Novel Chapter 2996 -Joanna was made nervous by Harry words.

“Mr. Harry, what are you going to say? I’m a little nervous.”

“It’s right to be nervous.” Harry said cheerfully, “I just saw that you added friends with a man.”

“Yeah! I’m not very good at rejecting people face to face.” Joanna pointed out her shortcomings, “Generally, when people add me and chat with me, as long as I’m not enthusiastic, people won’t look for me a few times.”

“Oh, what do you think of my boss?” Harry asked.

The expression on Joanna’s face gradually froze: “Mr. Harry, why did you suddenly ask this question? Why don’t we go outside and talk about it!”

Harry laughed loudly, and then walked outside with her.

“Ms. Picard, I won’t go around in circles with you anymore. My boss probably has a little affection for you, just a little! He has always been obsessed with work, and has never had much contact with the opposite s-e-x, nor has he ever been in love. But he kind of likes you now, you know what I mean?”

After Joanna heard this, her heart suddenly became turbulent, and she didn’t know what to say.

Joanna: “Did he tell you to come and tell me?”

“No, no. Don’t get me wrong. I couldn’t stand it anymore, so I came to talk to you. My boss is rather boring. He came over just now and saw you exchanging contact information with other men. If you are unhappy, just leave.” Harry said, “I think, if two people want to be together, someone must take the initiative. And my boss is not the one who takes the initiative, and I don’t think you are the one who takes the initiative either. ...You two are so exhausted, I am anxious.”

“Mr. Harry, do you want me to chase after your boss?” Joanna was very puzzled, “Will he hate me if I take the initiative? To be honest, I don’t know how to chase boys.”

“Just ask him out for dinner more often! If he agrees, it means he doesn’t hate you.” Harry taught her, “Also, don’t get too close to other men.”

“Are you sure your boss likes me?” Joanna was in a daze, feeling too unreal.

"He said it himself just now. Otherwise, can I come to you? He might not have left yet. You can call him and ask." Harry taught her, "If he hasn't left yet, you can ask him for tea."

Joanna: "Does your boss like tea?"

"He doesn't like it very much! I just said it casually. He has probably already had dinner at this point. If you invite him to dinner, he might not be able to eat it." Harry wished he could get Joanna's phone and make a call by himself.

After a short hesitation, Joanna took out her mobile phone from her bag, found Hayden's number, and dialed it.

Soon, the call was connected.

Harry signaled Joanna to speak quickly with his eyes.

"Hayden, are you leaving?" Joanna blushed and asked.

Hayden: "How do you know I've been here?"

He was in the car, and hadn't driven out yet.

"I..." Joanna looked at Harry. Harry covered his face with a headache. Joanna took a deep breath and said, "When you left, I saw your back."

Hayden: "Yes. Did you have fun?"

Joanna: "I'm here with Ellis. He said he was nervous by himself and couldn't let go, so I'll come and give him advice."

The coldness on Hayden's face dissipated a little: "Dorian is sick. You haven't seen him for half a month."

When Joanna heard that Dorian was sick, she immediately walked towards the elevator, wanting to see her son.

"I-I want to test my driver's license recently, because it's inconvenient without a car. So I didn't go to see Dorian. Can I go to see him now?" Joanna lied.

She didn't go to see Dorian because Gia was sick and had to take care of Gia.

Unexpectedly, Dorian was also sick.

It seemed that she and her mother didn't take good care of Gia.

Dorian was in Foster's house, so many people took care of him, and he also fell ill.

"When I went out, he was taking a shower. I don't know if he's asleep right now." Hayden glanced at the sky outside the car window, "You'd better go see him tomorrow! My parents are probably asleep too."

"Okay. Why didn't you tell me earlier?" Joanna felt ashamed when she thought that her son was sick and she came to participate in this kind of fellowship.

Novel Chapter 2997 -"It's just a small cold, it will be fine in a few days." Hayden said lightly.

"It's because I didn't care enough about him. If I went to see him every week, I wouldn't be unaware of his illness." Joanna blamed herself.

Hayden: "He just got sick too. You don't have to blame yourself."

"Well, are you leaving now?" Joanna asked, "I came out of the banquet hall. If you leave, I will go home too."

"I haven't left yet." Hayden thought for a while and said, "I'll take you back!"

Joanna remembered what Harry said, so she agreed.

Although Hayden didn't tell her that he liked her face to face, Hayden told Harry.

And Harry told her that this was Hayden's indirect confession to her.

She couldn't restrain the excitement and excitement in her heart.

Only then did she realize that she rejected Ellis and looked down on other men because she liked Hayden.

With Hayden as a reference point, how could she have a crush on other men?

After getting off the elevator, she strode out of the hotel.

Hayden stood by the car and waited for her.

Under the street lights, Hayden's figure was reflected even more slender and tall.

When Joanna saw him, her ears instantly turned red.

She quickly walked to Hayden's side, and Hayden opened the car door for her.

After the two got into the car, Hayden asked, "Where do you live?"

Joanna said the name of the neighborhood: "Do you know how to get there?"

Hayden clicked on the navigation in the car: "Is it the place where my brother gave you flowers before?"

Joanna: "Um."

"The economic conditions should be better now, right? You can change to a better place." Although Hayden had never been to the place where she lived, he knew that the area was full of old and dilapidated houses.

"I still can't afford a house now, and I'll move when I can. Moving is quite troublesome." Joanna was a little nervous, clutching her seat belt.

"What's the trouble? You don't need to pay for the moving company to move." Hayden hoped that she could have a better living environment, "My mother wants to give you a house, why don't you accept it? "

Joanna lowered her head: "I'm not so sorry."

"What's there to be embarrassed about. Do you think that if you don't accept it, it will make my mother look at you differently?" Hayden's tone couldn't help becoming serious, "My mother will not give others such a gift easily. If she wants to give it in the future, you Just accept it. Our family has a lot of money, and I will give you a flat, which will not affect our family in any way."

Joanna nodded repeatedly after being trained.

A while later, the car stopped at the gate of Joanna's rented community.

After Joanna thanked her, she got out of the car.

Unexpectedly, Hayden also got out of the car.

Joanna panicked immediately.

Did Hayden get off the car because he wanted to go with her to her rented house?

If Gia didn't stay at home, Joanna would not be so scared. After all, she also liked Hayden...

“What? You don’t welcome me to your house?” Hayden frowned slightly as he looked at her flustered expression, “I see that your community is pretty dilapidated, and I’m afraid it’s not safe inside, so I want to send you in.”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 2998

Novel Chapter 2998 -Joanna was immediately ashamed.

“Although this community looks dilapidated, it is actually quite safe. Many of the people living in it are elderly people.”

“Then go in by yourself!” Hayden no longer insisted.

Joanna felt that Hayden seemed a little angry, so she said, “Why don’t you go in with me! At this point, our community is very quiet, and the old people are basically asleep.”

Hayden didn’t put on airs and followed her in.

The reason why Hayden felt unsafe here was because there was not even a security guard here.

Although access control was installed at the door, it was useless.

“Isn’t there a security booth? Why is there no one inside?” Hayden asked.

Joanna: “It seems that many people are unwilling to teach because of the property fee charged before.”

Hayden: “...”

After the two entered the community, they arrived at the apartment building Joanna rented in a short while.

Seeing that he had no intention of leaving, Joanna could only bite the bullet and open the door of the apartment building.

Under normal circumstances, others have followed her to the door, and it would be very rude not to ask others to drink their saliva.

Hayden probably thought so too.

So if he came into her house later and saw a lot of children’s things in her house, she might not be able to hide it.

In fact, she never thought that she could hide from Hayden for the rest of her life.

They lived in the same city, and not far from each other.

Gia was still young, so she spent almost every day at home or near her. Joanna would not be able to hide Gia at home all the time when she was older.

Hayden would definitely know about the existence of Gia.

It was because of her greed that she hoped to keep her daughter by her side.

Hayden didn't notice the change in the expression on her face.

Hayden had been looking at the surrounding environment.

After the two of them entered the unit building, Hayden frowned tightly.

The hallway of the unit building was very dark.

Although there were sensor lights, the sensor lights were very dim.

When the two of them walked to the elevator, Hayden's brows never moved.

Because the elevator was also very worn out.

"This is an old community. Although everything looks a bit old, but everything is in good condition." Joanna said awkwardly, "Every once in a while someone comes to check the elevator."

Having said that, the elevator slowly opened.

The two entered the elevator one after the other.

There was an old man in the elevator.

Coincidentally, the old man knew Joanna.

"Joanna, is this your boyfriend?" The old man asked with a smile.

Joanna blushed and denied: "No, this is my friend. He was worried about my safety and sent me back."

"Oh, this young man is very good! He is so handsome, he suits you very well!" The old man laughed loudly.

Joanna immediately changed the subject: "Grandpa, why are you up so late?"

