

I Play Yu-Gi 41

Chapter 41: Joining

"Fusion Summon, Elemental HERO Great Tornado!"

The warrior who controlled the storm appeared in the center of the field, bringing a howling tornado. The dark storm visible to the naked eye shot straight into the sky, and the arena trembled under the gust of wind. The slender hero floated in the middle of the storm, his dark cloak fluttering in the wind.

[Elemental HERO Great Tornado, ATK 2800]

This was the last new hero fusion monster that Yuei Vu has in his hand. The fusion condition was 1 "Elemental HERO" monster + 1 WIND monster, so he could use the Bladedge to fuse with the WIND attribute Avian.

"Attack power of 2800!? It's higher than Skull Archfiend of Lightning!" Kawasaki Gai looked in disbelief.

"And Great Tornado' also has special abilities." Yuei Vu said, "If this card is Fusion Summoned: Halve the ATK and DEF of all face-up monsters the opponent currently controls!"

Kawasaki was even more astonished: "Such a powerful effect!?"

In the eyes of duelists of this era, having the attack power of 2800 was already a powerful monster. Not only that, but it also had the terrifying special ability of "halving the ATK and DEF of all the opponent's monster" Wasn't it invincible!?

The hero of the storm raised his palm, and the tornado swept forward as if it had consciousness. The demon's thunder was briefly dissipated by the gust of wind, and the bones of the demon were dragged into the middle of the storm.

The skeleton demon let out an unwilling roar and released lightning with all his strength to hit the gale that bound him, but it was useless. Its physical strength was rapidly weakened, and the thunder and lightning momentum it released was not as good as before.

[Skull Archfiend of Lightning, ATK 2500 ATK 1250]

Some duelists in the audience began to wonder: "Wait a minute, shouldn't the president's skeleton demon be able to roll the dice when he is targeted by effects, and decide whether the activation is valid or invalid according to the rolled number?"

"That's right! It makes sense, why didn't the special ability of the skeleton demon be activated?"

"Is it a system bug"

More than one duelist had such a question, and many people were surprised.

President Kawasaki himself has a slightly stronger understanding of the duel rules. He gritted his teeth and said, "I see. The effect of Skull Archfiend of Lightning will only be activated when he is selected as the target of the effect', but the effect of Great Tornado is to halving the ATK and DEF of all the opponent's monster'. There is no target selection, so the ability is not triggered?"

Yuei Vu chuckled: "That's right."

To put it simply, the principle was this-

My Great Tornado is not targeting anyone today, but all the monsters here, the attack power has to be halved for me!

In fact, for later players, this was a common-sense rule. In Yu-Gi-Oh's rule system, there were many card effects that needed to be activated by selecting specific objects, there were also many cards that could prevent becoming the target of effects.

However, in this age when duelists were still trying to adapt to the simple rules of "the advance summons requires tributes", the rules for targeting were too advanced and complicated, and most people really didn't understand it.

President Kawasawa Gai was one of the few duelists who could understand this rule. But the more he could understand it, the more he admired the young man in front of him.

He actually even considered the weakness of Skull Archfiend of Lightning!

This boy Whether it is the use of cards, the choice of tactics, or the understanding and awareness of the duel monster game, he is terrifyingly strong!

Although the duel was not over yet, Kawasawa Gai found that he had actually accepted his defeat in his heart.

Or rather, he was even vaguely beginning to look forward to the way he will usher in defeat in the future.

The corner of his mouth twitched and he hummed: "Fusion Summoning It can indeed summon a powerful enough monster in an instant. It is a powerful move that can instantly dominate the duel.

But this method is also accompanied by certain restrictions, you must have taken into account your words, right? The fact that fusion monsters cannot attack during the turn they are summoned. "

Indeed, every time I play a card in this era, this rule will be extremely painful, especially since my initial deck is still an Elemental HERO deck with fusion as the core

But it doesn't matter.

He played the last card that ended the duel: "Quick-Play Spell De-Fusion!"

"Huh, it turns out that this trick is still hidden." Kawasawa Gai hummed.

"I return Great Tornado to the Extra Deck, then I special summon all the Fusion Materials that were used for its Fusion Summon from my GY!" As he spoke, two cards popped out of Yusei's graveyard, "Come back, Elemental HERO Avian, Elemental HERO Bladedge!"

[Elemental HERO Avian, ATK 1000]

[Elemental HERO Bladedge, ATK 2600]

Everyone knew what would happen next.

"Bladedge, attack Skull Archfiend of Lightning!" Yusei gave the final order.

The golden metal hero charged toward the demon. The engine on his back spewed golden flames, and his body turned into a long golden afterimage, like a sharp knife popping out of its scabbard.

The Skull Archfiend of Lightning, whose attack power was halved to 1250, was completely powerless to stop the Bladedge's attack. The golden knife light slashed through the demon's body from top to bottom. The armor of the bones shattered with grief, and its body also shattered with an unwilling roar.

Kawasawa Gai, LP 1000 LP 0

The audience fell into a strange silence once again.

Even though they more or less had foreseen the result that the president would lose But seeing it with their own eyes was still a bit too shocking.

Because this was not just a simple loss of a duel, but the entire duel seemed to be firmly grabbed in the hands of Yuei Vu.

Even Kawasawa Gai's summoning of his ace monster, the top rare card among Archfiends, "Skull Archfiend of Lightning", seemed to be completely in vain.

The rhythm of the duel from beginning to end was in the hands of Yuei Vu. He defused the opponent's attack lightly, saw through the opponent's tactics, and made a beautiful counterattack It seemed that he was still at ease.

Where did such a powerful duelist come from? Why never heard of it before?

"It's me who lost." Kawasawa Gai stood up, "I lost completely, there is nothing to be dissatisfied with."

"In this way, I can join you, right?" Yuei Vu smiled.

"If you still have the will, of course, there is no problem. It would be an honor for us Nightcrawler World to have such a powerful duelist as you."

The strong are always respected.

Seeing Yuei Vu's superb skills, Kawasawa Gai even felt that this overly handsome face became more pleasing to the eye.

"Thank you, President." Yuei Vu nodded and turned to the onlookers beside the ring, "Then please give me more advice in the future."

The whole house full of sturdy men gave out cheers of welcome.

Chapter 42: Level 4 Beatstick

After ten minutes, Yuei Vu quickly felt the enthusiasm of the new companions from "Nightcrawler World".

Although the title of "Shadow Duelist" sounded a bit sinister, in fact, this did not mean that they were villains. It was just a name for the users of "Shadow Game".

The world of Yu-Gi-Oh was different from the worldview of many other works. Here, light did not always represent justice, and the darkness did not necessarily mean evil.

If it must be said, Yami Yugi as the protagonist also used dark power, but no one would ever think that he was the villain. In addition, Yuki Judai, the protagonist of the follow-up work Yu-Gi-Oh!

GX, was also a representative figure with dark power, but this did not prevent him from being a sunny and bright young man.

Power was just a simple weapon, depending on the person who used it.

After passing the dueling test, President Kawasaki Gai announced on the spot that he accepted Yuei Vu as a new member of the Nightcrawler World. Yuei Vu quickly received a card from the president's card that could not be used in actual combat and was purely made by the guild, but the card surface was designed to be exquisite, and there would be a special effect of fluorescent sparkles when facing the light source.

The image on the card was a black Duel Disk, shaped like a pistol. The president explained that this was the representative LOGO of their Nightcrawler World, and this card was equivalent to a membership card, so he should keep it properly.

After the brief membership procedure was completed, Yuei Vu officially joined the guild. In his own system panel, the faction information of the "Nightcrawler World" was also added, which means that he has officially changed from a non-aligned person to a member of the association.

Next was the time for the warm welcome of the seniors.

This night, Yuei Vu had an unforgettable experience. A group of strong men enthusiastically surrounded him in the middle, offering him food and drink. The drink was oolong tea.

Because Yuei Vu said that he was underage and could not drink, although a group of strong men showed their frustration unabashedly on their faces, they did not insist.

Actually, Yuei Vu did not lie. He has been reborn for less than a month, so it stood to reason that he was only less than a month old.

They were Shadow Duelists, but everyone unexpectedly obeyed the rules.

After drinking for a while, someone would naturally ask: Little brother Yuei Vu, why are you so strong? Can you reveal the secret?

Yuei Vu smiled slightly and answered succinctly: Among all dueling skills, only the divine draw can hardly be countered.

Someone asked again: Where did you get your "Elemental HERO" card? I've never seen it before.

Yuei Vu only replied that he had his own way, but did not answer this question directly. However, when he said this, he patted his forehead as if he suddenly remembered something, saying that he had a treasure to show everyone.

As everyone looked forward with anticipation, Yuei Vu took out a spare card box from the inner pocket of his jacket, opened the card box, and took out a stack of cards from it.

He took out the first one on the top and put it on the table.

"Hey, it's the Winged Dragon, Guardian of the Fortress #1, a rare card!" Someone recognized it immediately.

