Fated Human Alpha Chapter 31

Megan POV

I walk into my father's office and I'm shocked to see Terrance. He has been away on a mission for our father. "Terrance, I didn't expect to see you so soon." "Sit down Megan we need to discuss your ghost" my father says. I take a seat and my brother has a smile on his face that makes me think this is more than a discussion. "So dear sister you saw Tabitha Crane after all these years." "Yes, I already told father this." "Well now you can tell me exactly what happened?" "Why do you care about her now you already took a beloved?" "You only wanted her for her powers and I'm sure dad told you she has been marked." "That is none of your concern just answer my question" Terrance says. I tell him everything I told my father. I see anger flash across his face especially when I repeat that she is marked by a wolf. "She let a filthy mutt mark her." "She always wanted her fated mate and I guess the goddess really wanted it to be wolf Terrance." "You would do well to hold your tongue Megan." My father raises his hand "enough the two of you" my father says. "You will be working together to make this right so I suggest you stop acting like children." "You know how important that woman is Megan not only to your brother but to the coven." "I'll ask again what about Patricia?" "That is none of your business but it will be handled" Terrance says. Jessica POV

We just reach the make-shift pack lands that Kenneth has made when my phone starts vibrating in my pocket. I put it to my ear and my brother is screaming. "You fking bch where are my pups?" I can hear Leslie sobbing in the background. "Calm down Brian, they are safe." "If you do what we ask then they will remain unharmed." "You are a fking monster, I wish that Lake snapped your neck instead of banishing you." "Oh brother, how could you say such a hurtful thing to me" I laugh. "Now are you ready to talk about how you can get your pups back or do you want to continue to have a tantrum." He growls "what the hell do you want." "Revenge dear brother as any woman who was cast out of her pack and position would want." "You're lucky I haven't included you in the suffering." He laughs this time "cast away, you killed your mate and Lake's father." "You think that taking my pups isn't suffering you bch." I ignore his comment. "We will meet you in neutral territory to discuss the terms of you getting the girls back." "When" is all, he says. "First thing tomorrow we will meet you at the Jones Diner in the human city." "If we see any warriors, you will never see the girls alive again." I cut the call before he can say anymore. Kenneth smiles and slams his lips down on mine. He pulls back "very good Jess", he says, before he walks outside the cottage.

I head back to the room where we have the girls. When I open the door, they are huddled together on the bed. The fear on their faces should bother me, but it doesn't. They need to learn this world is ruthless and if you don't take what you want then you will never get ahead. "No one will hurt you two if you are good girls and do as, your told." The older of the two girls tightens her grip on her sister. "Are you hungry?" Neither answer so I leave the room locking the door behind me. When I reach the living room Kenneth and Derrick are arguing. As soon as they see me, they stop. "Is everything alright?" Kenneth walks over "nothing for you to worry about." "Get some sleep, we have a big meeting in the morning." Derrick leaves the cottage and I head to the room next to the girls. I wonder what they were arguing about. Our plan went perfectly, so they should be happy.

Brian POV

When the line goes dead, I couldn't feel more helpless. "What the hell does she want", Leslie asks as she cries. I hate to see my mate in pain. "I'm so sorry Leslie." "Don't tell me you're sorry." "Tell me how we're going to get our pups back." I pull her to me and she lets me. "I have to meet with them tomorrow in the human city." "I promise you I will do whatever it takes to get the girls back safely." "I'm going with you." I stiffen at her words. "No way are you going anywhere near them." She growls and pulls away from me. "You don't get to tell me what I'm doing when my pups are in danger." I start to talk and she raises her hand at me. "I'm going and that's final." I love my mate and my pups more than anything in this world. I meant what I said. I will do anything to get the girls back safely. The Next Morning

Gabriella POV

I'm still not completely awake when I feel my panties being slid down my legs. I smile knowing that Lake is about to pleasure me with his mouth. He acts like a starving man and I'm glad to be his meal. I keep my eyes shut savoring the feelings of his touch. I feel his finger at my entrance and when he penetrates my psy I moan. I open my eyes looking down at a smiling Lake. He keeps looking in my eyes as he takes a long deep lick into my core. I arch my back with the pleasure that moves through my body. He starts to moves his tongue in a circular motion around my cl*t and I'm ready to fall over the edge. I grip his hair pulling but not enough to hurt him. He growls before he bites down on my cl*t and I shatter.

I'm not even totally back down from the o*m when I feel him enter me in one thrust. "Oh, my goddess Lake" I moan out. He starts to pound into me over and over again. I'm on the verge of another o*m when he bites down into my marking spot. I c*m so hard I see stars. Before I know what's happening, he rolls so I'm on top. I place my hands on his chest getting my baring's before I start to rotate my hips. I see his eyes flash to black and his hands grip my hips hard. "Hello mate" he says and I know it's Razor talking. He starts to guide my hips and pound up inside me hard. His movements have me on the edge again. "Razor please" I say and my words do nothing to slow him down. He spins us so I'm on all fours. He thrusts deep and I scream out my o*m. He pumps hard a few more times before I feel his warm seed coat my walls. When he finishes, I collapse down on the bed. He plants a kiss on my left butt cheek before he heads into the bathroom. I don't move I'm so spent. He returns and I feel a warm washcloth wiping me up. He is the best mate I could have ever hoped for. Once we shower, we get ready to travel to the Silver Moon Pack. I'm glad that our ceremony is over and that we will be attending Atticus and Monica's ceremony today. "Atticus asked me if we could meet with Nathan before we head back to their pack today." "I told him that would be fine." "Of course," I say before we head to the office. A few minutes later Atticus, Monica, and Nathan arrive. "Have a seat please" I say and poor Nathan looks worried. "Nathan, why do you look so concerned." "I'm sorry Alpha, I know you said that we would be one pack but some members of the old pack are still worried that we will lose our status." "I guess it is just messing with my head." "I understand but I promise you that the reason you're here is not because your losing anything." I nod to Atticus. "Nathan, I have been offered the Alpha position at the Silver Moon Pack and I would like you to be my Beta." Nathan looks like he is in shock. "Is this for real?" I laugh "very much so." "Silver Moon will be a sister pack to Scarlett Rose and we support Atticus's choice to appoint you, his Beta." "I accept of course." "Thank you so much for having this faith in me."

Brian POV

We are driving toward the human city and Leslie has been quiet since our discussion last night. I feel like I can't breathe thinking about losing my mate and my pups because of my sister. "I love you Brian, nothing will change that." "I don't blame you for this." "I just want the girls back." She takes my hand and I release a breath I didn't know I was holding. I would die without Leslie and the girls. We pull into the diner and head inside. The waitress leads us to a table and we wait. Minutes feel like hours. We wait twenty minutes before they finally arrive. My sister walks in followed by a fking rogue. I catch his scent the minutes he is in the door. They take a seat across from us and it would be so easy just to snap their fking necks right now. Leslie links me, "I know it would, but stay calm, they have the girls." I push Lazel down because he is pushing to the surface over what these baards have done.

stay calm, they have the girls." I push Lazel down because he is pushing to the surface over what these baards have done.

"We want our pups." "What do you want from us" Leslie asks. "Now Leslie, let the people in charge talk" my sister says like the bch she is. Leslie growls and I wrap my arm around her. "Don't disrespect my mate you bch." She rolls her eyes before the rogue talks. "If you want your pups back you will help us kill Gabriella Lyons." I feel sick at his words. Archer is not only an ally, but a friend. How can I kill his pup? I turn to this woman I once thought of, as family. "What is your part in this?" She smiles "I know that Lake is mated to Archer's daughter." "I want him to suffer for casting me out." "If you kill Gabriella Lyons then they both suffer." "Losing a mate and a pup is far worse than death" the rogue says. "He took someone that was important to me and now he will suffer the same fate." "How do you expect me to do this without dying myself?" "I'm sure you can come up with a plan brother, you were always so smart." If I could reach across this table and wrap my hands around her throat right now I would. "Once you kill the human bch your pups will be returned to you unharmed." "How do we know you will honor this agreement since you just said you would like to see me suffer?" "I guess you don't but what other option do you have" my sister asks with sinister look on her face. I still can't believe how evil she has become. She was always an entitled brat but never did I think she would become such an evil woman that would take children from their parents or take pleasure in killing innocent people.

"Well brother what is your answer?" "The only answer I can give, I will do it but know this if my pups are harmed by anyone the two of you will pray for death." "I knew you would make the right choice." They both stand and walk out of the diner. I take a few deep breaths taking in Leslie's scent to calm myself. "What are you going to do" Leslie's question confuses me. "Kill Gabrielle Lyons, what other choice do I have."

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 32

Nathan POV

I can't believe that Atticus chose me to be his Beta. I have always respected him even before he became the Beta of our pack. He is a fierce warrior and very loyal. Despite Raymond's fked up idea of what an Alpha should be Lake became the kind of Alpha that the pack could respect and follow. I was worried, to say the least, when he took his title we would all be in hell. I know in my heart Atticus will be the same great leader that Lake has become. I meant what I said that I'm honored to become the Beta of the Silver Moon Pack. I reach the large cottage that the single warriors have been staying in since the packs have become one. I walk through the living room hoping that I won't see Conrad. I have no idea how he is going to react to me being chosen and not him. He already hates that we are here. I start up the stairs "Nathan where the hell were you", I hear from behind me. I stop and turn back to Conrad standing at the bottom of the stairs. It doesn't make much sense to lie. I can't keep this a secret and I don't want to. I'm happy and if he is any kind of friend, he will be happy for me. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I had a meeting with the Alphas and Atticus." He looks at me confused. "If they needed trackers again, why didn't they call for me too." I walk back down the stairs, walking toward the kitchen, and he follows me. I grab a soda from the fridge before I turn back to face him. "Well, what the hell is going on" Conrad says with irritation in his voice. "It seems that Atticus and his mate will be taking over as Alpha and Luna of the Silver Moon pack." "Don't even tell me that you will be taking his place as Beta of the Scarlett Rose." I'm sure my face shows my disdain for his comment. "I didn't mean you're not a great warrior and tracker." "I just meant that we both should have been given an opportunity to prove ourselves for the title of Beta." Now I am definitely pissed. I used to think of him as a friend, but a friend would be happy for me. "Actually, I won't be Beta for this pack." He smiles until I say my next words. "I will be the Beta of the Silver Moon Pack." "Atticus chose me with Lake's support." I see the anger flash on his face and honestly, I'm over this conversation. "Thanks for the congratulations, Conrad, I see what kind of friend you are." I turn and rush up the stairs to my room. I need to get ready for the ceremony and to move to my new pack.