“My grandson is sick and is in the hospital! He just came back from the hospital.” When the old man said this, Joanna panicked.

If the old man asked her Gia the next sentence, the whole thing would be revealed without waiting for Hayden to enter her house.

“Grandpa, you’ll be there soon.” Joanna looked at the jumping numbers on the elevator display and changed the subject.

How could the old man fail to understand Joanna’s expression was wrong, and he probably guessed why Joanna was nervous.

So the old man said to Hayden: “Joanna is a very good girl, you can take good care of her!”

The elevator dinged and arrived at the old man’s floor.

Hayden nodded slightly, watching the old man walk out of the elevator.

Novel Chapter 2999 -After the old man walked out, there were only the two of them left in the elevator.

“You are very popular.” Hayden broke the silence.

Joanna looked his head: “If you get in touch with the elderly a lot, you will find that most of them are kind and tolerant. Because after most of your life, you have basically experienced many things and have seen through them, so you are very kind to the people around you. Open-minded. The old man and I often met in the community, but we didn’t have a special chat. As long as you smile at them, they will think you are nice.”

When Joanna finished speaking, the elevator stopped.

Joanna watched the elevator door slowly open, her heart beating like a drum.

As long as Hayden followed her home, Hayden would find Gia.

Joanna had no reason to deny Hayden access to her residence. A proud individual like Hayden would be furious if he was not allowed to enter the house in order to continue hiding Gia, and he may never associate with her again in the future.

She had not intended for this occurrence.

Because she still wanted to go to Foster's house to see Dorian in the future.

If she got into trouble with Hayden, she wouldn't be ashamed to go to Foster's house in the future.

It's a dilemma.

"You go home! I won't go to your house." Hayden stood in the elevator and said lightly.

Joanna was pleasantly surprised, but her face was a bit puzzled: "Don't you want to drink a glass of water?"

"I'm not thirsty." Hayden said, "Didn't your mother live with you? It's so late, I'd better not bother you."

Joanna didn't force him: "Okay, Hayden, thank you! I'll go see Dorian tomorrow."

Hayden: "Um."

Joanna walked out of the elevator, saw the elevator door closed, and then went home.

Back home, Joanna's heart was still beating violently.

After a while, Mrs. Picard came out of the room.

Mrs. Picard: "Joanna, what's wrong with you?"

"Mom, Hayden sent me back. He sent me to our floor." Joanna breathed heavily, "I thought he would come to our house, but he said he was afraid of disturbing you, so he didn't come in."

"Didn't you go out with Ellis? Why did Hayden send you back?"

"We met in the hotel. His assistant told me that he likes me a little bit, so let me take the initiative." Joanna had no secrets from her mother, and there was no way to tell others about it.

Joanna was very upset now.

She didn't know what to do.

"This... This is a good thing!" Although Mrs. Picard said so, the expression on her face was similar to that of Joanna, a little at a loss.

After all, it's an ordinary family, so it's considered lucky to have a relationship with the Foster family.

If she could be with Hayden, she couldn't even think about it.

"Mom, is Gia asleep?" Joanna wanted to see her daughter.

"Didn't sleep! I let her sleep for a long time in the afternoon, and she is very energetic now." Mrs. Picard immediately went to the room and carried Gia out.

Joanna looked at her energetic daughter, and instantly relieved her nervousness.

"Baby, your father came just now. You haven't seen your father yet!" Joanna hugged her daughter and planned to go back to her room, "Mom, go to sleep!"

"Well. Joanna, your mother may not give you any advice on the matter between you and Hayden... This matter is too big. You can handle it yourself! No matter what you do, mother will support you." Mrs. Picard said.

Joanna nodded: "Mom, let this matter take its course! I don't know what to do."

Mrs. Picard: "Um."

After chatting, Joanna carried her daughter back to the room.

After a while, Ellis called, Asked where she had been.

Joanna replied embarrassingly: "Ellis, I have something to do, so I came back first. Sorry, I didn't tell you."

Ellis: "Oh...not a big deal, is it?"

Joanna hesitated for a while, and said, "I met Hayden. Ellis, I'm actually not that familiar with him."

Joanna didn't want to deceive Ellis anymore.

Ellis froze for a moment, shocked by the amount of information contained in this sentence.

"Ellis, I like him a little bit." Joanna continued, "So, I hope you can find a woman that you like her and she also likes you."

Ellis suddenly realized: "Why do you like my boss? Do you know how rich my boss's family is? Joanna, we are fellow villagers, I will not lie to you. Women who like my boss can circle the world several times."

Joanna: "I know. Ellis, it's not that I can't see the gap between me and him. But I can't control myself. Feelings are really a headache."

"Does he know that you have children?" Ellis asked, "His kind of family will definitely not accept that you have children?"

Joanna: "How do you know that I must have a result?"

Ellis: "Okay! You are planning not to hit the south wall and not look back!"

Joanna: "No. I just want to go with the flow, I don't plan to do anything."

Ellis: "You just waited for him like this? You are so stupid!"

Joanna didn't know what to say. She didn't just wait around like Ellis said.

She had her own life and her own job.

Joanna: "Ellis, I'm going to put the child to bed. If there's nothing else, I'll hang up first."

Ellis: "Okay! Are we still friends?"

Joanna: "Of course, I just don't want to hide it from you anymore."

"Thank you for confessing to me. In fact, I also know that my boss is so golden. If I were a woman, I would also be fascinated by him. It's just that I may have a low self-esteem, and I dare not say that I like him." Ellis laughed at himself.

Joanna: "I didn't dare to tell him."

"You are also very good now. If you want to confess, you can actually do so. What if he likes you too?" Ellis felt a little better after accepting this incident.

Because he realized that even if he couldn't be a couple with Joanna, he still wanted to be friend with her.

Joanna: "Let's talk about it later! I'm not in a hurry."

Ellis: "Yeah. Then hurry up and put the child to sleep!"

After hanging up the phone, Joanna got a toy for her daughter, and then went to the bathroom to take a bath by herself.

Gia wasn't very good at rolling or crawling yet, so she could play wherever she wanted, which was less stressful.

the next day.

Joanna took a day off.

She bought some fruits and took a taxi to Foster's house.

"Joanna, have you been busy recently? You haven't seen Dorian for a while." Avery asked with a smile.

Joanna nodded shyly: "I'm a little busy, but no matter how busy I am in the future, I will come to see Dorian."

"It's okay, you're busy with your career, I can understand." Avery used to be desperate for her career when she was young, "It's also very important for a woman to have her own career."

"Yeah. Dorian doesn't have a fever, right?" Joanna touched his son's forehead, and his temperature was quite normal.

"No. he suddenly had a runny nose, and then he vomited after eating milk. He didn't vomit milk at all." Avery told Joanna about Dorian's symptoms, "I gave him cold medicine last night, and today he still has a runny nose, but his spirit is a little better than yesterday. I gave him some porridge today, and he is not willing to drink milk."

Dorian grains' symptoms were much milder than Gia grains'.

With so many people taking care of Dorian, Joanna was very relieved.

"Well, I haven't seen him for half a month, and it feels like he's grown up a lot!" Joanna hugged her son, feeling that Dorian was much heavier than Gia, "Auntie, you usually give him milk, does he eat anything else?"

Joanna learned from Avery.

"I also took fish oil, which I told you last time. It was recommended by the nutritionist. Now he can eat complementary food. I give him fruit puree, vegetables and the like every day. He has a good appetite and can eat a big bowl of everything." Avery said, laughing, "His father always said that we made Dorian too fat. In fact, he didn't give him anything extra to eat. Dorian is so strong."

"I think it's either very fat, or it's bigger." Joanna said with a smile.

Avery: "Yes! He is taller than other half-year-old children. Naturally, he is heavier. But they are all within the normal range."

"Yeah. Auntie, it's really hard work for you to take care of the children at home every day." Joanna said gratefully.

"This is my grandson, how can I feel hard work! And there is a nanny to help, who sleeps with the nanny at night!" Avery didn't think it was too hard.

At least for the past six months, she felt very fulfilled.

When Dorian was bigger, she could take her grandson to play around.

Dream Maker Group.

Avery sent a message to Hayden, asking if he wanted to go home for lunch because Joanna was here.

Joanna took a day off today and planned to spend more time with Dorian.

Hayden was busy today, so he refused.

For lunch, he went to the cafeteria with his assistant.

He felt tired of eating too many meals ordered outside.

The big pot of rice in the cafeteria could sometimes relieve the tiredness.

"Boss, did you drink tea with Ms. Picard last night?" Harry whispered gossip.

"What tea?" Hayden glanced at the assistant Harry, "Who told you we went to drink tea?"

"I guess...you didn't go to drink tea?" Harry smiled and continued to gossip, "Then where did you go after you left the hotel last night?"

"My son is sick, and I'm not in the mood to play. After I sent her home last night, I returned home." Hayden replied, "What's your expression?"