"It's a good card."

"I took it out from the card pack half a month ago, but I can't use it myself." Yuei Vu shrugged, "I'm thinking about finding a suitable price recently. If any brother thinks this card is useful, I can trade it for half of the original price.

The duelists suddenly became commotion.

Buy an SR at a 50% discount!

This is a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity. Once you pass this change, you won't meet it again.

Immediately, many people made bids, expressing their willingness to buy this "Winged Dragon, Guardian of the Fortress #1".

Yuei Vu thought for a while and finally handed this card to Mr. Kuroda who fought against him in the first round.

"It was a beautiful duel before, thank you for your advice just now."

Yuei Vu smiled politely, "This card is just a little gift, please accept it. "

Kuroda was overjoyed, and hurriedly accepted this "SR" and nodded again and again: "Okay! Then I will thank you in advance, the money will be sent to your account in a while.

From now on, everyone will be brothers. If you have anything, feel free to ask me for help Oh, if you want to have another duel, feel free to ask! "

Listening to what he said and looking at his excited look, he didn't know what strange attribute he had unlocked and was obsessed with dancing in public.

Although it's only half price, in Yuei Vu's opinion, selling a card with zero value for SR's price, in Yuei Vu's opinion, was already a big profit.

But of course, it couldn't be his real purpose, but just pavement for his next plan.

He then took out the second card

"Battle Steer!" The sharp-eyed person recognized it immediately, "Rare card!"

This time, there were more people interested than before.

Winged Dragon, Guardian of the Fortress #1 was just a simple "rare card", As a Normie with 1400 ATK, in fact, this card had no other purpose other than to show off the owner's wealth.

Battle Steer was different, this was not only a rare SR card but also had an attack power of 1800!

The attack power of 1800 was uncommon among Level 4 monsters. The Giant Red Seasnake summoned by Kuroda before was such a rare card.

But there were only two copies of Giant Red Seasnake in Kuroda's entire deck. He was lucky to draw one last time.

As mentioned earlier, low-level, high-attack monsters were gradually becoming the mainstream among most duelists these days. Because low-level monsters with high attack power could be summoned directly without Tributes, they could easily take the initiative in the game, so this kind of monster was even more popular than some high-star monsters.

"Thirty thousand!" After a moment of silence, someone immediately spoke up, "I give you thirty thousand, can you sell this card to me?"

Even Yuei Vu, who originally planned to come here with a profiteer to sell cards, was a little surprised.

He guessed that these duelists would be very enthusiastic, but he did not expect the enthusiasm to be so high.

Are you sure you want to buy Normie for 30,000?

Sure enough, I don't understand the world of riches

"Fifty thousand!" Someone immediately raised the price.

"Sixty thousand!"

"Eighty thousand!"

"Eighty thousand plus one thousand!"

The bidding stopped suddenly, and countless people looked at Kuroda who was shouting with contempt.

Mr. Kuroda's face hurt.

Then what can I do?

Do you blame me for not being able to pay more?

Even if he was mentally prepared, Yuei Vu still underestimated the obsession of these duelists for the 1800 low-star RBI.

In the end, after a round of fierce competition, this SR card, which made Yuei Vu feel it had no value at first, was sold at a price of 100,000.

On the surface, Yuei Vu was stoic, but inside he was happy.

MD, can you believe that a Normie that no one wanted in a previous life was sold for 100,000?

Is it too easy to make a fortune?

Well, in theory, it's not that easy.

Whether it's "Winged Dragon, Guardian of the Fortress #1" or "Battle Steer", the reason these cards were "SR" was because they are indeed quite rare. Yuei Vu took out these two cards from the card pack in one breath, and the opening of the pack might indeed be regarded as a lucky lottery (Although he really only wanted to open a Pot of Greed)

But the card he was going to take out next time was different.

Yuei Vu didn't say a word, silently took out another card, and put it on the table in front of him.

Everyone's eyes focused again.

This time, no one exclaimed for the first time, because none of the people present had seen this card.

"Chainsaw Insect? What kind of monster is this? Never heard of it."

Everyone continued to read the card text.

The Level was 4, and the attack power

Attack power 2400!?

WTF??

Chapter 43: I Just Sit Here Quietly, Watching You Drive Up The Price...

A Level 4 monster with 2400 ATK!?

Don't tell me about this kind of thing, I've never heard of it at all!

2400 attack power Even the legendary ultra-rare card, the "Red-Eyes Black Dragon" in the hand of the runner-up of the Duelist Kingdom, Jonouchi Katsuya, had only 2400 attack power.

Moreover, Red-Eyes Black Dragon was also a Level 7 high-level monster, which requires two Tributes to summon. In the current dueling environment, it was still a little difficult to gather the Tributes to make such high-level monsters.

Now a person told them that there was a monster with strength equal to Red-Eyes Black Dragon but could be summoned casually?

This card is too OP, isn't it?

Are you sure this is not a fake card?

Of course, there were people who doubt the authenticity of this card. Although no one said it outright due to Yuei Vu's face, it was natural to have such thoughts.

However, everyone present was Shadow Duelists, more or less possessing some abilities that ordinary people do not have.

The power of the Shadow Game and the dueling monster cards were closely linked, therefore the real dueling monster cards had certain supernatural properties that the imitation cards did not have. Even a low-level Shadow Duelist could tell the difference easily.

Soon, someone took turns using their dark power perception to detect the authenticity of this card, and Yuei Vu also gave a great deal of permission.

And then soon everyone came to the same conclusion

This is definitely a genuine dueling monster card, not a fake replacement.

Even if the strength of this Level 4 monster seemed to be too good to be true as if its attack power seems to be handwritten by the players But it was indeed a real card.

Of course, it was a real card. After all, this "Chainsaw Insect" was a card drawn by Yuei Vu from the system card pool.

The products produced by the system must be high-quality products. This was something that Yuei Vu confirmed in the game in the last life. The cards which were drawn from the system card pool even if there were no cards in the era of DMs, were definitely genuine cards that can be recognized by NPCs.

In fact, players have thought about "selling cards produced by the system to NPCs" before.

However, the system prohibited players from selling cards to NPCs, and the currency in World Link Online was not very useful to players. So apart from Yuei Vu, the NPC with the system, no one really sold the system card to other NPCs.

And from Yuei Vu's point of view, this "Chainsaw Insect" was actually very useless.

This card was not unfamiliar to Yu-Gi-Oh real card players. Although having high attack power for a Level 4 monster, this card has never been banned or restricted in history and almost no one had even played the card.

The reason was very simple: Because its side effect was too great.

The special effect of Chainsaw Insect At the end of the Damage Step, if this card attacked or was attacked: Your opponent draws 1 card.

Give the opposite a card for free!

Pot of Greed was a Thousands of Years Banned card, but in terms of advantage, it only gave players a net +1 card (After activating, the player drew two cards from the deck and consumed Pot of Greed itself, which was equivalent to earning one card). This insect actually gave the opposite one for free every time it battled.

This kind of side effect was often greater than the net benefit, thus basically no one used it.

However, in the eyes of DMs, the duelists who have no concept of "card advantage" at all, this is a divine card that has no side effects and is about equal to a Red-Eyes Black Dragon.

What? The side effect of letting the opponent draw a card?

Hmm That is just a minor flaw that can be ignored directly, right?

In fact, it was not that there were completely no cards in this era with a Level 4 having such a high level of attack.

The most famous of them was "Goblin Attack Force".

Goblin Attack Force, Level 4, ATK 2300, DEF 0. Effect: If this card attacks, it is changed to Defense Position at the end of the Battle Phase, and its battle position cannot be changed until the End Phase of your next turn.

The limitation of this side effect was not small. Having 0 defensive power meant that this monster would be eliminated in the next turn. It was only one-shot, just like eating Viagra

Even so, Goblin Attack Force was still a popular premium rare card on the market.

Compared with the side effect of "changed to Defense Position after battling", the side effect of "letting the opponent draw a card" of Chainsaw Insect was almost nothing!

However, no one dared to bid for the first time.

Because no one has ever heard of such a powerful monster in the world, naturally no one knew how much it should be worth.

But it was certain that this kind of card, which was unique in the world and almost certainly be "the Level 4 monster with the highest attack power in the world", could not be overpriced.

"Yuei-san, may I ask Where did you get this card?" someone asked.

This was also a question that many people were concerned about.

In their opinion, such a card should be marked with the highest rarity "USR", or even more.

"Some personal channels." Yuei Vu couldn't explain the existence of the system card pool, but he didn't need to make up any strange excuses, "However, what I can guarantee is that this card is definitely not a counterfeit."

This did not require him to guarantee as everyone present could confirm it.

As for the channel, since Yuei Vu didn't want to talk about it, others didn't continue to ask. After all, for Shadow Duelists, everyone had their personal channels and connections. Most people may not be willing to share their secrets with others.

