Chapter 4: The Golden Finger Is Amazing

After about 15 minutes, a doctor entered the room. He was brought over by Master Xu.

He checked Shen Lang's eyes, took his pulse for a long time, and said in surprise, "This is so strange; he was critically ill and about to die but suddenly recovered!"

Master Xu said, "Doctor Li, are you sure Shen Lang has recovered?"

"Yes, he is no longer in critical condition," said Doctor Li.

Master Xu smiled. "Indeed, Doctor Li, you have excellent medical skills and can cure him."

Doctor Li hesitated for a moment before saying, "I just happened to be lucky."

Master Xu said, "Shen Lang, rest well."

Then, he left with Doctor Li.

Shen Lang got off the bed and looked at himself carefully in front of the mirror.

He was really very handsome. Although he was frail, he was invigorated with youthful energy.

Besides that, in the past, although Shen Lang was handsome, he looked dazed and had a foolish look. He was not attractive and looked like a wooden sculpture.

Yet now, Shen Lang's eyes were alive, and his expressions were lively. It was a complete contrast from the past.

How good it was to live again!

He stood in front of the mirror for half an hour. Then, he sat in front of the table and began to read a book.

Of course, he could not read anything and merely pretended to do so.

That was because he was considering a question—what exactly had been added into his mind?

Apart from the memory of both Shen Langs, there were other things that he couldn't help but do a search through his mind.

Then, he realized in shock that a computer screen had appeared in his mind.

That... that was too shocking.

The screen looked very familiar. It was his Dell Alienware laptop. There were all sorts of materials, including books, computer games, and movies.

In the modern world, Shen Lang was busy operating every day and had a boring life. Moreover, many places in Africa had a poor internet connection, and Shen Lang had no choice but to save a large number of books and materials in his hard disk. It could be said that Shen Lang spent most of his free time on the laptop.

In his mind, Shen Lang casually opened a book on his laptop; he opened a movie and a game too. To his surprise, he met no difficulties doing that.

That was so surprising. The entire Alienware laptop was in his mind.

That was not only it!

Shen Lang also felt extremely strange. It was not about his mind but rather about his eyes.

Therefore, he tried very hard to focus on his eyes, and something even more shocking happened.

The images that Shen Lang saw changed. He was no longer looking at the world that ordinary people saw.

He could see the scissors in the drawer, water in the vase, the roots of the plants...

That was right... he could see through things!

Of course, it was unlike any of the see-through material in women's clothes often mentioned in novels. It was an x-ray vision.

It was like the x-ray machine in hospitals that allowed one to see a person's organs. It was also like the x-ray machines used in security checks to view the contents of pieces of luggage.

Then, Shen Lang realized that when the bomb exploded beside him, apart from his body, an x-ray machine and a laptop also exploded along with him.

Now, they had transmigrated along with Shen Lang. That... that was too amazing.

However, that should be the only object that transmigrated with him, right?!

Then, Shen Lang suddenly recalled that since the laptop and x-ray machine was in his body, could they combine?

He tried to merge the two special powers together and looked at the table. Instantly, he could see the interior of the table clearly.

Moreover, the information of the table was clearly displayed in his mind. Table, Material: Rosewood; Weight: 157 kilograms.

Vase, ceramics, 15 years.

That was interesting!

The addition of the two skills was equivalent to a scanner. Not only could he see the inner structure, but he could also see the composition of the object.

At this moment, the door opened, and a fragrant scent wafted into the room. Then, he heard a gentle voice.

"Shen Lang, you have really recovered! I am so happy to hear that!"

Shen Lang turned around.

The first thing he saw was a slim body frame, veins, and intestines. That was because he was still in the state of x-ray vision.

He blinked his eyes, and the x-ray vision lifted as he resumed his normal vision.

Then, Shen Lang saw a beautiful woman.

She was, indeed, exceptional. Her slender and delicate v-shape face made her look like the beauty in paintings.

No wonder countless handsome young men of the Nujiang County fell for her. Her beauty, posture, and aura were exceptional.

No wonder when Shen Lang saw her, he immediately fell in love and was willing to sacrifice himself to save her.

Not only was she gorgeous, but she was also elegant and exuded a demure and educated aura. She did not give off the vibes of a daughter of a businessman. Instead, she was more like a daughter of the royal family.

This lady was none other than Shen Lang's wife, Xu Qianqian.

When she saw Shen Lang, Xu Qianqian was stunned since she had discovered the changes in Shen Lang. Although he still looked the same, the aura he exuded was different.

She sat down in front of Shen Lang.

"Shen Lang, you managed to recover because you are a kind person and you deserve it," said Xu Qianqian gently.

"Hmm," Shen Lang replied.

Xu Qianqian said after pausing for a while, "Your parents came over a couple times. They missed you very much and were worried about you. Your mother had even knelt before me several times and pleaded for me to return you to her side. Indeed, parents worry about their children."

"Hmm." Shen Lang instantly understood what Xu Qianqian was trying to imply. However, he purposely pretended to be a person with a blurry mind to make Xu Qianqian feel that her perception of Shen Lang earlier on was an illusion.

Seeing Shen Lang's slow reaction, Xu Qianqian felt awkward. If she had said this to an intelligent individual, he would have understood it. However, Shen Lang had a low IQ and did not respond to those words at all. She did not know how to continue.

"Bang!"

At this moment, the door of the room opened with force. A man wearing a robe walked in toward Xu Qianqian and kissed Xu Qianqian's hair. He mocked, "He is a moron! How would he understand it if you said it so indirectly?"

Then, he looked towards Shen Lang in disdain and said, "I am Zhang Pu. You didn't die; that's great. You can scam and return to your pathetic house in the village."

Shen Lang looked at Zhang Pu without any emotions or expressions.

Zhang Pu said, "You can't even understand this. Let me say it more explicitly, you came to the Xu family just to bring her some good luck. Now that Qianqian has recovered, you don't deserve her anymore. Therefore, the Xu family is chasing you out, and from now on, you have nothing to do with Qianqian because she will marry me, understood?"

Shen Lang looked at Xu Qianqian, the gentle and perfect woman in his memories.

Xu Qianqian looked troubled. The situation in front of her ultimately betrayed her perfect image. Initially, she wanted to end the relationship with Shen Lang in a more subtle manner but did not expect Zhang Pu to do it so directly.

Shen Lang's gaze fell upon Xu Qianqian's beautiful face as though he wanted to get a confirmation from her.

After taking a deep breath, Xu Qianqian said gently, "Shen Lang, you are very kind, but I'm sorry, we are not suited for each other."

Shen Lang had no reaction to that. "I am so handsome, so I don't need you to be kind to me."

Xu Qianqian said, "Your parents miss you very much and have been begging for us to return you back to their side. I think it will be good if you can reunite with your family too."

Shen Lang continued looking at her without speaking.

Xu Qianqian was slightly annoyed. Shen Lang was so stupid that she had already said it so explicitly.

“Hmph!” Zhang Pu, who was beside Xu Qianqian, was impatient and sneered coldly.

Xu Qianqian looked at him and said in a slightly more emotionless tone, “Shen Lang, thank you for your love, but we are really not suited for each other. Therefore, you should go back. From now on, we are no longer a couple.”

Shen Lang looked at Xu Qianqian before looking at Zhang Pu and said with a smile, “Alright, I will go home.”

Zhang Pu sneered, “Your silly brain is really hopeless.”

Then, he walked out of the room while holding onto Xu Qianqian’s slim waist.

“Get out of the Xu family within 30 minutes or you will pay the price,” commanded Zhang Pu coldly as he left.
