

Humanity 1601

Chapter 1601 - Fight to the Death

However, the Blood Race Sun Blaze also followed this force and retreated swiftly, instantly fleeing outside.

Yaya was relentless, chasing after like a tiger released from its cage, alongside Lu Ye, who aimed to suppress that Blood Race Sun Blaze with his own saintliness by staying close!

But Sun Blaze is still Sun Blaze, with an absurd speed. Just as Lu Ye chased after, the Blood Race Sun Blaze had already fled beyond the range of his Blood Sea, leaving Lu Ye helpless.

Yaya, however, could keep up, swinging her little fists in the depths of the Blood Sea and pounding at Sun Blaze furiously, forcing it into a defensive stance, lamenting incessantly.

Seeing Yaya and Sun Blaze getting further away from him, Lu Ye had no choice but to shout: "Yaya, come back!"

The main concern was not knowing how long Yaya could maintain this state; if it were short-lived, once Yaya lost Sun Blaze's power, she would be defenseless against such a formidable Blood Race adversary.

Yaya obediently listened, instantly altering her trajectory and flying back towards Lu Ye, who grabbed her, looking somewhat reluctantly towards the Blood Race Sun Blaze's direction, then swiftly turning back towards the battleship.

Returning to the battleship, Yaya was already curled up in Lu Ye's arms, murmuring softly, "Papa, sleepy!"

"Don't sleep, hold on!" Lu Ye patted her little head.

It's certain that, despite Sun Blaze suffering a small setback in Yaya's hands, he wouldn't just retreat; he must be observing the situation here, and if Yaya remained awake, she could serve as a deterrent, preventing reckless action from him. But if Yaya fell asleep, there's no telling what steps he might take. If he came to attack again, without Yaya's defense, this battleship's occupants would have no means to resist.

Yet, Yaya looked incredibly sleepy, her eyelids kept dropping despite her efforts to stay awake, her little head nodded repeatedly.

Just as Lu Ye expected, the retreating Blood Race Sun Blaze was watching from afar with uncertainty.

Aside from Yaya's terrifying power, the instantaneous explosion of saintliness shook him even more!

He too had refined Sacred Blood; otherwise, he wouldn't have ascended to Sun Blaze. However, he refined very little, only a single drop. Sacred Blood is extremely rare and precious even within the Blood Race, with the refining process fraught with unpredictable dangers regardless of one's cultivation strength, leading most Blood Race members to refine just one drop, with very few daring to refine a second.

Being a Sacred Seed possessing Sacred Blood, this Blood Race Sun Blaze was naturally familiar with saintliness, having sensed it from other Sacred Seeds, but never as intensely terrifying as that moment.

There's a Sacred Seed aboard that battleship, and it's certainly refined more than one drop of Sacred Blood! But why would a Sacred Seed target me?

The Blood Race Sun Blaze couldn't understand the crux of the matter, torn between Yaya's displayed power and fear of the mysterious suppression by saintliness, and hesitated to advance, merely trailing the battleship from afar while his Mental Consciousness surged, transmitting audio messages to the other three Blood Race Sun Blazes at the battlefield's center, informing them of the situation here.

Being alone, he dared not probe rashly, but if the three other Blood Race Sun Blazes were to join him, there'd be no issue; combining the power of four Sun Blazes would enable unveiling any secrets aboard the battleship.

The allure of Sacred Blood to the Blood Race is enormous; compared to the four galaxies, the Blood Race prioritizes Sacred Blood. Thus, once this news spreads, the three Blood Race Sun Blazes battling against Ning Bu'ao and others would inevitably come over.

As for the Sun Blaze battlefield...at present, Ning Bu'ao and the others all have injuries. Even if they temporarily leave the battlefield, with Bai Jin and the other two Insect Race Sun Blazes continuing suppression, Ning Bu'ao and the others have no chance of reversing the situation.

Aboard the battleship, Lu Ye sensed remotely that the Blood Race Sun Blaze's aura was indeed trailing them from the depths of the Blood Sea, inwardly lamenting.

Yaya could no longer be relied upon; though she resisted sleep, she seemed to require slumber after each outbreak of Sun Blaze strength to recover, so if the Blood Race Sun Blaze decides to charge regardless right now, there's truly no adequate countermeasures from their side.

The opponent refrains from charging, clearly hesitating.

Yet, he certainly won't let the battleship escape the Blood Sea's cover; if it breaks through, he'll definitely strike again, at which point the situation would be exposed entirely.

Lu Ye's mind brimmed with various thoughts, pondering how to turn the tables. No matter what, at the very least, they must escape with everyone aboard the battleship.

But the absolute power gap rendered any plan unfeasible.

Luan Xiao'e seemed to perceive Lu Ye's difficulty and gradually spoke: "Fellow Daoist Lu, I'll act shortly to delay that Sun Blaze, by all means, you must ensure their safe escape!"

Her face displayed resolute determination, clearly aware of the bleak outcome facing a Moon Jade Late Stage against a Sun Blaze, but having made the decision to participate in this battle, she must take responsibility.

If her sacrifice could secure survival for the Three Worlds cultivators, then it would be worthwhile.

Her willingness to lay down her life evidently moved the other Moon Jade, with a Daluo Moon Jade immediately stepping forward: "Fellow Daoist Luan, I'll assist you!"

One person spoke up, then a second, and soon all the Moon Jade cultivators on the battleship expressed their willingness to fight alongside Luan Xiao'e.

An Indeterminate Moon Jade looked solemnly at Lu Ye: "Fellow Daoist, no matter what, you have to inform Brother Jyang Shang of the situation here! The survival of Indeterminate and even the four galaxies rests on you alone."

There's no way Indeterminate over there knows about the battle here yet; if the Insect Race or Blood Race wins this war, they will inevitably head towards Indeterminate immediately, and how can Indeterminate, caught unprepared, be a match?

But if Lu Ye can notify Jyang Shang in advance, there might be a glimmer of hope.

A group of Moon Jade clearly had embraced a resolve to die, thinking that so many Moon Jade working together might have a chance to disrupt a Sun Blaze.

Unfortunately, the As-Close-As-Siblings Array Disc was not suitable for Moon Jade use at the moment, or Lu Ye would have surely left them some discs.

Feeling wistful inside, just as he was about to agree, Lu Ye suddenly felt something, turned to look towards the center of the battlefield, and his expression became calm: "Everyone, prepare for a fight to the death!"

Nothing else, at the center of the battlefield, three strong auras were rapidly coming this way, and they were the three Blood Race Sun Blaze who had joined earlier.

Lu Ye knew this was likely the result of the saintliness he had just activated, with the fourth Blood Race Sun Blaze suppressed by saintliness and wounded by Yaya, now trailing behind the battleship, not daring to approach, and had even called for help from his kin, truly cautious indeed.

Even one Sun Blaze was beyond our ability to handle, and now with three more coming, how can we stop them?

Only a battle to the death!

Luan Xiao'e and the others had evidently noticed too, each showing a bitter expression.

The fourth Sun Blaze was still trailing behind the battleship, with three more Sun Blaze attacking from the center of the battlefield. In such a hopeless situation, many human cultivators aboard the battleship looked anxious and uneasy, while Nine Provinces cultivators were full of fighting spirit.

Knowing that death is certain and unable to resist, but if one must die... they should die with dignity and a bit of defiance. A cultivator dying in combat is the most normal fate, and every cultivator from Nine Provinces was already mentally prepared for such an outcome.

Lu Ye placed the now-sleeping Yaya aside and stood firm, a figure flashed beside him, and turning to look, he saw Yiyi smiling faintly at him, without a hint of fear, and even said, "This time, you can't leave me behind again!"

Lu Ye raised his hand and rubbed her head, momentarily speechless, silently activating the spirit force within him, and began rousing the power of the red talisman.

If there was anything in his hands that could threaten a Sun Blaze, it was only the red talisman gifted by Su Yuqing years ago, although Lu Ye wasn't sure how its full power might affect a Sun Blaze. Perhaps it could hurt one, or perhaps not.

However, with the suppression of saintliness combined with the power of the red talisman, the chance is certainly greater, but this opportunity must be seized.

He had always considered this red talisman his last resort, unwilling to use it normally, at most using it for intimidation, but this time it couldn't be ignored.

"Fellow Daoist Lih Shang, this time I've involved you." Lu Ye sent his Mental Consciousness forth.

Since the battle here started, Lih Shang had been hiding in his Divine Sea, ready to deploy the Soul Possession Technique at any time, but so far Lu Ye hadn't needed her assistance.

Lih Shang's voice arose: "Fellow Daoist, don't mind. Without you, I wouldn't know into whose hands I'd fall, nor what kind of tragic fate I'd face. Following you during this time, at least I feel quite at ease."

Lu Ye nodded, about to speak again when he suddenly frowned and looked in a direction.

Strangely, exclamations arose from there, and under his watchful gaze, deep within the dense Blood Sea, something began to twinkle, emitting colorful ripples.

Moreover, the Blood Sea in that direction seemed to show signs of dissolving.

Lu Ye thought he must be seeing things, but upon closer inspection, he realized the colorful gleam had intensified, and this glow... seemed vaguely familiar!

The exclamations grew more frequent, as if something unbelievable was occurring deep within the Blood Sea, and soon, Lu Ye realized he wasn't mistaken; the Blood Sea was indeed dissolving, because the once-dense Blood Sea was rapidly thinning and then vanished.

At that very moment, the three Blood Race Sun Blaze rushing from the central battlefield merged with the fourth.

Before they could ascertain the situation, a burst of colorful gleam suddenly descended from the sky, and under this radiance, the Blood Sea around rapidly vanished as though thoroughly evaporated.

Chapter 1602 - The Arrival of the Dancing Girl

The colorful lights were like a cloud of stardust, spreading out and covering a vast area. Wherever the light reached, the Blood Sea dissolved, revealing the concealed battlefield.

The four Blood Race Sun Blazes who had just gathered together hadn't had time to react to what happened. They saw the stardust approaching, hastily urging blood light to protect themselves.

Strangely, the colorful stardust seemed to ignore the blood light and directly invaded their bodies.

In the next moment, the four Sun Blazes changed color simultaneously because they were horrified to find their bodies were somewhat out of control.

"What's going on!" One of the Blood Race expressed a mixture of shock and doubt.

Another Blood Race person looked up, and saw the massive, colorful butterfly star beast. At this moment, the huge butterfly star beast was gently flapping its wings, silently gliding deep into the battlefield.

"The Dancing Girl!" the Blood Race Sun Blaze immediately recognized the butterfly star beast, and was utterly shocked.

The other Sun Blazes clearly saw the butterfly star beast too, each feeling as if they had lost their parents!

As Sun Blaze powerhouses, few star beasts in this stellar space posed a threat to them. Even star beasts with Sun Blaze cultivation usually couldn't compare with each tribe's cultivators in combat techniques.

But some star beasts were different. These star beasts had lived in stellar space for untold years, each possessing mysterious Divine Skills. Normally, even Sun Blaze powerhouses would avoid them.

Fortunately, most of these star beasts don't easily cause slaughter, so as long as you avoid them, there won't be much of a problem.

Such star beasts that have lived for countless years and can even threaten Sun Blazes are basically ancient species!

The Dancing Girl is among them.

The Blood Race's Sun Blazes were aware of the Dancing Girl's existence because not long ago, they had discovered its whereabouts. It had been injured in a confrontation with some powerful entity, then it came to this stellar space and lay low on a desolate planet to heal.

Under normal circumstances, such a healing process would last for decades or even centuries, so although the Blood Race Sun Blazes discovered the Dancing Girl's tracks, they didn't pay much attention. After all, as long as they didn't provoke it, it wouldn't do anything to the Blood Race.

But now, it had unexpectedly left the desolate planet where it was lying low and entered this battlefield!

"Why would the Dancing Girl show up here?" One Blood Race Sun Blaze asked in shock, and as he asked, his arms expanded and began to swing up and down along with the Dancing Girl's wing flaps. Not only were his arms swaying, but even his steps began to shift, looking like a dance step—truly befitting a Sun Blaze, he danced rather well.

"This makes no sense!" Another Sun Blaze also began to glide in dance, completely confused, unable to comprehend why the Dancing Girl, who should have been healing, would suddenly break into this battlefield.

"It's not a big deal!" The third Blood Race Sun Blaze spoke. Though the Dancing Girl's Innate Divine Ability was so mysterious even Sun Blazes like them couldn't resist, adding a bit of unpredictability to the battle, their cultivation was still profound. As long as they endured this period, they could naturally escape the Dancing Girl's influence.