After a long while, someone finally tried to bid: "One million No, one and a half million, can you give it to me?"

Someone always had to start this.

Shadow Duelist almost never lacked money. The reason why no one paid much for the previous two cards was that everyone felt that a higher bid would not be worth it.

For example, "Winged Dragon, Guardian of the Fortress #1" was simply rare but had no practical use, and "Battle Steer" had attack power as high as 1800, which was very valuable, but that's all. Although low star monsters with an attack power of 1800 were rare, they were not completely absent, and could still be bought with enough money.

But now the nature of this "Chainsaw Insect" was different.

This was the kind of super-powerful card that was very unique. Missing this chance, no matter how much money you were willing to spend, you may not be able to buy it.

"Two million." Someone immediately raised the price.

No one thought it was surprising or excessive, or rather, everyone thought this should be normal. For the Shadow Duelists, cards were not only game props but also weapons, and in situations where they had to bet their life, a strong card could decide dead or alive. Then it's worth the extra money for a stronger card.

This was also one of the reasons why Yuei Vu plans to come here to sell cards there was no one more suitable to be a customer than Shadow Duelists who were rich and had an extraordinary desire for powerful cards.

"Two million and two hundred thousand."

"Two and a half million."

""

"Five million."

The calm and powerful voice sounded in everyone's ears, which surprised everyone present.

Everyone turned their heads one after another, only to see that it was a man in a black dress and a high hat, with a characteristic scar on his face, which gave people a very innocuous intuition.

Someone was suddenly surprised: "Nan Manager Nanmoku?"

Yes, in Nightcrawler World, there was a "manager" position, the most trusted subordinate directly appointed by the president Kawasaki Gai, the one who was responsible for managing the daily affairs of the members.

Gambling and private dealings among members were not prohibited, but the leadership, including the stewards, was never personally involved.

It's not a rule, it's just a convention.

But today the convention is clearly about to be broken.

Everyone was still surprised. Manager Nanmoku had already squeezed into the crowd, and said indifferently, "Ten million."

All the members were in an uproar.

As expected of the manager, his spirit is different!

Do you dare to believe that he is bidding against himself?

Spending money was not the point, the point was that the money must be spent with determination, enough to give people an impression of "I must have this".

Yuei Vu watched cheerfully, feeling like he was in the front row watching the large-scale pretending scene of an auction house in a fantasy novel.

Sure enough, it seemed that he was shocked by the manager's aura (maybe his job title), and no one dared to make any more bids for a while.

Manager Nanmoku walked through the automatically separated crowd and walked in front of Yuei Vu, with a tick on the corner of his mouth: "Ten million, give this card to me Do you have any comments?"

Yuei Vu shrugged: "As long as no one else has an opinion."

"Okay, then now"

"I have an opinion!"

A powerful voice sounded. Everyone's faces changed, and their eyes quickly followed the sound

"Eh? Nobody? Who was the one who pretended to shout and ran away?"

"Oh, so it's Mr. President, sorry, you are too short. You are blocked by the crowd so I couldn't see it !

"Wait, does the president even have to participate in the auction in person?"

President Kawasaki held his hands on his back, and his small body slowly approached, and he confronted the management officer under his subordinate.

"Twenty million." As the president, Kawasaki said with a great bearing. He smiled and said, "Nanmoku-kun, this card can you give it to me?"

"Twenty-two million." Nanmoku asked blankly as he spoke, "Didn't you say that you will only play pure Fiend deck all your life, President? I thought this Insect wasn't your thing."

"Heh, all duelists of our generation need to trust their deck. As long as you believe that it is a Fiend, it is naturally a Fiend." When the president spoke, his face was not red or his heart skipped a beat.

Nanmoku rolled his eyes to show his disdain for the president's scumbag behavior in front of the coquettish bitches with high attack power.

Although they had a superior-subordinate relationship, Manager Nanmoku and President Kawasaki have been friends for many years, and there was no psychological pressure to raise the price.

The two here haven't come to a conclusion yet, yet another person's voice sounded from the entrance: "Thirty million!"

Everyone in the audience gasped again (and contributed to the process of global warming), and looked towards the door in surprise.

They saw a man in a straight suit appearing at the door, with a tall nose bridge, a slender figure, and a confident and powerful pace.

That's the manager Matsunaga!

Is today's auction destined to be a battle of the gods?

As the auction sponsor and card holder, Yuei Vu sat there quietly from beginning to end, not saying a word.

I just sit here quietly, watching you drive up the price

Chapter 44: It's Not Impossible

After a night of fighting between dragons and tigers, the "Chainsaw Insect" that Yuei Vu took out was finally taken by the president, Kawasaki Gai, at a transaction price of 50 million.

Maybe the president's face played a role, or maybe the price really reached the psychological limit of the two managers. In the end, the two withdrew from the bidding and gave the "Level 4 monster with the highest attack power in the world" to the president.

President Kawasaki Gai was in a good mood. He even thought that the price of 50,000,000 was still cheap for this Chainsaw Insect. Without saying a word, he waved his hand on the spot, and directly wrote a check for 50 million to Yuei Vu.

As a seller, Yuei Vu was in a better mood. During the whole process, he just sat here and didn't say a word. He just took this "Chainsaw Insect" and threw it on the table, and then 50 million was in his hand

This time, he really made a fortune.

An Chainsaw Insect sold for 50 million. If he told other players about this kind of thing, they might die because of envy.

This bug that has no advantages other than high attack, huge side effects, or even just an R card (rating given by the system) You tell me that it can sell for 50 million?

Are you kidding me?

Are you a profiteer?

Yuei Vu felt that he was not a profiteer at all.

After all, he didn't say anything during the whole process, and he didn't try to sell or trick people into buying this Chainsaw Insect at all. He just silently took out this card and sat by the side to watch the play. The price was driven up by the buyers themselves, which had nothing to do with him.

If you have to say what Yuei Vu has done in the process, at best he has just accepted the 50 million check from the last president

What's even more interesting is that the president handed the 50 million to him, and patted Yuei Vu on the shoulder solemnly, saying: In the future, if there are any problems in the organization or in life, you can contact me, the president, and I will help you out.

It was clear that he was the one who paid, and he acted as if he owed Yuei Vu some kind of favor.

It made Yuei Vu felt a bit embarrassed

Obviously, Yuei Vu has attracted the attention of everyone, including the president.

Powerful dark power, super high dueling skills, powerful rare cards no one would believe this young man without a strong background.

The auction was over, and tonight's turmoil would come to an end.

It was getting late now, so Yuei Vu said goodbye to these new friends and set off to go back to the card shop where he lived.

Actually, there were more than just a few cards that Yuei Vu can sell in his hand. He has persistently opened a package in the system card pool for more than half a month.

In fact, there were some cards that may not be useful to players, but NPCs may be very interested in, these should also sell for a good price.

However, Yuei Vu didn't plan to take out these cards in one go.

The rarer one product was, the more expensive. People who like the Chainsaw Insect would be amazed when it is occasionally taken out. Even if they buy it back for 50 million, no one will feel that it is a loss. But if Yuei Vu took out a Chainsaw Insect in a week, the price would undoubtedly plummet It might even make the customers who bid first feel like they were being tricked.

Tonight, selling a card for 50 million was enough.

In the short term, Yuei Vu didn't plan to sell such "supermodel" cards in the system card pool anymore. If nothing else, he first went back to his store to open three or five thousand packs of cards, and then filled up his deck with all the Pot of Greed and Graceful Charity that could be opened.

In addition, there were some divine cards in the DM world, such as Painful Choice", "Heavy Storm", "Harpie's Feather Duster", and "Giant Trunade", which were also his targets.

In the development of Yu-Gi-Oh in later generations, the above-mentioned cards were either outright banned or limited, all of which have terrifying abilities that the game environment could not bear.

And many of them were not very popular among duelists in this era, and no one thought they are very powerful.

Anyway, these things were only marked as N cards or only R cards in the current environment.

In case one's luck was good, and a rare card was opened on the way, it can be sold to the Nightcrawler World again Well, of course, the probability was not high.

Previously, three rare cards were issued in ten consecutive rounds (although they were all useless), so it might not be surprising that Yuei Vu would not be able to open rare cards for a long time.

Early the next morning.

Chikai stared blankly at the stack of banknotes that Yuei Vu handed over to her, her face full of doubts: "Your first month's salary Shouldn't have been paid yet, right?"

"Yes." Yuei Vu nodded.

"Then how did you"

"I sold the rare card I got last time." Yuei Vu smiled, "You know, the rare card can be sold for a very high price. Because I don't need those cards anyway"

"Oh." Chika nodded and accepted this statement, and whispered while putting away the money, "I thought you were doing weird things every night to make money "

Yuei Vu had a black line on his face.

Is this girl thinking of something else?

In Chika's mind: Who made Yuei Vu run out with other strange men in the middle of the night before?

Especially the guy with glasses who came to the store to look for Yuei Vu last time, at first glance, he is not a serious person!

