Fated Human Alpha Chapter 51

Gabriella

POV

"Jocelyn, I know that you have no reason to trust us, but I promise if you do, you and your pups will be safe." "How can you promise that to me." "I'm a stranger to you and your pack?" "My very presence here is putting your pack at risk." "As I told you despite the fact this is a wolf pack we have many members who are not wolves." "I know your human in a wolf pack but that is a far cry from other super naturals." "I mean no disrespect Alpha Gabriella, but as you know my pups are part vampire and this is a wolf pack." "Wolves aren't exactly huge fans of vampires." I smile "I understand why you think that but if this pack was like others, I'm sure I wouldn't be an Alpha as a human." I see the moment she realizes how true what I just said is. "Can you give us a chance to show you that you will be accepted by this pack?" She nods but I can still see the apprehension on her face. We need to find out what coven was involved in this. Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I link "Lake can you give me a moment to speak to her with Serina alone." "She might not be comfortable telling us what happened in front of you." "Of course, love." "I'm going to go find Harris." "I think meeting him will help her see that we will accept her pups." "That's brilliant, thank you Lake" I say and cut the link. "I'll be back in a moment" Lake says and kisses my cheek before he leaves the room. When I look back at Jocelyn, she looks confused and concerned. "I asked him to step out while Serina and I speak with you about what you have been through." "I understand if you're not ready to share everything that happened but we need to know who these baards are to protect you, your pups, and the pack." She nods and takes a deep breath. Jocelyn POV

"Jocelyn, I know how scared you are to trust but I feel these people are being sincere" Emery says. "We need a safe place for us and the pups." I know she's right and I hope to the goddess she's right. "I was once part of a pack." "My parents were both omegas." "My mother worked in the pack kitchen and my father tended to the grounds around the pack house." "Did the vampires attack your pack" Serina asks. "I wish I knew what happened." "My sister and I shared a room in our cottage." "Brooke was eighteen and I was seventeen at the time." "The day it all happened Brooke told me she had found her mate but she wanted to wait for him to accept her before she told me and my parents who he was." "I was so happy for her and when we went to bed that night she went on and on about how handsome and kind he was." "We finally fell asleep and when we woke up we were in what looked like a dungeon." "Thankfully we were locked in the same cell."

Flashback POV

I open my eyes and nothing around me is familiar. The walls are cinderblock and I'm lying on something that is very uncomfortable. I can feel the panic rise in my body. My first thought is, where the hell am I? My second thought is, where is Brooke? I sit up and realize she is lying on a cot across the room. Her eyes are closed and I pray to the goddess that she is just asleep. I walk toward her and lay my hand on the warm skin of her arm. I shake her slightly, "Brooke, please wake up." After a few seconds her eyes fly open, "what's wrong, Jocelyn?" "Brooke, look around us", I say motioning to our surroundings. She sits up and grabs my hand. "Where the hell are we?" "I have no idea Brooke, I just woke up a few seconds ago." "The last thing I remember is going to sleep in our room. She walks over to the door of the cell and starts to yell. "Brooke, what the hell are you doing" I say as I come to stand next to her. "Trying to find out why the hell were here." A few seconds later we hear a door open and the sound of footsteps. I take Brooke's arm and pull her back from the cell door, trying to put distance between us and whoever is coming.

Two men come to stand in front of the cell. They are well built and definitely not wolves. "Welcome ladies, I hope you slept well" the blonde-haired man says. "Why are we here" Brooke says with venom in her voice and they both chuckle. "It seems you are feisty, I like that" he says looking at Brooke. "I don't know why we're here but my mate is an Alpha and he is going to have your aes for taking his future Luna." I can't believe what I'm hearing. She is mated to the Alpha of our pack. They both laugh like she just told the funniest joke they have ever heard. "That's funny because he's the reason you're here." I see hurt flash across my sister's face and my heart breaks a little. "If you think I would believe two leeches, you're crazy." "My mate would not do this." The vampire starts to look to Brooke's neck. "I see no mark and if I remember correctly, you mutts mark the moment you find each other." Her hand goes to her marking spot before she looks back at the baard. "Don't pretend you know our kind leech." "Be careful pet I would hate to have to punish you already." I can tell Brooke wants to say more but I plead with her to stay quiet. "See be a good girl like your little sister Brooke" the brunette man says. "Now as of today you two will be pets and used as I see fit." "So, any hopes you had for your lives and your futures is over because you belong to me now." "We belong to no one" Brooke yells at the man. I tighten my grip on her as the cell door opens and he walks toward her.

Brooke pushes me behind her and before I can pull her away, he has her by the throat. "Now pet, I warned you once, so now you must be punished." I start to scream as he drags her out of the cell. The other man closes the cell door so I can't follow. "Please she didn't mean it." "Don't hurt her" I plead, but neither man responds as they take her down the hall. I can't believe this is happening. Yesterday we were happy living in our pack with our parents. Now we are in a cell being held by vampires. I sit on the cot pulling my legs up to my chest as I listen to my sister's screams. I pray to the goddess to save us from this place and these men.

End Flashback

Jocelyn POV

"He was never able to break Brooke." "She fought every day despite me begging her to stop." "One night after he found out she lost the pup and she refused to lay with him he took her for punishment and never brought her back." "When I asked where my sister was, he just laughed." "I know she is in a better place but I miss her every day." "Over the two years I was there they took a few more girls but they didn't keep them long." "They kept getting the she-wolves pregnant but none seemed to be able to carry the pups to term." "I myself lost a one before I got pregnant with the twins." "This time my pups survived." "As they grew and started move, I knew I had to get out of there for them." "I always listened and the guards came to trust that I would be the good little girl they thought I was." "When I saw my opportunity, I took it." "Jocelyn what coven took you from your pack?" I take a deep breath and say the name of the hell I have lived in for the last two years. The hell that took my sister from me. "It's the Black Blood coven." "I have no idea how far I ran or how to find it again." "It's ok, we will figure that out." "Your safe now and that is what matters" Serina says.

Gabriella POV

Lake links me that he is outside with Harris and Willow. "Jocelyn, Lake has brought one of our pack members to meet you." "Are you up for that?" "Yes, I am but why would they want to meet me?" "I promise it will make sense in a minute." Lake opens the door and walks in followed by Willow and Harris. She gasps the minute she catches the scent that Harris is a vampire. "I don't understand" she whispers. "Jocelyn, this is my Aunt Willow and my Uncle Harris." "Your mates" she says it like a question. "Yes, we are, fated by the goddess herself" Harris says. "Harris has been a pack member since I was a child." "He is not only a pack member but a part of our family." "I have a cousin who is a werempire." I can see the surprise on her face. "I don't know what you have been through but this pack is special and they care about your character not your kind." I smile when my uncle says that because truer words were never spoken. She smiles and this time it reaches her eyes. "Once you're feeling better I'll introduce you to Tabby" I say. "Is she a vampire too," Jocelyn asks. "Nope, a witch", Harris says like he just told a big secret. My aunt slaps his arm for answering before I could. "She is a witch and a member of our pack." "I can't believe your pack has accepted all these different super naturals." "As I said, we are unique and if you are willing to accept our help you will have a place her with your pups." "Thank you, I just hope you don't regret it." I put my hand on hers. "We won't but the evil men that hurt you will."

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 52

Nicholas POV

After we arrive at the pack we say our goodbyes to our fathers. "Nicholas, I'm proud of you for wanting to do this training even though I told you didn't need to" my dad says as he wraps me in a hug. "You are going to be the best Beta the Scarlett Rose has ever had." "Thank you dad, I don't think that's possible but I will do my best to make you proud." "I'm already proud of you and the man you have become." He heads over to hug John and James as Archer walks toward me. He wraps me in a hug. "You have become a man any pack would be lucky to have as Beta. I'm glad it will be ours. Don't forget to call home and let us know how its going." "I will Archer, thank you for all your support." He pulls back and nods. We head toward the gate and a large group of people are waiting. A man who looks like a warrior addresses the crowd. "Welcome to the Black Mountain pack Betas." "Gamma Connor will show you all to the pack house so you can get settled" he says pointing to another gentleman. Once we reach the pack house there are a group of omegas waiting for us. They begin to show us to our rooms. Ours is on the second floor of the huge pack house. We are shown to a room that has three beds and a bathroom. James, John, and I will share this room while we are here. Even though it's nothing like the pack house at home its comfortable and has everything we will need. Sernia POV

After everyone left I stayed with Joeclyn. Ruby and I feel very protective of her. I feel like she is important to the pack but I don't know why. "I don't know either but I'm sure we will know soon" Ruby says. The sun is just starting to peak through the window and I start to stretch. "Serina" Jocelyn saying my name brings me out of my thoughts. "You can't be sleeping well on that couch. I promise you that I'm good if you want to sleep in your own bed tonight." "I'm fine and besides until we figure out exactly where the coven is located and if they know where you are, you need protection. You haven't become part of the pack yet and have no way to let us know if you're in trouble." She smiles "your sweet and I can't thank you and Ruby enough for rescuing me." She lays her hands on her belly rubbing them in circles. I think about Gabby with three pups growing and picture her with a swollen belly. I'm excited to meet my nephews or nieces. "Do you want to feel the pups moving?" I stand walking over to the bed. She takes my hand laying it against her belly. A few seconds later I feel movement under my hand. I smile "it's amazing to feel them move." "I know the first time it scared the hell out of me but now I love to feel them moving. Although sometimes it feels like they are playing kick ball with my bladder." I chuckle "that doesn't sound like fun."

"It isn't and speaking of my bladder I really need to pee right now." I help her to get out of the bed and to the bathroom. I'm thankful to see most of her visible injuries are healed are her face and arms. Once she is safely in the bathroom I close the door and sit in a chair. "Serina" she calls and I immediately jump up thinking something is wrong. "Are you alright" I ask as I open the door. "Yes I'm fine, I was just wondering if maybe I could get some clothes for after I'm done in the shower." "Of course" I say and link Gabby. I hear the shower turn on and ten minutes later Gabby arrives with a sun dress and undergarments. "Jocelyn I have your clothes" I say as I open the door. I gasp and she turns so I can no longer see her back. I set the clothes down on the chair "I'm sorry" I say closing the door. When I turn to Gabby she must see my face because she has a look of concern on hers. I link her so Jocelyn can't hear me. "The scars are the front of her body are nothing compared to her back, bt, and legs." As I finish my sentence the door opens and Jocelyn walks out with her head down. I turn "I'm sorry" I start to say again but she stops me. "You have nothing to be sorry for. You didn't do this to me and believe me I know how horrible it looks. It's good I'm having pups because no mate is ever going to want me with a body that looks like this."