"I told Joanna last night that you liked her a little bit, and I asked her to take the initiative with you. Didn't she take the initiative?" Harry wanted to know if Joanna listened to him.

Hayden recalled Joanna's reaction last night, no wonder she blushed so much last night!

"Is it because I deducted your bonus and you are not convinced, so you retaliated against me like this?" Hayden asked, "Who told you to talk too much?"

"I want to help you! You don't take the initiative, and Joanna doesn't take the initiative, how did the story happen?" Harry bravely analyzed, "At least take that step. If you try it and think it doesn't work, you can break up. Although I don't have a lot of love experience, but my theoretical knowledge is still sufficient."

After hearing what the assistant said, Hayden was not so angry anymore, but he would not praise him for it either.

Be smart!

This was a taboo in the workplace!

After the two arrived at the cafeteria, Hayden found a place to sit down while Harry went to get food.

Hayden was not very picky about food, and he didn't like to waste time thinking about what to eat, so he ate what Harry bought every time.

Not far away, after finishing eating, Ellis saw Hayden sitting there alone, and immediately thought of what Joanna said last night.

Suddenly, a surge of courage grew in his heart, and he decided to chat with the boss about Joanna.

He was unaware of the boss's feelings toward Joanna. He could tell Joanna the result if he could just ask.

In case that silly girl Joanna had been waiting foolishly.

"Boss, can I sit here?" Ellis walked up to Hayden with the plate in his hand.

Hayden glanced at him, then nodded.

After Ellis sat down stiffly, he said why he came: "Boss, can I chat with you about Joanna?"

Novel Chapter 3002 -Hayden glanced around.

The cafeteria was here, there were lots of people, and Hayden didn't want to talk about personal things.

Hayden: "Let's go out and talk after eating."

"Oh, okay." All of Ellis's courage was exhausted just now.

At this moment, his cheeks were hot, and he was at a loss in embarrassment.

Harry prepared a meal for Hayden, gave it to him, and then sat wisely on the opposite side.

"Do you have any suggestions for the company?" Hayden broke the silence and asked Ellis.

Ellis never dared to talk nonsense in front of his boss, so he kept flattering him: "I think the company is pretty good. Whether it's benefits or treatment, they are better than other companies of the same type. I feel very happy to be able to work here."

Hayden listened to Ellis's flattery, and his heart was indifferent, "There is no need to talk about this kind of nonsense."

"Oh...but what I said is true!" Apart from these nonsense, Ellis had nothing else to say.

If he could see the company's problems at a glance, how could Hayden, as the boss, not see them?

"My colleagues and I are proud of working in Dream Maker. Except that sometimes we need to work overtime, there is no other problem." Ellis said.

"I don't advocate an overtime culture." Because he was the boss, Hayden frequently put in extra time, and he would take special care of his career.

Yet, he was aware that workers disliked working overtime, so he made sure to reinforce this point in every meeting with executives.

"I know. Our supervisor has said that. We don't work a lot of overtime, so everyone has no complaints about overtime. The main reason is that the overtime pay is also quite high. For example, employees with financial difficulties will actively choose to work overtime." Ellis talked, not so nervously.

Hayden: "I don't want the employees who come to work to still have financial difficulties."

"Boss, I know you are very generous to your employees, but Avonsville's housing prices are expensive. With the salary that the dream maker pays his employees, they won't be in financial trouble if they don't buy a house." Ellis said, laughed, "You can't possibly give your employees a house!"

Hayden nodded: "I've also considered the issue of housing. I plan to talk to the people from the government this weekend. If I can win the vacant land of the old aquatic product, I will build staff housing at that time. "

Ellis: "..."

"After it's built, it's free for employees to live in. After ten years of work, they can get the property rights of the house. What do you think?" Hayden asked.

Ellis: "..."

Ellis didn't know how he finished the meal.

After eating, Hayden asked him to go for a walk outside together.

Ellis immediately followed Hayden's pace.

Hayden: "Didn't you say you wanted to talk to me about Joanna?"

As soon as he came out, the space suddenly widened, and there were fewer people around.

The two walked towards the side path.

"Oh, I almost forgot!" Ellis adjusted his mood, "Boss, although I don't know when you and Joanna met, and I don't know how your relationship is, but during the time I have been with Joanna, I think she is a very nice woman."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3003

Novel Chapter 3003 -Hayden listened quietly without interrupting.

"Although Joanna has given birth to a child, in my opinion, she is better than many women who have never given birth. So boss, if you like her, I hope you don't dislike her. If you don't like her, I hope you can hurry up and reject her." Ellis didn't want Joanna to be hung by Hayden, "She told me that she likes you, I don't know if she told you."

Hayden thought for a moment, and asked, "Is it possible that she used me as a shield to reject you?"

Ellis was stunned for a moment, and then said: "Most likely not. She has long since rejected me. In fact, my conditions are not bad. I don't think she'll reject me if she doesn't have someone she likes. She truly likes you."

Hayden was not surprised.

"Boss, what's your attitude?" Ellis looked at Hayden's calm appearance, a little elusive, "Joanna and I live in the same village. We remain friends despite her rejection. In fact, I persuaded her, telling her not to indulge in wishful thinking. After all, you are so good, and while Joanna is not bad, the difference between the two of you is far too great."

Hayden: "What did she say?"

Ellis: "She means that she is not in a hurry to marry right now, so take your time! Boss, you also understand how exhausting it is to know there is no result but continue to wait. I don't want her to squander her time. If you don't like her and don't want to marry her, simply reject her because she will always have illusions."

"Ellis, are you short-tempered?" Hayden joked, "Just because you find someone to meet and you can settle down, it doesn't mean that others are like you."

Ellis blushed when he was trained.

"Even if I'm not your boss, even if I don't have the status I have today, I won't settle lifelong events like you do once or twice." Hayden said calmly, "The reason why marriage is a big event is because marriage. In the end, it will involve all aspects. I have known Joanna for a little longer than you."

"Oh...boss, what you mean is that you are still inspecting her." Ellis probably understood Hayden's attitude, "If you think she is unqualified in the end, you must tell her."

Hayden: "Didn't Joanna ask you to tell me?"

Ellis shook his head violently: "Of course not! She is such a shy person, she can't do such a thing."

Hayden nodded: "How did she tell you about her child?"

Ellis: "I didn't say anything. It's her private matter after all. But I know that she has a good relationship with the child's father, but you don't have to worry. After I got to know her, I haven't seen her meet the child's father. Before her child had a fever, they were all shouting at me. I think her child's father should not be in Avonsville."

Hayden: "..."

Ellis: "Boss, what's wrong with you?"

Hayden stroked the words he heard just now, and extracted key words: "Her child has a fever? Calling you?"

Although Dorian caught a cold, he did not have a fever.

Moreover, when Dorian caught a cold, his family took care of him. What did Joanna call Ellis for?

"That's right! On the night of the heavy rain, her child had a fever and she couldn't get a taxi, so I drove her child to the hospital." Ellis was startled by Hayden's livid face, and he began to tremble, "Boss, Didn't you already know that she has a child? Why are you angry? Her daughter is very beautiful, and I told her directly that I am willing to accept her daughter."

"Daughter?! She has a daughter?!" Hayden clenched his fists tightly, his body trembling after being shocked by the news.

"Ah?" Ellis scratched his head, feeling a little difficult to breathe, "Boss, don't you know that she has a child? Why are you so surprised all of a sudden?"

Hayden clenched his teeth and strode towards the parking lot.

Joanna also has a daughter!

She actually hid the news!

Novel Chapter 3004 -Hayden was going to see how Joanna's daughter was and what she looked like!

This d*mned woman!

No wonder she was able to send Dorian to Foster's house on her own initiative, probably because she kept a child!

Otherwise, as a mother, how could she be willing to give her child to others?

"Boss!" Ellis trotted after Hayden, "Boss! What's wrong with you?!"

Ellis didn't know what he did wrong, and he actually made the boss furious.

"Don't follow me!" Hayden shouted angrily.

Ellis stopped immediately, and began to reflect on what he said that made him unhappy.

But no matter what Ellis thought, he couldn't figure it out.

He told Hayden about Joanna's having a child from the very beginning, and Hayden didn't make a fuss about it at the time, which meant that Hayden knew that Joanna had a child!

Moreover, Joanna had told Ellis before that Hayden knew about it.

Ellis really couldn't figure out what was going on, and was afraid that he would lose his job because of it, so he could only call Joanna.

Seeing the call, Joanna immediately went to the yard to answer the call.

"Joanna, I want to confess to you. I just chatted with my boss!" Ellis's voice came out unsteadily.

Joanna suddenly panicked: "What did you talk to him about?"

Ellis: "Talking about you."

"Ah? Why are you talking about me?" Joanna blushed and her heart was in a mess.

She had an ominous premonition in her heart.