Chika felt that her worries were justified.

After a while, Chika went into the house to pack her things.

At this moment, there were no customers, and only Yuei Vu was left behind the counter. He simply took a stack of card bags and prepared to open them.

Anyway, he was temporarily lavish now, and he has money. If you are bored with nothing to do, why not open a few packs of cards and play.

and then after ten packs, sure enough, it sank to the bottom again (1), and none of the things he wanted coming out.

But it didn't matter. Ten packs in one shot were just a speck of dust to him now, and he didn't care about sinking to the bottom.

Yuei Vu picked up a few more bags and was about to continue driving, but it just so happened that someone came to the store at this moment.

Yuei Vu temporarily put down the card pack in his hand: "Welcome."

He looked up and found that the person who came was actually an uncle. This uncle had a gray beard, a pair of sunglasses, a printed red short lining, shorts just above the knee, and two flip-flops underneath as if he had just come back from the summer beach.

In short, he's an irritable old man.

This was still relatively rare. It was not impossible that there were old men who liked to play cards for example, the grandfather of Yugi, Sugoroku Mutou. However, most of the customers who visited the card shop were mainly young people. This was the first time Yuei Vu have seen such an uncle.

What he didn't expect was that the uncle didn't go in after entering the door, and he didn't look like he was going to buy something. Instead, he looked left and right. Finally, his eyes lit up under the sunglasses when he saw Yuei Vushi, and he immediately got close to him. come.

The uncle looked at him with a look like he was looking at some kind of baby, and then nodded again and again: "Well, yes, yes, this one."

Yuei Vu: "???"

Can you speak clearly, what do you want?

TL's note:

1. Not sure about this, but "sink to the bottom" may be slang for Gacha games, referring to getting nothing from roll/open pack.

Chapter 45: An Eccentric Old Man

As soon as this uncle came up, Yuei Vu was a little confused, and he couldn't figure out what was happening.

Could it be that this weird man from Hawaii comes to harass?

What's even weirder was that as soon as this uncle came up, a string of "Favorability +8" appeared above his head.

This made Yuei Vu feel a little frightened in his heart.

At this moment, Chika-chan just came out from inside, and she couldn't help being stunned for a moment when she saw this uncle.

The uncle turned his head and saw Chika in a maid outfit, his eyes suddenly lit up again, he seemed to have suddenly lost interest in Yuei Vu and walked towards Chika quickly then he hugged her in his arms.

"Hahaha, my little granddaughter Chika is so cute after so long. You haven't grown taller at all!"
The uncle narrowed his eyes with joy.

Yuei Vu: ""

Chika little granddaughter?

He turned to Chika: "This is your grandfather?"

Chika-chan turned her head expressionlessly while being held: "I don't know him."

Although she said so, judging from the fact that she did not resist at all, it should not be wrong. This eccentric old man who was wearing Hawaiian-style flip-flops was really her grandfather

Yuei Vu quickly realized what had happened.

He couldn't help but ask: "Then Chika-chan, as you said before, the store manager"

"Well." The girl looked away with a paralyzed face, "It's him."

Yuei Vu: ""

So the store manager who Chika mentioned before, the one who "has a poisonous mouth but a tofu heart" was the old gentleman in front of him?

don't say it, it's not hard to imagine if it's this saucy old man

If that's the case, it wouldn't be surprising that Chika could ask the store manager to agree to let Yuei Vu stay as a part-timer after a phone call.

After all, Chika was not only a working student girl, but also the granddaughter of the store manager himself, so it was not surprising that she has the right to speak.

"Ahem, Chika-chan," the uncle let go of his granddaughter and coughed lightly as if trying to save face, "Did you say something strange about me to others while I was away?"

"Well, I said it." Chika nodded and repeated it calmly, "I said you have a poisonous mouth but a tofu heart. Although your mouth is mean, your mind is full of thoughts about how to eat tofu."

The store manager nodded slightly.

As expected of my granddaughter, she's just not like some coquettish bitches outside, who act innocently in front of others but speak ill behind their backs.

My granddaughter is different. She spoke ill of me behind my back, and also said it right in front of my face. I'm very pleased to be a grandfather

WTF!

The store manager was struck by lightning.

It turns out that my image in the granddaughter's mind is already unbearable to such a point?

Yuei Vu, an outsider who was watching from the side, couldn't get in. He just felt that although the relationship between the two seemed to be quite close, there was always a strange subtlety

Chika quickly introduced Yuei Vu and the store manager to know each other. It turned out that the uncle's name was Itou Shin, and this store has only opened here in the past two years. Chika usually lives in school most of the time, and when she is free on weekends and holidays, she will come to the store to help Mr. Shin.

"By the way, I heard that your kid is also a duelist?" Mr. Shin turned around and began to look at Yuei Vu carefully again.

Chikai introduced him: "Yuei Vu is amazing. The runner-up of the Duelist Kingdom, Jonouchi Katsuya, also came to the store to duel with him, and he was no match for him at all."

"Is that so?" Mr. Shin's eyes became more and more admirable when he looked at Yuei Vu as if a collector had found a once-in-a-lifetime precious jade.

Favorability +5

Yuei Vu: ""

"Oh, Chika-chan, it's really dangerous to go out this time. "Mr. Shin had a lingering fear on his face," Your grandfather almost lost his life. A little more and you might never see me again. "

Chikai wasn't moved at all, as if she wasn't interested in what he had to say.

Mr. Shin continued to talk about himself: "I tell you, it was really dangerous at the time. I had already boarded the train back, but I couldn't find where my ticket was going. But I was in a hurry..

"Then why don't you just buy another one?" Yuei Vu didn't feel that it was such a big deal.

Losing a ticket on a bus was all too common, and it's not like he hasn't done it himself. But generally, it's not a big deal, and conductors usually allowed passengers to make up their tickets.

"Idiot, is the problem with the ticket?" Mr. Shin scolded, "The problem is that the ticket is gone. I can't remember which stop to get off at!"

Yuei Vu: ""

That's that's really unfortunate.

Chika remained calm as if it was not surprising at all: "He's always been like this, just get used to it."

"Cough cough."

Mr. Shin tried to change the subject. His eyes fell on the card pack that Yuei Vu was about to open before entering the door, and he smiled and said, "Are you going to buy cards to supplement the deck?"

"Yeah." Yuei Vu nodded, "The Battle City competition is coming, I want to buy some new cards to build a new deck."

"Preparing to participate in the Battle City competition? Oh, your ambition is not small. It is a big event where strong players from all over the country gather." Mr. Shin smiled and waved his hand, "In this way, don't leave for now, come with me. Let's take a look at my collection library. I have a pretty big one there, and you can take any cards you want"

Yuei Vu was a little surprised.

This uncle is so arrogant?

"Grandpa used to be an employee of the Industrial Illusions Company, a card designer of the dueling monster." Chika explained, "Although he doesn't duel with people very much, he has a lot of card collections."

Yuei Vu was in awe.

It turns out that this unruly uncle used to work under Pegasus!

"Then I would like to thank the store manager."

"Just call me Grandpa." Mr. Shin waved his hand generously and smiled, "It's a small matter, but you have to treat Chika-chan well in the future."

Yuei Vu: "?"

What is the old man saying suddenly?

Chika suddenly panicked, and even her poker face seemed to show signs of breaking: "Grandpa, what are you talking about? We just met."

"Ah?" The old man blinked a little puzzled, "Isn't he your?"

"No." Chika blushed a little and said angrily, "When did I say such a thing?"

"Ah? Then why did you say so many good things to this kid on the phone before and ask me to let him stay?" The old man wondered.

Could it be because she sees his handsome face and greed for his body?

If that's the case, Mr. Shin didn't think he couldn't understand it.

After all, he could not walk steadily when he saw a swimsuit girl with a thin waist and long legs on the beach.

Chika was a little anxious, and her face turned even redder: "How can I ever say such a thing"

"Alright, alright, if you don't have it, then you won't have it." Mr. Shin shook his head and expressed his incomprehension.

He thought for a while, then turned to Yuei Vu: "Oh, boy, I just told you to find a card I suddenly remembered that I lost the key to the warehouse. I'm sorry."

Yuei Vu: ""

No, sir, are you too shameless?

Chapter 46: Special Mission

One last week before the Battle City started.

"Special mission?" Yuei Vu asked strangely while standing in President Kawasaki's office.

"Well." Kawasaki Gai nodded, "You seem to have told someone before that you had a clash with Ghouls?"

"Yeah." Yuei Vu said, "As soon as I came to this city, I met a Ghouls' rare card hunter, the magician named Pandora."

"Oh? Pandora is a great general. His Dark Magician' is quite good. It is said that many well-known duelists in the underground world have been defeated by him." Kawasaki Gai raised his eyebrows, "You beat him already?"

Yuei Vu didn't say anything, just silently took out his "Dark Magician" to show him.

Kawasaki Gai gave a thumbs up: "It's awesome."

