

URBAN EXTRAORDINARY IMMORTAL DOCTOR

Chapter 2806: The Gaunt Elder and the Yellow-Clad Maiden

The gaze of all the Divine Venerable Realm experts on the scene fell upon that Divine King Realm artifact, some coveting it, some fearing it.

However, witnessing a high-ranking Divine Venerable Realm expert perish beneath that Divine King Realm artifact, for a short time no Divine Venerable Realm expert dared approach the corpse of that Divine King Realm Giant Clan.

Fang Bai was indeed tempted to try, but seeing the surrounding Divine Venerable Realm experts watching like hawks, he temporarily gave up.

In full view of everyone, if he revealed the Five Elements Origin Qi Cauldron, such a divine artifact would definitely attract the attention of all gods, becoming the focal point.

Before his strength was sufficient to protect himself, Fang Bai did not wish to stand out too much.

Thus, nearly a thousand Divine Venerable Realm experts surrounded the corpse of the Divine King Realm Giant Clan, observing from a distance, hesitating to move forward.

At the same time, tens of thousands of miles away in the starry sky, a starship appeared.

On the enormous starship, there were only two Divine Realm experts, one elder and one young.

The elderly Divine Realm expert, although simply dressed, with a gaunt and small figure, had divine radiance flowing around him, his eyes gleaming brilliantly, his cultivation level surprisingly mid Divine King Realm.

As for the younger Divine Realm expert, she was a young girl dressed in yellow, with brows like distant mountains, eyes like autumn waters, lips as red as cherries, a graceful figure, extremely beautiful.

The young girl possessed the Innate Spiritual Root, despite her young age, her cultivation level had already reached mid Divine Venerable Realm.

At this moment, the elder and the young were standing on the deck of the starship, looking towards the distant starry sky.

In their expressions, there was a faint trace of melancholy.

"Grandfather, is your lifespan truly nearing its end? The Divine Realm is vast, full of treasures and countless powerful beings, is there really no way to extend your lifespan?"

The young girl in yellow fiddled with a lock of hair hanging on her chest, her bright eyes fell upon the gaunt elder beside her, she asked clearly and crisply.

The gaunt elder sighed lightly and said, "Yes, I have lived for nearly a hundred thousand years, now my vitality is like a flickering candle and an exhausted oil lamp, the end is near."

After a pause, he continued, "Although there are many treasures and powerful beings in the Divine Realm, it also requires fate to encounter them. You must understand, Divine Realm experts number in the billions, each moment, countless experts are born, while many perish as their lifespan is exhausted. In the Divine Realm, even the supreme twelve Principal Gods have a lifespan limit, let alone an expert like me at the Divine King Realm?"

The young girl in yellow said, "Is there not an eternal immortal expert in the Divine Realm?"

The gaunt elder said, "Yes! It is said above the twelve Principal Gods, there exists the Overlord. Only the Overlord possesses eternal immortality."

The young girl's eyes shone bright, her thoughts roaming far, she said, "The Overlord... It must be extremely difficult to reach such a realm, right?"

The gaunt elder hearing the young girl's words, seemingly aspiring to reach the realm of the Overlord, couldn't help but laugh out loud, "Not to mention the Overlord, even the Principal Gods are rare, emerging once in tens of millennia!"

He thought his words would discourage the young girl in yellow, but unexpectedly she clenched her delicate fist with ambition and said spiritedly, "Grandfather, you say I have the Innate Spiritual Root, my future achievements are limitless, so I also have hopes of becoming the Overlord, don't I?"

The gaunt elder chuckled, "Yes! Yes! My dear granddaughter Rongrong, you will surely become the Overlord! You surely will!"

The young girl named Rongrong said, "Once I become the Overlord, I will concoct many life-extending divine elixirs, allowing grandfather's lifespan to be prolonged."

The gaunt elder, unwilling to dampen his granddaughter's positivity, stroked his beard and smiled, "Good! Good! It's settled then! Rongrong, you must cultivate diligently!"

Just as he finished speaking, his external Divine Sense suddenly detected the presence of over a thousand Divine Venerable Realm experts, and then noticed the corpse of the Divine King Realm Giant Clan.