"Bullsh*t" Gabby says harshly. Both heads snap to her. "Any mate that cares about your scars is not worthy of you. You are beautiful and the scars don't change that." "I appreciate you saying that but men are visual creatures and I'm sure they would rather have a mate with perfect skin. Besides once they find out I'm not pure and have hybrid pups they won't want me anyway." "Jocelyn I know you feel that way right now but I have a feeling your going to be wrong." "I hope your right Serina but for now I'm just going to concentrate on taking care of my pups and being the best mother." A knock sounding on the door interrupts the conversation. "Hello Alphas and Jocelyn" the doctor says as he walks in the room. "You look much better. How about we get you and the pups checked out and maybe we can get you out of here today." "That would be great" she says but then her face falls. I have a feeling she is wondering where she goes after she leaves the hospital. I link Gabby "I would like for her to stay with us in the pack house." Gabby smiles at me and nods. "Well I see no reason you can't go home today" he says and leaves the room.

"Jocelyn we would like you to stay in the pack house." The look of shock on her face is comical. "I'm not even a pack member, I don't expect you to." I raise my hand to stop her. "You are not a pack member yet and we would like you to stay close until we find out more details about the coven and your former pack." She looks between me and Gabby. "I can never thank you two enough for all your doing for me and my pups." "No thanks is necessary." "The goddess brought you to our pack for a reason and it is our pleasure to be her for you." Jocelyn POV

When they invite me to stay at the pack house this all feels like more of a dream. I'm afraid I'm going to wake up back in that horrible cell with Drayce leaning over me. I push thoughts of him from my mind. "I told you to trust them. I believe their right that the goddess led us here. No other pack would offer us all of this. They would have let us rot out there in the woods thinking we were rogue" Emery says and I know she's right. Most packs don't help wolves that don't belong to their pack. "Are you going to be ok to make it to the pack house or do I need to make other arrangements" Gabby asks and I look at her confused. A few seconds later a woman appears and it scares the sh*t out of me. "Hi I'm Tabby" she says sticking her hand out in my direction. This is the witch that is part of the pack that they had mentioned earlier. "Hi, I'm Jocelyn it's very nice to meet you." I stick my hand out expecting to shake but instead she wraps me in a hug. I stiffen before I relax hugging her back. Before I know what's happening we are standing inside a different building. This one is definitely a pack house. When she pulls back she smiles. "Welcome to the Scarlett Rose Pack house." "Thank you" I say. A few seconds later Serina and Gabby walk in. "You could have at least warned her Tabby" Serina scolds her and I chuckle. This young girl is so strong and she speaks her mind. I wish I was more like her.

Tabby rolls her eyes. "Well I have to get back to my mate but I promise we can talk more later Jocelyn. You can tell me what to expect" she says as she lays her hands on her flat belly. I smile knowing that I won't be the only one with pups. "I'm sure that Gabby will be happy to know what to expect too" she says before she disappears. I look to Gabby "you're having a pup too." "I am having pups." "Pups, your having twins too that's awesome." She holds up her hand showing me three fingers. "Oh my goddess, I thought I was in trouble." Serina laughs out loud and Gabby smiles. I love that my pups are going to be surrounded by pups that are around their age. Thoughts of Drayce finding us starts to creep in and the happiness I felt for a few minutes is gone again. "Jocelyn, you are safe here" Serina says. "It's hard not to worry." "We know it is but try for your pups" Gabby says and they lead me up a set a stairs. They lead me down a hall and when Serina opens the door I can't believe the room. It's beautiful with a huge bed and a sitting area. The tv is huge and I feel overwhelmed after what I've been living in. "We will set up two bassinets in this corner and we can go shopping for some baby provisions so your ready when they arrive" Gabby says. I feel such warmth in my chest after everything they have done and I say a prayer of thanks to the goddess for leading me here. "First though I think its time to make you part of the pack" Gabby says and Serina nods. I'm going to be part of a pack again.

Two Days Later Nicholas POV

I expected we would be staying in the pack itself but I was wrong. We haven't really seen the pack or how big it is. The trainees are kept in a separate pack house near the southern border away from the Black Mountain pack members. The Beta and Gamma of the pack physically train us twice a day besides holding classes on Beta duties. I miss my family already but I will stick it out so I can be the best Beta to our pack. We have no real contact with the pack and we have not really spent time with the other trainees yet. "Nick are you ready to go get something to eat before training" John asks me. "I'm ready lets go" I say and we head down to the dining hall. When we walk in the room is already crowded. We grab trays loading them with food. There aren't any open table but I notice two that have three open seats. Both are a mix of men and women. I start toward the table closest to us and as I approach the two women smile. I have no desire to deal with she-wolves so I keep walking to the second table. The two men and one woman look up as I approach. "Do you mind if we join you" I ask. "No we don't, have a seat" the blonde man answers. John, James, and I take a seat across from them. SEARCH THE WEBSITE TO ACCESS CHAPTERS OF NOVELS EARLY AND IN THE HIGHEST QUALITY.

"Thank you, I'm Nicholas Crown one of the future Beta's of the Scarlett Rose Pack."
"One of them" the woman says and I chuckle. "Yes, John and James will also be Beta's of the pack." "Wow, how big is your pack that you have three Beta's." I explain the joining of our two packs and that seems to satisfy their curiosity. "My name is Nole I'm future Beta of the Black Moon Pack." "This is Charles future Beta of the Red Crown Pack and Liza future Beta of the Stone Wall Pack." "It's nice to meet you all." We eat in comfortable silence before we all head to the training field. The field is huge and their are warriros waiting when we arrive. "We hope you have all settled in and are ready to work" Beta Thomas says. This is our first day to train with him since we arrived two days ago. "This is not going to be fun but I promise that you will leave here with the knowledge it takes to be the best Beta to your pack." "As you know we will train in the morning, have class in the afternoon, and train again before sunset." "Gamma Connor and myself will both providing your training every day without exception." "Yes Beta" we all say in unison. "Since most of you don't have your wolf yet we will start the training with a focus on your human form." "Now let's get started with a five mile run." He takes off and we all follow. As I run the boys fall behind me. I notice one of the girls from earlier starts to run along side of me. "Hi" she says and I want to roll my eyes but I don't. I'm not trying to be disrespectful to another Beta. She wants to try to talk now. "Hi" I say before I take off leaving her behind. I am here to train and nothing else. The only woman I have any interest in is my fated mate.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 53

Gabriella

POV

I link Lake to meet us in the office. Serina and I lead Jocelyn to the Alpha office where Lake is waiting. "Did you ladies get everything situated?" Goddess, I love this man. He didn't bat an eyelash when I told him that Serina wanted Jocelyn to stay in the pack house. "Yes, we did" I say and lean in to kiss him softly. When he pulls back, he hands me the chalice and the dagger. I poke the tip of my finger, allowing my blood to flow into the chalice. Lake hands me a band-aid and takes the dagger from me. He cuts his finger, allowing his blood to mix with mine. He hands the cup to Jocelyn. "Jocelyn what is your full name?" She smiles "my full name is Jocelyn Marie Curtis." I nod "As Alpha of the Scarlett Rose pack, I, Alpha Gabriella Solace extend an invitation to you, Jocelyn Marie Curtis, to join the pack." I turn to Lake. "As Alpha of the Scarlett Rose Pack, I, Alpha Lake Solace extend an invitation to you, Jocelyn Marie Curtis, to join the pack." "Please make your vow to the pack and drink to complete the bonding." "I, Jocelyn Marie Curtis, vow my loyalty to the Scarlett Rose pack. I will be loyal to my Alphas Lake, Gabriella, and Serina." I smile at her including my sister. "I will keep all the pack secrets and will always do my best to keep the pack members safe." She drinks from the chalice and I can feel the bond to her immediately. "Welcome to the Scarlett Rose Pack, Jocelyn." "Thank you, all so much." She hugs me and Serina before she shakes Lake's hand. Drayce POV

They still have found no trace of Jocelyn and I'm ready to lose my sh*t. She will be ready to deliver over the next few weeks. If anything happens to my children, she will pray for death when I find her. The door to my office opens and I expect it to be West, but it's not. "Adrian, I have no time for you today." "Oh, dear brother, I take that to mean your worthless men still haven't found your pet." I tighten my fists at my side. She is so lucky she is my sister or I would snap her neck right now. "You fked everything up not that long ago or I would still have her sister. She would never have run if that bch was still alive." She laughs and I rush forward, slamming her against the wall. "You blame me because you lost your cool and I cleaned up the mess, that's funny." "I would not continue to test me Adrian or I will punish you. Just because I won't kill you doesn't mean I won't put you in your place." I see a flash of fear but it's gone, as quickly as it came. I release her and step back composing myself. "Now make yourself useful and summon Prudence. I'm growing impatient waiting and I want her found before she gives birth." "You know that her help is not free. She is an evil bch who will ask more than she gives." "I'm well aware of that dear sister but finding my children is worth the cost." She rolls her eyes. "You care nothing for the children growing in Jocelyn's body. All you care about is the power it brings to have hybrids in the coven." I smile, she knows me so well.

That pathetic Alpha gave me the perfect way to create my hybrid children when he offered me those two girls. Their parents were omegas and the Alpha knew no one would look for them. "I will have nothing to do with summoning that witch for you", Adrian's words, bringing me back to the moment. "Fine, I'll take care of it myself. Since I know you're not here to help the situation, what do you want?" "I will be leaving the coven for three days." "Would you like to tell me where the hell you're going for three days." "Not really, last time I checked I'm grown and you are not my keeper. You're lucky I'm even telling you I'm leaving." "I am the leader of this coven and you would do well to remember that, Adrian. You know what, I don't care what you do, but don't call me if you get into any trouble." "I never have Drayce and I never will. She turns leaving my office and a part of me hopes she never returns because she is nothing but a pain in my a. I call for West and a few minutes later there's a knock on the door. "Come in", I say, and West enters my office. I give him a letter closed with my seal. "Take this to Prudence and don't return without her." "Prudence the witch" he says, like a question. "Yes West, now go before I lose my patience." I can see he wants to say more but he knows better. "Take three men with you in case you run into trouble." He turns back and nods before he leaves my office. Adrian POV

I take the longest possible route to the cottage to ensure none of the aholes from the coven follow me. None of them are smart enough to figure it out and my brother could care less about me and what I do. I know he wishes I would never come back and someday he'll get his wish, but right now I need to be there. I thank the goddess every day that my brother has his head so far up his a he doesn't realize I am not loyal. I just pray that she gives him everything he deserves. Once I'm on the porch, I take one last look around before I knock on the door. I had this cottage built in neutral territory and no one but me knows it's here. A few seconds later the door opens and she smiles. "Adrian, it so good to see you." "It hasn't been that long, I'm early." "It feels that way when your alone in this cottage all the time." I hate that she is stuck here but there is no other way to keep her safe anywhere else. "I'm sorry, I didn't mean to make you feel bad after all you have done for me." "Don't you be sorry, I'm sorry for all that has happened." I hear crying and she smiles. "Can I go check on them?" She nods "I'll get something for us to eat and drink while you go see Anna and Henry." I nod and head to the back room. Once I'm inside, I walk over to the first crib. Anna is the one that's crying while her brother is still fast asleep.