He has always heard that Ghouls robbed other people's things. This is the first time Mr. President has seen the rare card hunter being robbed of a rare card.

"Afterwards, they sent someone to attack once, but I solved it too." Yuei Vu shrugged, "It's a good match."

Kawasaki Gai smiled and patted him on the shoulder: "It doesn't matter. It just so happened that our club also had some clashes with them, and this mission is actually the same."

You know that the city will hold a tournament named Battle City next, right? "

Yuei Vu nodded.

"Originally, this should be a good thing. The functions of the entire city have been suspended. Making such a large-scale duel competition, I am afraid that only the Kaiba Corp was capable of hosting such a thing in the world.

Of course, it should be a good thing for our local dueling association but someone is planning to take advantage of this convention to make trouble in our territory. "

"Ghouls?" Yuei Vu quickly reacted.

"That's right." As soon as the name was mentioned, the president became angry, "That bastard Marik thinks he can do whatever he wants just because he has the God Card and the Millennium Item in his hand.

He almost broke all the default rules of the world's dark associations for many years, looted the rare cards of duelists around the world, and copied a large number of counterfeit cards to destroy the environment of duel monsters.

Not to mention that they often use some contemptible means, unscrupulous in order to achieve their goals. The reputations of our underworld duelists have all been ruined by these people. "

President Kawasawa spoke with resentment, and that reaction made Yuei Vu even think that the President in front of him was not a duelist who controlled the dark power, but a decent and respectable leader.

"Then we are we going to attack them?" Yuei Vu guessed a little.

"The official declaration of war is not enough, but those guys have already been found in a hidden stronghold in Domino City." Kawasawa Gai snorted and said, "Just tonight, we are going to take people to raid.

At least give that boy Marik a wake-up call, let him know that the Domino City belongs to us, and let him at least be afraid when he does it, so that when the Battle City starts, it will not cause too much disturbance. "

Speaking of which, Yuei Vu already fully understood.

To put it bluntly, you were showing your strength to Ghouls and sending them a message Every move in Domino City is under our monitoring. You'd better take it easy and don't be too arrogant.

"It is reasonable to say that this kind of task can only be participated by members who have long enough qualifications and are excellent enough." President Kawasawa continued, "but you are a special case. If you are willing to join, I can specifically approve you to participate in this time."

After the cause and process were finished, the system finally gave Yuei Vu a prompt.

[Mission: Raid The Stronghold Of Ghouls!]

[Description: Ghouls have become lawless, and more and more rare card hunters are appearing on the streets of Domino City. Someone must take action to dampen their spirit!

Together with the raiding team of Nightcrawler World', attack the stronghold of Ghouls.

You can choose to accept or decline!]

Sure enough, this time it was a type of quest that the player can actively choose whether to accept or not.

Accept it, of course!

Not to mention anything else, looking at the large amount of EXP and crystal in the quest rewards below, Yuei Vu felt that refusal was really sorry for his conscience.

Where do you usually go to find such lucrative quests?

Yuei Vu nodded without hesitation: "It's my honor to be able to contribute to the organization."

President Kawasaki grinned happily although it made his already shabby face look even more apologetic: "Okay! I would be more relieved if you were here."

After all these years in the underground world, President Kawasaki was quite confident in his own strength. However, with his dueling level, he was completely vulnerable in front of Yuei Vu, which made him quite optimistic about Yuei Vu.

In his opinion, as long as the top players like Pegasus, Kaiba Seto, and Yugi Muto did not involve, an average duelist was not Yuei Vu's opponent at all.

That night, the sky just darkened, and the dark duelists began to act.

The target address was an abandoned warehouse on the dock. Of course, there was nothing particularly surprising.

As we all know, the abandoned warehouses were the residence of all kinds of strange forces, including but not limited to underworld criminals, terrorist organizations, aliens, super villains, etc. all year round.

Anyway, no matter what country or background, bad guys always loved the abandoned warehouses on the docks.

The time was almost up.

Manager Nanmoku who was in charge of leading the team made a gesture and gave the order, and everyone set off in unison.

The burly dark duelists wearing black clothes rushed in from all the entrances. They broke open the door, smashed the window, rushed into the warehouse like a devil entering the village, and immediately raised the duel plate as a weapon.

For a while, Yuei Vu thought this scene was a bit funny.

Can you imagine the scene of a group of strong men dressed like CIA agents breaking into the door, and as a result, they raised their Duel Disks and insisted on playing cards with you?

That was probably the picture he saw now.

But unexpectedly, when they broke through the door and window and rushed into the warehouse, it was empty without a ghost.

Everyone looked at each other.

Was the information wrong?

Manager Nanmoku took the lead and walked inside, and the others followed.

Darkness enveloped the entire warehouse, and the space was filled with a musty stench, and there was no smell of living people. The moon cast a pale shimmer from the zenith window, in which dust particles fluttered softly.

Passing through most of the warehouse, they finally saw a figure at the corner of the deep But it's hard to say whether it was a living person.

It was a man with a bald head, his body slumped like noodles, sitting on a dusty seat, his head tilted to one side.

He opened his eyes without blinking, his muscles seemed to be rigid, and his facial features even seemed a little distorted. He looked like a corpse in every way, but the slight heaving of his chest indicated that the body was still doing its last breath to stay alive.

Just when the group was at a loss as to which song it was singing, the limp body suddenly moved. He jumped on the chair like an electric shock, and then his limbs began to twitch uncontrollably, startling everyone around him.

The bald head's back suddenly straightened like a stick, his eyes were round, and a golden third eye opened on his forehead.

Then his lips moved mechanically, and he made a voice that didn't belong to him: "Welcome, everyone in the Nightcrawler World. My name is Marik Ishtar, and the one you see before your eyes is one of the dolls I control. It's a pleasure to meet you."

Chapter 47: Kaiba Seto

Marik Ishtar, an important villain in the early stage of Yu-Gi-Oh, the descendant of the Tomb Keepers family, the founder and leader of the rare card hunter group known as Ghouls.

More importantly, he was also the holder of the Millennium Rod, one of the seven Millennium Items, and the strongest card among the three God Cards, "The Winged Dragon of Ra".

The Winged Dragon of Ra here was not a waste like its real card version, but a monster that has a powerful ability truly worthy of its title "the strongest god". If the effect of the animated Winged Dragon of Ra was directly copied into the real card environment, even in the future twenty years later, it could be regarded as a powerful monster that must not be underestimated.

In contrast, the real card version The Winged Dragon of Ra has no attack power, no resistance (1), and its special abilities could be called a huge pit. Not to mention being a god, as a monster who "needs three sacrifices to be summoned", Winged Dragon's strength was simply a big loser.

What they were facing now in this broken warehouse was not Marik himself, but a puppet that Marik remotely controlled by the mind control ability of the Millennium Rod.

As for Marik himself, he wasn't even in the city at the moment.

"Hello everyone," Marik said slowly to everyone through the mouth of the bald puppet, "For most of you, I believe it's the first time we've met."

"Marik." Nanmoku narrowed his eyes, "What do you want to do?"

By this time, everyone should be able to see that their actions have been seen through. Ghouls had long foreseen that they would come here and had already withdrawn and abandoned this stronghold early, leaving only this puppet to act as Marik's telephone to talk to them.

"What do I want to do? I think you all should know the answer." Marik said, "This is my war. My target is only the nameless Pharaoh from beginning to end, and it has nothing to do with you.

If I can, I don't want to conflict with you, but if you insist, I just hope that you know that Ghouls will not be afraid of challenges.

So today this is just a small warning, and I advise you to stay out of your way. If you dare to stand in front of me next time, what you will face will be the wrath of God. "

"What did you say!?"

A group of people was about to have a seizure, but the bald head in front of him slumped, and the person fell off the chair softly, like a doll with a battery pulled out.

Marik was gone, there was only an empty shell left here.

"This guy is too arrogant!" someone in the team said angrily.

"He didn't take us seriously at all!"

"If you want me to say that we should just go to the old lair of Ghouls, let the stinky boy who guards the tomb know what the never-ending darkness is"

"Wake up, he has God Cards in his hand. It is impossible for ordinary duelists to win."

""

A group of people was chattering, and Manager Nanmoku frowned and said, "Wait, something is wrong."

The crowd suddenly quieted down.

Indeed, Yuei Vu has the same view at the moment.

Since Marik saw through their actions in advance, he emptied the entire warehouse, but why did he leave such a puppet here? Just to threaten them with empty words?

No matter how you think about it, it felt unrealistic.

Marik just mentioned, "this is just a small warning".

So where exactly was the warning?

There was a roar from the outside of the empty warehouse, which sounded like a heavy buzzer. Light was transmitted through all the windows and gaps, and the entire warehouse was instantly bright as day under the intersecting light.

Walking out of the warehouse, the Shadow Duelists were shocked to find that they had been surrounded at some point. The black car blocked the only way out like a barricade, and the dazzling white light surrounded the warehouse from all sides like a staggering array of swords.