Brian POV

Leslie turns and takes my face in her hands. "I made choices before I met you that I wasn't proud of but this is nothing compared to that." "You will not kill that man's pup." "Leslie" I say but she stops me. "We will get our pups back but with Archer's help." "What if it doesn't work, what if they hurt the girls?" "Brian if you were able to kill his pup without him killing you, you would never live with yourself." "I know your heart and you are a good man who could not kill an innocent girl no matter the reason." I know she's right but how can I risk our pups. "Call Archer and arrange a meeting with him, Gabriella, and Lake today." I take the phone from my pocket dialing Archer's number. He picks up on the second ring. "Brian what's up?" "Archer, I need to meet with you and the Alphas today." He must hear the urgency in my voice because he doesn't even ask why. "Of course, that's not a problem but it will have to be at the Silver Moon pack." "We have Atticus and Monica's ceremony today." "Can we meet before the ceremony, will there be time?" "Yes, I will let them know you're on your way." I put the phone back in pocket and I still feel a pit in my stomach. We stand leaving the diner and I lead Leslie to our SUV. I open her door, making sure she is safe inside before I slide into the driver's seat. As we drive, I keep replaying Leslie's words over and over in my mind. I would never hurt an innocent but I never expected our pups to be in danger. I have a block up so she isn't plagued by my thoughts and decisions. She is right that doing it will eat me alive if I survive, but my pups are worth any misery I have to endure. I don't want to take Archer's pup from him. I don't want to kill Gabriella, but I won't let my pups die. Even if I get myself killed, at least Leslie will have the girls back. They are innocent and don't deserve any of this. "Brian, why are you blocking your thoughts from me?" "I just don't want you to have my worries on top of your own, that's all honey." I drive in the direction of the Silver Moon Pack. We reach the gate and the patrol guard approaches the SUV "state your business, Alpha." "The Scarlett Rose Alphas are expecting us, Brian and Leslie." He links, I'm sure to verify we are truly expected before he looks back to me. "Welcome to the Silver Moon Pack Alpha Brian and Luna Leslie." "Thank you" I say and he opens the gate. We drive to the parking near the pack house. Archer is waiting on the steps and the pit in my stomach continues to grow. How can I look this man in his eye with the thoughts that I am having about his pup?

I head around opening Leslie's door and lead her to meet Archer on the steps. "It's good to see you both." "You sounded upset Brian I hope everything is alright." "I wish it was, but it's not." "Follow me Lake and Gabby are waiting in Atticus's new office." He leads us upstairs and when we walk in to a large office. The only people waiting are Lake and Gabriella, which I'm glad to see because I don't want anyone else to know what's happening. This is hard enough, I feel like a failure that I couldn't stop them from taking the girls. We all take a seat and Gabriella smiles at us. "Alpha Brian, dad said that you called and something was wrong." "What can we help you with?" I take a deep breath. I look at Leslie and she nods at me. "Jessica, with the help of a rogue, has taken our pups." Lake and Archer growl. Despite Gabriella not having a wolf, I can see the anger all over her face. "Tell us exactly what happened" she says with a command equal to any Alpha wolf I've ever met.

After I tell them everything that those baards said, Lake pulls her onto his lap, breathing her scent in deep. Once he seems to have calmed himself and his wolf, he looks back to me. "We will help you get your pups back, I promise you that." "This time that bch will die for her evilness." I nod and Leslie takes my hand. "Thank you for helping us, we need our pups back" Leslie says as she fights back tears. My heart clenches in my chest to see my mate in such pain. A knock sounds on the door and Sabrina pokes her head inside. Leslie stands and Sabrina rushes over to her. "Leslie what's wrong?" My mate bursts into tears and Gabriella goes to her. Sabrina looks around her at me. "We are going to take her to get ready for the ceremony and for a moment with the girls." I nod and they leave the room. I'm destroyed by my mate's suffering. "Brian" Archer says my name, bringing me back to the here and now. "Brian, this is not your fault." "That's easy for you to say your four pups are all safe." "My girls are probably scared and my mate is breaking." "Leslie is strong and so are you." "We will get your pups back." I nod but I can't keep pretending to myself there is some way out of this other than giving them what they want. "I'm going to get some air before the ceremony." "Thank you for helping us" I say before I head downstairs and outside out of the earshot of the pack. Leslie POV

Sabrina leads me upstairs to a room where Monica is getting ready for her ceremony. Tabby is already helping her with her dress. She really looks beautiful. The minute they see me, Tabby stops. Sabrina leads me over to a seat and they are all looking at me with concern on their faces. "I'm sorry we had to come here while you're having your ceremony." Monica looks at me with sympathy. "Leslie, your pups are more important than anything else right now" Gabriella says. I tell them about Jessica and Kenneth. Even Sabrina growls, which makes me chuckle. These women have become my friends and I know in my heart they will help us get the girls back. A feeling of unease about Brian blocking me settles in my chest. "Leslie, what is it" Gabriella asks. "Brian is a great man and the best mate." "He loves me and the girls more than he loves himself." I don't even want to speak the words out loud because I know how awful it is going to sound.

"Brian was thinking about doing what they asked, wasn't he", Sabrina says. I drop my head and that nagging feeling makes me think he is still thinking about it despite our conversation. "Leslie, desperation will make people do things they would never think about doing" Gabriella says. "That doesn't make Brian any less of a great man." "He blocked me, I don't know what he is thinking." "Your concerned that he is still going to follow through on trying to kill Gabriella aren't you" Tabby says. "I wish the answer was no but I think he is." "I know he feels like he failed us even though he couldn't have stopped this from happening." "The only one responsible for this is those evil baards." "I want to watch the light leave that evil bch's eyes. Tabby smiles "I think we can make that happen, but you might not like the plan" Tabby says. I look into her eyes and everyone turns toward her. "If it saves my mate from doing something he won't be able to live with, gets my pups back, and ends that evil bch I'll get over it." She smiles and tells us her idea. "Brian was thinking about doing what they asked, wasn't he", Sabrina says. She smiles and tells us her idea. Atticus POV

Lake and Archer join me outside on the stage. Elder Bradford is standing near the podium and I will admit I'm nervous. I never thought in a million years I would become an Alpha. I have found my mate and now I will be able to lead this pack with her by my side. I pray to the goddess that I am the Alpha the pack deserves. The doors to the pack house open and my heart rate increases knowing she's about to walk out. Gabriella and Sabrina walk to the stage first. Then the most beautiful woman on this planet walks out with her father. He is a warrior and will be joining our pack. When they reach the stage, I meet them. He kisses her and shakes my hand. "Take good care of my princess." "I always will sir." He takes his seat and we join everyone on stage. "Silver Moon Pack, out of darkness the light shines brighter." "Despite the loss you have all suffered, you will all rise above it with your new Alpha and Luna." He motions for us to step forward. I take Monica's hand and we stand before the Elder. He hands me the chalice. "Atticus, make your vow to the pack." "I, Atticus Thomas Jones, vow to put the pack's needs above my own." "I will lead with kindness and strength." "I will always do my best to be fair and just." I drink from the chalice and I immediately feel the connection to the pack. Monica steps forward and takes the chalice. "Monica, make your vow to the pack." "I, Monica Lee Jones, will support my mate and Alpha." "I will put the packs needs above my own." She drinks and passes the chalice back to the Elder. "Silver Moon Pack I present to you your new ranked wolves." "Alpha Atticus Jones and Luna Monica Jones." The wolves howl and bare their necks to us. "All wolves of shifting age will shift for a pack run with your Alpha and Luna." We ready ourselves for the run.

Jessica POV

We arrive at the southern border of the Silver Moon Pack. When Brian called, I knew he would do anything to get those brats back. Kenneth was worried that it was a trap but I know my brother. He would die before he let anything happen to his mate and pups. We are just beyond the border waiting for the pack to pass for the pack run. "You better be right about this, Jess." "I'm telling you my brother may not be a killer but he will do what it takes to get those pups back." We hear the sound of wolves in the distance and I feel giddy that I'm about to see Lake suffer as he watches his mate die.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 33

Gabriella

POV

I'm so happy to see Monica standing with her mate taking on the Alpha and Luna roles in this pack. She has become one of my best friends despite our beginnings. I will miss having her around every day but this is how it was meant to be. I'm glad Lake knew what was best for this pack and is the type of Alpha to put them first. Atticus and Monica will be great leaders, which is what they need after the loss the pack suffered. Elder Bradford announces the pack run and I see the fear in Leslie's eyes. I know this plan will work. I trust Tabby completely. I look at Tabby as Lake undresses so he can shift into Razor. She nods and I climb on Razor's back. I lay with my chest against the soft fur. I love the way it feels against my skin every time we run. Phoenix and Marigold take off with the pack running behind them. We stay at the tail end of the pack members with Brian and Leslie's wolves running by our side. I can feel the nerves in my stomach knowing what is about to happen. As we round the territory border the hair stands up on the back of my neck. Brian's wolf starts to slow and sniff the air, so Razor follows suit.

Razor lays down and I slide off. Lake, Leslie, and Brian all shift. "What is happening?" "You and Leslie need to stay behind us." "I smell rogues." Lake says. Before he can say anymore, two rogue wolves break through the trees heading straight for Lake. "Protect Gabriella" he says before he shifts. They begin to fight and Leslie comes to stand next to me. I watch Brian frozen in place for a moment before he turns toward me. He takes five steps until he is standing in front of me and has partially shifted. "What are you doing Brian, why aren't you helping Lake?" I look to see Lake dealing with the rogues and I look back at Brian, who has unshed tears in his eyes. "I'm so sorry" he says pulling his arm back. I wait to feel the blow but it never comes. He falls to his knees in front of me. "I can't, I can't do it" he sobs. He looks up to Leslie, who smiles at him before she comes to stand in front of me. Leslie POV

As soon as the rogues break the trees, I look to my right side and Tabby is hiding where we said she would be. I say a prayer to the goddess that this plan truly works. I'm standing next to Gabriella when Brian walks toward us. I see the utter defeat in his eyes and I hate that he couldn't be included in the plan. We needed our mates to truly believe what is about to happen. We need those baards to believe what is happening is real so they will give us our pups. I still don't know how to feel if he truly goes through with killing Gabby. Even if it won't be real, he doesn't know that. My heart is in my throat as he stands partially shifted in front of her. When he falls to his knees pleading that he can't harm her, I feel that panic melt away. I come to stand in front of her and watch her eyes change colors. I partially shift and slam my claw into her chest. When I pull my hand back, Brian screams. She falls to the ground and he starts to pull me away from her. "Shift and run now Leslie." "He will kill you." I listen and we take off toward the border as we hear Lake roar.

As soon as we cross the border and weave through the trees, I catch the scent of those two evil baards. We don't shift and they step out in front of our wolves. "I didn't think you had it in you, Leslie", Jessica smiles. Kenneth looks like he won the lottery. "As for you brother, that was pathetic." He growls, "enough we need to get far from here", Kenneth says. They both shift and they take off with us, following behind them. When we have run for what feels like a lifetime, they both stop. I breathe deeply trying to smell my pups, but I can't scent them. I immediately shift. "Where are my pups you fking bch?" "We did what you asked, I want my girls now" I say moving toward her. Brian wraps his arms around me. She shifts and laughs. "Calm down Leslie, we don't want your pups." "They are on their way to the diner in the human city." "Honestly, I didn't think either of you would go through with it." "I just wish I could be there to watch that baard cry over his dead mate's body" she says. I can't wait to watch this bch suffer for all she has done. I want a front row seat. We shift again, heading toward the human city.