"Oh? There seems to be a corpse of a Divine King Realm expert! Hmm, let's go take a look!"

As the gaunt elder raised his white brows, he steered the starship in the direction of Fang Bai and the others.

"A Divine King Realm expert has descended!"

When the starship carrying the gaunt elder and the young girl in yellow arrived, it immediately attracted the attention of over a thousand Divine Venerable experts.

Some of the more perceptive and insightful Divine Venerable experts sensed from the gaunt elder a more terrifying aura than that of the corpse of the Giant Clan, they couldn't help but be deeply shocked.

They hadn't expected the seldom-seen Divine King Realm expert to appear at this location, and seemingly aiming for the corpse of the Giant Clan as well.

Thus, over a thousand Divine Venerable experts withdrew their covetousness and greed, retreating and avoiding, fearing the wrath of a Divine King would affect them.

The mighty Giant Clan expert, no matter how strong, had already fallen.

But the gaunt elder was a living Divine King, comparatively, he was undoubtedly more terrifying.

Some Divine Venerable experts also focused their gaze on the young girl named Rongrong on the starship.

To them, such a graceful, dazzling, and charming Goddess was an unprecedented sight.

Most importantly, the young girl in yellow was astonishingly also a mid Divine Venerable Realm expert.

Within the Divine Realm, such young Divine Venerable Realm experts were equally rare to all those Divine Venerable experts present.

The appearance of this elder and young duo immediately stunned all the experts present.

Fang Bai, not wishing to stand out, retreated alongside the other Divine Venerable experts then curiously observed the elder and young duo on the starship, inwardly clicking his tongue in wonder.

Fang Bai discerned that the young girl in yellow possessed Innate Spiritual Root, seemingly younger than Dongfang Ruhua and other close red-skinned confidantes, although her cultivation level, was likely attributable to a great opportunity, plus the assistance from the gaunt elder within the mid-level Divine King Realm beside her must have been substantial.

However, Fang Bai believed, given the talent of Dongfang Ruhua and the others, their future achievements would certainly not be inferior to the young girl in yellow.

After the starship carrying the gaunt elder and the young girl flew within the pressure range released by the corpse of the Giant Clan, the speed did not slow at all, until they were only ten miles from the giant corpse when the gaunt elder raised his palm, reaching towards the Giant Clan corpse to grasp and retract.

Under the watchful eyes of all, the corpse of the Giant Clan slowly floated towards the starship.

The killing intent within the corpse, suppressed by the stronger gaunt elder, did not release at all.

"Come!"

The gaunt elder lightly shouted, five fingers spreading wide, the palm producing a strong suction force, the Spatial Divine Ring on the finger of the Giant Clan corpse immediately detached and flew into his palm.

"Sigh..."

The many Divine Venerable experts observing from afar, originally coveting the Spatial Divine Ring of the fallen Giant Clan, felt a sense of regret upon seeing the gaunt elder claim it, one by one shaking their heads and sighing, knowing they had no chance anymore.

The combination of mid Divine King Realm expert and mid Divine Venerable Realm expert, the strength is undoubtedly immense, there's no need to imagine, who would dare so foolishly try to snatch the Spatial Divine Ring from the Giant Clan corpse from them?

Chapter 2807: Captured to Be Your Dao Companion

"The spatial divine ring of the Giant Clan is actually engraved with a sealing formation. I can't open it!"

After obtaining the spatial divine ring from a Giant Clan's corpse, the withered old man intended to infiltrate it with his divine sense to see what treasures it contained but found his divine sense being blocked, shaking his head in disbelief.

"Grandfather, you hold on to it for now. Later, we'll find an Array Master, pay them some reward, and have them help unlock it."

Suggested a young girl named Rongrong, dressed in yellow.

"That sounds good."

The withered old man replied, and then unleashed his large palm once more to seize the fallen Giant Clan's divine artifact, saying to Rongrong, "This artifact at the Divine King Realm is decent. I'll keep it for you, so when you someday advance to the Divine King Realm, it will be a fitting personal artifact!"

Rongrong shook her head, "I don't want it!"

The old man asked, "Why not?"