"Hey little one, you're going to wake up your brother." I lift her, placing her on my chest. "I missed you." She lays her head down and snuggles into me. I let Henry sleep and I head back out to the kitchen with Anna. I'm sure he will be up soon enough. I plan on taking advantage of my time for the next three days loving these two little ones. I take a seat at the table and she takes Anna to feed her. "So, I know you have come to tell me something because you weren't due for two more weeks." She knows me so well but I hate that she's right. She needs to know everything that has happened. Two Days Later
Serina POV

We are driving in the SUV toward the human city. Jocelyn seems nervous but we would never let anything happen to her. Besides, Lake insisted that warriors go with us when Gabby told him this was a girl's day out. So, the eight men with us aren't really there. The human city is neutral territory and there shouldn't be any issues there. "Our mate will be just as protective some day", Ruby says, and I roll my eyes. We pull into the mall and head inside with the guys, keeping some distance so it doesn't look strange. Jocelyn spots a Baby Depot and practically runs the best she can in its direction. Gabby and I catch up just as reaches the doorway. As Jocelyn looks around, I notice her excitement seems to fade. "What's wrong" I ask her, but before she can answer, Gabby does. "You are part of the pack and we take care of each other." "You worry about getting what you need for your pups." "But" she starts to say but I stop her. "Gabby's right, you will contribute to the pack soon enough and we take care of the pack members." "You and your pups are pack members now." She nods hugging me and then Gabby.

She pulls back smiling and we head toward the baby cribs. After we have everything the pups could need, Gabby heads toward the maternity clothes. "Alpha" she starts to say and Gabby shoots her a look. "Gabby, I appreciate you buying what my pups need, but I can make do with the clothes I have until I can buy more." "I want you to pick out a few things for yourself and I will need to buy some new things for myself" Gabby says. She discretely pulls up her shirt and she has a very prominent bump that wasn't there a few days ago. "Oh, my goddess Gabby" I say and start to jump up and down. "Serina, everyone is looking at us." "I don't care" I say and lay my hand on her belly. "What did Lake say when he saw you this morning?" "He jumped around more than you just did." We all burst out into laughter. I picture my brother-in-law, the big strong Alpha, jumping around like a teenage girl. After we finish picking out maternity clothes for the girls and arrange for the pick of everything we bought, we head back to the SUV. Once we are safely inside, Gabby links Lake to let him know we are on our way back. "Thank you for today." "For a little while I got to forget about everything happened and enjoy being a soon to be mama." I take her hand in mine. "Soon all that will be a bad memory and you'll have more days like today." Nicholas POV

I never really thought I would enjoy this but I am. John and James seem to feel the same. They worried me at one time because they did not take training seriously, but thankfully they really have changed. We have spent a lot of time with Charles, Liza, and Nole during training and meals. Unlike the other girls, Liza is all business, which I appreciate. The other girls have tried to talk to me and the boys but we have managed to turn down their advances diplomatically so as not to cause drama. We are just about to head to our afternoon class when I'm cornered by the girl from the run, Lauren. "Nick, I think your avoiding me." "Lauren, I'm just here to learn and not really socialize." "Why can't you do both" she says as she lays her hand on my chest. I'm just about to tell her to back off when Liza steps between us. "Lauren take a hint and hike." "Fk you Liza" she says and stomps off. Liza turns "thank you, I appreciate the help." "No problem, there is nothing sadder than a desperate girl." "Let's get to class before were late", she says and we make it just in time. We take our seats with the others and I see Lauren pouting next to her friend Tamara.

We finish up with our class and head back to our room before tonight's training. I tell John and James about my run in with Lauren. "Did you ever think that maybe Liza is your mate and she is just protecting what's hers", James says and wiggles his eyebrows. "Don't be ridiculous, none of us have our wolves yet. She was just being nice, that's all." "Why are you getting upset? She is a pretty capable she-wolf", John asks me. I know why I am but I can't say that to him. "I'm not upset, I just know she isn't" They both raise their hands in surrender and I push that idea out of my head. I do not want her or any other she-wolf as my mate. Serina, is the only one I want. I just pray that the goddess agrees.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 54

Serina POV

"Sissy, I'm not feeling well this morning and the men just alerted me they have everything Jocelyn picked out for the pup's downstairs." "Do you think you could help her get everything set up" Gabby asks me through our link. "Of course, can I do anything to help you before I head down to the meet with them?" "No, its nothing some crackers and ginger ale won't help. I'll be over as soon as the morning sickness subsides. I thought maybe I wasn't going to have any, but I guess I'm not that lucky." "Well, if you're not up to it, don't push yourself and I'll be over to check on you when we're done." "Thank you, sissy" she says and cuts the link but not before I hear her wretch. I would be running there right now but I know Lake and I'm sure he is holding her hair. I hope my mate is just like him. I head into my closet to grab clothes. I throw on jeans and a t-shirt before I head downstairs.

As I reach the bottom of the stairs, I hear a voice that I wish I didn't "Who is all this for", Lisa snaps at one of the men. "I don't think that is any of your business", I say as I walk toward them. "Take them up to the room next to mine please" I say pointing to the stairs. "Excuse me" she says with her normal attitude. "You are most certainly excused" I say walking back toward the stairs. "Serina, is everything alright" Jocelyn asks from the top of the stairs. "Yes, everything is fine. They delivered the items for the pups, but let's get something to eat before we tackle putting it together." "All of this is for a fking rogue and her rogue pups." I can feel Ruby at the surface but I manage to keep her under control. I turn back to Lisa and step toward her. "I would suggest, if you don't want to be punished, you hold your tongue and be respectful." "You're not Alpha yet, Serina," she says placing her hands on her hips. "You're absolutely right, but I bet when I tell the Alphas how you're treating a new pack member they will be happy to give you your punishment." I see fear and shock flash across her face before she stomps off. I turn back and Jocelyn is gone. Goddess she is an ahole.

I head up the stairs and find her sitting on a chair in her room. The men bring in box after box, stacking them up. When the last one walks out, I close the door behind him. I take a seat next to her. "Jocelyn, please don't let the words of a jealous mean girl hurt you." "She isn't wrong, up until yesterday", she starts to say, and I stop her. "No, she is absolutely wrong. You are not a rogue, but if you were, you are a far better person than she will ever be." She smiles but it doesn't reach her eyes. I take her hand in mine. "She is a mean girl, plain and simple. You are part of this pack now and your important to all of us." This time the smile reaches her eyes and I can see unshed tears. She manages to keep them from falling. "Now, let's go get breakfast and then get to work setting up the pups stuff." "Alright, I am hungry but let me pee again" she says with a chuckle. When she is done in the bathroom, we head down to the dining hall. Jocelyn

I hate that I let that girl upset me. As an omega, I'm used to mean girls and being looked down upon. I know in my heart that it says more about them as a person than it does about me. My mother and father made sure that Brooke and I both knew that our rank didn't make us any less than others. I miss my parents. Thinking about the pack and my parents makes me think about Brooke. I wish she had never been mated to the Alpha. Why couldn't he just reject her instead of handing us over to those baards? She would still be alive and maybe she would have had a second chance mate. I would still have my sister. "Jocelyn" Serina, saying my name brings me out of my thoughts. I smile as she hands me the tray. Everything looks delicious so I grab a little of each thing. I follow

Serina to the table. "Jocelyn, it's so good to see you up and about" Luna Sabrina says. "Thank you, Luna." "No Luna, just Sabrina." I smile and set my tray on the table next to Serina. Before I can say anything to the former Alpha, he smiles "just Archer." "Good morning, Archer."

"How are you and the pups feeling?" "We are good. They are really active as usual." "All my pups were like that but the boys were the worst", Sabrina says with a huge smile on her face. We start to eat when I notice the girl from earlier come into the dining room. Serina must notice her too because her smile is gone. "What's wrong, Serina", Archer asks. "Lisa was rude and mean to Jocelyn earlier." "It's alright, I'm fine Serina." "I'm not going to let a mean girl make me feel bad." She smiles at my choice of words. We finish eating breakfast before we head back up to my room. It's so weird to say my room. It takes us a few hours to put everything together. I take a few breaks but Serina is amazing and pushes through. The bassinets and changing table look perfect in the corner of the room. The clothes are all hung up in the closet. After I have the pups, I plan on buying gender specific outfits. I want to be surprised when I give birth. A knock on the door sounds and Gabby pops her head in. "Oh, my goddess you guys got everything done." "We did, how are you feeling?" "Better than I was earlier" Gabby says. "I remember morning sickness, it's no fun." I place my hands on my belly rubbing in circles. "How are you feeling" she asks me. "Good, I'm getting a little nervous but I'm good." I'm so happy that my pups are going to be born surrounded by all these amazing people. Drayce POV

A knock sounds on the door and West walks in, followed by Prudence. West says nothing and leaves the office. "Prudence, I'm glad to see you took me up on my offer." "I haven't yet, but I'm intrigued to hear exactly what you want and what your willing to pay." I wave my hand offering her a seat in front of my desk. She hesitates but then takes a seat. "So what exactly do you want from me Drayce?" "I need to locate my pet and my children that are growing inside her." "Hybrids I assume" she says. "Yes, half wolf and half vampire." She smiles "if I agree to help you locate her what do I get out of the deal?" "What is it that you want Prudence?" She thinks for moment before she finally answers me. "You said the word children, didn't you?" "Yes I did." "I want one of them as payment." "What do you want them for?" "That is none of your concern." "You are asking me to give you one of my children, I think I have the right to know what for." "Please don't act like you care about these children as a father. They are something to make your coven stronger. So, make your choice because I've told you my price." Fk, one is better than none. "Fine, just locate them."

"I will need something of hers to use for the location spell." I take my phone out of my pocket and place it to my ear. "West bring me something of Jocelyn's from her cell now." A few minutes later, he walks in with some clothing that still smells of her. He hands it to Prudence before he leaves the office again. "Take me some place quiet so I can start the location spell", Prudence says. I show her to an office two doors down from mine. "This will take time so do not rush me or interrupt me." I nod and head back to my office. Once I'm inside, the phone rings on my desk. I put it to my ear. "Why is your coven members in my territory?" "What the hell are you talking about?" "I had two pack members that were drained and I want to know what the fk your thinking after the deal we made." "None of my coven has been back to your pack since I took those two girls off your hands." "So, some random vampires are attacking my pack." "Honestly, I have no idea who is attacking your pack and I don't really care." I slam the phone down. "West come to my office." A few minutes later the door opens and West rushes inside. "What's wrong, where is the witch?" "Calm down, this has nothing to do with her. I just got a call from that ahole Alpha about his pack members being attacked by vampires." "None of the coven would do that without orders." "I know that, so find out who it was." He nods and leaves my office.