Even the Blood Race Sun Blazes were dancing in the shadows, not to mention the other cultivators. At this moment, wherever the Dancing Girl passed, all Blood Race, Insect Race, and even human race cultivators were affected by her.

The Blood Sea didn't dissolve because it evaporated or anything. It was because those Blood Race members, under the Dancing Girl's influence, couldn't exert their full power, and the Blood Sea couldn't be maintained.

On the battleship, the group around Lu Ye started singing and dancing, and even Amber wasn't spared. Amber's tiger eyes were widened, swaying back and forth on the deck, looking confused.

Yiyi danced beautifully, her posture like a graceful elf, circling around Lu Ye. As she turned, she said in bewilderment, "Lu Ye, Lu Ye, I can't control myself."

Lu Ye admired the scene for a moment, nodded, and said, "It's okay, keep dancing!"

Turning his head, he saw everyone on the battleship moving their bodies. Shui Yuan was even dancing with Hua Ci. They faced each other, the panic reflected in their eyes, but their bodies were beyond their control.

Wan Guli, Tao Yan, and Zhou Xingzhi, who had experienced the butterfly star beast's power before, exchanged complicated glances among the lively crowd.

The last time they were affected by the butterfly star beast, they danced for a whole day, marking it as an indelible stain in their lives. They didn't dare recall it, let alone mention it.

Thankfully, after so long, they had gradually forgotten about that embarrassing event, but who would have thought... it's happening again! And this time, it wasn't just them. Almost half the battlefield's beings were impacted as the butterfly star beast continued to dive deeper, influencing more and more creatures.

Luan Xiao'e, not far from Lu Ye, was blushing. As a Moon Jade Late Stage, an important figure in the Jade Conch World, she somehow started dancing in this public setting, being watched by so many Jade Conch cultivators, which was utterly improper.

But looking around, not only was she dancing, everyone on the entire battleship was dancing. Outside the battleship, on the battlefield, both Insect Race and Blood Race were dancing, and even the Blood Race Sun Blazes couldn't escape this fate.

"Fellow Daoist Lu, what's happening?" Luan Xiao'e asked Lu Ye, her tone a bit strange, almost singing.

What she wanted to ask more was why Lu Ye wasn't affected. While almost everyone was in a dancing state, Lu Ye stood quietly, standing out like a crane among chickens.

"A good thing." Lu Ye replied. At first, facing the four Sun Blazes seemed like a certain death, but who would have thought the butterfly star beast would suddenly crash into the battlefield? Such a change was naturally a good thing.

"How is that considered a good thing!" Luan Xiao'e said bitterly, jumping up and surprisingly doing the splits right in front of Lu Ye!

She's truly deserving of being a Moon Jade Late Stage combat cultivator. Her body is incredibly flexible, and her legs formed a perfect line, beautifully long!

Lu Ye was stunned by the sight, while Luan Xiao'e's face turned crimson like blood, glaring at him fiercely as if warning him not to continue staring.

Lu Ye quickly withdrew his gaze, licked his lips, glanced in the direction of the four Blood Race Sun Blaze, suppressing the urge to take their lives right then, and turned his attention to the direction where the butterfly star beast flew.

"Is it the bone ocarina's effect?" Inside the Divine Sea, Lih Shang also sensed the changes outside and asked.

The bone ocarina was a treasure obtained from the Great Wheel of Fortune. Lu Ye initially didn't know its purpose, but during the journey back to the Nine Provinces, he and Lih Shang inadvertently discovered its function.

Its sound could attract star beasts near the stellar space.

As for the specific reason, Lu Ye wasn't sure, because every time he blew the bone ocarina, star beasts would come attacking.

He had witnessed butterfly star beast's eeriness firsthand, sensed its power as well, as it is a formidable entity rivaling the azure bird. Although it couldn't defeat the azure bird, just being able to contend with such a powerful force indicates that the butterfly star beast is exceptionally strong.

He knew that the butterfly star beast fled into this stellar space after being injured.

Thus, when the situation turned dire, Lu Ye took out the bone ocarina and blew it, hoping to lure the butterfly star beast.

But for a long time, nothing happened.

Lu Ye thought the butterfly star beast had already gone far away, or perhaps the sound of the bone ocarina was ineffective against it.

Unexpectedly, it suddenly appeared at this moment, turning the already chaotic battlefield into complete chaos!

However, Lu Ye couldn't be sure if the butterfly star beast came by chance or was truly attracted by the sound of the bone ocarina.

With the four Blood Race Sun Blaze singing and dancing on the side, posing no immediate threat, he could temporarily ignore them. He now needed to quickly verify the butterfly star beast's reason for being here; if it was indeed drawn by the bone ocarina's sound, then there was much opportunity!

Under Lu Ye's close attention, wherever the butterfly star beast passed, the Blood Sea completely dissolved.

In just a brief moment, the butterfly star beast stopped in a certain area, softly flapped its wings and no longer moved forward.

Lu Ye felt a surge of joy!

He could confirm that the butterfly star beast was indeed attracted by the sound of the bone ocarina because the place it stopped was precisely where he had previously put away the ocarina.

The butterfly star beast clearly sensed the ocarina's aura or determined that the ocarina's sound last appeared here, so that's why it stayed!

Realizing this, Lu Ye soared into the sky, heading straight in a direction.

The decisive factor in the battle is the Sun Blaze, and with the four singing and dancing Blood Race Sun Blaze posing no immediate concern, as long as Bai Jin and the two Insect Race Sun Blaze are dealt with, victory is assured!

However, for him, as a Constellation, to deal with a Sun Blaze is a mere fantasy; he could only rely on the butterfly star beast's strength.

His speed was extremely fast, and to reach the predetermined location as quickly as possible, he even spurred his own depletion, activating the Brazen Plundering Technique.

Within half the time it takes to drink a cup of tea, Lu Ye reached a spot on the battlefield.

Looking from this vantage point forward is the battlefield where Ning Bu'ao and others are, along with Bai Jin; amid the battlefield is a Blood Sea that Bai Jin had stirred up, within which six 6th Dao Sun Blaze auras were distinct, but the aura belonging to Ning Bu'ao and others evidently showed signs of strain.

After all, fighting against the enemy within the Blood Sea naturally lacks a geographical advantage, and earlier, Ning Bu'ao and three others had to deal with six Sun Blaze, how could they be opponents?

If not for the three Blood Race Sun Blaze being drawn away by Sacred Blood, Ning Bu'ao and others' situation would be direr.

Looking past this Sun Blaze battlefield, further ahead is the butterfly star beast's resting place, meaning Lu Ye, the six Sun Blaze battlefield, and the butterfly star beast are aligned on the same line!

Once the location was confirmed, Lu Ye immediately took out the bone ocarina, placed it at his mouth, stirred his breath, and gently blew it while watching the butterfly star beast.

As the bone ocarina's deep sound echoed, the butterfly star beast that lingered there in the stellar space suddenly started moving, its wings slightly fluttering, swiftly heading towards Lu Ye.

In the six Sun Blaze battlefield, Bai Jin's voice suddenly echoed in panic, "The Dancing Girl is coming, quick, dodge!"

Chapter 1603 - Here You Go, Here You Go

The sudden arrival of the butterfly star beast on the battlefield caused such a significant change. Even though Bai Jin and others were engaged in fierce combat, they noticed it. No one knew why the Dancing Girl suddenly barged in, but as one of the Blood Race Sun Blaze mentioned, the intrusion of the Dancing Girl did indeed bring some variables to the battlefield, but it wasn't a big problem. As long as the time limit expired, the Blood Race Sun Blaze could shake off the Dancing Girl's influence and unleash a massacre.

Their cultivation was deeper, so they would naturally break free faster.

Moreover, the Dancing Girl hadn't entered the battlefield where Bai Jin and others were, so while Bai Jin was somewhat uneasy, he wasn't panicked.

But now, things were different. The Dancing Girl was charging straight at them!

Bai Jin's shouts reached Lu Ye's ears, and only then did he realize the butterfly star beast was called the Dancing Girl. Although he didn't know if this was its real name, considering its divine skill power, it was fitting.

Lu Ye hurriedly shouted, "Fellow Daoists, entangle them!"

He had managed to lure the Dancing Girl here with great difficulty, intending to take out these Sun Blaze as well. How could he let them escape?

There was no need for Lu Ye to shout. Ning Bu'ao, Li Guan, and Luo Xie, though also extremely wary of the Dancing Girl's power, found the battlefield itself was already greatly unfavorable to them. The variables brought by the Dancing Girl's intrusion were something they eagerly hoped for. At this moment, Bai Jin and the two Insect Race Sun Blaze wanted to escape, how could they allow it?

So even though each had injuries, they still fought desperately to entangle the three enemy Sun Blaze. For a time, Bai Jin and the two Insect Race Sun Blaze couldn't escape at all, watching helplessly as the Dancing Girl broke into the Blood Sea and the Blood Sea melted, and everyone ceased their weapons, starting to dance.

Bai Jin swayed his arms with the vibration of the Dancing Girl's wings, looking towards Lu Ye with a mix of doubt and realization. It wasn't until now that he partly realized that the Dancing Girl's intrusion seemed not to be accidental, as her target seemed to be Lu Yiye of Nine Heavens, and it all started after he blew a bone ocarina!

What exactly was that bone ocarina that could attract such an interest from an ancient species like the Dancing Girl? But in the current situation, there was no way to investigate.

The six Sun Blaze who were originally locked in relentless battle also joined the singing and dancing crowd, each with different expressions.

Though Bai Jin and the two Insect Race Sun Blaze couldn't avoid the Dancing Girl, they weren't panicked, because once they broke free of her influence, they could continue the battle and maintain their advantage.

Ning Bu'ao and others seized this opportunity to hurriedly contemplate countermeasures. In the present situation, the allied forces of the four galaxies were already doomed unless more Sun Blaze from their side joined the battlefield, but such a thing was impossible.

So their best choice was to quickly escape from here and preserve their strength. Beixuan's Chen Zong was already dead, Tranquil Moon's Bai Jin was a Blood Race imposter, and if the three of them died here too, the four galaxies would suffer a substantial loss. Even if the remaining Sun Blaze gathered together, they might not be a match for the Insect Race and the Blood Race.

But now, being out of control, everyone was like puppet-like marionettes, making the thought of escape seem almost impossible.

On the other side, Lu Ye was flying rapidly, with the Dancing Girl following a short distance behind, gently flapping her wings. No matter how fast Lu Ye flew, he couldn't shake her off.

This was precisely in line with Lu Ye's intentions!

He purposely charged toward areas still shrouded by the Blood Sea, leading the Dancing Girl to break into the Blood Sea.

After this round, the massive battlefield was no longer tinged with blood. All creatures on the battlefield, whether human or Insect Race Blood Race, regardless of their cultivation level, were affected by the Dancing Girl.

This was indeed a rare sight. Tens of thousands of beings sang and danced on this battlefield, surrounded by a drift of remains and scattered meat, creating a scene both bizarre and horrific.

Gazing at his work, Lu Ye felt a strange emotion. Back when he was about to leave the Thousand Mounds Cemetery, and the Dancing Girl swept from the rear, he was relieved that the fleet had dodged quickly, avoiding being affected, or the sight of five hundred constellations singing and dancing would have been unseemly.

Now, what was meant to happen had finally happened. It wasn't just five hundred constellations, but tens of thousands, including Moon Jade and Sun Blaze.

Everyone was absorbed in dancing, leaving no energy for battling. As the only one unaffected by the Dancing Girl, Lu Ye was feeling a bit distressed.

No matter how he flew, the Dancing Girl remained behind him.

Even though he stopped playing the bone ocarina and had put it away, he still couldn't shake off the Dancing Girl.

Moreover, the aura of the Dancing Girl began to change subtly, and Lu Ye vaguely sensed that it was growing impatient.

His heart pounding, Lu Ye had no choice but to stop and turn to face the pursuing Dancing Girl, spreading his hands, "I don't have it anymore, stop chasing me!"

As an ancient species, Lu Ye believed it could understand his words.

But the gigantic Dancing Girl merely stared at him, its aura suddenly becoming dangerous, and the vibrant colors on its wings grew even brighter, with dust scattering and enveloping Lu Ye.

Lu Ye only felt the fuel of his Talent Tree being consumed rapidly, the firelight of the whole tree almost being covered by black smoke.

Feeling the Dancing Girl's intent, Lu Ye sighed, ultimately unable to keep the bone ocarina, and could only take it out and toss it towards the Dancing Girl, "It's yours, there you go!"