Rongrong replied, "It's just a black iron rod, so ugly! I don't like it! Grandfather, I prefer sword-shaped artifacts. Could you help find an Artifact Refiner to make one for me in the future?"

The old man scratched his head, "Well... let's speak of this later..."

Crafting divine artifacts is no easy task, especially those at the Divine King Realm, for finding Artifact Refiners in the Divine Realm capable of this is extremely difficult.

Even if an Artifact Refiner is found, it's uncertain whether they're willing to help create the artifact.

Even if they agree, they might demand an astronomical reward, unaffordable for most experts.

Hence, many experts in the Divine Realm are bare-handed, without assistance from divine artifacts.

Only those who own divine artifacts either obtained them through great fortune or seized them from other experts.

Therefore, the withered old man didn't promise anything outright to his granddaughter. Without the ability to produce a fitting divine artifact later, he'd have no answer when his granddaughter demanded it.

He and his granddaughter, bound by a deep bond, perhaps wished he could transfer all his divine power to her, aiding her ascent to the Divine King Realm before his lifetime ends.

Regrettably, he's a Divine King Realm Expert, while his granddaughter is only a Divine Venerable Realm Expert, separated by an entire realm.

If he tried to infuse divine power into her, she wouldn't be able to withstand it and might instantly perish.

In the Divine Realm, True Gods are common, Divine Venerables walk aplenty. Only experts above the Divine King Realm become increasingly scarce.

Divine Venerable Realm Experts can barely protect themselves, whereas Divine King Realm Experts possess true defensive power.

Thus, the old man often worried that once his lifespan ended and his granddaughter lost protection, she'd encounter catastrophe, causing recurring distress.

If he could live another hundred years, he might help her advance to the Divine King Realm, but he knows his lifespan will likely expire within the next decade.

Even with copious divine elixirs to extend life, he'd only gain another dozen or so years at most, unable to change anything.

Due to this, he took his granddaughter traveling the starry sky, hoping to find great fortune to aid her advancement.

On discovering the fallen Giant Clan Divine King Realm's corpse, the old man's heart rejoiced, hoping to find treasures in the spatial divine ring, yet disappointment ensued when he couldn't unlock it.

Eventually, finding an Array Master to help open the spatial divine ring would require a substantial fee. Though unwilling, he had no choice.

With the spatial divine ring and divine artifact from the Giant Clan Divine King Realm Expert, they initiated their starship departure, paying no heed to the Divine Venerable Realm Experts around.

In the old man's eyes, those experts were ants, not worth the attention.

And the young girl, Rongrong, with her grandfather a Divine King Realm Expert and herself a Divine Venerable Realm Expert, held a high regard, dismissing those Divine Venerable Realm Experts just the same.

The fallen Giant Clan expert's most "valuable" items — their spatial divine ring and divine artifact — now belonged to the old man, leaving other Divine Venerables uninterested, leading to their dispersal.

Fang Bai then launched his starship, pursuing the direction where the old man and his granddaughter's starship vanished.

"Grandfather, there's someone following us!"

After their starship traveled tens of thousands of miles in space, Rongrong remarked to her grandfather.

The old man nodded and smiled, "I know. It's a young one, motives unclear, yet seemingly harmless. Let's not bother with him."

Fang Bai, aware his pursuit couldn't evade their divine sense detection, followed openly, ready to respond when questioned about his tracking.

After days of travel, the two starships reached a star system composed of thousands of celestial bodies, landing on one named "Illusory Heaven Star."

"Grandfather, that guy is still following us! I'm going to catch him and ask what's going on..."

Rongrong glanced back at Fang Bai, her charming brows furrowing.

The old man, who'd observed Fang Bai privately along the way, somewhat understood him, jokingly said, "I reckon that youngster fancies you, and that's why he pursued us all the way!"

Rongrong blushed, stamped her foot, and retorted, "Grandfather, you talk nonsense!"

The old man laughed heartily, "Listen here, that young one isn't simple! Not only does he hold an innate spiritual root, but his potential even surpasses yours... Yes, his looks are appropriate too, pairing well with you! So, shall I catch him and make him your companion?"

Rongrong, eyes twinkling, nodded, "An innate spiritual root too? Greater talent than mine? Really... pairs well with me? Hmm, if that's the case, capturing him might be worthwhile!"