Gabriella POV

After I left Jocelyn's room, I head to the office to check on Lake. After he left me, he was going to work on some paper work in the office. When I walk in, he looks up smiling. I walk over and he pulls me onto his lap. He places his hands on my belly and begins talking to our pups. "How are you feeling love?" "Much better than earlier." "I wanted to talk about a couple things if you have a minute." "Of course, I do." "I thought since Serina has her wolf, we could reach out to Elder James about having her ceremony. I think she is ready to take her title." "Do you want to talk to her first and make sure she agrees?" "Yes, I do, but I wanted to talk to you before I brought it up to her." "I agree completely that your sister is ready to become Alpha. What's the second thing?" "After Jocelyn has her pups, I would like to go to her pack and speak with the Alpha about what happened to the girls." I can see concern on his face. "I think that Jocelyn deserves answers after losing her sister." "The Alpha may not welcome us into his pack but I agree with at least trying love." I wrap my arms around him. "Thank you, for always listening and treating me as an equal." "That's because you are my equal love."

"Sissy, can you come to the office for a minute and bring Jocelyn?" "Absolutely, we are on our way." A few minutes later, they come in and take a seat. "What's up, is something wrong" Serina asks. "No, Lake and I just wanted to talk about your Alpha ceremony." She looks shocked by what I said. "I assumed that would happen when I turned eighteen." "We don't think it's necessary to wait and you deserve to have the title now." She smiles before she comes around hugging us both. "I'm ready and so is Ruby." "Jocelyn after you have the pups we were wondering if you wanted to go with us to speak to the Alpha of the pack about what happened to you and your sister." I see fear and anger flash across her face. "You don't have to come if you don't feel comfortable but we can't let him get away with what he has done." "No, I need to go and face the man that is responsible for taking Brooke from me."

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 55

Alpha Jayden POV

The door opens and my father walks in with a look of concern on his face. I'm sure it's about the vampire attacks on the pack. I told him long ago associating with that coven was not a good idea, but he wouldn't listen. He cared more about having them as allies than the caliber of people they were. I will kill every one of them if I find out they have killed my pack members. I have nothing against their kind but I never liked that baard Drayce when my father used to meet with him. "Jayden, Drayce assured me that his coven had nothing to do with the attack." "Honestly father, I believe nothing he says. Those two guards were taken down by something powerful and angry." "I understand that Jayden, but that doesn't mean the coven had anything to do with it. I have been dealing with Drayce for years before you took over as Alpha and I believe him if he says they didn't attack the pack." "You can believe what you want of him but I want nothing to do with that coven father." "Jayden" he starts to say and I stop him. "I am the Alpha of the pack now father and it is my decision." He hates that I am not his puppet as he wished I would have been. "My warriors have orders to kill any vampire that comes into the territory without permission."

A knock sounds on the door. "Come in", I call out and when the door opens, I wish I was anywhere but here. I can't deal with her right now. "Rian, I don't have time right now to speak with you." "Jayden" my father says my name sternly. I whip my head in his direction. "Do not speak to your future Luna that way." I stand slamming my hands down on my desk. "She is not my future Luna." "My Luna is gone and until she returns, this pack will have no Luna." "Jayden please" she pleads and I storm past her. I turn back, "I will say this one last time to you Rian, you are not my mate and you will never be." I push the door open rushing down the stairs and out of the pack house. As soon as I'm outside, I strip and shift into Storm. His anger is overwhelming me and we need to calm down. As we run through the trees, I think about Brooke. I should have accepted our bond that day we realized we were mates instead of waiting to tell my father first. I could've linked her and talked her out of leaving. Storm whines as we think about our mate. We will never mate with someone else. I would rather be alone than betray her. As we approach the eastern border, I run into the patrol guard. He bares his neck at me before he shifts. I do the same. "Alpha, is everything alright? Is the vampire back again?" "You say that like you saw the vampire." He looks confused "I did Alpha." Now I'm pissed. Why am I just learning this? "Why wasn't I told what you saw?" "I'm sorry Alpha, I spoke with your father and he said he would handle it." "Did he now?" "Yes Alpha" he says. I can see he is afraid he is in trouble. "You did nothing wrong, but next time something happens in the pack you speak with me or Beta Andrew." "Yes Alpha" he says and seems to relax. "Can you tell me exactly what you saw the night of the attack?" He nods "I was patrolling and as I approached the eastern border, I heard screaming. I ran as fast as I could but by the time I got there, she was already starting to cross the border." "She, the vampire, was a woman that took out the two guards. Are you sure she was the only vampire here?" "Yes, Alpha, I'm sure. The only thing that was strange was I smelled vampire and wolf, but never saw the wolf." "That is strange. Alright, you can get back to patrol and if you see anything I want to be told immediately." "Yes Alpha" he says before he shifts and takes off. "I don't like this Jayden", Storm says. "I don't like it either, Storm. I think we need to have a talk with father again. He is going to learn he is no longer the Alpha if it kills me." We shift and take off back toward the pack house to find him. Drayce POV

The door opens and Adrian walks in. "What the hell do you want Drayce?" I roll my eyes. "Did you have a nice trip?" "I know you didn't call me here to discuss my trip, so what do you want?" "Actually, I did. It seems that a vampire bled two wolves in Alpha Joseph's pack." She remains calm and there is no change in her heart rate but that means nothing. Adrian is cut from the same cloth as me and has learned to control her fear. "Again, what does that have to do with me?" "Don't play with me Adrian, did you bleed those two wolves?" "No, I didn't." "Then answer my question, where were you?" "I think I made it clear where I go is not your business. I told you I wasn't anywhere near that fking disgusting pack." "Don't let me find out that you have lied to me, Adrian, because there will be consequences." She rolls her eyes before she turns leaving my office. If she leaves the coven again she will be followed. Goddess, she is a pain in my a*s. "Who is a pain in your a?" I look up to see Prudence walking into my office. "My sister is definitely a pain in my a. I hope you coming into my office means that the location spell is done." "It does, but you're not going to be happy when I tell you where she is." "Prudence, I am not in the mood for a guessing game, so just tell me." "She is in the Scarlett Rose Pack." "I have heard the name, but why would that upset me? I'm not afraid of wolves." She laughs "obviously you don't know anything about the biggest and most powerful pack in our region." "I only deal with one wolf pack and honestly I'm not afraid of the size of a pack. We have our ways to deal with them." "Do you have your ways to deal with the most powerful light witch I've ever seen?" "What the fk are you talking about? "Witches don't live with wolves." "Tabitha Crane is mated to a wolf in that pack and she is not someone to be trifled with." "Prudence, I can't believe what I'm hearing. You're afraid of a goody two shoes light witch." I feel like I can't breathe. "I'm afraid of no one but I'm also not stupid enough to put myself at risk." I grasp at my throat even though there is nothing there to grab. She finally let's go and I drag air into my lungs trying to catch my breath. "Never speak to me that way again, Drayce, or next time I won't be so nice." "Fine, I apologize if I upset you, but I believe you are a strong witch. I'm sure that this light witch is no match for you."

"You're trying to flatter me to do your bidding. I'm not a woman who can be manipulated by the likes of you." "We both have something to gain by getting Jocelyn back, Prudence. All I'm asking is for you to think about what you're losing if you don't help me. You want that hybrid as much as I do. You won't get your payment if we don't get her back." I see the anger flash across her face. "I am not saying yes to this until I do my research about the pack and Tabitha. I know the basics but I will not about to risk my life for any payment. I will let you know if I decide to get involved in any of this." "When can I expect your answer?" "When I give it to you" she says, before she is gone. I flip my desk and scream. What the f? How did she make it to that pack? It has to be far enough away that I am not familiar with it. The door flies open and West rushes in, looking around. "Are you alright" he asks. "I'm fg fabulous." "Sit down, we have a lot to discuss." Nicholas POV

We just finished our run and we are heading back to the pack house to shower before our class. I head into the shower first. As the water runs over my body, I start to feel hot. A heat like I've never known. I feel like my blood is boiling inside my body. My skin is prickling like a million tiny needles are being stuck in my skin. I scream and the boys come rushing in. "What the hell is wrong with you" James asks. "I don't know", I manage grunt out. The pain knocks me off my feet. When I look up, Liz has come into the bathroom. "Get out, you can't be in here." "Oh, Nick, shut up. You're not the first naked man I've seen." "Not the point, you're not my mate, now get out." She rolls her eyes and turns to leave. "By the way, if you want to know what's happening, you're going through your first shift." "Holy st, your getting you're wolf early" John says. "Thanks for that captain obvious. How about helping me outside before I shift in here?" They help me wrap the towel around myself and help me outside. I'm getting looks from men and women as we head into the pack yard.

I have never felt anything like this. The pain is unbearable. "Hello Nicholas" I hear a distant voice. I try to focus on that voice. "Are you, my wolf?" He chuckles "well I'm a wolf, that's for sure. My name is Ezra and yes, I'm your wolf. I need you to listen and not fight me, Nicholas." "Alright, I won't fight." "Take some deep breaths and let me take over." I do what my wolf says and breathe deep several times. "We are here with you Nicholas", I hear James say even though he sounds far away. I'm glad they are here even though they can't take away this pain. "Nicholas, we are going to shift, remember what I said about not fighting me." "I'm ready" I say. The pain seems to worsen and I feel like every bone in my body is breaking at the same time. I can hear the cracking and I do my best not to fight it. It feels like it lasts forever. Suddenly there is peace and I can hear everything. The smallest noise is amplified and I can see farther than I have ever seen before. "Oh, my goddess Nicholas, your wolf is awesome", John says. I look down and my paws are a silver color that looks like silk. "You ready to try this, Nicholas" Ezra asks. "Hell yes, I am." He takes off and I have never felt anything like it before.

As we run, I can feel the wind rushing past me and I feel whole. "Ezra, how did this happen already?" "You'll understand soon but know the goddess does everything for a reason. You all have free will and choice, but make no mistake, the goddess helps you along if your heart is pure." He goes quiet and I don't ask any more questions. I trust the goddess and I'm thrilled to have Ezra. We come to a running stream and he bends to drink. For the first time, I see him in all his glory. He is magnificent. Silver fur with emerald green eyes. "Your awesome Ezra." "No, we are awesome Nicholas." Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 56

Nicholas POV

After we run for a while, we head back toward the pack house. We are just inside the trees when we stop. "Ezra, how do I shift back?" "Think about yourself with human arms, legs, and body." I do as he instructs and picture myself in my mind. I feel the bones moving but unlike before, what was pain is now just uncomfortable. "Every time we shift it will get better. It will be smooth and effortless with no pain Nicholas." I smile as I look at my human hands in front of my face. I look around hoping there will be shorts near trees just like we have in our pack. I walk toward the tree and thankfully there is a basket full of shorts. I slip a pair on and walk down the path leading to the pack house. "So how was your first shift" a familiar voice asks from behind me. I turn and Liza is standing there with a smirk on her face. "It was awesome actually. I'm sorry about the way I acted earlier when you were trying to help." She waves her hand in my direction. "I understand, that makes you a good guy, that you are saving yourself for your mate. You don't need to apologize for that." "When you said earlier about me not being the first naked man, is that because" she shoots me a glare.