The dust whirled, enveloping the bone ocarina. The Dancing Girl flapped her wings and, in an instant, was tens of thousands of miles away. When Lu Ye turned to look, it was already just a small dot of light.

It's unclear what the bone ocarina really is, but it even attracted an ancient species like the Dancing Girl. Judging by the Dancing Girl's demeanor, no matter what it is, it must be useful to it, especially since the Dancing Girl was injured in a struggle with the azure bird before. Perhaps the bone ocarina can heal it, which is why it was relentlessly chasing after me.

Now that it has the bone ocarina, the Dancing Girl naturally left satisfied.

Although it felt a bit painful, truth be told, the bone ocarina was only a treasure obtained from the Great Wheel of Fortune. Once Lu Ye realized its purpose, he kept it hidden away, not intending to use it again.

After all, who would risk summoning a star beast for nothing? If one that's unbeatable comes, it would be courting death.

Using it this way to alter the course of a battle, allowing our side to turn the tide and win, was surely worth it!

Wasting no time, Lu Ye activated his spirit force, and under his feet, the Void Spirit Runes appeared, disappearing instantly from where he stood.

When he reappeared, he was at the center of the battlefield.

Before leaving, he had deliberately left an element of weapon control here to ensure a quick return. On the previous battleship, he had done the same.

At this moment, the six Sun Blazes were still moving their bodies here, and not only that, they were verbally sparring as well.

When Lu Ye arrived, he caught a few sentences, roughly White Jin trying to make Ning Bu'ao and others blood slaves. As a result, Ning Bu'ao and others not only sternly refused but also cursed him thoroughly.

White Jin wasn't angry, as the situation favored the Blood Race and Insect Race. They just needed to wait for the influence of the Dancing Girl to wane before continuing the previous battle.

Lu Ye's sudden return made the six Sun Blazes pause, as they had all witnessed the Dancing Girl chasing him away. None of them expected that a Constellation could evade the pursuit of the Dancing Girl; even if he were not dead, he would surely be affected by the Dancing Girl's Divine Skills.

Who would have thought Lu Ye would return unharmed!

Ning Bu'ao and others were overjoyed. Luo Xie shouted, "Young Friend Lu, quickly kill them!"

In a situation where no one could control their own bodies, Lu Ye, the only one able to move freely, undoubtedly possessed significant intimidation.

White Jin and the two Insect Race Sun Blazes' faces darkened. They thought that this minor incident wouldn't affect the battle's course. Who knew there would still be one person on this massive battlefield unaffected by the Dancing Girl!

"Exactly what I had in mind!" Lu Ye responded, charging directly toward White Jin, the Boulder Mountain Saber roaring out of its sheath!

"How dare you!" White Jin was bouncing around, glaring angrily at Lu Ye and shouting fiercely.

Lu Ye turned a deaf ear, the saber light dazzling, slashing at his neck!

Under normal circumstances, such a slash could never affect a Sun Blaze; even a casual Mana shield could let Lu Ye's effort be in vain, but now White Jin couldn't even control his body, let alone mobilize his Mana.

This slash hit straight on White Jin's neck, sending him flying in the opposite direction with immense force. Only Lu Ye's quick reflexes kept him in place by grabbing him.

Yet this slash's effect made Lu Ye frown slightly because even with the Divine Sharp Edge augmenting the Boulder Mountain Saber, it merely made a small cut on White Jin's neck!

The strength of a Sun Blaze's physique exceeded Lu Ye's expectations.

In the past, when he hadn't obtained the barghest, he struggled to harm the body of the Moon Jade Late Stage of the Blood Race. Ultimately, it was through Lih Shang causing a soul battle and annihilating the opponent's psyche that victory was achieved. Now, even with the barghest and having deduced the Divine Sharp Edge Spirit Runes, he experienced that sense of powerlessness once more!

The Sun Blaze and Moon Jade are truly on different levels. While Lu Ye's killing power has greatly increased, the enemy's physique has also become much stronger than before.

With just one slash, White Jin became even angrier, "Boy, once I'm free, I'll be the first to take your life!"

To think that he, a dignified Sun Blaze, wasn't even injured in the previous struggle, yet was now slashed by a Constellation! Though it's only a flesh wound that can be ignored, such humiliation is unbearable for this Sun Blaze.

"If you have the life to survive, then talk!" Lu Ye's expression was calm, his Mental Consciousness surging, "Lih Shang, help me!"

In the Divine Sea, Lih Shang immediately performed the Soul Possession Technique. Visibly, a female silhouette appeared on Lu Ye's body, merging with him in a plunge.

In an instant, Lu Ye's aura surged!

Another slash was delivered.

This strike was undoubtedly more damaging than the last, yet for White Jin, it was still just a flesh wound!

White Jin sneered endlessly, "With your cultivation, even if I stand here and let you slash me, you still can't kill me. This mere injury can easily be healed with my physique!"

Chapter 1604 - Hacked to Death Alive

Bai Jin's words were not just empty boasting; they were the truth. The Sun Blaze warriors possess an extraordinary resilient physique, their blood Qi is abundant, and even such injuries could heal in the blink of an eye just by relying on the recuperative power of their own bodies, without using any additional power.

That's why he boasted that even if he stood still and allowed Lu Ye to hack at him, Lu Ye still couldn't kill him, because any wound inflicted by Lu Ye would quickly heal. A Constellation could never expand the injury to a level that threatens a Sun Blaze's life, unless they could exhaust his life force.

But the Dancing Girl's influence was limited in time, so how could such a minor wound exhaust Bai Jin's life force?

After he finished speaking, Bai Jin suddenly felt something was amiss, as the wound that should have healed rapidly seemed to be impeded by some power and did not heal immediately, leaving him somewhat astonished.

Only the power of another Sun Blaze could ever affect the recovery of the Sun Blaze's body, which meant that Lu Ye as a Constellation Realm cultivator shouldn't be able to accomplish this.

In fact, the force affecting Bai Jin's wound recovery wasn't Lu Ye's power, but rather the power of the barghest!

As a member of the Combat Race, the barghest possessed numerous peculiar abilities, with the internal Azure Hall allowing Lu Ye to receive inheritances left by predecessors, honing his saber skills. The barghest itself was not only extremely sharp but also had a tearing ability.

The wounds inflicted by it were enveloped by a peculiar force that made healing difficult. Lu Ye could even control this force using the barghest to exacerbate the wounds.

It could be said that if Bai Jin and Lu Ye were both Constellations, even a small wound from the barghest could be expanded by Lu Ye to tear the enemy's body apart.

The effect was somewhat less against Moon Jade, and even worse against Sun Blaze.

Otherwise, Lu Ye could have easily used the barghest to rapidly expand that wound, causing Bai Jin to die on the spot.

How much power the barghest could exert depended entirely on Lu Ye's level of cultivation. Once the Combat Race recognized its master, its inherent abilities would gradually enhance or unlock as the combat cultivator's strength grew, as every Combat Race member was a top-tier treasure due to having existed for countless ages.

Even though it couldn't make Bai Jin die on the spot, the barghest's power was still effective, preventing Bai Jin's wound from healing quickly.

The second strike was stronger than the first, and while Bai Jin was a bit surprised, he still wasn't panicked. If Lu Ye could only exert such power, it would be very difficult to kill him in a short period, though given enough time, it might be possible to cut off his head due to the lack of rapid wound recovery.

Ning Bu'ao and the others watched anxiously, their hearts racing. They initially thought Lu Ye could turn the tide after seeing he wasn't affected by the Dancing Girl, but in their excitement, they overlooked the vast gap in cultivation between Lu Ye and Bai Jin.

Realizing that Lu Ye's strength made it difficult to kill Bai Jin in a short time, Luo Xie shouted, "Young friend, quickly go to Indeterminate to send a warning!"

It was a good opportunity, and Lu Ye was free to move. With no one to stop him, he only needed to leave the battlefield for Indeterminate, where information could be relayed, allowing for preparation in advance.

Lu Ye paid no heed, simply staring deeply at Bai Jin before him.

Bai Jin felt a sudden jolt in his heart, an inexplicable sense of unease arising.

The next moment, he saw Lu Ye shrouded in a burst of blood light, forming into a Blood Orb that enveloped his figure.

"Blood Path Secret Technique?" Bai Jin felt a twinge of doubt, not knowing why Lu Ye was deploying a Blood Path Secret Technique at this moment. Exhibiting a Blood Path Secret Technique in front of the Blood Race seemed rather like showing off one's inferior skills in front of an expert.

But immediately following that, a powerful and intense saintliness enveloped him, causing Bai Jin, who was moving inside the Blood Orb, to turn pale and cry out in astonishment.

With this cry, his aura suddenly plummeted significantly. Although it hadn't fallen below the Sun Blaze level, it could barely maintain Sun Blaze standards.

Within the Blood Orb, Lu Ye abruptly reversed his grip on the Boulder Mountain Saber, his other hand gripping the sword sheath, then assuming a bizarre stance.

The next moment, his form began to spin, and as it rotated, the Boulder Mountain Saber ferociously and swiftly slashed toward Bai Jin's neck.

The fierce slashing deepened Bai Jin's wound further. He grimaced in pain, a slight frown appearing. But rather than the injury itself, what frightened him more was Lu Ye's current exhibition of saintliness!

Another slash followed, faster and stronger than the one before.

Third slash...

Fourth slash...

Lu Ye's spinning motion quickened, his entire form blurring, and a whirlwind of blades whipped up around him.

Great Windmill!

Having only experienced the Praying Mantis's Twin Sabers Secret Technique once, yet having battled with Praying Mantis long enough to grasp some of its essence, he was deploying it—certainly not with the grace and fluidity of the Praying Mantis, but he's getting there.

The only difference was that he didn't have twin blades but used a sword sheath as a substitute, so the power of the Twin Sabers Secret Technique wasn't as formidable, achieving only half its potential.

In normal circumstances, Lu Ye wouldn't dare use such a technique in combat, as it was akin to offering his flaws to the enemy.

But using it at this moment was perfectly fitting; with Bai Jin unable to fight back and possessing the physique of the Sun Blaze, where could one find a better target than this?

Blood splattered, accompanied by Bai Jin's scream.

The two Sun Blaze Insects and Ning Bu'ao's group had no idea what was happening inside the Blood Orb, but based on Bai Jin's screams, his situation seemed quite dire.

Could a Constellation realm really cut down a Sun Blaze? Such a strange thought floated in everyone's mind.

However, within that Blood Orb, Lu Ye's aura was clearly growing stronger, whereas Bai Jin's was rapidly weakening.

Ordinarily, with such a strike, Bai Jin would be sent flying due to the impact, but being trapped and bound by the Blood Orb, he could only remain in place.

For three breaths, Lu Ye didn't know how many times he slashed, until with the final strike, the resistance on the blade suddenly lessened.

At the same time, Lu Ye clearly felt the sensation of his own flesh tearing inside.

Among the many inheritances of the barghest, none were without great burden to oneself, especially the Twin Sabers Secret Technique of Praying Mantis. This was Lu Ye's first time performing it, and he dared not hold back at all against a target like a Sun Blaze.

Exerting too much force this time caused significant damage to his own flesh and blood.

Under the watchful eyes of several Sun Blaze powerhouses around, the Blood Orb enveloping Lu Ye and Bai Jin suddenly contracted, revealing the two figures within.

Lu Ye still held his saber in a reverse grip, one hand with the sword sheath, standing quietly there. But at this moment, his entire body was steaming with blood Qi, his spirit force boiling, and his exposed skin, even his face, was flushed a deep red.

It was clearly a sign of enormous exertion.

Not far in front of him, Bai Jin's body was rigid, staring at Lu Ye in horror, with eyes wide open.

Yet he wasn't moving at all at this moment.

The two Sun Blazes of the Insect Race saw this and were immediately overwhelmed with feelings.

Suddenly, a burst of blood light, and blood gushed from Bai Jin's neck, his entire head soaring high!

Sun Blaze... was slain!

The two Sun Blazes of the Insect Race were tremendously shocked, and their expressions changed visibly when looking at Lu Ye again.

Ning Bu'ao and the others were overjoyed; what they thought was an impossible task had unexpectedly been accomplished by Lu Ye.

To slay a Sun Blaze with a Constellation Realm body, even if the Sun Blaze couldn't fight back, was unimaginable.

Yet now, it happened right before their eyes.

Luo Xie shouted, "Young friend, keep killing, kill them all, hahaha!"

This was truly a twist of fate. Initially, they thought they were doomed, until first, a Dancing Girl intruded upon the battlefield and disrupted the fight, and now Lu Yiye of Nine Heavens emerged, turning the tide.