Lake POV

As I fight the rogues, I feel like something is trying to break through my block. "Lake Gabby is safe, remember you would feel the pain if she wasn't", I hear a soft female voice say before I snap the second rogue's neck. They both lay dead before me. Where the hell is Brian? I turn to see Brian and Leslie shift, running toward the border. I look back and Gabriella is lying on the ground. Razor roars and we run, moving as fast as we can toward our mate. We reach her in seconds and shift. The words play over in my head and I felt no pain as the voice said. I bend down, placing my hand on her cheek. I know despite the way she looks, this is not my mate. "What the fk is going on," Razor growls in my mind. Tabby appears next to me. "We need to go back to the pack house now." "Tell me what the hell is happening" I demand. "I promise you that Gabby is safe and she will explain everything when we get there." I realize it was Tabby's voice I heard in my mind. I stand and she wraps her arms around me. She teleports me to the pack yard. I rush inside and up to the office. Gabriella is inside with Archer and Sabrina. I immediately wrap my arms around her and bury my head in her neck. "Sabrina, you should have told us what you ladies were up to", Archer says to his mate. Despite his words there is no real anger in his voice. "Dad don't be mad at mom, I take full responsibility for not telling Lake." I pick up my head to look into my beautiful mate's eyes. "You're lucky Tabby warned me or I'd be losing my sh*t right now." "I'm sorry we needed it to be believable." "Brian has no idea that Leslie didn't kill me" Gabriella says. "Can you tell me exactly what the hell just happened?" "It looked like you but obviously I know it wasn't."

Tabby POV

"I can probably explain that better than Gabby can" I say walking into the office. "Leslie was sure that Brian wouldn't follow through with killing Gabby and she was right." "It was Gabby with you the whole time during the pack run." "I followed and waited in the trees." "When Leslie stepped in front of her, I used my power to send Gabby back to the pack house." I smile at Sabrina "it worked once before so I was hopeful that it would work again." Lake looks at me confused. "Archer's father tried to kill Fern but ended up killing something that was made of sand to look like her." "If you headed back out to the border where all this happened you would find nothing but sand now." He smiles "you truly are amazing Tabitha." "We are so lucky to have you as part of our pack and family." "I will do anything to protect my family." "Thank you for warning me so I didn't lose my mind when I saw Gabriella lying on the ground."

"We should be hearing very soon about the pups?" Now Gabby looks confused. "Let's just say I may have added a little to the plan." She smiles "what would that be?" "I gave Leslie a little something that will help us find those two ahats after they have their pups safe and sound." Gabby rushes over and hugs me. She whispers in my ear "he's right, you know, we are so lucky to have you." "I promise you, Gabby, you have all given me far more than I could ever give." We head back down to the celebration waiting to hear from Leslie. SEARCH THE website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Brian POV

I can't believe Leslie killed her after all she said in the SUV. I couldn't kill that innocent girl. I can't believe she could. I can't lose my mate, even if what she did was wrong. We will have to leave. I don't care about my title, I won't lose my family. As we run toward the human city, my thoughts are drowning me. We reach the edge of the forest and shift back to human form. Jessica throws us clothes and we dress quickly. We don't even wait for them and we rush into the diner. I look around and I don't see the girls. They come in behind us. "Take a seat, he is on his way with the girls", Kenneth says. I want to grab him by the throat snapping his neck for all he has done with my sister's help, but we have come this far and I will see this through. We slide into the booth. Ten minutes later, the bell on the door sounds and my beautiful pups walk in, followed by another rogue. Leslie is on her feet and wrapped around our pups before anyone can speak. I am right behind her. The rogue that brought them in steps back. I pick up Candace and Leslie picks up Molly. We head for the door and once we are outside, we look the girls over checking for any sign of injury. "Are you hurt?" "No daddy, they didn't hurt us." "I told you they would be unharmed as long as you did what we told you to do", Jessica says. I whip my head in her direction. "We are done with you two." "You got what you wanted now, leave us the fk alone." "Such language in front of your innocent pups" she says. Before I can stop her, Leslie puts Molly down and walks toward my sister. She slaps her across the face and walks back to us. Jessica growls and Kenneth grabs her before she can go after my mate. "We are in the human city, enough." "We are done with them", he says and they head toward the forest. I pull Leslie to me, "what the hell were you thinking?" She smiles but doesn't answer me. She picks up Molly and we walk into the trees. Leslie turns toward me "we need to head back to the Silver Moon Pack." "Like hell we will." "Archer is going to kill you for what you have done." She comes to stand in front of me "do you really think I killed Gabby, Brian?" Now I'm really confused. "I watched you" I stop myself remembering Tabby. "Are you telling me that Gabby is still alive?" She smiles "she is very much still alive." "Oh, my goddess if I wasn't so happy right now that she is alive and we have the pups I would put you over my knee." She leans in to kiss my cheek "maybe later." I chuckle and I can't believe how much lighter I feel in just a few minutes.

We shift and the girls climb on our backs. We run at a reasonable speed until we reach the pack. As soon as we head inside, everyone is waiting. Gabby comes toward us. "I'm sorry we tricked you, Brian, but I'm glad to see it worked." I wrap her in a hug so happy that she is really alive. "Did you do what I told you to do" Tabby asks Leslie. "I did and it felt really good." "I'm sure it did." "Can you let the rest of us in on the secret?" They both smile "when Leslie slapped your sister, she marked her with magic powder I gave her." "They can't see it but I can sense it, so we can find them and make them pay for all they have done."

Jessica

As soon as they pull out of the parking lot, we head toward the woods. Derrick shifts first and then Kenneth and I take off. I can't even begin to describe the feeling of satisfaction that I have right now knowing that baard is suffering the loss of his mate. As we run, I think about the fact that he will probably die from a broken heart because he is so weak, just like his mother. He is nothing like Raymond. He will never know the truth about his mother's death. Raymond and I were similar creatures in that we did what we had to, to get what we wanted. We run back to the pack and Derrick heads right into one of the cottages without a word. I shift, pulling on clothes I left near a tree outside the cottage I've been staying in. I turn to Kenneth and he smiles. "That went well." "Now that fker can live the rest of his life, knowing that his pathetic friend killed his pup." "It went better than I dreamed it would." "I still can't believe that Leslie had it in her." "Desperate people will do desperate things Jess" Kenneth says. "You should know that." He sticks out his hand and I take it thinking he is going to lead me inside. "Take care, Jesse" he says like we just had a nice visit. "Excuse me", I say, realizing he is dismissing me. "Our business together is done, so you can leave." "Are you fking kidding me right now?" "You're kicking me out." "No, because you were never in." "This was a deal and the deal is done." "Did you think that you were going to stay here and what become my mate?" "I know what you did to your last mate besides you aren't that good of a fk" he says turning for the stairs.

How dare this fking rogue think he can just dismiss me. Blossom is at the surface and I lunge at this baard attempting to swipe his back with my claw. He turns catching me around the throat. "Now Jess, I know you're not that stupid." He starts to squeeze and I claw at his hand. "Leave now before I change my mind and snap your fking neck." "You are of no use to me anymore and the only reason I'm sparing you is because the plan worked." He drops me to the ground and I shift taking off. I can't believe that he didn't even let me stay. I never expected him to mate me, he is a disgusting rogue. He isn't worthy of being my mate, but I at least thought he would give me time to figure out my next move. I need to lay low, I have no idea what will happen with my brother or Archer Lyons. "What now Jessica, you have no one ", Blossom whines in my head. "We don't need anyone, we will find another pathetic Alpha and pack to use." "I was meant to be a Luna, not a filthy rogue." I run back to the edge of the forest near the apartment I rented. I shift and slide on a dress before I head up to my apartment. Once I'm inside, I head into the shower. I think about how I can make Kenneth suffer when I find a new Alpha to seduce. I did it once and I can do it again, mate or not. Tabitha POV

"Tabitha, I would like to go with you to get Jessica" Lake says. I smile "I plan on having a little fun with her before we bring her back here to be dealt with once and for all." "I have no problem with that." Johnathon wraps me in his arms "be careful Tabby." He kisses me deep and when he pulls back, I rest my forehead against his. "I always will." "We won't be gone long." Lake kisses Gabby one more time before I loop my arm through his. I start to chant and the mark Leslie made on Jessica calls to me. I close my eyes and a few seconds later, we're on the stairs of an apartment building. I turn to Lake "stay here, I'll let you know when you can come in." I cloak myself and teleport inside. I start to move through the apartment and the door to the farthest bedroom is cracked open. I pop inside and she is sleeping peacefully. I smile and walk over to stand next to her bed.

I place my hand above her head forcing my will into her mind. Her dream is playing like a movie in front of me. She is dreaming about Gabby's death and smiling. Lake is weeping over her body. She really is a sick bch. I smile and begin to twist the dream in her mind. She is standing next to Gabby and I see the panic rise on her face. Leslie, Brian, Gabby, and Lake move until they are standing around her in a circle. "What's wrong, Jessica," Brian says? "What's happening, you can't be here." "Why because I'm dead" Gabby says. "Yes, you're dead and I'm safe, not here" she screams. I smile as I watch Leslie punch her in the face. She falls to the ground grabbing her cheek. "Why did that hurt, what is happening?" I step out of my cloaking so she can see me. "You, how" she says with shock on her face. She is silent and I step closer. "What Jessica, you didn't expect to see me?" "You really thought that you would get away with what you did?" "Evil people like you never win, they suffer."

She laughs "I did win, even if you kill me, that human bch is still dead and Lake is still broken." I grab her by the throat and lift her off the ground. I toss her and she collides with a nearby tree. She grunts from the force and I hear a bone crack. She grabs her arm screaming. She manages to get to her feet. I'm done playing with you. I walk forward and place my hands on each side of her head. She must think I'm going to break her neck because she fights until I quiet her. I close my eyes rolling through her memories. My eyes fly open when I come to one specific memory. I can't even wrap my head around what I just saw. "You are so lucky that I am not the one to end you because after what I just saw you deserve no mercy." I grab the arm that is very evidently broken and I pull her from her dream. I link Lake to come in and when she realizes that I am really here in this apartment she starts to scream. The door opens and Lake barges in. His eyes are black and Razor is at the surface ready to rip this bch apart. "Lake, please it was the rogue" she starts to plead. I laugh "really, you're going to continue to blame others for you being an evil bch." "Let's take her back Lake, she has something she has to say before you end her." I wave my hand and she falls back on the bed. Lake throws her over his shoulder and I wrap my arm in his. I take us back to the Silver Moon pack. Everyone is waiting in the pack yard when we arrive and I can see they are ready to have their pound of flesh from her. "Lake, you can put her down." He throws her to the ground like touching her burns him. I hate all she has done to my family. My mind flashes to Megan and her family but I shake that away. Gabby wraps her arm around Lake and I can see him breathing in her scent. He is going to need that when he hears this bch's truth. I can't keep it from him. Brian is holding Leslie, who also looks ready to rip her head from her body. Monica and Atticus have the girls inside because they don't need to see this.