"I'm sorry I shouldn't ask that, it's none of my business." "No, you shouldn't have, but no, I've never been with a man. I'm saving myself for my mate too." I'm sure she sees the confusion on my face. "Nick, I live in a wolf pack. The men aren't exactly shy about being naked when they are shifting." I laugh "that is very true." "Thank you for trying to help me even though I didn't let you." "You're welcome" she says. "Now tell me exactly how it felt because soon it will be my turn. My birthday is in a week and I'll be eighteen." We take a seat on the patio chairs. "It was amazing and Ezra is magnificent." "Your wolf's name is Ezra, that's unique." "It is and it matches him. His fur is silver and his eyes are emerald green." "He does sound pretty awesome. I hope at some point we will get to train in wolf form." "I'm sure we will." The door opens and Lauren walks out. I have no desire to deal with her and have her ruin my night.

"Nick, I heard you got your wolf tonight" she says as she struts toward me. "Yes I did actually." "Can I meet him" she says. "Could you act anymore, desperate Lauren" Liz asks. "Excuse me" she says and Liz comes to stand in front of her. "You heard me. He has made it clear he isn't interested and you continue to push yourself at him. Your acting like a pathetic little girl who wants a toy she can't have." I stay quiet but I would like to fist pump at Liz's words, but I sit quietly. "Fk you Liz. Just because you're a lesbian doesn't mean the rest of us are." Before I can stop it, Liz lands one good hit to Lauren's left cheek. She knocks Lauren on her a. I jump up and come to stand next to Liz. "I would suggest, if you don't want to spend a lot of time on the ground while we are here, keep your fking mouth shut and leave Nicholas alone." She gets to her feet eyeballing us both before she heads back into the pack house without a word. Liz turns to me. "Hopefully she gets the message this time." I want to make sure she is alright after what Lauren said seemed to bother her. If she is, there is nothing wrong with who she loves. "You know if you are" she shoots a glare at me. "I appreciate what, you are about to say but don't. There is absolutely nothing wrong if I was a lesbian, but I am not. I just don't throw myself at men like they do, so they assume that means I'm one of the boys."

The door opens and this time it's the twins. They walk toward us. James slaps me on the back. "Your wolf is pretty impressive. How was your first time in wolf form?" Before I can answer, Liz interrupts. "I'll see you later Nick", Liz says as she heads toward the pack house. "Did we interrupt something," John asks. I roll my eyes. "No, Liz was there when I came back from the run. She wanted to know about my first shift and my wolf. Thankfully, she came to my rescue when Lauren came looking for me." "That girl is relentless." "I know, Liz knocked her on her a so hopefully she will stay away this time." They both burst out laughing. "I wish we were here to see that" James says. "Maybe she really is your mate Nick" John says. I don't even acknowledge what he said. "I'm exhausted let's go to bed, we have training early in the morning tomorrow." Thankfully, he doesn't push the subject and we head up to our room. Alpha Jayden POV

The door to my office opens and my father walks in. "You wanted to see me." "Yes, have a seat father." He does and I take deep breath. "I spoke to the patrol guard who saw the vampire that killed my men. Care to tell me why I didn't hear about that immediately." "Jayden don't make a big deal of nothing. I was handling it and I didn't think it was important." "You didn't think it was important to tell me the details of an attack on my pack that resulted in two deaths." I notice the tightness in his jaw and I know he hates that he is no longer Alpha and has to answer to me. "I am the Alpha of this pack father and I need to know everything that happens in the pack lands. Am I clear father?" "Fine, I apologize for not telling you. I will make sure you know everything from now on." "Thank you" I say. "Now that that is settled, can we talk about Rian?" "There is nothing to talk about father. I will never take a chosen mate." "Jayden the omega is gone." I growl "be very careful how you speak about Brooke father." "She is the one who left you, Jayden. You're going to spend the rest of your life pining for a woman who didn't care enough about you to stay and accept your bond." "This is not up for discussion, father. I do not need a Luna and I will not have one unless it's Brooke."

"You are making a mistake, Jayden. Rian is the daughter of a warrior and has been raised to have the Luna role." "Then maybe you should mate her father because I won't be. Your welcome to leave, father, I have work to finish." I can see he wants to say more but thankfully he gets up and leaves. A few minutes later, a knock sounds on the door and I pray it is not Rian. "Come in", I say, and I'm glad to see Andrew. He has a big smile on his face and he takes a seat in front of my desk. "Why do you look like a teenage girl with a secret?" He flips me the bird and I laugh. Andrew and I have been friends forever and he is more like a brother than a friend. He was an easy choice for my Beta when my father's Beta had no pup to take the rank. "So, a few of the teenagers were out in the woods when the attack happened the other night." I stiffen at his words. "What did they see?" "Well before they ran, they said the woman they saw looked like Brooke." I stand "Brooke isn't a vampire and she wouldn't hurt innocent pack members." "Calm down Jayden." I sit back down. "You have no idea what really happened to her or why she left. Maybe she had no choice. They were pretty sure it was her Jayden." I feel a pit in my stomach. A million thoughts are running through my mind about what could have happened to her, but one is the strongest. I hope I'm wrong because if I'm not, there is about to be war with the Black Rose Coven.

Adrian POV

As I move through the woods, I look around making sure that none of my brother's ahat soldiers are following me. I never even told him I was leaving this time. I just need to speak with Brooke about the attack on the pack. What the hell was she thinking? I know she is angry with that baard for giving her and Jocelyn to my brother but she has to think about Henry and Anna. If they find out she is still alive, my brother will take the twins and goddess only knows what he intends to do with them. I walk onto the porch and take one last look around. I notice movement behind a large tree just on the tree line. I walk off the porch and walk toward the tree. "Come out now" I say, and after a few seconds Barry steps out from behind the tree. "What the fk are you following me for?" He chuckles "because I have orders. So why don't you tell me what's in the cottage or am I going to have to take a look for myself." "You will not go anywhere near that cottage. I suggest you go back and tell my brother you didn't see anything or you're going to be very sorry." I have no desire to kill a coven member but I will protect Brooke and my niece and nephew above all others.

He starts to walk toward me and he leaves me no choice. I jump toward him, superman punching him in the face. He is knocked on his a and he jumps up baring his fangs at me. He tries to rush me and I waste no time extending my nails and reaching into his chest. I grip his heart in my hand. "I told you to leave, you should have listened." I pull back my hand holding his heart. His body falls to the ground and I drop his heart. The door to the cottage opens and Brooke looks afraid. I rush and usher her inside. "What's happening Adrian?" "Brooke, why did you go back to the pack?" Her face falls at my words and she looks ashamed. I put my hands on her shoulders. "I'm sorry Adrian, I was just so angry. You were here with the pups and I just wanted to see it." "When I saw the two patrol guards, something came over me and I lost it." I wrap her in a hug. "It's going to be alright. We need to leave. I'm going to take you to the human city and stay with you there until we figure out what to do next. It's obvious that Drayce doesn't trust me and when he finds out I killed one of his soldiers he isn't going to be happy." "I'm sorry" I stop her. "There is no need for you to be sorry. We just need to make sure you and the twins stay safe."

She starts to gather some things and I get Anna and Henry ready to leave. When we get outside, I look around again. I pray that Barry was the only soldier my brother sent to follow me. We start down a path and I feel like we are being watched. "Brooke stay close to me." "What's wrong" she says, but before I can answer, two more soldiers drop from the trees. Son of a bch, he sent West. I push her behind me and they both smile when they see Brooke. They can't go back and tell Drayce what they've seen. "Well, well, well, it looks like Drayce's pet is still alive", West says.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 57

Brooke POV

As I look at the disappointment on Adrian's face, I hate myself for going to the fking pack. I don't even know what I hoped to see. That's a lie, I hoped to see the baard who betrayed me. Who pretended like he was going to accept me and then gave me to that baard Drayce. Like I was nothing. It's even worse because what he did hurt Jocelyn. I pray to see her one day and I hope she is safe wherever she is. I think about that night at the pack as I gather everything, I can carry to take with us.

Flashback

I stand outside the territory staring at the place that was once my home. A happy place that I thought I would raise my pups. I never cross the border, but that doesn't mean I can't hope he is out on a run. I'm just about to leave when I catch a scent but it isn't Jayden's. As the scent invades my nostrils, I feel like I can't breathe. The patrol guards come to stand in front of me and shift. "Look who it is, the little omega who thought she could be Luna", Noah says to Pearce. He chuckles "I thought the vampires would have drained you by now." I feel rage overwhelming me. Before I can stop myself, I elongate my fangs and run full speed at Noah. I knock him to the ground and sink my fangs into his neck. I hear Pearce yelling for me to let Noah go before he pulls me off of him. He tosses me toward a tree but I manage to land on my feet. The look of shock and fear on his face before he starts to link someone makes me happy. I'm sure the warriors will be here soon but Pearce will not live to see them. He helped that baard toss me aside and hurt my sister. I run using my new vampire speed to reach Pearce. "I'm sorry Brooke, I was just following orders. Please don't kill me." "Fk you and your orders" I say before I sink my fangs into his neck. I just start to drain him when he screams. I hear paws hitting the ground that are getting louder by the second. I release my bite knowing that he is dead. I drop his body to the ground. I breathe getting myself under control as another patrol guard approaches in wolf form. I take off into the trees as fast as I can run. I start back toward the cottage feeling sick to my stomach knowing what I just did. It was like I wasn't in control of my own body. "Don't even try to blame me" Candace says. "I'm not blaming you, it was all me. I lost control." "Yes, you did, you put our pups at risk because of your anger and hate." "I'm sorry, I wasn't thinking." "I know you didn't think, but you need to from now on. Jayden was too stupid to recognize what a gift we are and we need to concentrate on raising our pups without a mate." She's right and I promise to never do anything stupid like that again. Henry and Anna are what is important now.

End Flashback

I hold my pups to my chest as I follow Adrian through the trees. "Brooke, there are vampires" Candance starts to say when two men drop down from the trees. I know one is West, Drayce's second in command. He helped Drayce punish me many times. Drayce didn't realize it, but despite being forbidden, West took me many times when he wasn't there. Hell for all I know, he could be the pups' father instead of Drayce. When he speaks, his voice sends a wave of disgust through me. He looks at my pups and I squeeze them a little tighter.

