

My Hidden Wife is Sweet

- Chapter 1817 - 1817 Weiwei's Memory 2

1817 Weiwei's Memory 2

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and nodded seriously.

“Let’s go.”

Yuan Meng let out a sigh of relief. “Then let’s go now?”

Gu Weiwei nodded and threw a look at Fu Hanzheng, feeling so helpless that she wanted to cry.

There were so many men in the world, how could she have slept with Fu Hanzheng?

If Mother Gu and Grandpa Gu knew about it, they would get very annoyed.

“Then I will drive,” Yuan Meng said and showed an ok sign to Fu Hanzheng.

Gu Weiwei followed her out and went into Yuan Meng’s car. She almost collapsed when she thought of Fu Hanzheng in the towel in the bedroom.

“Are you my sister or not? Why didn’t you stop me when I was surrounded by such a dangerous person? What should I do now?”

Yuan Meng’s lips twitched. She had been sharing the same bed with Fu Hanzheng for years, what was she breaking down for now?

If she knew that she had given birth to two children for Fu Hanzheng, she would pass out!

In order not to irritate her, Fu Hanzheng did not share the same car with them but drove his car and followed them to He Chi’s hospital.

He Chi had just spent one night studying the data sent by Yuan Shuo with his colleagues when Fu Hanzheng woke him up and told him that they were at the hospital.

He picked them up and said with a yawn, “Let’s go, I have asked my men to keep the data safe. We will do the EEG and then the CT, and MRI. We will check them all.”

Hearing the words, Gu Weiwei frowned curiously.

“Aren’t we checking for HIV? Why the brain examination?”

Startled, He Chi turned to Gu Weiwei and then to Fu Hanzheng.

“H... HIV?”

What was going on?

Didn’t they say that they were going to do a brain examination? What were they doing with HIV?

Yuan Meng and Gu Weiwei walked a bit faster and Fu Hanzheng and He Chi walked together as they said with a serious face, “She has forgotten.”

“What?” He Chi was confused.

“When she woke up this morning, she had forgotten everything about the past few years. The experiment was a success.” Fu Hanzheng sighed as he saw the girl in front of him.

“...” He Chi was still in a daze.

He had been wondering why sister-in-law was behaving so weirdly today, but it turned out that she truly had lost her memory.

But if she had forgotten about what happened these years in Hua Land, she would have forgotten about him too.

Fu Hanzheng said as he threw a look at him, “Yuan Shuo sent you the experimental data, how is the research?”

“When we compared sister-in-law and the other participants, we found that the experiment was actually a success. I thought that it was a good thing that Sister-in-law was not affected, but it turned out to be true.” He Chi sighed sympathetically.

If Gu Weiwei forgot everything, then their relationship would have been in vain.

It had not been easy for them to get married and have children, but the moment she woke up, she was back to how she was before. For the first time in his life, he truly felt sorry for Fu Hanzheng.

“Is there any way to make her recover?” Fu Hanzheng asked.

“Well, I can’t guarantee that right now, but we can wait until she finishes the examination,” He Chi said.

Fu Hanzheng sighed. "Anyway, let's do the examination first."

He Chi nodded and asked curiously, "But what is the point of checking for HIV?"

Even if she had forgotten about what happened a few years ago, he still could not understand why she came to the hospital for a HIV test.

"Get out of here." Fu Hanzheng snapped.

1818 Weiwei's Memory 3

Gu Weiwei did all the brain examinations with Yuan Meng's help.

As she was doing the examination, Yuan Meng made a call to Yuan Shuo who was pacing back and forth in the corridor.

"Damn, Weiwei woke up early this morning and forgot about what happened these past few years. Now she has even forgotten about Fu Hanzheng."

Yuan Shuo could not believe it. "She really doesn't remember anything?"

"True, she just remembers how we had the party in Paris and now she thinks that Fu Hanzheng is the male model who dared to sleep with her. She got so annoyed when she found out that the person she slept with was Fu Hanzheng," Yuan Meng said as she stormed down the corridor.

Yuan Shuo was also confused and asked after a long while, "How is she now?"

"I got her to come to the hospital for an examination." Yuan Meng sighed and said, "I may not be able to visit my son these days."

Yuan Shuo thought for a while. "I will go to Hua Land after I settle things down here."