If there were no accidents, Ellis might not have called her.

"I told him, you like him. I hope he doesn't hang on to you! After all, we are fellow villagers and friends. I didn't go to him on purpose. I met him in the cafeteria today, so I told him everything about you and your child. Who knew he suddenly became very angry, I don't know what's wrong." Ellis's voice became crying. Because he began to worry about losing his job.

"Ellis, why did you tell him this? This is a matter between me and him, why did you do this?" Joanna suddenly felt dizzy, and couldn't imagine how to face Hayden next time.

"We are friends, I told him not to lie to you, I don't think I did anything wrong!" Ellis felt aggrieved, "Joanna, didn't you tell me that he knew you had a child? Why did I talk to him about your child? When did he suddenly get angry?"

"You're still talking about my child with him...Ellis, didn't you promise that you wouldn't tell anyone else this?" Joanna blushed, and her whole portrait turned into a ball of fire.

She was having trouble breathing and felt like the earth was no longer for her.

Hayden was suddenly angry, it must be because he knew about Gia. Otherwise, there was no need for him to be angry.

“You said he knew you had a child, that’s why I told him! And it was he who asked, not me.” Ellis’s nose was sour, “Joanna, you are angry with me too. Am I really doing something wrong?”

Joanna immediately went into the living room and took her bag.

She had to go home!

Not surprisingly, Hayden would come to her soon.

“Ellis, this matter is very complicated. I can’t explain it clearly to you now. Don’t worry, this matter has nothing to do with you.” Joanna finished speaking and hung up the phone.

“Joanna, are you leaving?” Avery asked Joanna immediately when she saw Joanna’s anxious look.

Joanna nodded with a troubled face: “Auntie, I have something to do and I have to go back. I’ll come and see Dorian next time.”

Avery: “Alright. I’ll let the driver take you!”

“No need, auntie, it’s very convenient to take a taxi on the side of the road.”

After Joanna finished speaking, she came out of Foster’s house.

At this time, Hayden called.

Novel Chapter 3005 -Hayden had already driven out of the company.

Now Hayden wanted to confirm her location.

Joanna took a deep breath, and then answered the phone.

“Joanna, are you still at my house?” Hayden’s tone became much colder and distant.

Joanna: “I came out of your house.”

“Okay, then go back to your house! I’ll wait for you at your house now.” After Hayden finished speaking, he hung up the phone.

Joanna held the phone, thought for a while, and made a call to her mother to prepare her mentally.

After she called her mother, she told her about the matter, but her mother didn’t panic.

“It wasn’t long before I kept it a secret. It’s good for him to know, so I don’t dare to take Gia out to play, so as not to hide in the future.” Mrs. Picard said.

“I’m afraid he wants my daughter.” Joanna said pessimistically, “I will have a good talk with him and fight for the custody of my daughter.”

Mrs. Picard said, “Well. Didn’t you say that the people in their family are very nice? They should understand us. After all, you don’t want any benefit from giving birth to their family.”

“Mom, you can’t say that now. I’ve taken advantage of them.” Joanna was very sad, “The dessert shop’s current business is all thanks to their help.”

“Don’t be discouraged, if they insist on Gia, then give it to them! What can we do, life will always pass! It’s not like you can’t reproduce again.” Mrs. Picard comforted her daughter, “I can’t do it just because of this. Things turned against their family. We can’t afford to offend them!”

...

Hayden soon arrived at Joanna’s rented community.

He had been here once before, and he was quite familiar with the road.

He originally planned to wait downstairs, but soon after the car stopped, he couldn’t bear it anymore and planned to go directly to Joanna’s house.

He got out of the car and entered the community.

Following his memory, he entered the unit building and entered the elevator.

He only knew the floor where Joanna lived, not the specific room number.

Coincidentally, after he got out of the elevator, he saw a door open.

So he went over and took a look inside.

Mrs. Picard hugged Gia and met Hayden’s eyes.

This was the first time they met. But Mrs. Picard recognized Hayden immediately.

The main reason was that Hayden was a public figure, and his photo could be found by searching the Internet.

“Are you Hayden?” Mrs. Picard took the initiative to ask.

Hayden nodded: “Are you Joanna’s mother?”

“Yes!” Mrs. Picard immediately said enthusiastically, “Come in.”

Hayden didn’t refuse, “Do you want to change my shoes?”

He saw that the room was clean, but he didn’t see a change of slippers at the entrance.

“No, no, just come in like this! I mop the floor every day.” Mrs. Picard welcomed Hayden into the house, immediately put Gia in the crib, and turned to pour water for Hayden.

Hayden walked to the crib and looked at the little girl carefully.

“Auntie, are the child and Dorian twins?” Hayden didn’t want to beat around the bush.

This little girl looked about the size of Dorian.

Joanna could only give birth to two average-sized children if she was pregnant with twins.

Mrs. Picard was silent for two seconds, and replied: “Yes. Hayden, you don’t blame Joanna, do you? She can’t help it... May I ask which mother is willing to separate from her own flesh and blood? She put Gia by her side. Although it is selfish. It is justifiable. I hope you don’t blame her.”

“Then have you ever thought about how I, as the father of my child, never know that I have twins?” Hayden asked back, “I may not be a good father, but I will not evade my responsibilities. Why don’t you trust me?”

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3006

Novel Chapter 3006 -When Joanna hurried back, she saw Hayden’s car at the gate of the community.

But Hayden was no longer in the car.

Did Hayden already go in?

Joanna walked quickly into the community.

After getting out of the elevator, she saw Hayden's leather shoes at the door of her house.

The door was open, but it was very quiet inside, and no sound came from it.

Joanna didn't expect Hayden to find her home first.

It is estimated that Hayden was looking at Gia.

Joanna walked quickly to the door and changed her shoes.

Mrs. Picard immediately walked up to Joanna, "Talk, I'll go shopping."

Mrs. Picard had already told Hayden everything she needed to say, but it didn't work.

Everything still needed to be discussed by her daughter and Hayden alone.

After Joanna responded, she entered the room.

Hayden stood in the living room holding Gia.

At Gia's age, she still didn't know how to admit birth.

She liked whoever hugs her.

Seeing the harmonious scene of the father and daughter, Joanna was touched in her heart.

From the looks of it, Hayden should like his daughter.

"Joanna, if I hadn't found out that you have a daughter, would you have planned to keep it from me?" Hayden asked.

Joanna closed the door and walked in front of him: "Then let me ask you, if I tell your family that I gave birth to twins, will your family take both children to your house? After all, I don't have much money and you guys definitely don't want my children to suffer with me."

Joanna had no choice but to say this, and walked to the sofa and sat down.

"Although I am poor, I also want to have a child by my side. If you were me, would you have a better way?"

Hayden understood her feelings, but the feeling of being deceived by her still made him very unhappy.

"I know now that I have a daughter, did I take my daughter away?" Hayden asked back.

Joanna: "But I didn't know what kind of person you were before, so I didn't dare to take risks."

"We've known each other for so long, you never thought of telling me about it, did you?" Hayden continued to ask.

Joanna: "Then I apologize to you. I'm sorry. Can you not take Gia away? I have taken her with me for half a year, and I already have a deep relationship with her."

Hayden: "She is also my daughter, and I like her too."

Joanna: "Your family has Dorian."

Hayden: "But Gia is also my child, why do you insist on giving up my child? Joanna, why do you insist on turning this into an alternative?"

Joanna lowered her head, not knowing how to answer him.

"Then what do you say?" Joanna had already told him her request, as long as he didn't take Gia away, everything else was fine.

"You were pregnant back then, why didn't you tell me?" Hayden also had a headache.

Now that there were two children, Hayden felt it was cruel to separate the two of them.

"I don't know you at all. And you are abroad, do you want me to talk to your family? That's embarrassing." Joanna said, "I originally wanted to raise my own child, but who knew I was pregnant with twins. Raising two is a bit difficult."

After hearing her words, Hayden became angry again: "You mean, if you only have one child, do you plan to never tell about my child for the rest of your life? You plan to monopolize my child by yourself?"

"This is something that was not planned by you. If I don't tell you, your life will not be affected in any way. I don't want to have an abortion, and I don't want to use the child to make you responsible for me and the child." Joanna said her own thinking, "Hayden, don't be angry. Gia has been staring at you. She can feel your anger, and she will be afraid."

Joanna's words had a miraculous effect.

Hayden's frowning brows immediately relaxed. At the same time, he looked down at his daughter and coaxed in a low voice, "Don't be afraid, baby. Dad didn't quarrel with your mother. We are negotiating amicably."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3007

Novel Chapter 3007 -Joanna saw Hayden's instant resignation, and her heartbeat suddenly accelerated.

She didn't want her children to grow up in a single-parent family. It would be fine if they had a father's love.

"Joanna, if you don't want me to take your daughter away, then you have to move today." Hayden couldn't figure out how to fairly resolve the issue of custody of his daughter for the time being.