Adrian POV

"Don't even look at my family you prick." "How do you know there your family" he asks with a smile. "You fking baard, I wish I didn't have to kill you so I could tell Drayce what his trusted second in command did." "You're a little delusional I would say. Do you really think that you can take both of us, Adrian?" "To protect Brooke and the pups, absolutely." "Fine, this will be fun and then I can have a go at Brooke again before I hand her back over to your brother. I'm sure he'll understand why I killed you when I tell him that you have been keeping his children from him", he says with a wink. I feel sick to my stomach at his words. They start toward me and I take a fighting stance. They won't be as easy as Barry, but I refuse to let them hurt my family. No matter what, Brooke and the twins are my family. Kyle runs at me first and I can see that West plans to go for Brooke. I lunge toward West, taking my nails across his chest before I bring my hand back bch slapping him. Seems fitting since he is such a bch. It knocks him off kilter but he stays on his feet. Kyle grabs my arms, bringing them behind my back. I look around quickly to check on Brooke but I don't see her. I feel relieved and hope she gets far from these aholes.

I concentrate on these two with the hope that she and the pups are safe. I lift my foot, catching Kyle in the balls. As he releases me, I side step West. He turns and this time his fist connects with my face. I try to rush to my feet but he's over me before I get a chance. I know he thinks he has me, but that couldn't be more wrong. As he starts to reach down to grab my throat, I kick his knee as hard as I can, breaking his leg. He screams and I cheer a little inside. Before I can celebrate, Kyle has me by the hair. "You little bch" he says before a growl shakes the trees. I look up and Candance is running toward us. Kyle releases me, but he doesn't realize her vampire gift of speed was given to her wolf too. She is on him in seconds. He screams, but the minute she bites down there is silence. The body drops to the ground and she turns. I look back and West is trying to drag himself away. I walk toward him as Candance runs past us and into the woods. I'm standing in front of him. "You betrayed your own kind for that mutt and her half-breeds." "You are no kind of mine" I say before I reach down, placing my hands on both sides of his head. I pull and rip his head from his body. Once I drop his head to the ground, I rush toward the woods. Brooke steps out from the trees with the twins and relief washes over me. I wrap them in a hug. "You scared me, I can't lose you Adrian", Brooke whispers. "I promise you Brooke I'm not going anywhere. Let's get to the city so we can all relax." She nods and hands me the twins before she shifts. We will get there quicker this way and, hopefully, that was the last of my brother's men that were following me. One Week Later Serina POV

I head to Jocelyn's room to grab her for breakfast. When I reach the room, I hear weird noises coming from inside. "Ruby, what the hell is that?" "I don't know, but whatever it is doesn't sound very good." I knock normal at first but then hard. "Serina" I hear her voice and it sounds pained. I push my shoulder into the door, breaking the lock. I look around but she isn't in the room. I rush toward the bathroom and throw the door open. Jocelyn is on the floor in a ball holding her belly. "Jo, are you in labor?" "I'm pretty sure I am because I have never had pain like this." I link Gabby and Lake. Lake will be able to carry her because I don't think she can walk. They come rushing in and, without a word, Lake scoops her up. We run to the pack hospital and the doctor is waiting for us in the lobby. Lake lays her on the gurney. "Serina and Gabby will you be there with me." "Of course," we both say. Gabby kisses Lake and we follow them to a delivery room. Once she is inside, they get her into bed to check her. I thought I would be freaked out by all of this but I'm excited to be a part of it."

"Jocelyn your five centimeters, half way. You're doing well", the doctor says before he leaves. I notice that Gabby is rubbing circles on her bump. Soon we will be celebrating the triplets' birth. I love that we are going to have all these pups to love. Jo's grunt brings me out of my thoughts. I take her hand and she breathes through the pain. "Jo, do you want me to see if they can give you something for the pain" Gabby asks. "No, I want to do this naturally." "Alright, we are here with you." "Thank you, for everything." We both smile and take a seat on each side of her bed. An hour passes and she screams before a look of panic crosses her face. "What's wrong Jo?" "I think my water just broke." Gabby links the doctor a few minutes later the door opens. The doctor and two nurses rush in. "Let's check and see how far you have come", the doctor says. When he pulls his hand back he smiles. "You're moving along nicely. You're about eight centimeters. With your water breaking, it should move faster now. Both the pups look good on the monitor." Once the nurses and doctor are gone there is a look of concern on Jo's face. "What's wrong Jo?" "I'm scared." "You're doing great, you're so strong." "I'm scared of the labor but I'm more scared of not doing a good job as a mother." "Not possible Jo" Gabby says before I can. "You are going to be a great mom. I know because I have one and I can see it in you." Jo smiles and it warms my heart. "Besides, you have a lot of people to help and love the pups too." She squeezes both our hands. After another hour, she complains of pressure and when the doctor checks her this time she is ready to push. Gabby takes one leg and I take the other. She pushes like a champ. After about ten pushes, the first pup is out. He is the most beautiful little boy. "Alright Jocelyn, take a breath. We need to check pup number two before you push again." He checks her and the baby is head down. "It looks like pup two is ready to make their appearance too." She smiles and starts to push again. She pushes five more times and the cries of her daughter fill the room. I can feel the tears running down my cheeks. Not only do Ruby and I feel connected to Jo but to her pups. We will protect these pups like they were our own. Gabby and I each take a pup once they are cleaned up and bring them to Jo. We set them in her arms and you can see the love she has for them all over her face. It's an amazing thing to see. "Have you decided on names yet?" "No, can I think a little bit before I name them. I have some names but I'm not sure which one fits yet." "Of course, they're your pups." We hug her and take a seat, just enjoying staring at these two new pups.

"Ezra, it's time to head back." "Alright" he says, but I know he doesn't really want to. When we reach the edge of the trees, we shift slipping on shorts. "You were right about the pain. It's so smooth and painless now." Ezra growls and the scent of peaches invades my nose. I turn to see a beautiful gray wolf standing near the side of the pack house. I start toward her and she takes off. Ezra growls again "mate." I stumble back, "no it can't be. It has to be Serina." Ezra growls again at my words.

POV

As I hold these two perfect pups in my arms, I'm so grateful for where I am. Surrounded by people who care about me and my little ones. A pack that treats all kinds the same. I feel safe and happy in the knowledge that my pups are going to grow up surrounded by love and acceptance. I place a kiss on each of their foreheads. I stare at my son first, thinking about the name that will best suit him. I can feel the tears running down my cheek thinking about my father, who I miss every day. "Are you alright Jo" Serina asks. "Yes, better than alright. I've decided on my son's name. His name is Wesley James Curtis." "That's beautiful and perfect for him" Gabby says. "Wesley is my father's name. I hope he can see my pups someday." I look at my daughter and my heart squeezes in my chest. She looks just like Brooke and I did when we were babies. I looked at the pictures my mother had scattered throughout our cottage a thousand times. "Sweet girl, your name is Brooklyn Jennifer Curtis. You are named for two of the strongest women I know." I look at Serina and Gabby who are smiling. "My mother's name is Jennifer and you know about Brooke. I hope Brooke watches over both my pups and they will get to meet their grandmother." "That is so pretty and fits her perfectly", Serina says. "I'm sure that will happen someday" Gabby says and I believe she's right. "Would you like to hold them?" They both nod before Gabby takes Brooklyn and Serina takes Wesley. I feel the exhaustion hit me all at once. "It's alright to rest Jo. We will wake you when the babies need to eat." "Thank you, again for everything" is the last thing I say before darkness takes me under.

Nicholas POV

I feel like I can't pull enough air into my lungs to catch my breath. I'm finally able to compose myself as I start to walk toward the side of the pack house. "Find her", Ezra growls at me. I round the corner of the house but she's gone. It's like she disappeared. The scent is completely gone, as if she wasn't even here. I feel like I'm losing it. "You need to find her, Nicholas" Ezra says. "Ezra, please, I know you want our mate just as much as I do but something doesn't feel right." "Nicholas, I know about Serina. We are one in the same. I wish for your sake that she was our mate, but she isn't. You can't reject our mate because you thought she would be someone else." I know he is right but in my heart, I really believed that Serina was my mate. I should have felt the pull to to the wolf immediately and I didn't. All the thoughts I have of Serina should have been erased by the sight and scent of my mate. I look around for a few more minutes before I head inside. I start up the stairs when I hear Lauren's voice call my name. I know I shouldn't, but I say a prayer that she isn't the gray wolf. That she isn't our mate.

I turn and she walks toward me. I scent the air and nothing. Thank the goddess, she isn't the one. "What do you need Lauren?" She touches my forearm, "I just want to spend some time with you and get to know you better." Before I can respond, I hear a growl. My body stiffens as the scent of lilac invades my nostrils. "Get your fking hand off my mate." I turn to see a very pissed-looking Liz. "Mate", Ezra says, and my heart sinks. She comes to stand between me and Lauren. "You must be a very slow learner, Lauren. This is the last time I will tell you to stay away from Nicholas. He is mine." Her words should light a fire in me but they don't. "Liz, I didn't know you two were mates." "Well, now you do, so leave him alone." She turns rushing away from us. Liz turns with a smile but it seems to fade away. "What's wrong, Nick? I'm sorry I ran off earlier. I just didn't expect us to be mates." "I understand, I was shocked too." She wraps her arms around me and I feel the tingles. "Hold our mate and stop acting like a child who didn't get what he wants", Ezra says. I do as he says, hoping that I can push thoughts of Serina away. I don't want to hurt Liz or defy the goddess.

After a few moments, she pulls back with a smile. I force the smile on my face and take her hand. "Why don't we go for a run in wolf form? Ezra and I would like to meet her too. What's her name?" She pauses for a second before she answers. "I'm sorry she was talking to me. Her name is Morganna. Honestly, she isn't ready for us to shift with you and Ezra." "Does she not want to accept us?" She grabs my forearm. "Of course, we want to accept you. She just isn't ready. She is very shy." I feel a sense of relief even though I shouldn't. "That's alright, we can take our time before we mate and mark." She smiles "I appreciate that you're willing to be patient, Nick. I'm glad you're my mate." I nod "I'm going to head up to the room and shower before I head to bed. I will walk you to your room. I will see you in the morning for breakfast." She reaches up, pulling me down and pressing her lips to mine. I give into the kiss. She is my mate and it's nice but different than I expected. Once she pulls back, I walk her to her room before I head back to mine. I walk in and the boys are sitting on their beds. I don't even stop to talk to them. I just head to the bathroom. "Nick, are you alright man", James says, but I don't stop to answer.

