

Accepting Mate

CAMILLA

After talking to Lucas, he accompanied me to get my things in my house that I already packed. I decided to accept the alpha as my mate, and I'll move in with him. That is if he'll want me.

Lucas drove us towards the pack house. The house is modern Victorian style with 4 oors. When Lucas pulled over the drive way, 3 wolves in human form came out the door. Two of them were the guys that are with the alpha before. The girl, with a brunette hair and Julia Roberts smile, I haven't seen her before.

Lucas got out of his hummer rst, and talked to the 3 wolves.

JAX

We came out of the house as a black Hummer pulled over the drive way. Then Lucas got out of the vehicle and walked towards us.

"What are you doing here??" Chester growled at Lucas.

"I came here to talk to Alpha Liam." Lucas answered.

"Alpha doesn't want any visitors at the moment. He's not in a right state now. No thanks to you." I told Lucas , and he just glared at me. Shiela placed her hand over my arm to calm me.

"Sorry Lucas. Alpha Liam is not available at the moment. He's quite a wreck since his mate rejected him." Shiela explained.

Lucas sighed and walked towards his hummer and opened the passenger door. A girl came out of it wearing dark skinny jeans and a gray tank top. The girl was Liam's mate. For some reason, her presence alone screams power. It makes me want to bow down to her. Is it because she is the Alpha's mate?

"Hi" She greeted.

"What are you doing here? Is it not enough that you rejected our alpha?" Chester sneered at her.

She glared at Chester. For a moment I thought I saw her eyes turned yellow.

"I'm Camilla, and I need to talk to your alpha----" But she was interrupted by Chester's growl.

I signaled Chester to stop, and he did.

"As I was saying before I was rudely interrupted. I need to talk to your Alpha. And for the record, I did not reject him." She said.

We were silenced for a second.

"You did not?" Shiela asked and Liam's mate shook her head.

Shiela narrowed her eyes at me.

"You guys assumed." She hissed. Then she turned back to Liam's mate.

"Luna, my name is Shiela, this is my mate Jax the Beta. And this one is Chester the Delta." Chester and I gave her a curt nod.

"Stop with the formalities. My name's Camilla, but just calls me Camille. Please I need to talk to him." She said.

I looked at Chester who looked at me as well. I looked back at her and talked.

"He's a wreck. He drowned himself in alcohol and—" She cut me off and said

"Other girls? tsk. Typical Alpha. Cocky, arrogant and a player. This is exciting."

I wanted to growl at her disrespecting our alpha but my wolf seems to be cowering in fear. And I felt Chester felt the same way.

The way she said those words were so calm but venom ooze in every word. When I looked at Lucas, he seems calm with his signature smirk.

"I really need to talk to him. I have decided, so kindly show me where he is." She said, more like commended.

Just like that, the three of us lead her on the 4th oor where Liam's room is.

When we stopped right outside Liam's room, I turned to her.

"This is his room. He hasn't come out for quite some time. It's locked and I doubt if he'll let us in." I told her but she just smiled at me.

"I can handle this. Anyway, is there a spare room that i can use? My things are in Lucas' vehicle." She said.

"A-Are you moving here with us? Are you accepting the alpha?" Shiela asked and Camille nodded.

Shiela squealed and pump her st in the air.

"Great!! I'll Take care of your things. The room in the end of the hall is vacant. you can use it." Shiela paused. "Please knock some sense on that stupid alpha."

Camille smiled and said.

"I will."

Shiela squealed and literally bounced up and down, before dragging Chester away, to take care of Camille's luggage.

"You have a very energetic mate beta Jax." She said to me.

"Uhm, yeah. So, let's do this." I said and I knocked on the door thrice.

"Alpha, someone wants to talk to you." I said through the door.

"I don't f*g care!! Get the fk out Jax!! Leave me the fk alone!!!" He growled from the other side of the door. Then there was a sound of shattered glass.

"That was a lot of fuck." Camille said.

