

I Created 211

Chapter 211 211: Conquering The Newly Discovered Large Tomb (Part 1)

Elder Qin's eyes burned with a newfound resolve as he envisioned the actions needed to restore the Dark Moon Clan's dominance. His fear was transformed into a steely determination, a determination to protect his clan's reputation and salvage what remained of their power.

"These country bumpkins will learn the price of challenging the Dark Moon Clan," Elder Qin growled. "We will crush them and wipe their existence from the annals of history. No one shall dare to defy us again."

With renewed purpose, Elder Qin summoned his most trusted clan members, ready to strategize and implement their countermeasures. The war between Alix's group and the Dark Moon Clan had escalated, and it was time for the Dark Moon Clan to reclaim their dominance and restore fear in the hearts of their enemies.

The group of leaders and cultivators stood outside a large tomb, their gazes fixed upon the imposing structure. It was a newly discovered tomb, so they needed to strategize, also, since no one explored it, it must have a lot of ancient relics and knowledge that could potentially aid them in their fight against the Dark Moon Clan.

Yara stepped forward, his eyes scanning the tomb's entrance with a mixture of anticipation and caution. "This tomb holds the potential to provide us with valuable resources and knowledge that could turn the tide in our favor. However, we must proceed with caution and ensure our safety as we explore its depths."

Captain Zhao, his voice steady and authoritative, added, "We cannot afford to underestimate the dangers that may lurk within. We must approach this raid with a well-coordinated strategy and remain vigilant at all times."

Alix, his gaze fixed on the tomb, nodded in agreement. "We must secure our foothold in the Eternal City and bolster our forces. But to do so, we need every advantage we can get. This tomb could provide us with enough artifacts and cultivation techniques that could significantly strengthen our cause."

Eryx, Alix's vice-captain, chimed in, "However, we need to remember that the Dark Moon Clan may have sent scouts all over the second floor, trying to find out our location. Given the battles we've already faced with Dark Moon Clan-affiliated groups, it's highly likely that they are aware we are on the second floor of the tower."

Yara furrowed his brow, considering Eryx's words. "You raise a valid point, Eryx. The Dark Moon Clan is known for their extensive network of spies and informants. We must proceed with caution, ensuring our presence remains concealed while we plan our next move."

Alix nodded in agreement, his eyes scanning the surroundings for any signs of potential threats. "We cannot afford to let our guard down. The Dark Moon Clan may be unaware of the tomb's existence, but we cannot assume they are oblivious to our activities. We must stay vigilant and maintain a defensive perimeter to prevent any unwanted surprises."

Captain Zhao, ever the strategist, added, "Let us set up surveillance and establish a system of signals to alert us to any approaching scouts or enemy forces. We must remain one step ahead of the Dark Moon Clan, gathering the resources we need while ensuring our safety." "I think you should take a look at

The group nodded in agreement, acknowledging the importance of maintaining their secrecy and taking proactive measures against any potential threats.

Alix's voice resonated with determination. "Our mission is twofold: to gather valuable resources from this tomb and to strengthen our position against the Dark Moon Clan. By maintaining our vigilance and remaining undetected, we increase our chances of success. Let us proceed with caution and efficiency, ready to adapt to any challenges that come our way."

Alix took a step forward, his gaze meeting the eyes of Commander Yara and Eryx. Despite his youth, he exuded a presence of authority and strength, earned through his exceptional cultivation and the trust of his companions.

"I volunteer to explore the tomb alongside both of you," Alix declared, his voice steady and resolute. "I understand the risks involved, but as the leader of our group, it is my responsibility to take on the most challenging tasks."

Eryx stepped forward, his gaze fixed on Alix. "Alix, as the leader of our group and the strongest among us, it would be unwise for you to risk your life in exploring the tomb. Your strength is our greatest asset, and we need you to lead us in this battle."

Alix's expression hardened with determination. "I understand your concern, uncle Eryx, but I cannot sit idly by while my comrades face danger. We must face these challenges together, as a united front. Besides, the power I possess will be crucial in overcoming any obstacles we encounter within the tomb."

Eryx's eyes flashed with worry, his voice tinged with urgency. "Alix, you know how dangerous these tombs can be, especially the larger ones. Your safety is of utmost importance to all of us. If something were to happen to you, it would deal a severe blow to our cause."

Alix remained resolute, his gaze unwavering. "I appreciate your concern, uncle Eryx, but I cannot let you and Yara face this peril alone. We are a team, and I will not shy away from the risks we must take. Together, we will navigate the challenges within the tomb and emerge victorious."

Yara stepped forward, his voice filled with admiration and conviction. "Alix, your courage and selflessness inspire us all. If you are determined to join us, then we shall face the dangers together. But promise me this, Alix: you will not underestimate the perils that lie ahead. Your life holds great value, and we need you to lead us through these turbulent times."

Alix nodded, his resolve unwavering. "I understand the risks, Yara, and I promise to proceed with caution. We will rely on our teamwork, our skills."

Captain Zhao, who had been observing the exchange, spoke up with a mixture of concern and respect. "Alix, your presence instills confidence in us all. However, I must insist that I remain outside as our surveillance. My role will be to keep an eye out for any approaching threats and alert you of any dangers. We need someone to ensure our safety from the outside while you explore the tomb."