If he took his daughter away, Joanna would definitely collapse.

He didn't want to do that. But it was also very uncomfortable for him to be separated from his daughter.

Joanna actively responded to his question: "Okay. As long as you don't take Gia away, I can change to a better house."

"What good house can you change to?" Hayden didn't believe her, "I'll provide the house, you pack your bags now."

Joanna immediately got up from the sofa and obediently went to pack her luggage.

After she entered the room, she called her mother and told her not to buy vegetables, but to come back directly to pack her things.

Hayden hugged his daughter in one hand, took out his mobile phone with the other hand, called his assistant, and asked him to find a house cleaner to clean up a villa in his urban area immediately.

Harry: "Okay, but, boss, do you want to live?"

"Tomorrow at the latest, find three reliable nannies. One cooks, one cleans, and one takes care of the children." Hayden ignored Harry and continued to order.

"Okay, boss." Harry was at a loss, but he had already started looking for the contact information of the housekeeping company.

"The villa must be cleaned up before 6 o'clock in the evening." Hayden made a request.

"Okay, boss. What else can I order?" Harry wrote down the key points one by one.

Hayden: "It's gone for now. I'll talk about it when I think about it."

"Okay, boss, you want to..."

Before Harry could finish speaking, Hayden hung up the phone.

He didn't solve his daughter's problem now, and he didn't want to talk about it with outsiders.

In the bedroom, Joanna could hear Hayden's voice clearly.

Hayden planned to let Gia live in the villa. She and her mother lived in the villa together under Gia's favor.

There were not only villas, but also babysitters in the future...

She felt a little flustered all over.

If she said she wouldn't live in the villa, then Hayden would definitely take Gia away.

It was impossible for Hayden to let Gia suffer any more.

So she could only accept everything Hayden gave.

After collecting the luggage for a while, Gia began to cry.

Hayden immediately went to look for Joanna with Gia in his arms.

Joanna took her daughter over and immediately smelled a bad smell.

"Daughter pooped." Joanna put her daughter on the bed, then went to get warm water, paper towels and diapers.

Hayden stood by the bed, guarding his daughter, afraid that she would roll off the bed.

After Joanna brought the water, she glanced at Hayden: "It will stink, why don't you go out first?"

Hayden: "It's not like I haven't smelled Dorian's cakes before."

"Oh...then you grab her two feet." Joanna opened her daughter's diaper, and a stench immediately permeated the air.

Joanna washed her daughter's b-u-t-t as quickly as possible, and put on clean diapers for her.

Hayden bent down silently, picked up the garbage bag, and planned to throw it out.

"Look at my daughter. I'll get the trash." Joanna quickly took the trash bag from him, "I'll throw it away when I get down later. Tie it up and put it outside the door."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3008

Novel Chapter 3008 -When Mrs. Picard came back, Hayden was walking in the living room with Gia in his arms, while Joanna was packing her luggage.

Mrs. Picard smiled and said to Hayden: "Aren't you tired of holding Gia all the time? You can put her in the crib so you can relax."

"I'm not tired." Hayden was really not tired, "Dorian is heavier than her, and he has to be carried around every day."

"It's tiring to bring a baby like this!" Mrs. Picard said, "You spoil Dorian too much. It's not good to spoil your child too much."

Joanna poked her head out: "Mom, it's not as exaggerated as you think. Aunt Tate is a very measured person, and she won't spoil Dorian."

Mrs. Picard: "Oh, that's good."

"What are you worrying about! Look at Aunt Tate's four children, which one is not the most favored among the dragon and phoenix?" Joanna continued, "They will definitely take Dorian well."

Mrs. Picard also started to pack her luggage, but she felt a little uneasy: "Where are we going to move? It's good to live here! It's very quiet here, and I'm used to it. I'm not used to going to places that are too lively!"

Joanna didn't know how to answer. She had no idea where the villa Hayden was going to arrange for them was.

Hayden replied: "Auntie, don't worry, the new home will only be quieter than here, and will not be noisy."

Mrs. Picard was dubious: "Oh...Mr. Tate, I have no objection to moving, but can it not be too far away from my daughter's shop? She doesn't know how to drive. If it's too far away, she'll spend too much time getting there every day and get tired."

Joanna's face turned red: "Mom, don't ask for it! It's good that Hayden didn't take Gia away. I'm willing to live anywhere, as long as I can be with Gia."

After hearing what her daughter said, Mrs. Picard obediently shut up.

"The new home is in another direction, but it's about the same distance from her dessert shop." Hayden thought for a while before answering Mrs. Picard's question.

"Oh, that's good. Mr. Tate, I heard Joanna say that you are a very reasonable person. I met you today, and you are indeed a very good person." Mrs. Picard boasted, "Even though you are rich and not in our class, but you treat people with a lot of respect."

Hayden: "Auntie, you can just call me Hayden. I think respecting others is a basic requirement for a person to be a human being, and it should not be linked to status."

"You're right. You're such a nice man." Mrs. Picard sighed, "It's a pity that my Joanna is not good enough for you. It would be great if you weren't so rich."

Joanna and Hayden were speechless.

"Mom, stop talking! I beg you!" Joanna walked out of the room and dragged her mother to another room and said, "Pack your luggage well. I'll pack the things in the living room later."

"Joanna, I think Hayden is very nice, I told him what was in my heart, and he won't take it to heart." Mrs. Picard said calmly, "Look how skilled he is in holding Gia! One can tell at a glance that he often hugs Dorian at home. Such a man who takes care of his career and family is better than many ordinary men."

"Mom, you also said that I'm not good enough for him, so stop thinking about how good he is! Let's pack it up quickly!" Joanna pushed out her mother's suitcase, opened it, and put it on the ground.

Hayden hugged Gia, stood at the door of the room, and said to them: "Don't worry, the new house hasn't been cleaned yet. Go there after 6 o'clock in the evening."

"Oh...Okay! Then don't worry." Joanna suddenly relaxed, "Do you want some fruit? I'll cut it."

Hayden: "Are you going to tell my mother about Gia, or should I go back and tell them?"

Hayden had no intention of eating at all, he really wanted to take Gia back to show his parents. His Mom and Dad would definitely be very happy.

But if he told his family, his family would become as entangled as he is.

Novel Chapter 3009 -They couldn't take Gia away rashly by relying on their status, but the feeling that they could see it but not get it would definitely torture them.

"Do you have to tell them?" Joanna's thoughts were similar to Hayden's. "If you tell them, do you think they will be happier or more uncomfortable? Let's not talk about it for now!"

Hayden: "Keep it from them, and they will know sooner or later."

"Calm down first. Wait for two days to read." Joanna was in a mess, "What question are you asking me now, I don't know how to answer it. My mind is very messed up."

"Go and cut the fruit!" Hayden's mind was also in a mess.

It's similar to the feeling of having a child suddenly. He had suddenly become the father of two children, and the responsibility had increased.

Hayden walked to the sofa and sat down, letting his daughter stand on his lap.

"Little Gia, I'm your father, you have to remember what your father looks like!" Hayden saw his daughter for the first time today, but from the first moment he saw her, he fell in love with her deeply.

Unlike the first time he saw his son, his heart was not disturbed.

His affection for Dorian only deepened after getting along with him for a long time.

Despite the fact that Dorian and Gia were twins, he thought Gia looked more attractive. Gia may have appeared more delicate and adorable because she was a girl.

"Daddy will take you to buy new clothes, okay?" Hayden saw that her daughter's clothes were slightly stained, so she wanted to buy her new ones.

Joanna answered immediately: "She has quite a lot of clothes, so you don't need to buy them for her. It's going to be summer soon, if you buy spring clothes, it might become smaller in the second half of the year. "

"Then I'll take her to buy toys." Hayden was eager to take his daughter out to buy toys.

He was very saddened by the thought that while his daughter was living in this basic rented home, where the cost of food and clothing was not as good as his son's, his son was living in a large villa with tons of toys, brand-new clothes every day, and lots of people around to take care of him.

Mrs. Picard couldn't help but come out: "Joanna, why don't you go shopping with Hayden and Gia! I can clean up the house by myself."

After hearing what Mrs. Picard said, Hayden immediately stood up with his daughter in his arms.

Seeing that he couldn't wait to leave, Joanna had no choice but to get her daughter's backpack.

After bringing the things, Joanna followed Hayden and walked out.

Coincidentally, they ran into the old man from last time in the elevator.

When the old man saw Hayden holding Gia, the expression on his face was extremely rich.

"Joanna, is this Gia's father?" The old man finally couldn't help gossip and asked.

Joanna didn't know how to answer.

Hayden generously admitted: "Yes."

The elevator went to the first floor. After the three of them came out, Joanna immediately said to Hayden: "You really dare to say that you are not afraid that the old man will tell other people back? I can't even imagine that soon, all the old people in the community will know."