If Weiwei had truly lost her memory of the past few years, then Yuan Meng would be the only person she trusted.

Also, she might want to leave Hua Land and that would be very troublesome.

"You do need to come home for a while. If she doesn't remember Fu Hanzheng now, what if she asks the Gu Family to meet Gu Siting? That would be a huge problem." Yuan Meng got very confused.

Also, Gu Weiwei was not as lovely as she had been after she was reborn.

"I get it, I'll come as soon as possible," Yuan Shuo said.

Seeing Gu Weiwei coming out of the examination room, Yuan Meng whispered, "Anyway, she is out."

Having said these words, she rang off.

After the MRI, Gu Weiwei said with a serious expression, "Aren't we here to check for HIV? Are you done with the brain examinations now?"

He Chi felt helpless. He touched his nose and said, "It takes weeks to months before HIV can be found."

When he saw the kiss traces on her neck, he knew whose masterpiece it was.

So basically, when she woke up and realized that she was sharing the same bed with Fu Hanzheng, she claimed that she was here for some HIV test.

Gu Weiwei sighed speechlessly and complained to Yuan Meng.

"Why did you bring me here if you can't find anything?"

"Didn't you say that you have a headache? Why not have a check up for it?" Yuan Meng laughed dryly.

He Chi threw a look at Fu Hanzheng and said to Gu Weiwei, "Sister-in-law... come to my office..."

"What for?" Gu Weiwei threw a look at Yuan Meng and said, "Let's go home."

"Where... are we going?" Yuan Meng asked.

"Shengxi Town, I need to tell Master that you danced with two men last night." Gu Weiwei glared at her and walked into the elevator.

Yuan Meng sighed. "Well... your master asked us to stay here and he will be coming here in a few days."

"Coming?" Gu Weiwei looked around and mumbled, "Aren't we supposed to be in Paris? Why does it look like we are in Hua Land? I don't think that every hospital on this street should be full of Chinese people."

Yuan Meng entered the elevator and saw the text Fu Hanzheng sent to her: You can go back to the car, I will talk with He Chi.

So she brought her downstairs to the car but did not drive away.

The moment Gu Weiwei got into the car, she thought of what happened in the morning and got very annoyed.

“I was drunk, and you are crazy too! How dare you let me do that with Fu Hanzheng?!”

Yuan Meng pursed her lips and looked helpless. She had been sleeping with him for so many years and it was too late for her to get mad now.

1819 Lost Relationship

After Yuan Meng brought Gu Weiwei downstairs, Fu Hanzheng followed He Chi to his office.

He Chi checked the data and said seriously, “I know that you want to ask me if there is any way to help her recover, but Gu Siting invested so much into this project and it took him three years before he succeeded...”

“I don’t care how much I invest,” Fu Hanzheng said.

He Chi adjusted his glasses. “It is not a matter of how much money you invest, but how much equipment or drugs you can develop to cure her. That is a task hundreds of times more difficult than Gu Siting’s project.”

“No matter how difficult it is, we must make her well,” Fu Hanzheng said with a low voice.

“In order to cure her, we need to study the right method, and that would take a great deal of time.” He Chi looked at him sympathetically and said, “Also, in my opinion, if her cerebral cortex is stimulated, I am afraid that before she is cured, more serious consequences will follow.”

“So you are not going to do anything about it?” Fu Hanzheng asked with a low voice.

He Chi shrank his neck guiltily. “What I mean is that we can try to make her accept your relationship first and then guide her to remember it herself. Maybe there will be a miracle?”

It was a very detailed and complicated study to figure out the instrument and medicine to cure her memory loss, and it would take a very long time too. Could he wait that long?

Fu Hanzheng stayed silent for a moment and said, “I will find a lab with top-notch research equipment and staff, and you will be responsible for it.”

He Chi had wanted to turn him down, but seeing his distressed face, he felt sorry for him.

“Alright, but I can’t guarantee when this project will be completed.”

Fu Hanzheng nodded. He knew that the hope was slim, but he must not miss any opportunities to cure her.

“Then I will finish the work at the hospital this week,” He Chi said.

Fu Hanzheng nodded, left the office with a heavy expression and joined Yuan Meng in the parking lot.

The moment he left, He Chi reported the situation to Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin.