Lu Ye didn't take long to kill Bai Jin, so as long as he continued, killed the two Insect Race Sun Blazes, and then dealt with the remaining four Blood Race Sun Blazes, then once the Dancing Girl's influence wanes, the three Sun Blazes on their side could slaughter freely. By then, no matter how many Insect Race or Blood Race were there, they wouldn't suffice to withstand.

Lu Ye didn't move, nor did he respond, remaining in that posture.

It wasn't that he didn't want to move, he simply couldn't! He underestimated the aftereffects of performing the Great Windmill. Although there were no obvious changes on the surface, most of his flesh had already ruptured. Not to mention performing the Great Windmill again, he couldn't even exert half of his usual strength.

Moreover, one significant reason he could kill Bai Jin was the suppression of saintliness.

Against the Insect Race, saintliness had no effect, and the carapaces of the Insect Race were much more formidable in defense compared to the Blood Race.

Luo Xie urged again, and seeing Lu Ye still unmoving, he immediately realized something was wrong with Lu Ye's condition, and his heart sank.

Currently on the battlefield, they only had three Sun Blazes, and even with one Bai Jin down, the enemy still had six. If the gap couldn't be closed quickly, they would be doomed once freed from the Dancing Girl's influence.

Luo Xie couldn't help but sigh, today's battle was truly an emotional rollercoaster. Initially, they thought they had a winning strategy, but the appearance of Bai Jin brought it all crashing down, encircled by the Blood Race and pushed to a dangerous brink. Then the Dancing Girl burst onto the scene, disrupting the combat, and Lu Yiye's powerful slaying of Bai Jin gave them hope.

Now that hope was shattered once again.

The ups and downs of life were experienced several times that day by Luo Xie and the others, even the temperament as resilient as a Sun Blaze could barely endure.

It was only after dozens of breaths that Lu Ye slowly exhaled, moved his body gently, sheathed the Boulder Mountain Saber, and then looked at Ning Bu'ao and the others, "Which of you has the greatest Power of Killing?"

Although he had a guess, he still needed to confirm.

Ning Bu'ao and the others didn't know why Lu Ye suddenly asked this, but they replied, "If it's about Power of Killing, it naturally belongs to Junior Sister Li Guan!"

This was just what Lu Ye thought. A sword cultivator's killing prowess was always the strongest, Ning Bu'ao seemed to be a physique cultivator, while Luo Xie appeared to be a magic cultivator.

Lu Ye nodded, activated his spirit force, and swept towards Li Guan. Soon he reached her, and under her puzzled gaze, placed a palm on her shoulder.

Chapter 1605 - An Unfathomable Accident

The four eyes met, and Lu Ye spoke: "This is the first time I'm using this ability, it might cause some pain, so please endure it!"

He couldn't kill all the Sun Blaze on his own; he had to rely on the Blood Race's saintliness to suppress Bai Jin, who had no power to resist, and then activate the Great Windmill, a Twin Sabers Secret Technique, to decapitate him. Over here are two Insect Race Sun Blaze, and over there, four Blood Race...

He didn't know how long it would take to kill them. Lu Ye wasn't sure how long the Dancing Girl's Divine Skills would affect the Sun Blaze, but Wan Guliu and others were only affected for one day. They were Constellations and managed to break free within a day, let alone the Sun Blaze.

The Dancing Girl's Divine Skills on these Sun Blaze are estimated not to last more than one hour, and now a half-hour has already passed; the Sun Blaze could free themselves at any time.

Therefore, Lu Ye thought it would be better to leave the task of killing the Sun Blaze to another Sun Blaze expert. Li Guan's Power of Killing was the strongest; she was undoubtedly the most suitable candidate.

The Talent Tree can incinerate the power that the Dancing Girl invades the body, and after the third metamorphosis of the Talent Tree, this power of incineration can now be applied to others.

Lu Ye had realized this a long time ago; when he helped Yaya incinerate the Soul-Devouring Aphid in the Divine Sea was his first attempt.

However, that was in the Divine Sea, and now the target is Li Guan's body—indeed, it's the first time, and Lu Ye wasn't sure how effective it would be. The only certainty was that Li Guan wouldn't feel good, as the power of incineration from the Talent Tree, while incinerating the Dancing Girl's power, would certainly cause some damage to her body.

Li Guan was puzzled, but as Lu Ye performed, she clearly felt a scorching power spreading from Lu Ye's palm, invading her body.

Normally, the spirit force of a Constellation couldn't possibly invade a Sun Blaze's body, but Li Guan couldn't control herself at the moment and couldn't activate her mana, making the invasion possible.

Feeling the purity and immensity of that spirit force, Li Guan couldn't help but be moved. Without experiencing it herself, it was hard to believe a Constellation could refine their spirit force to such an extent.

When she was in the Constellation Realm, the degree of refining on spirit force was far less than Lu Ye at this moment.

The strongest Constellation of her domain, Xu Dingyang, had been defeated by Lu Ye; she had heard Kang Cheng mention it before. She knew Lu Ye was much stronger than Xu Dingyang, but knowing is one thing, seeing is another. Until this moment...

With such pure and vast spirit force, it's no wonder Xu Dingyang was defeated, not to mention herself when she was in the Late Stage of the Constellation, she would definitely not be a match for Lu Yiye of Nine Heavens.

Various thoughts flashed through her mind, and Li Guan's expression started to turn from surprise to suspicion.

Because as Lu Ye's spirit force invaded, she actually noticed something burning inside her body, gradually alleviating the uncontrollable anomaly, though not enough to regain control, it was indeed changing.

She suddenly showed surprise in her eyes, finally realizing what Lu Ye was doing.

He was actually helping her expel the Dancing Girl's power! To describe it as expelling is not quite accurate; a more straightforward feeling is incineration.

The power Lu Ye invaded her with was a flame, the Dancing Girl's power was ice, and as the fire passed, the ice began to melt.

She had been somewhat puzzled before; on the battlefield with so many beings, whether human race, insect race, or blood race, whether Sun Blaze, Moon Jade, or Constellation, all were affected by the Dancing Girl's power—why was Lu Ye the exception?

She thought he was just lucky, unaffected by the Dancing Girl's power. But now it appears it's not luck; he has the power that can restrain the Dancing Girl's power!

But such a thing...how could it be possible?

Not even many Sun Blaze on the battlefield could resist the strange power of the Dancing Girl; how can a Constellation restrain it?

But now it appears he can not only restrain it himself but also help others dissolve it!

Clearly feeling it, Lu Ye was obviously controlling his power, not daring to be too fierce, because that flame was incinerating the Dancing Girl's strange power while also causing his blood and flesh some damage, making Li Guan feel pain.

She immediately spoke: "No need to be concerned, act with full force!"

With a body of a Sun Blaze, how could she not endure such pain?

Lu Ye, hearing this, also knew this was no time for concern; even if he really caused some damage to Li Guan, he had to quickly restore her to action—without hesitation, exerting the full power of the Talent Tree.

The flame invading Li Guan's body immediately burned fiercely!

As strong as Li Guan, she couldn't help but let out a muffled groan, a flush appearing on her face.

Ning Bu'ao and Luo Xie watched from a distance. At first, they were unsure of what Lu Ye was doing, but as they continued observing, smiles began to appear on their faces.

Because Li Guan, who had been dancing with them, started to move more slowly, and within less than half a cup of tea's time, Li Guan completely stopped moving.

This was undoubtedly the sign that he had escaped the influence of the Dancing Girl!

The eyes of the two Insect Race Sun Blaze watchers almost popped out, eager to flee but found their bodies unresponsive!

Once he was able to control himself, Li Guan nodded slightly to Lu Ye with gratitude: "Thank you for your help, young friend!"

As he finished speaking, the clear sound of sword singing suddenly rang out, and Li Guan seemed to transform into a sharp sword. He instantly merged with the sword, and the sword light, capable of tearing through stellar space, rushed towards one of the Insect Race Sun Blaze.

The cold sword light swept past the Insect Race Sun Blaze and dispersed nearby, revealing Li Guan's figure, holding the longsword downward at an angle, but at the sword's tip, there was a drop of undispersed blood.

But the body of the Insect Race suddenly turned stiff. Under the horrified gaze of its companion, a speck of blood light appeared at the center of its brow, and its vitality quickly dissipated!

Li Guan did not strike again but focused on calming his breath. Lu Ye's earlier reckless exertion caused her mana to become chaotic, her body suffered not insignificant damage, and in addition to her previous injuries, executing this strike with full force left her exhausted. She needed to rest a bit to muster another strike.

Ning Bu'ao and Luo Xie were dumbstruck. Although they had expected this when Li Guan gradually escaped the Dancing Girl's control, witnessing it first-hand was still shocking and thrilling.

Luo Xie shouted, "Young friend, come help me quickly!"

Where could one find another chance to unabashedly slay powerful opponents of the same level? He had to quickly get Lu Ye to help him; otherwise, if he delayed, all the Sun Blaze on the battlefield would be killed by Li Guan.

Luo Xie regretted deeply, realizing that if he had volunteered when Lu Ye asked earlier, he wouldn't be in this situation now.

Just as Luo Xie finished speaking, Ning Bu'ao's voice followed: "Young friend, ignore him. As a delicate magic cultivator, what can he accomplish? Come help me first; since we're both combat cultivators, we should look after each other!"

Luo Xie's nose was twisted with rage. Despite his age, he wasn't delicate in any sense, and Ning Bu'ao, in his haste to free himself, shamelessly invoked their shared combat cultivator status, a boldness he hadn't shown before.

Lu Ye flew towards Ning Bu'ao, not because they were both combat cultivators, but simply because Ning Bu'ao was closer. While manipulating his spirit force to aid Ning Bu'ao, Lu Ye didn't forget to shout to Luo Xie, "Senior Luo, please wait a moment, I'll be right there!"

Luo Xie sighed helplessly, realizing he might not get the chance to kill a Sun Blaze after all.

Li Guan was already free to move, and once Ning Bu'ao also escaped the Dancing Girl's influence, the remaining Sun Blaze on the battlefield wouldn't be enough for both of them to kill.

Although they were quite far from the other four Blood Race Sun Blaze, the ocular power of Sun Blaze was exceptionally strong, so they saw everything on this side clearly.

Originally, they were terrified after seeing Lu Ye slay Bai Jin, fearing they might be next. However, upon seeing Lu Ye's abnormal state afterward, the Blood Race Sun Blaze quickly understood that Lu Ye likely couldn't perform much more.

Just as their hearts settled, Li Guan suddenly moved freely and swiftly killed an Insect Race Sun Blaze!

Seeing Ning Bu'ao about to break free from the Dancing Girl's influence, several Blood Race Sun Blaze panicked. At that moment, they were all sitting ducks, helpless against any attack, unable to even dodge, and faced with murderous strikes from Sun Blaze-level opponents, their doom was certain!

Each of them felt aggrieved inside. Their Blood Race and the Insect Race had schemed for a full four centuries for the Indeterminate and other four galaxies.

The key part was having Bai Jin infiltrate Tranquil Moon and gain trust there, gradually advancing to Sun Blaze. Back then, Bai Jin was merely Moon Jade when he went to Tranquil Moon Galaxy.

To secretly cultivate Moon Jade into Sun Blaze, even though Bai Jin had the potential, would inevitably consume immense resources.

With great difficulty, Bai Jin advanced to Sun Blaze, stabilizing his position in Tranquil Moon, and their plot finally started down the right path.

Everything proceeded extremely smoothly. The insect hive seemed to drift here casually, but it was a deliberate plan; otherwise, with two Sun Blaze overseers, it couldn't linger so blatantly outside a galaxy like Indeterminate.

Things developed as the plan from the two races predicted. Many experts from the four galaxies came to besiege, and by consuming this batch of experts, the foundations of the four galaxies would be greatly diminished. By then, with their victory momentum, they could strike Indeterminate, secure it, and gradually devour the other three galaxies, the grand plan was within reach!

If nothing unexpected happened, the four galaxies would belong to the Insect Race and Blood Race in the future!

But unexpectedly, a surprising, incredible accident occurred.

Chapter 1606 - Quite a Heavy Debt of Gratitude

The Dancing Girl inexplicably barged into the battlefield, and the entire battlefield's lifeforms were eroded by her power, except for one human who remained unaffected. If it were just about that, it would be insignificant, as a lone Constellation human couldn't change the course of this battle.

But he actually possessed the ability to help others break free!

Now Li Guan had already been liberated, having slain an Insect Race Sun Blaze, and next was Ning Bu'ao...