"Aren't you going to move? You will never return to this neighborhood again." Hayden said calmly, "Don't make my daughter suffer anymore. If you can't take care of her well, I will take her away at any time."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3010

Novel Chapter 3010 -Joanna couldn't help laughing: "Didn't you send someone to find a babysitter? When the time comes, your people will watch the child around the clock. If I want her to suffer, I'm afraid it will be as difficult as climbing the sky."

Hayden: "At that time, I will arrange a few bodyguards to live at home to protect you."

Joanna: "If you think it is necessary, just do it! After all, living in a villa is not worth a lot. It's the same, and the possibility of being targeted by bad guys is relatively high."

Joanna didn't want to make fun of it, but once the words came out, the meaning changed automatically.

"We live in this old shabby neighborhood, and the bad guys won't stare at us at all."

Hayden: "You're quite proud!"

Joanna: "No. I'm not proud. I'm just stating a fact. I know you are rich, You let us live in a villa, hire us a nanny, hire a bodyguard, as long as you have no financial impact, I will not stop you from doing so."

Hayden: "Because you can't stop it if you want to."

Joanna's nervousness went through arguing with him, was partially relieved.

"Where do you want to take Gia to go shopping?" Joanna followed him to his car, "Give me a hug!"

Hayden handed the child to her, and then said, "Go buy a child safety seat first."

"Oh! Let's do it!" Joanna hugged the child and sat down in the back seat, said: "Do you know where child safety seats are sold?"

"Yes. I have a car installed at home." Hayden was driving the car today. It's a car for commuting, so no child safety seats.

Joanna looked at her daughter and couldn't help joking: "Baby, look how much your father loves you! You don't have to suffer with your mother in the future."

Hayden's expression darkened after hearing her words: "Joanna, your behavior really made me very angry. As long as I think of my daughter suffering outside for half a year, I can't help but want to get angry."

Joanna felt that his anger was somewhat unreasonable: "I said that she suffered hardship is a modest statement. Look how good she looks! Does this look like a child who has endured hardships? She has only been sick once in half a year, and she will be fine after taking medicine for three days. You know better than anyone else whether she has endured hardships or not."

"Look at how strong Dorian is, and look at the daughter, how thin and small! The two children were born together, how could there be such a big difference? It's because you didn't raise your daughter well!" Hayden scolded her.

Joanna looked at Hayden's eyebrows and eyes in the rear-view mirror with a look of disbelief, and defended: "Auntie told me more than once, saying that you dislike Dorian for being too fat. Our daughter's height and weight are very standard. Before Take her for a physical examination, that's what the doctor said."

Hayden: "..."

Joanna: "My mother takes care of her around the clock, no worse than the nanny you hire outside. She consumes milk powder that is the same brand as Dorian. I ask myself that I have a clear conscience for her."

Hayden: "Except for food, my daughter suffers in other aspects! Is the house you rented a house for people to live in?"

"You mean me and my daughter? Isn't mother human?"

"My child, you can't suffer that!" Hayden emphasized emphatically, "I understand your feeling that you don't want to be separated from your child, and you must also understand my feeling that I can't let my child suffer!"

"Maybe this is class difference!" Joanna didn't quite understand, "My life when I was young was more difficult than that of Gia. But I didn't think I was any different than other rich kids."

"This is just an excuse for your incompetence!" Hayden lashed out unceremoniously.

Joanna didn't want to argue with him. After all, he didn't take the child away, so he was showing mercy.

After they went to the 4S store to install the child safety seat, Hayden drove the car to a shopping mall specializing in luxury brands.

It wasn't an exaggeration to say that Joanna had never visited this shopping center.

Even if she was curious about this mall, she never entered it.

"What do you want to buy for the child?" Joanna followed Hayden into the mall and asked.

"My daughter can buy whatever she likes." Hayden's tone was very flat, as if he was talking about a very serious matter.

Joanna thought it was ridiculous.

Gia was only half a year old!

Where would she have any preferences.

Novel Chapter 3011 -She would accept anything they offered as long as it wasn't frightening.

Because Gia took a few extra glances at a bag shop, Hayden walked in with Gia in his arms.

Joanna reminded: "This is for selling bags."

Hayden: "You don't need to remind me, I have eyes."

Seeing them, the sales person immediately walked over enthusiastically: "Do you want to see the bags for men or women, sir? Yesterday a new batch was delivered to our store."

"Is there a bag my daughter can carry?" Hayden asked the sales person seriously.

The sales person glanced at the little baby in his arms, and a look of shock flashed in his eyes.

The little milk baby who was only half a year old already wanted to buy a bag?

"Mr. Yes!" The sales person was bewitched by Hayden's extraordinary temperament, and immediately took him to the children's bag shelf, "These are children's bags in our store."

Joanna: "The children's bag is so big. It feels like it can't fit my child."

The sales person: "Children's bags are more lively and cute in design, if you want a smaller bag, here are small women's bags!"

The sales person wanted to show them the small women's bags.

As a result, Gia was fascinated by the colorful children's bags in front of her eyes.

Hayden followed his daughter's line of sight, took one of the bags with a big bear drawn on it, and asked his daughter, "Baby, do you like this?"

Gia suddenly showed a happy smile on her face, and wanted to hug this bag with both hands.

Joanna: "..."

This bag could really put Gia in it.

Just because Hayden thought his daughter liked it, Hayden bought it.

This bag, $138,000.

When Hayden swiped his card, Joanna glanced at the receipt, and her flesh ached.

None of her own bags cost more than $1,000. As a result, her daughter already owned a bag worth more than $100,000.

Although Gia had half of her blood flowing on her body, Gia's life was much better than her own.

When he was about to walk out of the store, Hayden suddenly thought of Joanna: "Do you want to buy it?"

Joanna refused without thinking.

"I think my daughter has a good eye, let her choose one for you!" Hayden said, holding his daughter and walking towards the women's bag area.

Joanna: "..."

Was spending money so casual?

After a while, Hayden took a red bag, said that his daughter chose it for her, and asked her if she liked it.

Of course Joanna nodded directly and said she didn't like it.

But before she nodded her head, Hayden took the bag and went to the cashier.

Seeing that Hayden didn't intend to follow her wishes, she could only exchange an off-white bag of the same style.

If you have to buy her a bag, at least you have to choose one that she can carry out, right?

His daughter liked the big red bag, but it didn't go well with clothes.

After swiping the card, Hayden handed the bag to her.

"What else do you need, just tell me directly. Don't keep me guessing." Hayden said generously.

Novel Chapter 3012 -Joanna: "I don't lack anything! I have bags at home."

"I know you have everything," Hayden said mercilessly, "I don't want you to take your daughter out next time, and people will mistake you for her nanny."

"Even if others misunderstand, I don't care." Joanna followed behind him, carrying her bag, "Living is already hard enough, if you still care about other people's eyes, wouldn't it be even more tiring?"

Hayden glanced at her: "You are in a good mood."

"No matter how you live a day, wouldn't it be better to be happy?" Joanna said, complaining, "You bought this bag for your daughter. She doesn't know when she can carry it on her back. It's too big!"

Hayden: "Then make it a toy for her. She likes the paintings on it."

Joanna was at a loss: "If you are buying paintings for your daughter, you can buy paintings for her specifically, why buy a bag? It's so expensive, what a waste!"

"If you think it's a waste, then you can carry it first." Hayden didn't care about the price of the bag at all, as long as his daughter liked it.

It didn't matter if he bought a house and his daughter didn't like it the next day.

"That's not what I mean. What I mean is that you don't want to buy things indiscriminately. She doesn't understand anything now, she finds everything new and interesting, and wants to touch everything. You can't buy her everything, right?"

"Don't take our daughter for a fool, okay? When she was picking out bags just now, she wasn't that interested in other bags, which shows that she has her own aesthetics." Hayden said, seeing his daughter's little hand towards a jewelry store waved.

Without even thinking about it, Hayden immediately walked into the jewelry store with his daughter in his arms.

Joanna: "???"

Her daughter was only half a year old, was it appropriate to buy jewelry for her?

It's not suitable for children to wear jewelry!

“Hayden, I bought some professional parenting books, which said that children should not wear jewelry, because children’s skin is relatively tender, and wearing jewelry may easily scratch the child’s skin.” Joanna said.

Hayden was actually very calm. His thinking was simple.

Hayden: “As a toy for my daughter, it’s fine if she doesn’t wear jewelry.”

Joanna: “...”

Be a toy!

Buy jewelry for my daughter as a toy.

“If you want to buy toys for your daughter, I know where they sell toys. We can go to a special toy store to buy them.” Joanna knew that the jewelry of this brand was very expensive.

Hayden: “I’ll buy it later when I see the toy store. Now I’ll buy jewelry for my daughter.”

After he finished speaking, he took his daughter to browse in front of the display cabinet.