Within two minutes, Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin exploded in the group chat.

Fu Shiqin: What?

Fu Shiyi: Damn, what is going on?

Fu Shiqin: What do you mean my sister-in-law has no memory? How much is missing?

He Chi: Even your brother is not remembered, how much do you think?

Fu Shiyi: Ahhhh, that can’t be true. She was fine when I saw her at the old mansion yesterday.

He Chi: Something happened to her when she woke up this morning. She just finished the examination here, of course it is true!

Fu Shiqin: In that case, sister-in-law would not remember us or even Youyou and Tiantian.

He Chi: That is for sure. She seems to have been transported back to a certain day years ago. She has no memory of anything after that, just like a file on the computer that has been deleted.

Fu Shiqin: My brother is so miserable.

Fu Shiyi: So sad.

He Chi: It is so sad.

....

For the first time, the three men, who had always aimed to bring Fu Hanzheng down, showed Fu Hanzheng sympathy.

He had found a wife and had a pair of twins, what a winner he was in life!

But all of a sudden, sister-in-law had forgotten everything she had known about him in the past few years.

1820 Two Children

Fu Hanzheng went to the parking lot, got into his own car and returned to villa number seven with Yuan Meng.

Seeing that they were back at the place where they met in the morning, Gu Weiwei refused to get out of the car.

“Didn’t you say that this is Fu Hanzheng’s home? Why did you bring me here?”

Yuan Meng got so annoyed. “Honestly, you have been living with Fu Hanzheng for years and you have two babies with him! Where are you going to go if you are not here?”

Gu Weiwei looked at the woman calmly. “Continue with the story, I never realized that you are so talented as a scriptwriter.”

Yuan Meng patted her forehead and said, “Weiwei, let’s get out of the car and we can explain everything to you inside the house, alright?”

“No way, look at that Fu man’s scary face, I don’t want to die here,” Gu Weiwei glanced at Fu Hanzheng and whispered.

“He is annoyed by you,” Yuan Meng said.

He had been pestering her the night before, but the moment he woke up, he was so annoyed.

“Get out of the car, if you get injured here, I will pay with my life, alright?” Yuan Meng said.

Gu Weiwei thought for a while and got out of the car. But she kept walking next to Yuan Meng and warned her with a small voice.

“You must stay three steps next to me.”

"Fu Hanzheng is not going to eat you up, what are you scared of?" Yuan Meng glared at her. Was she really a woman who started to get scared after losing his memory?

They took the lead and Fu Hanzheng was walking behind them, entering the villa together.

The moment he entered, Fu Hanzheng's phone rang.

Hearing the news from Fu Shiyi and Fu Shiqin, Mrs. Fu understood what was going on. She just could not believe that such a thing could happen, so she called him directly.

"Shiyi said that Weiwei woke up early in the morning and doesn't remember you. Is that true?"

Fu Hanzheng sighed deeply. "It's true."

"But she doesn't remember giving birth to two children?" Mrs. Fu asked.

"She doesn't remember a thing about what happened all these years." Fu Hanzheng massaged his eyebrows and said, "Youyou and Tiantian can stay with you for the time being. We will pick them up when we come up with a plan."

"Okay, okay, don't worry, take your time." Mrs. Fu agreed.

Fu Hanzheng rang off and took a look at the girl who was sitting in the living room guardedly. Then he watched as she took a fruit knife from the table and hid it away.

Yuan Meng turned around and said helplessly, "What should we do now? Should we tell her everything that happened these years?"

"Will she believe me?" Fu Hanzheng countered.

Yuan Meng glanced at Gu Weiwei who was sitting in the living room. "She would just think that we are making it up again."

After all, if she had not witnessed what had happened in the past few years, she would have found it incredible, let alone Gu Weiwei.

"Just calm her down and let her stay," Fu Hanzheng said.

Yuan Meng sighed. "I have tried my best to persuade her to listen to me, but I can't persuade her to stay here."

Also, right now, she has a very bad temper. She had been educated by the royal family of A Land and she was arrogant and stuck-up.

"I will go," Fu Hanzheng said and walked towards the living room.

Yuan Meng followed up behind him and reminded him with a small voice.

"Be careful, she hid the blade."

She truly feared that this woman would stab her own man out of impulse.