The old man nodded, "Alright, wait here!"

For years, knowing his end was near, the old man contemplated arrangements for after his departure for his granddaughter.

Bound by deep affection, he'd anticipated her sorrow upon his absence, thus aimed to find her a suitable companion in advance.

With a companion, she'd find solace even without him, avoiding loneliness throughout life.

Believing in his accurate judgment, he observed Fang Bai continuously with divine sense, perceiving him as no villain, possessing exceptional potential bound for great achievements, fueling the matchmaking thought.

Moving slightly, the next moment, he appeared before Fang Bai, nearly a thousand miles away.

Knowing the Giant Clan's expert's spatial divine ring was sealed by formations, Fang Bai planned to use the opportunity of helping the old man unlock it to connect with them, hence followed them to Illusory Heaven Star.

Unexpectedly, shortly after docking his starship and landing on Illusory Heaven Star, ready to continue following the grandfather and granddaughter, the old man appeared before him, with a seemingly sly smile.

Urban Extraordinary Immortal Doctor

Chapter 2808: I'll Cry for You

"Boy, you've been following our grandfather-granddaughter duo along the way; what exactly are your intentions?"

The gaunt old man sized up Fang Bai from head to toe, raising his two white brows as he asked.

Although Fang Bai hadn't had any contact with the gaunt old man and his granddaughter, he guessed they weren't unreasonable people. Otherwise, they wouldn't have tolerated his stalking all the way and would have acted against him much earlier.

So when the gaunt old man appeared in front of him, he was only slightly surprised and then answered, "I have something to discuss with you... something good!"

The gaunt old man grinned and said, "Oh? Well, tell me, what good news do you have for us?"

Fang Bai cleared his throat and said, "Didn't you get a Spatial Divine Ring from the body of that Divine King Realm Giant Clan member? I'm an Array Master; I can help you remove the seal and obtain the cultivation resources inside the ring."

This time, the gaunt old man really looked at Fang Bai with new eyes, stroking his beard as he said, "At such a young age... you are actually an Array Master? Can you really break the sealing formation on this Spatial Divine Ring? I'm very busy, so don't play games with me!"

Fang Bai said, "I am at the True God Realm cultivation level, whereas you are at the Divine King Realm level. Squishing me to death would be easier than squishing an ant for you. I wouldn't dare to fool you unless I was seeking my own demise."

The gaunt old man nodded and said, "That makes sense. Alright, follow me to the starship! By the way, I also have something to talk to you about... Hmm, a good thing!"

Fang Bai then followed the gaunt old man as they flew to his starship.

The yellow-clothed girl Rongrong was standing at the bow, and upon seeing Fang Bai, she couldn't help but blush slightly as she recalled her grandfather's words about finding her a partner. Curiously, she scrutinized Fang Bai.

"Hmm, he does have an Innate Spiritual Root and looks quite handsome. His age should be similar to mine; I just wonder about his character and whether he has a partner..."

Rongrong's gaze lingered on Fang Bai, and internally, she was quite satisfied with him.

Fang Bai noticed Rongrong staring at him incessantly, but how could he know the thoughts of this grandfather-granddaughter duo?

He nodded and smiled at Rongrong, then addressed the gaunt old man, "You mentioned you have a good thing to discuss with me; what is it exactly?"

The gaunt old man chuckled, and instead of responding, he asked, "Do you have a partner?"

Fang Bai was taken aback, unable to understand why he was asked this, and casually replied, "I do."

Upon hearing this, Rongrong's expression dimmed, thinking to herself, "He actually already has a partner, so what should I do now?"

The gaunt old man glanced at his granddaughter's expression, sensing she had some interest in Fang Bai, he said, "Having a partner is not a problem; just get rid of her! Let my granddaughter be your partner!"

Rongrong stomped her foot angrily, "Grandfather, you're speaking nonsense again!"

She knew that forcing things wouldn't yield sweetness, and she didn't wish to break up Fang Bai and his partner just to become his. Doing so would be too domineering.

The gaunt old man advised, "Rongrong, finding a suitable partner is not easy; don't miss the opportunity! I think in many aspects, this boy is quite suitable for you!"