Several Blood Race Sun Blazes already knew the tide had turned; their hearts were filled with reluctance but there was nothing they could do.

They couldn't understand why the Dancing Girl would intrude at such a time, this little incident turned four hundred years of planning by the two races into nothing.

Lu Ye was still busy helping Ning Bu'ao burn away the bizarre power of the Dancing Girl, while Li Guan struck again, slaying the second Insect Race Sun Blaze.

Just like the first time, after striking, she began to regulate her breath, seemingly still recovering from severe injuries sustained during the previous battle.

In less than half a cup of tea's time, Ning Bu'ao regained his full consciousness, and immediately his figure darted out, charging towards where the four Blood Race Sun Blazes gathered, his voice carrying from afar: "Young Friend, I, Ning Bu'ao, owe you my life!"

Without delay, Lu Ye darted over to Luo Xie.

Luo Xie eagerly watched as Ning Bu'ao, who had charged to the side of the four Blood Race Sun Blazes, displayed his prowess with savage ferocity, a look of envy on his face.

In the blink of an eye, the aura of a strong adversary faded over there, indicating a Blood Race Sun Blaze had clearly fallen to Ning Bu'ao's deadly hands.

Ever since Bai Jin was exposed as a Blood Race member and assassinated Chen Zong, Ning Bu'ao and the others had been constantly suppressed. As a physique cultivator, he was almost beaten to death by enemy Sun Blazes; now was the time to finally shine, so how could he hold back?

By the time Li Guan had finished regulating her breath, nearly all four Blood Race Sun Blazes had been driven to extinction by Ning Bu'ao.

Li Guan glanced over, her body following the path of her sword, beginning to dart around the battlefield. As her silhouette passed, the sword light shone brilliantly, and the Blood Race and Insect Race members fell one by one in terror.

Under normal circumstances, as a Sun Blaze, she would rarely trouble even a Moon Jade or Constellation, but here on the battlefield, anyone not of the human race was an enemy, making it no place for personal principles or soft-heartedness.

In this battle, the cultivators of the four galaxies suffered heavy losses, just as the Blood Race and Insect Race did not show mercy when they slaughtered the human race before.

After Ning Bu'ao dealt with those four Blood Race Sun Blazes, he too took action. The two Sun Blazes were like two blazing suns, while the Insect Race and Blood Race were like snowflakes, quickly melting wherever the sunshine reached.

Luo Xie was anxious, suppressing his body's discomfort, and said, "Young Friend, please hurry up."

He feared that if he made a move again, all the enemies would be killed; there were no more Sun Blazes to slay, but taking out some Moon Jades would do. Otherwise, he wouldn't be able to release his pent-up frustration.

"Alright!" Lu Ye responded, his own spirit force surging even more vigorously.

Luo Xie's expression became somewhat twisted, mainly because it hurt too much, his whole body felt like it was being roasted over a fire. Yet the effect was remarkable as he gradually regained control over himself.

Soon, Luo Xie laughed heartily, "This old man is here!"

The third Sun Blaze joined the ranks of the slaughter!

Lu Ye watched the three figures creating carnage on the battlefield, and slowly exhaled. When Ning Bu'ao killed those Blood Race Sun Blazes, victory was already decided. Without Sun Blazes to preside, no matter how many Insect Race and Blood Race members there were, they couldn't withstand the slaughter from their side's Sun Blazes.

The three Sun Blazes seemed to kill wherever they went, though there was a pattern; they prioritized slaying Moon Jades without a doubt.

However, the Moon Jades on the entire battlefield were limited, and the majority were Constellations, so soon the Insect Race and Blood Race's Moon Jades were all cleanly killed.

Lu Ye returned to the battleship and plopped down, his face slightly pale.

The burst of power from slaying Bai Jin took a heavy toll on his body, the lacerations to his flesh were secondary, mainly the damage from the massive exertion internally and externally. Such damage wasn't serious but would require at least a day or two of rest for recovery.

"Lu Ye!" Yiyi called while jumping, looking at Lu Ye pitifully, her voice sounded like she was coquettish.

Not only was she looking at Lu Ye, but everyone on the battleship was also watching him. After all, continuously jumping like this wasn't ideal. If Lu Ye could help the three Sun Blazes break free, he could naturally lend a hand to them as well.

Lu Ye also sharply noticed Hua Ci's gaze appeared somewhat dangerous, as if she was saying if he didn't help her break free soon, things would look bad for him.

He quickly explained, "It's not that I won't help, but that method would cause considerable damage to your bodies, so it's best not to try it lightly. Besides, the Dancing Girl's influence will only last a day, Old Wan and the others were fine after a day last time."

After all, with three Sun Blazes active in the battlefield, no one else needed to do anything more. Just by waiting, the three Sun Blazes would cleanly eliminate the enemies.

Also, as Lu Ye said, activating the Talent Tree's power would cause them some harm. Since they could break free in a day at most, it was better to wait quietly. Moreover, with so many people on the battleship, if Lu Ye had to help them one by one, before he could finish, the Dancing Girl's power would have naturally faded away.

"Are you sure of this?" Qian Wudang turned his head and looked at Wan Guliu, "Old Wan, have you experienced this before?"

Wan Guliu stammered awkwardly, "Ah? Um... uh-huh!" Immediately after, he betrayed the other two: "I don't know, ask Fellow Daoists Tao Yan and Zhou Xingzhi."

Not far away, Tao Yan and Zhou Xingzhi had a resentful look...

Everyone quickly realized that the three of them must have had such an experience last time due to being swept away by the stellar space geomagnetic storm, otherwise, it wouldn't be such a coincidence that it was the three of them.

But no one would willingly bring up such an embarrassing event, and now it was clear that no one was laughing at anyone else. Each member of the Three Worlds fleet had experienced it at least once.

The strongest and usually most imposing Luan Xiao'e had even performed a split for Lu Ye...

Lu Ye suddenly noticed that he wasn't the only one on the battlefield unaffected by the Dancing Girl; there was actually another person who wasn't influenced.

And that person was Yaya.

Since Yaya previously drove back that Blood Race Sun Blaze and was called back by him, she soon fell into slumber and is now quietly asleep beside him.

Lu Ye didn't know whether Yaya was unaffected because she was asleep or because she had some unique traits, which was something he couldn't investigate.

The three Sun Blaze cultivators were still sweeping the battlefield, and they were incredibly fast and efficient; in less than one hour, the Insect Race and the Blood Race on the entire battlefield had been completely wiped out.

Reunited again, the three stood shoulder to shoulder, looking at the war-torn battlefield but without much joy in victory.

Ning Bu'ao sighed, "The losses this time were significant!"

Although the four galaxies occasionally had some friction and disputes with each other, those were generally controllable and wouldn't lead to large-scale conflicts between star systems.

However, this time to advance into the All Phenomena Ocean, the four galaxies put aside their past grievances, united wholeheartedly, planning to first deal with the insect hive on this side.

Who would have thought that after one battle, a large number of cultivators would die or be injured?

The loss of Constellation-level cultivators wasn't heartbreaking, but it wasn't just them who died. There were also some Moon Jade cultivators, and that was the truly painful loss.

"We should be grateful. If not for Young Friend Lu's assistance, we would have been utterly annihilated," Luo Xie lamented.

If someone told him before today that, in such a large-scale battlefield involving three major races and nearly ten Sun Blaze cultivators, a small Constellation could single-handedly turn the tide and completely change the battleground's outcome, Luo Xie would have thought it absurd and would have given a slap across the face.

But today, Lu Ye indeed single-handedly saved the structure on the verge of collapse, rescuing the cultivators of the four galaxies from catastrophe. Without Lu Ye, none of them would have survived.

And now, at the very least, the three Sun Blaze cultivators and some Allied Forces cultivators survived, and the Blood Race and Insect Race's plot against the four galaxies was thwarted.

Lu Ye's actions saved the lives on the battlefield and, on a larger scale, saved the entire four galaxies, preserving the lives of countless beings and the accumulated heritage of the four galaxies over countless years.

"This debt of gratitude is immense," Luo Xie's expression was solemn.

It's said that a life-saving grace should be repaid with absolute loyalty. How could such a great favor be repaid?

"Let's not talk about that now. What do you think about the Tranquil Moon situation?" Li Guan spoke up.

Luo Xie and Ning Bu'ao both furrowed their brows.

After a while, Luo Xie said, "Shi Hanqing is of the human race, I'm certain of that!"

The Shi Hanqing he mentioned was the other Sun Blaze of the Tranquil Moon Galaxy.

Among the four galaxies, the Daluo Galaxy had the most profound heritage, with four Sun Blaze cultivators in total. Indeterminate followed with three, while both Tranquil Moon and Beixuan had only two Sun Blaze cultivators.

The reason Luo Xie was certain that Shi Hanqing was human was that they'd known each other from a young age and had grown up vying with each other, both eventually advancing to Sun Blaze and becoming lifelong rivals. When it comes to understanding Shi Hanqing, no one in the four galaxies knows him better than Luo Xie.

So Shi Hanqing couldn't possibly be a Blood Race impersonation.

Ning Bu'ao said, "If I remember correctly, Bai Jin drifted to the Tranquil Moon Galaxy over four hundred years ago. He was seriously injured at the time and taken in by Fellow Daoist Shi Hanqing. He remained in Tranquil Moon until today..."

Luo Xie nodded, "Indeed, that's correct. Judging from this, Bai Jin's move to Tranquil Moon back then must have been deliberate. The Blood Race and Insect Race's plot against our four galaxies likely began around that time."

Li Guan said, "Fellow Daoist Shi Hanqing couldn't be of the Blood Race, but there must be more Blood Race members in the Tranquil Moon Galaxy than those who appeared today. There are certainly some hidden ones."

Today, the Blood Race members who revealed themselves on the battlefield weren't just Bai Jin; there were even some Moon Jade and many Constellations. This shows that over the past four hundred years, Bai Jin had secretly nurtured many Blood Race cultivators in the Tranquil Moon Galaxy.

Chapter 1607 - Aftermath of Battle

If these Blood Race members hidden within the Tranquil Moon Galaxy are not dealt with, they will undoubtedly pose a significant threat to Tranquil Moon in the future. Additionally, the Blood Race can implant a Blood Seal in other beings, making them Blood Slaves.

Therefore, there might be some human race cultivators in the Tranquil Moon Galaxy who have been secretly made Blood Slaves by the Blood Race.

If these Blood Race members and Blood Slaves are not found, it will severely impact the stability of Tranquil Moon.

However, the Blood Race hides extremely well, making them incredibly difficult to find. If this issue is not handled properly, it could lead to a situation where Tranquil Moon experiences internal strife and discord.

If it were any other matter, Daluo, Indeterminate, and Beixuan could ignore it, as it is ultimately an internal affair of Tranquil Moon, not something others should interfere with. However, since it involves the Blood Race, they cannot stand idly by.

The three Sun Blazes remained silent for a while, unable to come up with a good solution.

Luo Xie spoke again, "No matter what, the situation must be reported to Tranquil Moon. Additionally, since Fellow Daoist Chen Zong died in battle, we need to inform Beixuan."

"Let me go!" Ning Bu'ao volunteered. He is a physique cultivator, and although his injuries from the previous battle were quite severe, his rough and tough body made him relatively better off compared to Luo Xie and Li Guan.

Neither Luo Xie nor Li Guan objected, and Ning Bu'ao immediately set off. With his formidable cultivation as a Sun Blaze, it wouldn't take him much time.

Luo Xie and Li Guan remained behind to focus on healing their wounds.

After half a day, the Moon Jades on the battlefield gradually recovered, and after another half day, the Constellations also regained their strength.

After regaining control over themselves, many cultivators wore awkward expressions.

The surviving cultivators from the four galaxies began to clean the battlefield. In this battle, the Blood Race and Insect Race were completely annihilated, but their side also suffered heavy losses, with sixty percent of the participating four galaxies' cultivators perishing—a loss previously unimaginable.

The bodies of the deceased cultivators needed to be collected, and their belongings had to be gathered to be taken back for burial.

There were also the spoils left by the Insect Race and Blood Race after their deaths...

The Three Worlds cultivators did not participate, merely staying quietly on the battleship.

Luan Xiao'e approached Lu Ye and sighed, "Over sixty people died..."

This time, the Three Worlds cultivators only brought five hundred people. In a battle, over sixty died—though relative to the four galaxies' casualties, it doesn't seem much. Yet, this was thanks to the efforts of Lu Ye and Luan Xiao'e. Without them regrouping the scattered Three Worlds cultivators and Lu Ye's protection with the Blood Sea, losses would have been much greater.