I wave my hand and she starts to wake. She is moaning, still gripping her arm that is trying to heal. I block her wolf so she doesn't try and shift. She finally notices Gabby standing by Lake. "It's not possible, I watched her kill you" she points at Leslie. "No, you watched Leslie kill a spell I made." I see her face fall in defeat. "Now tell Lake what you and Raymond did to his mother." Her eyes get big. "I don't know what you're talking about." "You are going to die here today." "For once in your pathetic life do the right thing and tell him what you did to his mother." "What are you are talking about Tabitha" Lake says. "I wanted to get Kenneth's location so I went into her mind and I saw something that you have the right to know." I turn back to her "tell him now or I will make it hurt." She stays silent and I start to wave my hand causing pressure on her broken arm. She starts to scream again. "Fine, please I'll say it."

Jessica POV

I can't believe this is happening. A few hours ago, everything was perfect and now here I am. That bch is alive. I can't feel Blossom at all. When she finally stops the pain in my arm, I fall to my knees. I have nothing left. Flashback

I'm bent over Raymond's desk and he pumps into me harder with each thrust. A banging on the door makes my body stiffen but he grabs my hair and doesn't stop. A few seconds later the door flies open and the Luna stands there with anger and hurt on her face. "You baard, now you are bringing them to the pack." "Calm down, you gave me my pup but I haven't fked you in years." "Fine you want these wh*res, you can have them." "I, Elizabeth Solace reject" her words die on her lips as he has her by the throat. "You don't reject me, I am the Alpha." He turns to me "Jessie you're of Alpha blood, I will take you as my Luna if my mate is dead." I was shocked at first, by his offer to become Luna and to kill his fated mate but I composed myself quickly. "Raymond please just let me leave." "I will take Lake and you can do whatever the fk you want." He laughs "you will never take my heir and honestly I'm tired of you." "Well Jessie" he says turning to me and I nod. He lets her go and I grab her by the throat, snapping her neck. Flashback Over

I feel numb as I listen to her speak about my father. He had her kill his mate, my mother. I knew he was a monster but that isn't even a sufficient word to describe him. "You killed my mother." She drops her head and I know it's not because she is sorry for what she has done. I turn to Tabitha. "Please release her wolf." Tabitha nods at me and waves her arm. The bch looks up at me "Lake/" "Don't you ever say my name again." "Now shift you despicable she-wolf." Her wolf has no choice but to follow my command. She is having trouble standing on her front leg as it is still broken. "Jessica, you are sentenced to death for the murder of Luna Elizabeth Solace." "I pray that the goddess gives you punishment tenfold for all you have done." I shift into Razor and start to circle her. She doesn't make a move and I could care less. We bite into her hind leg and her wolf whines. The bones crunch and Razor yanks, pulling it from her body. She attempts to drag herself away from me. As we come around, Razor bites down on her already broken leg. He rips it from her body. She shifts because her wolf has left her. I can feel her presence is gone. She looks at me with pleading in her eyes "please Lake." I shift for a moment. "Isn't that what my mother said." "She pleaded to leave and take me but you killed her anyway." "You killed her for a title." "You deserve no mercy from me." I shift and Razor sits on his haunches as she continues to plead. After a few minutes, I am ready to be done even looking at her. "It's time" I say to Razor and he walks until he is over her body. "Your mother is at peace", Razor says before he bends down and bites her in half. He drops her to the ground. We stalk toward Gabriella and bend. She lays her head against Razors before she walks to his side. She climbs on to Razor's back and we take off. I feel her lay her body against us and I need her in this moment more than I need air.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 35

Kenneth POV

I can't believe that bch thought I would let her stay here. She is poison and she served the only purpose I had for her. I walk into the cottage and Derrick is sitting at the table staring at the wall. He hasn't been right since we took those two brats. "You want to tell me what your problem is." "I appreciate that you took me in when my pack was killed by that fking coven, I really do." He pauses I'm sure trying to sugar coat his next words. "Just spit it out Derrick." "I made a huge mistake once rejecting my mate because of an Alpha who thought he knew better than the goddess." "I will not make the mistake of following a leader who is willing to kill and kidnap innocent people for revenge." I honestly thought you would come to your senses before it ever got this far." "Your brother killed innocent wolves and was an evil bastard." I growl and head toward him. I grab him by the throat, slamming him against the wall. "Well, it's a little too late considering Gabriella Lyons is dead." "You don't speak about my brother or I will snap your fking neck." His eyes meet mine "its never too late to do the right thing." I release him and step back. "What does that mean Derrick?" "I would rather be alone then continue to stay a member of this collective and hurt people for your agenda." "No one is keeping you here against your will but remember I have no problem ending you."

He stands heading toward a bedroom he has been using. When he comes out, he has a bag and walks out the door without a word to me. I can't believe that he would just leave. He has been with my collective for fifteen years. He was more of a brother to me than Lawrence was. It's the only reason I just didn't snap his neck for his words against Lawrence. I still need to make sure he doesn't do anything stupid. I link Maurice to come to my cottage. He walks in "what's up Kenneth?" "I want you to follow Derrick." He looks at me with confusion written all over his face. Derrick is my second in command and I've never trusted anyone like I trust him. "Derrick has left the collective and I need to know if he is planning on betraying us." "I want you to follow him and report back to me anything suspicious." "Of course," he says and heads out of the cottage. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Serina POV

My parents had me come back to the pack after the ceremony last night with Uncle Levi and Aunt Tracey. I was exhausted after the ceremony and I didn't argue. I feel like they didn't tell me the real reason, but I trust my parents. I love spending time with my aunt and uncle anyway. We had training early today and I'm glad I didn't miss it. I want to make sure that when I'm of age to take my Alpha role by Gabby's side I'm ready. I have no intention of waiting for my mate to have my ceremony. Training isn't as fun without Gabby by my side. Nicholas is too busy with his friends and the she-wolves who are paying him attention to hang out with me. We are just finishing up our run. I grab my bag and start to head for the pack house. My parents, Gabby, and Lake will be back soon. As I walk across the field, I feel like someone is watching me. I turn to look around but the only person I see is Cynthia. "Hey little one, are you alright?" "Do you know that I'm almost as big as you?" She laughs "I know you are but you will always be little one." I roll my eyes "I'm alright just missing my sister." "She was just here yesterday morning" she chuckles at me. "I know, I just mean we were always together and now I have to share her with Lake." "Don't get me wrong, I love Lake and that's she is happy." "I just have to get used to things being different." She places her arm around my back. "How about you hang out with me and some of the other girls until Gabby gets back?"

That might be a good idea. I'm going to need to get to know the pack better. This will give me a chance to let them know who I am too. I need to learn to do and enjoy things without having Gabby with me even if I hate it. "What are you planning on doing?" "We are just going to hang out near the lake." "Alright, let me get cleaned up and I'll meet you back here." She smiles and nods at me. I run up to my room and once I'm showered, I throw on jeans and a t-shirt. I start down the hallway and when I reach the top of the stairs, I hear my aunt call me. "Where are you going", my aunt asks. I turn and she smiles at me. "The girls invited me to go to the lake with them." "That's nice, your parents will be back in an hour and I'm sure they will want to see you, so not too long, ok." "Of course" I say and hug her before I had back to the pack yard. Cynthia is waiting and we head up the path. When we reach the lake, no one is waiting. I turn to Cynthia "where are the other girls?" "I'm sure they are on their way, don't worry." "Don't worry Serina, I'm here" a voice said from behind me and I immediately feel sick to my stomach. Atticus POV

I'm in my office trying to get an idea of the finances of the pack. I still can't believe all that has happened since yesterday. Our ceremony was amazing. I'm glad that Jessica was dealt with but my heart broke to hear what she and Raymond had truly done to Lake's mother. I know Lake will get through this with Gabby by his side but it is still hard to know exactly how evil his father was. I knew they were both evil to the core, but I had no idea just how evil. Everyone left an hour ago to head back to Scarlett Rose and it still seems strange that we won't be with them. The door opens, bringing me out of my thoughts and my beautiful mate walks in with a tray of food. "You need to take a break, Atticus" she says setting the tray on a table. I stand walking over and pull her into my arms. "I'm blessed to have found you and I will show you every day of our lives." She turns in my arms and wraps her arms around my neck. I press my lips to hers and deepen the kiss. I'm just about to lift her for something far better than food when I get a link from a patrol guard. I pull back from Monica but I don't let her go. "Alpha, there is a rogue here that is insisting on seeing you." I growl "what does he want?" "He wants to make things right." "It is the only thing he has told us, Alpha." "Bring him to my office now." I look back into Monica's beautiful eyes. "Love, I have to meet with a rogue and I would prefer that you not be near him." The fire I love flashes in her eyes. "No way, I am not an arm piece." "I am your partner and Luna." "I am also a warrior." "Fine, I know your strong I just worry especially when it's a wolf with no honor." "Atticus just because they are rogues doesn't always mean they don't have honor." "Your right, I just will never understand not wanting to be part of a pack." "They are just not in the traditional pack dynamic." I smile and peck her lips before we take our seats behind the desk. A knock sounds on the door and the guard leads the rogue in. He looks defeated, but until I know exactly what he supposedly wants to make right, I do not trust his intentions are pure. "Take a seat" I say motioning with my head. He walks over and sits while the guard leaves, closing the door. "What is your business here?" Monica shoots me a look. "Sir, what is your name?" "My name is Derrick Treble and I have come to make right what was done to the Scarlett Rose's Alpha."

Monica and I exchange a look. "He must be part of the rogues that were helping that bch." I snap my head in his direction. "You helped that bch hurt my Alpha's and kidnap children." He drops his head and I'm ready to rip him apart. The door to the office opens, Brian, Leslie, and the girls walk in. Brian roars when he sees the man, but we are all in shock when the girls run to the rogue hugging him. "Derrick" they squeal and he hugs them back. Now I'm thoroughly confused. Leslie walks over and pulls the girls back. "Girls, isn't this the man that helped take you from mommy and daddy", Brian asks. "He was in the bad place but he protected us from the mean people." "He was nice and promised that he would get us back to you no matter what" Molly says. Brian walks toward him and sticks out his hand. Derrick stands taking his hand. "Thank you for protecting my pups from those two evil baards." "You're welcome, I'm just sorry I didn't stop them to begin with." "I knew they would kill me and then the girls would be alone with them." "See I told you so" I hear Monica's voice in my mind and I chuckle. "Yes, love you were right."

After we let Derrick know that Gabby is in fact alive and well, I can see his face brighten. "Derrick, you said you came to make things right but it seems that the children are safe and Gabby wasn't actually harmed." "You have nothing left to atone for." "I appreciate that but I have known Kenneth for fifteen years and when he realizes that the Alpha isn't dead, he will not stop until Archer Lyons suffers." "I would like to let the Alphas know where the collective is staying so Kenneth can be dealt with." "Most of the collective is good wolves who have no idea the evil their leader is doing." I turn to Brian "I think that you, Leslie, and the girls should stay here until we deal with Kenneth." He nods "we appreciate that Atticus." "Good, hopefully we can deal with him quickly." "Monica and I are going to take Derrick to the Scarlett Rose so he can speak with the Alphas and Archer." We head out the SUV and head for the pack. Gabriella POV

Lake has been pretty quiet since he learned what the bch and his father did to his mother. He held me all night. I don't even know if he slept. He was quiet during the drive but never let go of my hand. The gate opens and both of our vehicles drive through. My parents park first and we all get out at the same time. As we head toward the pack house, I see Cynthia running in our direction. She falls down right in front of me. I bend down to help her up and she is sobbing. "Cynthia, what's wrong, did someone hurt you?" She looks up into my eyes "no one hurt me." "I'm so sorry Gabby, he took Serina." "I didn't know he was going to take her." I stiffen at her words and my hand tightens on her arm. "Who took my sister?"