Behind the car stood a large number of men in black clothes and sunglasses. They stood straight with their waists upright, and their sturdy bodies together looked like dark walls.

Although no one has the intention of coming up to attack, it is obvious that the person in the middle will not be easily let go.

A turbulent buzzing sound approached from the sky, and a beam of light cut like Huisei's sword, splitting the dark night in two.

The black helicopter with the KC logo slowly descended to the height, the cabin door was pulled open from the inside, and a slender man in a white windbreaker stepped on the landing pole of the helicopter with one foot. The black and white windbreaker inside looked like a king. His cloak fluttered in the wind whipped by the propellers.

That man was a legendary duelist, the man at the top of the world of dueling monsters, Kaiba Seto.

At this time, everyone understood what happened. Obviously, Marik deliberately let people tip off the Kaiba Corp and deliberately used the Kaiba Corp to fight them.

In fact, it was reasonable to say that Nightcrawler World and Kaiba Corp were the two biggest local forces in Domino City. Although one was in the light and the other was in the dark, they were both closely related to the game of dueling monsters, thus they had some contact.

After all, according to common sense, such a large company should be more or less related to the local underground forces.

However, the Kaiba Corp was an exception, because its president, Mr. Kaiba Seto, was extremely disgusted with everything that involved "Shadow Games".

It's not that he didn't believe in the existence of Shadow Games at all, because he has seen it with his own eyes and even became a victim of Shadow Games.

In the Duelist Kingdom arc, his younger brother Mokuba Kaiba was captured by Pegasus, and his soul was sealed in a card. Kaiba desperately went to the Duelist Kingdom to try to save his brother, but he was no match for the power of the Millennium Eye. He himself was defeated by Pegasus, and his soul was sealed in a card.

In the end, Yugi Muto defeated Pegasus, and the souls of the two brothers were finally saved.

Because of such unpleasant memories, President Kaiba was quite resistant to things like "Shadow Games". Furthermore, he was a staunch scientologist. He believed that supernatural powers, including "Shadow Games", were things that can be explained by science, so he always sneered when they mention these things.

Therefore, although Nightcrawler World and the Kaiba Corp have also had contact, the ending was often not very happy.

At this moment, the helicopter was still in the air, but President Kaiba stopped waiting and jumped out of the plane. The white windbreaker was full of wind and spread out behind him, like spreading wings.

Kaiba landed on the ground, the hem of his clothes fell, and he looked like a superhero in the M studio next door.

The Shadow Duelists looked at each other, and then Manager Nanmoku walked up first.

"President Kaiba, long time no see."

Kaiba folded his arms and narrowed his eyes, his eyes were as sharp as knives, without any intention of greeting: "What are you doing in a place like this?"

"We got information that the Ghouls have a stronghold here, but unfortunately we arrived too late." Manager Nanmoku explained, "We are on the same front, Mr. President, as we have said many times before. "

"Hmph, I don't remember when I agreed."

Kaiba said coldly, raising the duel plate on his arm.

"But since you all claim to be duelists, I'll give you this chance." He said in a deep voice, "If you want to pass from here, just use your Shadow Game which you're proud of."

TL's note:

1. "Resistance" refers to self-protection effects, such as "Cannot be targeted by card effects", "Cannot be destroyed by card effects", Unaffected by card effects",

Chapter 48: Worse Than The Horse Bone

Sure enough, Yuei Vu guessed it.

President Kaiba may seem to be very scary, but in fact, he wasn't. He came in an airplane with an army of bodyguards who looked like Men in Black, surrounding the place tightly with an aggressive altitude

Actually, he just wanted to play cards.

In terms of duel addiction, there was probably no one in the world who can compare to the president of Kaiba Corp. Mr. President's duel addiction could really be said to have broken through the sky. Later, he even did everything he could to develop black technology and try to use the power of technology to break the boundaries of the underworld. His purpose? To play cards with Yami Yugi again

The team from the Nightcrawler World rushed to the dock warehouse but miss the target. Not only that but they were also tricked by Marik. Most people had a fit of anger in their hearts, and they have already cursed Marik and all his family.

But Yuei Vu didn't.

When he saw the situation outside and saw President Kaiba jumping out of the plane like a Batman, not only was he not angry at all, he even wanted to say something

Nice!

Recently, he happened to be thinking about how to find a chance to play cards with President Kaiba before the Battle City opened, and told him that there were serious flaws in the rules of playing cards that needed to be corrected. Now, the opportunity came to him automatically.

Thinking about it this way, Yuei Vu suddenly felt that little brother Marik didn't seem to be hateful that much.

Who said Marik couldn't do good things?

If Marik was not a good person, then who sent the sky dragon to Yugi from a long distance?

In the animation, Marik made a special trip to deliver Osiris the Sky Dragon from Egypt to Japan, handed to Yugi, and not confiscated even a dime of postal money. Who would believe if you said he wasn't doing charity work?

At this time, facing the provocation of Kaiba, all duelists in the Nightcrawler World hesitated.

President Kaiba still has a big reputation in the duelist circle. If Pegasus had not had the ability to cheat at the beginning, he might not be Kaiba's opponent.

Many people in the circle have rumored that the only one who can defeat Kaiba was the duel king Yugi Muto, and Kaiba was also regarded as "under one person, above myriad people".

However, duelists in the underground world were naturally not deterred by his reputation.

"I'm coming!"

"No, leave it to me here, let him see the power of my Machine deck!"

Of course, Yuei Vu didn't miss this opportunity: "Let me try it out."

Manager Nanmoku glanced at everyone, snorted, and took a step forward to unfold the Duel Disk in his hand.

"With me here, of course, there is no reason to let the subordinates go first." He said in a hoarse voice, with a gloomy face with a scar on his face, "I have long heard that President Kaiba's Beatdown deck is the number one in the world. It just so happens that I am also using a Beatdown deck that is good at suppressing with power.

Exactly, let's take this opportunity to try it out today, who of us is stronger! "

Kaiba hummed confidently, acting as if he didn't care about the other party at all.

"Duel!"x2

A minute later.

"Ahhhh!!!"

All the Shadow Duelists watched their managers fly off the ground under the incandescent impact. After landing, they slipped out of the way and slammed into the outer wall of the warehouse with a bang like a cannonball.

A group of people quickly gathered around.

"Manager!"

"Manager, are you alright!"

"Manager, wake up! Think about your Mei Mei, Mi Mi, Hwa Hwa! What will happen to these girls if you die here?"

""

President Kaiba held his arms, and behind him was a majestic white silver dragon. The legendary monster Blue-Eyes White Dragon floated behind him, and the aura of the dragon king seemed to break through the shackles of three-dimensional images, dominating like a divine beast.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!!!"

President Kaiba let out a classic three-stage laugh. The real Yu-Gi-Oh fans didn't need a picture, they could tell that it was the president himself when they heard the voice across the street.

"Hmph, that's why you guys aren't worth a slap." Kaiba snorted disdainfully, "Shadow Duelist? It's really funny. You third-rate duelists use fourth-rate decks, and your strength is even worse than the horse bone (referring to Jonouchi) who will only move forward with shit luck!

The road to battle never ends, the world of duelists does not need the weak! "

(The innocent Jonouchi: Why do you have to use me as an insult?)

Speaking of which, President Kaima's prejudice against Jonouchi was really strange. No matter how he depended on luck, he was still the runner-up of the Duelist Kingdom, and he was even recognized as one of the legendary duelists in the world future. However, in the eyes of President Kaiba, Jonouchi was always just a useless "horse bone".

Perhaps by the standards of President Kaima, there were only two types of duelists in the world: Better than Jonouchi, who were fine duelists, and below or equal to Jonouchi, who were all spicy chicken (It seems that this standard seems to be a bit harsh)

None dared to be angry at the president's ridicule.

Because no matter how annoying Seto Kaima was, his strength was genuine.

This overwhelming power Everyone weighed it in their own hearts and guessed that they should only be killed in one or two turns if they go up to try.

Yuei Vu stepped forward.

"Mr. President," he held up the Duel Disk, "so can I give it a try?"

"Huh?" Kaiba raised his eyebrows and softened his tone slightly, "Are you new here?"

After all, the Nightcrawler World was a local guild, so Kaiba still had a general impression of how many members they had.

He was very sure that he had never seen this young man in the organization's data, and if he had seen it, he would definitely have an impression.

This young man looked completely different from the others. His charm and temperament seemed to be comparable to Kaiba himself Of course, it's just a little bit worse. (Mr. President who feels good about himself)

"Interesting. It may be possible, but there are conditions." Kaiba sneered, "If I take the trash one by one, there will be no end. Then you represent the rest of your team. If you lose, you must accept one condition: During the Battle City, your association is not allowed to take any action in Domino City. Do you understand?"