"Looks like he really doesn't want any visitors." I told her, but she just rolled her eyes.

Then she stared at the door knob and I think I heard it clicked. She twisted the knob, and surprisingly, it opened. How? It was f*g locked!

"I'll take it from here." She said, slowly opening the door and walk right in.

LIAM

I felt like st. I haven't left my room in days. I haven't even eat properly and shower. I only go out to sleep with other girls. The room was trashed. Alcohol bottles were scattered around the oor. And now I'm drinking my last bottle of brandy.

I want my mate. It's been a week and she hasn't come. My heat ached in the thought that she chose Lucas.

Then there was a knock on my door.

"Alpha, someone wants to talk to you." Someone said through the door.

It was Jax. I glared at the door, clenched my st and growled.

"I don't f*g care!! Get the fk out Jax!! Leave me the fk alone!!!" I growled.

And then I threw the bottle that I've been holding. It crashes to the wall and shattered in to tiny pieces. Then I buried my face into my palms as I sit on the middle of my room.

Then I heard the door opened and that someone walked in.

"I said get the fk out Jax!!Leave!!!" I growled not bothering to look up.

"God, you look like hell and your room stink."

Wait, that's not Jax, or Shiela or any girls in this pack. The voice was the sweetest voice I ever heard. Then I smelled her scent. Roses and Chocolate. That's when I looked up. There stood in front of me is my beautiful mate. I probably look stupid right now. My mouth hangs open like a sh. I stood up and dusted my pants and nger combed my hair.

"H-Hi." I greeted her but she chose to ignore it and looked around my room.

"You're an alpha. You should be the one responsible here, not act like a brokenhearted teenager." She said coldly.

I wanted to growl at her but just one look at her green orbs and I'm a goner. My wolf's no different. He's acting like a lovesick puppy in my head right now.

I shook my head and walked towards her. She crossed her arms over her chest and glared at me.

"In all honesty, I don't know why I am mated to you. You look like you don't need me. You have your sluts to accompany you." She said and I felt like someone poured ice cold water on me.

"I left to think. I never thought I'd nd my mate. That's why I got back with Lucas." I growled when she mentioned Lucas.

"MINE!!" My wolf and I growled.

She rolled her eyes again.

"Lucas and I were over. He's right..." Se trailed. "I want to give us a chance."

She said and it left me rooted on the spot. When I found my voice to talk, I smiled.

"You accept me? As your mate? You're not rejecting me?" I asked her.

"No one's rejecting you. You just assumed things. Is that why you did this? It's kinda pathetic." She said.

She got a point there. She did not reject me. I just assumed it. Yup, It's pathetic. I just looked at her and take in the beautiful sight before me.

Let's talk. But rst, x yourself alpha. I'll wait for you in your oce." She said and then she left.

I didn't waste any more seconds, and I literally ran towards the bathroom to take a long shower.

CAMILLA

After I left Alpha Liam's room I passed a dumbfounded Jax in the hall way.

"Can you show me the Alpha's oce; we're going to have a long talk there." I told the beta.

He was quiet and all he did was nod and he lead me to the oce.

As we went inside, I took a seat on the chair behind the desk.

"Can you please ensure that there will be no interruptions while the alpha and me are talking?" I told him.

"Certainly Luna Camilla." Jax said bowing his head.

I rolled my eyes and scoffed.

"I told you to call me Camille. No need for titles. I had enough of that to last me a lifetime." I said.

He looked at me and furrowed his eyebrows. I shook my head and dismissed the topic. Then I noticed that Jax's eyes clouded. Seems like someone's mind-linking him.

"Liam's coming down in a while. Do you want anything to eat or drink while you wait?" He asked me.

I shook my head NO, and genuinely smiled at him. He seems to have eased his mind and smiled back and left.

I sighed and leaned back on the chair. I looked around the oce and stood up to look closer to the photos hanged on the wall. They are the pack's photos throughout the centuries. Alphas that once ruled this very pack.