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 36

Serina

POV

I turn to the sound of his voice. I don't know him but I know he is from Lake's pack. "Cynthia, what's going on?" "He is my mate and he wants to speak with you that's all." "Cynthia tells me that she was good friends with your sister before Monica took her place." "Conrad" she says and he shoots her a look. "It seems the people close to you have a habit of overlooking those that are loyal to them" he says. "I have no idea what the hell you're talking about." "If you have a problem with my sister and Lake, I suggest you take it up with them." I turn and take a step but I'm pulled back by my arm until I am face to face with the baard. "What do you want" I say as I try to shake him off. "Conrad don't hurt her, what is wrong with you?" "You said you just wanted to explain why you would make a good Beta so she could talk to Gabby." He shoots a glare at Cynthia. "Shut up Cynthia." Hurt flashes across her face. He laughs "did you really think I just wanted to talk to her?" "Yes, I did or I wouldn't have brought her here." "Never did I think you were going to hurt her." "Then you are stupider than I thought you were." "I plan to do so much more than hurt her" he says with a sick smile. "You lied to me, you said" he cuts her off. "I said a lot of things I didn't mean Cynthia." "You're a real piece of work." "She's your fking mate and all you care about is being Beta." "Your pathetic" I say before I feel his hand across my cheek.

I look up at him from the ground and I wish I had my wolf right now. I would like to kick his a for what he just did to his mate besides trying to kidnap me. He laughs "such a foul mouth for a little girl." Cynthia comes and wraps her arm around me to help me up. "Let's go, Serina" she says, trying to lead me away. He grabs her by the hair and rips her away from me, throwing her to the ground. "I, Conrad Stone Martle, reject you Cynthia Sonja Mcyntre." She grabs at her chest and he grabs me. He drags me by my arm into the woods toward the pack border. I feel pain in my head and the pain brings me to my knees. "Get the fk up" he yells, but I couldn't if I wanted to. I feel my body being picked up off the ground and I wish I knew what the hell was happening to me right now. I can't even try to fight him off. I hear wolves in the distance and he must to because his speed increases. I catch my sister's scent but she is nowhere around us. My skin feels like it's on fire and the pain is stronger. I groan and scream from the pain. "Shut the hell up" he yells at me and keeps moving.

Gabriella POV

"Who took my sister?" "Conrad Martle, I'm so sorry." I turn to Lake. "He is the warrior I said was like Jason when Atticus thought about making him Beta of the Silver Moon." "I will kill him", my father roars. I link Tabby and she appears in front of us. I fill her in and if looks could kill, Conrad would drop dead wherever he is with my sister. Tabby starts to chant and after a few minutes she smiles. "He won't be able to leave the territory." "Thank you, Tabby." Johnathon rushes toward her and they leave in search of my sister. I can't send a pack link because he will hear it too. We need to have some element of surprise to get my sister back safely. If he harms one hair on my sister's head, I will make him wish for death. "Cynthia tell me exactly what happened." She tells me about him being her mate and why she took Serina to the lake to meet with him. Part of me wants to kill her for being so gullible and part of me hurts that her own mate used her. "What you did was incredibly foolish" her face falls at my words. "I know you would never intentionally do anything to hurt Serina so we can talk more about that later." "I'm so sorry Gabby I know now that it was stupid." "I know you're sorry, now let's find my sister." She steps back and shifts into a chocolate brown wolf taking off toward the woods. Lake shifts and I climb up on Razor's back. I wish Serina had her wolf because then I could try to link her directly. We run as fast as we can and I feel the anger rolling off Razor. Lake hasn't even had time to process what he has just learned about his mother and this happens. We break through the trees near the lake. "Her scent is faint love, but it's still here." He starts to follow the scent, stalking slowly forward into the trees. As we move through the trees, I can hear him yell at Serina to shut up. My blood is boiling and after everything that just happened with that bch Jessica, I am over these evil fking people trying to hurt people I love. He is at the border and when he tries to cross it throws him back ten feet. He lands on the ground and Serina lands a few feet from him. She is writhing in pain and it can't be from that fall. What the hell did he do to her? I slide down and Razor shifts. Lake and I head to Serina. "Serina, what is wrong", I plead with her to tell me what he did. She doesn't answer, but she keeps groaning and her skin is on fire. Lake looks at me "it can't be she is too young." "She is only sixteen." My father steps through the trees. "It's possible if the goddess wants it that way." My father says as he walks toward that baard on the ground. Cynthia's wolf walks over and sits on her haunches near Serina. "What is happening, Lake?" "I think she is shifting for the first time." "It is painful and we often feel like we are on fire before it happens."

"Take her and go with Cynthia." "It will be helpful if someone who can shift is with her while your father and I deal with this baard." I hate to leave but right now Serina needs me more than I need to stay here to make sure he suffers. Cynthia's wolf lays down and I place Serina on her back. I climb up and hold her as the wolf runs back to the pack house. Once we are in the pack yard, I pull Serina down and she continues to groan. Cynthia shifts and bends down to speak directly to Serina. Serina POV

I feel a whisper in the back of my mind. I can hear Lake saying that I'm shifting, but that can't be. I won't get my wolf for two more years. "Not true" I hear the whisper of a female voice. "I don't understand" I respond to the whisper. "Serina the goddess is unpredictable and amazing." The voice seems to be getting closer. "Are you my wolf?" "Is this really happening?" "It is silly girl, we will shift but we still won't find our mate until we are of age." "The goddess thinks we are both special and she wants us to grow together" she preens in my mind with her words. She is beautiful, with red fur like fire. I have never seen a wolf with red fur. "I'm not going to lie, Serina, this is going to hurt." "The first time is the worst and it will get better every time we shift." "OK, I trust you." "Alright I'm ready but before we shift what is your name?" She laughs "oh I forgot, I'm Ruby and I'm glad the goddess chose me for you."

I hear Cynthia start to talk. "Listen to your friend and don't fight me." I nod and Cynthia's words become clear. "Serina, I'm here with you." "We can shift together." "Gabby is here with us. I manage to look at my sister, who looks worried. I love her but I can't offer her reassurance right now until I get through this shift. I take a deep breath, focusing on my sister's face. I feel like my bones are breaking. The pain is indescribable and I feel like I won't survive this. "Your ok Serina, let me take control." "Don't fight me." I try to relax but it's so hard with this much pain. "Your doing so well Serina" Cynthia says. "I'm so proud of you sissy" Gabby says. They step back and I feel my bones begin to shift. I look up and Cynthia is shifting into a beautiful chocolate brown wolf. Watching her shift seems to help me focus. After a few minutes, everything stops and I'm consumed by darkness. The pain is gone. Archer POV

Lake comes to stand next to me as I stare at this wolf that thought he could take my pup. Whatever Tabby did knocked him out, but he is starting to come around. He rushes to his feet when he sees us. "I just wanted to show you why you should have chosen me as the Beta." "You are pathetic." "You took a child because you felt you were wronged." "There is nothing you could say that would justify that." "Alpha, you know me, I wouldn't hurt her." "I do know you and honestly you would." "You are so much like that baard Jason." "You only care about yourself and that is exactly why you are not the Beta of any pack." I watch his eyes flash black and Lake has dealt with enough. This ahole is mine. I shift into Brutus and stalk toward him. He shifts and we circle each other. I'm much bigger than he is but his wolf seems as stupid as he is. He lunges attempting to bite my side but I dodge. We turn and we bite down on his hind leg. We feel the bones break in our jaw. He pulls away and attempts to sh us with his claw. I need to check on my pup, so I am done exchanging blows with this piece of sh*t. We bite down on his neck and begin to shake until we hear the crack of bone. We drop him on the ground before I shift back.

I pull on shorts. I start toward Lake. "I'm so sorry Archer." I look at him with confusion at his apology. "Why the hell are you sorry?" "All of this drama is from people that are connected to me." I walk over and place my hands on Lake's shoulders so he looks in my eyes. "Lake, humans and super naturals are the same." "They both have evil and good." "You are no more to blame than my mother, Sabrina, Monica, or me." "Now I'm really confused" he says and I laugh. "Evil people who were connected to all of us tried to hurt someone we loved." "That was about them not us." "You are not responsible for the actions of others ever." "I couldn't ask for a better mate for my pup than you." "I know what you learned today is haunting you but I also know that your mother would want you to be happy." "Don't disappoint her." He smiles "let's go check on the girls." We take off back toward the pack house and I link Sabrina on the way. I know that if I don't let her know what's happening I will be in the dog house.

We reach the pack yard and Sabrina is already there with Gabby, Cynthia, and a red wolf. My daughter is a red wolf. She is lying on the ground. "What happened" I ask. "The shift was difficult but she was amazing." "I think she was just exhausted and passed out" Gabby says. I smile at how strong both my girls are. I walk over and bend down, running my hand down her snout. "Is she alright Archer", Sabrina asks as she comes to stand next to me. I stand and pull her into my arms. "She is better than alright." "She is blessed by the goddess." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 37

Serina

POV

My eyes flutter open and I'm near the lake again. How could I be here? I look around and there is a be Memories of being taken by that pr*ck Conrad and hearing Lake talk about me shifting comes flooding is the coolest. "She is very cool, isn't she," I hear a female voice from behind me. I scramble to my feet whisper and she smiles. She nods and offers me her hand. Maybe this is a dream and I'll wake up in th why I'm shocked she can link me she's the moon goddess.

"I meant no disrespect, Goddess, I just can't believe this is happening." I take her hand and I feel like the journey doesn't bother me." "Are you alright?" "Yes Goddess" I say and take the seat she offers. Th hearing. "This is my Ruby", I say, and she laughs.
Moon Goddess POV

"Yes my child she is your wolf." "Both you and Ruby are very special to me." "Why me" she asks with su have given Ruby to." "I give my children free will and sometimes, much to my disappointment, they m that was smaller than most." "She was special even though she was small but because her human cou wolves are a gift." I smile and she continue to solidify that I made the right choice for Ruby.