Fang Bai didn't expect the gaunt old man's "good thing" to be this, internally laughing bitterly.

He truly feared the gaunt old man might use his Divine King Realm cultivation to force him into taking the yellow-clothed girl as his partner, so he quickly shifted the topic, addressing the gaunt old man, "Where is your Spatial Divine Ring? Let me see if I can remove the formation seal."

The gaunt old man blew his beard and glared, saying, "No way! First, clarify this matter, then we'll talk about the Spatial Divine Ring!"

Just as he finished speaking, Rongrong had already rushed forward, taking the Spatial Divine Ring from her grandfather's finger and placing it into Fang Bai's hand, saying, "Here! The Spatial Divine Ring from the Giant Clan corpse is inside my grandfather's ring. If you can break the seal and take out the cultivation resources inside, I'll decide to give you half!"

The gaunt old man nearly jumped up, exclaiming, "Half? Rongrong, you're crazy!"

The Spatial Divine Ring of a Divine King Realm expert surely contained a vast amount of cultivation resources, and even half of it was considerable. The gaunt old man, if it were up to him, would have been generous to give Fang Bai even a tenth, and yet his granddaughter had promised half so boldly.

The gaunt old man knew his granddaughter very well; if she hadn't taken a liking to Fang Bai, she wouldn't be so generous as to offer him half.

It's just that feelings are mutual; his granddaughter favors Fang Bai, but he already has a partner and doesn't seem interested in this matter.

This made the gaunt old man quite upset.

Thus, he decided that no matter what, he would facilitate this matter between his granddaughter and Fang Bai. In the future, upon locating Fang Bai's partner, he could resort to threats or inducements, ensuring she leaves Fang Bai's side.

For his granddaughter, the gaunt old man felt it was all worthwhile.

"Grandfather, I'm not crazy! From now on, you're not allowed to mention anything about partners. Otherwise... otherwise... I'll cry for you to see!"

Rongrong bit her lip, and her eyes turned slightly red, seemingly on the brink of tears.

Seeing his granddaughter's distress, the gaunt old man's heart melted, and he quickly said, "Alright! Alright! I won't talk about it anymore! Not another word..."

He raised his hand and grabbed the air, retrieving his own Spatial Divine Ring from Fang Bai's hand, then retrieved the Giant Clan's Spatial Divine Ring from it and tossed it to Fang Bai, saying in a bad mood, "Boy, here's the Divine Ring for you. Don't disappoint me!"

Although he was not knowledgeable in the Array Path, he understood that a seal formation on a Spatial Divine Ring belonging to a Divine King Realm Expert had to be exceptionally ingenious, and Fang Bai wasn't even a Divine Venerable Realm Expert, so how could he break that seal formation?

Nevertheless, Fang Bai had pursued them all the way, demonstrating persistence, so the gaunt old man had some belief that Fang Bai might have some capabilities.

Thus, he decided to let Fang Bai try.

If Fang Bai successfully removed the formation seal, it would prove that he truly was an Array Master and an extraordinary one at that, earning even higher regard from the gaunt old man.

Fang Bai said, "If I can remove this formation seal, can I exchange half of the cultivation resources for something else?"

Rongrong asked curiously, "What do you want to exchange for?"

In her view, obtaining half of the cultivation resources from a Divine King Realm Expert's Spatial Divine Ring surpassed all else.

Fang Bai glanced at the gaunt old man and said, "I'm just a little short of reaching the Divine Venerable Realm..."

The gaunt old man, being extremely shrewd to possess his current cultivation level, upon hearing Fang Bai's words, raised an eyebrow and said, "You want me to help you advance to the Divine Venerable Realm?"

"Exactly."

Fang Bai smilingly nodded.

The gaunt old man pondered, "With your talent and aptitude, earning half of the cultivation resources from this Spatial Divine Ring gives you a significant chance to advance to the Divine Venerable Realm! Why do you want my help?"

Fang Bai replied, "I don't have a Divine King Realm cultivation technique. Cultivating by myself would mean groping in the dark, making the advancement slow. That's why I hope for guidance from a Divine King Realm expert, which would speed up my advancement."