“Hello, sir, what do you want to buy?” the cabinet sister asked enthusiastically.

Hayden: “My daughter is interested and I will let you take it.”

The cabinet sister immediately glanced at his daughter.

Did such a small child have the ability to select products?

After a while, Gia stretched out her little hand and waved it towards the display cabinet, as if saying — I want all of these!

Hayden: “Take all these out.”

Joanna felt that the world was crazy!

spoil!

This was definitely spoiling!

When raising children, you must not spoil them, this is written in the book.

“How about I choose?” Joanna was afraid that Hayden would buy too much, so she could only take the initiative.

Hayden knew what she was thinking, but he didn't intend to follow her: "You choose what you like. I will take my daughter to choose what my daughter likes."

Joanna: "Forget it, buy it! I'll wait for you at the door."

"Call Harry for me. Ask him to send some people over to pick up things." Hayden saw the shopping bag in her hand and ordered her.

Joanna: "Are you going on a shopping spree?"

Hayden's face was calm: "Crazy or not, look at your daughter."

Joanna didn't know how to communicate with him normally.

But she just couldn't communicate.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3013

Novel Chapter 3013 -Hayden only had this precious daughter in his eyes now.

It seemed that the father's love that had been missing for half a year was going to be given to Gia all at once.

Joanna went outside the store to call Harry.

Harry asked, "Why doesn't my boss call me?"

Joanna: "He's not available right now."

Harry: "Oh...Miss Picard, what's wrong with my boss? He's acting weird today."

Joanna: "I do not know how to tell you."

"Okay! I'll send someone there right away." Harry asked, "Are you two together?"

Joanna: "Um."

"Then the villa he asked me to clean up is for you to live in?" Harry smelled gossip, "You two..."

"Mr. Harry, there are some things that he won't tell you, and it's not convenient for me to tell you. So don't ask me." Joanna was very embarrassed.

Harry: "I understood! Apart from sending cars and people, is there anything else you need?"

"No more." Joanna said, sighing, "Mr. Harry, can I ask you a question? Does your boss usually like shopping?"

Harry: "He doesn't like it. He usually stays at home except for work, and his material desires are not great. Of course, his food and clothing are all the best, and usually others come to provide services. He doesn't like to go where there are many people."

"Okay, I see. There is one last question," Joanna asked, "Does he have too much money to spend?"

Harry laughed loudly: "If boss gives you flowers, you won't be able to spend them in your lifetime."

Joanna suddenly felt less stressed.

If Hayden wanted to buy something, let him do it! As long as he was happy.

After that, Hayden went to buy children's clothes, children's shoes, hats, children's watches...

As long as he felt that Gia could use it, he bought it all.

Although he bought a lot of things, not much time passed.

Because he picked things up and swiped his card too fast.

"Go get something to eat!" Hayden looked at the time, it was still early, so he suggested, "My daughter must be hungry."

Joanna: "She will cry when she's hungry. If she doesn't cry, it means she's not hungry."

After hearing her words, Hayden immediately changed his face: "How can you do this? If your daughter cries because she's hungry, it means she was very hungry at that time. How can you let her be so hungry before feeding her? No wonder your daughter is so thin. You don't know how to take care of your children."

Joanna's cheeks were flushed by the training, and she defended herself: "Now she has to eat five or six meals of milk a day, and she also eats complementary food. I definitely didn't starve her."

"Okay, let's go eat now." Hayden hugged his daughter and started looking for a restaurant.

Soon, he found a Michelin three-star restaurant.

This was the first time Joanna had eaten at such a high-end restaurant.

The decoration in the restaurant was exquisite and elegant. Standing in it, people mistakenly think that they are filming an idol drama.

Hayden chose a seat by the window and sat down.

Looking out of the large floor-to-ceiling windows, he could see the river view not far away.

It's so beautiful!

After a while, the chef came to entertain them.

Hayden first asked Joanna: "Is my daughter allergic to any food?"

Joanna: "I don't know...I only feed her porridge, batter and ordinary vegetables now, nothing else."

Hayden's face suddenly turned cold.

It seemed that Joanna abused his daughter again.

Hayden said to the chef: "Make supplementary food suitable for her age for my daughter. It's best to make more dishes, I'm afraid she will be a picky eater."

The chef nodded.

"Another set meal A." Hayden quickly decided on the dishes he and Joanna would eat.

Before Joanna could glance at the menu, the menu was taken away.

Hayden saw that she was puzzled, so he explained: "This restaurant only has three set meals. Generally, set meal A is the most abundant."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3014

Novel Chapter 3014 -Joanna gained insight: "Actually, I just want to see what their menu looks like."

Hayden: "When the dishes are served later, the waiter will explain each dish."

Joanna gained insight again: “High-end restaurants are different. Do they have high chairs for children? If you hold your child like this, you won’t be able to eat later.”

Hayden: “Put her in the children’s dining chair, what if she falls out?”

Joanna: “Didn’t Dorian sit in the children’s dining chair when he was eating complementary food?”

Hayden: “Dorian looks so strong, and the daughter is so thin...can it be the same?”

Joanna convinced: “Okay! If you insist on hugging her, then go ahead and hug her! I’ll replace you after I finish eating.”

Hayden: “I can eat her while holding her.”

Joanna: “You like hugging her so much? Are you not tired?”

Hayden: “Not tired. My daughter is very light.”

“Okay!” Joanna originally wanted to say — ‘that you love your daughter so much that you might as well sleep with her at night’ but she didn’t say it.

In fact, it was very tiring to take the baby to bed at night.

Her daughter woke up every night and needed milk.

She would feel sleepy during the day if she couldn’t sleep through the night.

“Would you sleep with the child at night, or your mother?” Hayden also thought of this question.

“My mother takes care of Gia during the day, and I take care of Gia at night.” Joanna replied, “If you don’t change the baby, it will be very tiring.”

“Yeah. At that time, you can let the nanny sleep with the child. This way you can relax.” Hayden said, “My mother slept with Dorian before, and she said she couldn’t sleep well at night.”

“Because the child is too young, I can’t sleep through the night yet.” Although Joanna was tired, she didn’t complain, “I usually take a lunch break in the store at noon.”

“Are you sleeping in that small office of yours?” Hayden asked.

“Yeah. There’s a small bed inside. If I don’t sleep at noon, I won’t be energetic at night.” Joanna sighed, “The time actually flies, and Gia has grown so big in the blink of an eye.”

Hayden: "Compared with Dorian, Gia is still much smaller."

"It's not that big of a difference, is it? Anyway, I think they are similar." Joanna always felt that Hayden was deliberately trying to find fault.

Joanna and her mother raised Gia very well. Although the place where she lived was a little worse, she really didn't treat her child badly.

"How about letting the two of them meet on the weekend?" Hayden wanted to compare the two children together, "I'll bring out Dorian on the weekend."

"Okay!" Joanna's eyes lit up, "I just don't know if the two of them will fight."

"Even if they fight, it's better to keep them together." Hayden felt that it would be cruel to separate the two brothers and sisters, "Which of them is older and who is younger?"

Joanna: "Twins are actually the same size. But the doctor took Gia out first. It stands to reason that Gia should be his sister, but after the two children have been raised for a short time, Dorian grows bigger than Gia, so let Dorian be bigger."

"It's good to let Dorian be her elder brother. Then he will take care of Gia in the future." Hayden asked again, "What's Gia's full name?"

"Gianleen Picard." Joanna lowered her head as she spoke.

Hayden would definitely mind having his daughter take Joanna's surname.

"Dorian's full name is Dorian Hayden. Didn't you come up with this name for my parents?" Hayden thought it was a bit of a coincidence.

"No. It's just a coincidence. I chose the name for my daughter first. If you don't believe me, I can show you the proof." Joanna replied shyly, "If you think my daughter's surname is not good for me, you can change her surname. As long as you don't take your daughter from me with you, I can do the rest."

Hayden: "Let's talk about this later!"

After a while, the children's meal was delivered.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3015

Novel Chapter 3015 -Joanna was afraid that Hayden would be in a hurry by himself, so she went to his sofa to help.

“Hold your daughter, and I’ll feed her.” Joanna put a napkin around her neck.

Hayden held his daughter tightly in his arms, and her daughter’s eyes were fixed on the bowl in Joanna’s hand without blinking.

Seeing the delicious food, Gia immediately licked her little mouth.

“Baby, are you hungry?” Joanna couldn’t help laughing at her daughter’s little movements, “Don’t panic, mom will feed you.”

Hearing Joanna’s gentle voice, Hayden shifted his gaze from his daughter’s face to hers.

Now they were very close.

Hayden didn’t like the opposite s-e-x getting too close to him, but he didn’t dislike Joanna being so close to him.

“Hayden, help me get a tissue.” Joanna said to Hayden seeing that her daughter’s mouth was covered with a little soup.