"When the human drank whatever potion the witch gave her, it turned Ruby's soul black." "She was big by the pack and I took Ruby home to heal her." "It took me a great amount of time to cleanse Ruby's s isn't the biggest wolf but she makes up for that with the power she holds." "I know Ruby told you that you are and when the time is right you will find your other half."

wolf with red fur lying a few feet from me near the water. I have never seen a wolf with fur that was red like fire. I'm not afraid, I actually feel drawn to her. To my mind, I sit down next to the wolf, reaching my hand out and rubbing it through her soft fur. She isn't the biggest wolf I've ever seen but she definitely when I turn, I see the most beautiful woman with hair that matches the wolf's fur. "Do not be afraid my child, you are in no danger here with me." "Goddess", I cry with everyone around me. "I assure you, Serina, this is not a dream" I hear her voice in my mind. She chuckles at the shock on my face. I don't know what happens. When everything stops, I take a few deep breaths so I don't throw up everywhere. "My apologies, I'm so used to moving from realm to realm that from earlier comes to sit next to me and places her head in my lap. "Ruby is quite special, Serina." I look at the beautiful wolf and I can't believe what I'm innocence. "Let me tell you what makes Ruby so special and then I'll tell you why I chose you." She nods and I continue. "You are not the first human that I've wronged." "Some choices are forgivable and can be redeemed and some are not." "Ruby wasn't always the wolf you see today." "She was a brown wolf once that she went against me." "She enlisted the help of a black magic witch to change her wolf." "Why would someone do such a thing?" Serina asks. "Our and her fur was black as night." "Unfortunately, the human was no longer in control and Ruby was no longer the beautiful soul I had created." "She was killed. When the black magic was all gone all the fire in her spirit remained." "I made her fur red to match it and I waited to find the perfect human for her." "She's still shifting for the first time you will not find your mate yet." "Neither of you are ready for that." "You and Ruby are going to grow into the special wolf I know

"Now to answer the question, why you?" "You, your sister, and your mother are special to me." "Your mother never knew of our kind and she accepted your father the day she found out who he was to her." "Despite making him wait and she did, he was in her heart." She makes a face like what I said was gross and I chuckle. "I have never had any of my human children of my gift so readily." "Your sister is stronger than many of my Alpha wolves." "I don't mean physically but in leadership." "She has the gift of seeing good in those who maybe don't always show it." "Now I'm going to ask you a question before I tell you why you're special." "When your father announced that your sister was to become Alpha of your pack how did you feel?" She looks at me like I just asked the craziest question. "I was happy, my sister is amazing and deserves her title." "The only reason I agreed to share the Alpha duties was I love my sister and I want to stand by her side." "That is why you are so special." "I don't understand" Serina says. "Most wolves would have felt angry or betrayed at your father's choice if only for a moment but you never felt that way." "You were happy to follow your sister despite her not having a wolf." "That makes you special and for that reason I have given you one of my most special wolves." "She will grow with you and become more powerful than anyone can imagine but only if you stay pure hearted." She smiles "it's time for you to go back to your parents and sister."

She stands and I walk toward her, wrapping her in my arms. I lean down kissing her forehead and she is gone. I turn to Ruby and she comes over sitting down in front of me at my feet. I bend down and stroke the fur on her head. "She will love you the way it should have been from the beginning, my child." I place my head against hers and she is gone.

Gabriella POV

We all sit in the pack yard just waiting for Serina to wake up. I have been running my hand through her fur. I'm still amazed by her color. I've never seen a wolf with her fur color. "Dad, what does it mean that she is blessed?" "We won't really know until we see what her wolf is capable of." "Red wolves are rare, even rarer than white wolves." "I have never seen a red wolf in all my life." "I have only heard about them in the teachings when I became Alpha." "I do know they have powers beyond typical wolves." I smile I knew Serina was special and now everyone will know it too. I feel her wolf move under my hand. Her eyes open and she looks around at all of us. I stand and she gets to her feet. She isn't as big as the average wolf, but she is beautiful. She rubs against me and I feel the connection to her just as I do to Serina.

She rubs against my mother and my father shifts. She rubs against Brutus and he howls with happiness to see his pup's wolf. I can feel the tear roll down my cheek. A finger wipes it away and Lake wraps me in his arms. His embrace feels amazing in this moment. I turn and his face looks lighter. I smile "your dad put a lot in perspective for me", Lake says. I peck his lips and turn back. "I think we should go on a run" Lake says. My mother climbs on Brutus and I climb on Razor. We all start out at a steady pace, but in moments Serina's wolf is far ahead of us. I can feel that Razor is trying to catch her but it doesn't seem to be happening. I smile, speed must be one of her powers because she is blowing the other wolves away. We make it back to the pack house and I slide off Razor's back. Brutus stands in front of my sister and shifts back to my dad. "Sweetheart, picture yourself in human form and you will shift back", our father says. After a few seconds, my sister is standing there and my mother hands her clothes to slip on. Once she's dressed, Cynthia walks over and I can see how sorry she is. "I'm so sorry Serina" she starts to say.

Serina pulls her into a hug. "It wasn't your fault and there is nothing to forgive." Cynthia hugs me and returns to the pack house. I'm just about to suggest we do the same when Lake and I get a link that Atticus has arrived to see us. I turn to my parents and Serina. "Atticus needs to speak with us and he has brought a rogue with him." Lake growls and I take his hand. "Atticus would not bring someone to the pack that is a threat." He nods and we all head to the office. Once we are all seated, Atticus, Monica, and the rogue walk in. Derrick POV

As soon as we arrive at the pack, I feel uneasy and Haze is pacing in my mind. "Haze you need to calm down this is hard enough without you driving me crazy." I don't even let him respond before I push him down. I know this is the right thing, but it doesn't make this any easier to do. We are led up to the pack house by the patrol guard. Once we are in the office, I look around as the scent of lilacs are invading my nose. That scent reminds me of being a child and spending time with my grandmother. I push Haze down because none of these women could be my mate. The goddess gave me that chance once and I blew it. I focus on the conversation at hand. "Atticus" the Alpha female says. "Alpha Gabriella this is Derrick." "He was Kenneth's second in command." "What the fk, are you here to help your boss" Lake says. "Alpha Lake, I promise you that I would never have brought him here if I thought for one minute he was still working with Kenneth" Atticus says.

"Alpha, I have made many mistakes in my life and I swear to you that I was not a part of the pups being kidnapped." "I don't agree with any of the things that Kenneth has done and I wish I had come to you earlier." I look to Atticus as I'm sure they will not take me at my word. "The girls confirmed that he protected them from Kenneth and Jessica" Atticus. "I'm glad to hear that." "I'm here to help you end this with Kenneth." "Most of the wolves in his collective have no idea of the evil things he has been doing." "I don't want to see them punished for his actions." "That is very admirable and we appreciate your help" the female Alpha says. She turns to the male Alpha. "I agree with my mate, but understand if you betray us in any way, you will suffer the same fate as that bch Jessica." "I understand Alpha, but I promise you I am not here to betray you."

"Do you trust this love" I link Gabriella. "He seems sincere and I think you made it clear what the consequences will be if he is not." I smile, I do love this woman. "Yes, I did." "Derrick, can you tell us why Kenneth is so hell bent on revenge" Gabriella asks. "It's actually against the former Alpha, Archer." Archer growls and Derrick finishes. "He said that you killed his brother, Lawrence." "The rogue that killed my father's collective" Archer says. "Your damn right we killed him." "I knew he had done bad things but Kenneth wouldn't listen to reason" Derrick says. "Well, it seems it's time to pay Kenneth a visit." I link Tabby to join us and after a few minutes the door opens. Johnathon and Tabby walk in and Tabby stops dead when she sees Derrick. He stands "Tabitha" he says and I see anger flash in Johnathon's eyes. Johnathon steps in front of his mate and I can see the hurt on her face at this man's presence. What the hell is happening now?

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 38

Tabitha POV

When we get the link that Serina is safe, I can feel my body relax. I can't believe that baard thought he could take my girl. Johnathon shifts and I slide down. I raise my arms, chanting to lift the spell. As soon as I'm done I feel light headed and take a step back to stay on my feet. I feel strong arms wrap around me. "Tabby, are you alright" he says with concern in his voice. "I'm alright just tired." He lifts me into his arms bridal style. "Johnathon, I can walk back to the cottage." He growls and I chuckle. "I'm going to take care of you tonight." "You take care of everyone else and sometimes you need to be taken care of." I rest my head against his chest and close my eyes. The minute I hear the door to the cottage close, I open my eyes. "Tabby, can you and Johnathon come to our office" Lake links me. I know Johnathon isn't going to be happy, but they wouldn't be calling for us unless it was important.

"Johnathon, we have to go to Lake and Gabby's office." "No, you need to rest." "Whatever it is can wait" Johnathon says with finality. I love this man for worrying about me but I'll be fine. "Johnathon, I know your worried but I promise you I am fine." "They wouldn't link unless it was important." "I promise before we take care of that baard Kenneth I will rest." I see he wants to protest. Before he can say anything, I lean up pressing my lips to his. He wraps his arms around me and I will never tire of how safe and loved I feel in his arms. He pulls back, "promise me you will rest after this." I smile "I promise, now let's go so we can get back." "I'll even let you give me a massage." He laughs and the worry seems to fade from him. I'm just about to teleport us when Johnathon stops me. "No magic", he says, and lifts me in his arms again. I'm not crazy about being carried in the pack house but I let it go.

When we reach the pack house, he finally sets me on my feet. When we get inside, Cynthia is sitting in living room. She looks defeated and I know how sorry she is for what happened. I walk toward her and sit down next to her. "Serina is safe and you made a mistake." "You need to forgive yourself because no one is going to hold it against you." She smiles "thank you Tabby." I hug her and go to stand "Tabby do you think I will ever have a mate." "He rejected me and I'm glad but it still hurts." I look back at Johnathon and smile. "I absolutely believe you will have a mate you deserve." I take her hand and squeeze it before we head up to the office. Johnathon knocks and I follow behind him. I stop walking the minute I notice the man sitting in the chair. This can't be happening right now. He stands "Tabitha" he says my name on a whisper. Johnathon steps in front of me and growls. I step next to Johnathon because I need to see that it is really him.

As soon as our eyes meet, he steps toward me. Before I can say a word, Johnathon has him against the wall. "Johnathon put him down now" Lake gives Alpha command. I can tell he is fighting the command, but eventually, he has no choice and gives in. He walks back to me, wrapping me in his arms and burying his head in my neck. "Love, I'm yours and yours only." "Please stay calm and we will deal with this." He finally gets himself under control but he never lets me go. "Why are you here?" "Tabitha I'm sorry" Derrick says. "That is the past, I have my mate and I'm happy." "Now I'll ask again, why are you here?" "I didn't come here to upset you." "I just want to make things right." "You can't upset me because you are nothing to me." "As for making things right, what does that mean?" "I want to help stop Kenneth." I feel the anger rise in my body. He was helping that baard. "You helped him take those girls." I don't even wait for an answer. I lift my hand and start to cut off his air supply. I hear the others speaking but it sounds so distant. I'm light headed again but this time I can't stop my body from giving in. I'm consumed by darkness and there is only silence.

Gabriella POV

As soon as Tabby walks in, I know something isn't right. Based on her reaction to Derrick saying her name, they have to know each other. I have never seen Tabby act this way. She is not afraid but she is distressed by his presence. Johnathon must sense something too because he immediately steps in front of her to protect her. Everything happens so fast. The minute he says he's sorry, I realize who he is. I had heard the story of Tabby's rejection by a wolf but never did I think that he would end up here to help us. I want to run over and hug her but I have known her long enough to know she needs to have her say in this moment. The minute she realizes that Derrick was helping Kenneth, I watch her eyes change. The next minute Derrick is off the ground and grabbing at his throat. "Tabby let him go, don't do this." I just get the words out when I watch her body go limp. Thank goddess Johnathon catches her before she hits the floor. Serina and I are by her side in seconds.