Once I'm inside, I strip and step under the spray of the shower. I replay everything that happened today. I can feel Ezra at the surface. "Nicholas" he says and I stop him. "I know, I will accept her and we will be whole." "I think your right Nicholas, as much as I want to say that she is ours something feels off about her and her wolf." A wave of relief washes over me. Ezra feels it too. "I promise we won't do anything until we figure everything out. Until then, we will just get to know her. Hopefully, we can figure out why we both feel this way." I finish showering and once I'm dressed, I head into our room knowing the boys will be waiting with questions. When I open the door, John is the first one to start with questions. "So, what the hell was that about?" I take a seat on my bed. "I found my mate." "Alright, now I'm really confused, why aren't you with her?" Before I can answer John does. "I know your disappointed it's not Serina but I'm sure whoever it is, is great" John says. I feel like the wind is knocked out of me. I have never said to either of them about my feelings for Serina. "Don't look so shocked Nick, were your best friends. We see how you are when you're around our sister", James says. I smile "I'm glad that you guys aren't upset."

"Of course, we wouldn't be upset, you're already like our brother. We wish you were Serina's mate", John says. "I know you guys are going to think I'm crazy but something doesn't feel right about Liz being my mate. It's not just about Serina. Ezra feels it too." "What do you think it is" James asks. "I don't know, but I intend to figure it out before I mate and mark her." "We are here for whatever you need." Adrian POV

We reach the edge of the human city. Candance lies down so I can get down safely with the pups. She shifts and I hand Brooke clothes. Once she is dressed, she takes the pups from me. I conjure some money placing it in one of the bags before I throw it over my shoulder. We walk for five blocks before we reach a hotel. I feel like I can breathe once we have our key and are heading up to the third floor. I use the key card and usher Brooke inside. I drop the bags and plop down on the couch. Brooke lays Henry and Anna down on the bed before she plops down next to me. "Adrian, I'm so sorry." "I told you, I am not upset with you." "I know you're not but I am. I let my anger cloud my judgment. I put my pups and us at risk because I wanted to make that baard pay for what he did to me." I pull her into a hug before I release her. I wipe the tears from her cheeks. I hate to see her upset. "Brooke, you aren't perfect and you made a mistake. You have every right to be angry after what that Alpha did. I'm sorry my brother is such a monster." "You had nothing to do with what he and West did to me and Brooke. You're the only reason the twins and I are alive right now." I smile and she takes my hand. "I'm sorry I didn't tell you about West." "It doesn't matter who the pup's father is. You are my sister and they are my niece and nephew." I pull her into a hug into a hug again. I pull back, "alright, let's order lots of food and get some sleep." "That sounds awesome" Brooke says. We do just that. We order way too much food and once the twins are settled in the middle of the bed, we lay on each side of them. I fall into a peaceful sleep knowing that the most important people to me are safe.

Anna climbing on me wakes me from sleep. "Good morning little one." She starts to babble and I kiss her forehead. She smiles "are you ready for breakfast sweet girl?" I stand and pick her up in my arms. Henry and Brooke are still asleep. I head over and call down to order breakfast. Once I hang up the phone in my bag starts to ring and I stiffen. The only person that would be calling me is Drayce. I bend down, pulling the phone out of my purse. The screen lights up with the name d*ckhead. Sh*t I thought we would have more time before he tried to call me. I have no desire to speak with him but I need to know if he realizes his men are dead. My brother is resourceful and he has already been in contact with that bch Prudence. I place the phone to my ear. "What do you want, Drayce?" "Where the f are you?" "Excuse me, who the hell are you talking to." "You killed my men and ran. I know your hiding something. When I find out what it is, you are going to be very sorry." "Fk you, Drayce" I say before I end the call and break the phone. I don't need it anyway. It's just something he can trace. I look over and Brooke is sitting up in the bed. "It's alright, he doesn't know where we are." "Let's get the pups fed and I'm going to reach out to my cousin Harris. He knows what a baard my brother is. My father was the same way. He is older than me, but from what I've heard he is mated to a wolf. He also hates my brother enough to help us. He left the coven because of my father and his bulls*t." "Do you even know where he is?" "Drayce doesn't but I do."

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 59

Jocelyn

POV

I'm sitting in the rocking chair and I just finished feeding the pups. I lay Brooklyn in her bassinet. Every time I look at her, I think of Brooke. Wesley is sound asleep in the bassinet next to her and I rub my finger down his soft cheek. The doctor let me leave the pack hospital last night. I was so happy to be able to go back to the room next to Serina. Having my pups here in this beautiful space that's ours felt amazing. I walk over to sit on the bed and a light knock sounds on the door. It opens and Serina sticks her head inside. "Good morning, Jo." "Good morning, Serina", I say as she walks in with a tray full of food. "I brought you some breakfast." "Thank you", I say and she sets the tray on a table in the corner of my room. She walks over kissing both pups softly on their foreheads before we head to the table. As we eat breakfast, I think about my discussion with Gabby and Lake about returning to the pack. "What are you thinking about Jo?" I smile, Serina may be young, but she is perceptive, mature, and strong. Search the website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

"I was thinking about the trip that Gabby suggested to the Onyx Moon. Now that the pups have been born, I would like to go as soon as possible to meet with Alpha Jayden. Do you think that will be alright?" She smiles "of course, it will. Gabby wants you to have the opportunity to speak to him about all he has done. Believe me when I say that if he really had something to do with what happened to you and Brooke, we will make sure he pays for it." "I was hoping that my pups could see my parents while we are there but I don't know how the pack will feel about the fact that they are hybrids." "Who cares what they think? Your pups are beautiful and perfect. If you want them to go with us, then I think you should speak to Gabby and Lake about it. If you don't, I will stay behind and keep them safe. It is completely up to you Jo." "Your right, I should talk to Lake and Gabby about it first before I make a decision. I don't want to put my pups at risk."

We finish eating and pick up the pups to walk to Gabby and Lake's office. Serina knocks before we head inside. Gabby smiles when she sees the pups. She immediately steals Wesley out of my arms. I notice Lake is beaming as he watches Gabby holding Wesley in her arms. Soon they will have their own brood and they will be amazing parents. "What's up Jo" Gabby asks. "I was wondering if we could make that trip to the Onyx Moon pack soon." "I will give the Alpha a call and inform him we would like to meet. I will not be telling him ahead of time that you will be the one joining us for the meeting", Lake says. "If his pathetica had anything to do with what happened to you and your sister, I want him off kilter when he sees you. It will make it much easier to determine if he is anxious when he sees you." "Thank you, both for accepting me into your pack and helping me get justice for Brooke" I say. "I was wondering about my pups coming with us for the trip." Lake stiffens and Gabby looks sympathetic to my question. "I appreciate you wanting to stay close to your pups Jo but until we determine exactly the character of this Alpha, I don't want your pups anywhere near him." "Actual the only reason I asked was I was hoping to see my parents and have them meet the pups but your right. Hopefully, there will be another opportunity for my parents to meet them in the future." Lake's look softens. "we can speak to the Alpha about your parents while we are there." "Thank you, again for everything." "You don't have to thank us Jo, you are a member of this pack now. We will always protect you and your pups", Lake says. Gabby is smiling from ear to ear at Lake's words.

I feel a twinge of sadness that I will probably never have that with a mate. I shake those thoughts away, focusing on the blessing of my pups. Emery whimpers and I hate that she hurt by what we won't have. "You and our pups are all I need, Jocelyn." "It's alright to be sad about not having a mate Emery as long as we don't wallow in it." Serina speaking brings me out of our conversation. "I will be staying behind with the pups when you make the trip. Ruby and I will protect them." "I think that is an excellent idea", Gabby says. She hands me Wesley and steals Brooklyn from Serina. I chuckle, I look back at Lake. "Alpha, would you like to hold one of the pups?" I see a little panic on his face before Gabby walks around and sets Brooklyn in his arms. Once she makes sure he is comfortable and holding her properly she steps back. The panic seems to melt away as he stares down at my daughter. He lays a sweet kiss on her forehead. It's so strange but sweet to see this big Alpha holding my tiny pup. A few seconds later, she starts to cry and that look of panic returns. "She is probably just hungry Alpha." Gabby takes Brooklyn from his arms and I stand with Wesley. "Jo, unless we're around other pack members you can call me Lake." I smile and nod. Serina and I take the pups back up to my room so I can feed them. I'm so glad it won't be long until I face the baard that took my sister from me. Lake was right now is not the time to take the pups to that pack. Their safety is what is important. Lake POV

After Serina and Jo are gone, Gabby comes over and sits in my lap. I lay my hand on her growing bump. "I know your nervous but you're going to do an awesome job as a father, so stop worrying" she says to me. "They are just so tiny and fragile." "Lake, I promise you are going to be a natural when we have our pups." She smiles and I pull her mouth down into a kiss. Once she is breathless, she pulls back. "Did I tell you today how lucky I am to have you?" She smiles "you tell me every day and I tell you that we are both lucky." "Yes, you do and you're right." I push the hair off her face and kiss her one more time gently. "Are you ready to make the call to the Onyx Moon, Gabriella?" "Absolutely, I just hope the ahole agrees to the meeting." I love it when she is feisty. "I can be pretty persuasive love." She rolls her eyes and I chuckle. I pick the phone up off the desk and dial the number that I had researched earlier. It rings four times before someone finally answers. "Alpha Jayden, can I help you." "Alpha Jayden, this is Alpha Lake Solace and Alpha Gabriella Solace of the Scarlett Rose Pack." "Alpha Lake and Gabriella, I'm sorry I'm not familiar with you and your pack. Is there something I can help you with?" "Actually, we are reaching out to surrounding packs about forming alliances and I was wondering if you would be interested in meeting with us?" "Of course, please have your pack stats and location sent over before our meeting so I can familiarize myself with them. I will do the same for you and Alpha Gabriella. When would you like to have this meeting?" "The sooner the better really, we have had some issues with vampire attack." There is silence for a few seconds. "Alpha Jayden, are you still there?" "Yes, I am, I have time in two days around noon if that works for the two of you. That will give me time to review the information you send over." "Yes, thank you, that would be perfect. I will have our information sent over and we will see you in two days." "I look forward to our meeting" Alpha Jayden says.

When I hang up the phone, Gabriella is looking at me and I can tell she is thinking the same thing I am. This does not sound like a monster or an ahole for that matter. So either he is a really good actor or he has no idea what really happened. "Do you think the vampire really could have been lying to the girls about the Alpha's involvement, Lake?" "I don't know, but I hope so. The bigger question is what is he going to do when he finds out that the coven took his fated mate for breeding if he really didn't know." "I wouldn't want to be the coven if that is the case." Alpha Jayden POV

I hang up with the Alphas and link Andrew to come to my office. A few minutes later, he walks in and takes a seat in front of my desk. "What's up, you sounded weird" he asks me. "I just got a really strange phone call. Alphas from a pack I have never even heard of called to set up a meeting with me about an alliance." "Did you agree to it?" "I did, I have this feeling in my gut I need too. They will be here in two days, but I want you to find out as much as you can about the Scarlett Rose Pack." "I'll take care of it Jayden. What else did they say that has you so on edge?" "They have been having vampire attacks in their pack." "Do you think it has something to do with the Black Blood Coven?" "I absolutely do and I will take great pleasure in helping this pack end that fking coven and Drayce once and for all." He nods and stands leaving my office. I get a link from one of my men that my father is looking for me. "Do not tell my father that I am in my office. I won't be here long." "Yes Alpha" he says before he cuts the link. I have been avoiding my father because every time we speak, he talks about Rian.