I was so caught up looking at the pictures that I didn't even noticed that someone came in. It was until I smelled his scent and sensed his presence behind me.

"That is the pack and my ancestors." Liam said.

I turned around and faced him.

"You have a beautiful and strong pack." I told him.

He nodded his head and then he paused for a moment before he stared at me. It is that when I just noticed that he just showered, with his hair still damp and he is wearing fresh clothes. My eyes traveled from his gorgeous face to his ripped muscles and abs that is quite noticeable in his tted white shirt.

"How did you know about us being werewolves?" He asked that I snapped from a ogling him.

I cleared my throat and took a seat on the coach.

"You practically gave it away when you went ballistic in Lucas' house. And—" I paused and looked at Liam.

"I knew a lot of things in this world."

We had a staring contest for about 10 seconds until I abruptly stood up and clapped my hand.

"Okay. let's talk about my conditions." I said.

Liam furrowed his Eyebrows.

"What conditions?" He asked and I nodded.

LIAM

Conditions? What the hell is she talking about?

"I accept you as my mate. But I have some conditions. First, you can't control me. I am an independent woman. Treat me as your equal and not your lap dog." She said.

My wolf doesn't like that our mate doesn't want to submit to us, and we let out a low growl.

She glared at me.

"Stop growling at me!" This time it was her who growled.

I was taken back, and my wolf whimpered. I was shocked by the power within her growl. It seems stronger than an Alpha's. She's quite different for a human. Hot may I add, and I like it.

I didn't notice that I was just staring at her if she hasn't kept on snapping her pretty little ngers in front of my face. I blinked several times and cleared my throat.

"Geez, your growling annoys me. Second please don't forbid me to see Lucas, once in a while." She aid and I rmly answered 'NO'.

"He's my best friend and my most trusted adviser, and there's nothing you can do about it. Suck it up." She said, and once again I was left speechless.

Something in her voice that sounded like a command that I cannot refuse. It's like me and my wolf are submitting to her.

"Do you even know what he is?" I asked her.

"Yes. I've known Lucas almost all his life." She said and took a deep breath.

"I decided to move here." A wide smile grew on my face.

"Really?"

"Yeah. Shiela and Chester already brought my things in my room."

What? Her room?

"Wait. What do you mean your room? You should be staying with me, in my room." I exclaimed

She shook her head and scoffed.

"Share your room, with you? Sleep in the same bed with you? Uh... I don't think so." She said rmly.

"And why is that? We're mates!" I told her.

"Yes we are. But I'm not sleeping in the same bed with you especially, I knew you slept with several girls in that f*g bed! Who knew it contains millions of STD's. As for sharing a room with you, prove yourself that you are a good mate and worthy of me!!!" She exclaimed.

Damn. She already knew about my player ways. And it made me feel so stupid. I may lose her because of it.

"I'll prove to you that I am worth of you. We are mates, and we're meant to be together. I will wait until you are ready to take the next step." I told her with the best puppy eyes that I could come up with. She just nodded.

"Go on and prove it. Start with your disgusting bed. Throw it, burn it, for all I care." She said coldly. Then she walked towards the door and opened it. She looked at me one last time before she left.

I sighed and smiled. Prepare yourself mate. I'll have you in my arms in no time.

'Good Luck.' My wolf Ryker said.

'I'll win her, no matter what.' I answered him back.

'Yeah right. Don't mess this up or we'll lose her.' He retaliated.

'Just trust me okay? God knows I wanted her so bad.'

That's true. I really want her. God.. I think I love her already.

'Whipped.' Ryker said.

I smiled as I remember how her face lit up my mood the moment I looked at her earlier in my room.

'You love her. You didn't even know her name.' Ryker told me, with mockery in his voice.

To think of it, I didn't even asked her name. I mentally face palmed myself.

'Yeah. You stupid human.' My wolf snickered.

'Annoying wolf.' I said back at him.

'I heard that.'

'You were supposed to.'