The gaunt old man said, "Sometimes, rushing is not always beneficial!"

Fang Bai smiled, remaining silent, simply looking at the gaunt old man, waiting for him to make a decision.

Urban Extraordinary Immortal Doctor

Chapter 2809: Unsealing

"All right, I promise you."

The emaciated old man hesitated for less than ten breaths before agreeing to Fang Bai's request.

His willingness to guide Fang Bai actually came from the thought of making Fang Bai his granddaughter's future husband.

In his view, if Fang Bai could undo the Sealing Formation on that Giant Clan Spatial Divine Ring, it would prove he was an extremely formidable Array Master.

And if, under his guidance, Fang Bai could step into the Divine Venerable Realm in a short time, that would further prove his talent and aptitude were excellent.

A young powerhouse like this, his future achievements might not be inferior to his granddaughter's, and he would be a perfect match for her.

By then, the emaciated old man would be willing to exhaust all his strength to help his granddaughter fulfill her wish and form a Dao companion with Fang Bai.

Thus, under the gaze of the grandfather and granddaughter, Fang Bai began pondering the Sealing Formation on that Giant Clan Spatial Divine Ring in his hand.

In the path of cultivation, once one law is understood, all laws become accessible.

After arriving in the Divine Realm, Fang Bai discovered that the Formations he had created in the Immortal Realm were equally applicable in the Divine Realm.

By the same token, many Formations in the Divine Realm that looked exquisite and ingenious were things Fang Bai could easily break.

Fang Bai held that Spatial Divine Ring of the Giant Clan, frowned and studied it for a moment, then his brows gradually relaxed.

Rongrong had been worrying for Fang Bai, fearing that if he failed to remove the Divine Ring's Seal, he would be mocked and teased by her grandfather. Now, seeing his brows relax, she knew he must have found a way, and couldn't help letting out a soft breath of relief; a hint of laughter also surfaced in her bright eyes.

The emaciated old man, however, kept the same expression, stroking his beard with a constant smile.

"Fortunately, I didn't fail the task."

Dozens of breaths later, Fang Bai let out a light exhale, wiped away the thin sheen of sweat on his forehead, and handed the now-unsealed Divine Ring back to the emaciated old man.

"You unlocked it that quickly?"

Seeing Fang Bai rub his hands over the Giant Clan's Spatial Divine Ring for a short while and then hand it back, the emaciated old man couldn't help but be somewhat surprised.

He once again sent his Divine Sense into the Spatial Divine Ring in his hand and found that the Sealing Formation carved into the ring had been completely erased; his Divine Sense could easily enter the Spatial Divine Ring.

"It's more or less as I expected. That Giant Clan fellow was, after all, a Divine King Realm Expert in life. After years of accumulation, the quantity of Cultivation Resources in this Spatial Divine Ring is quite considerable."

As the emaciated old man spoke, he slanted a glance at Fang Bai and said, "You don't feel it's a pity to give up half of the Cultivation Resources?"

Fang Bai smiled and shook his head.

The emaciated old man casually tossed the Spatial Divine Ring to his granddaughter Rongrong beside him and said, "These things are of little use to your grandpa now. You keep it."

Rongrong received that Spatial Divine Ring and swept it once with her Divine Sense; there wasn't much joy on her face, and she simply tossed it into her own Spatial Divine Ring.

"For a powerhouse in the Divine Realm to advance in realm, it is by no means something achieved in one fell swoop. Here's how it will be: stay with me for now, and I'll guide you when I have time."

Leaving these words behind, the emaciated old man turned and strode toward the city ahead.

That city was called Illusory Heaven City, the largest city in the Illusory Heaven Star System and also where the Starlord Hall was located. Tens of millions of Divine Realm experts of various clans lived here, with True God Realm and Divine Venerable Realm experts as the mainstay, and even the figures of Divine King Realm Experts could be seen appearing from time to time.

"Um... my name is Rongrong. What's your name?"

Fang Bai and Rongrong followed behind the emaciated old man. At first Rongrong lowered her head without speaking, but as she and Fang Bai drew ever closer, practically walking side by side, she took the initiative to speak.