Yuei Vu said: "We are on the same side, President. Our goal is also the Ghouls"

"I can handle Ghouls by myself, and didn't need a group of so-called Shadow Duelists' to intervene." Kaiba was rude, "You put your head down for me, just watch from the side and you're done."

Yuei Vu turned his head and gestured to everyone behind him. The Nanmu manager who was panting in the arms of a group of strong men hesitated for a moment, then nodded and gave him a positive answer.

Although they are newcomers, Yuei Vu's strength was obvious to all. If Yuei Vu couldn't beat him, no one couldn't.

"Okay, then we accept your conditions." Yuei Vu said, "But correspondingly, through this duel, I also have a little suggestion that the president can consider."

"Oh? Do you still want to negotiate terms with me?"

"I can't talk about the conditions now, it's just a little personal opinion on the current duel monster game. I just hope to discuss it with the president."

"Hmph, let's talk about it if you can really win." Kaiba was obviously extremely confident in himself and didn't even consider the possibility of "losing" at all.

"Then it's settled." Yuei Vu reinserted the washed deck into the duel tray.

"Duel!" x2

Chapter 49: BISS

The Shadow Duelists had already discussed it when Yuei Vu and Kaiba went to the two ends to open the field.

"Can this newcomer beat Kaiba Seto?"

"Who knows? Even President Kawasawa is no match to Yuei Vu at all, maybe?"

"But the opponent is that Kaiba Seto. There are only a handful of people in this world who can win against him, right?"

"Just watch it quietly."

Manager Nanmoku, who had a bruised nose and a swollen face just now, has also sat up.

Fortunately, he was witty. The duel with Kaiba Seto only opened the lowest-level Shadow Game. Even if he lost, he would only suffer a relatively strong impact and fall badly, but would not die directly.

The low-level Shadow Game only made a small part of the attacks of the monsters on both sides concretize into entities, and its level was not fatal.

The reason why he only used this level of Shadow Game was that Nanmoku didn't want to hurt Kaiba either, he just wanted to teach this arrogant guy a lesson.

For the second reason (and the main reason) was because he estimated that he might not be able to win

Knowing that you couldn't beat the opponent and still play Shadow Games, aren't you stupid?
Trying to suicide?

However, even though he was beaten badly, he still needed to maintain his image. Nanmoku coughed twice, wiped off the nosebleed that was about to drip while the attention of others was on the field, and said solemnly: "If Yuei Vu can win this game, he will undoubtedly become a bigshot among underground Shadow Duelists in the future. Let's take this opportunity to see where his limits lie."

At this time, Yui Vu had already walked to his half of the field to start a duel.

Can I win against Kaiba Seto?

At this stage, it should be a little difficult.

It's the early days of DM, and President Kaiba probably didn't have any messy White Bride like Blue-Eyes Alternative White Dragon, Blue-Eyes Chaos MAX Dragon, Blue-Eyes Twin Burst Dragon, Deep-Eyes White Dragon, etc. The cards and tactics used were relatively simple.

But even so, he was still one of the main characters, a legendary duelist.

When Yui Vu first entered the World Link Online in his previous life, a large number of real-card players felt that they could rely on their advanced game understanding and mainstream deck construction to defeat the duelists in the original work, but they found that they thought too much.

In fact, until the end of World Link Online version 1.0 and the end of the main story of Yu-Gi-Oh DM, it seemed that no player has ever defeated the duel king Yugi Muto.

Because that guy could use divine draw at any time in a duel (always draw a card that just happens to be a turnaround); he could also print cards in time (if there is no card in the deck that can solve a situation, add a card that can solve it to hand).

After all, "everything about the strongest duelist is inevitable, even drawing cards can be created." (Open Cheater's Declaration)

The tactical awareness of players playing real cards would not work in front of these plot NPCs.

In the past, there was a great player who got the opportunity to play cards with Yugi during the mission. He worked hard to gain an advantage. Yugi lost three cards in one turn and he earned three cards in one round.

It was hard to hold on until Yugi was empty-handed, and his field was full of monsters. When the player thought that he was about to get the achievement "Duel King's First Blood", Yugi played a "Card of Sanctity", drew 6 cards, and in the next turn, Hanoi's holy power (aka Mirror Force) blew up all the player's monsters

(Card of Sanctity (Normal Spell) Both players draw until they have 6 cards in their hands. (anime effect).)

That was to say, according to the requirements of Kaiba Corp in Yu-Gi-Oh DM, cards that "directly destroy monsters and cause LP damage to the opponent" were prohibited cards, so maybe it's the reason Yugi only printed a mere Mirror Force.

Otherwise, he might simply and rudely take out a picture of the lightning strike and clear the field (Raigeki (Normal Spell) Destroy all monsters your opponent controls.)

Therefore, although players could easily beat passers-by NPCs in the later stage, it was still a bit difficult to win against these plot NPCs.

Yui Vu, LP 4000

Setto Kaiba, LP 4000

"I'll let you go first." President Kaiba hummed confidently, "Let me see what you are capable of. Don't let me down too much."

"My turn, draw!

The first monster I summon is this guy Elemental HERO Sparkman! In Attack position! "

The blue lightning warrior flew out from the three-dimensional card, and his whole body was shining with beating electric lights. The hero who rode the lightning gave a clear drink and made a fearless pose, as if to say, "Anyway, I must be cannon fodder first."

[Elemental HERO Sparkman, ATK 1600]

"Set a card, I end my turn."

"Hmph, is it over just plain and simple?" Kaiba hummed softly, "Then it's my turn. Draw! This round will make you understand that it's pointless to put this kind of monster in front of me! Come on, Vorse Raider!"

A demon holding a huge battle axe appeared on the table. He grinned, had sharp fangs, was a head taller than Sparkman, and the giant axe in his hand was bigger than Sparkman's entire head.

[Vorse Raider, ATK 1900]

Sparkman took a fighting stance, seemingly ready to die heroically.

"Vorse Raider, attack!" Kaiba directly ordered, "Smash that trashy monster directly!"

Yuei Vu smiled confidently.

Winning or losing this duel was secondary.

He would take this opportunity to let President Kaiba take a good look at the unscientific aspects of the existing game rules.

"Open the set card!" Yuei Vu pressed the button on the Duel Disk and waved his arm, "Spell Card Polymerization! I fuse Sparkman who was selected as the attack target on the field and Elemental HERO Clayman' in my hand!"

Kaiba's eyelids jumped, and he said in astonishment, "Fusion at the moment I attacked?"

"Fusion Summon!" Yuei Vu took out a card and slapped it on the Duel Disk, "Elemental HERO Gaia!"

(Sparkman: Oh yeah, I didn't give the first blood today!)

A vortex of fusion appeared in the space, and the EARTH hero Clayman in Yuei Vu's hand turned into a three-dimensional image and emerged, and was sucked into the swirling vortex along with Sparkman like two stones disappeared in the center of the rapids.

The center of the vortex gave birth to a strong light, which plunged into the ground. The three-dimensional image projected the special effect of the earth collapsing, countless cracks spread all over the ground, and the huge steel body rose from the ground, like a mountain.

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200]

"Gaia's special ability When this card is Fusion Summoned: Target 1 face-up monster your opponent controls; until the End Phase, its ATK is halved and this card gains the same amount of ATK!" Yuei Vu ordered, "Gaia Shock!"

Actually, he couldn't remember the name of the monster's effect, after all, it wasn't written on the card. So he just made up a name

The ground trembled, and the rubble splashed, ignoring that the shards were crushed into powder by the invisible air pressure in mid-air.

The Vorse Raider in the charge slanted his foot, half of his foot was inserted into the crack, his body fell involuntarily, and the axe he swung out was also crooked and out of order.

[Vorse Raider, ATK 1900 ATK 950]

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 2200 ATK 3150]

With such a huge difference in attack power, the result was obvious. With one punch, Gaia smashed the Vorse Raider into the ground together with the axe. The latter's body was embedded in it like a piece of cardboard, and he couldn't pull it out.

Seto Kaiba, LP 1800

The face of Kaiba, who just lost 2200LP at the first combat, changed slightly. His footsteps slipped half a step under the impact of the three-dimensional image, and the windbreaker behind him was also pulled straight by the wind.

He gritted his teeth, squinted his eyes, and looked at Yuei Vu. It seemed that he finally started to pay attention.

The Shadow Duelists around were stunned: "This kid summon a powerful monster with an ATK of 3150 in the second round?"

"He actually make that Kaiba Seto lose LP first!"

"If he goes on like this, he might really be able to win!"

Manager Nanmoku's eyes also became suspicious and looked at Yuei Vu in disbelief.

Is this kid really that strong?

The huge earth hero slowly landed on Yuei Vu's side. Yuei Vu half-folded his arms and looked at Kaiba with a smile.

He was quite satisfied with the unfolding of the first round.

In the opponent's turn, a Normal Spell card was activated for fusion summoning, and the "battle replay" that should have appeared when the attack target was lost did not occur, so Vorse Raider was forcibly killed by Gaia, and Mr. President lost 2200 LP in the first turn..

