The entire police department was shocked. Who didn't know that all this would turn out to be at the request of the police chief?

In the end, the ones who took the blame were Superintendent Liu and Scarface.