Rongrong seemed quite talkative. Once Fang Bai told her his name, she opened the floodgates, telling Fang Bai her grandfather's name and honorific title, then spoke of where she and her grandfather had come from and what they intended to do after arriving at Illusory Heaven Star.

Only then did Fang Bai learn that the emaciated old man's honorific was Great Might Divine King, who had already lived for one hundred thousand years and now had very little lifespan left.

The reason the grandfather and granddaughter had been wandering all over the starry skies was that the Great Might Divine King sought an opportunity to advance in realm, thereby extending his lifespan, or hoped to find some Divine Elixir capable of prolonging lifespan, and then help his granddaughter step into the Divine King Realm, so that he could die without regrets.

However, the Great Might Divine King had at most ten years of lifespan left. To advance another minor realm within ten years was simply impossible.

And Divine Elixirs capable of extending the lifespan of a Divine King Realm Expert were equally extremely hard to find. The grandfather and granddaughter had been traveling the starry skies for many years, time and again filled with hope, only to be disappointed again and again.

This time, they had come to Illusory Heaven Star because they had heard that the Nine-Tailed Divine Fox Clan lived on this star, and that Creation Pills of the Divine King Realm refined by fusing the essence blood of Nine-Tailed Divine Foxes could greatly increase the chance of breaking through to the next realm when taken.

Even if one could not advance in realm, so long as one's strength improved by even a small margin, one's lifespan could be extended by several decades.

For the Great Might Divine King, this was a rare opportunity. Even though the truth of such rumors couldn't be verified, they had still come.

Fang Bai himself was an Alchemist and knew that Creation Pills could indeed be used to raise the probability of advancing to the next realm. However, he had never seen a Nine-Tailed Divine Fox, and he was not certain whether Creation Pills refined with the essence of Nine-Tailed Divine Foxes could boost the chance of advancing.

Given Fang Bai's current Cultivation Level, even with the aid of Divine Fire, he could only barely refine Creation Pills for the Divine Venerable Realm. As for Creation Pills of the Divine King Realm, he simply had no way to produce them.

Even if his realm stepped into the Divine Venerable Realm, the hope of refining Creation Pills of the Divine King Realm that the Great Might Divine King needed would still be slim.

Thus, although Fang Bai was willing to help the Great Might Divine King, he was powerless to do so and could only hope that the grandfather and granddaughter would be able to find a Nine-Tailed Divine Fox, obtain its blood, and then invite a Divine King Realm Alchemist to refine Creation Pills for them.

Not long after, Fang Bai and Rongrong followed the Great Might Divine King into Illusory Heaven City and found a Superior inn, where they temporarily settled.

"This is your first time in Illusory Heaven City. If you feel bored, you can stroll around the city. I'm going to inquire about the Nine-Tailed Divine Fox Clan first."

Leaving these words, the Great Might Divine King left the inn alone.

Fang Bai and Rongrong looked at each other for a moment, neither speaking.

"How about... we go take a look at the Cultivation Resource Exchange Market in the city?"

After a short pause, Rongrong suggested.

"All right."

Fang Bai smiled and nodded.

Whenever Divine Realm experts came to a star, strolling through that star's Cultivation Resource Exchange Market was almost something they had to do when traveling the starry skies.

Fang Bai and Rongrong were no exception.

They went together to the Cultivation Resource Exchange Market within Illusory Heaven City and found that the vast majority of experts trading there had a Cultivation Level at the Divine Venerable Realm, and the items being traded were mainly Divine Elixirs, Divine Artifacts, and Beast Cores of Starry Sky Behemoths.

Fang Bai noticed that among the items being exchanged by Divine Realm experts, yellow Divine Crystals were used the most.

Some Divine King Realm Experts were actually conducting their trades with green Divine Crystals.

Green Divine Crystals contained far more Divine Power than yellow Divine Crystals and were a hundred times more precious. Since arriving in the Divine Realm, this was Fang Bai's first time seeing them.

"Actually, there are some green Divine Crystals in my grandpa's Spatial Divine Ring as well. If you like them, I'll ask him to give you a few pieces later."

Seeing Fang Bai staring at the green Divine Crystals without looking away, clearly quite tempted, Rongrong said with a smile.