Over sixty people, mostly from the Qingli Dao World and Jade Conch World, while less than ten Nine Provinces cultivators died.

Lu Ye felt heartache.

Every Nine Provinces cultivator who reached this point had a hard journey. They had just managed to become a Constellation and stepped into stellar space, full of ambition to head towards the magnificent All Phenomena Ocean. Yet, before getting there, their journey ended prematurely.

But this is war; casualties are unavoidable.

However, Nine Provinces cultivators have faced numerous battles from the beginning of their cultivation; dying in battle was a fate they had long prepared for in their hearts.

Surviving the calamity should bring joy, but the entire battlefield felt heavy. Cultivators quietly gathered their companion's remains, and some female cultivators even wept in grief.

It took two days of hard work before the battlefield was cleared.

With their wounds mostly healed, Luo Xie and Li Guan personally went to the battleship where Lu Ye was, solemnly expressing their gratitude. They assured him that if he ever needed help in the future, he should just say the word—they would brave any danger for him without hesitation.

Lu Ye had nothing to request from them, but after this world-saving battle, he knew his status in the four galaxies was now stable.

Previously, any collaboration with the four galaxies was due to his control over the star map and method to reach All Phenomena Ocean, a cooperation based on interest.

Anything involving interests can be unstable.

But now, Lu Ye had turned the tide in this battle, making him a benefactor of sorts to the entire four galaxies.

Particularly, the Indeterminate Galaxy is the closest to the Jade Conch. As neighbors, the Indeterminate seemed too powerful, causing unease.

After this battle, as long as Lu Ye lives, Indeterminate would have no ill intentions towards Jade Conch.

Not seeing Ning Bu'ao, Lu Ye didn't know where he went and didn't ask further.

As they were speaking, several Moon Jades arrived together, reporting that everything was ready and they could set off.

Li Guan gave a slight nod, "Then let's depart."

Just as the Moon Jades were about to leave, Lu Ye called out to one of the women, raising a hand, "Fellow Daoist, please wait!"

The Moon Jades all stopped, and upon seeing whom Lu Ye was calling, turned to look at her.

The woman looked at Lu Ye in confusion, "What does Fellow Daoist Lu require?"

Lu Ye shook his head: "I wouldn't presume to command; I just want to ask which Star System you come from, Fellow Daoist?"

The woman replied, "I'm from the Tranquil Moon Star System."

Lu Ye thought to himself, as expected.

Luo Xie chuckled from the side: "Junior Sister Phoen is one of the three great beauties of Tranquil Moon. Young Friend Lu, are you perhaps smitten?"

The woman with the surname Phoen blushed slightly and coyly retorted to Luo Xie: "Senior Brother, don't joke around. Fellow Daoist Lu must have something important."

"Indeed it is important!" Lu Ye nodded, not looking at her, but instead turning to Luo Xie and Li Guan: "Do you two trust me?"

Luo Xie wasn't sure why Lu Ye suddenly asked this, but he instinctively nodded: "Without Young Friend Lu today, we'd all have died. Of course, I trust him."

Lu Ye said, "In that case, I ask Veteran Luo to kill her!"

Luo Xie was startled, almost unable to believe his ears: "What?"

The Moon Jade cultivators who came with the woman to report were also stunned as they looked at Lu Ye. However, they quickly seemed to understand something, and their gazes toward the woman became suspicious.

Luo Xie frowned: "Young Friend, is there something amiss?" He wasn't a fool; Lu Ye wouldn't ask him to kill someone for no reason, especially not a delicate woman.

Considering that there had already been hidden Blood Race members revealed on the Tranquil Moon side, he naturally made a connection.

"Are you certain?" Li Guan turned to look at Lu Ye, his expression serious.

Lu Ye merely nodded.

Li Guan hesitated briefly, then his gaze towards the woman with the surname Phoen turned sharp.

The woman's expression changed dramatically. While silently channeling her mana, she tearfully asked, "Fellow Daoist Lu, have I ever wronged you? Why do you want Senior Brother Luo to kill me?"

Lu Ye just looked at her calmly. Although he was sure of her Blood Race origin, he didn't intend to prove it because words alone wouldn't be enough. Nobody would reveal their true form with just a few sentences, nor could force make her do so.

The sound of a sword suddenly rang out. A sword light flashed from in front of Li Guan, attacking the woman. Her expression changed to fright, and she screamed and tried to retreat.

But compared to Sun Blaze, their strength was worlds apart. Li Guan, known for his deadly swordsmanship, struck from this close distance—how could she escape?

When the sword light vanished, Li Guan still stood in his original position, as if he hadn't moved. But the woman wore a look of bitter disappointment, glancing down at her chest.

A crimson stain slowly bloomed like a blood-colored flower on her snow-white clothing, and her strong vitality quickly waned.

Luo Xie's heart raced. Although he roughly understood Lu Ye's intention in asking him to strike, he was hesitant to act without certainty. The woman was from Tranquil Moon, and he was from Daluo—it wasn't his place to take action.

He hadn't expected Li Guan to be so decisive.

No wonder he was a sword cultivator known for his thunderous decisiveness; Luo Xie felt ashamed by comparison.

Of course, this could also be considered rash. If they killed the wrong person, how would they explain it to the Tranquil Moon side?

Under the watchful gazes of the group, the woman's life force extinguished completely, leaving only a corpse behind.

Soon, even the expressions of the Moon Jade cultivators and Luo Xie changed, because the woman's corpse showed no signs of transformation, remaining as she was in life.

Luo Xie immediately felt a pang of dread.

They had truly killed the wrong person!

According to logic, if the woman was truly a Blood Race member disguised by secret technique, she would reveal her true form upon death, as no secret technique could be maintained after death, exposing her true self.

But because she remained unchanged, it indicated she was originally in that form, not disguised by any Blood Race art, confirming they had killed the wrong person.

Lu Ye also showed a puzzled expression, quickly stepping forward to observe the woman's body closely. He suddenly brightened as he raised his hand to remove a necklace from her neck. The chain was snow-white of unknown material, but the pendant was heart-shaped and blood-colored.

As he removed the object, the woman's corpse rapidly changed, becoming taller and her exposed skin turning blood-red, with ears sharpening.

The group watched, all with grim expressions.

During the earlier battle, some Tranquil Moon cultivators had revealed their true forms, and everyone thought there were no hidden Blood Race members left. Who would have expected another one?

This was indeed an oversight; no one imagined that in the prior situation where Blood Race and Insect Race held the upper hand, a Blood Race member would remain hidden.

If not for Lu Ye discerning the truth with a glance, nobody would believe the famed eminence of the woman was actually of the Blood Race. Luo Xie's comment about her being one of the three beauties of Tranquil Moon wasn't a jest; it was a fact.

Lu Ye examined the heart-shaped pendant in his hand, confirming it was a treasure likely aiding her in maintaining a human guise. With this item on her person, even in death, she hadn't revealed her true form.

Chapter 1608 - Never to Be Forgotten

In front of the battleship, Li Guan looked at Lu Ye and asked, "Young friend, can you discern the Blood Race?"

Just now, Lu Ye had merely glanced at the woman with the surname Phoen and identified her as being from the Blood Race. This perception was quite unconventional, considering that he and Luo Xie hadn't noticed anything amiss.

Under normal circumstances, when the Blood Race disguises themselves as the human race using a secret technique, they usually won't be exposed unless thoroughly investigated. However, an intrusive inspection is a disrespectful act against any cultivator. In the cultivation world, even a master would not casually do such a thing to a disciple.

Li Guan did not know how Lu Ye, a Constellation Realm cultivator, could discern it.

Lu Ye identified the Blood Race not by sight, but by feeling.

Even when facing Bai Jin, a Sun Blaze, he could detect something abnormal, though he hadn't thought much about it before as he lacked experience.

But now, with experience, it's different. When this woman approached Lu Ye, he immediately sensed that something was off and concluded that she was from the Blood Race.

However, there was no need to explain much about this, so he simply nodded, "I can!"

Li Guan and Luo Xie exchanged glances and suddenly realized that their perplexing problem... was solved! They had been pondering how to locate the hidden Blood Race among the Tranquil Moon faction, and with Lu Ye's ability, the task became much simpler.

"I will gather everyone!" Luo Xie said, with his Mental Consciousness flowing as he issued orders to all directions.

Soon, figures of many cultivators emerged from the battleships, converging in the stellar space.

The number wasn't large, only around fifteen hundred.

At the start of the battle, each family in the four galaxies had sent a thousand members, totaling four thousand cultivators, with more than five Sun Blaze and over a hundred Moon Jade cultivators.

Now, the numbers had drastically reduced, with only two Sun Blaze remaining here.

"Young friend, please take a look." Luo Xie looked seriously at Lu Ye.

Lu Ye nodded and began moving among the group of over fifteen hundred people.

No one knew what he was doing, but they watched with curiosity.

After a while, Lu Ye returned, accompanied by a young man whose expression was somewhat panicked.

"Just one?" Luo Xie asked, looking at the young man.

The young man's body trembled as if sifting chaff, not knowing what had happened. However, being brought out by Lu Ye made him feel somewhat uneasy.

"No!" Lu Ye shook his head, pointing into the crowd, "This one is..."

Then he pointed in another direction, "This one..."

"And this one..."

Each time he pointed, a Sword Qi would blast out from Li Guan, precisely killing the person Lu Ye indicated. It was as if whoever Lu Ye pointed at would die!

He pointed out five people in succession, all of whom were killed without exception. After death, these five cultivators revealed their true Blood Race forms, causing an uproar among the surrounding cultivators.

When one Moon Jade cultivator was killed by Li Guan, Lu Ye keenly noticed the young man's body shook as if breaking free from something, confirming his previous speculation.

This young man wasn't a Blood Race, but somehow entangled with them, hence the feeling he gave was different from a true Blood Race member.

"What's with this kid?" Luo Xie asked, puzzled, looking at the young man beside Lu Ye, unclear about why Lu Ye solely brought him out.

Lu Ye looked at the young man, "He should have been implanted with a Blood Seal by the Blood Race, a common method they use to subjugate Blood Slaves!"

The young man immediately nodded vigorously, "The Fellow Daoist is right, I was implanted by Master Uncle Sun Hai with a Blood Seal and had to obey his orders!"

The Sun Hai he mentioned was likely the Moon Jade cultivator just killed by Li Guan. With the Blood Race dead, the Blood Slave would naturally be freed.

There should be a few more Blood Slaves like this young man; Lu Ye could sense them but he didn't bring them out.

"No wonder the Blood Race issued a Bounty Order on you, young friend. Your understanding of the Blood Race surpasses that of this old man!" Luo Xie praised with admiration.

Lu Ye's ability was simply the nemesis of the Blood Race. No matter how they disguised, they couldn't escape his discerning eyes. Naturally, the Blood Race dreaded this and thus issued a Bounty Order, which is understandable.

What they didn't know was that the Bounty Order was issued because of Lu Ye's actions in the Taichu Realm. The Blood Race was completely unaware of his current ability.

If they knew Lu Ye possessed such great saintliness, the Blood Race wouldn't just issue a Bounty Order. Many Blood Race Sun Blaze would surely scour the stellar space for his whereabouts.

The last few remaining Blood Races concealed within the cultivator alliance forces were also eliminated, and the fleet of battleships set sail, heading in the direction of Indeterminate Galaxy.

Li Guan took charge while Luo Xie went ahead.

Originally, Ning Bu'ao had already left to report the battle information to the four galaxies and inform Tranquil Moon about the Blood Race situation.

Now that Lu Ye has demonstrated his ability to see through the Blood Race's disguise, Luo Xie naturally has to make a trip to Tranquil Moon. He plans to cooperate with Shi Hanqing, leveraging Lu Ye's talent to locate all the hidden Blood Races in Tranquil Moon. Only then will the stability of the four galaxies be free from the Blood Race's influence.

If this opportunity is missed, it will be difficult to find the Blood Races later.

The fleet journeyed as cultivators from the Three Worlds stowed away their starboats to join together aboard the battleships, making the journey more convenient.

On the battleship where Lu Ye was, visitors came frequently.

First, Luo Shenzhi paid a visit. This time, he didn't express any interest in sparring with Lu Ye again, perhaps due to instructions from Luo Xie or because he recognized the gap between himself and Lu Ye.

It relieved Lu Ye quite a bit, as he originally planned to let Luo Shenzhi experience the dangers of the mortal world if he still couldn't forget about him.

Luo Shenzhi is now very interested in All Phenomena Ocean, as he is set to go there, naturally wanting to learn more from Lu Ye about its information in advance.