Yuei Vu felt that this should always make Mr. President realize how outrageous the dueling rules are now, right?

Sure enough, I can see that President Kaiba, who is on the opposite, has already started to tremble with anger

As a result, in the next second, Kaiba raised his head, and he laughed again in a classic three-stage laugh, which almost scared Yuei Vu away.

"Hahahaha! It's interesting!" President Kaiba's eyes were burning, "As expected, my vision is not wrong, you are indeed different from those other miscellaneous fish.

Deliberately set a Polymerization and performed Fusion Summon on my turn Not only avoided the risk of low-level monsters being attacked, but also counterattacked beautifully, and even avoided the restriction of Fusion Monsters must wait one turn after they are Summoned before they can attack'

You are indeed unusual, and you are the only duelist here who is worthy of being my opponent! "

Yuei Vu: "???"

Mr. President You're not angry at all for being tricked by my BISS?

Chapter 50: The Strongest Servant

"I'll set two cards." There were two more set cards that appeared in front of Kaiba, "I end my turn. Come on, if you can beat me, let me see it!"

At the End Phase, the special ability of Elemental HERO Gaia has also ended, and the attack power has returned to its original state.

[Elemental HERO Gaia, ATK 3150 ATK 2200]

"My turn!"

After Yuei Vu drew the cards, he glanced at the two set cards on the Kaiba field with some concern.

Because the opponent was Kaiba Seto, the kind of duelist that "never dead draw", first of all, I can rule out the possibility that the opponent is bluffing by setting a Polymerization

In the official competition of World Link Online in the previous life, there was a case where a contestant set a "Polymerization" spell card to pretend to be a trap to scare the other side (and it actually succeeded), so "setting a Polymerization" became a favorite meme of World Link Online players.

But since it's President Kaiba whom we're talking about, it shouldn't be possible to do such a thing, right?

But even so, Yuei Vu didn't have any card he could play right now.

The only two monsters he has drawn had been fused into the Gaia on the field, and there was nothing in his remaining spell traps that could clear the back row.

Then it seems that the only option now was to face it head-on.

Even if he knew that the opponent's back row may have a trap, if there was no better way, he would have to bite the bullet and step on it. The trap would not disappear on its own, and sooner or later he would have to deal with it.

"Gaia!" Yuei Vu ordered directly, "Direct attack!"

The big hero charged forward, crossed the empty field of Kaiba, and smashed his huge metal fist towards Kaiba.

"Hmph, this level is completely expected!" Kaiba waved his hand, "Activate trap card Counter Gate! When an opponent's monster declares a direct attack: Negate the attack, and then I can draw a card from the deck!"

The gigantic black fist smashed on the iris-like transparent barrier, and the domineering punch was completely absorbed.

Gaia pulled away and returned to the half court on Yusei Kaido's side, while Kaiba drew a card.

"I end my turn."

"It's my turn!" Kaiba glanced at the card he had drawn and inserted it directly into the Duel Disk, "Activate Pot of Greed' to draw two more cards from the deck!"

If it was Yusei Kaido, who was a player at the time, he would be jumping with anger now, but now his mindset has changed, and his heart was calm and unwavering.

After all, his deck was now full of three of this pot

"From my hand, activate the effect of Thunder Dragon!" Kaiba showed a card to Yusei Kaido, and immediately discarded it into the graveyard, "Discard this card; add up to 2 "Thunder Dragon" from my Deck to my hand!

Next, activate the spell card, Ancient Rules!" "

Kaiba inserted the card, and in front of him, a quaint and yellowed scroll appeared.

"I can Special Summon 1 Level 5 or higher Normal Monster from my hand. What I want to summon is Serpent Night Dragon!"

The curved body of the black dragon flew out of the ancient scroll and stretched out its huge body. It has scarlet eyes, a pointed and long mouth, and short wings, and its stature was closer to a gigantic python than a dragon.

[Serpent Night Dragon, ATK 2350]

"It's not over yet!" Kaiba pointed to his feet, "I'm going to activate the set card here! Normal Spell - Polymerization!"

Yusei Kaido almost spat out a mouthful of blood.

So the president really set a Polymerization

"I fuse two Thunder Dragons' in my hand!" Kaiba raised his right hand high, "Fusion Summon! Come on, Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon!"

The images of the two dragons disappeared in the vortex of fusion.

The fierce thunderbolt fell on the field. The red two-headed dragon flapped its wings and fell from the thunder and lightning, and the two heads roared into the sky at the same time.

[Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon, ATK 2800]

The duelists watching the battle were not calm again.

"Call out a monster with 2350 ATK and another with 2800 ATK in one turn!?"

"As expected of Seto Kaiba, is this the skill of the top duelists?"

Kaiba began to be arrogant again: "Hahahaha! Keep your eyes wide open, this is absolute power! Serpent Night Dragon, attack Gaia!"

The hero of the earth soon became entangled with the black flying dragon. Gaia tried his best to resist, and the giant fist kept hitting, but the dragon was lightly dodged. Taking advantage of its flight, the black dragon launched a thrusting thrust, biting through the hero's pitch-black armor with its sharp teeth.

Soon Gaia's body was torn apart and disappeared on the field.

Yuei Vu, LP 4000 LP 3850

Yuei Vu's field instantly became empty, and in turn, two powerful high-level monsters had spread out over the Kaiba. But he didn't panic at all, instead, he smiled: "What a pity, President."

"Huh?" Kaiba frowned, "What do you want to say?"

"I want to say that if your Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon can attack this turn, my LP will drop to 1050, and the gap between our LPs can be reversed." He shrugged, "But Fusion Monsters can't attack in the turn they are Summoned. It's a pity."

Kaiba snorted and ignored it, only announcing coldly, "I end my turn."

"Then it's my turn, draw!

I activate Graceful Charity', draw three cards from the deck, and discard two cards. "

What? You asked how could I get the forbidden card again?

That's right.

If your deck was also full of three Pot of Greed and three Graceful Charity, you would also find that it's easy to get these things, which was simply too cool.

Yuei Vu smiled slightly and said to Kaiba, "Fusion Summoning can quickly summon powerful high-level monsters without Tributes, so we need to add the restriction of cannot attack during the summoning turn', right, President?"

Kaiba: ""

"But as a price, fusion also needs to consume multiple cards in one turn. If you can't attack immediately, you will make yourself passive." Yuei Vu said, and drew a card from his hand, "because there is far more than one way to immediately summon high-level monsters without Tributes."

Speaking of which, Yuei Vu's graveyard area flashed, and a monster card was ejected from the graveyard.

"Activate the effect of Elemental HERO Necroshade' in the Graveyard. Once, while this card is in the GY, I can Normal Summon 1 Level 5 or higher "Elemental HERO" monster without Tributing.

So I don't need sacrifices to summon this card directly from my hand Come, Elemental HERO Bladedge! "

[Elemental HERO Bladedge, ATK 2600]

"I see, you use the effect of Graceful Charity' to discard Necroshade into the GY, so as to quickly summon high-level monsters?" Kaiba snorted, "It is indeed a beautiful tactic. But this level of attack is not strong enough to defeat my Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon'."

"It's not over yet. Activate a Spell card from my hand, H Heated Heart', and increase the ATK of Elemental HERO Bladedge by 500 points until the end of the turn."

[Elemental HERO Bladedge, ATK 2600 ATK 3100]

"Huh, does the attack power exceed that of the Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon?"

"Bladedge, attack the Twin-Headed Thunder Dragon!"

The golden hero took the command and sprinted straight, and the engine behind him spurted golden tail flames. The sharp metal blade slashed through the huge body of Thunder Dragon, and a large amount of current spilled out, and the two-headed dragon exploded into a huge firework in mid-air.

Seto Kaiba, LP 1800 LP 1500

"I end my turn." Yuei Vu said, "At this moment, the effect of the H Heated Heart disappears, and Bladedge's attack power returns to its original state."

[Elemental HERO Bladedge, ATK 3100 attack power 2600]

A certain onlooker swallowed: "It's really a breathless duel."

"How easy it is to continuously summon high-level monsters, and either side can quickly defeat the opponent's summoned high-level monsters"

The people around felt that it was unimaginable.

It was as if these two people were not playing the same game with them.

"My turn." Kaiba narrowed his eyes when he saw the card he had drawn. "It looks like this guy wants to fight you too."

Yuei Vu: "?"

Kaiba showed a smile.

"Then I'll let you guys get to know each other. This is the legendary ultra-rare card, my strongest servant"

Yuei Vu's face turned pale.

Are you coming?

"Activate a Spell card from the hand Cost Down! By discarding a card, the level of the monster in my hand is reduced by two levels." Kaiba pulled out a card, widened his eyes, and held the card with an almost grim expression, raising it above his head.

"I will tribute the Serpent Night Dragon' on the field Come, my strongest servant

Blue-Eyes White Dragon! "