Hayden immediately took out a tissue.

When Hayden handed the tissue to Joanna, he noticed the soup on the corner of his daughter’s mouth, so he planned to wipe it for her himself.

Joanna didn’t care and grabbed his hand.

The two immediately looked at each other, and then Joanna quickly withdrew her hand.

“You wipe the child!” Joanna blushed.

Hayden’s heartbeat also accelerated.

This strange feeling was the first time it was so clear.

He wiped his daughter’s mouth clean and saw that the noodles in the bowl were all gone.

“My daughter has a good appetite. She may not be full yet.” Hayden said, taking fruit from the fruit plate to feed his daughter.

“Let your daughter rest for a while before eating! If she eat too much, she will accumulate food and get sick.” Joanna walked to her seat and sat down.

“Then give her some water?” Hayden asked.

“Yes.” Joanna handed Hayden her daughter’s thermos.

About half an hour later, dinner was served.

The waiter brought over the children’s dining chair and asked if they needed it.

Joanna said to Hayden: “It’s better to put my daughter in the dining chair! Just play with toys for her. Otherwise, it will be very inconvenient for you to eat.”

Hayden: “Then try it! If she doesn’t want to sit in the dining chair, I’ll hug her.”

“She also sits on the dining chair at home.” Joanna got up and carried her daughter from Hayden’s arms.

Today, Hayden hugged his daughter for a long time, causing her daughter to smell of Hayden in addition to the smell of milk.

After putting her daughter in the dining chair, Joanna brought her a new toy.

Gia was full and had a new toy. She was very happy playing alone in the dining chair.

“Look, she is very happy playing alone.” After Joanna finished speaking, she picked up the chopsticks, “Let’s eat too! It will be almost six o’clock when we get home after eating. I don’t know if my mother has packed it.”

“Pack dinner for your mother and take it home!” Hayden said.

“This restaurant is too slow to deliver meals, and the portions are very small. Just go to a fast food restaurant and bring some to my mother later.” Joanna paid attention to the time, and the dinner took more than an hour to arrive on the table.

“I’ll have someone bring dinner to your mother.” Hayden said, took out his phone and called to make arrangements.

“There’s no need to be so troublesome. In fact, there is food at home.” Joanna felt that it was too troublesome.

“Your mother has to pack her luggage, so she definitely won’t be able to cook properly. I’ll arrange it, so don’t worry about it.” Hayden knew that she was afraid of bothering him, but this kind of trivial matter didn’t bother him at all.

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3016

Novel Chapter 3016 -After dinner, Harry called.

The villa had been cleaned.

Hayden hung up the phone and said to Joanna: "The villa has been cleaned, let's go straight there! I'll send another person to pick up your mother."

Because she had child, it was more convenient to go directly to the villa.

Joanna nodded, then called her mother and asked her if her luggage was packed.

"It's been packed a long time ago. When will we move?" Mrs. Picard replied.

"The new house has been cleaned, let's go there first. Hayden said that he will send someone to pick you up later." Joanna asked by the way, "Have you had dinner yet?"

"I can't even eat dinner. I ate a lot of fruit snacks at home, and I'm overwhelmed right now." Mrs. Picard said, "Leave me alone and you go to your new home first! When you arrive at your new home, take a picture of it and send it to me."

"Alright."

After coming out of the restaurant, they got into the car and drove to the villa area.

Gia fell asleep in the child safety seat after a while.

Little Gia went shopping today. She had always been happy, played well, and ate enough to feel full, so she slept very deeply afterward.

Hayden and Joanna sat in the back seat together.

Hayden was sitting next to the child safety seat.

After his daughter fell asleep, he kept staring at her little face.

Joanna couldn't help but said: "I feel that you don't seem to like Dorian that much. They are both your children, do you still prefer them?"

Hayden: "Dorian has so many people doting on him, this is incomparable."

"But my mother and I are also very kind to Gia!" Joanna objected, "Except for material things, we can't compare with you. We really love Gia a lot."

"I didn't say you guys treated Gia badly. Gia is my daughter, shouldn't I spoil her?" Hayden finally thought of a saying, "Daughters should be rich."

"Oh... I think Gia looks quite like you." Joanna also looked at her daughter, "My mother said the same. What do you think?"

Hayden thought of another common saying: "It is said that a daughter is like a father. It seems to be true."

"I just don't know if her personality is like yours." Joanna said softly, "She likes to laugh. Just laugh when you tease her."

Hayden: "Then she looks like you. I don't like to laugh."

"Why don't you like to laugh?" Joanna knew that Hayden didn't like to laugh, even if he didn't get along much, he could feel it.

Hayden: "I knew I didn't have a father when I was very young."

Joanna: "Oh... I heard from my aunt that she said that when she was young, she and uncle were both stubborn and strong, so they separated and reunited several times."

Hayden: "Well. So I don't want my children to grow up in a single-parent family."

Joanna: "You are willing to transfer your business to Aryadelle for Dorian. You're a good father. I believe that our two children will be very happy."

Hayden didn't answer.

According to the current situation, although the child had a father's love as well as a mother's love, he and Joanna were not husband and wife after all, and the child would definitely be compared with other children.

The car drove all the way into the villa area.

Joanna was stunned to see the beautiful landscape in the community from the car window.

When there was no comparison, she thought that the old and dilapidated community she lived in was also quite good.

Now that he saw the environment of the villa area, she immediately understood why Hayden disliked the place she rented so much.

"Here we are." The car stopped in front of a villa, and Hayden reminded Joanna.

"Oh...Hayden, do you really want to live in such a nice house for us?" Joanna felt like a dream, "Aren't you afraid that we will make your house old?"

Hayden: "Joanna, can you stop asking so many weird questions. If I ask you to do something, just obediently do it, okay?"

Joanna blushed and nodded, "Then I'll get the child out of the car."

When His Eyes Opened Chapter 3017

Novel Chapter 3017 -"I'll hug Gia. Go to the house and see what's missing. I'll have someone buy it right now." Hayden said methodically.

"Okay." Joanna knew very well in her heart that if she listened to Hayden's words, there would be no mistakes.

Although she felt a little embarrassed that she had taken advantage of Hayden, Hayden was willing to keep the child by her side, and she could listen to Hayden in everything.

In the villa, the air was fresh and there was no peculiar smell. The floor was cleaned and the furniture was spotless.

On the coffee table in the living room, there were even fresh fruits and high-end snacks.

In the bedroom, the electrical appliances were complete, the four-piece set was laid out, and a bouquet of flowers was placed on the bedside table.

Joanna couldn't find any faults.

After a while, Hayden entered the room with his daughter in his arms.

Seeing her daughter, Joanna immediately remembered that there was indeed one thing missing in this house.

"It would be great if I bought a bed rail. I always let Gia sleep on the big bed." Joanna made a request.

Hayden: "Okay, I'll let someone buy it now."

Joanna: "Just buy a guardrail."

"This way the child won't roll on the ground?" Hayden asked, "The bed where Dorian sleeps is blocked on all sides."

Joanna: "I don't think it's convenient to get on and off the bed if there are too many barriers. Besides, the bed is so big and there is a wall at the head of the bed. I will block the other side of the bed. As long as she doesn't roll to the end of the bed, she won't be able to fall to the ground."

Hayden: "Then stop the end of the bed too!"

"Okay"

Hayden put his daughter on the bed, and the phone in his pocket rang. The call was from Avery.

"Hayden, are you coming back for dinner tonight?" Avery asked.

"Mom, I ate outside."

"Oh. Didn't Joanna come to our house today, but she left in a hurry at noon, and I don't know if something happened to her." Avery wanted his son to take the initiative to care.

"She's fine." Hayden replied simply, "I've seen her before, so don't worry."

"That's good." Avery asked curiously, "When did you two meet? Didn't you say you were busy today?"

"Mom, give me some space." Hayden was afraid that if his mother asked any more questions, he would not be able to help but tell about Gia.

"Hahaha, okay! I won't ask any more! As long as nothing happens to Joanna." Avery hung up the phone contentedly.

It was friday.

Hayden went home early to have dinner with his family.

"Mom, I want to take Dorian out to play tomorrow." Hayden discussed with his mother, "The weather is much warmer now, and I see many children playing outside."

Avery was very shocked: "Are you going to take Dorian out alone?"

Hayden nodded: "Well, what's wrong?"

"Don't you not like taking care of children? Why do you think of taking the child out to play alone? Can you take him out and take care of him?" Avery was worried.

"I will take the bodyguards out." Hayden promised, "I will definitely take care of Dorian."

Elliot felt that his son was very abnormal, so he guessed: "Did you get stimulated by something?"

Hayden: "No, I'm fine."

Robert also felt very strange: "Brother, why don't I go out with you to play with Dorian! We brothers haven't gone out to play for a long time!"

Hayden: "No need. Go and play with your friends!"

Robert was hit hard.