After Luo Shenzhi left, Huah Sheng and Duu Lang came over.

Luo Shenzhi was able to survive the previous battle mainly due to his strong abilities. In the four galaxies, he is the strongest in the Constellation Realm, with plenty of treasures, giving him a certain power of self-protection in such battles.

Huah Sheng also remained unharmed due to his considerable power; despite his old age, he ultimately has the Moon Jade Late Stage level. In a battlefield where the Sun Blaze doesn't appear, a cultivator at his Moon Jade Late Stage level would find it difficult to perish in battle.

Duu Lang, on the other hand, survived thanks to his association with Lu Ye, being assigned duties on the Central Hub battleship, thus preserving his life. Otherwise, as a Constellation Early Stage cultivator, he would have found it difficult to survive the previous battle.

Huah Sheng brought Duu Lang not for any other matter but to express gratitude. Furthermore, Duu Lang is among those destined to visit All Phenomena Ocean along with several Constellations from the Red Sky Continent.

Once they arrive at All Phenomena Ocean, they might need Lu Ye's assistance.

After Huah Sheng and his apprentice left, Lu Ye finally had some time for cultivation, not only himself but all the Three Worlds cultivators were engaged intensely in cultivation, except for Luan Xiao'e.

Having personally witnessed and participated in such a brutal battle, the cultivators truly realized the cruelty of stellar space confrontations and the crucial importance of personal strength.

To survive better in stellar space, they must continuously enhance their own abilities.

The journey was peaceful.

The location of the battlefield was basically at the border of the Indeterminate Galaxy's domain, so the fleet entered the Indeterminate Galaxy within a few days. However, it took them a while to reach the Indeterminate World.

When Lu Ye originally traveled from the Indeterminate World to here, it took him a full three months, then with a Moon Jade escorting him personally.

The battleship's speed is quick, yet it roughly matches the Moon Jade, not that it can't go faster, but doing so would require consuming more spirit jade.

Thus, by the time the battleship arrived at the Indeterminate World, three months had already passed.

The fleet broke through the clouds, and sequentially landed on a massive platform.

On the Central Hub battleship, Li Guan personally accompanied Lu Ye out.

At a glance, Lu Ye was slightly stunned, because not far away stood four figures side by side, two of whom he knew: Jyang Shang, the World Lord of Indeterminate World, and Luo Xie of Daluo's Sun Blaze. The other two, although unfamiliar to him, standing with Jyang Shang and Luo Xie, were surely not ordinary figures?

They must undoubtedly also be Sun Blaze.

Li Guan timely explained beside him: "The man standing to Master Uncle Jyang Shang's left is Shi Hanqing of Tranquil Moon, and the one beside Master Uncle Luo Xie is Senior Sister Qin Yi of Beixuan."

The four great Sun Blaze cultivators, three men and one woman, encompass the four galaxies. This could be said to be the assembly of the most powerful cultivators in the four galaxies.

Even though they were just standing there without releasing any Sun Blaze aura, they exuded commanding presence.

These four stood here, obviously to welcome him, and although Lu Ye knew his heroic deeds would certainly enhance the four galaxies' favor towards him, he didn't expect such an intense reception.

Upon seeing him appear, Jyang Shang, leading the four individuals, simultaneously cupped his fists and bowed, with his sonorous voice ringing out: "The allied forces of four galaxies attacked the insect hive unsuccessfully, nearly annihilated, and were saved by Fellow Daoist Lu Yiye of Nine Heavens, rescuing our Four Galaxies cultivators from calamity. This great favor is comparable to rebirth; hence, the Four Galaxies cultivators should remember this kindness and never forget it eternally!"

His booming voice spread to the four corners; at this moment, on each battleship, within the Indeterminate Sacred Palace, across the entire Indeterminate World, all cultivators, regardless of cultivation level, saluted toward Lu Ye's position, unanimously shouting: "Never Forget!"

The gathered voices soared skyward, even making the wind and clouds change color.

If Lu Ye had merely saved the allied forces of four galaxies, it would not warrant such gratitude from the Sun Blaze. Everyone knows that Lu Ye saved not only those cultivators participating in the battle but indirectly rescued the entire Four Galaxies from a scourge of war, sparing the four great galaxies from a destructive war, which is the primary reason for the Sun Blaze's solemn thankfulness.

Chapter 1609 - Welcoming Banquet

On the battleship, Lu Ye maintained a calm demeanor, bowing slightly in the direction of the four Sun Blazes: "A fortuitous encounter, not my doing, Fellow Daoists have overpraised me!"

Jyang Shang smiled slightly: "No need to be modest, young friend. We have thoroughly understood the specifics of the battle. If it weren't for you, the four galaxies would have suffered great devastation."

In such a vastly uneven battlefield, the sudden intrusion of the Dancing Girl disrupted the battle, giving the cultivators of the four galaxies a chance to catch their breath. Initially, Luo Xie, Ning Bu'ao, and others thought the Dancing Girl had entered by accident, but when they saw Lu Ye playing the bone ocarina, how could they not realize that the Dancing Girl was actually summoned by Lu Ye?

If it were only this, the impact on the battle would not be great, as the mystical power affected all beings on the battlefield. Once the Dancing Girl left, the strange power vanished, and the battle would proceed as it would anyway.

But unexpectedly, Lu Ye possessed the ability to dispel the Dancing Girl's power. First, he freed Li Guan, and then Ning Bu'ao and Luo Xie, which was the key to turning the tide of this battle.

The power of the Dancing Girl was irresistible even for the Sun Blaze experts of the three clans, yet Lu Ye was able to resolve it. What kind of power was that? Even those who experienced it firsthand like Li Guan couldn't describe it, but undeniably, exhibiting such mysterious means at the Constellation Realm is truly beyond imagination.

A life-saving grace and a world-saving grace deserve such a solemn courtesy from the Sun Blazes.

"Young friend, a banquet has been prepared within the Sacred Palace to greet you and your friends. We hope you can honor us with your presence!" Jyang Shang gestured.

It was not a victory banquet, though won, too many had died, even a Sun Blaze had perished. There's little to celebrate.

Yet, having won, they couldn't ignore the occasion, and welcoming Lu Ye and his companions is the best choice.

With such enthusiastic hospitality from the Sun Blazes, Lu Ye naturally could not refuse and immediately stepped forward to join Jyang Shang and others inside.

Moments later, within the grand hall of the Indeterminate Sacred Palace, the Sun Blazes gathered, apart from those from the four galaxies, only Lu Ye as a Constellation and Luan Xiao'e as a Moon Jade were present, aside from the maids serving alongside, no other figures were to be seen.

Outside the hall, however, was bustling with life; tables were set across the plaza, where the returned victorious cultivators of the four galaxies and the Three Worlds cultivators were arranged to sit together.

This arrangement was naturally because the space within the hall was insufficient, with over four hundred cultivators from the Three Worlds, fifteen hundred from the four galaxies, totaling two thousand. Even though the Sacred Palace's hall was spacious, it couldn't accommodate so many people drinking and making merry together.

They could only be arranged outside.

It was just right for them to get familiar with one another; many here were preparing to head to the All Phenomena Ocean. Familiarity beforehand would aid mutual support when reaching there.

Luan Xiao'e was very nervous.

Before participating in that battle, she had never encountered a Sun Blaze. Even while feeling their might from afar during the battle, it did not require close contact.

Now it was different; only eight people were seated in the entire hall, apart from Lu Ye, the other six all possessed Sun Blaze cultivation.

She cautiously glanced at Lu Ye out of the corner of her eye... only to see this young man engaging in relaxed conversation with the Sun Blazes of the four galaxies, seemingly unfazed by the vast gap in their abilities.

Luan Xiao'e was immensely impressed, for a Constellation Realm to have such composure was truly remarkable. Had she not known Lu Ye was from a newly ascended large domain like the Nine Heavens, Luan Xiao'e might have thought he came from some elite domain familiar with the Sun Blazes' might, otherwise, how could he be so unflinching?

If it were her at the Constellation Realm, faced with so many Sun Blazes, she would surely struggle to speak coherently.

If possible, Luan Xiao'e would have preferred to be outside the hall, celebrating with the Three Worlds cultivators; it would be much more relaxed, but as the leader of the Three Worlds fleet and the only accompanying Moon Jade, how could she stay out of this?

Luan Xiao'e suspected these Sun Blazes regarded her as Lu Ye's elder, hence the invitation included her as well.

Sitting upright and lost in thought, Qin Yi seemingly noticed her nervousness and smiled at her: "Seeing that Junior Sister Luan has also reached the Moon Jade Late Stage, do you have any questions regarding advancing to Sun Blaze? If so, feel free to speak with me later. My experience may not fit you, but advice from others can still be beneficial."

Luan Xiao'e's spirits lifted, almost to tears!

For countless years, the Moon Jades of Jade Conch have been troubled by the question of advancing to Sun Blaze, generations of cultivators exploring step by step, yet always finding no way forward, and Jade Conch lacked any past elders' guidance or experiences. Her journey to the All Phenomena Ocean was to see if she could seize any opportunity to get some tips from a Sun Blaze.

Who would have thought her wish would be fulfilled even before reaching the All Phenomena Ocean?

And the other party initiated it!

Her mind raced as she calmed herself, looking gratefully at Qin Yi: "Indeed, there are many confusions. If Senior Sister is so kind, I won't hold back. I will certainly need to consult with you later."

"Not a problem!" Qin Yi nodded with a smile, speaking briefly with Luan Xiao'e about other matters, gradually allowing her to relax.

Jyang Shang asked about the bone ocarina because they were too curious about it, not understanding why that thing could attract the Dancing Girl.

"What exactly is the bone ocarina? Actually, I haven't figured it out." The matter of the bone ocarina wasn't anything bad to talk about, so Lu Ye began to explain, "That item was obtained in the Great Wheel of Fortune when I passed through the Changyun Galaxy years ago!"

"The Great Wheel of Fortune!" Several Sun Blaze cultivators were visibly energized, clearly having heard of this stellar space supreme treasure.

"That Changyun Galaxy is truly fortunate, for the Great Wheel of Fortune actually descended there." Luo Xie looked envious, wishing this treasure had come to his own galaxy.

Luan Xiao'e was in the dark, curiously looking towards Lu Ye.

Lu Ye briefly explained, and only then did Luan Xiao'e understand what the Great Wheel of Fortune was. She was quite surprised, never having imagined that such an extraordinary stellar space supreme treasure existed in this world.

"When I obtained the bone ocarina, I unintentionally discovered that this treasure had great allure for star beasts. Once sounded, if there were star beasts in the nearby stellar space, they would undoubtedly be attracted over! So after using it twice, I didn't use it again. This time, faced with no other option, I attempted it briefly, never expecting it would actually bring the Dancing Girl over."

Primarily because Lu Ye saw the Dancing Girl escape into that desolate star region firsthand. Without this intelligence to go on, Lu Ye wouldn't have thought of using the bone ocarina.

At that time, only the strange power of the Dancing Girl could turn the tide of the battle, even if that terrifying azure bird came over, it would be to no avail.

"After the Dancing Girl was attracted, she kept chasing me, seemingly very interested in the bone ocarina. Helplessly, I could only give the bone ocarina to her. Once she acquired it, she left; I reckon the item was of some aid to her injuries."

Luo Xie lamented, "Such an extraordinary treasure being lost like this, what a pity!"

Lu Ye said, "It can save lives, so there's nothing pitiful about it."

No matter how good a treasure is, it's useless without life. Exchanging a bone ocarina for the lives of hundreds of Three Worlds cultivators, Lu Ye thought it was well worth it.

It also incidentally saved people from the four galaxies.

"You are broad-minded, young friend, that's right!" Luo Xie laughed heartily, raising his glass and saying, "I, the old man, was short-sighted."

Lu Ye picked up his glass and drank with him.

Ning Bu'ao was more interested in the Great Wheel of Fortune: "Young friend, I've heard Senior Brother Jyang Shang mention before that in order to advance to All Phenomena Ocean, we seem to have to pass through a Changyun Galaxy. Could this Changyun Galaxy be the very one where the Great Wheel of Fortune descended?"

"Indeed!"

"I wonder if the Great Wheel of Fortune is still there." Ning Bu'ao stroked his chin, somewhat envisioning.

If it's still there, then everyone can pay a visit when advancing to All Phenomena Ocean and passing through Changyun, to test their luck.

There are many stellar space supreme treasures in this world, but one as unique as the Great Wheel of Fortune is rare. If one's luck is good enough, visiting the Great Wheel of Fortune can yield many benefits; it's not an exaggeration to say one could become rich overnight.