"Storm, what do you think about this meeting and the vampire attacks?" "I agree with you that we need to meet with these Alphas. I don't know why, but I think it's important too. As for the vampires, I'm with you and would love to rip his pathetic a apart." "Let's go for that run, it will help us clear our head." I walk up the stairs heading to my floor and immediately scent that someone is here that shouldn't be. Storm is pushing to the surface but I push him down. I know exactly who it is and so does he. I reach the room and throw open the door. "What the fk are you doing in my room?" She slides off my bed half dressed and it is all I can do to keep my calm. I link a warrior to come to my floor immediately. She is going to learn what is acceptable behavior and if spending time in the cells is what she needs to make that happen, so be it. "You have gone too far this time, Rian." "I just want to please you Jayden." The warrior walks toward me. "Take her to the cells for two days." "Jayden, please" she starts to plead. "Only my Luna may call me out of my title. You may only call me Alpha. Take her to the cells now." She is pleading as the warrior carries her away. I walk into my room and her scent is everywhere. I start to rip the sheets off my bed. I open the windows to air out the room. Once I've changed, I head downstairs. As I walk toward the back door of the pack house my father yells out my name. "Jayden" my father yells. I turn and he stomps toward me until he is standing right in front of me. "Care to tell me why a guard just took Rian down to the cells." "No, I won't" I say before I walk out the door and take off. I can hear him yelling but I don't stop or look back. I do not answer to him.

Fated Human Alpha Chapter 60

Nicholas

"Nick, it's time to get up. We need to get something to eat before training", James says. I rub the sleep from my eyes and sit up. I haven't slept well since I found out about Liz being my mate. "I don't think I'm going to eat breakfast today." "Nick, maybe you should just reject her", James says. I feel a twinge of pain in my chest at his words. Our mates are a gift from the goddess. It's supposed to be that moment of pure connection when we find each other. There should be no doubt that she belongs with me. "Nicholas, we will figure this out. I promise you. I wanted her to be our mate when we found her. I knew you were right even though I didn't want you to be. I can't even feel her wolf." "What do you mean, we have mated? You won't feel her wolf, will you?" "I should still feel her presence if she is our mate, even without the bond." "We saw her wolf, Ezra. She has to have one. I'm so confused by all of this." "I know you are, we both are." "Nick, I didn't mean to upset you. I just hate to see you like this", James says. I smile "you didn't upset me. I just really need to figure out what is happening before I do anything rash." "Well, being around her is the only way you're going to find out if she is being deceitful", John says. He's right and I need to put my big boy pants on and deal with this now. I get up, heading for the bathroom. "It's not the only way", James says, stopping me in my tracks. I turn back and James is smiling like a child with a secret. "Well," I say, waiting for him to get on with it. "Tabby would know if she is being dishonest or tricking you. Maybe you should take her back to the pack to meet the family" he says with a wink.

I walk over to James, wrapping him in a hug. I step back and James takes a seat in the chair next to John. "Your brilliant, that is exactly what I'm going to do. What about the training though?" James rolls his eyes. "Nick, your father has raised you for your role in our pack since you were born. You never needed this training. I know you worried about being a Beta your father could be proud of, but he is already proud of you. Our father thinks of you as his own son and knows your abilities. We will stay here and finish training while you find out exactly what is up with Liz and her wolf", James says. John is nodding his agreement with everything James says. "Alright, let's go have breakfast so I can talk to Liz." I head into the shower to get ready for the day. Once I'm in my sweats and a t- shirt, I head back into the room. I'm shocked to find Liz instead of the boys waiting for me. "Don't be mad, I asked them to leave so we could talk." I nod and take a seat across from her. "Nick, have you been avoiding me the last two days? I'm not upset if you have, I just want to know why?" I search for some answer that won't make her suspicious or upset. "Nick, I know you said that you're saving yourself for me, but did you have someone you hoped would be your mate?" I try to keep my look impassive. How could she know that? "No, of course not. I was shocked to gain my wolf so early. I just wasn't expecting to find you so soon." She smiles and stands walking toward me. She takes me by surprise when she sits in my lap. I stiffen for a moment but then relax. The tingles are confusing and I need to keep my focus. She puts her head in my neck, breathing deep. Before I realize what she is doing, she slides off my lap and onto her knees. I immediately pick her up setting her back onto my lap. Her face looks as if I just slapped her. "Nick" she starts to say and I stop her. "I'm not ready for that yet, Liz. I hope you understand." "Do you not want me?" "That's not it, I'm just not ready to mate yet. I hope you understand." Her look softens and she places her hand on my cheek. "Of course, I understand. You're so different than the other men I know." Ezra growls and she smiles. She leans in pressing her lips to mine. I give into the kiss and when she pulls back, I smile. "Liz, I would like you to go with me to my pack to meet my family." The smile on her face falls. "We can't, we are here for our training. Besides, I haven't even told my Alpha that I won't be returning to my pack yet. I would rather wait till we mark and mate before I meet your family." I take her face in my hands. "This is important to me, Liz. I will speak to the Beta and tell him why we are leaving. I want you to meet my family before we complete our bond." She bites her lip and after a few seconds the smile returns to her face. "Alright, when will we leave?" "After training today I'll speak to the Beta about our plans to leave. The boys will stay here to finish the training program."

She kisses me one more time before I stand setting her on her feet. She threads her fingers with mine and leads me downstairs. When we walk into the dining room, the twins look in our direction. I nod and they both smile. Once we get our food, we sit down at the table eating breakfast in silence. For the first time since I found out that Liz is my mate, I feel relief. Tabby will be able to find out the truth and then I can move forward.

Next Day

Gabriella POV Search The website to access chapters of novels early and in the highest quality.

I head to Jo's room. Today is the day we go to the Onyx Moon Pack. I'm sure she has to be so nervous. I'm nervous and none of it happened to me. I just hope that Lake and I are right about this Alpha. I knock and the door opens on a smiling Serina. She is holding one of the sweet pups in her arms. I lean in "hello sweet girl", I say before I kiss her forehead. I walk farther into the room and Wesley is lying in his bassinet awake. I scoop him up, kissing his forehead and breathing in his scent. The bathroom door opens and Jo comes walking out smiling at the two of us. "Pretty soon you will have three of your own, Gabby." I smile "I know I can't wait." "Me either, I'm going to be the best aunt ever" Serina says. She absolutely will. "Are you ready to do this today, Jo?" She takes a deep breath "absolutely." I hand Wesley to Jo and she kisses him before she lays him in the bassinet. She walks over kissing Brooklyn and hugging Serina. "I pumped enough milk to get you through until we get back." Serina nods "don't worry, I promise I will keep them safe." "I know you will Serina" Jo says We head downstairs and Lake is waiting for us. He is dressed in a dress shirt and slacks. He is the hottest man I've ever seen, no matter what he is wearing. "Be careful love", he links me. I look at his face and he winks. I roll my eyes and he pulls me into his arms. He buries his head in my neck "you're looking very hot yourself, love." I'm wearing a dress that gives room for my bump. I laugh "my belly is getting bigger by the day." He growls "that makes you even hotter being round with my pups." I slap his arm and he finally releases me. Jo is smiling at us but I can see sadness in her eyes.

I walk over and take her hand to lead her out to the SUV. Lake gets into the driver's side after he helps me into the passenger seat. The drive takes us about an hour and a half. We approach the gate and a guard steps to Lake's window. "What is your business here?" "We have a meeting with Alpha Jayden. I am Alpha Lake Solace and this is my mate, Alpha Gabriella Solace." He looks into the back seat and Jo has her head down. "We were only expecting the two of you." "This is my sister and future Alpha of the Scarlett Rose pack" I say sternly and the guard looks shocked at my tone. He looks to be linking before he returns to the building to open the gate. Lake pulls through, driving up to a large pack house. I look back at Jo and she is breathing fast. "Jo look at me. You are safe. No one will hurt you while we are with you. Slow your breathing down Jo." She takes some deep breaths and once she seems calmer, we get out of the SUV. Once I'm out, I take her hand again as we walk toward the door with Lake by my side. A guard is waiting to lead us inside. "Alphas, please follow me" he says as his eyes land on Jo. "Jocelyn", he says in a whisper.

"Take us to your Alpha now", Lake says, and the guard turns immediately following Lake's command without another word. We follow him and once we are inside, people are staring at Jo. I squeeze her hand to offer her reassurance that we are almost there. "Jocelyn Curtis, is that you", a male voice comes from behind us. Jo stiffens and I can feel the fear rolling off of her. He comes to stand in front of her. "Where have you been and where is your sister" he asks harshly. Before she can answer, I step in front of her. "If you will excuse us, we have a meeting with the Alpha." I can see my words piss him off. He turns to Lake. "You would do well to teach your human Luna her place when she is speaking to an Alpha." Lake growls but I take his hand. "Are you Alpha Jayden?" He turns back to me. "No, I'm his father." "Then you're not the Alpha of this pack" I say before I turn leading Jo up the stairs without another word. I can hear his footsteps behind us but we continue to follow the guard. Once we arrive, the guard knocks before he leads us inside the office. Jocelyn POV

"Jocelyn, you are strong. Do not let this pack make you feel weak. They are weak," Emery says. As we walk through the pack house, I feel everyone staring at me. I focus my eyes forward until I hear a voice that makes a pit form in my stomach. I turn and Alpha Joseph is walking toward us. Emery growls and I wish I was anywhere but here right now. The anger that rises in my body when he dare speak about my sister scares even me. When I watch Gabby put him in his place, I smile inside. She truly is an amazing Alpha. As we approach the Alpha office, I say a prayer to the goddess for strength. The guard leads us inside and a very different Jayden is sitting behind the desk. He has come into his Alpha role. He was never scrawny but he has built more muscle in the years we have been gone. When his eyes land on me he gasps. He rushes over picking me up off the ground. "Jocelyn, where have you been? Where is Brooke" he asks. He sounds so sincere. A throat clears and he sets me on my feet. I turn and Alpha Joseph is standing there with a look of disdain on his face at his son's actions.

"Jayden, I want these wolves and that human gone now." Lake again growls, but Gabby manages to keep him under control. "That human was disrespectful to me and I demand they leave and never return to our pack." "Father leave now. I have arranged this meeting and you will not be rude to my guests." "Jayden, I am your father and the former Alpha of this pack." "Then please act like it, father. Leave and I will find you after my meeting." I'm shocked at the way Jayden just put Joseph in his place. I'm so confused by his actions. Why would he care where Brooke is if he had us taken away by that fking coven? "Maybe he didn't" Emery says.