Jonathon's wolf is at the surface because of the condition of his mate. We don't need him going feral on top of trying to help Tabby. "Atticus take Derrick downstairs now." They leave and Johnathon's wolf seems to calm a little. "Johnathon, we need to take her to the pack hospital now", Lake says. We all get up and follow Johnathon carrying one of the most important people in all our lives. Tabby has become like an aunt to me and I know my mother thinks of her like a sister. I watch my father hold my mother as we walk. I say a prayer to the goddess that she is alright. We reach the hospital and the doctor immediately takes her back. We all take a seat and Johnathon looks defeated. I take his hand "Tabby is strong, I have faith she will be alright." "I shouldn't have let her go to the office." "What do you mean Johnathon?" "When she lifted the spell off the pack, she got lightheaded and I wanted her to go home and rest." He's silent for a minute. "Then we linked her and she came even though she wasn't feeling a hundred percent." "I'm sorry Johnathon had we known" he stops me. "This is not your fault, you are our family and we wanted to help." "It's not your fault either, she is stubborn." He chuckles "that she is."

Serina POV

We are in the waiting room and it feels like it is taking forever for the doctor to let us know what is going on with Tabby. "Serina, we need to go to Tabby" Ruby says. "What are you talking about?" "We can't just go back there while the doctors are trying to help her." "Serina, we can help her." I stand up and walk over to Gabby without asking what she means. I trust Ruby completely. "Gabriella, I need to go to Tabby." She looks at me like she doesn't understand. "Ruby says we can help her." Gabby stands up, taking my hand without saying a word to anyone. She pushes open the door and doesn't stop when everyone calls out to us. "Alpha, can I help you" a nurse asks Gabby. "Take me to Tabitha." "Alpha the doctor is with her" she says. "This is not a request, now" she says and the nurse leads us to the room without another word. We walk in and she is hooked up to machines. "Alpha" the doctor starts to say, but as soon as he sees my sister's face, he stops.

"My sister's wolf says she can help Tabby." He looks at me and back to Gabby. "I shifted for the first time today and my wolf is special." He steps away from her bed and I step forward. "Alright Ruby, what now?" "Take her hand and close your eyes." I do what Ruby says. My body starts to feel tingly and warm. My eyes open but it's like I'm not me. I'm watching what's happening from inside and Ruby is in control. My eyes turn red and white light flows from my hand into Tabby's body. After a few seconds, everything stops and I'm back in control. I look down at Tabby and her eyes are still closed. "Did it work, Ruby?" "Of course. we our healers." "She just needs to rest now." I smile and Gabby comes to stand next to me. She wraps her arm around me and I lay my head against her shoulder. "You are amazing and I'm so proud to be your sister" she says. "Right back at you, Alpha" She chuckles and we take a seat next to her bed for a few minutes.

Gabby heads out to the waiting room to get Johnathon and I wait with Tabby. I rub circles on the back of her hand. "Thank you, Serina." I look at her face and she is smiling at me. I get up bending down to wrap her in hug. "Don't ever do that again." "You scared the hell out of us." She chuckles "I'll do my best to not do it again." "Ruby, thank you for helping me", she says. I look at her confused. She hasn't met Ruby yet. "While you passed your magical healing to me, I was connected to Ruby." "She is very special and so are you, Serina." Before I can say anything, the door opens and Johnathon rushes inside followed by Gabby. He wraps Tabby in his arms and I can see the relief all over his face. A few seconds later, the doctor knocks on the door. "Tabitha and Johnathon can I speak to you both alone for a moment." I stand to leave "no" Tabitha says. "Serina and Gabby stay." "I want them here, they are family." Johnathon nods and the doctor opens a folder that was in his hand. "Ruby why does he look like he is about to tell us something major?" "Listen and you will understand everything that just happened" Ruby says. Derrick POV search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I'm sorry Atticus, I really am." "I had no idea that Tabitha was here." "I know you didn't but maybe you should go back to the Silver Moon with us until we are ready to go after Kenneth." "Maybe your right." "That last I want to do in this life is to cause Tabitha anymore pain." "She is the biggest regret I have in my life." "I'm glad she found her mate and she is happy." "She deserves to have all the happiness the goddess can give her." Atticus puts his hand on my shoulder. "She is and Johnathon is an amazing mate to her." I smile and hear foot steps behind us. I turn to see Monica walking in followed by another woman. The scent of lilacs invades my nose again and Haze goes nuts. He growls "mate." She stops walking and the look of fear on her face guts me. I can't, I know I deserve to be rejected after what I did to Tabitha all those years ago but I won't survive it.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 39

Terrance

POV

I watch Tabitha as she gets off a wolf. I'm sure the fking one that marked her. She looks just as powerful as the day I thought she died in that cottage. He wraps her in his arms to steady her and I would like to turn him to ash right now, but I won't. I have bigger plans for the two of them. He will suffer for taking what should have been mine all those years ago. She will be broken and so much easier to take as mine. I start to chant and when I'm done, I smile as I teleport back to the coven. That couldn't have gone any better. As soon as I head inside the mansion, I head to my father's office. I knock and head inside. "How did it go?" "Better than we could have imagined." "Really, why is that, Terrance?" "She was with her so-called mate and there was no one else around." My father smiles "good very good." "A few days and she should be ripe for the taking." "That's excellent Terrance." "Now what do you plan on doing about Patricia." "She won't be a problem father." "Good, we attack in three days." "Make sure the others are ready." "What are you going to do about Megan, father?" "You know despite all she has said she had feelings for Tabitha." "Your sister won't be an issue." I leave my father's office and head to the wing of the mansion I share with Patricia. I'm heading toward the stairs when Megan stops me. "I know you and father are planning something to capture Tabitha." I roll my eyes because she is pathetic. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"That was never a secret Megan." "She was supposed to be mine from the beginning but instead she is mated to a flea-ridden mutt." "So, what is the plan to bring her home where she belongs, dear brother?" "Megan, I have other things to deal with at the moment." "Go speak to father if you have questions about me bringing my beloved home." I can see by the look on her face my comment pisses her off. "Fine I will" she says like a petulant child. I head up the stairs and once I'm inside, Patricia is sitting on the couch. She turns "Terrance, where have you been." "You know how I hate being here all day by myself." Even her voice annoys me. She stands coming around the couch and wrapping her arms around my neck. I immediately grab her arms and remove them from me. I haven't touched this woman in months and she still doesn't get the message. "Terrance, what the hell is wrong with you?" "You have been a total jerk since you got back from that stupid mission your father sent you on." "I would be very careful how you speak to me, Patricia." "You may scare your coven members, but I'm not afraid of you." I laugh, "you should be." I grab her by the throat and her eyes get big. "Terrance, what are you doing," she manages to squeak out. "I never wanted to take you as my beloved but my father insisted since Tabitha was dead." I start to squeeze harder. "You are weak and I have found the beloved I should have always had." "So, I need to get rid of this fking mark and you." She is fighting and tries to cast against me but I'm much stronger than she is. After a few minutes, she stops fighting and I drop her to the ground. I chant and after a few seconds she is nothing but ash. I call for someone to clean up the mess and I head to my office. I have many things to get ready for my new beloved's arrival, but first I have to make a phone call. I put the phone to my ear and he picks up on the second ring. "Terrance, it's so good to hear from you." "How is my baby girl doing?" "That's actually why I'm calling you Simon." "I don't know how to say this so I'm just going to tell you." "Terrance has something happened to my daughter?" "She has been cheating on me with one of my coven members." "She wouldn't" he says but I stop him. "She left me a note about what she has been doing." "I'm glad I didn't catch them because I probably would have killed her had I found them together." There is silence "Simon I'm sorry you have to hear this." "I need to speak with her and understand why" Simons says. "I hope you find her and she can explain herself but I don't understand how she could betray me like this." "I will be in touch Terrance." "Take care Simon" I say before I hang up. I chuckle, good luck finding her. Cynthia POV

I'm sitting in the living room when Monica comes down the stairs. "Cynthia, why are you sitting here by yourself?" "I did something that could have hurt someone I care about." "Cynthia you are one of the nicest people I know so I highly doubt that." I smile, she is so different now and I'm glad she is happy. When I said those things to Conrad about feeling left out it wasn't because I was angry at Gabby. I was just feeling sorry for myself. Monica needed her and I'm glad she had her. I tell Monica everything that happened with Conrad and Serina. I see the sympathy on her face. "Cynthia, you would never have taken her to meet him if you thought he was trying to hurt her." "I know I just hate that baard for using me to get to her and that I believed him." "I'm glad that Archer dealt with him so quickly." "I'm sorry that you are hurting right now but I have faith that the goddess will give you a second chance just as she did for me." She hugs me and stands up.

"I'll walk with you." "I'm going to head upstairs to get ready for training anyway." We walk through the doorway that leads to the stairs and the foyer. As soon as I step through the doorway, the smell of cinnamon and apple invades my nose. Macie is losing her mind and growling. "Mate is near." As soon as she says the words, I'm looking at the most beautiful man I've ever seen in my life. He is staring at me but makes no move to come toward me. I think about going to him but Macie's words stop me. "He doesn't want us either" Macie whimpers in my mind. Even my second chance doesn't want me. I can't take another rejection right now. I turn around running back through the pack house and out the back door. We shift immediately and run as fast as our legs will carry us. "I'm sorry Macie" I say. "Don't you dare say you're sorry for those two idiots not recognizing what a gift you are." "As long as I have you, Cynthia, that's all that matters." I smile, I love my wolf so much. My heart is still broken that we may never have a mate to love us. Tabitha POV

These women are my family, whatever the doctor has to say he can say in front of them. "We ran some tests based on your symptoms and one in particular could account for you having these fainting spells" I feel Johnathon squeeze my hand and his fear flow through our bond. I look at this man I love and I hate the fear on his face. I look back at the doctor and he is smiling. Now I'm really confused. "Tabitha, you're pregnant."

"Excuse me" I say and the girls scream. "You heard me correctly, your pregnant." "It's not possible." "We have tried for years and it never happened." "Nothing is impossible Tabitha" the doctor says. "The goddess has blessed you now despite your trouble conceiving in the past." I look over at Johnathon and the look of fear is replaced by tears and happiness. Before I say anything, I notice him flinch and place his hand on his side. "What's wrong, Johnathon?" "Nothing, just a cramp." "I can't believe we are going to have a pup Tabby" he says and leans down, pressing his lips to mine. I'm going to be a mother. Once he sits back in his chair, he never lets go of my hand. I'm glad because I need to feel him right now.

Serina and Gabby both hug me before they go to get their parents. As soon as Sabrina comes in, she starts asking me a million questions. "Love slow down" Archer says and the girls smile at me. "Sabrina, I'm fine." "Actually, better than fine." "We are going to have a pup." She looks shocked and then the biggest smile breaks out on her face. "I'm going to be an aunt again." She wraps me in a hug. Archer walks over to Johnathon, congratulating him. Then Archer hugs me and Sabrina hugs Johnathon. We talk for a few more minutes before they all leave for me to rest. "Did that pain in your side go away?" He bends down kissing my forehead. "You worry about making our pup, I'm fine." He lays his head near my belly "hey little one I'm your dad." I couldn't love this man more than I do in this moment. He slides in next to me and I lay my head on his chest. I close my eyes and fall into the best sleep of my life.