"It's been several years already, so it's probably not there anymore." Lu Ye replied, though he also wasn't sure how long the Great Wheel of Fortune would stay once it descended. But it shouldn't linger for years; such stellar space supreme treasures typically come and go without a trace.

"That's quite a pity." Ning Bu'ao shook his head. He himself had no thoughts on it; although the Great Wheel of Fortune was entirely a matter of luck, people have summarized a pattern: the higher a person's cultivation, the lower the probability of receiving benefits, usually encountering misfortune, especially Sun Blaze cultivators. If they truly went in, it would generally be a streak of bad luck, slightly better for Moon Jade cultivators.

Typically, those who gained benefits were Constellation cultivators.

As they spoke, a small figure suddenly rushed into the great hall. Lu Ye turned his head and saw Yaya running over cheerfully, with Yiyi chasing behind for a while but failing to catch up, standing outside the hall with a helpless expression.

"Daddy!" Yaya ran over and sat in Lu Ye's lap.

Lu Ye gave Yiyi a look, and only then did Yiyi retreat.

Inside the great hall, several Sun Blaze cultivators were all keenly observing Yaya. They had heard from Jyang Shang that this figure, who looked like a child, was surprisingly a powerful Sun Blaze cultivator, though for some reason, her cultivation was usually not apparent, and she even called Lu Ye daddy.

Such bizarre occurrences are rarely seen and not something to probe into.

Luan Xiao'e's expression was equally peculiar because, before Yaya revealed her Sun Blaze strength, she truly thought this was a child. But on that battlefield, Yaya suddenly erupted, displaying her full Sun Blaze cultivation, even repelling a Blood Race Sun Blaze, which she saw with her own eyes.

Chapter 1610 - A Midnight Visit

Luan Xiao'e had always thought that the Three Worlds fleet regarded her as supreme. Who would have thought that there was an ancient ferocious beast sleeping right under her nose? When she saw Yaya repel that Blood Race Sun Blaze, she almost thought she was dreaming.

Moreover, Luan Xiao'e felt that Yaya was not an ordinary Sun Blaze because when she clashed with the Blood Race Sun Blaze, she shattered its hands with just one punch. If the Blood Race Sun Blaze hadn't retreated quickly, it would have been slain on the spot, testament to Yaya's strength.

"The fruits outside aren't tasty!" Yaya pouted, her bright eyes fixed on the spirit fruits on the table in front of Lu Ye.

The quality of the spirit fruits inside the great hall was naturally better than those outside. They were the finest spirit fruits that could be found in the Indeterminate World, only used when the most distinguished guests arrived. Although the fruits outside weren't bad, they were undoubtedly inferior to those inside the hall.

Yaya had a picky palate and a keen nose. Smelling the fragrance of the fruits here, she had no interest in those outside.

Lu Ye chuckled and handed her a spirit fruit: "Eat it yourself!"

Yaya took it, but instead of eating it, she put it into her storage ring, and not satisfied, her small hands moved swiftly, sweeping all the spirit fruits in front of Lu Ye clean, then turned to glance at Luo Xie's position.

Lu Ye secretly thought it was not good, just about to restrain her, but unexpectedly, Yaya had already dashed out, coming before Luo Xie and staring at him: "Will you eat?"

Luo Xie replied with a smile, "If you want to eat them, take them all!"

Yaya did not hold back and immediately collected all the spirit fruits in front of Luo Xie, then she ran over to Shi Hanqing's side, asking the same question: "Will you eat?"

One by one, in no time at all, the spirit fruits along the tables were swept clean by Yaya, only then did she return to Lu Ye, satisfied, taking out a red, ripe fruit from her storage ring, eating it sweetly.

Lu Ye lowered his head to sip his wine, secretly deciding to discuss with Lih Shang later, it seemed like Yaya's upbringing was a bit questionable...

After a dust-washing banquet, they ate and drank for most of the day before it ended. By nightfall, the Three Worlds cultivators were arranged to stay.

There were still some matters to handle here in the four galaxies, so the Three Worlds fleet had to wait a few days before setting out. Lu Ye was not particularly in a hurry.

In the sleeping chamber arranged here in the Indeterminate World, Lu Ye immersed his mind in the azure hall within the barghest, confronting the Praying Mantis. When he killed Bai Jin, he had used the Twin Sabers Secret Technique, but in hindsight, he always felt it wasn't smooth. Compared to the Praying Mantis's Great Windmill, it was like heaven and earth.

But undeniably, the Twin Sabers Secret Technique's destructive power was terrifying. To advance further, he had to personally confront the Praying Mantis.

Moments later, he forced the Praying Mantis to exhibit the Twin Sabers Secret Technique again. Lu Ye countered with the Great Windmill, but could only hold out for three breaths before being defeated.

Enduring the pain in his mind, Lu Ye reflected on the various moves just now, vaguely realizing something.

Suddenly, a knock on the door sounded. Lu Ye extended his Mental Consciousness to check, and upon discovering who was knocking, he was somewhat surprised.

He thought it might be either Yiyi coming to find him, or Hua Ci coming to settle accounts, but unexpectedly, it was neither Yiyi nor Hua Ci, but another woman.

A woman he absolutely did not expect!

Standing up, he tidied his clothes, then opened the door. A woman with an elegant demeanor and full figure came into view.

At first glance, the woman looked around thirty, but upon closer inspection, she seemed like twenty, possessing the charm of a mature woman while not lacking the delicacy of a young lady.

"World Master Qin!" Lu Ye greeted her with a bow.

Here to find him in the middle of the night was none other than Qin Yi from the Beixuan Galaxy.

There were only two Sun Blazes in the entire Beixuan. After Chen Zong's death, Qin Yi was the only Sun Blaze left. It's fair to say that one of the two pillars of the Beixuan Galaxy had collapsed, and when the news reached Beixuan, the entire place was grief-stricken.

"Call me Senior Sister!" Qin Yi smiled slightly.

Lu Ye followed her lead: "Senior Sister Qin!"

With Qin Yi being a Sun Blaze in cultivation, her age was unknown. Even if Lu Ye addressed her as a senior, it wouldn't be out of place, but she wanted him to call her Senior Sister, which was evidently more intimate.

"What brings Senior Sister here?" Lu Ye asked.

Qin Yi responded, "Why, are you going to make me talk while standing outside?"

Lu Ye hurriedly said, "Please come inside, Senior Sister!"

Saying this, he stepped aside.

Qin Yi walked in, and Lu Ye couldn't really close the door, lest it cause misunderstandings since it was late at night and they were alone. So he simply followed her inside.

Qin Yi had already sat down. Lu Ye quickly served tea, sat down beside her, somewhat unsure about the purpose of her late-night visit. After all, the two had no prior interactions, having exchanged only a few words at the banquet earlier.

Qin Yi glanced around the chamber, and only then did her gaze fall back on him. After taking a serious look, she suddenly sighed, speaking: "When I took him under my wing back then, he was about your age, but his cultivation was far inferior to yours. At that time, he was merely a small True Lake!"

Lu Ye furrowed his brow, completely unaware of what she was talking about.

Qin Yi continued, "Back then, hundreds of top families in Beixuan recommended their sect members and disciples, yet I chose him alone because I saw a certain potential in him. Time proved my insight was correct; he eventually grew to the level of Sun Blaze!"

Lu Ye suddenly realized who Qin Yi was referring to.

It was none other than Chen Zong, who had died on the battlefield earlier!

Because in all of Beixuan, there were only two Sun Blaze figures, besides Qin Yi, there was only Chen Zong.

But... Chen Zong was actually Qin Yi's disciple?

As if seeing the astonishment in Lu Ye's eyes, Qin Yi smiled faintly, "Chen Zong and I were Dao companions; you should have heard of this."

Lu Ye nodded, his mind a bit chaotic. These two were both master and disciple, and also Dao companions; what a complicated relationship. Wasn't Qin Yi clearly eating the young grass as an old ox?

It's really hard to tell; this graceful and dignified woman actually has such a taste.

But speaking of it, in the cultivation world, strength is always the priority; age or seniority are secondary to strength.

But if that's the case, why does Qin Yi show no sign of grief? Logically speaking, as both a teacher and a companion, with Chen Zong's death, Qin Yi should be very sad. Yet from the time Lu Ye saw her today, he hadn't noticed any abnormality, she acted as if nothing had happened.

Qin Yi said softly, "The dead cannot be brought back to life. With one of Beixuan's two Sun Blaze figures gone, only I am left to hold the fort alone. Cultivators are not ordinary people; we must endure many separations by life and death, and there are some things you must insist on. There are times when you cannot show your own weakness!"

Only then did Lu Ye understand, Qin Yi was not ungrieved, but could not show her grief.

Upon closer look at her eyes, Lu Ye suddenly noticed that this Sun Blaze's eyes had little brilliance, as if filled with a sorrow thick enough to cut with a knife.

He was momentarily speechless.

"Chen Zong was killed by Bai Jin's sneak attack. You killed Bai Jin, which counts as avenging Chen Zong's blood feud. Senior Sister thanks you!" Saying this, Qin Yi stood up and gracefully bowed to Lu Ye, almost crouching to the ground.

Only then did Lu Ye understand why she came to find him; it was clearly to thank him because he had killed Bai Jin and avenged Chen Zong's death.

Lu Ye quickly raised his hand to modestly support her, "Senior Sister is too serious, even if I hadn't acted at that time, Senior Sister Li Guan would have killed Bai Jin."

Qin Yi stood up, slowly shaking her head, "Without you, the four galaxies' battleship fleet would have been completely annihilated, and none of the subsequent events would have happened. I visit this time, just to express the gratitude of a widow on behalf of my late husband."

As she spoke, she flipped her hand, and a radiant lotus flower appeared in her palm. Lu Ye suddenly felt a peculiar energy fluctuation emanating from it.

"This Moon Accompanying Lotus is a magic-treasure class soul treasure; it was a gift from him to me back then. Now, with things unchanged but people gone, keeping it only stirs up sadness. If you don't mind, Junior Brother, I'll give it to you. If you do mind, then Senior Sister can only destroy it!"

She had already put it like that, how could Lu Ye refuse? Could he really stand by and watch Qin Yi destroy this soul treasure?

He quickly spoke up, "Since Senior Sister is gifting it, I'll accept it humbly!"

Soul treasures are rare by nature, and their value often exceeds that of treasures of the same grade many times over. Lu Ye wasn't sure what powers this Moon Accompanying Lotus had, but it certainly wouldn't be weak.

Moreover, though soul treasures are also divided into magic-treasure and spirit treasure classes, even if a cultivator is only at the Constellation level, they can still wield the power of a magic-treasure class soul treasure. Unlike ordinary magic treasures, even if a Constellation gets one, they can't necessarily use it.

Lu Ye himself didn't have much need for this soul treasure, as he had the Soul Suppressing Pagoda in his Divine Sea. Although its quality wasn't particularly impressive in the stellar space, he also had the Ghost Ship, and even a Soul Race member like Lih Shang couldn't do much once inside his Divine Sea, let alone others.

It would be quite fitting to give this to Yiyi, though, as she is a soul body, and it would suit her well.

Since Lu Ye killed Bai Jin, Qin Yi naturally had to show her appreciation, and this Moon Accompanying Lotus was undoubtedly her gift of thanks.

Seeing Lu Ye accept the Moon Accompanying Lotus, Qin Yi nodded in satisfaction and took out a jet-black Token to give to Lu Ye.

Lu Ye took it with doubt, "This is..."

Qin Yi explained, "In this venture to the All Phenomena Ocean, there will be a Moon Jade Late Stage cultivator from my Beixuan Galaxy accompanying us. If you encounter any difficulties upon reaching the All Phenomena Ocean, this token can be used to summon all cultivators from Beixuan. Seeing the token is like seeing me, and all Beixuan cultivators must heed your commands!"

Lu Ye was delighted. Compared to the Moon Accompanying Lotus, he valued this token more. After all, in a place like the All Phenomena Ocean, anything could happen. Should the Three Worlds cultivators ever find themselves bullied, and if Luan Xiao'e couldn't handle it, he really wouldn't have anywhere else to seek help from—and he certainly couldn't count on Tang Jun.

Any issue Luan Xiao'e couldn't solve, Tang Jun would be even less reliable.

A Moon Jade Late Stage from Beixuan should be quite powerful, and this token allows him to mobilize all Beixuan cultivators. In essence, this gives Lu Ye an inherent ally on his side.

Qin Yi's gift was indeed generous.