I wake and I squeeze Johnathon. I hear him moan and my eyes fly open. When I sit up, I'm horrified by what I see. Johnathon's eyes are closed tightly and his skin has a blue hue. "Johnathon, love, please wake up and tell me what's happening?" I can tell he is trying to open them but he can't. I attempt to link him. "Johnathon, you're scaring me, please wake up." "Tabby, I don't know what's happening but I can't move." I lay my hands on him and his skin feels so cold. I start to chant but nothing seems to be happening. I scream for help and the hospital staff come rushing in. They look at me first, "it's not me, something is wrong with Johnathon." They start to check him over and I link Gabby. I don't know what else to do. I can't lose him. We are going to have a pup. I lay my hand on my very flat stomach. "Gabby, I need help." She immediately answers me "Tabby, what's wrong?" "Please come to the hospital and bring Serina." She cuts the link and the doctor looks over at me with fear in his eyes. This cannot be happening.

Serina POV

The door opening to my room wakes me out of sleep. I sit up and Gabby rushes over to me. "Serina, we need to go to the hospital." I feel a pit form in my stomach. "What's wrong with Tabby?" "I don't know but she needs us now." I jump up and pull on jeans. We run as fast as we can to the pack hospital and when we walk in the room, that pit is now a boulder. Tabby is sobbing and the doctors are working on Jonathon. He looks like he was out in the snow for hours. He is breathing but it is very slow. Tabby looks to us and we rush over to her. "What happened" I ask. "I don't know I woke up and he was like this." "He is still aware because we talked through our link." "I knew something was wrong when he said he had a pain in his side last night." "I should have pressed him more" Tabby says blaming herself. "Don't do that Tabby, we just need to figure out how to help him now." "I tried using a healing spell and a reversal spell but nothing is working." "I don't understand how I wouldn't know that someone cast a spell on him." "Tabby you aren't a hundred percent right now so give yourself a break."

"Ruby, can we help him?" "I'm not sure, but we can definitely try." I walk over and take his hand in mine. It is so cold against my skin. I close my eyes and Ruby pushes forward. After a few minutes, I, open my eyes but he looks no different. "Ruby", I say like a question. "Whatever has been cast on him is strong." "We may need a little help this time." I don't understand what she means. "Remember we are still developing our powers and not knowing exactly what was cast makes it more difficult for us to reverse it." I turn and look at Tabby. She sobs and falls to her knees. Gabby bends down and wraps her arm around her. I kneel in front of her and Ruby pushes forward. "Now is not the time to give up Tabitha." She looks into Ruby's eyes. We stand and put out our hands, leading Tabby over to the bed. "Now we are going to do this together, but you need to have faith this will work." Tabby nods and takes Johnathon's hand. We close our eyes and I can hear Tabby chanting. I feel the warmth moving through our bodies and I pray to the goddess that together we can save Johnathan.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 40

Gabriella

POV

As I watch Tabby and Serina try to save Johnathon, I pray to the goddess that she not take him from Tabby and their pup. Tabby always wanted to be a mother but she never wallowed in the fact that she wasn't blessed by the goddess. She was happy to help our parents take care of us like we were her own. I close my eyes thinking about how we got here. Who could have done this and when? "Gabriella where are you", Lake links me. I never even woke him when Tabby linked me. I wasn't trying to keep it from him but I could hear the panic in her voice and knew how much she needed us at that moment. "I'm at the hospital with Tabby." "What the hell is happening?" He doesn't even give me a chance to answer. "I'm on my way." He cuts the link and I know he isn't happy that I left without letting him know after everything that has happened. I open my eyes and the glow that passes between them is amazing. It's blue and brilliant. It travels up and down Johnathon's body. Johnathon's skin color starts to pink up and his breathing evens out. His eyes never open, but I hope the changes mean that they were successful. Once the glow stops, I rush over to make sure they can both stand on their own two feet after using all that energy. With Tabby being pregnant and already passing out, I won't take any chances. I pull the chair over and Tabby sits down next to the bed she was lying in just a few hours ago. She reaches out taking Johnathon's hand in hers. Once Tabby is situated, I lead Serina over to the couch. "Are you alright" I ask them both. Tabby never answers me. "I'm fine, just a little tired," Serina says. "Did it work, his color and breathing looks better." Tabby chuckles with no hint of humor. "Ruby isn't sure" Serina says. "It stopped the spell from progressing, but we couldn't reverse it" Tabby says. "It is only temporary and it will start in two days." "Based on what I could feel it's a soul spell." "What is a soul spell Tabby?" "It's a spell that is binding to the soul." "It basically is making his body a casket." "He will be imprisoned in himself unless the person who cast it dies or reverses it." "Who did this Tabby?" "They thought they could have me once a long time ago and now they thought hurting the most important person in my life would finish what they tried to do." Tabitha POV

I feel numb as I explain what they did to my beloved. I know those baards did this to Johnathon and I swear to the goddess I will watch them suffer. I place my hand against my flat belly as I listen Gabby tell Lake what happened. I promise you little one that I will save your daddy, no matter what I have to do. I don't care if I have to kill their whole coven, I say to my pup silently so the others don't hear me. "Tabby, that's not you and you know it" I hear Ruby's voice speak in my mind. I look toward Serina. How is that possible? Serina isn't Alpha yet. I can't think about that right now, Jonathon is what matters. "I was born a black magic witch and you have no idea what I'm capable of, Ruby." "Your parents sacrificed themselves so you could have the life you deserved in the light and you were never black magic, the coven was." I can feel the tears flow down my cheeks. How can she know what happened with those baards? Serina doesn't even know that story. Before I can ask her how she knows my past, I feel a link. "Tabby, I'm here, I love you" Johnathon whispers. "I love you too." "Save your strength until I can get the spell reversed." I stand placing my head against his "I promise you love I will make everything right." "Promise me you won't put yourself or the pup at risk to save me" he pleads with me. "Johnathon, if I don't have you, none of this makes sense." "I will protect the pup with my life, but I have to do what it takes to lift this spell from you." "Tabby please" he pleads. I press my lips against his even though he can't kiss me back. "I can't live happily ever after without my wolf." I kiss his forehead before I stand and turn to everyone in the room. Serina walks over and takes my hands. Ruby links me again: "we are going to help you make these people pay, but you can't let them change the person you are." Gabby and Lake come to stand next to her. "You are a part of this pack and we will not let you do this alone" Gabby says. "I can't lose him Gabby." "I don't want to lose who I've become but honestly if I have to choose it will be to keep Johnathon over my light magic." She puts her hands on my shoulders. "You will not have to choose." "I have always trusted that when you placed the protection spell on me, I was safe and now you're going to have to trust us." She wraps me in her arms. "Please let them help you Tabby for me" Johnathon links me. I close my eyes, squeezing them tight. "I trust you all, help me save my beloved from this." Terrance POV

That was the best night's sleep I've had in a very long time not listening to that nagging bch. After I'm showered, I head to my father's office to let him know that Patricia is gone before I head to speak with the warlocks about our attack on that disgusting wolf pack. When I reach the door, I knock but there is no response. I knock harder but still there is no answer. I get this feeling of dread as I open the door. I'm horrified by the scene before me when the door is completely open. My father is sitting in his chair covered in blood. He is blue and his throat has been cut. Who could have done this to him, a powerful warlock? My mind flashes through scenario after scenario, but nothing makes sense. I call for the coven healer. I need to know how long he has been dead. I will not rest until I find out who has taken my father from me. After I call the healer, Joelyn, I call the ranked coven members to join me in his office.

Joelyn arrives first and she immediately heads toward my father. "Terrance he isn't able to be healed." "Don't insult my intelligence I know that." "I need to know how long he has been dead." I turn back to three ranked warlocks standing in the doorway with a look of shock on their face. "Terrance what happened" Cyrus asks with disgust on his face. "A member of this coven has killed my father." "I want whoever did this found and brought me." "You give truth serum to every member of this fking coven until you find who did this." "Of course Terrance, we will have it ready within the hour." I turn back to the Joelyn "how long?" He was killed sometime last night. "Take his body to be prepared for a burial ceremony and no one sees his body without my permission are we clear." "Yes Sir" she says before she disappears with my father's body. I wave my hand, erasing any evidence that my father was killed hours ago in this office.

The door opens and my sister comes walking in. "Where is father, Terrance, and why are you in here when he isn't?" I feel sick with the thought that just passes through my mind. She wouldn't hurt him, she couldn't. I know she is angry about Tabitha but she loved our father. I turn toward her. "What do you need from father?" She rolls her eyes "we got into an argument after you told me to go talk to him, so I wanted to apologize." "What did you argue about?" "I want to be part of bringing Tabby home and he told me to stay out of it." "I was angry, she was my friend and because of the two of you I lost her." "What did you do Meg?" "I don't have a clue what the hell you're talking about and honestly I don't have time to play stupid games with you." "Just tell me where the hell dad is." I put my hand up and raise her off the floor putting pressure on her neck but not cutting off her air supply yet. "Don't pretend you don't know." "You killed him because you're in love with that bch." She acts like she is shocked by my words. "Father is dead" she manages to croak out like a question. She even manages to produce a few tears. "Don't pretend like you give a fk since it's because of you." "Terrance, please I would never hurt father." "You're a liar and when I have them prove it with truth serum I'll kill you myself." I wave my hand binding her powers. It won't hold her forever but long enough for them to prove what she has done. I teleport us and throw her into the cells. Once it locks, she rushes forward. "Terrance please, I didn't." I wave and take her ability to speak. I walk back over till I'm standing in front of the cell. "You will not speak my name again you traitorous bch." "Enjoy your last moments alive, because when the truth serum brings out the truth, I will make sure you don't take another breath." I head back to the office to wait until they are ready to administer the truth serum and Megan will be first. Lake POV

After the sun rises, we are joined by Archer, Sabrina, Atticus, and Monica in the hospital room. After we tell them all that happened with Jonathon and the only way to help him we make a plan of attack against the coven. "We will all stand with you, Tabby, and heal

Johnathon" Archer says. "Tabby this soul spell how long, do the effects usually take to be complete." "It depends on the strength of the warlock and as much as I hate to admit it both Terrance and Brice are strong." "I would say two to three days based on what I remember of them." "That's good because I'm sure they are cowards and will want you at your weakest." "If Jonathon was gone inside himself you would be the most vulnerable." "It would be equivalent to losing him completely." She nods because I'm sure she has already realized their plan. "That means that the sooner we attack the better."

"I think we should attack tonight" Serina says. I see the concern on Sabrina's face. Serina must see it too. She stands walking over to her mother. "I know your worried but I need to be there for Tabby mom." "Ruby and I are special and powerful." "I know you do but it doesn't mean I won't worry." I smile as I watch my mate go to sit next to her mother. They all hug and I love my family and how we protect each other. When we finish, we leave Tabby to rest. Serina and Sabrina stay to watch over her and Johnathon. The rest of us head back to the pack house. I hold Gabriella close to me as we walk up the path. I can't imagine how Tabby is feeling right now. I would be losing my mind if this had happened to Gabriella. As we walk a noise draws our attention. I push Gabriella behind me. Archer and Atticus must have heard it too, because we are all facing the woods. "Show yourself now" I growl out.
